Now say I'm in the road. “Will You take white water or blue water?" “Baba, I take water whether blue, white anything and that's all." Then they'll say, “Will You take a white comb or a red comb?" “Arey bhai, give anything." By their asking only you get fed up that “I don't want anything. Now get out of the road, please." Then another style is, “I have a problema, a problema." Nothing problem, problema. “What is the problema?" “I don't know how to carry on with my job." Problema. Because you are a problem, that must be this problema. But Mother doesn't say, it's all right. She will suggest one thing. “But in this, this", then She suggests another solution. “But in this, this", then suggests three solutions. She will go on suggesting ten solutions. Still you will forget it's your problem, you think it's Mother's problem you are discussing. This is not the way the king is. The king gives solutions, he doesn't ask for solutions.

Otherwise should he be king? And once you decide, “I am the king and I am going to solve my problems” the problems should be solved like this. [Clicks Her fingers twice.] Do I tell you My problems any time? I never use this word also, problem. This is a modern word.

`Problem' we used to only use in mathematics, I think in geometry so far, really! We didn't know that it was used in general life.

So if you are the king you solve your problem. If you solve your problem, then you are a king. If you cannot solve your problem then you are a beggar.

Then cheap things. To use cheap material, cheap things, cheap language, everything cheapish, is not a sign of a king. I would buy one sarī in the whole year but a good quality sarī. And I've got sarīs since My marriage, even before My marriage. All those sarīs are with Me because I would buy only one sarī of a good quality once a year, finished! And traditional, not cheapish. But people will have twenty sarīs and they didn't know what to wear. They'll still walk out saying, “I have a problem, I have no sarī." Because all sarīs are very cheapish you have bought. Same with men. Same with men. They try to save money, penny-wise pound foolishness.

And if you ask them. “Mother, You know what happened, I have no clothes." “All right you come without clothes, then what to do?" “No but there is this." “All right, then do one thing." It is impossible to tell them that this is stupid. You are the king, the way you talk to each other. A king doesn't talk too much, doesn't. If you are too talkative then remember you are not a king. The king doesn't talk too much, very little, `yes' or `no'. Or whenever he has to talk, he talks sense. Also he is not glum. Another extreme are glum people. You don't know how you stand with them.

So one has to know that you are in charge of yourself as a king or a queen and you carry yourself with that dignity. You do not shout. You do not say things slowly, as if you neck is chocked.

Some Sahaja Yogis talk like that. They think it's very, they are kind to Me. No, in freedom, but not shouting at Me and in a dignified manner. Dignity is something cannot be taught. It has to be inside yourself. A person is not self conscious but is conscious of his dignity. He doesn't do cheap things, never. Never the cheap things, you know.

Once a gentleman met My husband. He said, “Why don't you come and dance?" He said, “No, I don't dance because My wife doesn't dance." He said, “Bring Her to England, She will start dancing." He said, “You take Her to Moon also She won't do." That's what My husband told. “She's not going to dance with this kind of a ball room dancing. That She will not dance." It's for the men and women to understand, that is not dignified. On this point you should decide, “If this is not dignified we are not going to do it.

We are from the royal family of Shālivāhanas and we are not going to do anything that is undignified." All the ladies, all the men, all the Sahaja Yoginis and the Sahaja Yogis are very different from all others. And this is what we have to understand, that how dignified we are for a Rājalakṣhmī. Then the Gṛuhalakṣhmī I've already told you. And the Lakṣhmī Tattwa I've already told you.

But there is another principle which is called aLakṣhmī and that aLakṣhmī principle is where you may have everything, but you are a beggar, aLakṣhmī. And that is what is to be avoided. ALakṣhmī, without any Lakṣhmī principle. Then there is kuLakṣhmī. KuLakṣhmī is when you use your money for wrong things.

You use your money for drugs, for this, that, for bad business. Whatever business you do you should know what you are doing, is for what. KuLakṣhmī. Grabbing the money of Sahaja Yogis or Sahaja Yoga is the worst type of a Lakṣhmī, it's very, very serious.

So that's how you come down. And, now when you see the whole world is, how it is, when you have to pull it out, you have to have more strength, more strength to pull them out, strength of love. Again we come to the same point: strength of love. That's the strength keeps Me laughing all the time, enjoying Myself. Even a least [part] of this joy I cannot give up.

In the same way I bless you with all the Lakṣhmī principle and Mahālakṣhmī principle but above all the principle of love, the pure love without any expectations, nirvajya. I bless you all on this auspicious day. May God bless you! Have wisdom and understand that Mother has said it out of Her heart, out of Her love, out of Her feelings for us.

May God bless you! Thank you very much.

Contents: 1990-11-0x Shopping, Bangkok, Thailand

I will bless this country with morality and prosperity. Ask for this.

Contents: 1990-11-05 Conversations with Sahaja Yogis, House, Bank of the Chao Phraya River, Bangkok, Thailand

Shri Mataji: So how are you, Prakash? Prakash: [mentions that he has left Viśhuddhi for taking so much of Shri Mataji's time the day before].

Shri Mataji: There is no protocol between a Mother and Her children and what would I do all alone in this room otherwise without you to keep Me company? There are usually so many people around in Pūjās that we never can spend time together.

Contents: 1990-11-0x Conversations with Sahaja Yogis, House, Bank of the Chao Phraya River, Bangkok, Thailand

[Shri Mataji is upstairs attended by a number of Sahaja Yogis. Other Sahaja Yogis are sitting downstairs and one person says he had just had an amazing experience rubbing Shri Mataji's Feet. The thought crosses Alex's mind, that he would like to do the same and then one of the girls who was looking after Shri Mataji comes down and says that Shri Mataji would like to see Alex.] Alex Henshaw: Yes Shri Mataji, did You want to see me?

Shri Mataji: No, I didn't want to see you, did you want to see Me? Alex Henshaw: No, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Well, in any case, while you are here, you can rub My Feet.

[So it was a little play to get Alex up there to fulfil his desire to rub Her Feet. He starts to rub Her Feet and he is really pressing and massaging. He is using a lot of his strength and the sweat is coming out of him and She is telling him to press harder. After some time his arms start to get tired, but he just surrenders into it and gets lost in it and after two and a half hours he just remembers his whole body vibrating.] Shri Mataji [to Alex after two and a half hours during which he rubber Her Feet]: You had better take your rest now and go off to sleep.

[Alex floats downstairs and I lays on the floor and falls asleep, while totally vibrating.] [Next day:] How is Alex? He must be in the seventh heaven by now.

Contents: 1990-11-0x Quote on Sleep, Car Ride, Bangkok, Thailand

I can stay awake the whole night, but in the day I have to sleep for at least twenty minutes. This is what the deities want.

Contents: 1990-11-0x Quotes related to Thailand, Bangkok, Thailand

I died here [likely referring to a past life].

Bangkok is My place.

I have a plan for Bangkok.

Thais are just like Bengalis, they must have come from Bengal. They are like Bengalis.

Contents: 1990-11-0x Conversation with Saraswatī Sreshthaputra, Bangkok, Thailand

Shri Mataji: Can you write well?

Saraswatī Sreshthaputra: Yes.

Shri Mataji: You should become a journalist! [And adds:] You should blast them!

Contents: 1990-11-xx Quote (morning), Taipei, Taiwan from The Divine Cool Breeze, Vol. 4, Issue 11 (Dec 1990), p.13

[Shri Mataji was given the Sahaja Yoga book of prayers and She read for it for quite a while. Then She stopped and said:] I have to stop now. It is so beautiful, I'm melting.

Contents: 1990-11-11 Meeting with Four Seekers to be Cured, Suite, Grand Hotel, Taipei, Taiwan

[Shri Mataji asks to work on them:] You all have the power to cure, why don't you do it? If you don't try it, how will you know you have it? [Several ladies with back injuries claimed they were cured that day.]

Contents: 1990-11-2x Quote on Truth, After the Press Conference while some Journalists are Coming to Get their Self-realisation, Pratishthan, Pune, Maharashtra, India

Come what may, we should never be afraid to tell the Truth. Truth has the power to expose falsehood.

Contents: 1990-12-00 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, India

When there is opposition of any kind, or inconveniences, we start becoming subtler and subtler, as long as we accept it as a challenge. Every seed which is sprouted has a small little primule, out of which comes out the shoot and the root. And the root is so delicate and small. At the tip of the root, there is a very intelligent cell and this cell knows how to carry on its journey.

So it gradually penetrates into soft muddy, land, but when it comes across any stone, then it encircles round it. Now, it could manage just avoiding it but no it encircles, so he uses that stone for future, support, of the tree.

So intelligent it is and that's how it works out its way to the source.

So you might start thinking that: `Look at this little cell that you can see through microscope. It has got a sense how to penetrate into the soil, also to go round the stones, also to go towards the, source of water.' So what is the guiding factor? We never think about it. All the trees, all the animals, are in complete bandhan of God. Absolutely. They have no freedom of their own in a way. They are completely guided by God and that guideline is, in that little cell.

We have seen many birds flying out, thousands and thousands, all the way, Siberia to Australia. Who guides them? How do they know where is Australia which is so far away? And again they come back to the same. They too have a magnet. But how do they know that Australia is in the south or the north? Even if you have the magnet, how do you know you have to move in particular direction? They too have in their little brain, a controlling factor. Or we can say the remote control of God. It is that minute, it's detailed, so widespread and how it works out. It's tremendous. It's only human beings have this freedom.

And they are the only ones, if they want, they can break their heads completely. Or if they want they can ascend or go to hell.

Freedom is given to you and that remote control is taken over I think.

So you have to decide in your own freedom as to what you want to do [UNCLEAR]. Wisdom is important. Also good conditionings can make you understand. The other day I gave a lecture on Śhraddhā. Means faith.

So I told them, because you didn't understand Marathi, I want to tell you little bit about it. The first one is the tamasik is the ignorance. Faith in ignorance. Like you believe in someone, just because you are so ignorant. Like so many Gurus who came from India, like so many…

So to believe in those people comes out of ignorance.

Absolutely. And also there are lots of blind faiths even in the west I've seen, for which they do not give any explanation.

So people have faith in such people who talk of God. That Graham fellow, Graham is his name? Billy Graham, I mean I don't know how people can have faith in such a nonsensical... I really tell you. He shouts and he screams. Horrible.

So, this kind of faith would be there out of ignorance, that's very, very blind.

So we call it a tamasik. Tamasik meaning in darkness. Tamasik.

So then we have another one, which we call Rajas. That you have faith in your kings; you like people who are politicians; you run after people who have positions and some sort of a thing like that. This is another faith. This is also very dangerous because they are human beings just like us and they can any day deceive us and torture us.

Now the third one, is the faith which we call as sattvic, is the faith, what is sattvic in English? I don't know what's, there's no English word I remember for sattvic. Meaning which is out of wisdom. Here you believe in a person because you see his character, his behaviour, his life, his style; so that's why in India we have faith in Saints. You know there were remarkable people, very honest, very straightforward, doing all the time good for others, preaching always the good things, making people righteous, helping them out; as we have faith in Abraham Lincoln. We have faith in Gorbachev.

So the faith in such people is the faith which comes out of wisdom. But it's said people in Iraq have faith in Saddam. That one is a Rajas one.

So the third one, that if you have, third faith, that takes you to the faith when it is enlightened, dolas Śhraddhā we call it, enlightened faith. And this is what you have to judge.

But here when you come, you have to know that many people do not see Me, do not meet Me. They just meet you. They only know you. Of course those who have known Me I don't think have known Me fully. Rather difficult, to know Me. But whatever you have known of Me, you know very well, what sort of a Person I am. But, even you people, have to have that kind of standard, that when people see you, they feel that they have met somebody, a very rare person. I'm telling you this, specially today because I've been speaking about it, but there's one thing one has to [UNCLEAR] that in Sahaja Yoga we get lots of people, just seeing My Photograph most surprising, but they come to My program in thousands and then they puzzle out.

So there is something we have to learn, there must be something that they doubt in us. We should introspect and find out why do they doubt us, why do they puzzle out? I think seventy to eighty percent people puzzle out because they have no faith in themselves; because they just expect to be cajoled and looked after whatever it is. But still, if you do the introspection you will know how we deal with them.

So we should not tell them: `You have got this Chakra caught up, you are a bhoot,' and all those things. But I never say that. On the contrary I absorb it and try to improve it, the same way. Then only you will see that those who come to us settle down and touch their depth as you have touched. Because you do not know how much you are changed in Sahaja Yoga.

You are very much changed, you are at a very high level and you can't see a person who is at a low level. But you have come from that level. And look at Me. I too, come down to this level. But still, I never make anyone feel less than Myself. You all feel absolutely loved and cared for by Me, every one of you. Individually you know how much I care for all of you.

So, that is how we should be. We should try to show that we do care for human beings who come to us because they are the ones who are going to get to a higher state and that's something so special, for us to care for such people. I'm sure if that happens now at least this twenty to twenty-five percent you will be able to attract fully and give them what you have got.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1990-12-03 Śhrī Durgā Kālī Pūjā, Shere, Pune, Maharashtra, India

So, welcome to all the Sahaja Yogis from abroad.

So we start from today our Maharashtra Tour, which you can see is full of these hills and dales. Also, the atmosphere is going to be extremely rustic. Of course the comforts of this place have not been up to the mark, but next year it will be much better, I'm sure.

We have decided to purchase even this plot of land, but as you know we have a land on top, there on the hill at the top. That's one of the highest peaks in this area. That land we have already purchased and we are going to have an Ashram there and this will be the place used for parking. I hope you like the atmosphere here and the surroundings, the nature.

People in Maharashtra are blessed by great saints and people who were Naths, like Gñyāneśhwara; and that's why they have a tremendous base of spirituality. But still they are to be guided to get their Selfrealisation.

As you know that without spirituality, the life is very much in, is in imbalance. It does not have a totality of enjoyment. I don't know if there is any enjoyment otherwise also; because if you just live with your machineries and materialism, they cannot give you joy. And that's what you have discovered, the emptiness of life. And that's the reason you want spirituality, to give a complete expression to your personality, which has happened. Luckily it has happened. I'm very happy to see so many people who have felt it. And this is what has to be understood by Indians also, because they think that you people are so well off materially and while they are not, they are spiritually well-off and you are materially well-off.

And both the things are so important. The foundation has to be strong, of spirituality and then you can build whatever type of building you want to build on top of that. But if you do not have that foundation, then the whole thing collapses. Like a tree grows and it doesn't touch the source of its nourishment, it will definitely collapse. This is what Sahaja Yoga is, that you are touching the source of your nourishment, nourishment to your civilization. And once this nourishment starts flowing, you see what's wrong in those countries where people have gone headlong, gone to the extremes and what they are suffering. The people here have no idea about it. Also in this country of ours we have lots of problems because people are so simple, very vulnerable. But dealing with the problems of the West, I feel that there's no way out but Sahaja Yoga. As many as we can save, we should try to save them. Whatever may be the achievements in the West, they are going to boomerang and they may destroy the whole society.

So when you are starting the first day here you should ask for spirituality, the blessings of spirituality, but also the promise that you will help others who are getting drowned into the dry materialism of the West. That's a very important task you have to do. You are all enjoying this beautiful life and you are at peace with yourself, but this wine of spirituality has to be shared, otherwise life becomes very selfish, self-centered. I know you are frightened of those people, because you think you may catch from them. In this Tour I hope most of you will be made badha-proof and fearless. As I told you, you have to touch your depth. If you live with superficiality, any superficiality in you must be thrown away, then you will sink down. There are all kinds of superficialities which have come to us as a `blessing' of this Western civilization, as also in India we have another. But as I'm talking to you I'll, I would like to tell you about the superficialities that we have in the West.

First of all, the another style is our norms and ideas. Actually it's all a mental activity, as I've told you that the whole art of the West is finished. We cannot have a Rembrandt any more. We cannot have a Michelangelo any more. The reason is, criticism of this art has been so much in the modern times that nobody wants to produce anything which will be criticised and now only situation left is that our critics are criticising critics, that's all; no art, because they have no work to do.

So this mental activity of putting everybody down and mastering that art, is very dangerous and extremely destructive. And this is what is happening I feel, in the field of every kind of activity: industry, music, art, everything that you find; buildings, any enterprise, even politics. Everything has become so superficial that you have to be prepared for facing all kinds of oppositions and troubles. But still, as you have your own depth, you can master them all by your tranquility, by your temperament and by your powers which you have got. When you are not afraid of that society and when you have that tranquility within you and the courage, I'm sure you can do a lot. Of course we have some very dynamic people in Sahaja Yoga in the West and very dynamic women also in the West. What may come they never deter and they have worked very hard to do everything possible to see that Sahaja Yoga is established.

So they should be your ideals and all of you should try to follow them and do the best.

This Tour is a festival for us. It's, of course I say it's a pilgrimage but there are no signs of pilgrimage it looks, because if you see the pilgrims, horrible they look, while you are looking like roses, all of you.

So it's a festival for us and you have to feel that festivity within your heart, that joy within your heart and small, small things you should not worry, because these things cannot be provided in all the places. Gradually we'll be building ashrams in all the places wherever you have been visiting, but you know how difficult it is, in those days where the India is passing through such a bad phase for so many years, where everything is delayed.

So the attitude should be that: `We have come here for our ascent.' We have to work out everything with that attitude, that we have come here for our ascent and every moment of our ascent is a festive occasion.

Everything is a festival. If you understand that, I am sure you will see the beauty in everything, you will enjoy everything, whatever may be the rustic style. Maybe you may not like the colour of these lights, I think, because you may not enjoy it so much. You might get much better things in your own country. But whatever it is, it's not your conditioning that should stop you from enjoying.

So please remember that you are now the member of the universal society and we cannot have our conditionings to mar our happiness and joy. I want you to enjoy this trip fully, absolutely, in a way that you have never enjoyed anything before.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1990-12-05*, Public Program (Hindi+Marathi), Day 1, Pune, Maharashtra, India

People in Maharashtra are blessed by great saints and people who were Naths, like Gñyāneśhwara. That is why they have a tremendous base of spirituality, but still they are to be guided to get this realisation... Without spirituality, the life is very much in balance. It does not have the totality of enjoyment...

Because if you just live with your machineries and materialism they cannot give you Joy. And that's what you have discovered, the emptiness of life and that's the reason you want spirituality, to give a complete expression to your personality, which has happened. Luckily, it has happened. I'm very happy to see so many people who have felt it. This is what has to be understood by Indians also, because they think you are so well-off materially. And while they are not, they are materially well off... Both the things are so important. The foundation has to be strong of spirituality and then you can build whatever kind of a building you want to build on top of that. But if you do not have that foundation, the whole thing collapses. Like a tree grows and it doesn't touch the source of its nourishment, it will definitely collapse.

This is what Sahaja Yoga is, that you are touching the source of your nourishment, nourishment to your civilization. Once this nourishment starts flowing you see what's wrong in those countries where people have gone headlong, gone to the extremes. And they are suffering. The people [in India] have no idea about it. Also, in [India], we have lots of problems because people are so simple... Dealing with the problems of the West, I feel there is no way out but Sahaja Yoga. As many as we can save we should try and save them. Whatever may be the achievements in the West they are going to boomerang and they may destroy the whole society... You should ask for... The blessings of spirituality, but also the promise that you will help others who are getting drowned in the dry materialism of the West. That's a very important task you have to do. You're all enjoying this beautiful life. And you are at peace with yourself, but this wine of spirituality has to be shared, otherwise life becomes very selfish, self-centered. I know you are frightened of those people because you think you may catch from them... I hope most of you may be made baddha-proof. And fearless. As I told you, you have to touch your depth. If you live with superficiality, any superficiality, in you, it must be thrown away.... There are many superficialities that have come to us as a blessing of this Western civilization..... Another style is our norms and ideas.

Actually, it's all a mental activity... The whole art of the West is finished. We cannot have Rembrandt... [or] Michelangelo any more. The reason is criticism of this art has been so much in the modern times that nobody wants to produce anything which will be criticised and now [the] only situation left is critics are criticising critics... This mental activity of putting everybody down and mastering that art is very dangerous and extremely destructive. And this is what's happened in every field of every kind of activity, industry, music, art, everything that you find, buildings, any enterprise, even politics. Everything has become so superficial that you have to be prepared for facing all kinds of oppositions... But still, as you have your own depth, you can master them all by... your temperament and by your powers. When you are not afraid of that society and when you have that tranquility within you and the courage, I'm sure you can do a lot. Of course, we have some very dynamic people in Sahaja Yoga in the West... All of you should try to follow them and do the best. You have to feel that festivity within your heart, that Joy within your heart. And small, small things you should not worry... The attitude should be that we have come [to India] for our ascent. We have to work out everything with that attitude... And every moment of our ascent is a festive occasion. Everything is a festival. If you understand that... you will see the beauty in everything, you'll enjoy everything.....

It should not be your conditioning that stops you from enjoying. Please remember that you are now a member of the universal society. We cannot have our conditioning to mar our happiness and Joy. I want you to enjoy this trip fully, absolutely, in a way that you have never enjoyed anything before.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1990-12-10*, Public Program (Marathi), Loni, Maharashtra, India

If you want to know Me, know thyself.

Contents: 1990-12-12* Pūjā, Shrirampur, Maharashtra, India

We have come to this place with the idea that we'll be comfortable in the other place as we were before, but you must have known that there's a man who is quite devilish and he has tried to make this funny arrangement just to extract some money from us for doing nothing.

What I have to tell you, that we should remember that when we are doing right in this Krita Yuga, this is the time when the Param-Chaitanya has become active. That's why it is called as Krita Yuga. At this time this Power is extremely active. They used to torture the saints in this country and every country who were real people and they used to also make their lives impossible, because they were lonely people: one saint here, one saint there. But in these modern times we are so many, we have so many Sahaja Yogis all over the world.

So first of all we are collectively very strong and secondly the BrahmaChaitanya Itself has become active. It's a very great thing, we must realise it within ourselves, that no amount of cruelty, planning against us, any kind of violence of other people cannot harm us. If they ever try to harm us, they'll be harmed themselves; apart from that, all our work will go all smoothly. But we should not lose even for a minute our self-confidence and our determination. Above all we must have faith in the Param-Chaitanya which is now active. All our complaints, all our problems are because of ourselves.

Because we lose faith in ourselves, then all these horrible things happen. And whatever may happen, even when people stoned us it has helped us a lot. Of course some people were hurt a little, but doesn't matter.

But the case has been filed and this horrible organization is under trouble. Nobody could do anything to them. Only when we started our own court case they have become quieter. How things work out for our help, one can see it so clearly and one should have full faith in oneself to understand that God is with us and He is all-powerful.

So many examples you can give and so many examples I can give and I can tell you that it is only our diffidence which makes problems for us. Now supposing there was a snake. There's nothing to be afraid of. No snake can bite any Sahaja Yogi. They are more sensible than these devilish people. When I was in Gandhi Ashram we were supposed to get up at four o'clock. Gandhiji was a great disciplinarian. He was not like Me.

So everybody had to take bath and by five o'clock we had to go to the Pratna. And in the Pratna place, even reaching there we could see so many snakes crawling around and we were supposed to just go to the Pratna place without complaining. And sometimes you would find a snake just sitting before you like this and you were supposed to keep quiet and do the Pratna. But nobody was beaten up. All these years I was there, used to visit that place, I must have seen so many snakes; otherwise I have never seen otherwise snakes much in life. But that's the only time I have seen snakes sitting just like this before some of the meditators and trying to enjoy their meditation. Snakes understand vibrations, they love coolness. Once I had gone to a village and My husband had gone a little ahead; was sitting on a bridge, there were some steps there, sitting like this; and a big python like that started moving under My foot, under My legs. I saw it moving, such a thick one like this. It moved. It didn't do anything to Me, I know it cannot; because it likes the coolness and it was enjoying very nicely moving. It took about one and a half minutes.

So first of all we have to realise that we are Sahaja Yogis, specially blessed people, that we have got Realisation which very few people have got in this world. And secondly that all the animals understand us. They understand us better than human beings, because they are under the control of God Almighty.

I'm never afraid of a tiger, never afraid of any lions, nothing. I'm never afraid. But if I see a madman or a drunkard, specially a drunkard, I'm not afraid but I get repulsed, because I think this man has such bad vibrations. Because animals never drink. Even a mad dog is better than a madman.

So we have to understand that we are not under the control of God that much, because God has given us freedom. But now we are not only under the control of this Param-Chaitanya, but the Param-Chaitanya looks after us every minute and that's how things work out. There's so many instances of this kind of thing. But if your faith is wavering, if you are frightened, then you have to a little bit understand that you are not to be frightened. Things have worked out.

So many people can tell you so many things. Swiss people were to come for a Pūjā in Pune. I knew they were to come. They never informed us by any way and I was postponing the Pūjā as much as I could. These people took a taxi from Bombay [Mumbai] and they came up to Pune and they wanted to go to Pratishthan. This they knew, the taxi fellow knew. But instead of going to Pratishthan he took them to another place, Bhugaon, where we all were camping. And these people saw, so they just got down. He said: “No, no, this is not Pratishthan." He said: “This is the place we had to come." And they were just right in time there.

I mean, you can all write so many things, how God has helped you in every way possible: monetarily, as protection, as blessings from all sides.

So to solve the problem, we don't have to worry. Actually we should have no problems at all.

Some people start thinking that by logical deductions they can find out things.

They cannot, because you are at a level that logic doesn't work. You are at a level where BrahmaChaitanya works and It has Its own logic.

So do not try to resolve anything by logic. First thing your connection with the Spirit will be lost, your connection with the joy will be lost, your connection with the vibrations will be lost.

So there is no logical conclusion, but the Divine logic takes over. That doesn't mean that you are a slave, but on the contrary you are the great guest in the Kingdom of God. There's a difference between the two attitudes. Supposing I come here, so they want that they should garland Me. I can say: “I'm not your slave, why should you garland Me?" They may say: “We'd like You to come for a procession." I may say: “I cannot come, I'm sorry. I'm free. I will do what I like. How can you decide for Me?" But I am their guest and they are inviting Me to honour, to look after Me, for protection. If something you people try to do for My protection, should I say that it is slavery? Of course you know that I don't need any protection, but still you try to protect Me. It's all right, I don't mind, because if that gives you pleasure I don't mind and I don't feel that way about it, as if I have become now a slave of all the Sahaja Yogis.

You fix Me up and I am moving like a shuttlecock all the time. I never grudge, never grumble. All right, I accept it, whatever you say. You are not doing to harm Me in any way, or to be disrespectful, but you are trying to help Me out in a way that I should be able to achieve greater capacity to work and a greater facility. How can I not understand that? So you have to have that kind of an intelligence to feel the existence of that All-pervading Power all round us. You have seen so many photographs. You have seen on top of your heads there is Light. Though mentally you accept, but in the heart you do not. Those people accept in the heart, I know them and those who do not accept, I know them. Those who accept Me never allow Me to say: `Why didn't you do this?'

Whatever I say they will do, because now they have accepted Me from their heart.

Like yesterday it was a simple thing: I bought these caps for you.

So many didn't buy, I was surprised.

I went all the way to buy, to protect your heads. Why didn't you buy them? They're worth nothing: three, four rupees is what?, nothing. Or the dhotis I bought for you. All the way, I don't mind if you don't want to buy, but it's surprising they didn't buy. You could have worn them today and you would have looked very nice. Of course you have freedom; it's worth nothing; but it shows how far you are there.

Mother has bought it with such love, She has selected for us, it's worth nothing. I could have given you them as presents also, but I just wanted to test. And this is how the testing comes. After all there's no harm in wearing a cap in this heat; it's better to wear the cap. And also to have a dhoti is better because that's the dress of this country and whatever is the dress of the country, that is more suitable for this country. It's very hot here and the dhoti, which is a cotton dhoti or a, even a silk dhoti, is a beautiful thing to wear. But I don't want to force anything on you, but it is you who are judged also, that such a small thing like a cap... Now how many of you did not buy the cap? Raise your hands. All right.

So give them presents! And how many of you didn't buy the dhotis? Should I give you presents? Please buy... It's finished, all right, so I'll get you more. But they are very comfortable and beautiful, they're very nice, so beautiful, you'll enjoy them.

All right.

So small, small things can express our attention: very small things. Like such a great sky is there and when you look at it every leaf, supposing there is a tree, every leaf can be seen against that sky.

In the same way Sahaja Yoga is such a great thing. But it shows every small curves and every delicate behaviour. Of course there's no challenge, no personality insult or in any way. But the more you understand Sahaja Yoga, the deeper you go into it, you will know that everything, whatever is done in Sahaja Yoga is for your benevolence. Nothing else, it's for your benevolence. And that this Power is so well-equipped with everything. And you must have full faith in yourself and in this Power, that whatever you do and whatever you want, or whatever is your forward movement, everything is looked after, guided, organized, arranged for you beforehand. Thus you'll be surprised how you are looked after.

Now especially for ladies, their one of the assets of ladies is to be frightened and another is to cry.

So of course I too cry sometimes, but never at My own discomfiture. Never at My own pain, only when others are pained; then My eyes, being collective, start just pouring uncontrolled tears. But for Myself I never cry. For My pain, even if I want to I cannot. I cannot. Just My body cannot.

The second thing you must know: I am also a woman; I am never afraid of anything whatsoever. Of course animals I have already told you. Except for the drunkard, you don't know how he'll behave, because not easy, not senses. I'm not afraid of anything whatsoever. In the same way you have to know that your Mother is with you and you should have no fear at all and then to boast of your fear is nonsensical. Once you realise how powerful you are and how much you are connected to that Power which is so powerful and all-pervading, which does all the living work, you will never get any one of these funny ideas which are to be left behind. You have to cross the threshold of these conditionings that you have had. Just open your heart and see for yourself where are you sitting, where have you reached, under what blessings you are here.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1990-12-14 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, after Marriage Announcements, Front of the Main Hall, Pratishthan, Pune, Maharashtra, India

I must say that this beautiful Earth has created so many beautiful things. But She Herself is nothing but detached, simple Mother Earth. Perhaps that's My condition, too. When it comes to creation I can create beautiful things. You are so beautiful, too, creatures. But as far as I am concerned I do not think that I require any one of these things or I'm bothered about them, or need them or tempted by them.

So what Gregoire has said is because they are insisting that they are going to give Me presents every year and that's why this is a delude to them. But I've been telling them that there's no need now. Let's say, you all consider it, is only no need to give so many presents. What you can do now to start reducing the number of presents you give Me. One country can give one present.

If you can do that I'll be thankful, but I'll have to build another house. And the grandeur and all these things are created by Me but never enjoyed by Me. I just enjoy Myself; that's all. And Myself is so big, it is such a big thing, that I don't know what it means; it means grandeur, or nature, or anything, or you all people. I enjoy everything of it.

So for Me there's no need for you to. Now as he said that those people came, three of them, Brahmā, Viṣhṇu, Maheśha, to give presents to Christ. Yes, they did. And you have given Me, too. But now I think it's better that you people reduce some quantity at least. I'll be very thankful that if something could be done like that and from next year we should try to make it less and less and less. Because it's very sweet of you to have given Me all those things, because I enjoyed them, they are beautiful things and when I see them I remember your good heart. But you know that Mother is too simple and though I can create all kinds of things, as far as I am concerned I am too simple. And also Mister Srivastava so many times, says also, “You've got so many sarīs but you'll go on with Your white sarī all the time." The reason is, you see, a simple personality can only create beautiful things. A simple heart can only create nice things, because simplicity at the simple level is so simple. Like you are made of seven Chakras, seven Chakras, then the permutations of these seven Chakras, that's all. But supposing you start from outside then you'll have to go to medical science or you'll have to go to another complicated thing. But basically, fundamentally, it's too simple. That's why Sahaja Yoga is very simple, because we are dealing with the fundamental things.

So fundamentally, if you are simple then everything that you do is just a combination and permutation of all these things and all these things when they are put together they make such beautiful things.

For example, as I have told you once I was travelling and we went to a place called Palitana known to be a very beautiful, beautifully carved place. And we had to walk, I don't know, for three miles at least, climbing up or something like that. With Me was My daughter and My son-in-law. Went up and there was a little temple. They wanted to rest. And also we laid down ourselves there. And as soon as I saw all these beautiful elephants were there, so I told My son-in-law, “Look at these elephants. All their tails are twisted differently." He said, “Mummy, we are so fed up. How do you have energy to see the tails?" I said, “Because I see the tails I don't feel tired. That's the point. Because I see the beauty of these tails, I [UNCLEAR]." So you see, even in simple things there is so much of beauty. In very, very ordinary persons you'll find that they have a very beautiful things and very nice way of saying things, very simple talks of children like that, it's so simple, so straightforward and whatever they say it's so deep.

So whatever is deep is simple, but when it is expressed outside it can have lots of permutations and combinations and it can work out in a beautiful way.

I must tell you, I had no strain in making this house, nothing. I was not bothered at all. I found everything so easily; I brought it here, put it down here, I never even thought there's strain or anything.

Everybody says, “What a concept." But I never conceived anything. I mean, I just don't know. What is a concept is there; I just told, “To Me is nothing great." The whole world is there for us to see and to be fascinated. But behind all that, all this world and everything is created with the very little, simple idea of God, that you all have to enter into the Kingdom of God. That's all; such a simple idea.

So He's created such a beautiful world, then he created all kinds of things to bring you to the human level and now just simple thing is to enter into the Kingdom of God. You should not complicate yourself too much and once you do that you will be surprised how beautifully you will be able to produce.

Even some artists were extremely simple by nature. Like Ravi Shankar, you know and his Guru, he has got Alla Raka and Ali Akbar; all these were his disciples. Such a great genius man, such a simple man, I tell you. And he knew Me very well. He used to call Me “Ma"; he used to call Me “Mother" from the very beginning. And one day he brought one little deer, a baby deer, brought it to Me. I said, “What's the matter?" He said, “See, this deer was crying too much.

So I brought it to You." But I said, “For, why for Me?" “So, You see, he will feel the love of his Mother.

So You just caress him." Imagine, such a great artist coming like a little baby to Me, making that. I was so surprised at him. Look at him; such a simple man. He's doing that. And you see, if you see the children when they love, how genuine they are, how they work it out.

The same place there was a child. He was very fond of Me. And one day he decided to bring some pumpkins for Me.

So he brought one to Me. I saw him bringing in the thing. He said, “All right, just wait." Then there was, he went back and there was another one kept little further. He brought that. He had put nine of them in different places. One by one he was bringing them. He brought nine pumpkins to give Me.

So sweet. But I said, “Why did you bring nine?" “Because I don't know which one you like so I brought all of them." So simple and so touching; I mean, just [UNCLEAR touch/touches/tears/turns] your heart.

So we have to be simple people. We have to talk to each other in a simple way, not in a complicated way, in a very simple, sweet manner. That's how we are going to create a beautiful world.

So I would request all of you to be very kindly and very gentle with each other, especially for the newly marrying couples. Try to be nice. Nobody is going to dominate you if you are nice. It's only you dominate yourself.

And don't try to control your husbands or your wives. Let them be. Let them enjoy their freedom. They are not going to do anything wrong.

So some people try to control too much and there are problems.

So please do not try to control like, “If I am keeping it here, they'll keep it there." There's no need. Let it be.

Doesn't matter; nothing so serious. But on small, small things, I've seen, such marriages puzzle out.

And it is absolutely wrong.

So for marriages today, it's a very auspicious day.

So many people have been engaged to be married. But one thing you must remember, that you should not lose your connection with joy. It's stupidity. When two nice birds are together they should chirp and laugh and enjoy. Instead of that, if they start pricking each other, what should we call them? So today it's a great joy for Me.

So many people are engaged and are going to get married. But now, understand your responsibility that nothing is to be done. You have to be just Sahaj; don't have to do anything. “We are working out." You cannot work out marriage; you cannot work out. Just know about your husband or about your wife and just try to enjoy whatever they are. I mean, I do enjoy that way about My husband, so many things which may sound little queer to people, but I enjoy it. Because I know that's a nice thing about our human beings that they have varieties and they have little, different angles to themselves. And these angles are to be enjoyed and to be appreciated. If you can do that, then you will never fight. Because two persons cannot be alike; even two leaves are not alike.

So you should enjoy.

Everybody has some sort of a super quality thing or whatever it is or maybe some angle. Just enjoy that angle. You don't have that; so let him have at least, or let her have that.

So today, special day is that so many marriages have been fixed out. I don't know how many, he has not told Me yet the number, but quite a lot have been fixed.

Sahaja Yogi: Fifty.

Shri Mataji: Fifty have been already fixed. All right.

So now it's a very big number and will be more by the time we reach Ganapatipule.

So let us not create problems out of this. You don't have to sit down. I have seen after marriage they start thinking, `What, what do you think about him?' It's like after realisation you start thinking. Once you are married, you are not to think then accept. Before marriage you think. What's the use of thinking after marriage? It's a very common thing. After marriage they start thinking. Then, after marriage you enjoy. After cooking the food you eat the food. Or after the food has been served then you start thinking about it. It's absurd.

So this is a very common failing we have had so far. I would like to tell you first of all, you think before getting married and after getting married you carry on. And don't try to control. Don't try to dictate. Try to be nice and sweet. You don't have to go out of the way, but be normal and it will all work out. May God bless you all, specially all the girls and boys who have been engaged.

I bless you from My heart and enjoy each other; that's the main point.

So thank you very much. Thank you.

[Later on, inside to Mark Taylor, while reading his marriage application in which he mentioned as a hobby mostly reading about cars:] All nonsensical. You should read poetry.

Contents: 1990-12-17 Śhrī Chakra and Śhrī Lalitā Chakra Pūjā, Brahmapuri (near Satara), Maharashtra, India

The knowledge about Kuṇḍalinī has been expressed in many Sanskrit Shāstras since long and also in Ayurveda it is described, not only that but the books which are for curriculum talk about Kuṇḍalinī and the Chakras, because Ayurveda is very, very close to Sahaja Yoga. Even in the Western medicine to begin with, you should see the history they took to... dealt with three doshas. They dealt with three problems that we have as in Ayurveda. The right side which has got bita means bile; left side which has got cuff means phlegm and the central part, the problems of vayu means the gases.

Now luckily so many Western people have taken to Sahaja Yoga and have tried to bring down all the permutations and combinations to the simple reasoning of left, right and center. But the knowledge of Sahaja Yoga is absolutely basics; even in Ayurveda is one step away from reality, of which it says the fundamentals.

So you are dealing with the fundamentals of which a human being is built. And if this knowledge was found out long time back in India should we not accept it? The reason why people went into meditation in those days and found out all these deeper things within ourselves, because they didn't have to fight the nature. You have seen here nature how beautiful it is. You can spend all your life under a tree, while in the West, even before getting out of the house you have to take at least fifteen to twenty minutes to be prepared to go out. It's quite a struggle.

So the nature has been so kind and that is the reason people took to meditation and found out all these deeper things within themselves. When they found it out it was all written in Sanskrit language. I have such a big thick book on this, which has described all the Shakti, Pīṭhas and all the Śhrī Chakras, Brahmā Chakra, Lalitā Chakras and all that. But this was just written down, but hardly any person got realisation. But in any other language like Marathi or Hindi which was spoken and written by common people nothing was done.

Nobody knew about it; only a few people who read about it. Especially the Shaiwas, they went into the research and they went into the world. But very few people really got realisation; very, very few.

Then in the 12th century, only the Nath Panthis, who were experts of Sanskrit, who were following it rigidly, that one master, should have one disciple not more than that. This was their tradition.

But in the 12th century Ganadeva, Gnaneshwara, who was another Nath Panthi, his Guru was his own brother, he asked the permission from his brother that “please allow me to say all these things openly. At least to say in Marathi language because the common people don't know anything about this knowledge." So he allowed him and he wrote the 6th chapter of Gnaneshwari in which he described Kuṇḍalinī. But it was in the 12th century.

After that many saints described and talked about it. Where we went yesterday to Satara, you know that's the place where Śhrī Rāmdāsa lived. He said that Kuṇḍalinī, there somebody asked him “How much time does it take to raise the Kuṇḍalinī?", he said that “Tatkshan." Means “that moment." But the person who wants to take it should be deserving and the one who wants to give should be capable. It's a big condition. This is such a big if, a capital if I tell you. As a result very, very few people got their realisation and those who were born as realised Souls found it impossible to talk to people.

Gnaneshwara, such an enlightened soul himself wrote one beautiful book called `Amṛuta Anubhav' which I will try to translate, which is very joy giving. To Me at least it's very great joy giving. He went so deep into the understanding of this joy. I wish English language would provide Me that subtlety to translate that book.

That he wrote all these things when he was only 23 years of age and at the age of 23 years he got so fed up that he took a living Samādhi that is he entered into a cave and killed himself. They all tortured him very much. Nowadays this `Andha Śhraddhā', stupid thing, is not tortured as much, but all these saints in this country or any country have been very much tortured and there was no police protection. There was no one to publish about what these people are up to.

Despite all that, I find there are many Sahaja Yogis who are now occupying very big positions in the government and a day may come when everything will explode. The biggest problem of our country is something you cannot understand because you don't have this problem. The amount of corruption we have from A to Z for everything. That you cannot understand, I mean I have never known any country where they have this to such an extent. Even say in Philippines, it was only one person who was doing it.

Here every person has to get the money and has to pay the money to hire Johns. For this also unless and until you get to Sahaja Yoga it won' t work out. And Sahaja Yoga can only be worked out if people understand that it is their heritage and that they have the capacity to understand Sahaja Yoga and capability to spread it. In north India it is much better, although the vibrations in Maharashtra are much better; it is something funny. Vibrations in Maharashtra are very good. The people in the north India are very good Sahaja Yogis and they are many, many, many in number. We can' t say, even in Bombay [Mumbai] we get about 12,000 people for My programs, but still the way it is spreading in North India is very surprising. Also it is spreading. This is Satara because it was blessed by Rāmdāsa, this district.

I think every where there is a flower there has to be thorns and this district has got some really very bad culprits. Ahmadnagar is much better. Aurangabad we are doing much better; it will work out in Aurangabad much better.

And then if you go to the other side Berhar, from where I come is going to work out very fast. Things are moving very fast there. I was amazed so many people have told Me that in Amravati so many are Sahaja Yogis and in Akola, so many are there. I was surprised, I have never been there.

So that is how it is spreading in Maharashtra.

So your song of Maharashtra Desha is working out. It's not failing. But I think Satara is the most difficult place. Where we worked out yesterday I gave them left and right as to what they are. It has helped them a lot, because those who came to Aapoe sat down and got their realisation.

So they are misleading people to start some sort of a new culture, like you started hippism. And they are collecting young people, that young people are leaving their schools.

Some parents come and complained to Me about it. They are not paying attention to their studies, they are failing in their classes and these people are stupidly using them. I asked some of the boys “what is your policy?" He said “We have no policy." “Then what is your aim?" “We have no aim." “Then why are you doing this nonsense?" They said because whatever the elders tell us we do it. I said “Have you no personality? Nothing?" It's exactly what happened when this hippy movement started.

Some so-called intellectuals started this horrible hippy movement in the West and when they found they cannot do anything about it, they found it's going to fail.

So many children lost their education.

So many children I know became pregnant; girls and boys started squatting.

All that took them to the extreme that they became violent. But unless and until there is a change within yourself, how can you change anything outside? You cannot. And the first seven people I fought, were all hippies; very difficult. They called themselves hippies but they used to honk like a pig. They wanted all the comforts, everything free, extremely dominating and quarrelsome people. But the foundation was laid on them. Very surprising. But I had to work on them for at least four years regularly.

So that is how Sahaja Yoga started and today you know how much it has spread, how far it has gone.

Only in Maharashtra this problem is there of so-called intellectuals, they call themselves, but they have no intelligence. I talked to one man. I got fed up. He didn't know anything about spirituality, he didn't know anything about medicine, he didn't know anything about science. I said “Now what do you know?" It was impossible.

So such people who are jobless, we call them `recanting', they have no work. They are starting all such things and we should not be upset with them. They are trying to create problems and they are getting money from some sources. They are afraid. I think the politicians are afraid, perhaps that Sahaja Yoga may turn their tables down, because we believe in honesty and maybe a day may come when these honest people might harm them, perhaps. I do not know why. This may be one of the reasons why people are frightened of us.

Or whatever it is we have to understand that for doing any great work, one has to sacrifice. Of course you are not going to be crucified like Christ, no. Nor do you have to sacrifice as My parents sacrificed for the independence of this country. Nor are you going to be tortured. But little inconveniences you may have. But I must thank you very much because of your coming here and singing Marathi songs. They are quite impressed and they think it's only possible because you are all Sahaja Yogis otherwise you could not have done it.

So if there are any inconveniences, think that it is a joke, that's all.

Today I was thinking we should do the Pūjā of Śhrī Chakra and Lalitā Chakra which we have never done. This is the right place to do these two Chakras today. A lot has been written about Śhrī Chakra and about Lalitā Chakra, but to understand fundamentally the left side when it reaches up to Viśhuddhi, then it uses on the right side the Śhrī Chakra, on the left side the Lalitā Chakra, to manifest itself. These two Chakras are the ones who manifest all that you see. But these Chakras are the ones who emit vibrations of different kinds and because of their angularities, like if you have some sort of a cardboard attached with small-small holes of different colours which rotates all the time, you get different colours, also you can get different permutations and combinations. In the same way different permutations and combinations are created and that is how you get all the advantages of Sahaja Yoga.

So these two Chakras are very important. I do not know if you know of any mantras about Śhrī Chakra but I'll give you a book. Later on I'll translate it to you and you can compose something for Śhrī Chakra.

Śhrī Chakra on the right side, Lalitā Chakra on the left side.

So what we are really worshipping today is Mahāsaraswatī Power and Mahākālī Power both put together.

So now we've started combining things, not individually. Now these two energies are very important.

Without the energy, without the power, nothing exists, for example if this light had no power to give light or to burn it is useless. In the same way without getting your realisation, you are useless, because your power is not awakened. At least not completely.

But these two powers, give us lots of benefits even without realisation. Whatever you see in this world created is done by these two Chakras of the Ādi Shakti. But here the power doesn't move, it's not moving.

But in the human being the power starts moving and when it starts moving then we can say it is creating another world.

But movement is not the only thing. This power acts, gives you intelligence, gives you all kinds of things which you have as human beings. But later on this power itself becomes enlightened within you.

In the left and right side both become enlightened.

This enlightenment, you get it when you get your Self-realisation, but not immediately, not immediately, this one should understand. For example, if you have pain, or if your Chakra is catching, you have to use your hands. You cannot say that, `the energy is flowing within me, it's alright, I can manage,' it's not like that.

You have to use your hands to impart that power to yourself or to others. If you have pain in the stomach, then you can say that if there's energy in my stomach why should I have pain in the stomach? But the play of these Chakras has to come and that is why you have to use your power of your hands. If you cannot use your hands then you cannot impart this energy.

Many people have asked Me, that Mother, when will it move horizontal? It will move horizontal no doubt, it does, but even that horizontal movement is to be guided by these two very important Chakras.

So you must understand the importance of these two Chakras within yourself. That's why I have told many a times, don't move your head too many times and this way many people talk, this style of talking, “no, this, that” very common with French specially. That's another way you are not respecting your Chakras, shouldn't move your shoulders too much. Mostly they talk like this, its anti-Chakras, antiChakras.

Should keep your shoulders straight. When you are singing you can move your whole upper part, is all right, but not your shoulders. This is the thing, one has to understand, that these two centers are to be looked after. You can move your neck, your body when you are singing, is important, that helps, but not your shoulders.

Shoulders are to be kept intact, but while saying just yes, you need not go on “yes, yes, yes, yes." Is very very simple thing, but it can have a very bad effect and those who move their shoulders too much do not feel vibrations much because the Chakras are not alright.

It's a very simple thing to be understood that they are the most important Chakras we have and whatever is to be used out of this Param-Chaitanya, they have to be used by these two centers. Even supposing your some Chakra is catching on your spinal cord, you have to use your hands.

Somebody can say, “I can just put my attention." Doesn't work out, that good. Because yet your attention has not that, reached that stage where these Chakras, like Lalitā Chakra and Śhrī Chakra obey your attention, they do not.

So you have to work out with your hands, be careful, don't move your shoulders too much.

And, if you see now Indians when they sing bhajans, they move the whole body. They'll do like this, but never their shoulders. The shoulders will move in the same way as the neck is moving. They might move their neck also. But they'll never move their shoulder like this and it's regarded as inauspicious according to Indian standards.

Because of this culture, based on what the saints have told and also about many seers have told, it is more related to spiritual life than to materialistic life. Now the materialistic life, unless and until there is the foundation of the spiritual life, takes you to a very partial development, we can say. But to get a full development, you must have your foundation on spirituality. That's why spirituality being the foundation has to be deep, has to be fully equipped, has to be absolutely perfect. Then the whole building can be built.

What's gone wrong in the West doesn't matter, now you can build it up and then, you'll be surprised how you become really solid people.

This is a very short talk about Śhrī Chakra. I think I should sit down and write all about it and it will be nice handy thing for you to read. But you must know, that, beyond thought when you go, these Chakras become extremely efficient, because the thought puts a pressure on them and because of the pressure the movement of these Chakras is very slow and ineffective.

But once you can get out of your thoughts and go into thoughtless awareness, then these Chakras start working it out and you start moving much deeper into your own being.

[MISSING Marathi for 2 minutes.]

Contents: 1990-12-18Workshop with the Ill Sahaja Yogis Who Could not Travel to Kolhapur, Brahmapuri, Maharashtra, India

[To a very sick Sahaja Yogini who had to miss the last night Evening Program:] You have to thank your illness, since it brought you closer to God.

Contents: 1990-12-18, Public Program (Marathi), Bhautik Pragati Adhyatmikte shiway hot nahi, Brahmapuri (near Satara), Maharashtra, India

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

We all should first know the Truth. What we have now, cannot be changed or we can change that in our mind. Even human awareness is also not sufficient to know that Truth. In our evolution today, we reached to human level but in that human level too we could not get the only truth, we could not get the only knowledge, for which we say `solitude' (detachment). Therefore we try to find various new thoughts, new philosophy, which has no relevance with one another. The main reason (method) to find the ultimate Truth is by knowing the Knowledge of the Spirit which we call it as `Spirituality'.

.....

Contents: 1990-12-21 Śhrī Mahālakṣhmī Pūjā (Hindi+English), Hall, Kolhapur, Maharashtra, India

[Shri Mataji talks in Hindi:] This way the three and a half Shakti [Kuṇḍalinī] is residing in Maharashtra and also the Śhrī Chakra is residing here.

All of you know that in the central path resides Mahālakṣhmī and also the Kuṇḍalinī is awakened in the central path. For thousands of years in this Mahālakṣhmī temple it is recited [chanted] “Udo udo Ambe" to awaken the Amba Kuṇḍalinī and the Kuṇḍalinī Shakti in Mahālakṣhmī gets awakened. For this the Amba who resides in this Mahālakṣhmī temple arises.

Kolhasur was killed here and that's why the name Kolhapur. There was a Rākshasa named Kolhasur and he was killed here and from the name Kolhasur it is named Kolhapur.

Wherever you go to the temples where the Prithvi Tattwa [Mother Earth] has created the swayambhū statues, there, completely people started making money out of it, because of this there will be less of Chaitanya [vibrations].

Now you [Sahaja Yogis] have come and it is possible again the Mahālakṣhmī [vibrations] get purified.

Suṣhumnā Nāḍī is made in the way as the three Nāḍīs and behind there is a very subtle Nāḍī and it is called Brahma Nāḍī. The Kuṇḍalinī gets first awakened in this Nāḍī. From this subtle Brahma Nāḍī it passes and awakens [opens] the Brahmarandhra. By awakening the Brahmarandhra the Self-realisation starts, so in this special way Kuṇḍalinī's central path is made.

Whatever is the obstacle (badhas) slowly, slowly the Kuṇḍalinī awakening steadies itself through meditation.

In Sahaja Yoga first we reach the peak [top] after we settle down. First we go to the top...

[After this one phrase, the words are not audible and Shri Mataji tells the Maharashtrians in Marathi how everybody knows the speciality of this place and the temple.] [Shri Mataji talks in English:] I welcome all of you from abroad and this Kolhapur is regarded as one of the deities' temple, which have three and a half deities, or you can say three and a half coils of the Kuṇḍalinī, so it is said that, in this triangular bone of Maharashtra, because it is surrounded by, on all three sides by mountains and the plateau is in the center so the all the three sides make a nice triangle, is the Kuṇḍalinī of the whole universe, of the whole world, is expressed by Mother Earth in Maharashtra.

These are three and a half energies, which are coiled together. The first one is of Mahākālī. This Mahākālī power is expressed in Tuljapur as Bhavāṇī and Shivaji Mahārāj used to come on a horse all the way for miles together, to get the darshan of this Bhavāṇī at Tuljapur: he knew this; and he had a sword which was called as Bhavāṇī talwar and people said that the Goddess Herself has given this sword to him.

Now the second one is Mahāsaraswatī, is at Mahurgad. We always sing Mahurgad. Wari song, that is the one, is Mahāsaraswatī, which is also called as Renuka Devī, that's the right-sided Mahāsaraswatī.

Then the third one is Mahālakṣhmī, that is at Kolhapur. Here a very bad demon called Kolhasur was killed by the Mother, so this place is specially very holy for all of us; because you got your Realisation as the Kuṇḍalinī went through your Suṣhumnā Nāḍī, which is being nourished by Mahālakṣhmī principle.

So in the Temple they sit down, it's a Mahālakṣhmī's Temple, but they sing that: “Oh Ambe, please rise, please rise, please rise." This comes with the full understanding of the Suṣhumnā Nāḍī, but ninety-nine point nine percent people don't know, because all the knowledge about Shakti is being lost due to the different timings and people never worried about it.

So, one has to realise that in Indian Shāstras, Scriptures, Shakti is the most important thing. It is to be understood why.

Because, say now, if you have a light or if you have fire, what is the power of fire? The power of fire can be that it can give you light, it can burn away things, but supposing it does not have its power, then who'll care for fire? Nothing.

So anybody who hasn't got the power of being the Spirit, it is useless.

So this power, this Shakti, has to be awakened within us, because we do not have the power of the Spirit. We have to have the power of the Spirit. That's only possible if you get your Self-realisation. That is the reason it is very important that we should pay attention to our power. Now this power is made as the power of a Mother. Mother is the most loving relationship and through that relationship all the love is expressed.

That is why the Shakti is that of a Mother and the affection, the love, the patience that Mother has for Her children, the Shakti too has the same powers, you see and that is how this Shakti never can harm you.

Out of all these Shaktis, all these powers, highest of all is what we call as the Kuṇḍalinī, because without Her you cannot get Realisation. But also we can say, higher than that, or complementary to that, is Mahālakṣhmī power.

Without the Mahālakṣhmī you cannot rise. This is the ladder through which this power of Kuṇḍalinī can rise.

So both the powers are very important and very much related to each other. Mahālakṣhmī principle starts when we have finished with Lakṣhmī principle.

Like in the West, people are fed up with affluence, fed up with all the riches and all that, so they are thinking: `What have we achieved? We have gone into imbalances, so what should we do? We have to balance ourselves.' So how do we balance ourselves? We have to have the knowledge of the Spirit. That is called as Adhyātma. You have to know what is the knowledge of the Spirit and to know the knowledge of the Spirit Kuṇḍalinī has to be awakened and that you are to be connected to this All-pervading Power. Once that happens, you just become one with that energy and you get transformation within yourself, because there is light and in the light you can see all your problems, all your defects; and also if you know how to correct it, is the easiest thing to do is to get transformation in Sahaja Yoga.

All of you have been very much transformed and now I find it difficult even to recognize you, because all your faces are changed, your attitudes are changed, you look so different, so beautiful.

Today it seems to be a special day for Me, here in Mahālakṣhmī Temple, that Mahālakṣhmī is being awakened and I'm feeling really in that state of thoughtless awareness.

I don't know how I'm talking; and I am merged just in the meditative mood, absolutely into meditative mood. Because when you are in the center you don't think, you are in meditation. That is why Mahālakṣhmī is very important.

So when you are fed up, you can feel there's something missing and then you take to Mahālakṣhmī principle.

But in India because of so many saints, we feel that we should short-circuit it.

First let us develop our own Adhyātma, let us develop our knowledge of Ātmā and then take to science, so there is no more imbalance within us; because without the foundation of Adhyātma, knowledge of the Spirit, you take to any kind of progress, you can topple down.

That's why all the Western entrepreneurs, enterprises and also projections of religion have gone to waste, because there has been no balance. It is important that we must have the balance within ourselves.

Now in India we have people who have this idea, at least that you have to rise higher than materialism and that you have to become one with the Virāta, part and parcel of the whole. This they know and that's what, by knowing that, once they get to Sahaja Yoga, they grow very deeply; the depth, the depth they have achieved with this faith, that we have to be Self-realised and that we have to feel the All-pervading Power.

This conviction itself gives them the depth and so when they achieve Realisation, they just go down very deep.

But most surprising, people who have never heard about Gaṇeśha, who have never heard about Kolhapur, have never heard about Mahālakṣhmī are sometimes much, much better, much more deeper than the people who know all these things by heart.

So one can deduct that those who know outwardly, those who know through their books, or through some Gurus who teach them something, are absolutely outside. They have nothing in them to tell us because they have had no experience of the Self, no experience of the Self. That's only possible when your Kuṇḍalinī rises and breaks your Brahmarandhra. That is the time the first experience comes to you of this All-pervading Power.

So all those people who have been only just praying to Mahālakṣhmī, have been going to Her, doing a lot of penances, fasting, this, that, have no idea as to what Mahālakṣhmī wants and they always complain to Me: “Mother, we have done this, we have done that." People are very religious. They are doing all kinds of ritualism, what we call as Karmakanda, but with that you do not reach where you have to reach.

So one has to understand that whatever has been written and told about all these great things in India, people may know in words, but in experience they do not know.

So Sahaja Yoga is very important to give them this experience, so that they can really verify whatever is said in the science of spirituality about getting Realisation, is absolutely true. Not only that but it's very practical and every person who gets Realisation can understand it very well.

So we are here in a very holy place, full of unholy people. But still there are some very, very good people here also and because of Mahālakṣhmī, they make very good ornaments because these ornaments are offered to the Goddess. You can feel there a kind of a subdued feeling for God, feeling for spirituality, but they do not have the experience that you have got, so you are much higher than all of them.

And those who have the experience can feel more, once they go to the Temple, if you can go to the Temple to see the place also; but give yourself a big bandhan because I have seen it, next to the deity there are very funny people sitting. They're doing all kinds of commercial activities. They are selling flowers, they are selling this, selling everything.

So you have to be careful, with a bandhan you can go and see for yourself.

Now they say that this Temple is made because it's a swayambhū, it's the one that has come out of Mother Earth, you can see yourself if there are vibrations and moreover, you must know that this Pūjā of these deities are done by people who are not at all in any way religious, but are just commercial people.

Commercialism can never give you any satisfaction, can never give you at all any satisfaction. Apart from that it can take you to something unknown, of dangerous shores. But if your faith is pure, without any greed, without any demands, then you develop your depth within yourself; which is very helpful after Sahaja Yoga.

It's a remarkable thing how Śhrī Chakra is here and how they have made the complete calculation of Śhrī Chakra. I met a scientist in Russia, in Moscow, who has done a research, very much big research on this Śhrī Chakra. Now, so we have Śhrī Chakra on the right side, on the left hand side we have Lalitā Chakra, so all the things that we do with hands after Realisation are worked through, on the right hand side Śhrī Chakra, on the left hand side Lalitā Chakra.

Now how it works is a very complicated thing, but we don't have to worry about that.

As soon as you put your hand on somebody, the Chakra knows how to work it out. It works by itself, as if it is a built-in mechanism within us, which knows what sort of vibrations to be given to a particular person for a particular cause, or a particular purpose.

If that person has certain defects also, these Chakras know what is to be emitted, how to work it out.

So it is not that we have the Kuṇḍalinī awakening only, these Chakras are awakened, we also have these two Chakras awakened within us because of Kuṇḍalinī.

But if you have Viśhuddhi problem, then you can find that your hands are stiff and you cannot feel guidance, or we can say, the Divine intentions of Realisation; because when you start using your hands you don't feel any vibrations, so how will you know what's happening? It's a very complicated thing and for that complicated thing these instruments are made already, are prepared already; they are quite equipped with all the knowledge that is necessary, like a feedback as you call it, or we can call it a complete programming is there.

So as soon as you put your hand on a person, the programming starts working it out. Because it is programming is done by God Almighty, it can never be wrong. It cannot be two different things, as far as Sahaja Yoga is concerned.

I have been thinking about writing about all these big, big Pīṭhas that are in India, so it will be helpful to you as well as to others in India. But here the atmosphere is so bad, as if to think of God, to talk of God is absolutely wrong, you cannot say. The people are in illusion and they think that all these talks has brought us nothing.

To them it is the progress of the West is more effective, more apparent, that they can see how you have progressed in materialism and they can't understand how we could progress with Adhyātma very much in the area of physical development or mental development.

So now we come to a point where we realise that it is very important for all the Western people to have the foundation of Adhyātma.

For that it is important to give up some of your conditionings, because this knowledge is coming definitely from India. I mean the Indians had all the knowledge of your medical science, this science, that science, that science. But God's science is in India and for that, what are you going to do? When the question of God's science is concerned, what are you going to do about it? How are you going to work it out, that this is the science of God and the God's science has to be understood with full dedication and devotion? Because of the conditioning of the Western influence, the Western progress, sometimes we just do not know how to grasp this knowledge within ourselves; very difficult. But if you can understand that, as for science we had to accept it fully from the West, you have to accept the knowledge of your Spirit from the East, East has the knowledge of the Spirit: for that you have to be ready to receive it. But if you are still in your arrogance, if you are still in your own conditionings, then you cannot do it.

Like a boy who comes from a village, who has never known about science and you suddenly put him in a science college, he'll say: “What is this nonsense, what's all this all? I have never known these things.

Why should I use a test tube, why should I go in the laboratory?" All kinds of things he can start saying and this conditioning is there. Then he'll run away from school within one year or two year, maybe earlier and that is what I find is their conditioning, which turns away many people from Sahaja Yoga after some time.

So we must watch our conditionings, what sort of conditionings we have; while the Indians have conditionings of so-called religious beliefs and this ritualism, this, that, they are very much conditioned also.

But is easy to overcome that when you realise that whatever your worship: for example, in India everybody has a kulaDevatā, means the family's Goddess, everybody has; they must worship that Goddess, particular Goddess, everybody has.

So they have to, if they just ask: `Mother, are You that Goddess?' the vibrations start flowing.

So the conditioning gets very easily eradicated, but the mental acceptance of something is very difficult to go.

And I've seen also when they get married or marriage is arranged, they go mental. They go mental. If you go mental, then you cannot understand many things. But if you are spiritual, then you can understand.

For example, we see Mother Earth giving us these flowers and all that, how can we go mental about it? It's a living process. For any living process we cannot get mental.

So now you will say: “All right, this is because of seed has got this and the seed is planted"; but how, why? That you can't answer, can never answer. Then you'll keep quiet.

But say if there's a sage, he'll say: “All right, this is Mother Earth, She wants to give to Her children, these flowers, fruits, these trees, so She's working it out." So one has to jump from one conditioning of materialism.

Now you should see in matter, energy never moves. Energy is stationary, it never moves. And also energies which are moving, so-called, like electricity, this, that, are absolutely blind. Supposing there is electricity here flowing, all right, well and good, but supposing somebody stops it, it will stop. It has no mind, it is a mindless thing.

So in materialism you become mindless. You start seeing also that within yourself, that you have become mindless; and becoming absolutely, absolutely, I should say, like robots sometimes, which is mindless, which is fixed, fixed quantity. And I see very much clearly, in the West I've seen, that people have very fixed ideas. It's difficult for them to get out of it because they don't have that movement towards the spiritual subtlety, where one can use the mind to do something.

We would say that Mother Earth has got the mind. Now that nobody can believe in the West, except for Sahaja Yogis. That the Mother Earth produces these vigrahas, She produces these deities, nobody will believe.

How can you believe such a thing, that this Mother Earth thinks, that this Mother Earth produces these things? But logically you can see, logically. Logically.

Say a tree has a certain height, the fruits have a certain shape, certain colours, flowers same: who changes all the seasons, specially in India is very clear-cut six seasons? It's called as Ṛitambhara Pragñyā in the Haṭha Yoga. Now that is the One which is a Lady, which thinks. She has a mind of Her own, She decides and She works out everything.

This concept was doubly denied in the West, is first is that they cannot accept a Goddess. Woman has no part.

Right from Socrates onward, nobody has talked much about a Woman, except of course there is Athena and all that, but it's very minor roles they have.

Greeks had Goddesses who were just like human beings, so that also gets ruled out and very little was accepted; and when Christianity came, somehow or other Christians saw to it that there should be no mention of the Mother in any way.

But despite that, people worshipped the Mother. They worshipped the Mother of Christ as, some like a Goddess; though in the Bible She's talked as a `woman', in a very derogatory style She's addressed.

So the conditioning of people is about the power of God who hangs somewhere in the air, that He's there and that

He gives us everything; but what is the communication? What is the justification or what is the logical thing, how to explain? So you have to say: “It is a mystery. God is a mystery. He hangs somewhere in the air. He does everything." And how can people believe in it? So the Christian conditioning has been even worse than, I think, Jew conditioning because they just took it out, Christ's Mother, away; though the painters, artists wouldn't do that, they wouldn't accept: they had the Mother there.

But despite all that, the Motherhood has not been respected that should have been, in the Bible, which is a very wrong thing, while Mahālakṣhmī Herself incarnated as Mother Mary Herself. And to say about Mahālakṣhmī as `a woman', I think is a great insult.

And where women are insulted like this, where the Goddesses are insulted, we cannot expect any spiritual growth unless and until you accept that it's the Shakti, is the Mother who, who is the only thing that's the communication between us and the Divinity.

So this conditioning, Christian conditioning has to go out, as far as the Motherhood is concerned. It's very surprising sometimes when I see how these people have tried to bring down the level of a Goddess to just a woman.

So this is a very big blessing in India, that they respect Mother as the Shakti and that the whole thing is done by the movement of the Shakti, by the thinking of the Shakti, by the coordination and the understanding and the planning of the Shakti only. It's not done by God Almighty, He's just a spectator.

She does everything.

Once that concept can fit into your heads properly, then you will see so many conditionings will drop out; because religion was organized and in an organized religion you can put whatever you like, the way you want to put it and it was such a big mistake.

By that people developed a lot of ego, lot of things against women and also the first sin they call the `original sin' and all that is because of a woman, they really ill-treated women and they have no respect for them.

So the women have changed their role and instead of becoming mothers and Goddesses, they have tried to become something like actresses. But you can understand that without the power there is no sense in anything and this is the power of Love and this is the power of Truth. And once you get that power we should humble down and know that this power is within us, which has given us all this knowledge, which has given us all this ability to raise the Kuṇḍalinī. All this is because of energy within us, the Shakti within us. Without that we are nothing. And that too is the Mother who has done it.

I do not know how much to press this point, but it's important; because I find, specially in England some newspaper people came: “How do you feel as a Guru, as a woman?" I mean, it's a kind of a thing, `a woman', as if I am sort of a, that movement where women are starting a fight with the men, sort of a thing and now: `This is another Guru who is a woman, so She should be supported,' or some sort of a nonsense like that. It's the only the Mother who does this job, so there's no question of asking such a question.

But that's what it is, that we should first know that it's the feminine quality of a woman as a mother, is very powerful. But we should encourage it and try to develop it, so that spiritually you can communicate, spiritually you can imbibe these qualities for your own children.

The mothers who do not have Adhyātma can never develop good children with proper emotions, with proper value system of morality.

So it is very important for every mother to be very proud that they are mothers and for girls who are going to be mothers to be very proud that they are going to be mothers and that they represent the Shakti.

So now then, what is the part of the men is to take full advantage of that power, by understanding it, by complementing, by looking after that power. I'm not talking only about your wives. I'm talking about your sisters, your daughters, your mothers and the whole society, where women are to be respected and they have to be respectable.

And women should try to be respectable, to try to know that they are the powers and they are the ones who will be used by this Divine power as channels, more than men.

But if they are useless, then of course they wouldn't bother about them, they would like to bother then about men, much more than what you are.

So it is important to understand what is your role in Sahaja Yoga. This is your role in Sahaja Yoga. And I am sure you can work it out. You can manage this part.

You can equip yourself for this role, which is so beautiful and so good.

So much can be said about Mahālakṣhmī and there's no end to it, but I think later on we should keep this program on every year and you all should come to Mahālakṣhmī Temple here, to the, I mean the Kolhapur and then I'll again tell you all about the Mother's qualities, what She is as Mahālakṣhmī.

And today we'll have the... Śhrī Sūkta. Śhrī Sūkta is about Mahālakṣhmī's qualities. I think we'll have Gaṇeśha Stuthi and then we'll have this.

So seriously you must understand what is it.

I'm just in meditative mood today, I don't know what I'm talking; because this Mahālakṣhmī is a thing that goes, finishes everything else. Left, right is finished now, you are just in Mahālakṣhmī state: what to do? “Mahālakṣhmī state" means Nirvichar, nirvikalp, beyond that, I don't know what stages it is.

It comes down a little bit, then again it goes back to the same.

Contents: 1990-12-24 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, About Śhrī Jesus, Ganapatipule, India

The innocence, the auspiciousness which was filled by Ādi Shakti to begin with when She started to create this universe, that He was the embodiment of all that which was so necessary before the creation started.

It's hard to understand how people could not feed Him. They all have suffered so much. Whatever it is, for the Divine they do not suffer and they come on this earth to show how stupid we are, how we have not been able to see the Truth, to see the reality. But we repeat the mistakes again and again, because we do not know ourselves, which is the only instrument by which you can know the Divine. And when we do not know ourselves we cannot understand the Divine.

Still, it's such a great thing to see so many of you are there in that subtle area of the Spirit. That you have the sensitivity, that you can feel the beauty of their lives, the greatness, the purity, the innocence of these great incarnations who came on this earth.

But with all that, we have a very great responsibility also. Christ had only twelve disciples who didn't even get their Realisation till Christ lived. Afterwards they got Realisation, twelve of them. And imagine, somebody like Thomas came to India.

So, how they took so much responsibility. They were just ordinary fishermen. They didn't care for anything else, but they thought, “This is the Truth and that we have to spread this, this is our responsibility." We are so many. That is our responsibility. Is not only to enjoy yourself, but to spread Sahaja Yoga and to practice it. Moreover, to have an ideal life, that people could see us: how we behave, how we talk, how we treat each other, how we love each other, how we understand each other, how we run to help each other, like one body.

The message of Christ's life is love. He openly talked about it. Before that, I don't think any incarnation talked like that, in that manner, so openly. He told His disciples that, “The greatest joy for Me is to see that you love each other." All those things that have really made our society, made our lives miserable of jealousies and pettiness, small-mindedness has to go. Otherwise you are not Sahaja Yogis. Where is the time for jealousy? There is no mind, this… that can see those things, anymore.

So, all of us have to evolve and the sign of evolution is not how much we can talk about Sahaja Yoga, how much we can practice Sahaja Yoga, how much we spread Sahaja Yoga. That's not the sign, don't be convinced by that. But the sign of Sahaja Yoga is that how much we can love each other, how much we understand each other, how much we can endure for others with great joy and how much we do not bother about ourselves, our families, our children. This `mine, my, me' has to go. It doesn't go by saying “go." It's a state, again. But then only you should be convinced, `Now I am a Sahaja Yogi!' Christ has said, “Love thy neighbour as thyself!" I would say that you have to love every Sahaja Yogi as yourself, because they are part and parcel of this body. You cannot afford to hate someone. Of course, those who are useless are thrown out of the body. But those who are there living, you must love them. I think this is the message of Christ and other message is absolute morality, absolute morality. As He has said that, “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes" is such a subtle thing to say, that you should not have eyes which have adultery in them. It doesn't mean only for women but it also mean for saints. It also means for properties, it also means for the success of others. Adultery means the one where you try to aggress and to be greedy about it. If there is greed or if there is lust in your eyes, then it's an adulterous eyes. It is very subtle, I know. It is very subtle and the attention is the best way which communicates to you whether you are above lust and greed or not. But the more you try to rise above these things, your heart opens and you start enjoying your virtues, your morality. You enjoy, you don't think you are moral, you don't think that way, but you enjoy that state where you are really moral because you are moral.

You just enjoy yourself. It's a headache to be interested in some woman, interested in some man. It's a headache. It's a joyless pursuit. And once you are detached, the joy is complete... because you are one with reality, pure reality. There is no... inhibitions, no restrictions, no taboos, nothing, but just you are that! Nobody has to tell you. If you are gold, you are gold. Nobody has to tell you, `Now, you don't behave like non-gold,' you are gold, so you are gold. That's the power! And the power of a Sahaja Yogi is that he is the purest form of human being. Without the power what are we? Nothing. The purest form and in the purest form of love you get the purest form of knowledge. This is [UNCLEAR kaivaldya] is the absolute knowledge and absolute love, detached, pure. That time when you are in that state, you just watch anything, see anything, all the power of giving joy from everything just starts bubbling into you and you don't see the bad things at all, you never see the bad things. The power of enjoying everything is the power of Sahaja Yogis, to enjoy everything. Anything can be enjoyed, any small thing can be enjoyed, any big thing can be enjoyed. But impurities one cannot enjoy, immorality you cannot enjoy. It's not enjoyment, it's just a fascination maybe, I don't know what it is called as, as I cannot enjoy then I don't know what it is. But what you enjoy really is the purity of another personality, the purity of this, all that is done by someone with such pure art. And the deeper you see, it becomes simpler and simpler. Then you don't say smart things, no, you don't, don't have to show off, nothing. You just say simple, sweet nice things. It's so touching, so beautiful, but must allow the deeper love within us to come out. Many people love also but they don't know how to express it. There are many people who are misunderstood, because they don't know how to express their love. In Sahaja Yoga you have to learn the yukti, the technique.

`Yukti' is a very sweet word, not technique is not, technique deals with something very materialistic. But yukti means the trick, trick of the trade, what to say when that would really just pierce like a dart in the heart of someone, the beautiful feeling. That one has to understand and practice. All little-little things here and there, little turning here and there is an art of living a Sahaja Yoga life. And I've seen children say such sweet-sweet things. That's why Christ has said that, “You have to be like children to enter into the Kingdom of God” but I would say, “to stay in the Kingdom of God." You have to be simple like children, deep and simple.

This seminar, or whatever you may call it, Ganapatipule, I don't know what you call is a Divine congregation of all the Gods and Goddesses, is very symbolic to Me, because this represents the whole world, it represents the problems of the whole world and also the solutions. It's such a beautiful idea. I don't know how it worked into My head that I started this kind of a beautiful congregation to meet you all. It was very nice yesterday, you kept awake all the while and came to see Me. I could meet all of you and I could have some rapport. I couldn't say much, I was just smiling at you, but just I could express My love and you gave Me that chance.

I must thank you very much for that.

[Applause.]

Contents: 1990-12-25 Christmas Pūjā (English+Hindi), Ganapatipule, India

Today we have such a great opportunity to celebrate the birth of Christ. He was born in a manger. All these things are already preplanned. That He should be born in a manger in difficult situations, to show that whether you are born poor or rich, whether you are born in difficulties or in problems, if you have Divinity within you it shines by itself. As the Christianity took a very wrong deviated line, they have never been able to understand the significance of Christ. To them immaculate conception is absolutely not possible. Most of the people think that it's some sort of a mythical story.

But in India we do believe that Gaurī created Śhrī Gaṇeśha out of Her own vibrations and that He became the Deity of Mūlādhāra. We accept it. But not in the West. They will never accept such a thing because their mental side is over-developed and dominates them. Maybe they are not so very old like Indians to understand that above all He is God. Even the concept of God is quite mental. Moreover, the way Christianity has been, it has not provided any proper guidance. On the contrary wherever they have failed they said: “It's a mystery." But it's very simple to understand for Indians, that anything is possible for God. After all He is God. He is God Almighty.

Because of this mental attitude which is much lower than the knowledge of your spirit, the ordinary, mundane type of the superficial knowledge can never allow the personality to accept the greatness of God.

I had a grandma. She was My father's aunt and she used to tell us a nice story about somebody who was going to meet God. Of course this, in India everybody understands all these things. They will not say: `How he is going to meet God?' but they accept. All right, he is going to meet God.

So when he was going on the way, on the road, he found one gentleman sitting there nicely singing songs, bhajans of God, doing nothing on the roadside.

So he said: “Oh, so you are going to meet God?" “Yes, I am going to meet Him.

So have you any message for Him?" “Yes, please tell Him that I'm all right, but He should arrange for my food, because I think the food is now finishing." He said: “Really, that's what you want me to tell Him?" “Yes, yes, please tell Him. Oh, of course He'll arrange, but please tell Him." So he went ahead and he met another gentleman who was standing on his head, or in a Christian way I would say he was going to church every day with nice suits and singing hymns every day, listening to the pastor's sermons, or whatever you may say; and in the Indian way we can say he was going to the temple every day, standing on his head, doing all kinds of Yoga asanas and everything. And he asked him: “Please go and ask God, I've tried everything. When is He going to meet me? I would like to see Him. I would like to have His darshan." He said: “All right." So he went to God and whatever work he had he finished with it and then God asked him: “Have you got anything to tell Me?" He said: “Nothing much, but I met one gentleman while coming and he said that `I'm doing all kinds of things, I have tried everything and when will God meet me? I am standing on my head and I am doing also all kinds of Yoga asanas and all kinds of things and also I am going to church and mosque, I am praying, doing all sorts of prayers, but when will God meet me?' " So God said: “Tell him he has to do a little more. See, it's not easy. When Sahaja Yoga will come we'll see!" So then even he said: “And there is another one who was on the road, You see. As he was just enjoying himself singing songs, he suddenly saw me and he told me: `You see, my food is now finishing, ask God to arrange it for me.' " He said: “Really, is the food just finishing?" Immediately God said: “What are you doing, why don't you go and look after him? His food is finishing." “No, no, Sir, we yesterday only, we arranged it, all that." He said: “All right, all right, doesn't matter." You see, he couldn't understand, you know, that this fellow who is trying all these things and God is still saying that he has to wait. And while this fellow is just singing songs of God and all that and why is it so much impressed by this another fellow who is doing nothing to seek God? So then God realised that he is in some sort of an illusion.

So He told him: “All right, you go and tell them one thing. To both of them the same thing, that `When I went to God what I saw there was that He made a camel pass through the eye of a needle.' " So he said: “Really, I should tell them?" “Yes, yes, you just tell them and see the reaction." So he went down.

So this is, the first one met him, he said: “What God has said?" He said that God has said: “Wait till Sahaja Yoga comes in, then I'll meet you. Before that you'll go around like this." “Oh God, when will this Sahaja Yoga come?" And he said: “So, but He'll meet me sometime. I hope Sahaja Yoga also comes some time." And he was quite disappointed.

So he went. And he asked him that: “What did you see with, there when you went to see God?" He said: “I saw that, you know, He passed a camel through the eye of an, of a needle." He said: “What? How is it possible? It's impossible!" Now mental.

“How is it possible, that a camel gets passed through the eye, it's not possible, see the volume of this one and such a little thing. How can he pass? No, no, no, no you are just telling me a story because you have been to God, you are trying to show off, that's all. I, I don't believe in all this nonsense. It's... you are just telling me lies and don't try to befool me." So he went to another person who was on the street eating nicely.

He said: “How are you?" “I know He had arranged before you reached there, I know it was all right after all. You see He looks after me all the time.

So what did you see when you went there?" He said: “I saw that God Almighty passed a camel through an eye of a needle. It's a very amazing thing." He said: “What, amazing? He is God, do you know He is God? Do you know He is God? God can do anything. He can do anything!" That's made him understand, that if you understand that God is all-powerful, all-powerful, it doesn't mean that He can move Himālayas to Maharashtra. It doesn't mean that! But it means He is all powerful. Means He can do subtlest and subtlest thing and such things which our brain, this mental side cannot understand. It's beyond the conception of a human mind.

This is what God is. He's the One who has created human beings. He has to be beyond us if He is creating. If a potter creates a pot that means he is beyond the pot. Pot cannot create God the potter. And the potter has created the pot, so that means that this pot which is created by him has to be something which is made by him, so he has to be much more powerful than the pot is. But it is unbelievable, or say beyond the conception of human beings, that what a God it must be Who has made this great computer.

We take everything for granted. We cannot even make a particle of clay ourself. We cannot make anything, human beings cannot make. Ha, if there is some stone, all right you can put this up. If there is some clay you can make some sort of a house out of it. That's all dead from the dead. But can you make a candle which will burn badhas? You have seen it with your own eyes that before My photograph the badhas burn.

Can you do that? Now you, we have no, also the idea of the complete, intricate working, delicate machinery and also very dynamic explosive machinery, how it works to create human beings, to create all this universe, to create all these beautiful flowers and trees and everything. Look at the stars. Look at how many they are. Out of that He has chosen this Mother Earth to create human beings. How He has made it? When He wants to send His own Son, He can send it the way He wants to send it. Even to challenge this shows the mental mind which is in, absolutely in mud.

So to accept it is only possible when you have saints, real saints who tell you, that this is how Śhrī Gaṇeśha was born out of Gaurī. But to jump into it, into faith, when you come to Sahaja Yoga you start seeing miracles taking place. Then you can understand that these miracles are taking place and if there is another miracle that has to take place it will take place in any case. We are not doing anything, it is all done. And we don't doubt it. Once you doubt you become again the same human being which is just embedded in the mud.

I always say that you are like lotuses now opened out. You are not flying in the air. Your roots are down there. But you are now lotuses and that's what is on top of the lotus, this Mahālakṣhmī principle is born. Mahālakṣhmī principle is the One which came on this earth as Sītājī, as Rādhā and also as Mary, as Mother Mary. It's said that Mahālakṣhmī is born out of the sea. What is the meaning of `Mary'? Maria means, you know, Mare means `the sea'. She was born out of the sea.

So She being a Mahālakṣhmī Herself, She could create a child. What's the harm? She could do anything and this is the thing you have to rise above. Christians have to rise above this Christianity and has to understand that it's such a great thing that was Christ Who came on this earth, Who was the Incarnation of the principle of Gaṇeśha.

Gaṇeśha becoming Mahāviṣhṇu is a very big thing which one should try to understand. Gaṇeśha is the Son of Shiva. Śhrī Gaṇeśha is the One Who was first created before creating anything, any atmosphere, anything, because He is the Omkāra and the Omkāra is the first breaking of Ādi Shakti from Shiva. That sound, `Tan-kar', as they call it. From there started Omkāra and He is the One Who is the embodiment of that Omkāra.

So this sound is Śhrī Gaṇeśh, is His power, was created first foremost thing, just to create holiness [UNCLEAR povitrada]. When this holiness was created, this [povitrada] was created, then everything was created in the sea of that holiness. And then He incarnated as Christ, but as Mahāviṣhṇu, not as Shiva's Son, but as Mahāviṣhṇu. And who is Viṣhṇu? Is an uncle of Śhrī Gaṇeśh. His Mother's brother is Śhrī Viṣhṇu.

So He was brought up, we should say, by Mahāviṣhṇu, we can say, but Mahālakṣhmī adopted the principle of Śhrī Gaṇeśh.

In the Kuṇḍalinī chart you can see that the Śhrī Gaṇeśha is connected on the left hand side to the Iḍā Nāḍī and the Kuṇḍalinī is above that.

So now what has happened is this, that He transcended that part and if He had to come for the redemption, He had to come as the Son of Mahālakṣhmī.

So it was Mahālakṣhmī who adopted Him, or we should say really, conceived Him within Himself as Christ and He became Mahāviṣhṇu. Anything is possible in the family of Gods and Goddesses, because they are Gods. It is beyond human mind to understand how these things are working out in that realm. Very difficult. But now you have got Realisation you can feel in the Cool Breeze, so many new things are happening to you.

So now believe Me, that there is no unholy alliances among the Gods and Goddesses, no unholy alliances.

There is nothing that is human in them. They're all Divine, pure people.

Once you understand this point then you will understand why Śhrī Gaṇeśha had to accept to be a Son of Mahālakṣhmī, was born to Him as Christ. Because He had to come on Āgñyā and for the redemption as Gaṇeśha, He doesn't do the redemption part, because at that stage He is for the innocence, for the holiness, for the wisdom or also for destroying the negativity. But He had to come up, only He, only Gaṇeśha could be brought to this very constricted Chakra, Āgñyā Chakra. Now why is it constricted? It's quite a scientific thing which I would not like to discuss today. But it had to be constricted and it goes on getting more constricted, this Āgñyā Chakra, the more, the more we think, the more we go into the left or right, it goes on really becoming like this, absolutely like this.

So in this very subtle area only Christ could be subtle, because He's the subtlest of subtle. He's even subtler than an atom, because in the atom those vibrations which move asymmetric and symmetric movements are subtler than the atom. And this is the subtler of that also.

So in that little very constricted area, only a personality like Christ, which is nothing but purity. There is no other element in Him but purity. All other Incarnations have all the five elements in it. He has nothing. He is nothing but pure vibrations. That's why He could walk on the water, because there was no mass in His body, no matter in His body. No matter. No element, except for Chaitanya itself. Omkāra becoming Gaṇeśha in the mud, or the what you can say, the thing that came out of Her body. Only the Chaitanya.

So at Gaṇeśha's stage we can say that the Chaitanya was kept in that form, but in the state of Christ it was not there.

But the whole drama was played later on, of His death and resurrection, because He is the One who is responsible for our resurrection, because He is the Gate. He's the Path because He's Śhrī Gaṇeśh.

Omkāra is the Path and He's the Gate, but He is not the destination. His Mother is the destination. Even Mahālakṣhmī is not the Destination. Even Mahākālī, Mahāsaraswatī. It's the Ādi Shakti is the destination where you have to reach. All these things were never told in the Bible, because He could hardly live for four years with public life. Nor did they want to tell about it because they did not know, also there was a definite suppression of all Divine things, for these people are all commercialised institutions, as we have also in India all kinds of commercial institutions. But the only advantage in India is that religion is not organized. Thank God for that! But they organized it, they organized Christ, they organized all His principles, everything and now they think He was a good human being. What a certificate to give Him! So today we are here to celebrate the birth of Omkāra. It's a very big thing. I don't know if you can realise it, what it is, which moves into everything, whether it is [UNCLEAR anu, paramanu], is the atom, molecules, into all the organizing of chemicals and also the periodic laws and also in the gravity, into every thing that moves is this Omkāra and your vibrations are nothing but Omkāras. Actually, in My photograph the vibrations have come as Omkāras. On the head of the people there is Omkāra written.

How is it happening, these lights look like Omkāra? How is it on top of the heads of the Sahaja Yogis, there's all the Sahaja Yogis' heads, there is Omkāra?, or Allah in Arabic language, My name also, in Arabic.

Who is doing this? It is He who is doing all this.

So Omkāra itself takes a form to do things to convince you of Ādi Shakti. He's the One who is handling all these powers. He doesn't enter into the photograph, no, He does not, but He plays a trick. After all you see, if you go into details, how do you get a photograph? Through the light. The light passes straight, a straight line. But if He wants He can make the light pass another way round. He can just transform the light into something else. He can do whatever He likes. And that's what He does to convince you. And He said that: “Anything against Me I'll tolerate, but nothing against the Holy Ghost." And this Holy Ghost is the Ādi Shakti. Without Him you cannot go to the Sahasrāra.

So that in the whole play He is like the [UNCLEAR sutra dhara], He's the One who is the conductor, the One moves the strings in a puppet show. And so it is very important to pray to Śhrī Gaṇeśha every time we have Pūjā. We have to pray to Him and we, that's how we are praying to Lord Jesus Christ. Every time. Without His auspiciousness, without His help, we cannot do Sahaja Yoga.

He's the Manager. See I'm sitting here and He's the manager. Supposing there's no management how will I speak here? Nothing can happen. But He is so efficient and you never see Him working out everything, doing everything.

Contents: 1990-12-25 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, on Marriages, Ganapatipule, India

About this I have to tell you last time we had this Christmas Pūjā and everybody became so left-sided you see, I think they were missing their champagne or something.

So I think this time we'll just have Gaṇeśha Pūjā, because singing carols immediately you think of champagne I think I don't know.

So they were very left-sided and, we have to enjoy, these are your relations these are your brothers, these are your sisters.

So must learn to enjoy them, but if you start becoming left-sided for those people who are not our relations anymore, then is going to be difficult.

Twenty-fifth is the Pūjā and twenty-eighth are the weddings and twenty-ninth we all are leaving for Alibag. There's one more thing I have to tell you all again, I may not be able to say this to you, that once you get married, you are not lost. You are still in Sahaja Yoga. No one consults us, they go so arbitrary in making passport visas this that's that it's bizarre sometimes, really bizarre and some of the girls could not go. Specially England is very difficult, to England because of, this kind of an arbitrary behaviour.

So you all Indian girls, anyone should consult Yogi Mahajan because he's in charge these days. If he comes in one piece. Everyday he is out with his file. Even if I'm going to the bathroom I come out I find him sitting with the file.

So please consult him, he's so concerned and you do everything arbitrarily it's very, very difficult to arrange later on.

So please tell your wives or your husbands that the marriage has taken place but we still have to be completely in contact, with others, your leaders or leaders in India anyone, so that will be no problem of visas and things.

I'll be rather busy in Kolhapur buying things for you and buying also silver. I have ordered something which I thought was important for all of you, is a big plate for your Ār.tis because I've seen you don't have big enough plates in every place I go to, so I've ordered that and whatever money you have given Me for Pūjās I utilize here, for buying silver for you. And aboard I bought, as you know furniture thinking that it will be of some external existence. Moreover we have done lot of purchases of things, like, the land you saw in Sheri, the land on top of the hill and the land where you were pitched in, moreover I have to make a proper road, a shorter road to that place. Next year you'll find everything ready for you.

Then we have to complete Washi. It's such a big place those who have seen know. Then there's another very, big ashram we have built in Delhi which is about twenty four thousand square feet. Washi is forty two thousand square feet. Then we have bought lots of land also in Ganapatipule where we hope to build huts for you. I'm sure they must have already done it and very sensible good bathrooms. Now the demand has come that you like an Indian style of bathrooms. I did not know that you like Indian style.

So I don't know we have already purchased, commodes, but I don't know why you want Indian style, still I don't understand. But if so I mean if we can change we'll try to change but we have already bought. Or we can try some other tricks to make it usable in an Indian way as well as in the Western way.

You have very good bathrooms very good water supply now. We've been able to achieve a lot in these three years time.

So one should understand that, your Tour money which is saved is also used as well as there are donations from Indians. Everything working together we have really done a job. I Myself can't understand how I've done it because it means billions and billions but I don't know somehow I've managed. It has worked out. I think Hanumāna must have done something.

Last but not the least, we have people like Marcus now, is gone off his head. I don't know, he thinks now from his Sahasrāra the light will be coming out or something. They go crazy. You see we had another one Hugo who said: “I've now become maha Mātājī now. I think Marcus has become maha, maha Mātājī or something." See it's idiotic, it's an idiotic thing. But too much of ego can make a person idiot, is said already. In the Shāstras is said: “Too much of ego can make a person an idiot." So all this kind of idiotic things they can say and talk. But there's one thing which I have noticed and I'm quite worried, that anybody who makes ninda means says things against your Guru you should never hear. But I didn't know it is so serious because there was this Hugo gentleman, who went and stayed with someone and both husband and wife got cancer and I don't know the wife is dead I know but husband I don't know, how he is. Both of them got cancer, so be careful. If anybody like that wants to speaks you just put your hands on your ears: `We don't want to hear the Guru ninda.' Because you know what you have got and is the greatest ingratitude, to hear anything against your Guru, who has worked so hard. You know how much I have worked hard and how much I faced, lots of problems even sometimes My family people get upset. They can't understand at this age how can I work like this.

So you must also realise within yourself, as Indians realise that all this joy, all this happiness, everything we have, but we should not somehow or other get disconnected by thinking, by analyzing, by saying something which is absurd.

Some people also are getting married. I must tell them they better decide now, because I've seen that so many of you start thinking after the marriage, which is very cruel, which is very indecent.

So better to decide now. Actually those who do not want to marry should not give us their names, should not. Because you don't know how much time we have to spend in sorting out these things to find out somebody for you. It's such a waste of time. And when we fix it up, we do it then suddenly somebody comes up: “Ah I don't want to get married." Surprising, they have no shame about it, they don't understand. How much you have made Me work for that, how much I have gone through it and then suddenly you come and say: “No we don't want to get married." Such people should not apply for marriage. Next time if somebody does that I'll forbid that person to come to India, I must tell you. For days together you know we used to sleep at two o'clock three o'clock discussing whom to marry whOm Ah if you don't like particular person I can understand, but you shouldn't say I don't want to marry. You don't know yourself, you're such an uncertain quantity, are you mad or crazy, what's the matter? So if you do not want to marry please decide before filling the forms. Is so difficult, you have no idea we have so many forms we have to sort it out. Is this My job? It doesn't happen with Indians. Why can't you be sensible enough to decide for yourself if you want to marry or not. Then if you don't like anyone all right: “I don't like some person." It's all right, but just to say: “I don't want to marry” is I think is a sign of idiocity absolutely an idiot can do that, without understanding how much one has to exert. There's no place for idiots in Sahaja Yoga.

So this is another thing which sometimes surprises Me very much. But if you do not want to marry please tell Me that I don't want to marry a particular person, before we reach Ganapatipule. At the last minute, when the bride is getting ready suddenly somebody will come: “I don't want to marry." You start looking at him, is he a monkey or a human being? Can't understand them. I mean if you don't want to marry, don't marry, but at the last minute when they are there to worship their, boys coming in, suddenly you hear when they are doing all the Ār.ti: “No no no no no no I don't want to marry this girl." One gentleman who heard this, he was so angry he said: “I thought of hitting him on his head with this Ār.ti." Instead of doing his Ār.ti. But it's not just a play, a game, marriage is serious thing.

Stupid people should never get married. They make a mess of themselves and others also. It's meant for very sensible, dignified, intelligent people.

So you need not marry. It's much better if less people marry, less expense to Me. And otherwise I have to shell out lot of money.

So please be sensible. Those who do not want to marry should decide accordingly, beforehand, then once you fill in the form you should, if you do not want to marry a particular person you can tell that: “I don't want to marry." We'll see if we can get somebody else, if not forget it. You are not paying Me anything for doing all these nonsensical work.

If it is sensible, then you must show results, though I must say so many marriages have been so successful, so beautiful, such nice things have happened and we have such beautiful children.

This is anotherWestern madness, that you fall in love. I mean I just don't understand, is just a concept, again I must tell you very very frankly because if you fall in love, then why do you divorce so many times? That is infatuation, that you feel for someone and next moment you are out for divorce. Isn't it.

So, you see, you have to know whom you would like to marry. In any case Australians are very much acceptable.

Please, you see people love Australians in India, so be happy about it. I told them to keep Australians for Indians but I don't know why they mixed it up, it's Yogi.

So I mean I will be very happy if you tell Me what is your concept of a husband. Is better otherwise you know, I just don't know. From your height, from your education from whatever you are, we judge.

But what is your concept, isn't it? You give Me the idea as to what is your concept, is better for Me, guideline you see. I don't understand that.

So if you can give Me the concept, the kind of a husband you want and if you have somebody in Sahaja Yoga we'll find it. But whatever I thought was the best suited for you, is him. Anne. But for him I don't know if you were really best suited.

So this is infatuation should not be. I mean you get infatuated, then it collapses very soon. You get impressed for something, after sometime it collapses. But it should be a well-guided, wise decision. It should not be just you feel for someone. It's very wrong. You should judge a person according to what you are and that, on vibrations, mainly. Because you have to live with the vibrations of the person, in Sahaja Yoga. That's very important.

So, this kind of thing falling for someone and this and that is very temporary, you do not know. That's why the marriages in the west, are fizzling out so fast. This Elizabeth Taylor which, I must say a brave lady. Till she dies I think she'll have more husbands. I mean it's like shopping.

So there I agree that you have a certain idea some concept all right but give Me some concrete concept and it will help Me, quite a lot I tell you really because I don't have, that kind of a, understanding. I'm bad at all these things I should say in some ways. I never get infatuated by anyone, never, what appeals to Me are the vibrations. I don't see, what is so, important for a Sahaja Yogi: `Don't you think vibrations are the most important things for you? You agree with Me there?' So it's all right, whatever you think you let Me know your concept we'll see, all right. I do not want to say anything to hurt you in anyway but the gentleman has been hurt for nothing at all.

Shri Mataji: What she says?

Sahaja Yogi: She says it's too much for her too fast.

Shri Mataji: To what?

Sahaja Yogi: To marry Now and...

Shri Mataji: Why did you apply Madam? It was application you sent and it was this year not after ten years. The marriage was to be this year So why did you apply? Why, why did you?

Sahaja Yogi: Only now she realises she's not ready.

Shri Mataji: Very nicely. You better pay Me now. I had to work it out for you. No it's not easy to find a boy for you. You want Me to dance at your commands and changes. Do you, want that, to trouble Me like that? Isn't it a trouble to Me, don't you think of Me at all? It's a game, it's a cruel game you people are playing that's all. Yes, yes what? Tomorrow you don't eat your food the whole day, it will be better for you.

It's not, you see these people have no sense how much I have to work hard for them to find out a boy, according to the age height aptitudes, this that, study all that and then suddenly they say: “I'm not ready." This I can't understand really. You must have some consideration for Me also sometimes, please.

Show some consideration, not all the time try to exact, things like this, you are Sahaja Yogis. I've given you Realisation. I don't want anything from you but don't torture Me like this all the time. All such people who behave like this are out of marriage list. I will not have their marriages arranged again, I tell you. I'm not going to go through this kind of a nonsense.

Sometimes I must also put down My foot. I'm sixty-eight years of age and how much we have to work. If she doesn't like a particular person is all right, but you must have some concrete reason why you don't like.

So take it little seriously, every one of you should take it very seriously.

As it is no-one wants to marry French girls I tell you. It's very difficult to marry French girls. I have to tell you very frankly because French girls, their brains are like this, I really tell you. If Antonio is here he'll know. It's very difficult to marry them. Extremely difficult. And also to marry Indian girls to French men is extremely difficult. Antonio will agree. All the French boys are left out. Not that, that they are like that, but I have to request you, that these girls are going all the way from India, you have to behave yourself, you have to treat them well. Nowhere they are treated badly.

So I am going to talk to all the French boys, because they are very young and they have to marry Indian girls only, because they are very young. But the French girls I don't know why always, with French girls everybody's frightened. Because this kind of a thing happens. This is only ego, which is stupid. If you were not ready you should not have applied. You understand that? It's a mistake, on your part. You should not have applied. “Now anybody else like that?" Where is Annie? Now what's the matter with you? You are in Iran and you want to get out of that place. That's what your mother told Me. You are in such a position that you have to get out of it. Now do you know you cannot marry an Englishman, they will not have there an Irani. You cannot marry a Frenchman because they will not have you there. No country will accept you because you're from Iran.

You want to get out of Iran, that is the reason I thought it would be best to marry you to an Italian that Italians may agree to take you. And he's much more handsome than you are. I must tell you, to be very frank. But this was, Guido's mistake. I Myself felt that he's too good a boy for you; very well educated, he's handsome boy.

So you go back to Iran now. I thought you have come with all these difficulties just to get married so you get out of Iran. I just don't understand. Once you go back to Iran how will you come out of it? This is an example. A person who wants to get out of the country wants to get married this is the only country, or India maybe, Iranians aren't allowed. In England Nick can say: “Will they accept an Irani girl?" Even Austria, even Germany, I'm sure they won't accept an Iranian girl, won't give the visa.

I'm not sure about Italy also. I don't know because they're all afraid of Iranians and they think they are all Khomeini's daughters, so it's a problem. But still despite all that, just to say no is a game. I'm surprised because I had greater hopes from Annie. I thought you were a wise girl but you seem to be very right-sided. For no rhyme and reason just to say no is wrong. Must understand that all these points I considered. I came to the point that you should be married to, a person where you could go and, come out of Iran, this was My idea. Such a thought was given and suddenly you say: “No." For what, for why? If you start thinking about it, immediately your vibrations will stop, everything will stop. If Mother has selected, at least you must know that there must be some reason why Mother has selected. Why don't you think like that, instead of thinking something else? There must be some reason.

Her mother is so much worried about her. I don't know you'll have to go back to Iran and I don't know if you can come out. I don't know if in India they allow, people to come even I don't know what it is. It's all right this marriage is cancelled. [UNCLEAR] [Indian boy] a very good boy, he's an excellent boy we can find him a very good wife. Is there any other mishap? Good.

Someone there? No one. All right.

So may God bless you.

I'm sorry I have to do all this because I don't want to do all these things in the presence of Delhi people. For Peter it's mutual, she doesn't want also he doesn't want to marry it's all right without asking her we had picked the man. It's all right, that's all right.

So may God bless you.

Contents: 1990-12-27 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Makkeshwarashiva, Ganapatipule, India

Even in the Bible, in the, it is said that whatever is created by Mother Earth or by sky should not be reproduced by human beings and be worshipped.

For example, even in Mecca, we have got Makkeshwarashiva; in our Purānas, he's described as Makkeshwarashiva itself. That's why in Mecca we have a stone which was respected by Mohammad Sahib, you see, this subtle point should be seen; that it was a swayambhū one and it is a Makkeshwarashiva itself was there.

So He was respected. And every stone is not created by the Mother Earth; because the Mother Earth whatever it creates has got a coefficients which Mohammad Sahib, being an incarnation of Ādi Guru or the Primordial Master could see and said that, “This is the stone, is to be kept here and go round that stone” but didn't explain much about it. As it is, He was tortured by people. They were all people who wouldn't understand Him.

But now here we have got Swayambhū Gaṇeśha and you see their vibrations coming from them.

So the differentiation has to made; the swayambhū and the one which is just created for commercialisation and things like that, reproductions. Even the photographs or the paintings which are created by people who are not realised Souls will emit very bad vibrations. That's why it was prohibited to have even the photographs, this was the situation.

But if you go to Sistine Chapel you'll find it's tremendously vibrated because Michelangelo was a realised Soul.

So because that time this discrimination was not there, so generally it was stopped, “Now don't do it!" so that you do not fall to any traps.

But now after realisation you'll know which is real, which is unreal. Once you know that then it's different but when you do not know you will fall into anything, like any stone you'll worship. That's why it was just prohibited that, “Don't worship any stones and don't have any photographs” for the same reason that there was no discrimination at that point.

But today it is not so. Today you all have become the saints, you have become wallis, you have become realised Souls; now you know what is real, what is not real.

So to understand these things deeply we have to know that we must have our vibrations to understand what is right and what is wrong, all right?

Contents: 199x-0000 Two Quotes, Czech Republic

Quote 1: Gunter Thurner: Mother, I feel so much love coming from Your Āgñyā Chakra.

Shri Mataji: Yes, He [Śhrī Mahāgaṇeśha] is very powerful.

Quote 2: See the noses, if they are round, like Mine, these people are very humorous

Contents: 199x-0000 Poem: I see a mountain, Palazzo Doria, Cabella Ligure, Italy

I see a mountain from my window Standing like an ancient sage, Desireless, full of love.

So many trees and so many flowers, They plunder the mountain all the time.

Its attention is not disturbed And when the rain pours like Many pitchers of clouds bursting And it fills the mountain with greenery.

The storm may come soaring, Filling the lake with compassion And the rivers flow running down Towards the calling sea.

The sun will create clouds and Wind carries on its feathery wings The rain on to the mountain.

This is the eternal play The mountain sees Without desires.

Contents: 199x-0000 Quote, Room, Palazzo Doria, Cabella Ligure, Italy

Shri Mataji: How is it that you people took immediately to Dharma in this crazy world after your realisation? Every time we switch on the TV, we see a man with his hands on a woman who is not his wife.

Christine Hāge: I didn't lead a saintly life, but I was always longing for the purity I found in Sahaja Yoga.

Shri Mataji: This is because of Puṇyas of previous lives. You were all great people

Contents: 199x-0000 Quote on Saving the World, Room, Palazzo Doria, Cabella Ligure, Italy

Christine Hāge: Mother, will the whole world be saved? Shri Mataji [goes into meditation and a bit later]: Evil was, is and will be. They don't deserve it.

Contents: 199x-0000 Quote on Arts, Room, Palazzo Doria, Cabella Ligure, Italy

Why do we have these arts around us? [Shri Mataji is was concerned that if fine art is not given patronage, it will soon die out. She says that the real purpose of fine art is to awaken the subtle sensitivities within us: it should make us thoughtless, not make us think, like modern art. Shri Mataji speaks about Iranian art, saying it is so dignified and intricate. She also says that Iranian art is one of the world's best arts, followed by Italian.] [Akbar Samii brought some artifacts from Iran. Even a small piece of a stone is beautifully decorated with calligraphy, oral designs and detail. She holds these things in Her hands:] Look how beautiful those artisans are! I would really like to promote this.

[Shri Mataji wants to bring fine arts and artifacts from all over the world, so that She can help, because She was very touched by the plight of these craftsmen, who have been exploited by certain entrepreneurs.

While Shri Mataji is examining the artifacts from Iran, She says:] These stones are black, but when you cut them, they become white [and notices the beautiful way they have of combining materials].

[Shri Mataji also speaks about aboriginal tribal art in India. She wants to bring terra-cotta from India, to promote or sell these artifacts to Europe:] Look at the beautiful artifacts made by these aboriginals.

You see these colours? You know what you do? You take a mango bark, grind it into a paste, mix it with soil, put it on the pottery and when you put it in the fire, you get rich red colours and all kinds of shades.

These things are full of vibrations because they are made by simple innocent people.

[Shri Mataji wants these things to go in each and every house, rather than plastics and all kinds of synthetic materials.]

Contents: 1991-0000 Sahaja Yoga, The Essential Medicine

Presenter: Shri Mataji Nirmalā Devī, grandmother, scholar and freedom fighter. As a child she lived in Gandhiji's ashram, as a student she studied medicine and as cry for freedom swept India she fought for her nation's independence. The year 1970 was about her most important role. The discovery of development of Sahaja Yoga, a movement which is now spreading in worldwide. Sahaja Yoga is a science of integration which results in man's mental, physical and spiritual well-being. The union of mind heart and spirit is a achieve through the working of a subtle energy system within each one of us.

Shri Mataji [1990-03-16]: That we are not this body, this mind, these conditionings, this ego, but we are the Spirit. You don't have to accept what I'm saying blindly, because blind faith leads to fanaticism.

But as scientists you must keep your minds open and see for yourself what I'm saying: if it is so, honestly you must accept it.

Presenter: In today's society this subtle energy system which has its origins in very roots of our being has been neglected. It is out of balance. Today's physical and psychological diseases are gross expressions of a subtle system in dire need of repair and nourishment. Our collective desire of a peace and rejuvenation is a yearning coming from deep within. It is a reflection of our internal condition.

Shri Mataji [1990-03-16]: We know so much through science about our civilization, our advancement.

This is the advancement of a tree which has grown outside very much; but if we do not know our roots, we'll be destroyed.

So it is important to know about our roots. And this is what it is that I would say are our roots.

Presenter: Within each individual the subtle energy system or subtle body is divided into three channels right, left and center. The right side channel corresponds to right sympathetic chain of the autonomic nervous system and left hemisphere of the brain. While the left side connects to the right hemisphere of the brain and corresponds to the left sympathetic chain. If a person suffers a stroke in the right lobe of the brain it is commonly known that the left side of the body becomes effective. In line with the opinion of the psychologist Sahaja Yoga identifies the right hemisphere of the brain has been responsible for the functions of the lateral, artistic, expressive thinking. Those functions traditionally believed to be more predominant in a females. The left hemisphere corresponds to functions of the linear, computational and mathematical logic traditionally considered to be predominant brain activity in males. Doctor Carl Gustav Jung well known analytical psychologist identifies the left and right side as the anama and anami with the collective unconscious lying in the central channel. Through he studies he observe that in the every women there is a masculine aspect within her psyche the architect of the animus and for every men the feminine counterpart the anima. Jung was always aware of the imbalance in Western culture in favour of the masculine seen in a preference for logic, analysis and external achievement. These are all claims for muscular side or right side of the psyche within all human beings. A right side channel also provides the energy needed for plan, act, analyze and predict. On the physical level it corresponds to liver and pancreas.

Shri Mataji [1990-03-17]: This power of action moves on the right side of the spinal cord and coming to the Optic Chiasma it crosses over; passes to the left side and creates an institution called ego. The institution of ego is a myth. What we do is to get something dead like some trees dead so make some platform or some furniture, we take some stones and make a hall and we think we have done a great job.

Actually what we have done is to reconstructed the dead. But while doing it we get the feeling that we have done it something. That is how our ego develops. This channel on the right hand side caters to your future.

So those people who plan too much think too much exhaust the energy of this center because this center has the first responsibility to convert the fat cells in the stomach for the use of the brain which is overused to make them into gray cells.

So when you start thinking too much it has to work more for this very important function. When it starts working for one function the other functions are neglected and the other functions are it has to cater, to nourish or to give energy to your liver, to your pancreas, to your spleen, to your kidneys and part of your intestine.

Presenter: Western medicine has followed the path of right side pulling a part dissecting or analyzing with little regard for the whole working mechanism of the human being.

Shri Mataji [1991-04-17]: Of course when you neglect your liver you know liver as they say you will live till your liver will allow. Now this liver has to clean all the poison from your body. It comes out as heat and is delivered to the blood stream. But when this is neglected this poor liver doesn't know how to function without the energy and all the heat is accumulated in the liver.

So a person suffers from liver trouble and symptoms are he gets migraine, he cannot see the sun then also he gets very hot tempered, irritable, angry because there is so much of heat. Then this heat passes; I was telling in Canberra most of the Bureaucrats have this problem because they plan too much and where do we land with that planning oh God all knows.

So then this heat passes upward and downward so when it passes downward it gives you a very bad problem of terrible constipation because the heat constitutes your intestine large intestines.

It also coagulates your kidneys by which you have kidney trouble you cannot pass your urine. Then you go on the dialysis and you are certified as really dead. Because you cannot last longer.

So very expensive treatment but doctors do not tell you frankly that oh, you are not going to live.

Then this heat can pass upward and when it goes upward it goes say to your right Heart as shown there. As a result of that you develop asthma. Of course asthma is connected also with the left side.

So when this triggering is done by the left side then you get this horrible disease called asthma. Then this heat can go upward and can ruin your throat. It can freeze your right arm. It can make your left eye red and also your left ear deaf. But by chance if such a person is young and using too much physical energy and mental energy as well as drinking a lot he can have a very fatal heart attack very massive one and he may die in very early in age. You must know that all such attacks in young age always are fatal.

But when you see to the other side is that there is a pancreas which is neglected as a result of the neglect of the pancreas you develop a disease called diabetes. Even the mothers who are extremely planning type and thinking type give that disease to their children and children are born with diabetes.

Then you have the third problem with the spleen. This is the most dangerous one. Now a days as the life is we are all time bound very particular about time. As a result of that we have become extremely hectic. Supposing if you sleep very late in a night then you have to get up early in the morning somehow.

Somehow get into your clothes and run to the office. Don't even take your breakfast; your wife will give you so on the way in the car you are eating your breakfast and then you read the newspaper. You get a shock of your life because so many horrible things are happening. Newspaper will never give something that is good or is doing well. But something that is gone wrong to give a sensational feeling. It's just a sometimes horrible thing so early in the morning if you read something that is horrible being a human being then you sometimes shocked. Then you find there is a jam on the way and you get so upset and all your peace is disturbed. Now this spleen is responsible for creating red blood corpuscles when you are in emergency. You must have seen when you eat your food and you run you get a pain here. That's because your spleen is trying to pump out new RBCs. Now to create that poor this spleen has to work very hard but it cannot understand the crazy hectic personality. Every time it tries to cope with it. It goes crazy.

So such a spleen becomes crazy and ultimately leads some triggering on the left hand side; [UNCLEAR]; you develop a horrible disease called as leukemia or blood cancer.

Also your intestinal problems, the pain in stomach and all that indigestion all go hand in hand only because of the one center only on right hand side. I have not even described the left side center.

So if I describe all this the whole Materia Medica will be described. It's like that.

So all the permutations and combinations of these centers give you physical problems then the left side gives you the mental problem.

Presenter: Jung called the left side the collective subconscious. This side of our psyche is very complex and affects it can have on our physical well-being are devastating.

Dr. Deepak Chugh: Because as it has been hypothesized in Sahaja Yoga that there are seven main plexuses and their functioning is dependent upon the individuals psycho social behaviour. This is an advancement in the understanding of psychosomatic medicine and human physiology. For the first time it is possible to find the links between the behaviour and the disease. Because up till now it was only thought that stress can cause a variety of diseases from diabetes, hypertension, asthma, rheumatoid arthritis, etc., etc. cancer even. But it was not known why a particular individual will get a particular disease.

Dr. Umesh Rai: If you read disease in medical literature you find you could say that it is psychological stress which is responsible for increasing incidence of hypertension in most of the Western countries, developing countries as well as the developed countries and we found by our first thesis you see on which work was done that this could be a very important if a person practices Sahaja Yoga this stress factor can be managed very nicely. Because all the parametres you see for testing whether a person is in a state of stress, tension or anxiety are in his relaxed strain who are done and that we found that a person who do Sahaja Yoga only for twenty minutes a day you see in about 3-4 months time that there were changes in the blood, there were changes in heart, there were changes in the lactrine cyclograph, there were changes in the muscle activity and the changes in the neurotransmitter." Dr. Deepak Chugh: In the essential hypertension group we have taken twenty-five female patients of a similar age group and socioeconomic status and out of these fifteen patients voluntarily consented to practice Sahaja Yoga while ten patients acted as controls and these patients initially both the groups were on drugs also.

The initial blood pressure in the Sahaja Yoga group was 169/109 mm of mercury and in the control group it was 166/111 mm of mercury and as the study progressed for four months we observed that many of the patients gradually could be taken of the anti-hypertense of medication and at the end of four months all the patients in the Sahaja Yoga group could be taken of the anti-hypertense of medication and the blood pressure had reached the level of 135/ 83 mm of mercury. While the control group blood pressure remained at 167/ 111 mm of mercury and this shows that it is possible to treat this condition essential hypertension by practice of Sahaja Yoga and without taking medicines.

Dr. Valentina [from Russia]: In my hospital I began to hold use Sahaja Yoga treatment on children and it so nice to see how it's possible to resolve many questions, many problems corresponds child seven years and he had big liver 1 cms and lot of problems with joints and doctors could not make correctly diagnose.

But when I feel what Chakras were affected. It was most Swādhiṣhṭhān, Nābhī and Āgñyā and after first my cleaning liver decreased 4 cm and everyday more one cm and after ten days he was absolutely well.

He had lot of neurological problem like teak like neurotic reaction and when he came back father couldn't recognize him. He sit quietly without problem. But of course you can't introduce Sahaja Yoga only in children mother has to be very very with the children and the same and it's useful in other disease or for reference I worked in department of intensive care and reception.

Sometimes I rise Kuṇḍalinī and severe attack of bronchial asthma disappear and many other cases. Now I began to with one group of Sahaja Yoga in hospital doctors, nurses and other during about two months we began to start probably hospital and it gives effect. I am so happy that I stay in Sahaja Yoga and everyday thanks Shri Mataji. Jai Shri Mataji.

Presenter: Western medicine has enhanced the quality of our life enormously and enables us to experience hillo to unknown heights in medical efficiency. But in doing so it has lost sight of the whole. By contrast medical doctrines such as traditional Chinese medicine approach the human being as a whole personality the emotional stability, mental attitude spiritual requirement and also sense morality are considered in a traditional Chinese process of medical treatment. As a result traditional Chinese medicine treatment has a subtlety which Western medicine lacks. With this realisation we have tried to translate Chinese medicines into Western culture and into Western contexts but in doing so the foundation has largely been lost. The focus in Western medicine remains set up on the element and not upon a whole person or his subtle relationship with the universe. Like Jung's anima and animus the yin and yang represents the masculine or feminine or right or left side of our psyche. The yang being masculine active right side and yin being the feminine passive side. Viewed in a light of Sahaja Yoga we can see how this parallel is the subtle system. In Sahaja Yoga Tao refers to the balancing of right and left side. When this balance is maintained the healing energy is able to travel on the central channel to integrate and nourish all the energy centers and ultimately keep us in harmony with the balance of nature.

Shri Mataji [1990-03-16]: As we have two sides in our system of autonomous nervous system left and right which we call as left and right sympathetic nervous system. The left side caters for our emotions, for our past, our desires. The right side caters for our action physical and mental. If we indulge into one too much and go too far with it you develop an imbalance within yourself. In the center lies the third power which we call as parasympathetic nervous system. This is channel which is the central path of ascent.

When the Kuṇḍalinī rises through it, it brings you in the balance because it rises in the center of the system.

So this is a minimum that happens that you develop your balance.

Presenter: The ascent which is the awakening of this feminine energy coiled and sleeping in our sacrum bone nourishes and revives the subtle system. She is like the Mother Earth or our own Mother soothing, nourishing and sustained the powers of gentle and strong. She is the Kuṇḍalinī the very root of our existence. Within her lies the potential for us to become complete in knowledge of ourselves.

Shri Mataji [1990-03-16]: All right what I tried to show them that this is the left side this is the right side. This is the left sympathetic nervous system and same this is the right sympathetic nervous system and really spinal cord looks like this and inside here is the spinal cord which has the centers in it. The subtle centers. Now when you start using the energy of these centers say too much on the right and it starts moving more towards the right and there is a constriction and the power becomes less because you are exhausted going more towards the right side. Suddenly something happens that from left there is a jerk then the connection is completely broken. This is on its own. It starts working on its own that's we say that this has become malignant and no relationship with the whole to have the proportionate growth.

So if the nose starts developing it can cover your eyes and cover your mouth everything. This is how a cancer is set in or any other disease so many psychosomatic disease are nothing but somatic is from right side and when the psyche gives in then it becomes a psychosomatic. There are so many diseases which are more psychosomatic than the physical and these we call them as incurable can be easily cured by Kuṇḍalinī awakening because when Kuṇḍalinī passes through this she just integrates them for example she going like this then she goes into this integrates them. Just like she strings them like pearls and so they are brought round and also she nourishes that center that's how people get cured automatically by themselves by their own power.

Presenter: Again if we look at traditional Indian medicine the purpose of Ayurvedic medicine was to integrate the mental, physical and spiritual well-being of patient. The identification of three points of reference bile, phlegm and wind corresponds in Sahaja Yoga to the manifestation of right, left and central channels respectively.

Dr. Deepak Chugh: As you know that health is normally that is not diseased but it is the state of complete mental, physical, emotional, spiritual and social well-being. Now this spiritual aspect of health has been missed in modern medicine. It is not known, taught or practiced in modern medicine. This word Kuṇḍalinī does not find mention in the modern medical textbooks but it was mentioned in and may mentioned Indian medical textbooks of Ayurveda and many other religious textbooks religious scriptures.

Shri Mataji [1990-03-16]: There is a subtle power which is all-pervading of God's love which manifests all the thing like living work, all nourishment all balancing. It's so balanced. If the pacific was slightly deeper than this; there would have been problems. If Himālaya was say one and half times than what it is there would have been problems.

So everything is so balanced in nature. Which is the subtle energy all around us which organizes us and which nourishes us, does all the living work and above all it loves us.

Presenter: [UNCLEAR Through] Yoga takes us back to the original desire. And in practice fulfils it.

In addressing of spiritual needs of the human being Sahaja Yoga has potential to bring balance back into west and back into Western medicine. The essence of Sahaja Yoga is not to cure people. This is a side effect of the subtle system bring itself into balance As it's called Sahaja Yoga enables us to discover our true selves the purpose of our being, the true meaning of why we are here.

Shri Mataji [1991-04-17]: The reason is you have to now become the Spirit. Go beyond your physical, emotional, mental being and become the Spirit. Because Spirit is the reflection of God Almighty and Spirit is the universal being within you. When you become the Spirit you become a universal being.

Contents: 1991-0000*, Public Program, Australia

I bow to all, all of you who are seekers of truth. At the very outset we have to know that truth is what it is. You cannot organize truth, you cannot conceptualise it. Unfortunately you cannot know truth at human awareness. Whatever I'm going to tell you today, you need not accept it blindly but you must have an open mind like a scientist and if I am putting forward before you a hypothesis, if it works then you have to accept it as honest people.

The truth is extremely simple, that you are not only this body, this mind, this ego, these conditionings but you are the spirit, you are the divinity and the second one is that there is an All-pervading Power of Divine Love which is doing all living work. For example we take these beautiful flowers for granted, how a simple seed has created these beautiful flowers. We never even think about it, even we don't think how we have been evolved from amoebae stage to human level. There are so many things we do not think about and there are so many things which cannot be explain to us even by science. I think only 25% things can be explained whichever are very obvious but the science cannot tell us how, the periodic law has been constructed by which intelligent creator that has put all elements in such a beautiful manner which also indicates what new elements we are going to discover. In a human body any foreign material that goes, it has to be thrown out. That's the nature of the human body but when a child is conceived it's not thrown out, it's all there, it's staying, is looked after, it's kept, nourished and at the right time it comes out of the body of the mother.

So it is to be understood that living processes we have not been able to explain nor did we ever think about it. I'm talking to you about the living process of our evolution. Human beings are at the epitome of evolution, no animal, no creature which they say exist here and there may be just a conjecture is higher than human beings.

Moreover is the only human beings who have got freedom. If they want they can go to hell but if they want they can go to heaven. Now at this time when we call it a Kali Yuga, these modern times are already described as one of the worse times of darkness and ignorance and people will be in lots of illusions, at these horrible times when we see all other shocking things happening in our lives, in our countries, in the whole world, then we start wondering who is responsible for all these problems. If you are little humble we'll find, it's we, the human beings. We have gone wrong, there has been something wrong within us that we have brought forth all these problems upon ourselves, they may be individual or they may be collective, they may be national could be international, so to solve these problems, supposing because of certain machinery, something goes wrong, then what do we do, is to attend to that machinery.

So what we need is a transformation. And the time has come for us to achieve the transformation which is described in all the scriptures, in the Bible it is described as the second birth, even in the Hindu scripture it's described as the Brahmagan or you can call it [UNCLEAR] second birth Dvijaḥ, it is described in the Koran, it's described in all the Buddha's teachings, described by Mahāvīra, it's described by Nanaka, by all the religious people even Confucius has talked about it, Lao Tze has talked about it. Now what is that second birth is? Second birth is not just getting another certificate, we're these, we're that, we're that.

We believe we're Christians, we're Hindus, we're Muslims, we're these, we're that, everybody thinks no end of themselves. If you ask a Jew he'll say the Christians are the doomed ones, they'll go to hell directly, as if God has told them very clearly that Christians are going to be doomed forever [laughs], if you are the Christians they'll say the same about the Muslims or the Jews and the Muslims will say about the Hindus and Hindus will say about the Muslims. But any one of them is capable of committing any sin. Nobody is bound by anything, the religion is not innately built within themselves as so many things are built within us in our evolution like.

If you want a dog to go through a dirty, filthy place, he can go but a human being cannot go because it's built in within him, in the evolutionary process that sensitivity to filth and dirt. But we have got the freedom, the freedom is given because ultimately you have to have a full freedom, so by using this little freedom you will be able to know what is right and what is wrong but it is not so, because we live in a relative world, some people say this is right some people say that is right. We're running from one place to another and find the stories the same for all of them. People are so much in tension, so much in trouble.

What is the reason for all these troubles is that, we are all sitting in the darkness. Supposing there is complete darkness, you cannot see anything and you want to grab something, you grab a snake and somebody says there's a snake in your hand, you won't give it up till it bites. But if there is little light we just give it up.

So what we need is the light of the Spirit within you, it has to shine in your attention. S o he has already told you about these centers that are within you, these subtle centers that are within you and this Kuṇḍalinī, which is your Mother. Everybody has an individual Mother and She's the one who gives you realisation. It happens in a very short time, a great saint called Rāmdās who was the master of one great king Shivaji was asked how much time does it take for a Kuṇḍalinī to rise, so he said Tat Shana, means that moment, but there should be a giver and there should be a receiver.

Today I find in this world there are so many people who are seeking truth, they're not satisfied with whatever minimum they know of spirituality, but they think that there is something beyond must be there, we must be find it out and the search is going on which I told you before also in other places, that William Blake has clearly said, very clearly, he was a great saint, was regarded as mad man in his days and later on also but he said that “men of God will find God and they will make others Godly." That is the time today, this is the time of your last judgement, God is not going to put you onto any weighing scale.

This Kuṇḍalinī is going to tell you where are you wrong, what are your problems, what are the centers which are in trouble and once she tells you that if you know how to correct it, you are forgiven and you're perfectly all right and you find that everything that is your being is working so well and ultimately you're surprised to see that you become a Divine computer because when she passes through these centers, these centers are like left and right as we have seen the left and right to sympathetic nervous system and parasympathetic in the center.

So when you are using these right to much or left to much they move like these, but supposing something happens in the left and it breaks with a shock then these cells have no control [UNCLEAR are] never controlled by your brain because the connection is broken and it starts working on its own, the cells starts working on its own, that means they become arbitrary, they become malignant that's how you develop cancer all psychosomatic troubles come by them.

As a simple thing happens with Kuṇḍalinī. She's just waiting for you to ask for your realisation, that's all because She is the power of pure desire and the pure desire within you whether you know it or not is to get your Self-realisation.

So when She rises She passes through these centers, She goes into this one and then into this one pierces through both of them, brings them back to the normal, nourishes them and then pierces through this Fontanelle bone area which is the soft bone in your childhood. This is the actualisation, actualisation of baptism, is not just putting somebody the hand, like William Blake has said that “A priest cursed my Fontanelle." Actually you have to get it, so this is the last break through when we become super human being or we can call we become godly, we become Divine, we touch our Divinity. Now people talk of God, they go to church, they go to temple, they go to mosque but they don't know how powerful God is, how miracle, miraculous He is, how He looks after us, how He guides us and how He can empower us. But when you get your Self-realisation that is when this Kuṇḍalinī crosses over, the first thing that happens to you that you become thoughtlessly aware, Nirvichara Samādhi. That is you are aware but there is no thought, now see there's a nice carpet before Me. I'm watching it, just watching it, but normally I would say, `All right, how much is this, must have cost? I must buy one like that,' or I might start thinking I mean I'll always react, `All right, this carpet if it is mine and it's greater headache, I'm not yet insured it, God knows in these public place what will happen to my carpet.' All kinds of worries can enter into my head if I posses it, but supposing I have a capacity just to watch it and not to react, then what will happen? All the joy that the man who created this as putting to it starts as an abstract peaceful flow of joy.

Just enjoy, not to think, not react, just to enjoy because one reaches the essence of that creation which is joy. It's like a lake which is absolutely calm, ripple less; and all the surroundings the beautiful creation completely reflected in that beautiful still lake is what happens to a person who becomes thoughtlessly aware and then he grows in that state. It's a state, it is no certificate. It's a state where you start growing in that state spiritually till you reach the ocean of your divinity which is within you already. Then you are completely relaxed, you are just watching, watching the whole drama, you are the witness, like we are seeing some play or some picture of film, we start getting excited, oh God what's going to happen to this, then suddenly the film is over, oh it was a film, it was just a drama, in the same way we feel, it's just a drama, you do not get involved into it.

Another way I can explain to you, that those people who are in the water are afraid of the waves, but supposing you get into the boat another state, then you can see those waves, you can enjoy them but supposing you become a swimmer then you can jump into that, you can jump into the water and you can save others.

This is what into three stages you move in Sahaja Yoga. First you become thoughtlessly aware. Then the second stage what we call is doubtlessly aware, when you have no doubts about yourself, you know you have the power, you know you can work it out, you know everything about it, everyone knows the same thing, you know the absolute truth, then you know this is truth and everybody knows the same truth, you put ten children cover their eyes and put the gentlemen before, ask what is wrong with this person, they'll all say here, you ask the gentlemen, `Have you got problem with your throat?' `Yes! How do you know?' Because they'll feel the same finger, all of them, burning and this finger is then decoded as the center of Viśhuddhi. All children will feel the same, so there is no question of argument, there is no question of discussion. Just enjoy each other because you know each other as you know your own body. You become part and parcel of the whole, so the second state when we become collectively conscious, absolutely collectively conscious, you know your own centers that is.

The first state when we call Ātmā boddha means to know your self on your central nervous system; and the second state is when you become doubtlessly aware, where you are collectively conscious, absolutely conscious, you know what's wrong with another person. And then you become a Sahaja Yogi where you know how to correct these centers within you and without. These are the only three stages which are very simple. People have achieved some of them over night, some of taken eight days and some have taken a month. Of course there are some who have taken even two years I must say but there is the problem is with these people that they still go on doubting themself and they think that `How can we get to this, how can I be Divine? I'm such a nice person that I should lead a very happy life, instead of that why should I do these things?' or he thinks `I'm a very bad person, how can I get this?' It is inevitable, everybody has to get it, otherwise you can't exist in this world, is an impossibility. Like first of one fish came out of the water falling out, then few more came, then few more but later on shawls of fishes came out, of course there are still so many fishes at that stage.

So these people who are seeking the truth are the only one who are going to receive, it cannot be forced on anyone because human freedom has to be respected, is given us with a special reason. Like when you go to school they tell you two plus two is four but when you grow up go to college they tell you are on your own, now find out yourself because later on you have to be completely on your own. In the same way at this stage you are given this freedom to choose in the glory of your freedom what right, what wrong, you think it to be.

So try in your [UNCLEAR method] you may know what is right and what is wrong and once you get it then it's so blissful, it's so miraculous. It's so beautiful that you enter into Kingdom of God. It may sound very fantastic in these modern times when we cannot even think of God, we cannot even talk of God, but He exists, He's there, His power is there. We need not get upset with anything, we need [not] be frustrated, he has created us to be human beings to enter into His Kingdom not to in anyway left behind, struggling, but to give you all that this is his wealth, his joy his blessings.

Today, being the first day, I'll be happy if you can ask Me some questions, but I would request you one thing. I'm not here to take any money from you nor am I interested in politics that I want to have any goods from you. It is for your emancipation there is a built in system within you which works just like a sprouting of the seed. There's no obligation of mind or any thing, it's just one enlightened candle can enlighten another candle, you get your Self-realisation.

So please don't ask Me any question which is irrelevant, `What do you think of this person, what do you think of that person, what do you think of yourself?' There is no need to ask because whatever I tell you why you must believe Me? It's a blind faith, you must find it out, you have to find it out yourself, you have to certify yourself. You have to see for yourself that you have got this great blessing of being Self-realised by which you emancipate not only that but you are capable of emancipating, thousands and thus, this is the system by which there is the emancipation of the whole world will come forth. I hope you will ask Me some questions and then we'll have this process of Self-realisation which will hardly take ten to fifteen minutes. Today and tomorrow I'll be able to tell you what is the Spirit and what the manifestation means to us. Thank you very much.

Put your left hand towards Me on your lap which is suggested comfortably, you have to sit comfortably, so don't have to go to Himālayas standing on heads or only one leg nothing of the kind, it's just [UNCLEAR be] very comfortably [laughing]. You shouldn't of course slouch back or you should not also sort of bend that's not to thing but sit comfortably with the left hand. All right now put the left hand towards Me like this, simple as that, we suggest that you are [UNCLEAR desirous] of having your Self-realisation. You have to put both of feet apart from each other because there are two powers, one is the power of desire, left side; and the power of action on the right side.

So now the left hand you put it towards Myself, we suggest that symbolically that you want to have your Self-realisation. Use the right hand to nourish our centers to show our self-confidence.

So now first we put our hand, on the right hand, I'll show you now and later we'll close our eyes. This is the center as I told you is where the Spirit resides, now if you are the Spirit then in the light of the spirit you become your own master, so now take your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side, we're working on your left hand side, now this is the center on the left hand side which is your mastery. When you become the Spirit gradually you become the master of yourself and the master of all this knowledge. This is created by great prophets and great masters, real masters for us. Then we take down our hand in the lower portion of our abdomen left hand side, this is the center of Pure Knowledge, surprisingly that the center of Pure Knowledge is here, once you get the Pure Knowledge you will know what are the laws which are Divine also you'll know how to use them and how act according to them.

Now raise your hand again in the upper portion of your abdomen and then again on your heart, now in the corner of your neck and your shoulder here and turn your head to your right at this point again I have to say that you are not to feel guilty, this center is catching quite a lot, so please don't feel guilty, you're not going to miss your realisation by that, now you have to take your right hand on top of your forehead with your fingers on one side and your thumb on the other, press it hard and put it down as far as possible. This is the center for forgiving everyone in general, now, we take back our right hand on the back side of our head and push back our head as far as possible, this is the center where without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, for your satisfaction you have to ask forgiveness from this All-pervading Power of God's love.

Now, here is your hand again you stretch your palm fully, put the center of your palm on top of the Fontanelle bone area which was a soft bone in your childhood. This is the for the actualisation of your baptism through which the Kuṇḍalinī will come out [UNCLEAR in pure truth] so is very important center. Now remember to push back your fingers as far as possible, now put down your head, push back your fingers and move your scalp, slowly seven times clockwise, please push back your fingers that's very important, so that we put a good pressure on your scalp and move it seven times clockwise slowly.

[Long pause.] That's all we have to do, that's all.

Now we have to close our eyes. You can take out your spectacles because you shouldn't open your eyes till I tell you, also if you have something very tight on your waist very tight or on your neck then you can little bit reduce the pressure on these two centers. Whatever I have told you all these conditions in short means you should be very pleasantly placed towards yourself because you are going to enter into the Kingdom of God, so you have to be very pleasantly placed towards yourself.

Now please put left hand towards Me, both the feet apart from each other and put right hand on your heart and now close your eyes. Here you have to ask a very fundamental question about you to Me. You can call Me `Mother' or you can call Me `Shri Mataji', whatever you like. Please ask the question three times in your heart, all these questions are to be asked in your heart. `Mother am I the Spirit?' Ask this question, three times, `Mother am I the Spirit?' as I told you if you are the Spirit you get the guide to yourself so you become a master of yourself, the Spirit becomes your master.

So now take your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side, here ask another fundamental question three times, `Mother am I my own master? Mother am I my own master?' Ask this question three times, please. I've already told you that I respect your freedom and the Pure Knowledge cannot be forced on you.

So now please take your hand in the lower of your abdomen. This center has got six pedals, so please ask six times, `Mother please give me Pure Knowledge.' `Mother please give me Pure Knowledge' six times.

When you ask for Pure Knowledge Kuṇḍalinī starts moving upward, so we have to nourish our upper centers with our self-confidence, so please raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side and press it and here again you have to say with full confidence ten times, `Mother I am my own master.' Please say it with full confidence ten times, `Mother I am my own master.' I've already told you the fundamental truth about you is that you are not this body not mind, you are not this conditionings and the ego, nor these emotions and intelligence but you are the pure Spirit.

So now raise your right hand on top of your heart and here with full confidence please say twelve times, `Mother I am the pure Spirit.' Please say that, `Mother I am the pure Spirit.' Please say twelve times.

Now, one has to understand that this All-pervading Power is the ocean of knowledge, is the ocean of compassion, love and bliss, is the ocean of truth; but above all it is the ocean of forgiveness and whatever wrong you might have done, this ocean of forgiveness can completely forgive you. It is that powerful.

So forgive yourself and raise your right hand into the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to your right. Here you have to again, say it with full confidence sixteen times, full confidence, `Mother I am not guilty at all. Mother I am not guilty at all.' Please say it sixteen times with full confidence.

I've already told you whether you forgive or don't forgive you don't do anything but if you don't forgive then you play into wrong hands, so you have to forgive, if you don't forgive as it is all your lives you're playing into wrong hands and if you don't forgive you will also miss out your realisation because this center won't open, so please forgive.

Now raise your right hand on top of your forehead across put the fingers on one side and your thumb on the other, press it hard on the temples and now put it down your head as far as possible, here again you have to say with full confidence from your heart not how many times but from your heart, `Mother I forgive everyone in general,' `Mother I forgive everyone in general.' This is very important, without your forgiving I cannot forgive, you have to forgive yourself.

Now, please take your right hand now the backside of your head and push back your head as far as possible. Now here you have to say again with full confidence and from your heart not how many times, without counting your mistakes, without feeling guilty just for your satisfaction you have to say, `Oh All-pervading Power, please forgive me if I have done anything wrong knowingly or unknowingly.' `Oh All-pervading Power, if I have done anything wrong knowingly or not knowingly please forgive me,' say it with full confidence.

Now the last center which is very important, please stretch your palm fully, put the center of your palm on top of your head on the Fontanelle bone area which was a soft bone in your childhood. Now put down your head as far as possible and push back your fingers, please this is very important that please push back your fingers, here again I cannot force Self-realisation on you because I respect your freedom, I cannot cross over it, so move your hand now seven times slowly clockwise say seven times `Mother please give me Self-realisation.' [Shri Mataji blows into the microphone seven times.] Now please take down your hands, please take down your hands. Open your eyes, you can wear your glasses. Now put your hands towards Me please like this, just put them. Watch Me without thinking, let us see please watch Me without thinking. Now please put the right hand forward like this and bend your head and see for yourself if there is a cool or a warm or a hot breeze like waves are coming from your Fontanelle bone area, but don't put the hand on top of your head but away from it and see for yourself.

Sometimes you can get it very far sometimes quite close, so just try to feel if there's cool or hot or warm breeze like waves are coming it is you have to certify yourself.

Now put the left hand towards Me. Now again put down your head and see for yourself again is there's a Cool Breeze or a warm or a hot breeze is coming. It is warm or hot because you have not forgiven perhaps or may be you have a liver problem or some other problem but it doesn't matter at least you must forgive. Please forgive to help Me and help yourself, please forgive.

Again, you put your right hand toward Me and put down your left hand on top of your head and see for yourself if there is a Cool Breeze or a hot or a warm breeze coming out of your head. Bend your head, bend, if you don't bend it won't be so much clear, just bend, all right.

Now, raise your both hands towards the sky like this and turn your head towards the sky upward. Here you have to ask Me a question, anyone of these three questions, you can ask any question three times, `Mother is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost?' or `Mother is this the All-pervading Power of Gods love?' or `Mother is this the Param-Chaitanya?' Ask any one of these questions three times, put your hands up and your head upward and just ask this question in your heart.

Now please take down your hands. Put your hands like this. All those who have felt cool, warm or hot breeze slightly out of their Fontanelle or on their fingertips, please raise both your hands.

Look at this [UNCLEAR full].

May God bless you, what seekers, what great people, may God bless you, you [UNCLEAR saintlyhood] has started, it's like the sprouting of the seed now.

Christ has said a parable and this is the parable: “Again I tell you, the seeds which have sprouted have to grow into trees." It takes no time whatsoever but you have to come to the collective. You enjoy this peace, enjoy this joy within yourself but you have to come to the collective, this is the only way you will be cleansed. In Sahaja Yoga it is very simple, you have to give sometime in a week to come to the collective and they will tell you how to meditate five minutes in the morning and ten minutes in the evening, minimum that much is needed, but if you like it you can do it more. It's a very simple method, has to be simple because it is very fatal you are now joining a big revolution in the whole world, which has to bring forth the spirituality into the whole humanity transforming.

May God bless you all.

Thank you very much.

Contents: 1991-01-01 New Year Pūjā (Hindi+English), Mukand Factory, Kalwe, Maharashtra, India

[Shri Mataji talks in Hindi: MISSING.] I am sorry I had to talk in Hindi because most of them are Hindi-knowing people and I've just told them [the Indian Sahaja Yogis] what is the importance of Bombay [Mumbai] and why so many incarnations came here and why Śhrī Rāma had to walk in the villages and the hills and dales of Maharashtra, what was the need and the need is that they should all develop their Sahaja Yoga. Also, this would be the last Pūjā for all of you, in India. I hope you all have gained a lot in these different Pūjās and different places we have been to.

Only thing is that one should remember that Krita Yuga has started. Now Kali Yuga is over, Krita Yuga has started and in this yuga, that the Param-Chaitanya is absolutely effective and very efficient.

Now if you do anything wrong it will punish you. It may not punish immediately but it will give you a suggestion, it will give you a proper signal that something is going wrong with you. But if you do not try to control your footsteps then you may go down very fast.

So you have to be very careful about that.

Actually, I have told you so many times that there are two forces working, one which attracts you inside and one which throws you out.

So, it is important for all of us to remember that this Krita Yuga is there and in that this Param-Chaitanya is overactive.

Also, you are rewarded. You have been telling Me so many stories how Sahaj it worked out, how Sahaj it has happened, all of you have been telling Me very nice stories. But it is part of your play in Sahaja Yoga and that [UNCLEAR is] your place in the kingdom of God.

So, in the kingdom of God you are there, try to enjoy it, that's the only thing you have to do is to enjoy the kingdom of God. But if you try to, sort of, dislocate yourself from this joy, break the connection of joy by some sort of thinking, which is not reality, then you are responsible for yourself.

So, I have to tell you that keep the connection on. Not only that, but try to make it stronger and stronger and become one with that Divine force permanently, which will flow through you and will not only enlighten you but will give you so many powers and you will see the new life in this new year.

Yesterday, as I requested you, we have to work it out now. Individually, we have to go all out to see that we spread Sahaja Yoga and talk about it. On this day I give you complete freedom to do what you like to spread Sahaja Yoga. You need not ask Me any permissions and you can try everything that you want to. But should be something decent, should not be something indecent and something which is not behoving a Sahaja Yogi. Even if you have to write letters or answers or anything, even if you have to show the anger it should be done in a very decent and a beautiful manner. And it should show that it's a yogi who is talking.

The other things, whatever problems you have, will be solved in no time. But the main problem is yourself, it should be solved by you by meditative methods. And so much attention we are paying to all our extracurricular activities but that will definitely fail, it will boomerang on you if you do not have the foundation of Sahaja Yoga. It is very important to keep attention on your spirit all the time so that whatever you are doing, whatever you are projecting, has the base and you just don't get lost. This is a very important thing and I am sure that you will understand that without the nourishment from the roots you cannot grow.

So this nourishment must be kept [UNCLEAR alive/alight].

May God bless you! Thank you very much.

[UNCLEAR We] will first have a Gaṇeśh Pūjā, for which I think we should all say Atharva sheersha and there are so many children that I don't think we can manage with so many children, but if there are about say twelve children or fourteen children we can manage. Say from six years to ten years...

Contents: 1991-01-01 Quote, evening after Śhrī Gaṇeśha Pūjā, Mukand Factory, Kalwe, Maharashtra, India

[Shri Mataji coughs each time a person comes close to Her. Later it was discovered that he had bronchitis and She was sucking it out.] I cannot stop absorbing your pain because the power of My love runs before Me! When I see anyone suffering, My body absorbs his pain.

Contents: 1991-01-03 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Pratishthan, Pune, Maharashtra, India

[SYNOPSIS!] [The first point was about consistency. As we has heard, Markus, the leader of Sahaja Yoga in Austria, has left Sahaja Yoga, after having proclaimed that he had discovered that Shri Mataji was not the Ādi Shakti and that he would continue to meditate on his own without the photo of Mother. Mother said It was like a lion who becomes a fox. How is it possible? Because we do not have enough consistency and that's why we go up and down and up and down in our ascent. To be constant people, we have to be consistent. But how to do it?] [To be consistent, we have to be very introspective. Introspection is very important, especially mental introspection. She gave the example of Russians who are introspective in their day to day life, for each and every thing they are introspective. Even in love matters they think, `Why am I doing this, why am I loving this person?' So introspection has to be developed.] [She then explained how we should do introspection. It's like a mirror in which you are watching yourself. You don't say, `Oh, look how horrible I am, I'm really hopeless.' This is not the way. You should say, `Oh, you are very nice, there is nothing wrong with you.' We should practice positive introspection.] [Then She spoke again about the Russians. After, Public Programs, She was amazed, She said, that they came and kissed the stage where She was, they came to touch Her sari. This is a sign of devotion, of Bhakti . Bhakti is the easiest way to achieve it. If we surrender everything to the Ādi Shakti, we can achieve it. This is especially important for Westerners who are usually very much on the right side.] [While leaving Shri Mataji repeats:] Take to Bhakti , it is the easiest. You just have to jump into the river and it is all. You don't even need to swim.

[She spoke also about the problem of food shortages in Russia and was quite worried about it. She suggested to sell rice at a low price from India. She also spoke about Saddam Hussein and said that if he goes into war (if he does not get out of Kuwait), it would be the greatest idiocy of history, because everything is going to be destroyed there, factories, petrol, people.]

Contents: 1991-0000 Quote on Self-respect and Ego, New Delhi, India (year not sure)

G.K. Datta: What is the thin line dividing self-respect and ego?

Shri Mataji: A person who has self-respect has no ego.

Contents: 1991-0000 Quote, New Delhi, India (year not sure)

Shri Mataji: [asks Atul Dara to practice Criminal Law].

Atul Dara: [says that one has to sit with police officers in the evening and drink alcohol in order to have the work done].

Shri Mataji: You can sit with them, but you do not have to drink with them.

Contents: 1991-0000 Quote on Shri Mataji Confronting a Young Sahaja Yogi (year not sure)

[The young Sahaja Yogi has big emotional problems and treats his wife badly.] Mister So and So, you know you are crazy. You should try to express your emotions. Try to write poems. Go into nature, for example to a lake and talk loudly to it.

[After the young Sahaja Yogi leaves the room:] His emotions are so shattered, people like him just cannot bear more. He suffered too much. It's very difficult to confront their Egos.

Contents: 1991-02-09 Shivaratri Pūjā (Hindi+English), Pendal, Front of Kutab Minar Ashram, New Delhi, India

...

So it is important that you should join hands, work it out, the work of the Goddess, so that Shiva is happy and we create a new world of spirituality and beauty.....

Contents: 1991-02-12 Message to Sahaja Yogis, about the war in the Gulf on Abraham Lincoln's Birthday, Rome, Italy from The Divine Cool Breeze, Vol. 5, Issue 1 (Feb 1991), p.16 [Shri Mataji was asked what message She could to Sahaja Yogis about the war in the Gulf. She said:] It is inevitable. It is for the good. I am happy with America. They've learned real lesson. It has to be. It's the War on Dharma.

Contents: 1991-02-16 Shivaratri Pūjā, Four Nāḍīs of the Heart, cinema Garden Theatre, Chianciano Terme, Italy

Today we have assembled here to worship Sadāśhiva, which is reflected within us as Shiva, as the spirit.

He is reflected in our heart and as you have seen that the goal of our life was to achieve this state of spirit.

The other day I was reading some books how it was done, this Self-realisation, to know the spirit and how people were tortured. First of all they're asked to somehow or other deny, defy and condemn their body. Now, if the body wants to have comfort, then it was said that first try to sleep on the carpet, not on the bed. Then still, it's not enough; then from the carpet you go to a mat, still is not enough. Then from that maybe, you move down to the Mother Earth, sleep on the Mother Earth. Still if the body is not all right then you start sleeping on the stone. But still the Himālayas are far away, because Shiva resides in Kailāśha.

So you go to Himālayas and sleep on the ice. This was the minimum requirement.

Then it was said that you are fond of good food, you want to have sumptuous food, you eat a lot, all right; so you deny everything that you like, to begin with, all that you like. For example, Italians cannot eat pasta! Then deny that. But that's not sufficient.

After that you start eating things which are very bitter. As in the Zen system they give you to eat something which is like quinine raised to power 108, absolutely bitter, or absolutely sweet.

So put your tongue into test.

But still the stomach is there.

So if you are eating too much, you fast for one day. That's not sufficient.

Then fast for seven days. Then for forty days. I mean, a month has got only thirty days; to fast for forty days means you are already finished.

That's how if you have to do your penance for nirvāṇa. As it is you get a nirvāṇa because you're finished and dead, you see, nothing is left out of you, nothing but bones and these bones then become nirvāṇa. Ultimately the death follows, so you are finished and there is nirvāṇa, no doubt about it.

Then you don't live in a house, because house is comfort. Give up your wife, give up your children, give up everyone. Now wear only one something, like a cloth tied round and go and ask for alms from people. With these clothes also there's still problem, because you're attached to your cloth.

So you go to Himālayas where there's nobody to see you, take out your clothes and in that cold you stay there, completely shaking. Then you'll get your nirvāṇa. As it is you get nirvāṇa. All such conditions were put as to destroy the demands of your body to begin with. You tell your body, `No, nothing doing. You better work out your nirvāṇa.' The second thing was to destroy your mind which takes you to senses, to things of joy.

Supposing you want to have some, something very much, so deny that, deny that. Anything that your mind tells you, just say `No, no, no' to it. In Sanskrit the shloka is like this, “Yat neti neti vachane, nigamo vacha", which you go on saying, `neti, neti': `No, not this, not this, not this, not this.' And then you can discuss about, discuss only, yes, nirvāṇa. Before that you are not even worthy of discussion of nirvāṇa.

When I read this book I said, “Baba, I give up. It's too much." But in Sahaja Yoga is the other way round, like building first the pinnacle of the building and then the foundation. Opening your Sahasrāra was the first thing was achieved. And then in the light of Sahasrāra you have to watch yourself and see for yourself. Gradually the introspection was a better thing, through vibrations is to see why: why I want this? Why my attention goes to my comfort? Why my attention goes to food, why to my family, why to my children, when I have to achieve the highest? So you start introspecting yourself. Then you know on your vibrations also there's something wrong with you. Then you don't try to see others, what's wrong with others, you start seeing yourself; because it's your own ascent you have to achieve.

But in the olden times, all these things were done individually. Like a one person who starts the path of nirvāṇa, he used to go into ekant, means into lonely places, stay away from people, avoid them, have nothing to do and achieve this ascent, Self-realisation, only for himself. It was not for others. Then this gentleman became absolutely exclusive. He wouldn't talk to anyone, he wouldn't meet anybody and he would sit somewhere on top of a remote mountain.

Anybody who tried to meet him he would throw stones or say all kinds of horrible things and never meet that person.

But Sahaja Yoga is not the same thing. Sahaja Yoga is the ascent of the whole. This kind of singular achievements did not lead people anywhere. Saints of course tried to talk to people, tell them about Selfrealisation, about God, about righteousness, about value system; but they too were regarded as something strange and were tortured and troubled.

So on the level of an individual ascent, they couldn't do anything for others except for talking about it, telling about it, till Sahaja Yoga came.

Even the talking about it was prohibited. Till the twelfth century in India nobody talked about it to the public. It was all in Sanskrit, very difficult Sanskrit books which were only available to few aspirants.

Was explained to very, very few even, amounting to few numbers of people. But giving realisation was denied.

So only one master had one disciple and all was the individual ascent, individual working out.

Such a disciple was taken away from others and was kept in secret, worked it out on him; and just he may sing, he may write poems, he may talk about it, he might say what his joy is, but he had no right to give realisation to anyone, neither he knew how to give realisation.

So now you see how far you have gone. You've got your realisation without giving up much. You can work on a much wider scale, you can give realisations to other. You know about all the subtle knowledge about Sahaja Yoga.

But today I'm going to tell you something more which we have to know. It's very important to know, because as was described by people that they practice Sahaja Yoga as they go to church, but it's not from their heart. And heart is the abode of the spirit, is the Shiva within us.

So we have to know more about heart and that is very important.

You know about these three Nāḍīs we have: Iḍā, Piñgalā, Suṣhumnā; but in the heart there are four Nāḍīs. And the one Nāḍī goes to Mūlādhāra and if you cross the limits of Mūlādhāra it goes to hell. That's why they say that Shiva is a destroyer. Actually you ask for your destruction. And when you ask for your destruction, you have it. Even if it destroys everything, as I was telling, it's like when a fruit has to come, the petals look as if they're destroyed, as I have destroyed, I would say, many of your things: you can call it like your conditionings, your ego, your racialism, your fanaticism. All this has been destroyed in Sahaja Yoga. This has to be destroyed for the beauty to come out.

So when your Maryādās you cross beyond certain point, you go to your destruction. In four directions there are destructions built, as there are four Nāḍīs.

So now, what is to be done? How are we to stop this destruction of the, through the first Nāḍī, going to hell? One of the qualities of Shiva is that He's innocence. He's extremely innocent. He's innocent like a child. He is innocence personified.

So we have to put our carnal desires, dissolve them, dissolve them into the innocence, the ocean of innocence. You have to dissolve it in the ocean of innocence. Innocence is something to be appreciated, to be understood, to be enjoyed. Like you see animals, they're innocent; you see children, they're innocent; flowers, they're innocent. Divert your attention to all these things. You see, on walking on the street, what is there to see best is all at three feet height. You see at three feet height all the flowers, all the beautiful grass, all the children who are about three feet are the best.

You need not see people who are above that. Just see on three feet level. You can see the legs of somebody, that's all right. But you don't see the eyes of a person who are not innocent.

So dissolve this desire into innocence. And this Mūlādhāra which is innocent is not dead, finished, but is innocent, it is righteous, it is Śhrī Gaṇeśha's qualities, it's pure.

So even if you are in this world, even if you are living like a human being, even if you have children, still you are innocent.

Like once the wives of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, He had sixteen thousand wives to begin with and the five more.

The sixteen thousand were His powers and five were the elements. They were wanting to go to pray to some big well-known, I should say, saint had come, a maharishi had come.

So they wanted to go and see him and pay respects.

So they asked Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's permission, but when they went they found the river was all in spate, so flooded they could not cross over. They came back, they said, “How can we cross over this river? It's all in spate." So this Kṛiṣhṇa said, “All right, you just go and say, `If Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is Yogeshwara and if He is absolutely innocent about sex, you go down.' " They said, “How can we? We are so many wives. What is He talking about?" So they went down and said this to the river and the river went down and they were surprised that “this husband of ours is saying all these things." They went across and worshipped that rishi and they were coming back, again the river was in floods.

So they went back to the rishi, said, “Now how are we to cross over because it's in floods?" He said, “How did you come?" So they told the story of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. Now they had fed this rishi with food and fruits and he had eaten such a lot. “All right, you go and tell this river that this rishi has not eaten at all anything." They said, “How can it be? Just now you ate before us." He said, “Just go and see." They went back and told this to the river. The river again went down.

So to live in this world, to be a wife or to be a husband, to be married, whatever it is, you can be innocent, absolutely innocent about it. That's the sign of your purity.

The second Nāḍī, the second channel that can take you to destruction is desire. That's why Buddha has said that desirelessness is the only way that people do not get old, nor sick, nor worried.

Now this desire that we have, `I want this,' in the West is much more than anywhere else because the entrepreneurs are every day producing new things. Say for example a hairdress, so the women want to buy this wig or that wig, `It's my desire, I must have this wig to put on my head.' The another one says, `All right, I must have this one.' And the desire, for men, is `Oh, if he is having a Rolls-Royce, why shouldn't I have one?' They cannot enjoy somebody else's Rolls-Royce. It should be your own, that I should have the possession.

Desires can be of any kind, not only material. The desires could be also quite mental, `I must possess this woman, I must possess this child.' All kinds of possessions that work into you as desires. But I wouldn't say it is because of attachment. It's not attachment, but it is just to have more. Go on adding up things, getting things, still one doesn't feel happy and satisfied. What is the reason for this kind of a desire is that it's not pure desire. It's an impure desire. It's an impure desire and when such a desire starts working you can go any far, like Saddam Hussein, like Hitler, like anything is nothing but absolutely desire beyond any limitations. You want to dominate others is also another desire.

All these desires lead you ultimately to a destruction, because there's no joy, there's no happiness.

For example, now I want to have a sarī, so I want to buy a sarī. All my attention will be how will I get that sarī, I must get that sarī, this thing, that thing. The attention becomes polluted, disturbed, for a nonsensical thing like a sarī. The attention, which has to enjoy, which has to enjoy the spirit, which has to nourish the spirit, becomes disturbed because of desires.

In the first place the attention is disturbed because we are not innocent. In the second place the attention gets into turmoil because we have desire.

So what should we do as far as the desire is concerned? The desire for beautiful things, we can shift our desire, material desire into aesthetics and have one thing but which is really aesthetically rich; because that's the quality of Shiva, that He gives aesthetics to everything. Now supposing this looks very plain, simple and one may say that mechanical. But if it was Shiva's job He would have done something beautiful about it.

So the quality of Shiva is that He beautifies everything that is created by Brahmadeva, evolved by Viṣhṇu. He's the one who does the subtle work of creating aesthetics.

You've seen My photographs many a times with so many lights, this, that, is all His job. He's doing it. He throws lights in such a manner, He works out in such a manner. Just He wants to convince you about Me. It's His job.

So His job is to create aesthetics: aesthetics of behaviour, aesthetics of poetry.

Everything that is created is made beautiful, is joy-giving, by Shiva, that's His quality.

So whatever you desire, if you start working it out, desiring for something aesthetically handmade, nice thing, gradually you'll find you'll end up with vibrations, because all beautiful things have vibrations. And to have the vibrations you'll have to go to pure desire.

So this desire which is madness, which makes you mad, which is so much dull and boring becomes pure desire, because you have to dissolve all your desires into vibration. You start desiring nothing but vibrations after some time. You'll not buy anything which has no vibrations. You'll not talk to a person who has no vibrations. If somebody has [no] vibrations you'll just run away.

I've seen people running away from some people as if some monkey is after them. When I look around, I find there are people who are drunkard, or somebody coming or something. They might have been drunkard themselves once upon a time, but now they run away, `No, no, no, no. Not so now. Now no, no more.' We had three, four hippies to begin with who came with Me to India. They're normal like you, they were become, you see, Sahaja Yogis. And four, five hippies came to My program, it was in Rahuri, I think.

They got a fright of their life, “Oh no, oh, God!" I said, “What's the matter with you? Why are you so frightened?" So I turned round to see these hippies and by the time I'd turned round they were out. They were no more there.

So then what happens, all desire ends up into Chaitanya, into vibrations. And if it does not, then you must know there's something still missing. But if you do not do this, then you end up into your destruction.

So to say that He's a destroyer is a very one-sided statement. He has both the powers. He has the power to give you vibrations. He gives you vibrations.

The Goddess is the power, Shakti, but He makes the vibrations. It's like these are the fingers, all right, but if they tickle you then it's Shiva. The fingers are that of the Goddess, all right, but if it tickles, you know, gives you joy, happiness, it's Shiva, is the Bhakti . The joy of Bhakti comes from Shiva.

Today only I was explaining how one lady who was a Devī bhakt and has done so much study of Bhakti and all that and knew so much, just merged into Me. I just couldn't understand her how, what she has done, because normally people don't do. When they are reading about Devī they think, `All right, this is Devī, this is Mātājī.' You see, it's separate things. They don't know they are reading about Devī.

So she said, “Mother, I just identified. It's written that how You are gentle, the Goddess is gentle, how She touches me, how She looks after me, how Her attention is on me." Like there's a sentence “kataksha, kataksha, nirikshana": “every glance is an inspection." But `inspection' not a very good word, but `nirikshana' means inspection, Divine inspection. `So all the time I feel that it's You, You, You are all the time, when I listen to music I feel now, see, She is looking at me, She is feeling me, She is nourishing me. All the time I feel Your love.' That's how the Bhakti comes in.

So if you have vibrations that doesn't mean that they are something dry, you see? No, it means the joy of Bhakti . Bhakti is, you can call it adoration, this, that. It's the ocean of love that is God. You just get drenched into it. There's no words to it.

And that is what when you feel, you must know that you have taken the spirit as a real connection between you and your Mother, or your Father. There's no differentiation. You are one in that ocean, drenched in the ocean. You are the drop, you are the ocean. You are one in that Bhakti . And that Bhakti cannot be mechanical, because [it is] not man-made.

So to enjoy Sahaja Yoga you must know that it's not dry vibrations only, but is the Bhakti . That is the joy of Shiva's quality, the quality of joy that He adds to our life.

Everything seems to be surrounded, resounding. Same thing the joy, that `I'm loved so much by God, that God loves me, that I have a meaning in life.' Then the ego drops out first of all and also the conditionings drop out.

Now the third Nāḍī: third Nāḍī is the Nāḍī by which we feel attached, attached to someone. Like this is my child, this is my husband, this is my family, this is my wife, this is my father, this is my mother.

In the beginning of Sahaja Yoga of everyone, when they are just the beginners, so they talk about their whole family, `My father is like this, my mother is sick, my mother's sister's brother's this, that's real, this thing, is not well.' As if, you see, we all have taken a contract. What should I do? Like today somebody said that “You see, they lost their first child. First child they lost, because the child was sleeping in another room." I said, “Small children should sleep with mother and mother must look after the children." It's simple thing, I mean, in India no mother would accept such a situation.

She'll throw away the husband, say, “What's this? I have to look after the child." So I said, “Tell them that they should sleep with the child." But they don't believe in it.

So all right, what can we do? Have we taken their contract that we should look after their children, even when they don't want to listen to us? So the idea is, all the time in the beginning is that `Oh Mother, I've been doing Sahaja Yoga for one month, but so far my financial condition has not improved.' As if they're going to sue Me for that, as if I've let them down. But they don't want to see that you have just now come to Sahaja Yoga, or even if you have been in Sahaja Yoga for so many years, you have not been a Sahaja Yogi.

Something missing, you don't deserve.

Something wrong with you, not with Sahaja Yoga. But they feel that Sahaja Yoga is something which has got the contract. Immediately they'll inform you, `Now somebody is sick there, somebody's somebody's somebody's somebody. Send five Sahaja Yogis.' For what? These attachments start working within us. Now some people I've seen are very attached to their children and they go on pampering, `Oh, my child, my child.' And suddenly they discover the child is now is a devil's child. The child starts answering back, saying all kinds of things, beating the parents, misbehaving and then they suddenly discover that `this is the child whom I have been looking after, giving so much love.' And they feel even worse, because `I have done so much for my wife and she is treating me like this.' `I've done so much for my husband and he is treating me like this.' Why do you do so much? There's no need. And if you are doing it, you just do it and you forget it. I never feel that way.

I know of Sahaja Yogis for whom I have worked very hard and they have gone down. Only thing if I feel anything, only God knows where will they jump? Where will they be in hell? What will happen to them? That's the only concern. Not the concern what has happened, because nothing can happen to Me. But if they have been sinful I just get worried about their future, about their lives. That's different.

So this kind of attachment that is we call in Sanskrit is `mamatva', `this is mine, that's my child, my this thing, my that.' Who are your relations are Sahaja Yogis, remember this. It's a sentence you must remember, `My relations are Sahaja Yogis only. And anybody who plays against Sahaja Yogis, troubles Sahaja Yogis, that person could be my own wife, could be my own child, is not mine.' Because I'll not allow such a thing to happen. This relationship is all right till Sahaja Yogis are one with each other. As soon as somebody tries to harm any other Sahaja Yogi, then I'm not with that person.

I've seen there are many like that, but very good Sahaja Yogis. They'll never side with their wives, never side with their children, because they know if you are siding with them you are making them sinful, you're destroying them.

They're worried about their ascent so they'll never allow, never allow anybody, a relation of theirs to trouble others.

I have seen some children who are extremely naughty, they're very troublesome, very violent and the parents just saying, “Mother, put them right. We leave it to You." They are to be put right. But others will say, “Oh, no, no, no, no; you see my child, he cannot do such a thing, you know." So one has to understand the discrimination part of it, that `Why am I attached?' I've given this simile many a times, like the sap of the tree rises, goes to various places of the trees, various areas, looks after the bark, looks after the branch, looks after the leaves, flowers and fruits and comes back, or it gets evaporated. It doesn't get attached. If it gets involved into one of them the whole tree will die and that part which is so close to the sap will also die. But sap has much more sense than we have.

To them, husband's so important, I mean so many problems of husbands, wives, this, that. `My God,' I sometimes think, `what is this?' That's why they used to say, `Take a Sannyās', so nobody can talk about wife, children, nothing. You have to be a Sannyāsī, first of all be a Sannyāsī.

So no headache to the Guru. As soon as you start talking about any one relation of yours, the Guru would say, `All right, you get out. Nothing doing. No good.' But in Sahaja Yoga, Sahaja Yoga has much deeper work to do. It has to penetrate into the society, into the political life, into economic life. You have to emancipate the whole world. Try to understand your responsibility. You are not only here for one ascetic ascent, no. How much wisdom you must have, how much love you must have and how much discrimination you must have, to understand that you are chosen for the emancipation of the whole world.

So now this so-called limited love, what is the solution which takes you to destruction is the unlimited love. Because Shiva is nothing but love, He's love. Love is that corrects, that nourishes, that wants your benevolence. That's what Shiva is. It wants your benevolence. It looks after your benevolence.

So when you are looking after the benevolence of others with love, then the whole life changes, the whole pattern changes and you really enjoy it because you become one with so many, concerned with so many families, so many things, so many problems of others and you just feel you are one with so many.

Now see, we are so many Sahaja Yogis here today. First time when I came to Italy, I must tell you, I came with Christine, no, what's the name of Gregoire's wife? Catherine. And she was the only one who knew Italian. And we had told some newspaper to reserve some sort of a hall and advertise for us. Nothing was done.

So when we came we couldn't find anyone.

So I went round with her to put the posters, but still nobody came. And today we are so many. But we must know that we are bound to each other by love and the love that is for our benevolence, for our ascent. And then you just start enjoying everyone.

And then you don't think what race you are, what country you are, what this thing you are, nothing, a Sahaja Yogi, finished! So you become a universal being. And this attitude has to be achieved.

When I hear that some Indian girls are tortured and troubled, I think, `How can they do it?' Or somebody who has a black skin, they are tortured; or some Indians are treating somebody because they are of low caste. It's not possible, because they are all part and parcel of one body. They're all brothers and sisters, born of the same Mother.

But this is only possible when you dissolve that limited relationship of yours into this great unlimited ocean of love; then only it is possible. And if it is not there, do not try to justify, just watch yourself.

See for yourself: are you really in love with everyone? You see, I would say that all the time when I, sometimes I go for shopping, I just think, `Oh, this one would be nice for this one, that will be nice for that one.' For Myself if you say, it's impossible for Me to buy anything for Myself, impossible situation. Unless and until it is absolutely immediate, or some problem is there if I am just without it. I won't even buy a drink for Myself, even if I am thirsty. Because the whole thing is the joy of others. `Oh, this will be nice for that person. This will be good for that person.' All this is the most enjoyable thing. I mean, why all this is for there? After all, think about yourself, `Why am I here? I'm here to enjoy everyone, everyone. They are all realised Souls, such beautiful lotuses.

I'm not going to stoop down to the mud. Now I am a lotus.' That is the way you open the heart, the lotus of your heart. And the fragrance of such a person is so beautiful, is so beautiful.

So you are no more divisive, you do not want to separate from each other. Anywhere is done, you are agreeable to that; you don't think that it should be done here or there or there, but anywhere, but should be all of us together.

So the small attachments that are with you have to be dissolved into this ocean of love, which is Shiva.

Fourth one is the most important for all of us is to know that there's a Nāḍī which passes through left Viśhuddhi into the heart. Starts from the heart, goes up, passes through Āgñyā. It has four petals and opens up. This is the one which gives you the state which is called as Turīya.

We live in three states. In the living, in the awakened state, jāgruti, our attention goes to this, that and all that; we spoil our attention. But the second one is the one what we call is that we sleep. When we sleep also all these things that have happened come to us from our past and things like that. But then we go to the deeper sleep called as sushupti. Is a state where you have deep sleep and you dream of something that is reality also. You may dream about Me. Like it's the ethereal part of the subconscious, where some beautiful informations are passed on. Supposing I've come, say, to Italy. Italians might know in their sushupti that I have come here, or maybe anybody might know, depends on.

But the fourth state is called as Turīya. There are two more states. You are in the Turīya state, it's the fourth, `Turīya' means fourth. Fourth state is where that you are in a thoughtless awareness state. When there is no thought, just think of it, when there is no thought, you have to be innocent. When there is no thought, you have to have vibrations. When there is no thought, you cannot be attached to anyone.

So into that thoughtless state you have come now, is the `Turīya sthiti.' And in this state when you are, these four petals which are within you have to open out in your brain. They come from your heart to your brain. And that is when you absolutely understand what is God, absolutely you know what is God is. That is the time when one receives the real knowledge.

But unless and until these four petals open, one may fall back and that's why some of the Sahaja Yogis who are still meddling with things that they should not do, go down. And they don't understand what is God is. But it's not the understanding, in a way you understand this one little point, that it comes from your heart into your brain, not from brain to your heart. It comes as if the ambrosia of your Bhakti covers your brain, absolutely.

Say for example, Shañkarāchārya wrote a beautiful treatise called as `Viveka Chūḍāmaṇi' where he described what is God, this, that; and `viveka' means the conscience and consciousness and all that he described quite a lot. But there was one horrible fellow called Sarma who started arguing with him and he got fed up, Shañkarāchārya. He said, “No use talking to them." So he just wrote `Saundarya Lahari'.

`Saundarya Lahari' is nothing but all the mantras praising the Mother.

He said, “Why, I know Mother, now let me praise Her. Nothing doing, what's the use of talking to these people?

Stupid things, how will they understand?" He realised that “These people haven't got that capacity, that sensitivity to understand what I know." That's the real knowledge, is to know what is God. And if that is God, then how can you suspect anything, how can you try to analyze anything? It's God. It's God Almighty, which knows everything, which does everything, which enjoys everything. That is the one you should say is the Gñyāna, is the knowledge, is the True Knowledge, the Pure Knowledge. It's not the knowledge of Chakras, not the knowledge of vibrations, not the knowledge of Kuṇḍalinī, but the knowledge of God Almighty.

And the knowledge of God Almighty is not mental. Again I tell you, it starts from your heart and goes to your brain, something that comes out of your experience of joy and covers your brain.

So your brain cannot deny it any more.

Like the, sometimes when you have your mother, little mother, you know the love of your mother.

But you cannot explain, it comes from your heart and you say, `No, that's my mother, she won't do like that. I know my mother very well.' The knowledge about your mother, the one who has given you birth; may not be, mother may not be very good or whatever it is. But knowledge about God, that He's love, that He's truth, that He knows everything, that just become part and parcel of your being, absolutely and that's the time we say is the nirvāṇa.

So it's important, specially for the people of the West, now open your hearts, because it starts from the heart, not from your brain.

Do not judge people on vibrations. Judge yourself, all the time.

I had told that Shiva Pūjā means more explanation, more understanding, more this thing; because in other Pūjās we do all these mantras, this, that, but in this Pūjā is to know the knowledge, it's God.

And to know that you know God itself is so great. Whatever it is, She may be Mahāmāyā, She may be anything, but I know Her. It cannot be described in one book, it cannot be described in hundred books.

It cannot be described in words, but to know that's God, after all, that's God, God Almighty. And that gives you that beautiful surrender, where you just feel absolutely secured in that ocean of love.

I wish you all to achieve that state.

May God bless you.

The Pūjā is quite short, it's not so big and this thing, you see, first we'll do the Pūjā of Gaṇeśha, has to be worshipped in any case. Then the Devī, little bit. And then only the 108 names of Shiva we'll do.

Contents: 1991-02-22 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, About Love, Ashram, Rome, Italy

You are singing so beautifully. It seems your heart has opened after this Pūjā very much and you're singing like small children now.

So sort of, all the conditionings we have had, all the ego also there, it seems now you have become very pure all these problems have gone away and you are enjoying yourselves. This is the best way, when we love ourselves, we know ourselves we become love. Because of so many pressures on us and so many norms we've got, which are artificial and we think only if outside we are alright it's alright; but truth flowing from within is so joyous. You feel your capacity to love itself is so joyous and capacity to give is also so joyous.

So the Shiva Pūjā meant that you become love and feel the joy of love.

You see when you love someone, if you love your child, you're not bothered as to how it looks or how it appears, you just love. And if you try to be attentive to somebody because his appearance is good or he's superficially good, or his manners are good, after some time you'll be deceiving yourself. But if you're inner being is beautiful then you will be happy with yourself first of all; because the source of joy is from within yourself. You do not get it from others.

So to cleanse yourself and to be open is the best way to enjoy life.

Some people may laugh at you, some may make fun of you, some may try to trouble you; but most of them will love you, because you are so pure and you will be yourself at peace with yourself.

So the best thing is to have introspection to see yourself, whether you are Love or not. Like some people are conditioned and they want this should be like this that should be like this, it should have been there, we should do this we should do that, we should organize like this, we should cook like this; I mean conditionings are there that according to them that's something good. And if that doesn't happen then they are unhappy. And some are right-sided egoistical, they want to dominate others, if they cannot dominate then they are unhappy, they are angry.

So they are miserable, so they make others miserable also.

So the first type which is left-sided makes himself miserable, while the second type makes others miserable: but both are wrong. You have no business to make yourself miserable, because God has created you to be joyous and happy.

So one should only know that you have to be the Spirit.

So all these conditionings will drop out, ego will drop out. But when we talk of Spirit we always think of something very dry. No it's not at all, it is absolutely Love, Spirit is Love. You can say the light of Spirit is Love.

So it is important to understand that it's the love only that is emitting from your heart will give joy to you. Look at other people as you have to give them love. You'll feel very powerful and the bhoots and all the badhas will run away. Once you decide that I have to just love others, all the conditioning will drop out.

Today I was discussing that people have a bad habit of giving their problems to others all the time.

Like a wife will come out to the husband I have this problem, this problem, this problem. Same with husband, he'll say I have this problem, they talk nothing but of problems, problems. Not of love, not of appreciation of each other, or the care, the gentleness, the tenderness; but all the time they think this is the only topic between them is tell each other the problems. Now anybody tries to give you solution also this is all mental. You give a solution to a person, alright this is your problem this is the solution.

So they'll say no no no no this won't work out, then second one, no no no no this won't work out. You give five solutions it won't work out. Then you have to tell this is your problem it's not mine, so if you don't want to have any solution do what you like. Next time no more problems to you. As soon as they start talking the problem, put your hands to... [Laughing.] Immediately they'll stop, because it's a, I think it's a psychological blackmail in a way. They'll go on pestering you with problems problems problems. Now supposing you travel by ship, there are no problems, because there are no solutions. If you ask for, say…

something, if it is on the ship it is there, if it is not it is not.

So this is how one should realise what do we talk to each other what do we say to each other.

Then another way is that all the time finding faults with others; what is wrong with you, you are like this you are like that. Or discussing somebody else also, that person is like that, that person is like that, all the bad things. What is the use? Because somebody is wrong that person should correct himself, you can't correct that person. You can only correct yourself. But it's a habit of the mind, again it's very mental. Like you are going on the road, such a person will say the road should have been this way it should have been direction this way, but you are not in charge. It is what it is, why waste energy.

So to enjoy everything we must accept. Whatever is there just accept and enjoy it. That's one thing we forget, that supposing if you get lost on the way, then we go on fretting oh God we are lost now what to do this thing that thing, unnecessarily bothering ourselves. But supposing you say it's nice, something must be there let us see what's beautiful here; let us enjoy whatever is there. That attitude then you never get lost, you never feel you are lost until you think have found yourself. Once I lost My key; very important key lost.

So I said very good idea we can find out now.

So I opened My drawers and I saw beautiful letters written by all the Yogis and this and that so I started reading them I forgot about the key. And beautiful poems and children had written very sweet things, you see so I was feeling very happy and I was enjoying it. And even when I found the key I didn't think much of it, because I thought I found the key of joy.

So one should not get frustrated, unhappy over small things. That makes you nervous, that makes you unhappy and your energy is lost. You get so tired thinking about it all the time. Like in England I saw the people who are in the television they come and sit down, they say huh. Young people, you see they are always tired; then you talk to them for ten minutes I am tired now. And they boast about their tiredness, not ashamed. Because they do not enjoy life. But if you enjoy then you never feel you are tired, you never feel you are old, you never feel that way anything. But those who think too much always are tired, they never feel fresh. Freshness is a sign that you are enjoying yourself.

So we reach a conclusion that any such nonsensical thoughts are the death of joy.

Somebody is, supposing he's bad to you, nasty to you, alright, you just forgive and forget. At the same time think how you will be nice to someone with whom you have not been nice; how you will express your love. Immediately you'll feel fresh, immediately you'll feel better.

So this is the key to joy.

I'm happy this time so many people want to get married also and many people want to marry Italians, because they think Italians are very open hearted and dignified.

So I hope that those who are married will enjoy the married life and those who are going to get married also will enjoy their married life; and also you will enjoy your children and the children here, everybody's children.

I'm sure this Pūjā is definitely going to help you all very much.

So when we say we are in paradise, actually the people who are in paradise just enjoy. They know that they are looked after by the Divine Power. Also they know that they don't have to worry about anything.

Also they know that everything will work out by itself. This is how a Sahaja Yogi should be. Actually you are Sahaja Yogis, but actually you are on your way to Mahā Yogis.

So it's nice we are having two Pūjās now one after another. One of them is going to be Sahasrāra Pūjā. The dates for that is third, fourth and fifth and the place, which is the place you have selected? As you know very well, every Sahasrāra, Pūjā you know very well there's always very miraculous photographs coming out. Then there's another Guru Pūjā which is very important, these two are the most important Pūjās. That is also going to be in Italy.

So Italy has somehow or other managed to have three big Pūjās in one year; Shivaratri Pūjā and Sahasrāra Pūjā and this Pūjā which is very important is Guru Pūjā.

So I mean sort of these three important Pūjās are in Italy. Also you know that I have got now the citizenship in Italy. And also that we're trying to get a very nice big castle for My stay in Asty, which is absolutely connected to all the countries practically. It's very near Torino, very near Milano, very near France very near Switzerland, so it's quite a nice place I think. You all should pray that we should get that place in Asty, this castle, to desire, because I am desireless....

So we could have some music now.

Contents: 1991-02-28 Talk to Sahaja Yogis (Hindi+English), Holi Celebrations, New Delhi, India

[Shri Mataji talks in Hindi:] [SYNOPSIS!] [In modern times there is no thought towards the common man and the public. People rule shamelessly and pay no attention to the public interest. The reason for this is that people do not know of the Maryādā Purushottam and if they know they do not want to make it a part of their lives. It is very important that those who govern should remain in their Maryādās (limits). Only then will the world be bound within limits. If they govern without any boundaries, limits or any system then their society will be destroyed but more than that the governments and universal brotherhood will be completely ruined. We are becoming extremely complex and mixed up because we did not maintain our limits. Like there are the Bombay and the Delhi people. Then they become Noida residents and then the resident of a particular locality or a street. Like this we are going into narrower and narrower boundaries, rather than universal brotherhood.

As a result of which the Society and government has completely gone haywire.] [The boundaries which we should tie in our personality we have not tied. Śhrī Rāma had tied them because He had come as the ideal king and led a life within those boundaries. The kind of boundaries we have made around ourselves will make us low, small and narrow. The kind of boundaries (Maryādās) Śhrī Rāma had tied will make us strong. Like an aeroplane which does not have its nuts and bolts screwed properly will be destroyed. We take very easily to Maryādās which destroy our Shakti (Power) and do not follow the ones which increase our Shakti, which for our benevolence and which give us dignity, existence and excellence. This is a very great fault of our thinking and understanding. We should stop and think which Maryādās we are tied with and which we should tie; unfortunately people misunderstood the Maryādās of Śhrī Rāma and went into such austere practices where one could not laugh, or speak, but had to do severe penances. The pandits and brahmins of those days also misled in the name of Dharma.] [To break such concepts Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa took his birth. He was sākṣhāt Śhrī Rāma. Then He played leelās and spread the knowledge that the world is a play. He also played a game on how the people should touch their depth. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's leelā was a different type and Śhrī Rāma's sacrifice towards his people was another type. At the Viśhuddhi is collectivity or Jana. On the Nābhī it is Dharma or to bear. On the Viśhuddhi Chakra you become collective. In the collectivity Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa tried to awaken people through His leelā. When He was five years old he hid the clothes of the women. In those days even a twenty year old boy was innocent. In that innocence He used to use the power of Mahālakṣhmī to awaken them.

Mahālakṣhmī is Śhrī Rādhā and Sītā. Only through Mahālakṣhmī Tattwa evolution takes place and it is through Mahālakṣhmī Tattwa only that you have gained whatever in Sahaja Yoga. He would break their pots which they carried on their heads which was filled with the vibrated water from the Jamuna. The water would fall on their backs and give them realisation. Then he would dance the Rās. Ra means Shakti and dha means Dharma, the one who bears. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa made everyone dance and then would move the Shakti of Śhrī Rādhā. He played the flute. The flute is also in a way the Kuṇḍalinī. It also has seven holes like the seven Chakras. By that dance the Shakti of Rādhā used to flow in the hands of all.

Also he found a very beautiful way of playing Holi, by mixing colour in vibrated water.

So that they become completely drenched with vibrations. It was his thought and his play. By using filth with colour you finish the Tattwa (Essence) of Holi. There is such beauty in Holi; our love and friendship for one another grows with vibrated water. Whatever negative feelings we have should finish. We should play Holi with purity of feeling and a complete absorption. There should be no feeling of sin in it and the heart should have no bad feeling. This was how the festival of Holi was celebrated. But now we see a complete degradation and change of such a beautiful festival. Like at the Festival of Gaṇapati, they pray to Him and yet they use dirty film songs, shout and dance and get drunk in front of him. These days in Gujarat they dance the Rās all drunk. Rās is rhythmic and musical. It is not that you go on beating, singing loudly out of rhythm and falling over each other. The attention must be absolutely pure.] [At the time of dancing Rās, a person's whole attention is on the rhythm and melody of the dance and that is how his attention becomes purified. This festival of Holi was made by Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa so that human beings would see the whole world as Leelā (play). By coming into Sahaja Yoga you have become Leelāmay (playful). You get completely absorbed in music and enjoy it. You have love and pure feelings for one another. You do each work with great beauty and morality. But to be Leelāmay is to stop at Viśhuddhi Chakra. After that one has to move on Āgñyā. On the Āgñyā Chakra is Tapa or penance. Then you should think about the burning of Holika which was due to Prahlad's penance. We also have to ascend on that Tapa because you have reached the Viśhuddhi level; that you live together with love for each other. At Viśhuddhi you have become collective, got love and universal brotherhood. When you become universal then your caste, creed, countries all drop away.] [Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa had given us certain limits and relationships like the one between elder brother's wife and younger brother. The relationship between brother and sister is very sweet. But a brother and sister will never hold hands and sit, together even though their love for each other is very deep. They will fight with each other but if anyone says any thing to their sister they will be ready to die for her honour. The special nature of this love of brother and sister is born by nature. There is complete trust in one another though this love is extremely pure. The relationship is exceedingly moral keeping this pure love in mind we cannot play holi with our sister as by mistake we may insult the sanctity of this love hidden within the boundaries.] [If we have to rise above this life of illusion, (Leelāmay), then we have to settle down in Āgñyā because from this kind of festival the enjoyment, purity, goodness, brotherhood and universality we get, we spread out horizontally. To go into the depth penance is necessary. Sahaja Yoga spreads quickly; but how many go deep? Tapa does not mean fasting, etc. It means that if your Chitta (attention) is on food then you must remove it from there. To watch your attention is the penance, because it is by your attention that you spoil your Āgñyā Chakra. Where is my attention? What am I thinking?] When you restrain your Chitta it does not mean that you use force, but by watching your attention in the light of the Spirit it becomes enlightened. [SYNOPSIS Variant: Keep your attention always within, in your heart and then your attention will become enlightened in the Āgñyā.] [This is the Tapasya, the penance that you restrain your attention, watch it, think about it that where has my attention gone. Why is it so unsteady?] [When you restrain your Chitta, it does not mean that you use force. By watching your attention in the light of the Spirit it becomes enlightened. One pointedly you must watch your attention. Like there is this pole. There are many beautiful flowers on it. At one glance they are observed. I remember all of them like a scenery before Me because My Chitta is one-pointed. Only through this, your memory gets strong. It is only through your attention that you can know everything. But if the Chitta is unsteady then you cannot know the depth of anything. In the west a twenty year old person was asked his name. He kept thinking for a while what had been asked and then only he could reply half heartedly his name. It was just like he was drugged. This has happened to him not so much from drugs as from his attention.

When the attention is unsteady then you cannot remember anything. Pure attention is one-pointed. Such an attention absorbs only what should be absorbed. What should not be absorbed, is not even looked at.

The attention will recede from there because it is so Pure. It cannot be stained. The Tapa of Sahaja Yoga is to watch where your attention is going. Where is my mind going? When you have done this Tapa then you will go beyond Āgñyā.] [Then in the Sahasrāra the question doesn't arise because I reside there.] If you do not cross the Āgñyā then it becomes very difficult for Me in the Sahasrāra because the Āgñyā Chakra very narrow and to pull up from there is very difficult.

[So it is very important to do Tapa. Otherwise you may get cancer. How can a Sahaja Yogi get cancer? A Sahaja Yogi lady got cancer. The reason for this was that she came for all the programs but kept thinking about her problems, rather than concentrating on what was being said. She kept thinking about her own problems and got lost. What do we think with our minds? What thoughts go through our minds? Only this that we have this problem and that problem. Count your blessings. Just think that there are lakhs of people but how many have got Sahaja Yoga? We are special people. There should be a thinking, a memory of this from within; one should go to the depths of the mind. By that all false boundaries break away. If you do not break them then some such experience will come that they will break them. If you think I am a Delhite then the Delhi people will put you right. Then you will be neither here to there. The reason is that your attention is like that. Neither here nor there.] [Till you become deep, I cannot believe you are Sahaja Yogis because the first sign of a Sahaja Yogi is that he is Shānt Chitta peaceful temperament and extremely powerful. He is not afraid of anyone. His life is extremely pure. His body and mind are Pure. By the Light of the Spirit he spreads radiance in the whole world. The one who cannot love, such a person cannot be a Sahaja Yogi. He has not even climbed the first ladder. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa said on this Holi day, laugh, jump and enjoy as the whole world is a play.

But the boundaries on which this play is established, for that you will have to do penance at the Āgñyā.

Like you see many kites in the sky. They are all in one hand. If one gets loose, it flies away. The hand is the Ātmā.

So keep your attention on your Ātmā. To go on making yourself Pure is the Tapas of Sahaja Yoga.] [In Havan the fire devours everything. In the same way by Tapas all the negative thoughts and wrong boundaries (Maryādās) will break away. To get joy is your right. But to share that joy you must have that depth within. If you take a very small cup and fill it with water from the Ganga river, then you can bring only a cupful of water. If you take a huge pitcher then you can get a full pitcher.

Somehow if you can make the whole Ganga flow all around you then you will have the water around you all the time. You should keep watching yourself to see what level you are. Are you taking only a cupful of water from Sahaja Yoga? Is your joy limited? Or is it for everyone's benefit? Are you yourself the source of it? Then you will understand that to enjoy Holi you need depth. To enjoy this bliss, depth is required.] [There is a very close relationship between Āgñyā and Viśhuddhi, like a father and son. The Viśhuddhi gets spoilt if you are always sulking, or by talking too much or not talking at all. But you should say good things to give joy to others. You should say nice things to encourage love for one another. Say nice things to stop fighting amongst ourselves. By this the Viśhuddhi Chakra gets all right. Then you should see that when you are talking to people, are you making them happy on the surface or from their depths.

If its from the surface then know that you have still not reached your depth. If one gives even a small flower from the heart then in Sahaja Yoga it can have a very deep effect. Do things with your whole heart.

Your friendships should not be superficial. Till the depth of Āgñyā does not come on the Viśhuddhi, your Viśhuddhi will go haywire. It is important to have the depth of the Āgñyā. It means that whatever you do is without thinking and calculating. i.e. `If I give Rs. 5, I will get Rs. 100 in return. If I do this then that will happen.' No. From within I feel that I should do this. I must give. I have given nothing as yet, only to show to others I have given. When you do anything with your whole heart then know that your depth is now working on the Viśhuddhi. When you reach this stage then through you the benevolence of mankind, the relationships with each other and universal brotherhood will be established.] [On Holi we should burn all those things which spoil our attention and damage the Āgñyā. Then this attention will clear out and we will celebrate Holi with joy and understanding. The day the complete combination of this will happen then on both Chakras the similarity will come. Then at Sahasrāra the question does not arise. But problems arise at Viśhuddhi where the two Nāḍīs cross and go up to Āgñyā and cross it. When your attention goes to Viśhuddhi, then you see the Shakti of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, Śhrī Rādhā who is Allahad Dayani, the giver of joy. Just by seeing Her people feel joyous. She is the Allahad Dayani Shakti which is in flowers, in children and it can awaken in you. Until the depth comes this Allahad Dāyinī Shakti will remain verbal. Think about the combination of these two. It is very important for us to get depth within and to give joy from that depth is equally important.] Eternal blessings.

[Shri Mataji talks in English:] I am sorry I had to speak in this language and... ah there are some Sahaja Yogis from abroad. I wish I could speak the whole lecture in English language.

But only think I told them that this is Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's leelā that he started after Śhrī Rāma's Maryādās 371.....

.....

So today is the day to joy but enjoy from your heart everything.

May God bless you.

[Additional Quotes (Hindi or English):] The mind is a joker. The secret of overcoming its stickiness is to keep your attention relaxed, joyful and also laugh at yourself.

When I see your pure feelings for each other, it gives Me the greatest joy.

Contents: 1991-03-04*, Public Program (Hindi), Noida, Uttar Pradesh, India

[SYNOPSIS!] [Truth is the Love of God. Love is Truth and Truth is Love. And it is knowledge. God is Love and He gives Love to everyone. He is Rahim, the compassionate. He is the ocean of compassion, the ocean of Love. In the ocean many types of animals live and the ocean does not have its own identity. If the moon pulls, it goes up or down with the tide. He has made the whole world and He has made humans. He has created you from an amoeba to the human stage. But His knowledge is the knowledge of love. He knows how to love. For us the knowledge of love is narrow and limited to possessiveness of our children, Dharma, work, village or country. When it grows a bit it is our village, little more, then it's our country. In this way the feelings of love remains limited and slightly selfish.] [God knows everything about us. What we are, our sorrows, depth and faults. Despite this He loves you, because He knows how to use this Power of Love. God's love has power and power is knowledge itself.

In human love there is no balance. A mother loves her children and spoils them. A husband will either listen to his wife and trouble other family members or listen to his family and trouble his wife. There is no understanding because there is no knowledge in his power of love. God's love knows you and what He wants to know He can know. Wherever His gaze and attention falls He knows. You have come to know on your Chakras, but He knows how to make them alright. His method is so beautiful and sweet that to understand it we must open our heart. Like Shabari's berries. Shabari was a low caste, a Bhilani. She was an old woman with broken teeth. When Śhrī Rāma was coming she plucked these berries and tasted each one to offer the sweet ones to Śhrī Rāma. When she gave them to Śhrī Rāma, he felt her love and ate them.

Śhrī Sītā also ate them. Though nobody eats food that is half eaten by others. But he ate the half eaten berries of a low caste woman. Lakshman was very annoyed. He thought that this was very disrespectful of Shabari. When Sītā offered him the berries he reluctantly took them and his anger subsided.

So how God tries to uplift man by these small acts. Human beings can be uplifted through the vibrations of love and nothing else. If you stand with a whip and order everyone to get up at four in the morning, bathe, stand up on the head, do this or that, it won't work. Only God knows how to make each person alright.] [To understand God we have to first put our ego to one side. When a man catches the disease of ego then the first thing that he gets is anger. `I wanted this to happen and that did not happen.' When the ego bloats up then God takes the knowledge of love and uses it in such a way that the ego subsides. Only God knows the cure. He will do it in such a way that you will get alright. A man cannot see the reality due to the ego so he runs after falsehood.

Someone asked Me why people run after false Gurus, when these Gurus take money, deceive the disciple and their disciples gain nothing from them. The reason is that the disciples are full of ego and the Gurus also pamper their ego. For example they have made money so they will have twenty Rolls-Royce. There is no love. Their power is money. Especially in America every thing runs or money. They run after money and cannot understand God's love. But people with money cannot sleep in the night; they have no peace. Their children get spoilt. They have money but their society is not alright. Till a man does not stand in Dharma he will not be able to bear the burden of money. A person should first have Nirvajya (unselfish) Love for himself. He should think that I have been given money then how should I utilize it so that I am benefitted in the real sense. What sort of work should I do by which I get Puṇyas (merits).] [In the Kingdom of God money doesn't work. God doesn't understand money. It is because of money that man has left Dharma and does various acts which will make humanity ashamed. Such a man gets respect only for a few days. In reality only a genuine person is respected who has

Dharma and love. Like even today the oil lamp is lit on the grave of a saint who lived at the time of Akbar. Even now, a days one hears of such people whose lives were clean, beautiful and pure.] [Our wish should be that we become pure. Because God's love is extremely clean and pure. If you are standing in Truth or speaking the Truth, then God who is the support of that truth, will Himself lift you up. He will save such a person. The rise and fall of Saddam and the way he lost face is the work of God. By this people will understand what's wrong with fundamentalism and fanaticism. We should give up this blindness. The fault lies because they organized everything. The ones who believe in living work, their organization is of love. It is love by which all work is done. God's people are looking after you, helping you, giving you joy and making you understand. Now you should become absolutely sure. One act of love is that it guides you to the right path. The one who did not come got left behind. Rajneesh had twenty five Rolls-Royces. When he died, in half an hour they hurriedly cremated him in the nearest crematorium. What respect did he get? This is what will happen to all these false Gurus. What happened to Hitler, Mussolini, will happen to such people because God has a hand in it. Also it is a reminder to us what happens when we go their way. We should go in such a way that when we die, our body should emit fragrance. On our graves a light may burn forever. May people come and bow their heads there. This can happen only with love. There is no selfishness, smallness, or strings in that love. By saying that you give up `Moha' (attachment), it will not go. Everyday they read the Gītā, but there is no effect. They are exactly like they were. Transformation will happen only when you get Self-realisation. The Truth which is written about in the scriptures can only be verified in the light of the Spirit.] [The Shakti that awakens in you is the power of Love. If a person after coming to Sahaja Yoga does not learn how to love then he is not a Sahaja Yogi. Love is the power of forgiveness. The first sign of a Sahaja Yogi is that he is loving. When I go shopping I buy things only with the feeling that I am buying for others. These material things are there only so that you can show your love through them. How one can show love by small acts Śhrī Rāma showed by eating the berries of a Bhilani. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa used to go to the house of a slave woman's son Vidura. He never ate the sumptuous food of Duryodhana's house.] [The sign of a Sahaja Yogi is to respect love and Truth. When a person loves he slowly becomes pure.

All the attachments, greed etc. get destroyed. A person has attachment because there is no selfless love in him. He gets pride because he thinks I have become a very big man. A person who thinks like this is mad. But when he loves he never thinks that he is bigger than another. With love a person starts knowing each one very finely. He knows his wants. What will keep the other happy. When this Divine Love starts flowing through you, then you start knowing and feeling that you have known all the people since thousands of years. When you get that love in your Ātmā and become satisfied only then this can happen to you. All the satisfaction is in that love. Human beings give the worst things as gifts and keep the best for themselves. The cheapest for others and the best for themselves. But when a Sahaja Yogi is entrenched in his position then he becomes a king and stops cribbing and crying for minor things. He becomes engrossed in the joy and love of the Spirit.] [This love gives us joy. It keeps pouring down from all directions. Then there is nothing left to be sad about. We get fully convinced that God loves us and we are His elder children. Then there is no worry or problems. Everything is just happening, getting done and you will be amazed how it happened. `I never even asked God, never even desired in my heart and God game me.' Afterwards one will understand that `I needed it at that time, but it had not entered my mind' it entered God's mind. How does He know such subtle things? Each particle of His love becomes vibrations and spread everywhere. They know everything, understand and act according to God's love. The all pervading Nature is also His love. We call it Ritambara Pragñyā. i.e. Shakti by which the seasons change. Pragñyā means `Pra' means enlightened, conscious. `Gna' means knowledge. All these beautiful different coloured flowers, sceneries, clouds in the sky changing every moment and each day we see one more beautiful scene than the other is the Ritambara Pragñyā. That is the Param-Chaitanya. What is this power that changes the seasons? Sometimes the sky is filled with clouds: sometimes the heat comes and sometimes such a beautiful picture is painted in the skies. Then sometimes all the leaves fall. If the leaves do not fall then how will the earth get nitrogen? That's why the leaves must fall and the sun's rays must reach the earth. Nature is surrendered to all things. Even the animals live in an orderly way in the jungle. Where a lion is seated, not even a bird makes noise. The lion also does not eat an animal daily. Only once in fifteen days or a month he kills one animal. Then is a proper manner he will eat first, followed by his children and then one by one other animals. Lastly the crow and then the vultures. The whole creation is in the bondage of God. That is why it is called Pashu or bonded. It is moving comfortably, but has no knowledge because it is bondage.

But humans have all freedom. Freedom was given because you are going to get the higher freedom and you should know it. But afterwards you lose that freedom in the same way as creation lost it. You come into bondage of God in full awareness that it is His bondage. You get the experience and comfort of joy like a child hiding in its mother's veil.] [After knowledge comes surrender. Such a surrender takes you to that state which is full of love. Kashish, the longing or pull is also a thing that goes on tying that love. In that longing, a person experiences love even more. Like if you feel pain anywhere and if someone caresses that part, you get relief. We remember that relief more than when anyone just caresses like that. Longing makes a person go very deep. That is why those who remembered God, had devotion and Longing for Him, kept trying to find Him. You may follow any path, commit any ins, it doesn't matter because He is the ocean of Love. He will definitely give you a place in His heart. He will pull you towards Himself, because He also respects Love. In Sahaja Yoga first of all learn to love each other. If someone complains against others I feel great pain. But if someone praises another

Sahaja Yogi I feel very joyful. One should not see the faults of others. By seeing the good qualities of others our own good qualities will increase. As soon as we see the faults of others their faults enter into us. When someone complains to Me about someone I say that he was praising you a lot. Next time I see then hugging each other.] [So fill yourself with love and understanding. Fill love in your sight, in your life. It is a very powerful thing to love someone. This power comes from within. You cannot understand the blessings and joy giving powers of this Love. If you do anything with Love for someone, then forget about it. If you remember then may be you might have problems. Enjoy the joy of loving but without any purpose. Love only for Love's sake. That is Divine Love.] [What I have said today of Love is blessed. Give this love to others with such a heart by which the whole world may know that the Sahaja Yogis are Prem Yogis.] [May God bless you.]

Contents: 1991-03-21 Birthday Pūjā and Śhrī Mahāvīra Jayanti (Hindi), Mumbai, India

I feel overwhelmed by the celebration on My birthday. The greatness of Śhrī Gaṇeśha is that he considered his mother even higher than all the Gods and was immersed in her service; that is why he received all the Siddhis. My love for you is natural. Every mother loves her children and sacrifices for them. She expects nothing from them, But every worldly mother wants that her child is of moral character, pure mind and that he should progress and earn name, fame and money. But I am the spiritual Mother and I have no desire. Without desiring all works are getting done. I had thought My children will be of extremely moral character, clean natured, generous, hardworking, emancipating the whole world, very God-like and great Gurus; that they will go all over the world and will work hard for the upliftment of mankind.

So that I am seeing; though in some it is less and some more. I am also seeing how much artistic and fond of arts you have become and also expert in them. You have also become expert in Sahaja Yoga and did not feel any difficulty in spreading Sahaja Yoga because you are blessed. No other saints got such blessings. In fact they were troubled a lot.

You have many Shaktis within you. You must know Shaktis and utilize them fully. Just as a machine which is not used rots away. These Shaktis have awoken in you and in some Sahaja Yogis their manifestation is much more and it has been working also. For this firstly we must look at our own selves, that what we are doing for Sahaja Yoga. From morning to night you think of `my children,' `my house', etc. Are you only looking at your `mine' or do you see anything else? You should see how your Mother even at this age travels so much, does so much work. The least we can do is to go to our neighbours, or city and tell about Sahaja Yoga.

You have come into the Kingdom of God. Like in politics, a person gets elected from a particular constituency and he comes to the Lok Sabha. He gets all the privileges and facilities of the Lok Sabha.

But he has the responsibility of his constituency. He must look after it and develop it. Similarly, think that you too have come from a constituency. You have very easily gained all these Shaktis.

So now you should look after, increase and develop those Shaktis. If you will not do this then these Shaktis will get lost and the people whom you could help through your powers, will be left as incomplete and half-baked.

Till you do not increase your powers, your depth will only be to a certain level. There are many people who sing beautifully, they should spread Sahaja Yoga through their music. There are many abilities which people have but they utilize them in their homes or maybe on a Sahaja Yoga platform. People who speak very well should not only stay in their cities where others have heard them over and over again. They should go to other towns and spread Sahaja Yoga.

You must understand that as much as you have to spread on the outside, you also have to go deep.

On the outside you will meet all kinds of people who will throw challenges at you. You should tell them directly. `Do you want your Kuṇḍalinī awakened or not?' If they scream and shout you should tell them their Viśhuddhi will get spoilt and one can get a new type of disease.

So speak to them with a lot of understanding and caution. Day and night you must think of Sahaja Yoga.

When I was born, there was darkness all around. I thought how would I tell the people and how to give them realisation. Then I felt I must awaken them en-mass. I saw the Chakras of the people, their permutations and combinations. I felt if they came into collectivity then they will all get their realisation.

I used to put My thoughts within in My attention (Chitta) and see how the Kuṇḍalinī can be awakened.

You should learn to put your thoughts in your attention (Chitta). Like you put a program into a computer. We Sahaja Yogis are like a computer. You can feed a program and it become active. But the computer must be also bold and clear. If it is spoilt it won't work.

So you have to make yourself absolutely clean and pure.

The greatest event was that Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma was established and since five to six years has been growing and people are fully involved in it. People are understanding that all the old religions have merged into this new Religion. People who were roaming the temples and mosques are now fully settled in this new Dharma and are trying very hard to establish the Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma within themselves.

The essence (tattwa) of all religions is here and a person understands that all the essences are of one Dharma. They are fully absorbed mad established here. Then a new awareness comes to us. Other people will support any Dharma and, run after it like and people though there is no Dharma in them. Those people are different and we are different from them. By coming to this Dharma our ego vanished, our bad feelings went and our blind faith finished because this is the religion of Light, Love and Shakti. Without the Shakti nothing is done. When there is love in this power then it will never do anything that is against the law of the Divine. It works itself because this Shakti has knowledge and love and works with full awareness.

Those people who have come to Sahaja Yoga and become accomplished through this Shakti, have attained the knowledge, are people who are extremely humble, gentle and very sweet. This happens when a person introspects within himself and sees what he was and what he has become.

When a mother gives birth to a child, she always thinks of the welfare of the child. She desires that no discomfort and harm comes to her child. When you think some times I have done this wrong or that sin then a feeling of worthlessness comes. You must understand that you have not done any wrong or sin that I cannot forgive. You have to make your life special so you must look at yourself with respect. Just to say `I believe in Shri Mataji' or wear My badge or tell everyone that you went to meet Her, or kept Her photo is not enough. You should at least imbibe some of the qualities of your Mother. What have you done for it? What sacrifices have you made? Just to believe in someone will not work it out. For example if you go to see the Governor and tell him `I believe in you,' will he let you enter? When you believe in someone means that person is an ideal for you. Then you must bring those ideals into your own life.

Now many quarrels and superficialities have finished. You have become more loving and joyful. Still I feel that you have still not understood one thing. You are still too busy with your own work, you have no time for Sahaja Yoga. You must have a very deep desire to give what you have gained in Sahaja Yoga. if you have become a great writer poet, musician etc, then your desire should be to give to others. Not that how much money or fame you can earn out of it. The Pure Desire should come. First is the desire that `Mother give me Self-realisation.' Then the Pure Desire comes. `Mother, I want to give to others.' This is a very strong feeling within that I want to make others Self-realised. Such a person has a burning desire to help others. And this burning desire to do good to others creates that attraction and love. In the same way there should be a burning desire to spread Sahaja Yoga, but in a proper manner.

I have granted the permission and left you to fully spread Sahaja Yoga, specially in the villages. I request all the city dwellers to go to the villages. You must spread My message there. You can go on weekends. You can decide among yourselves how many will go to this village and how many to the other village. In this way a new dimension will come to your Kuṇḍalinī and just as the rays of the sun flow, vibrations will flow from you. But for this there should be the strong desire to give. It is not possible for Me to cure everyone but once you start, you will become powerful. You can cure them. On this day I give you all My Blessings. I am your Mother and My children are very sweet and may you all live and may you emancipate the whole world. This is My blessing to you.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-03-25 Śhrī Rāma Pūjā (Hindi), Kolkata, India

[SYNOPSIS!] [Śhrī Rāma occupies a very important place on our Chakras. If there is some dearth of love or duty then these Chakras catch. Śhrī Rāma had come as a complete human being. He was made to forget that he was the incarnation of Viṣhṇu. In Sahaja Yoga whatever deity we believe in and pray to, the qualities of that deity awaken within us. Rāma was Purushottam.] Śhrī Rāma held public opinion above everything else. If a politician understood this then he would leave selfishness. He thinks that by ruling his fellow being, he would achieve joy. When he has power he surrenders his own spirit to retain his power. He wants others to obey him and bow down to him than to their spirit. Then he uses political status to make money and make money to achieve political power. Because of this perplex state socially our country has been degraded. [SYNOPSIS Variant: If the politicians become realised Souls, we will have benevolent leaders who will understand the politics of the collective. They will see what's wrong where and what has to be corrected.] [His one great quality was that while he ruled he respected the public opinion. If our politicians of today understand this then they will leave selfishness. They will become selfless, devoted to Dharma. No one today has tried to adopt the values Śhrī Rāma set. They will sing his devotional songs, make big organizations and temples in his name, but by making all these, will Śhrī Rāma awaken in you? Will his light enter your lives? Only the Sahaja Yogis can do this, that Śhrī Rāma who resides within you can be brought into the light of your attention.] [Any woman who believes in Rāma should also have the same respect and trust in her husband as Sītājī had for Śhrī Rāma. In the same way a man should also be faithful to his wife and respect her. To respect the public wish, He left the same Sītā for whom he had toiled and fought wars. He left her because people should not doubt the king. People are suspicious of women who have been captured and released. Sītā was sākṣhāt Mahālakṣhmī and was blemishless like a Devī, pure and clean. Throughout their lives there was complete trust and the ideal behaviour towards each other. When he left Sītā, she thought that it is his duty and she never criticised him.] [The twin children of Śhrī Rāma were called Lay and Kush. They came as the embodiment of the Bhakta [devotee] in this world. They are the disciple principle. By this we become the disciple of someone.

At a very young age they learnt how to use the bow and arrow and they knew the Rāmāyaṇa by heart which they used to sing. They also gained expertise in music. They were completely surrendered to their mother. They were even ready to fight with Śhrī Rāma for their mother. They thought their mother as the highest thing in the universe and their mother also felt her greatest duty was to bring up her children, support them, stand in the cause of Dharma. The women of today keep crying that `my husband has left me.' But when they are with their husbands then they keep on fighting. `If he has left me, then doesn't matter. I have my children. I have to look after them, I must not do anything by which their holistic growth is stopped.'] [Sītājī's special characteristic was her bravery and courage. Every woman should imbibe this, if you get separated from your husband then you should not destroy yourself or your children. Your prime duty is towards your children. You should remain firm in that prime duty.] [Śhrī Rāma's life was extremely pure and clean. He sacrificed everything for his wife. When his wife was exiled he left all worldly comforts. He used to sleep on the kusa grass on the floor. He was barefoot and wore clothes like a Sannyāsī. In India there were many people who led a very high life and never thought or did petty things. After seeing all these great ideas somehow a deceitfulness came into us; though we believe in Rāma and sing his bhajans but it ends there. In countries where there are no such great ideals, people try hard to become ideals themselves. They want to make themselves alright.] [If Śhrī Rāma is in us then why does his light not come into our attention? Why can't we get it? Why should we not try to gain that state in which Śhrī Rāma came on this earth? A Sahaja Yogi should think that if we become like Śhrī Rāma then the dirty politics will finish in our country. All our misfortunes will go the day a Sahaja Yogi gets it in his heart to be like Śhrī Rāma. He used to rule his kingdom with desirelessness and non-attachment. All types of good conduct came to people. All the time he thought how the people may get Dharma, education, progress and great ideals. He kept striving for this all the time and that is why he made his life an ideal one. For example if a man who is telling you something is himself not like that then you cannot have faith in him. Lots of people say that I believe in so and so but they are completely opposite from their ideals. The politicians say they believe in Śhrī Rāma, but they are the biggest thieves; or they will have several wives. Then how do they believe in Rāma?] [What is the duty of a Sahaja Yogi? That we should bring the light of these Devatās in our lives.

One should look at everything in the same way as Śhrī Rāma. If such a problem arose what would Śhrī Rāma have done, or Sītājī have done? What would have been their behaviour? If a woman thinks like Sītājī then she will become a Gṛuhalakṣhmī. Sītājī took many births and one of them was as Fātima who is the Gṛuhalakṣhmī. She used to stay in the house, in purdah. But that Shakti carried out the entire work of Dharma. You too can stay in the house and do this work. You have your children, relative, friends. Spread Sahaja Yoga among them. But first it must come within you. Your behaviour must set the example.] [For a pure character and behaviour the first thing is affection and love. When Sītā lived in the jungles with her husband she never complained like modern women that my husband doesn't earn anything or doesn't do this or that. This was not bought, that is not right. She thought he is in the jungle so I am in the jungle. What he eats I eat. When Śhrī Rāma and Lakshman have eaten only then I will eat. The women now, a days think that they are under a lot of pressure if they are told to eat later. The woman is like Mother Earth. The earth has so much power that she can absorb a lot of pressure and she is giving fruits and flowers to the whole world. In the same way we women are like the Prithvi Tattwa. We have so much power that we can absorb many things and yet shower love from within. This power God has given us. For example, is the fan more powerful or the source from where the power to drive the fan comes? If one thinks, `I see the fan and I see it moving so it is more powerful,' then it is wrong. The woman is the ocean of power and through that only a man is able to work. Like the potential and the kinetic. The woman is the potential and man is the kinetic. But if a woman starts running just because a man can run more. She needs to sit, not run. Both acts are different and both have to be balanced in that act. In both actions women can grow. When need arises a woman can work even more than a man.] [In Maharashtra we had the example of Rani Tarabai, a seventeen year old girl, the younger daughterin law of Shivaji. When everyone was dismayed and defeated by Aurangzeb, she defeated him and made his grave in Aurangabad. You can understand that when a woman fully absorbs her power then she is very powerful and terrific. But if she uselessly dissipates her powers by fighting, arguing, criticising, absurd behaviour and silliness then all her powers get destroyed.

A woman is so powerful that she can, if she wants, work much more than a man. But first she has to respect her power, by being humble, modest, dignified, understanding and compassionate. Like men may abuse and when they quarrel they may even beat up someone. Women will never do that. The work of a woman is to bring peace, give protection, like a shield. The shield cannot do the work of a sword.

But is the shield greater or a sword? The shield is bigger, because the shield can bear the striking of the sword. The sword will break but not the shield. A woman has to settle down in her innate power, Shakti.

Modesty is the greatest axis of that Shakti within, absorb it and settle down in it.] [This work is not difficult in Sahaja Yoga. Many women in Sahaja Yoga go on talking rubbish among the men. There is no need to talk too much with men. What's the use of jabbering so much? Men have learnt everything about Sahaja Yoga. Women should also learn what are the Chakras, how to put them right etc. They must have full knowledge of it, otherwise they will get left behind.] [Śhrī Rāma is the ideal before us. In this respect Muslims in India have not been the ideals. Though in Saudi Arabia or Riyadh, no Muslim will ever look at a woman. If a woman crosses the road they will stop the car immediately. They respect the women. But in India there has been an opposite effect, Men think that the women are for their pleasure only. They will keep ogling at every woman. To keep looking at every woman is a great sin. If you do this your eyes will get spoilt. In Sahaja Yoga even greater harm can come. You could go blind. When the eyes keep roving then the greatest harm comes to your Chitta [attention]. Your attention is moving here and there and getting unsteady. If it is unsteady then what's the use of Self-realisation. If the attention will not be one-pointed and steady it cannot work. Only a one pointed attention works. One-pointedness should be made practical. In the West, the men and women suffer from the roving eye a lot. Western Sahaja Yogis asked how they should keep their attention alright.

I told them you only look at the Mother Earth while walking and not more than three feet above the ground. That way you will only see children, flowers and nature.] [In this way you can control your attention. You should explain to your wife that you are the Shakti and I respect you, but you have to become worthy of it. `Where the woman is worshipped, there reside the Gods.' But she must be worthy of being worshipped. Who will worship a dirty or wicked woman.

One should understand that she is the mother of our children. If a husband gets angry with his wife in front of the children then they will never respect her. Even a wife should not insult her husband. If a woman learns how to deal with her husband then there will never be any fights. It is very easy to deal with your husbands because they are like children, innocent. You cannot do so by bothering them with useless things. They should also be forgiven like you forgive children. When they go out in the world they have to cope with the world, tensions, fights etc. If they don't get angry with their wives then who else can they take it out on? So what if he gets angry. If these kind of feelings are not there towards the husband then one cannot have love and joy with each other.] [The husband should also give thought to the needs of his wife. It should not be that just because she is the wife he tells some thing wrong to her. If he gives a wrong suggestion then the wife must tell her husband that it is wrong. But do not fight on petty matters. This type of behaviour does not befit Sahaja Yogis at all. I am telling the whole world to live with love and I see that two Sahaja Yogis cannot live together with love. Firstly a husband should be completely vigilant to his wife. You must know that all the women of the world are like your mothers and sisters. If this does not happen in Sahaja Yoga then it will never happen. If a Sahaja Yogi cannot give up his old habits after coming to Sahaja Yoga then he can never be alright. If he gets alright a bit but not fully, then he is not a Sahaja Yogi, break of all relationship with him. If after coming to Sahaja Yoga one still has roving eyes and his attention is not steady then it is very wrong.] [The greatness of our Indian culture is the relationships of men and women which should be like a brother and sister. But in modern times this does not happen. A woman will start stupid talk with men or sit with them. There are men also who are like that, Womanizers. If they see a woman they will hang around. They have no self-respect. They think this is manliness. But firstly, the Purushottam, the best among men is Śhrī Rāma. He is the real man. If you believe in Śhrī Rāma then you must follow his ideals.

Otherwise in our country the children and women are also getting spoiled. Even then this is the speciality of Indian culture that women have controlled a lot. If they were like the American women then they would have put you right. If an American man has been married two or three times he roams around with a begging bowl. Whereas if a woman gets married two or three times she builds herself a mansion. Look at the society there, children run away from home. Indian woman have this speciality as they have been brought up the Indian way, that they look after their homes, husbands and children. Now it's changing; they are also wanting to equate themselves with their husbands. If he runs after ten women then they will run after fifteen men. He does dirty things so they will go to hell before him. The axis of Dharma is in the hands of women. The woman has to improve and bring her husband to the path of Dharma by making him understand. She must keep him with her.

This is her highest duty and Power. The greatest Dharma of Dharma is forgiveness. If a woman cannot forgive, then it is useless following any Dharma. She must forgive her children husband, servants and relations.] The kind of work I am doing even Śhrī Rāma, Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa or Christ did not do. If Rāma had seen that people had become womanizers, useless, without Dharma, then he would have killed them all. Kṛiṣhṇa would have thrown his Sudarshan Chakra. Christ would put them on the cross. Within the Mother the power of love is so great, that she uses this power to put things right. Her ways are so loving that the children do not mind. Only a mother knows how to scold. If a father scolds perhaps the children may mind. A mother's love is selfless. She wants nothing for herself. She only wants that her children get alright. `May they acquire all my virtues and powers.' If a mother thinks like this then the children will get alright. But some women are very forward, they want to put their foot into everything. Her husband will sit quietly and this lady will go on. If this happens then the children get spoiled. To such women destructive and emotional children are born.

A woman should stay in the background and a man in the forefront. She should help in the background.

She is the current of his Power. One should understand how Pure a woman should be, how much she should work hard. You will say that Shri Mataji always leaves everything on the woman. Because I know how powerful you are. I know we have many Shaktis because I am the Mother. See how all the deities, sages and saints left it on Me that I should give realisation to everyone. Many diseases got cured. Had any incarnation done this? One Ahilya was saved. Christ only put twenty one people right. I travel all over the world, put things right for everyone but I never feel it, as that Power is the Power of Love. That Power of Love runs before Me. When I see anyone suffering in pain, I immediately pull it within Myself. Love is the one that does everything. I don't feel bad. If there's pain and discomfort, doesn't matter. Let it happen. This only a mother can do. My special attention is on you that you work with steadiness and adjustment. Men should also help their wives completely, try to understand them, respect them. If both the wheels are not alike then the chariot will not move. Both must be alike but one on the left and one on the right. The left wheel will not fit the right side and vice versa. In this way these are two types of wheels rotating because they are similar and yet not similar.

[Śhrī Rāma did not only think of his wife, brothers, family or children; he thought of everyone; the society, his people and his kingdom. He showed by his entire behaviour how a person should be. A person who loved his wife so much and knew her purity yet left her. Now a days they will make this or that for their wife but not a penny to the poor. When Śhrī Rāma could give up his wife who was a Goddess, then we should think about our attachments, my relations, my house etc. A husband should be firm with a negative wife. He should tell her to stop talking and running about and be quiet. `You are no good, your Chakras are not alright.' Only then she will get alright. Even after coming to Sahaja Yoga some of our subtle defects get stuck.] [On the day of Rām Naumi we should specially think of Śhrī Hanumān. How Śhrī Hanumān was the servant of Śhrī Rāma. How he used to be lost in his service because he knew how fruitful it would be.

We should imbibe his temperament. You should learn from Hanumān what is service and earnestness in service. If you want to do service for Me then do the service of Sahaja Yoga. How many people did you give realisation? If a person comes to a program you get after him that he has a bhoot inside and he runs away. What is your work? It is Sahaja Yoga. Awakening the Kuṇḍalinī and giving realisation to people.

To bring peace and love to them. Telling them about the Chakras etc. Explaining to them what they need to know. It does not mean you start a lecture.

Some of the Sahaja Yogis give lectures for two hours.

If you hold any programs then show only My videos and audios. After that people can write questions on a paper. Answer these questions and after that give realisation. Tell them next time if you have any problems, bring them. Help them with their illness or problems. If you wear My badge but cannot cure anyone then you should remove it. You cannot even put yourself right. I have given everyone the power to cure themselves. You should learn how to master it. Nothing is going to happen to you. You won't get sick or anything. The more people work for Sahaja Yoga, the deeper they will go. Like a tree, the more it spreads, the deeper the roots go.] [There is a difference between Sahaja Yoga and other incarnations. They had not given spirituality en masse to society. These powers had not been given to society. One or two had got it. Like Rāja Janaka gave realisation to Nachiketa. But now you all have these Shaktis.] [Now increase them in such a way that you need nothing else. Make your health and mind alright and cure others too. Understand Sahaja Yoga. Everything is with you.] [Only through Śhrī Rām can we change our thoughts and habits because he is an ideal for us. Only after your each his ideal can you reach other ideals because he is the ideal. for human beings. It is such a great thing that God came as a human on this earth, that he became an ideal for us, bore all pain and suffering just to show us that whatever calamity or suffering comes we should not leave our Dharma. We should not leave the Universal Dharma and we should keep ourselves tied to Sahaja Yoga.] [May God bless you.] [Additional comments:] [Shri Mataji advised the Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi to introduce Rām Rājya in the country (India). She urged him to protect the dignity of women. They were not getting the same wages as men. A woman's stridhan (ornaments received by a woman from her parents or husband) is her only security and should be exempt from wealth tax. Battered women should be given protection. Women who are stranded for job or money d go to the wife after divorce.]

Contents: 1991-03-26 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Transit Lounge, Airport, Singapore

[A birthday card drawn by one of the Sahaja Yogis was presented to Mother. Shri Mataji remarked that Her face has been drawn rather large, making Her look like Narasimha. She said that Her birthday had been celebrated in Delhi, Bombay (Mumbai), Calcutta (Kolkata) and now in Singapore also. She hoped that the Australians also don't have yet another birthday celebration. Otherwise, She joked:] I'll grow very old very fast.

[Shri Mataji said that for Her birthday Pūjā in Bombay, flowers had been received from every country and that She had enjoyed them very much, She mentioned that one of the biggest bouquets was from Malaysia. She said:] All the flowers in Bombay [Mumbai] must have been exhausted.

[While working on a Sikh family who had been harmed by false Gurus from India, Mother remarked:] India is the place that has given birth to the most Rākshasas.

[She said that the Guru Granth Sahib was written by realised Souls and yet these false Gurus have managed to use verses from this book to spread their bhoots.]

Contents: 1991-03-27 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Welcome Talk, Collective House, Applecross (near Perth), WA, Australia

[During Ār.ti outside the main door, the lades do not stop when Shri Mataji puts Her hand up to stop them as the leader did not notice the hand and keeps asking them to continue doing Ār.ti. Eventually they spill oil on the right side of the sarī. Inside Shri Mataji cleans the sarī with talcum powder and a clean tea towel.]... And if you get what you call, say you get wax, if you get the wax, you know what you have to do is to use some ice, it comes out.

[MISSING.] This afternoon went really very nicely, because I gave them the whole thing. I said, “I don't know what is inside it. It's for a Pūjā somebody has given Me. Let us see what it is." [MISSING.] “But if you open it, it's all right. You can see for yourself." [MISSING.] They're sending their children for teaching them now to India, for us to teach them Indian art and Indian culture.

[MISSING.]... give it to all the artists who are here, who are singing.

So we gave to the artists.

[MISSING.] So, it was quite interesting the way it all ended up. But they were so happy, the artists, that they got this. Because no house could have accommodated. Then I gave with him also to all Sahaja Yogis and all that,... was saying, “Mother, I hope, we hope that the ganas won't trouble us. With this [UNCLEAR flower...]." I said, “No, no, no, no..." I tell you, the whole of Bombay [Mumbai] must have been there, all the flowers. We had a huge crowd, very huge crowd. They had to take a play ground, this time for My birthday. Put them on the stage background. Such a huge crowd, you can't believe it. Must be one, ten thousand people are there.

And Sahaja Yogis arrived later. The guests arrived earlier. [Laughter.] So we had a Pūjā in the morning.

[UNCLEAR]. Rām Navami. I spoke about Rām Navami. [UNCLEAR] the police [UNCLEAR].

[GAP] Mahāvīra will be the best topic.

[Pause.] [Conversation in Hindi.] See, when they started using TM I knew it was something wrong there. After all if you, TM means what? You know actually today, I discovered more things, that these people had come and there were a couple of husband and wife and a young girl and they told Me about they have some Gurus, Harbhajan Singh and Amar Singh and all that people round the world. And what surprised Me was that these three, three of them were so badly caught up and they were so sick and they went to the doctors and everybody and nobody could cure them. They got cured just in no time when I was there at the airport, but the main part is that when they mesmerize people.

So these people are coming as Sikhs and mesmerizing all the people and that's why all these Sikhs are fighting each other and from Punjab, you see. All these terrorists are all Sikhs and they are all mesmerized.

So what they are doing they have no idea. Because I was wondering how can they kill innocent children, innocent people? Even Sikh people they are killing.

Whosoever there comes in their way they are killing! That means there is some sort of a possession and that possession is this that these Gurus have put in. This one called Amar Singh. He comes to Perth also before Me and all these Sikh communities have been harmed by that. Very bad thing.

Really, it can't be explained, but now I understand why these people like mad are killing so many in Punjab. There are mesmerized killings. And they take lot of money, they told Me today. They take lot of money for this Harbhajan Singh. There is another one they told Me, Amar Singh and they have got all the and they are minting money.

They are all possessed people. See, they go away to these Gurus, need to go to Gurus. Now I will tell you, there is one Bhajan Singh from America, one Harbhajan Singh from Patiala and one Amar Singh.

They called themselves as saints and they come here and put bhoots into them. Just give them mantras and do things and take money and do some sort of Pūjās, some rituals. Tāntrikas, must be these Tāntrikas.

Those may not be accepted. They will pick up things like this, like these people are picking and those who are accepting them must be becoming really terrorist. Openly.

Christian Group? Can you imagine Christian group? But they should be all exposed. This is the point. They have so many illegal things, like they told Me that this man, Amar Singh, has illegal passports.

So I said, “To what countries?" Basically, he is an Indian, but Indians cannot have two passports and he has five six passports, they were telling Me.

So I said, “Then why don't you report?" They said, “If we report he will kill us." [UNCLEAR] is a Mafiā.

Recently I read a book about Vatican connection.

So Two billion dollars of these securities, of course, illegally they printed. Can you imagine, counterfeit? Two billion dollars Vatican. With the help of the Mafiā, Mafiā leader. Such a big book reads like a novel. One inspector of police got after them and he found it out. How can he explain? In the name of God do all these things. They are not afraid of God at all.

[Shri Mataji cleaning sarī and talks about sarī.] This I bought. My granddaughter liked it [UNCLEAR] for an old woman.

I wanted to show you a very wonderful thing. Let's have the birthday cake. I didn't eat at all in the morning. How many birthday? And then in Singapore they all came and wished Me Happy Birthday. The Chinese are great, I must say. Once they take to Sahaja Yoga, they are so serious.

Sahaja Yogi: New people coming in Malaysia.

Shri Mataji: Malaysia is doing very well. Very serious people. It was not a holiday. Last time we had about thirty-five or so. This time also we had, I think, thirty-three.

I just wanted to show you something really miraculous. You see, My eyes are funny. I forgot I can [UNCLEAR read without]. You see, we had in Ganapatipule the birthday of Christ, Me sitting here and a Swastika came out like that, also a kind of a Om and there is a little light and Mother Mary. They appear in your vibrations normally, except for Gaṇeśha appeared fully. And have a look of this.

So He was there and this should happen only when it was the birthday of Christ we celebrated.

Also there were other photographs where vibrations came out from My face, but this one was remarkable.

And one photograph has come in the sky of My feet. You see, My feet have a little equal to a roundish angle and in fact there is the photograph of Christ and also of Shiva, but you turn it around. It looks like the one William Blake has made of the sun exactly.

So clear-cut isn't it? Absolutely.

One photograph has come out recently with a complete, My face is very small like that and a complete Chakra, complete, huge big light. I mean, such a strong light starting from here like that Śhrī Chakra complete. The face is so small and the thing is so big, tremendous light. And another one has somehow lots of My hands and things and also the, what you call, the weapons. One of them is the stick of the Guru also there hanging in the air. Gave Me a hunter. Also gave Me a stick, you see. That is seen so clearly. It's in the sky hanging there. These photographs are something. Only some people get it as you said that there is a gap of time because there is a photograph of this Gaṇeśha standing behind Me.

So many have taken photographs. Only one boy got it at the most and another one got it partly because I think it was out of focus. One got the full and one got the part of it.

[A Sahaja Yogi comments something just like the famous series and the rays of light.] Last Sahasrāra Pūjā photographs also were very remarkable. That suddenly the lights, where there were lights, you see, but suddenly new lights appeared and the lights started taking forms.

So the first form and from the light there were some small little string-like lights going and the lights first wrote `Allā'.

It was the second, they wrote My name of Mine from the other side and they were as if on to these little strings.

All kinds of things. All things are done by Shiva, I think, trying to convince you. And the horoscope they gave to a very famous man called Bhandari in Delhi. He has come out with such things that you won't believe, rather extraordinary. I mean, it's horrible. He said that all these people, he has made the horoscopes of all the Incarnations right from Rāma, Kṛiṣhṇa, Christ and all. He said they were all `anshaj'...

[Asks for English word for `anshaj' from a Sahaja Yogi.] Sahaja Yogi [prompts]: Part.

... part. They are a little part, but I am a total, according to the and he is a very famous astrologer.

So I told him, “You just have to keep quiet." I will have some tea, wanted to bring some tea but I thought, these Customs. He removed everything, will show you with all the things how he sat down and removed everything. They were offering Me that, “Please have some dinner." I said, “No, no, I'm not going to have any dinner."... the whole thing was absolutely.

It started here from the very beginning. You see, it's full of vibrations. But you see, I don't know what is the law in America; I don't know. Do they allow you to use the ag? But you see, these Indians don't touch the food, but Americans are more sensitive. Food-wise they are not very good, but other things they know. If you see the list of things, you'll be shocked. Nothing of, nothing of this, nothing of that, dead or alive.

No, but the other day I was reading an article and also a book I read that there is no parasite which does not, that does not exist in Australia. All types of worms, you know, this time, like booze, are nowhere in the world. I think Australians [UNCLEAR are to be fed/ought to be scared].

I knew that it would happen, but with a little authority you have, people go off. They can't bear. They don't have that much capacity to bear, because if they want they can send it to India. See, why not send it to Russia as a measure of courtesy and democracy? Never think about these things, demono-cracy, yes.

What is the party here now?

Sahaja Yogi: Labor Party.

Shri Mataji: Labor Party is there is...

Sahaja Yogi: Not a traditional labor party.

Shri Mataji: It's hypocrisy they are not labors. That's what I was telling you, that the English still have maintained certain standards.

Sahaja Yogi: The Labor Party here is more liberal than the Liberal Party.

Shri Mataji: Which is the other party, Labor and what else?

Sahaja Yogi: Liberal, agricultural side.

Shri Mataji: The so-called Labor; that's why.

Sahaja Yogi: It's a very strange Labor Party because the traditional areas in the community which Labor looks after, they haven't done anything for them at all. In fact, they make life difficult for them.

Shri Mataji: Actually they are, basically I think Australians are farmers. They are farmers.

So there should be a farmer's party, much better and a Labor Party. Everywhere there is exploitation. In the name of politics everywhere there is exploitation. But actually, if you have very good bureaucracy in Madras [Chennai], but if the bureaucracy is also corrupt everywhere. Many people have been asking Me whether they should join any party and stand for election. I said, “Election you forget. You can join any party you like." I have seen that Sahaja Yoga doesn't enter into politics because you have to become, because, you see, this is how they are effective because they are there. Good people have to be in the politics.

Otherwise, all this kind of Mafiā everywhere.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, if good people go into politics, they don't remain good.

Shri Mataji: I think they are all good people, because My father was in the politics. First he sacrificed a lot for the country. Then he became the member of the Constituent Assembly of the Constitution, then of the Parliament. He was for the Central Assembly, then the Constituent Assembly, then the Parliament.

They were very different type of people, so concerned, so much worried of. In Constitution they made sitting down and arguing and trying to find out. They made our Constitution for England. They called for England. But once that generation has gone, all these devils have come up, one better than the other.

So the value system is so shattered in India, so shattered that unbelievable. It is shattered unbelievably.

My husband was collector long time back. We never even heard, I mean, it never even came on our ears anywhere that the collector could be corrupt. No question. Even deputy collector won't be. But now not only the collector, the Commissioner, the Minister, the Prime Minister, everybody is corrupt, openly.

This time when they appointed the Prime Minister, Chandra Shekhar, there were sixty people who were to be won over.

So this Sharad Pawar went with the money and each person was given one crore of rupees.

So it comes to hundred thousand. All right, then this Rajiv Gandhi who supported this Chandra Shekhar, this is very interesting, so people got after Sharad Pawar that he is against Rajiv Gandhi he should be thrown out. And they Rajiv Gandhi said, “All right, whatever the high command says, we'll have." This is very interesting how things worked out. They said it is Rajiv Gandhi who started joke and then when he came to the end of it, he said Sharad Pawar said, not Rajiv Gandhi says, “I will not worry of that high command." They said that Rajiv Gandhi took hundred crores, hundred crores of rupees from Sharad Pawar to maintain his seat as Chief Minister. And the whole thing puzzled out, you see, all this high command and all that and this fellow is still there. To maintain his seat he paid hundred crore. Now from where does that money come? Only from Maharashtra and why will they remove poverty? Also because they can purchase the person for five rupees each, so why will they do? It's logic.

There is no concern. There is no feeling, nothing. There is a very funny type of politics when you don't have any concern.

Sahaja Yogi: The politics of money.

Shri Mataji: Yeah, but if in Sahaja Yoga also we have that kind of thing, then we cannot say of mishap some of them are there. There also I find there is no concern, very selfish, self-centered. They come to Sahaja Yoga all right for their own emancipation and then suddenly they slip off. Even Warren is suffering from some horrible disease. His wife has written to Me. I said, `All right. Later we will talk." I am sorry for this, what happened last time with his [UNCLEAR girl/girlfriend] but we all had to pay for it.

Sahaja Yogi: Sahaja Yoga got rid of before we got there.

Shri Mataji: Yeah, he said, “You give me yours. You give me yours." We gave. Then he said, “Walk right through." So we said, “We have to walk straight through like where? Here? He looks like this, he looks like that."

Sahaja Yogi: This is not fair. [UNCLEAR]. [Laughter.]

Sahaja Yogi: I will never forget coming into Paris last year. Only ivory from America, a big suitcase of Gregoire's, full of ivory and I thought, “Oh." Well, I had to carry it because all other people from America were late. The suitcase was full and I also had some in my own case.

So what am I going to say? Because it's, I mean, it's prohibited to import and when I got to Paris there was a strike. I spent a lot of time on the plane saying, “What am I going to say?"

Shri Mataji: They said, “We want to give You something for the Navarātri tomorrow." I said, “Now what?" “A flower pot which looks like kumba." It was so expensive. I said, “No, no, nothing doing. Get it from India." Then I went to New York. Suddenly it came to My head, “Let's go and see ivory." There is where you get ivory. Gregoire was with us.

So I just walked, walked, walked. He said, “Where are we going?" I said, “Come along, come along, come along." He said, “Do you know this?" I said, “No, I have never been here before." And I just turned around and I said, “Now it's here." And there we got and he gave us for forty percent less and was so anxious to part with it because nothing was selling. He gave us ivory also very cheap.

So they said, “No, no, this is very much cheaper." Told them it is much cheaper in London and we are not going to take. He first came. They never brought it. Now what to do? Now Navarātri Pūjā is in Switzerland, now horrible Customs in Switzerland. All these things arrived there.

So the Customs said, “What is this?" “All these have got these ivory things in it." Ivory was supposed not to be imported, you know, closed case boxes that they have.

So they said, “All right, you can remove the cases and see for yourself." Then they removed the thing and they saw the whole thing. It was so beautiful. They had glazed statues and they were shocked, you see and they said, “What now? What now? Take it. Fifty pounds you pay. Take it, the whole thing, for fifty pounds." To think of it, you know. Not a single pie. I mean, then I give up because I always said [UNCLEAR].

So then I went to Greece. They told Me, “Mother, you must get something made of clay for this Gaṇeśha Pūjā." So while going on the road from the airport just felt the vibration. I said, “Let's go [UNCLEAR round/down].

Something on the other side, maybe." We went and saw, you have seen that, oh ho ho, it's like one piece is sometimes for fifty pounds, hundred pounds and he was so happy somebody had come to buy that. “Oh, my God, please buy this junk. It has been there for twenty years." For twenty years, real gold and he said, “People nowadays modern don't like this." He said, “I'll give you for forty percent, fifty percent, whatever you say. You take it." And the original price was something so low twenty years back. He said, “You'll have to take the whole lot." I mean, the whole lot was not much in the sense, but the price is.

So we purchased that and then on the way we saw one. We wanted to buy some lamps for the Diwali Pūjā, for home.

So they saw some lamps.

So we stopped the car, went inside the shop and the prices were like 1,000, 2,000, 3,000. We just went around and found out from where it is. It was written the card, `Padua'. Padua is somewhere in there in Italy.

So I sent word to someone, to find out where this Padua is. Can you imagine? He wrote back saying, “Mother, there is Pūjā.

There is in Padua. How she knows?" Have you seen those, My tremendous thing, you know and that gentleman was so happy with these guys. I was surprised why he's so happy that we're here. Of course, it's a very expensive thing. He said, “You see, my, all my things were going to Riyadh and to Kuwait, but now because of war we are stranded and you take." So then I start now, you see, I don't know. I said, “Now, I'm not going to select anything for Me. No presents” but doesn't you see how it explains? Last but not the least is this Shiva Pūjā. I said, “Now you give Me everything. Shiva doesn't need anything. You don't give to Shiva this, that." “Mother, we'll not, I, we'll do this." I said, “All right. Let's go and buy some paintings." So we went to, there was a small little painting, a serious thing how vibrations were. A small little round painting. They said 120 pounds.

I said, “Wah wah, such a little painting and that is 120 pounds." I said, “Nothing doing. Nobody is going to give Me any painting. You can give Me paints at the most." He said, “There's a factory. Let's go there." So I asked him, “You don't have any more paintings?" He said, “No, we have paintings." We went upstairs to see the paintings. Same thing was for two pounds. Can you believe it? For two pounds, same thing.

So then he said, “Mother, now this is too much." Two pounds, which country will give for two pounds? I said, “Why are you bent upon spending more money?" He said, “No, Mother, two pounds. Which country will give two pounds?" I was also wondering. Nobody will give like that. I said, “It's all right; compromise.

You like something better, no one nice painting I like." He said, “You see, this is nothing, my brother.

This is the copy of the antique. My brother has a complete antique shop within London. Would you like to buy that?" We said, “Why not?" Went down. Really, if you see those paintings you won't believe. All those painting we bought for, I think, about seven, eight thousand, all of them and one of them will cost you nothing short of sixteen thousand in London, even one. No wonder they were so cheap. They said, “Now, Mother, what do you say?" I said, “Baba, I give up." From one shop to the other he directed us.

Such beautiful, all beautiful things, one better than the other. I mean, somehow or the other, luckily for ourselves it worked out. Then you have to keep quiet about it.

Now we, I told Hugo that I said every time we come we have to go to the Embassy. He said, “Mother, why not we try for [UNCLEAR]?" They got it.

So we said, “Now we must have a house." So he said, “All right, we'll find out." When I went there, what do I find? A big, huge castle. “Mother, for the amount you said, this castle is available. Are you interested?" I said, “Of course. I mean, it's much better to have a castle. Anybody can come and stay. We can have Pūjā." So we are now buying a castle there. I was thinking for a four bedroom house that will come with that amount and here is a huge, huge big castle with all kinds of land and everything. Unbelievable, I tell you.

[UNCLEAR]. [Laughter.] But, you see, you must know at least they have much money, but we never had. It's all worked out.

If you have too much money also, that's a headache and people get confused. It's better to have as much as you need, not too much, because ours is not a big house. And God provides you with whatever you want. Look at these things happen. I know this is one of the, these things are very low material level. The way people describe, the way they get things worked out and so I told Phil, “I'm fed up of listening from everyone. Why don't you make a book?" So he said, “Both the sides I have got the papers up to my head like this. Now see, Mother, what to write I have no..." So, I mean, in every way people are helped. In education so many of our students have got first class first. Children have got first class first. I mean, just see.

It's amazing how they are passing and I asked them, how do they manage? “Mother, whatever we read came in the exam, exactly the same." So you see, the whole, this working is coming from this Parabrahma. This is become totally, you see in the interval between the Kali Yuga and the Sat Yuga, there is an interval and in that interval it becomes active. But this time it has become so active from every angle, whatever you say, it happens whatever is said. Only thing is that sometimes if somebody troubles Me, then it is a pity. That's what I am worried about.

So, you see, everything is working out. Just see two days before you get the house. How do you get? It's a very common occurrence, very common. He was telling Me, “Mother, we don't have a [UNCLEAR]." He said, “Mother there is big problems with a man who is a..." [Aside remarks about lunch items; Marathi and English mixed.] So I told Hugo, “Try to keep a watch on the advertisement." When I went there he told Me, “Mother, there are two houses have been advertised and see that one and see that and if you say yes then we'll buy." I said, “But I am going away to Rome tomorrow. Tomorrow is our flight." So he said, “Then later on we will see” and all that. And the flight was cancelled and they said, “You can go the next day." I said, “Hugo, this is the chance. Let us go and see the ashrams." And I got the second day flight and went.

In one day we bought such a big place. There are two big ashrams and two small houses and there is lot of land.

This time I have to make one humble request that don't take too many things and don't get [UNCLEAR] because this time when I went to Delhi they all got into the mood of cooking for Me and every day they cooked sixty-four dishes, nothing short of fifty-six. Sixty-four or fifty-six dishes both the times and I was with Sadhana and Sadhana said, “Table is not enough. Let us put it on the carpet." And I had put on more than twelve pounds. I told these Delhi wallas, “You make sandwiches. The next time if you are going to cook anything, I am not coming." They all got a fright. And the amount they would put in the, “Specially I got it for you. I brought it for you." I said, “Baba-re-babe." With such love and with such affection.

So I had to please them and in that there is too much really. How many eggs? Only two, huh? So did you tell them that this time we are going to start our tour from Madras [Chennai], not from Bombay [Mumbai]? From Madras [Chennai], then we are going to Bangalore. You have not seen Madras [Chennai]. It's a very interesting place, very artistic, beautiful place there and the memory places are also very nice, beautiful temples. This kanjivaram silk sarī is made from a temple there called Kanjipuram.

Then from there we are going to Bangalore. That's another interesting place. And from Bangalore we are going to go to Hyderabad. It has a very famous museum, Sālar Jung, where this little chair of a doll and a chair for an elephant, all are there.

So it's another interesting place, Hyderabad. From Hyderabad we go to Pune, Pune to Kolhapur and then to Ganapatipule and all this journey now we are not going to go by that horrible buses, those horrible buses and those horrible roads. We will go by train. If you all like you can go trekking.

Rajesh told Me, “Get them, Mother, luxury buses." So I told Vidoo and Szpiro. I said, “Now Rajesh is saying, `You get them luxury buses.' We should get rid of the buses." They said, “No, no, no, we just want those buses. You will miss the Maharashtra roads. And you enter into any place, they say, `We welcome you with great love.' Whole body is completely finished with the amount of jostling we have to go through and then they say, `We welcome you' !" This pottery you have here? This pottery is from here, Australia. Australians don't make this kind any more, isn't it? More abstract? I was telling him that I have heard that your art is very much exported and it has gone seventy-two percent more now, export of your art to America, to Japan and to Germany.

You know that? Good idea.

Nowadays they are busy rebuilding Kuwait and also rebuilding this Saddam's place Iraq and that's how they are borrowing lots of money from all over the world.

So they said, “They will be paying lots of interest rates to people. I have to put money in the bank." I said, “Who has got the money in the bank nowadays?" It's such, such a destruction, horrible. I had said it in My lecture, if you remember. This was that now the only problem is fundamentalism and fanaticism. No political problem because of Gorbachev; only fundamentalism is there [UNCLEAR] and suddenly Mister Saddam, you know, came up out rightly calculating. He thought these people might have passed a resolution at the most.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR]. A lot of people had to end up fighting him were the people who were selling him the arms.

Shri Mataji: That's the best part. They all Germans, you see, French, English, Americans. But Americans, that's the best part of it that the Americans gave them Naval head. It's actually used it against American Navy and the bunker he made was done by the Germans and Germans said, “We cannot catch him because we made this [UNCLEAR]." Such stupid people. I mean, when you see all this you just think how much wiser we are and sane people, compared to them. One better than the other. English also. Why did they think? Anybody could see why do they need all these things from every country. Why didn't they think?

Sahaja Yogi: The big question is why the Saddam Hussain need the fourth largest Army in the world? Who is he protecting himself from?

Shri Mataji: Why did they think?

Sahaja Yogi: Money.

Shri Mataji: Money is the thing that closes their eyes, just close their eyes. There is no wisdom of these people. First of all, why to make so many weapons in the tanks [UNCLEAR], why to produce all these things, that's one thing and then to sell it to somebody like Mister Saddam as if he was a great sort of a exponent or some sort of Greek God or something. He was the one who had killed so many people beforehand with chemical weapons. Why to give to such an indiscreet person? You see, in this world people who are really, absolutely cruel and Rakshi type of people who are at the helm of affairs and we Sahaja Yogis have to learn now that we are people something much above them. We never heard this news in India, you know, that Saddam is killing his own people. Did you hear that in India? You never heard it, huh? We never heard it.

Sahaja Yogi: When he first came to power he killed six hundred people, political people of the country that could have been a threat.

Shri Mataji: Every time you find a new type of a personality, we have to now worry. We have to concern ourselves, as people who are speaking of emancipation of human beings, that such people are coming up and there is always a danger anybody can come up like that.

He was buying some big channel that time they stopped, that time it came into their head they caught him. That means he must have been planning all these things for long. [Marathi.] [Sahaja Yogi talks about immigration problems.] [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Show them the bangles. This was given to Me in the Pūjā, you see, `Śhankha'. This is what you call shell. Tomorrow they might say take off your teeth because it's made of hair brush, not able to decide whether it is wooden or not, thought if it was wooden then we are finished. What a joke it is [UNCLEAR]. Sandalwood is all right? We had sandalwood oil, but that also you got it there?

Sahaja Yogi:... “Have you been on a farm?" And he had a pair of shoes. “Have you got the shoes which you were wearing when you were on the farm?" “Yes, yes, I got it in a plastic bag." They were looking [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: But you know I did that exactly. I kept this packet. I don't know what it is. That's why I can't say what it is. Now I leave it to you to open and see for yourself what it is.

So he gave Me at the airport, “This is for the Pūjā, Mother. I don't know what it is.

So you open." Then he opens and there are some sticks there. But how is it sandalwood they don't say?

Sahaja Yogi: Probably sandalwood does not have any infection in it.

Shri Mataji: Not all the woods have.

So many like rosewood doesn't have. Then ebony doesn't have.

Also what you call the Burma sticks we call doesn't have. Also the Chinār never has. Then birth, birch doesn't have. There is another tree, is the one called Jojoba, never has. It has oil in it. Doesn't have and olive oil, some olive thing it does not have. I mean, anything eucalyptus oil comes from there. You see, another one we have in India that also doesn't have.

So except for very few, must be the ones which we call as the raw ones, like maybe mango, maybe mango, because it doesn't have any oil in it. But even the Neem has oil. Neem has such a qualities you don't know. It is such a good thing for the skin. I cured a burn in three days, completely cleared out. Hands, face everything. He says, `Mother, such a miraculous thing” and he knows about it, three days and he had it for years. But I said this only grows in India.

You see nowhere else.

Sahaja Yogi: I heard the other day that there is one of the people in Australia tried to bring Neem to grow Neem here.

Shri Mataji: Why not? If you vibrate it you can. You can grow anything anywhere. Now I am growing olives in My Pratishthan. They said, “You cannot grow tulips." Tulips are there, everything.

Whatever I said, everything is growing in Pratishthan. But this Neem, how can they send you this?

Sahaja Yogi: It was a commercial thing actually, it was the [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Yeah, any number. They grow very fast. They are absolutely very easy to grow. But I don't know.

So why not you people ask permission to grow Neem tree? [Marathi.] In Shirdi, SaiNath used to sit under the Neem tree.

So half of the tree has got absolutely sweet leaves.

They are never sweet. They are very bitter. That's a good idea. Even to bring gheru, it was so difficult.

So I didn't bring any gheru. But you can't bring gheru as a medicine, can't you? As an Ayurvedic medicine? But in Italy it is so. Even in England, only Australia, but America doesn't have any wood business.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Reptiles, crocodiles, I mean, who is going to bring them alive here? Reptiles, dead or alive. You don't have snakes, do you? You have, you have cobras. Then you should bring some cobras.

They can't be that venomous. Achcha! Spiders? They are scorpions or spiders? [Marathi.]

Sahaja Yogi: Spiders are really harmful to children.

Shri Mataji: And bees. What about bees? Are there in Austria, Africa? You have them here? There's a sort of a, it bites. Visitor fly or something. You don't have? Thank God.

Sahaja Yogi: We seem to have one very dangerous species, an octopus, very small and you find it on the beach.

Shri Mataji: Octopus cause bleeding? My God!

Sahaja Yogi: And sea snakes.

Shri Mataji: They don't bite...

Sahaja Yogi: Only in October.

Shri Mataji: Achcha! It's surprising in India; these things do not harm you at all. You can bring any amount of goods. Anything you bring to India. I mean, the way you walk through the Customs, as long as you are on the back and even if somebody comes alone. This time I landed in Delhi and I had a dinner set which I bought for My daughter. Oh, poor thing, she doesn't have any dinner set and all My dinner sets are packed up in Pratishthan.

So I thought she should have one, because if anybody coming to her house for dinner. She wanted something like a very big...

So we bought that, put it on the plane, because already have a very heavy weight, they say.

So they put it on the plane.

So we arrived in Delhi. And who came with Me I don't know.

So there is one Mister Dutta who comes to the, he must have received you also when you went to Delhi. He was supposed to be there.

So we carried that heavy stuff outside. Still we're waiting for Mister Dutta to come to receive.

So I went down to see if Mister Dutta was anywhere.

So I said, “Now this is going to be troublesome, because if the Customs, they get into their heads, they'll get after you. They will make you open everything and all that." Suddenly one gentleman came and touched My feet. I said, “Who are you?" He said, “I am a Customs officer." I said, “Now see, I have got one dinner set and I have some." “So what, Mother? We are all your servants. I am not yours. What is that Dutta is the only one you can go and what about us? Why not give us some Puṇyas?" I said, “Look at this one." Started looking at him. I said, “All right, there are some things kept there." He went and brought it. Then he said, “I have to make humble request." I said, “What?" “My boss is sitting in the office. He wants to meet you." I said, “For what?" Very anxiously. He said he had come back. “All right, let's go and see the boss." The boss says that, “I am sorry I have called you. I should not have one that it is not proper, but I want to have my realisation." [UNCLEAR]. Custom boss.

So I said, “Now there's no question of being worried about this Customs." So I gave him realisation. Now he has joined Sahaja Yoga. That's how we are now out of trouble when we are in Delhi. Bombay [Mumbai] is out of question. We don't have any trouble with Bombay [Mumbai]. First of all, you see, I saw one man came and said, “Too many standing on one side." That surprised Me first of all and he was the one standing there again, you see, the way he said, “Now where is that? What is that?" Oh, that declaration. Then I gave one and I thought, “Now he's going to say, `Now just go ahead that side. That sardarji is there. Now you walk right through.' " I said, “Why?" Then he tells Me that, “Mother” he is saying, “You walk through that exit." I said, “Are you sure?" See, I was wondering, you see, this side, that side and how we really walked through three of us. But he was saying all the way, “This time there won't be anything." But from the very beginning he has that, you see. He came and told us, “Stand here." Customs are Customs.

[Marathi.] These are all from the Pūjā of Rām Navami. They said Rāma was born at 12 o'clock.

So we should not finish the Pūjā before 12 o'clock. I said, “Very nice. Tomorrow I have to fly out." Pūjā is something, I must say. They all came. All the foreigners who were in Delhi came all the way to Calcutta [Kolkata].

They came from all around, from Bihar, from Orissa and from Assam, from Delhi, from everywhere, from Madras [Chennai], for this Pūjā. Poor things, they worked very hard, you know and they were extremely generous. Anybody suffering from anything, they will first catch it, take it out. Nobody has given us permission to do that.

So now what should I say? Good morning, good night, whatever. I think I better sleep for a while.

Contents: 1991-03-27*, Public Program, Reach the Point We Can Know the Absolute, Perth, WA, Australia [Introduction by Steve Taylor.]

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

At the very outset we have to know that Truth is what it is. We cannot conceptualise it, we cannot organize it, also we cannot know it at the stage we are that is the human awareness. We have to become something subtler, something higher to know the Truth. And to know the Truth you cannot pay for it. It exists. Only our evolutionary process has brought us to the human level and we have to know that yet we have not know the Absolute Truth.

.....

Contents: 1991-03-28 Śhrī Mahāvīra Pūjā, Gidgegannup, Darling Ranges (45 kms NE of Perth), WA, Australia

Today we are going to celebrate the birthday of Mahāvīra.

Mahāvīra is the incarnation of Bhairavanath, or you call Him as Saint Michael. Now these two saints as you know one as the Gabriel, Hanumāna and another is Saint Michael. One is placed on the Piñgalā Nāḍī and another one, Saint Michael, on the Iḍā Nāḍī.

So, Mahāvīra had to go through lots of search. Of course He was a angel, but came as human being and He had to find out the thing of the left side and how the left side acts. It's a very complicated thing, left side, is much more complicated than right side. On the left side we have also seven Nāḍīs and these seven Nāḍīs are placed one after another. They are described in books and given different names to them.

Now these seven Nāḍīs that are on the left side, as you know, they cater to our past. Say for example, every moment becomes a past. Every present becomes a past. Then we have past of this lifetime and also we have past of our previous lives. Then all the past is built in within us since our creation.

So all the psychosomatic diseases, as you know, are only triggered by the entities that appear from the left side. For a person, supposing he is suffering, say, from liver trouble and suddenly he's attacked from the left side, specially Mūlādhāra, or any left side, left Nābhī, because Mūlādhāra is the only one that is connected with the left side, Iḍā Nāḍī and the right side PiñgalāNāḍī is connected with Swādhiṣhṭhāna.

So the problems of Mūlādhāra are really beyond the reach of human beings and when it is attacked, any one of these Chakras on the left hand side, then psychosomatic diseases occur into human beings. As I have told you many a times, now this is the center, this is the another center, left and right, they are on top of each other. And using the right side too much, goes up to a point and suddenly something happens on the left, triggers.

So all diseases, say even diabetes, is due to the psychosomatic effect. A person who is very hard-working, thinks too much, very right-sided, suddenly something happens, maybe also he might inherit that diabetes because of the past and it triggers and you get this psychosomatic problem. Now this psychosomatic problem is only cured if you know what's the problem of the left side is.

So Mahāvīra went quite deep on to the left side. Why I said it's difficult the left side is, because when you start moving on the left side the movement becomes linear of course, but it moves downward, while the movement on the right side moves upward.

So the movement goes down like that and then it coils up, forms coils and you go on moving with it so you are lost in the coil. But the other one moves upward and the coils are not so many and because it is upward it's easy to get out of it.

So those people who go to the left, by any chance, by thinking too much about their past, crying about themselves and always complaining, are more difficult than the people on the right side. But the right side people are troublesome to others, while the left side people are troublesome to themselves. That's how this left side was to be found out properly, was done by Mahāvīra.

Of course He knew also, I think, all about it.

So He has mentioned practically, in details, lots of things that can happen to a person who goes to the left side. He gave the idea of hell. He also described seven types of hell. I mean it's so horrible that I don't want to tell you what is hell is, horrifyingly cruel, horrifyingly joyless and horrifyingly so repulsive that you hate yourself when you understand you have committed this mistake, you have committed this pap, this sin; and then what is the result, what you get, the punishment part. Mahāvīra worked it out everything, He has given in all details what sort of punishment is due to a human being who tries to be left-sided. Also He has given about the person who is right-sided, but not to that extent because He had to deal with the combination, but mostly with the left side. As I have told many people before and here also I perhaps maybe, that there is a soul that is made out of the causal bodies of all the five elements.

The causal, say for example, of the earth is fragrance.

So this soul which is made of the five causal bodies and your centers, plus we can say, also it has got the control over the parasympathetic, it sits on the spinal cord from outside and activates the parasympathetic nervous system.

So it has a connection with every center. Now this is the soul when we die, with the Kuṇḍalinī and our Spirit goes into the sky and it is the soul that guides now the movement of our being, whatever is left now into a new being and that's how it works out.

So everything that we have done so far is recorded in that soul. When you were asking Me, “Mother, we see some sort of round, round things, you see, lying together. What is that?" I told you this is our, this is a dead soul. And now they have found out what I have told them. Because, you see, when a person dies his soul shows you, like even now you can see, round, round things: there could be many, there could be one, a string and they saw it under a microscope when I told them, that the soul within us is reflected on the cell, which is the reflector of every cell.

So the part of the cell which is the reflector, which is placed on one side of the cell also has this soul reflected and the main soul which is on the back controls that reflected soul which looks after every cell.

Now they have found out that there is in that reflector this kind of seven loops, seven loops because it sits on the eight, seven Chakras and the Mūlādhāra. Now what He found out that, when people die then some of the souls are born again just after few days and these people are just very ordinary type of people, that's how He brought in a kind of category.

So they are, the people who have died, they are of a category, one category, where they exist for a very short time in the collective subconscious and then they take their rebirth. They are very ordinary people, aimless, useless people. But there are some souls when they die, they just hang in the air and they are just waiting to find out somebody who will fulfil their desires which are not yet fulfilled. Like there's a drunkard and a drunkard, can join another human being who's living, who would like to drink.

So once he starts getting this...

So once it starts getting into the habit of drinking, some of these souls can just jump on that person and when they jump on that person they can make him a real drunkard. I remember of a lady who was a very short, petite person, came from Cuba, in America when I went first and she told Me that she's very sick of herself. And her husband told Me that she can take one whisky bottle, full, neat sometimes. Looked at her, such a little thing. I said “How can she do it?" So, I put a bandhan on her and I saw a huge big Negro standing behind her.

So I said, “Do you know some Negro?" Immediately she jumped on Me. She said, “Mother, You see that one? You see that one, that's the one drinks, not me." Of course I cured her and after that she gave up drinking completely.

So whenever you start getting into a habit in a bad way, you lose complete control of yourself and a spirit sits on you and it controls you. And when it controls you, you do not know how to get rid of any habit. That's why it's difficult to get rid of habits. Now in Sahaja Yoga when the Kuṇḍalinī rises what happens that these spirits, these dead spirits leave you and you become all right and you give up. That's how it works. I would say that all this Mahāvīra did not tell, nor did He find out all these things, because He was not a scientist, I think, or I don't know why.

But what he has talked about is the hell and He has said that if you do this kind of a thing in your lifetime, then what kind of a hell you'll get? And He has described the hell in a very, I should say, openly and in a very detailed manner. And it's really horrible to know that a human being who thinks well of himself, ultimately will get to that kind of a hell and some are permanently doomed to be there.

But, as incarnations take birth, also these devils, some of them who are completely doomed to live in hell, also take their birth and when they take their birth, they try to trouble us and they can take their birth, as you know, as our Gurus and things and everything is happening now. We find it how these people are taking their birth and how they're misleading us, how they're using the left Swādhiṣhṭhāna, or you can call it the left side, just to immobilize us completely.

So when a person is possessed, as you must have seen, a person gets possessed, he cannot feel vibrations, then all kinds of symptoms about such a person.

But in Sahaja Yoga, what do we do is to take the name of Mahāvīra because Mahāvīra runs all the way, all the way on the Iḍā Nāḍī and comes and stays here onto the, we can say, the point which is called our superego. And it sees, controls, works out, cleanses and does all that is required to put a person right after Sahaja Yoga.

So we have to be really very thankful to him for doing this kind of work, which is very filthy and dirty because these people don't mind even sitting in the bathroom, like that you can say, or sitting with everything and meditating. They can do anything. They're very dirty people, absolutely dirty [UNCLEAR]. When they become Tāntrikas, they try all kinds of dirty things and, with that, they actually create a problem between themselves and the God. Say they'll go to a temple of a Goddess and start misbehaving with a woman there, so the Goddess will disappear and, once the Goddess disappears in that area, they call all these bhoots from the left side.

So now we have all these souls, which are lying, hanging in the air trying to come back to a conscious thing and to possess someone. Plus these, we have these masters of the left side, who know how to catch hold of these people and put them on somebody or to remove from them someone and to put somebody else.

So it's a continuous process and this makes a person absolutely mad and good for nothing.

Now when we know all this, still we get caught up on the left side. Sahaja Yogis do get caught up.

That's why, I think, this Mahāvīra Jayanti is a very great thing for us to observe.

Now, why was He called Mahāvīra? Because only a person like Him, Vir means a person who is brave, who is chivalrous, because only He could do this, so only He could enter into the being fully and could kill or, you can say, destroy those horrible Rākshasas, devils, all these negative things that come to us.

Now, as you know, we use left side very much for so many negativity that is torturing us, but if there is no help, say, from Mahāvīra, we cannot do it. You call the name of Mahāvīra, you could call Him Saint Michael, you can call Him by any name, but Mahāvīra because He was a human being. All this works out because of Him and He's such a great identity. He Himself took a birth as a human being, difficult for saints to take birth as human being. Moreover, you see, the whole concept of hell and all that is described in any scripture is a fact, it exists and, if you try to go in there, you see, when I try to go there and to find out, I just go off to sleep, sort of thing. In My sleep I find out all the things that are happening about a person, how much he's caught up, what he's done. It's a, not an easy thing to do with the conscious mind. You have to take to the subconscious and you have to go into Sushupti in a deeper sleep to see what's happening in the left side. It's a very funny situation I think and for Sahaja Yogis also to enter in it, I would not advise it. But one should get rid of the problems of the left side with the help of Mahāvīra.

When this Chakra is caught up [shows Her superego], what you find is a big lump of bhoot coming out of the right side [of the brain], so you have take the name of Mahāvīra just to remove that pressure from the left side.

Now many people do not even know why they suffer. Why should they suffer, when they have done nothing wrong? Because they are possessed. Now even the viruses and all these things like psychosomatic troubles like cancer, all, I would say, the incurable diseases are there because we are triggered into the left side. That's why we are suffering from these diseases which are not curable.

So we have to thank really very much Mahāvīra, who has given us this power to remove our left-sided problems, who has given us this light in our hand, which He Himself vibrates and He Himself tries to throw some light on the obscure things about Me also. Because of Him only, we can get cured of so many physical and mental troubles.

You know that the left side can be easily cured if you use three-candle treatment. That shows Mahāvīra is only fond of light. He doesn't like darkness and His idea is, I think that way, is to now fully go all the way to clear the left side as far as possible, to help Sahaja Yoga to establish in countries where I find still lot of this negativity is there, a lot of it.

So He's working it out, everywhere and the psychosomatic diseases and all these diseases also, we can work it out with candlelight and all that, with three candles we can do this treatment.

So you have to be very thankful to Him that He has achieved this kind of entry into the left side and has found out for us what sort of problems exist on left side. It's such a nice thing that we have got today, the chance to celebrate His birthday here in a place which is really very much loved by Him.

Now, you may say that Mahāvīra is sometimes seen as a person who is naked.

So it happened that He had gone in a jungle to meditate and to find out about the left side and, when he got up, you see, He got caught up in one of the bushes and He had to torn off half part of that. When that half part was torn off, then, as He came out of those bushes and He was all right, but, at the same time, Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa appeared there on the scene as a little boy from a village and He said that “I'm a poor man." This little boy said, “I'm a poor person. I've nothing with me. You're a king. You can always get your clothes. Why don't you give me your, this half cloth that you have?" And they say so that it was given to this boy and He ran away. He was nobody else, but Śhrī Viṣhṇu. And this, you see, Viṣhṇu took away that cloth and He hardly for about two seconds or three seconds because He was a king, you see and He hid Himself with leaves and went to his palace and got dressed. But imagine the people, how negative they are. They just walk without clothes, Jainis. They have, you see, all kinds of taboos against all the worms, everything. It's said, these people have started, that if you do not respect these little, little animals, like, you can say a, even serpent or any animal which is troublesome and bad, but is a living thing, so it's to be preserved.

Now these Jains are mad. I told you that they have gone to such a limit of vegetarianism, that they try to save even the bugs, put the bugs in a hut and the hut has got a Brahmin there. Now these bugs suck the blood of this Brahmin and once the Brahmin is completely, I mean I should say, sucked in by these bugs, they fall on the ground. Then they allow the Brahmin to come out and they give him a lot of dakshina, means they give him money as a reward for helping the bugs to suck his blood. This kind of vegetarianism is there.

Beware of vegetarians. You see, even Hitler was a vegetarian, so you can imagine what sort of vegetarianism it is. All these fads of vegetarianism and all that are not at all required and that's what Mahāvīra showed in his life, that it is not at all important to bother about food, what they should eat. See, the whole theory of this vegetarianism has gone to such a nonsensical limits that I have told people that we should give up vegetarianism completely. Now, also see the juxtaposition of what he wanted to do. If you do not eat proteins, you cannot fight bhoots. A person who has bhoots in him must eat a lot of proteins, not carbohydrates, but proteins, so that it can fight those left-sided enemies. But here it is, they have to be vegetarians. Now imagine, they have left-sided enemies within them and they want to be vegetarians.

Finished. How will they fight it? So all, this is all we should say, is preplanned by the person who tries to sort of is, you can say like this, that, you see, a person, who tries to remove the, or we can say that the person who tries to make these lower animals live, rather than human beings, you see, they're oppressors, this is the stupid thing they do.

Must know that I cannot give Realisation to these worms and to these fishes or even to chickens.

We require human beings.

So all this has happened because of human beings going in juxtaposition of whatever is said. Like Christ has said, “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes” and I've yet to come across a Christian who is not a Sahaja Yogi, without adulterous eyes, whether it's a woman or a man.

So we go just the opposite of what we have been taught. In the case of same thing happened that Mahāvīra, what He tried to do was absolutely killed by these people who are trying to make this vegetarianism as a big religion.

Also another thing was that this vegetarianism came into Jainism through one fellow called Neminath who was a Tirthankar at the time of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. He was to be married. In those days they were married, not only but they were eating all kinds of meats and so many lambs and goats came for the wedding of this man so he felt that, uparati we call it, this: he didn't like it, he was disgusted, he was frustrated with that. With that frustration what did he do? He said, “I will not eat meat." And that's how vegetarianism started among Jainis. And that's how it's still going on and these Jainis I find are the joyless people, absolutely joyless. They're so much fond of money, they run after the money and they go on behaving in such a peculiar way that you can't understand, I mean they are human beings but the way they behave you can't understand them, they're not normal people.

So we realise that despite all that Mahāvīra worked out, still the people are supposed to be His disciples, they are Jains and they are like this.

So what we have to do now, is to understand that in Sahaja Yoga we'd better not do something of that kind. Whatever you are told, you have to understand why it is so. You know the modus operandi. You know each and everything about Sahaja Yoga. You know the whole subject, so it's not proper for you to, in any way, to succumb to any such arguments or any such big-big talks or big-big advertisement and take to something that is wrong. It's very important. We are Sahaja Yogis and we understand the balance.

Of course, I always say that Westerners, for example, maybe Australians also, should take more to carbohydrates because they eat lot of meat, so they can take to carbohydrates, but that doesn't mean vegetarianism by any chance. I mean, to compensate. And in India, I always say, they must take to more meats. It's good for them. But then, by no means, I say that you just eat meat and nothing else, but a balance has to be found out and once you strike it, then you'll be surprised that you feel so relaxed, so much better, so much enlightened and the vibrations will flow much better than normal.

So for food, you have to be careful. Same about with clothes. You shouldn't go mad after a suit all the time, whether it's hot or cold or indifferent. What you have to do is to wear something that will suit you. Now, for example, in a climate like this, you may require a suit or something to cover yourself, but supposing you are in Ganapatipule or someplace like that where it's not so cold or so hot, maybe it's dry, so what sort of dress you should wear which is comfortable, that should be found out and whatever you find out, like this is such a comfortable dress for us, you'd better do it. Because what I have seen in many, you see, it's a thing that, whenever I tell you something, don't take it to the extremes and don't take a little bit of it. But when I tell you this thing, you must understand that whatever is good for you, whatever is your temperament, whatever is aptitude, you have to take something that will nourish that, that will improve you and give you a balance.

So, to balance yourself, if you think of Mahāvīra, you must think also of Śhrī Hanumān. Both these things are important.

It's not easy to tell all about Mahāvīra in this short lecture, but I think I have quite connected Him now with Sahaj and you must have seen to it that how important He is and what an important role He plays.

So may God bless you.

Just start thinking about Mahāvīra, I just, it's impossible to keep into the conscious mind, it's just going into the left all the time because I just in the car thought that I'd better think about Mahāvīra and since then, it's all going towards the left. It's so difficult, but it will work out.

May God bless you! I thank God, terrible [UNCLEAR] thing this left side [UNCLEAR].

I think if you have any problems, you must ask Me also because this is the only time when we can talk about things. If you have any problems, you can ask Me about left side, how to correct it, how to work it out, anything. Please ask Me because you always get this problem...

Sahaja Yogini: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: What's this? [Sahaja Yogis explain the question to Shri Mataji.]

Shri Mataji: Now, heart, as I told you, is the reflection of God Almighty, which is the Spirit.

So we have two types of heart troubles, as I told you before also. One is when you have an overactive life, right-sided and the left-sided is the lethargic heart, where you get angina and all that. Now, in your case, your case where you feel there's something pricking you, that means it's a possession. If the hands are sort of pins and needles, then it's kind of possession. But it can be cleared out...

Any other question?

Sahaja Yogini: Could you say something about left Nābhī?

Shri Mataji: That's a different area though, left Nābhī comes from the relationship between a wife and a husband mostly. But a wife is a complaining type, is a very sort of all the time grudging, even nervous, bothers the husband, frightened and all sorts of things that they do. You see, just sometimes they do it just to trouble the husband, but sometimes basically they are very left-sided, possessed women and these possessed women give you this left Nābhī.

Any woman who feels this left Nābhī, she must immediately understand that there's some sort of a horrible thing in her being which has to go out.

So, for left Nābhī, you must take the three-candle treatment and try to respect your husband, try to be kind to him because these spirits can also dominate. You know, not that they can make you very sly, they can also dominate. They have a way of dominating.

So, in any case, it looks like, woman might look to be right-sided, but actually she's suffering from left Nābhī and she's extremely dominating. In the same way, if the husband is not a good man and he tortures the wife and she feels unhappy about it and she's sorry about it, then also she catches the left Nābhī.

So in both cases one has to understand that you get your joy, the source of joy is your self, your own Spirit. It doesn't depend on your husband or anyone. You are single that way.

So you shouldn't worry about your husband. You shouldn't think how he treats you. You shouldn't bother at all about him. But what you have to think is that `After all, I'm his wife. I should support him.

I should help him. Whatever way he is, let it be as he is because he won't get corrected if enough I tell him. The best thing is I better not tell him anything. Let him do whatever he likes.' And you clear out your left Nābhī with candle. That's the way...

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Why?... Now we should get the children to wash My feet.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: It's difficult, left side is still there.

You are not ready to come here, wash My feet, alright?
Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: You know all Gaṇeśh Stuti, or Atharva Shirsha.

Because Gaṇeśha is the one, you see, who's sitting on Mūlādhāra and it is He who is the one who puts you onto the left side. He throws you all the time. It is Mahāvīra who tries to save you and to correct you. See there are two forces working...

[Gaṇeśha Atharva Shirsha begins.] Take this. He says he has got the names of Bhairavanath, so it's very good.

So you can come and wash My hands, those who are leaders here. Leaders! Big joke about them! Somebody should come here to put all the things. Who can do it? Now what, somebody? One by one you can come and put the water in.

Just put the water. No, no, not the... You have to do it. Now, one by one, come along. First of all is the honey. Call him. Take that one. This other one.... We need you again.... Be careful. It should not touch your fingers... What is, this is clean?... I thought it was... From Melbourne, somebody can come... What is that? These are the Iḍā Nāḍī names. Unmarried girls. With this finger you do like that, on both the sides. Debbie, come and do it. Yes, it's all right. Just beyond that. Just put the line like that.

This side. It's to be done like this. And on the back. You then have to put it under My, on the sole. You can move all the things.

Are you doing on this side as well? Also down there. You have to complete as well. That's all done.

To the line, up to the line you have to do the same thing. Whole thing up there. Yes. All right. And more. Just to the line, you just do that. That's good. Still complete it. Yes, correct. Yes, that's it. I mean, whatever you've put, more of that. That's it. That's correct. Now, I mean, extra that you have on My fingers, on My toes, just take it out. Now, can you get some married ladies also? Too much. With your hands, take it out. That's better. Take this also. Be careful. Don't spoil the line. Don't spoil the line. This line you should not spoil. Yes, be careful. It's all right. There's so much to be done. There's a sarī here. Just wipe your hand on this... Now, what you can do is to get the sarī.

Brought the sarī? Take it down there. All right. Call one of them, who are other assisting, in front.

The girls have to sit here. Yes, this one... Give it to her, with a... You can take that coconut. Bangles.

You see, there are small and big because it's two and a half... Better let them come now. They have to come. You have to do the sarī. Now you have to organize these flowers, under My feet, but all the white under My feet, ones on the side...

So you put all the white and I'll put My feet afterwards. Now the light colours, like pink. Leaders... Namas-kār... May God bless you all. May God bless you. See how everything is quiet. Just before Ār.ti it started raining and now see... beautiful. All right. You take a photograph of My feet? Just leave this...

Contents: 1991-03-28 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, after Śhrī Mahāvīra Pūjā, Gidgegannup, Darling Ranges (45 kms NE of Perth), WA, Australia

Also we can take without the..., one of My body and face, because without the... You see, you don't have any, very few photographs without this.

I haven't seen any one of your recent photographs. And you are famous, all over the world! They call it as... Well done. Good. The rain's stopped, everything is all right. All Bhairava's work.

So, firstly we have to give the leaders, so just... Everything.

I can have it after lunch, not just now. I think first of all you get out the sarīs. What's that? Wah wah! Very good. You all have written the names, so I will see them Myself.

Who did that come from? All right. Who is Kabīr? All right. Tegan, who's that? Good. Anya, which one is she? Oh, she's done very nicely. Very good. And who's this one? Who has done this one? Justin.

Who is Justin? Thank you very much.

I think you'd better distribute the prasad. Wah wah!... Apron, apron. A beautiful one! Very sweet now. You see, when I'm cooking I can wear this one, all right? Very well done! What do you want Me to cook for you? Beautiful! All right.

First give those sweets and things and chocolates...

What's that? You made it? Good. Thank you.... From yoghurt?... Oh, beautiful! From where did you get them? From the beach? Beautiful, really very beautiful.

Beautifully made, eh? Very nice! She's an artist...

This is the kind of Gaṇeśha was standing behind Me. See that photograph? Exactly like that. You have seen it? Without seeing, you have done, great! You must see that photograph.

Oh, very sweet of you. Thank you very much, thank you. Thank you, Bhairava.... A little bit, eh?...

Thank you. Thank you....

You couldn't bear My purse, eh? Oh, what a purse! Is it made here? What a beauty! Beautiful, very good. Very artistic, eh?... Why did they use these colours? Most artistic, nature and all... What a beauty it is! Thank you very much. It's a special thing, called something special?... Thank you very much.

What are you doing, all the time giving presents to Me?... You have given Me eggs, this, that, now, what more? The purse is an idea, because it should help Me: in India they can paint all this, but they don't have ideas. You are very artistic people here, I must say, very artistic, because of the nature.

What's that? Oh! No wonder I wore a...! It's wonderful! Beautiful. You know how to choose present for the birthday of Christ! And what is this one is, porcelain? Plaster. We have to be careful. Better be careful. It's an old thing, is it? You can see the face. But maybe it's a porcelain? Be careful, I mean, you have to really. Beautifully done! See her cloth, the red and the blue; and see, I'm wearing the same combination. But you have to be a little careful of it, it's all right. Beautiful! The rain disappeared. I just meditated on it. I meditated for one minute and it disappeared. But this Bhairava is terrible, He would not allow Me to speak! Just pulling Me down. But I managed it. It's quite a nice lecture, you know. If it's taped give Me a copy and send it to her. Very good lecture. I've never spoken about Bhairavanath. Make a copy, it will be a good present. Before I go if you can give the copy, it will be a good idea.

And some chana also. Like children, I also love chana. And popcorn! They are all enjoying. You love popcorn only, do you? You don't like this? I think better distribute, otherwise it will be left out. You like chana? Give to children. Better take the cake around... No, this I don't eat, I'm sorry: it's rather sour, isn't it? For children, nothing's sour!... Beautiful!...

Einstein's theory... Boomerang... It's the theory of Einstein; you see, he has used this... According to him, the light doesn't travel in a straight line but... That's why it reflects. It boomerangs....

[A Sahaja Yogi asks about a cure for a possession.] It's some sort of a possession. Maybe you use the light. Light will help a lot. You've been to some Guru or someone?... Who said?... No, no, it can be removed with Sahaja Yoga, anything. It's not like permanently with Sahaja Yoga. Every kinds of curse can be removed, family or anything.

It's for a teenage girl, you see, this one! It's so beautiful.... Give it more to the children there. Take all the chana. They're the realised Souls now....

You wanted Me to talk about children and all that, is it, here? Should I say some few words? Everywhere I have to say, all right! So now we have talked about Bhairava and we have seen how negativity acts within us and how we get caught up.

So, I would say that we must always keep in mind that we have a soul and that soul can be attacked. It has been already attacked when, with all the kind of things we have had in these modern lives, it's already under attack. But now we have to cleanse it and put it right. If you really want to enjoy Sahaja Yoga and cleanse yourself, then you have to understand that we need lot of introspection, lot of introspection.

Now the people who are left-sided are sort of, they are not straightforward and they are sly and they talk ill about others. Last time I discovered that in Perth there was a lot of things people were talking and I wanted to remind you again that I heard about it; also that even now in Australia that kind of people are still there who just start at the back saying things. One person says something, another listens to it and it's very, very bad thing; because talking ill about others means you first of all get the ill within you. The second is that the way you propagate, you stop Divinity spreading out. Thirdly, you grow into negativity yourself and to whomsoever you talk, that person also gets infected. It's like a disease.

So I think in Australia throughout we have to be very careful because we have had two big somersaults, you can say, with big falling, because of this only. That secretly and this is a side, I would say, Australia is very left-sided, otherwise also because of Gaṇeśha's place. That's why Gaṇeśha was placed here, to save you and to put you right as far as the left side is concerned. And we have to be very cautious because that temperament develops, you know, depend on. Like also it is in England quite a lot, but say not in America, say not in Austria, not in Russia, Germany: they are on the contrary, open and they can be aggressive, but they are not sly.

So either you are aggressive or you are sly. Accordingly you must find out within yourself what's wrong with you and where are we wrong. Because after all we are Sahaja Yogis, it's a great chance we have got that we have got our realisation and that now we have reached a stage where we really are placed in the Kingdom of God. But now how far you go into it depends only on you.

Now Russia, why we were successful, because people are very introspective. If you read any book of Russian writers like Tolstoy or anyone, anything they do, say even when they fall in love or anything, immediately they start introspecting, `Why, why am I falling in love? Why this happening to me? Why I'm thinking like that? Why I'm doing like that?' You see, they introspect and that introspection if we do not have within ourselves, then what happens that we can go either to the right or to the left.

But in this country I see it's more the left side: sly things are there. Now how all this has happened that we had some horrible leaders, agreed and instead of talking about it or telling Me about it, they all just started talking among themselves and all that. And they got all their bad qualities sort of combined within themselves and that's how so many lost their vibrations and lost their, what should I say, the, the searching power.

So, when you see a person or anyone who is doing wrong, better is to forget about it. Or if you don't forget, then you should write to Me. Even if you don't do that, better go and talk to that person on his face that `I think this is not right.' But if you write to Me it can be solved, the problem can be solved.

Say now, you have one Mr. X as your leader or anybody here who is coming say, from New Zealand, or someone from outside. Immediately you should find out, are you critical of him? What are you looking at that person?

What are you trying to find out about that person? If you are critical, then know that you can never progress. You should be critical about yourself, not about others. Know that you are most imperfect, that's the best way.

Like we had a child about nine year old and he was extremely sly type and he was talking ill like this of this person to that person and he would go and just jump onto someone and hit someone, secretly, not openly.

So I called the child and I asked him, “What do you think of yourself? Do you think you are the most perfect person?" He said, “Yes, I do." I said, “That's it. It's finished." Such a person cannot improve.

So when you try to find faults with others, know that we have too many faults ourselves. Not to feel guilty, of course, that point is there also. You should never feel guilty about it. If you have faults, just see, `What faults do I have? How will I correct? What Chakras I am catching?' Instead of seeing the Chakras of others if you see your own, then you'll become purified, you'll be very clean, you'll be wonderful; everything will be fine. But if you cannot see your own faults, that means you haven't yet got your Self-realisation. `Self-realisation' means to know about your Self and this, the last time I did say all these things here in Perth and also otherwise, that if you talk about somebody like that to spread stories.

Ladies specially should be careful because they are on the left, they have to be very, very careful, that they start judging others. They think they are perfect, they judge, they tell their husband, then husband tells another husband, then husband tells his wife, it spreads. You have to be extremely wise and sensible women. If you are not sensible this will spread like a disease. In Sahaja Yoga this is one of the diseases I dread, is what Christ has called “murmuring souls." He said, “Beware of the murmuring souls." Leaders are also afraid to tell you something. If they tell you something, immediately you'll start saying, “Oh, Mother said so, he's saying so." Whatever the leader is saying you must listen to him, must obey him, ask him what, what does he mean by saying this, what is it? Now in case you find something wrong with the leader you are all free to write to Me and I will definitely go into it. For example, Stephen wrote to Me about someone and I went into this, enquired and found out what was the thing. See, so there's no harm in finding out about someone.

Some lady wrote to Me also and I found it.

So, but unnecessarily paying attention to another person is not a good thing. Paying attention to yourself and looking all the good points of another person, of helping another person, that's how we would be collective, we'll be growing faster and we'll be enjoying ourselves.

Now our children are here. Now what I find, that we do not know really what are the balanced ways of looking after our children.

So, some think that when I said they are realised Souls, so they said, “All right, let them do what they like." It's not true, otherwise if that is so they would have been born out of the trees, you see! Why are they born out of you? So you have a responsibility, whether they are realised or not. You have a responsibility about your children and you have to see that you correct them. It's very important.

Some people I've seen allow their children to go just so mad and so, they go so amok. In this I would say an Indian parent is an ideal parent. What he will do, he looks after the child. Also in a way, he loves, expresses his love and all that. But if he finds anything wrong with the child, immediately he'll correct, immediately, not spare him, in the presence of others. Now, if another person comes and tells about the child that this child has done, immediately he will scold the child. He will never get angry with the another person, `Why did you say about my child now?' but thank him that `Thank God you have told me'; because he might be spoilt more.

Like I'll tell you, we had one Avadhut, now he's a grown-up boy, but when he was young, one day he asked Me that “If you leave your parents, the badhas of your parents, they leave you or not?" I said, “No, they may not leave, the badhas of your parents." “Then what's the use of leaving the parents?" “But” I said, “who is leaving parents?" “No” he said, “I heard that in the Western countries people, children leave their parents when they are eighteen years of age. But I would not like to leave the parents." I said, “Why? You can be free." He said, “Then I'll be free to do wrong. Who will correct me? If I take the cigarette in my hand, who will correct me? Who will tell me, `Don't do it'?" I mean, if a child takes a cigarette in the hand, immediately the father will take the cigarette and burn it, also. `And next time I see you, I'll burn your tongue.' Finished. But the child knows that `The father loves me and loves me in such a way that I should not lose my father.' But he must know that he can lose the kindness of the father. If you allow the child just all the time to behave the way he likes, or it likes, then it will sit on your head.

And today only I was discussing with him and I told him that I was travelling one day with one lady in the train, one of the Sahaja Yoginis and her child was there, not very old, must have been about seven years of age. She was trying to talk to Me and this fellow was all the time, “Mummy, Mummy" and then, “Why? Why?" was going on, you see, all the time. I told her, “Why must you answer all his questions?" She said, “He is just making enquiries." I said, “Nothing sensible enquiries, just it's nonsense. He wants to attract your attention.

So why do you want to pay so much attention to him?" So she said, “Mother, how to stop it?" I said, “I'll stop it in one minute." I said, I asked him, “You should not ask so many questions." So he said, “Why?" “Because", I said, “you are stupid. You have to learn a lot still and if you go on asking question like this you'll be very, very stupid and one day you'll have to go like a madman.

Do you want to become a madman?" He got a fright of his life. “You'll become mad." And you see, if any of your children are there, you have to tell them some stories. I'll tell you how.

Some children have a habit of beating others or doing something; then you said, “Now if you beat, then a tail comes out of your bottom like that, you see, like a doggy" and something like that. And they believe it! They believe it.

Next day they'll ask, `Is there a tail coming out?' `Yeah, maybe, maybe.

So now, you are going to behave?' `Yeah. I'll be very...' You see, all these tricks have to be played to your children. But they're very clever and they know how to make you dance, you see, how to make you their sort of slave sometimes, you know: for everything they will demand `do this, do this.' Now because they're realised Souls... I was surprised that when I went to London, you see, I read in the newspaper the statistics about children, that every week in London city only, two children are killed by parents. I mean, that was too much for Me.

So I just blasted all of them and I said, “Nothing doing, you must love your children." As a result all the children sat on their heads, you see and they couldn't come to the programs. If they came to the programs they were, the children were to be kept outside like doggies, tied together something; and in England I don't know, maybe here also, they do have a leash, just like a dog. You see they hold the children just like... I said, “How cruel it is." But now I know how children can be in the West. I don't know it's white skin or whatever you may say, that first we started a school, you see, for them because there was no school available, they were in a mess.

So we said, all right, in Dharamshala we'll start a school.

So we started a school in Dharamshala and these children were brought because they had no way to go anywhere, so in a hurry it was started, you see.

So there must be something also if you just start a school in a great hurry, maybe some things are left out. But these children were terrible because they saw these teachers were Indians, so they came and started punching them, they started showing tongue to them, sometimes spitting at them, sometimes pinching and doing all kinds of things, you know.

So the teachers got a fright.

They said, “Baba, we can't look after these bounders, God knows what they are up to. One day they'll bring a knife and push it through us. We don't know what to do." And we have had very bad experience in Shudy Camp about these children, that they had no sense of proportion, nothing, they were not cautious at all. And then I said, “What will you do?" “They have already started jumping” they said, “from different places." I hope they are not jumping there. Ah.

So... and one boy broke his leg. They got a fright.

So I said, “All right, now you do one thing. They are already spoilt, but take one foot-rule, ruler and keep it and say that `If you misbehave, this is the thing.' And once or twice just do a little bit like that." Now that doesn't mean you go on beating your children. I mean, everything should not be taken to an extreme, but there should be a balance, must understand.

So there was one boy who had come as a cook from Austria. And Yogi had asked him, he thought that he is a Westerner, “You'd better look after the children." He started thrashing them left and right. Not the Indian women. Indian women don't thrash so much, you see, we don't beat. I mean, I have slapped My daughter once, one daughter, elder one and younger one twice in their lifetime. We don't believe in thrashing, but you see they're afraid of our eyes, even they know what we want, what is good.

I'll tell you, My younger daughter she, when she went to college in Delhi she found all the girls were wearing sleeveless blouses.

So she came and asked Me, “Should I wear sleeveless blouses? Because all the girls are wearing sleeveless blouses." I said, “Go ahead, if you think so." She said, “Mummy, why don't You wear sleeveless blouse?" I said, “I feel shy, when I've worn it; I don't like to expose My hands like that. I don't like it, it's not good. The arms, you see, should be covered, I think." Immediately she said, “Then it is no criteria if I say `I want this' and all that, You should say `Yes' to everything, You should have said `No, no' to me. I would have been very happy." So this wisdom is there in, among Indian children. They like, like Avadhut, as I told you, he said that “Then who will correct me, who will stop me from doing wrong?" But that's not with our children here.

So you see, because, I don't know why, but maybe that our roots are too deep or whatever it is, we are a little controlled all the time. And wisdom is very important. If you tell a child `you have been very unmannerly', I mean, it's like saying the horridest thing to a child, `you're unmannerly.' Or to say `you are very unwise'; then the child feels very hurt, `I'm unwise, I've not been seeing.' But the best thing would be to say, `You are Sahaja Yogis, you are special people. You can't do like that, you are Sahaja Yogis.' All the time go on telling them how dignified they should be, what is expected of a Sahaja Yogi, it is better. But never spoil them. This is one thing you should not do, otherwise it will be a permanent headache for you. Even if they are realised Souls, whatever they may be; but please see that you do not spoil them. That's very important.

Also as I told you, that don't talk ill of each other on the back. Is a very bad habit. That's how you'll catch on bhoots and you'll become extremely negative. Any such thought comes into your mind, just stop it. Is a very, it's a very nasty disease, you see, that spreads, so it makes you, I mean, it's so sickening, you know. When I hear about somebody who talks ill of someone it's extremely sickening, because it's not being human. You see, in the animal, there's one animal called hyena and they say this hyena is like that.

It comes slowly and steals a child or anything, it's a very sly type of an animal. And such a person we call as hyena in India, such a person is called as a hyena and is regarded as a very low type of a personality, they talk like this.

In Sahaja Yoga it doesn't behove. No Sahaja Yogis should talk ill about each other. Nor should they discuss each other. Never! Now somebody does that, you must immediately say, `Now, please, I don't want to hear. Please don't tell me. This is not a very good thing.' The politicians do like that, but not Sahaja Yogis. Sahaja Yogis should not do because, you see, you are great people, you are yogis. Do you know how a yogi becomes a realised Soul, in the normal way? The other day I was reading a book about Upanishadas and one of them was, today only I saw it in the morning time when I got up. There was written about a yogi, that you have to really starve yourself, first of all is. Then you have to do shirshasana. With that you have to do Prāṇāyāma. Then you have to get up four o'clock in the morning and take your bath and then sit down for Dhyāna and for five hours you must sit for your Dhyāna. After that you have to do Prāṇāyāma. That's also special style, it's not easy for normal person to do that: is till you say sixty you raise your left side, take the Prāṇa through your, I mean you breathe through your nostril, left one. Now sixty-four you say, keep it here and then rechaka: you do the taking it out thirty-two times, can you imagine? This you have to do hundred-and-eight times every day, minimum. This is the minimum. Now there are so many exercises, if I tell you that you'll be shocked.

So, like you have to stand and suddenly jump and put your both the feet five feet apart, imagine.

Then turn round: to clear your Nāḍīs, you see, you have to turn round and put yourself on the left side.

Now on the left side you put yourself and it's quite a big thing that they have described but in short it's a stretching exercise and you put your hand on the left side and go down, stretch yourself. Again go back to normal, again jump and go five feet apart. Then put to the right side. Nāḍī cleansing is this way. But there are so many others described, you see. They are so horrible. He said, ordinary exercises for ordinary people, but for a person who wants to achieve Yoga, he has to do all these horrible exercises are, I don't know. I mean, by that time all your body will be broken, the way it is; or you'll in any case get moksha, you see! It's like that.

But what I'm trying to tell you is this, that now you've got everything simple, easy, this thing. But in a subtle way still all these nonsensical things are sticking on. And even if you are in the boat now, still it is there and they are creating a heavy weight. And this heavy weight can really take you down again; and when you go down after a certain height, you go down very fast.

So many people we have thrown out of Sahaja Yoga, so many have gone out of Sahaja Yoga, so many have come into Sahaja Yoga. Now the people who have come in the beginning are excused for some time and also they see you, how you behave, it's very important.

So first thing we must know that we are people who are Sahaja Yogis, special type of people, specially placed and we have so many privileges, so we have to be extremely dignified. I've seen people just will laugh for nothing at all. In a group you are there, they just start laughing. There's no need to laugh, but they'll just start laughing. Even if I am sitting they'll just go on chatting and talking and, see, no sense at all. But if your Guru is sitting there you have to keep quiet, you have to be humble, you have to have awe. All these things are important which we have to gradually learn, because you have never had a proper training about spiritual life. You see, what these churches, or you can say these temples that you have seen, or anything else that you have got those, you see, have not been real masters to tell you how to behave, how to address, how to be there.

So now gradually you should see for yourself that you have to grow and grow very fast. And for that you have to remember we must need our introspection, to see `Where am I? Now what am I doing? Ah, now the anger is coming.' As soon as the anger starts coming, go and stand before your mirror and say, `Now come along, let's get angry.' You face yourself all the time and it will help, not the others.

Now I have to tell you that whenever you find such people coming up, they will form a group. Then a group can become bigger or absolutely small, depending on you. You have to just say, `Mother has said not to listen a word against anyone', just not to listen. And in the beginning of course, it is quite a lot has to be tolerated. Like I've seen, if you see the letters written to Me in the beginning of Sahaja Yoga, they are so maddening. This person talking ill about that, that person talking ill about that; I mean, anybody would be mad to read all that.

So I never read them. All these letters I used to just burn away.

But luckily now these people have become extremely sensible, they understand their responsibility, they have become very, very beautiful people, very understanding; and the love that they have for each other, it's very interesting. Only in love you can know about others, not in hatred. If you hate someone how will you know about that person, the beauty of that person? So then you start seeing the beauty of that person and you start enjoying that person. This is what Sahaja Yoga is.

So I would like you to see that you train your children in such a manner that they feel their responsibilities as Sahaja Yogis.

May God bless you.

Better be on the lookout, there's smaller children also.

And never neglect them; of course, never neglect them. Never leave them alone. Even if you are going, doing a job, you can give it up for the children's sake, for certain age. Then you can take up when they're... There are so many things you can do in the house also for ladies. And also men should understand that they must every day spend some time with their children. This is extremely important; because children are so relaxing.

Look at her, she's running off. My attention is all there. I hope they don't... Are they careful children? Or keep someone there...

Some lady can be alternately with children, one after another, better look after them.

So now, it's a very nice place we have come to and I hope this work will be done now. We have done the inauguration and it will be all ready. It would be as they said, would be three stories. Would be a good idea if it works out and I don't know what you are going to do here, what's going to work out. Did you dig it out for your, is it?... Fireplace? It's going to be a fireplace. And what will you have up there, in the gap?... Another on top? Good. How did you carry it up there?... Prefabricated.

So now what is the next program? Is the lunch, is it? All right...

Somebody's there. Please look after them. Alternately, you see, can do it.

You should finish everything, you know. Don't leave anything here.

It's too much. Now you eat this one. All right? I can't have so much of it. It's a heart here! [Sahaja Yogini asks about looking after Western teenage children.] What happened?... Fourteen and fifteen? And they're not in Sahaja Yoga?... I think you need to send them to some school in India.... Not Australian?... He will allow? Into, it need not be, you see, it need not be a Sahaja school, just not started, but we can put them in a school which is, what you can call it a normal Indian school. One of the admissions you can get them, in a hostel. That will save them. And once we start our high school, they can join us. Because they have to be brought up properly.... Also, there are so many other temptations, I can tell you. It's very dangerous....

You give Me their names. You can get them admitted. Send it to you. And say that these children would like to get admitted into some school there. But the standard in India is very hard. They'll have to go one year less, but it's all right; but they'll have very good education there. Go with her and find out a school. It can be anywhere: in Bombay [Mumbai], Pune, anywhere. That would be cheaper, definitely, than schools here and they'll be disciplined. I agree with you... Nobody's bothered, you see. Because they trouble the teacher also. And also the government is not bothered. Children are so precocious, they know so many things, it's horrible, I tell you. It's difficult to understand such small children knowing things which we did not even know when we were medical students.... Oh, thank you.

Two, three children, or which is the youngest? The youngest is what age? She's the youngest. What is her age?... Eleven. Still she's not very young. Three of them can go. Big for her age and very good.

So he's very tall, eh? They get taller and taller, eh? What's your height now? You're already five-ten, or something? Your father is tall, is he? Yes, that's right. You'd like to go to India? Good. Nice. You should find out a school....

That's what they told Me when the children...

I won't be going to India for quite some time, but we could ask Yogi if he can arrange for their admission into some good school.... What class are you? Eleven. O-level?... You should finish, I think, in any case. Otherwise you'll be just... That is O-level, no? A-level...

So you have done A-level already? You are doing O-level. I think let him finish O-level, is important. Then he goes to college? You can get an admission in college. After one year. In India he goes into a college. He can take up arts or something like that, whatever... You want to do computer? What do you like? What subjects you have now? Maths, eh? You don't like maths. Now, what else? Biology? You have biology. You like biology?... Genetics...

All right, we'll see now for a college for you, whatever he wants to do. Is he good at English? You like to write? You'd like to do journalism? Think about it. Let us know. Journalism is easy in India, if you want to do journalism, it's easy to do. But even genetics you might find admission, you try.... Thirteen.

Now, what class he is? Yes, he can go to school.... No, it's all right. This shawl is quite good.

By next April will it be ready? I'll be here!... Once you teach them, they will do it. And this gets fixed into it, you don't have to do anything....

Is that cement blocks...? We too have something like this, but they are very weak in India.... But these can hold two stories? Really?...

Contents: 1991-03-30 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, On Children, before the Evening Program the day before the Easter Pūjā, Bundilla Scout Camp, 6 Baden Powell Pl, Winston Hills (35 kms E of Sydney), New South Wales, Australia

I am so very happy to be in Australia with you all. Australia is one of the major Sahaja Yoga center and people are very nice and they are really doing very well here, no doubt about it. I was told there are hundred and fifty children today, so now you are prospering otherwise also! They're all born-realised children and they are going to come up very soon, so that's how Sahaja Yoga is really very deeply rooted in Australia; you can see that clearly.

But I feel that I should talk something about children very important it is, because it's a responsibility for all of us that these children have taken their birth here. And they're children of great intelligence and very great sweetness, because they're born-realised. Still, you must know that, that you should not try to over-dote on them or to be overstrict with them: both things are wrong. One thing they must know, that you love them and respect them as Sahaja Yogis, because they are Sahaja Yogis. Instill this idea into them that `you are Sahaja Yogis and that's why we all respect you.' Please send all the children here in front, I think would be better idea, so that they are not cramped up. You can bring them from the sides here. Is there some room for children, or for the only big children are occupying all the rooms? You can get a carpet from My room if you want. There's one carpet if you can spread it, the children can sit on that all. Not very small ones; you don't have to carry them. If you have to carry them, you'd better be seated! Yah, yah, that's a good one. You put it here in this side. Yes please. Ah! Just get up now. Ask them. Not the mothers, should not come please. All right? There's one more coming. Can you move a little back, so that they can spread it properly for themselves. Don't sit on the ground. There's one more carpet coming. You sit there on the carpet. If you can remove this one they'll be quite happy. Hello, Pavan. Pavan, if you can remove this one that side, this yah, this side, a little bit they'll be quite happy because, you see, the children have to move. They are bringing some more. I think if you can remove this one they can see Me, you see, that's why they want to sit this side.

No, no, no, no, I'm saying this flower, flower arrangement, yah. Yah. They could sit here, they could sit there. You can remove this flower arrangement also. They just want to see Me, that's all.

Some children can sit that side. Don't sit on the ground. Are you sitting on the ground? It's very cold. Why don't you sit here? You are adjusted. You are all right.

Sit down, sit down, sit down, sit down. You can see Me from there, can you? Please be seated. Sit down. Where is he going? He's angry. All right. Mothers must go back and only the children should sit in front. Ah. You have got something, or you're sitting on the ground? You are sitting on something? No. Just see the children here are sitting on something or they are on the ground? Put this one, I think; something else, if you have. There's a shawl there. You can spread the shawl. You get up now. Don't sit on the ground. There's a shawl there. Come along. You all get up, those who are sitting on the ground.

Just get up, please. Stand up now, just one minute, all right? Please stand up. Ah, very good. Stand up now. Still further, still come further. Yah, now sit on that. Yes, that's why. Let it be now, it's done. Yes, that's good. Is done now, it's done.

See, the tall children sit behind and let the small children come front. You sit behind, then lots small children can come front. You, you you are taller. No, no, you are not tall.

So sweet! You're not tall.

You will be tall, very soon, all right? So sweet they are, aren't they? There are some children behind you who are small, just bring them in front. They are busy with them. She can go back hah, she, little bit.

All right; slightly. They don't want to move: great ladies, you see, talking about something some politics belief! Hah, now sit down. Sit down, sit down, sit down. All right? Very good. This one has come with the bottle. What happened? Now, so. This girl talks too much. Whose daughter is she? Ask her to sit this side this green, green thing tell her to sit this side.

Now, everybody is going to keep quiet, all right? And those who will not keep quiet, they'll have to go back, absolutely at the back, hah? So everybody is going to see. Sit very quietly, all of you. Did you hear Me, all the children? Did you hear Me? You are all going to pay attention here and you are going to listen to Me, all right? So I'm just going to say something to you. What I'm going to say to you is this, for all the children, that now you are all Sahaja Yogis. All right, raise the hands who are Sahaja Yogis among you. Who are the Sahaja Yogis? All the children who are Sahaja Yogis? Who can feel the Cool Breeze? Let's see. Raise your hands. All of you, who can Yah, just raise your hands. Hallo, raise your hand. You are a Sahaja Yogi? You are all Sahaja Yogis? Raise your hands. All those who are Sahaja Yogis raise your hand. Oh, everyone is a Sahaja Yogi, all right? So we have to give them first this idea that they are Sahaja Yogis, that they have to have a dignity of their own. And that they cannot try and misbehave at wrong points; because they are Sahaja Yogis.

We must have a rapport, we must talk to them, we must establish their responsibilities, that `you have to do great work, you have to give realisation to people. When you'll grow you have to do this, you have to do that. You'll have to go to far-off countries and you'll have to know this, you'll have to know that.' All that, once you tell the children, then they start developing their personality as Sahaja Yogis, because they are born like that.

But if you do not channelize them in proper this thing, because of the atmosphere they might go into other directions.

So we have a very good chance now to develop our children according to Sahaja Yoga principles and imbibe those principles in them, so they do not.

Hallo, listen. This girl talks too much. Tell her also to be quiet. Ah, sit quietly. What's this, her name? Forgetting her name just tell her to keep quiet, sit down quietly. All right. You are a big girl, you sit.

Now, you have to always say that `You are grown up. You are better than other children and you have to behave accordingly. You cannot behave in a manner that is not behoving a Sahaja Yogi.' Now the parents have to be also good Sahaja Yogis. Their attention should be good. If their attention is not good, the children will pick up all the bad things and they will start behaving in a manner that they should not.

All right, now go and sit down. Nice girl, all right? We should not try to control them on many things as we do in materialistic way, `Why did you spoil the carpet, why did you do that?' This is not important. But if they are not respectful to My photograph or if they are not all right for Sahaja Yoga, then what you have to do is to tell them that this is not proper, this you have to do.

So the accent should be more on Sahaja Yoga than on something that is materialistic, or something that is wrong. And also good manners must be taught to children. They must be taught how to concentrate on work and things like that.

At the same time you must know it's, you are as a trust. You are not parents as normal people are, parents are and possessive of your children. You shouldn't spoil them. By any chance if you spoil them, you'll be responsible for this all your life. You shouldn't spoil them, you shouldn't try to pamper them too much and tolerate their wrong things. If some Sahaja Yogi tries to correct another child, should never get angry with that Sahaja Yogi. On the contrary, should be happy that your child is being corrected.

That's one part of our family. We are one family and in family if somebody thinks that your child has done something wrong, please try that child is corrected; and thank that man that he has pointed out.

Sometimes parents, before parents the children behave very well, but then they start misbehaving. Do you understand? So you have to check your children: as others are telling you your child is doing like this, your child is doing like that, you have to check your children and tell them how to behave. But some people are extremely strict with their children. That's very bad heartlessness. You must look after their comfort, you must look after their foods.

You must know that they like this or like that, why they like it, what is their health, how they are behaving towards others. All these things you can watch, but do not try to be strict with them. Best thing is, if they do anything wrong, tell them that `this time I forgive, next time you are not to do that.' But sometimes is it required or sometimes, very sometimes, if they are violent, nasty; because the other day there were two children I don't know from where they learned they brought two knives to put into somebody's stomach. Sahaja Yogis were sleeping I mean, that's horrific. Then I said, you can little bit slap them or something, or punish them in a way that children understand that this is wrong, this we should not do.

If you really try to pay attention to them, you'll immediately know what are the problems of your child are. You because you are also Sahaja Yogis. Immediately you'll know the Chakras. Try to improve the Chakras, try to pay attention to them. At an early age it is very much required that you should look after your children. Till they are about sixteen years I think there should be a proper vigilant guidance to the children. But don't spoil your children, because tomorrow you will come and say that `Mother, we don't know how our children are spoilt.' I have had so many experiences like that. They must meditate every day and they must get up at right time, sleep at right time. But be gentle with them. You have to be gentle and they have to be gentle also. Also, I've found the children who came down Australian children I didn't see much.

Now, you go and sit. I'm talking. Hallo, hallo, come along. Now can you go down? Hallo, what is that? Now come along, you go down now. Can you go down now? May God bless you. Now you go down.

No, no, it's all right, don't get angry! It's all right, go down. What is there? There's a wasp. They killed a wasp, you know really! They did! They killed a wasp and sting is, it's there you can remove it. Just see anyone can come up. Just see this one and take it out. There's something there, still crawling up. Just they did some job, you see. You must understand what they were up to. Now this is the one yah, yah, I don't know what is that.

And also talk to them. But if they ask questions you must not answer all their questions, not necessary.

If they ask questions once in a while it's all right. But still try that they should listen more than ask, because also that's a very bad habit of saying `why, why?' `You are not supposed to know just now, you are too young. If you ask any more you'd be a stupid person.' All kinds of things can be told to children to make them understand that they cannot be stupid, they cannot afford to be stupid. And this is what I feel, all of you who have children now here, a hundred and fifty children and all the parents have to understand it's very important. Also the people who are not yet parents, or who are grown up, their children are grown up, must look after the children as their own, because ours is one family. Whether you are in Australia or in England or in America, anywhere you may be, we are one family and all our children are our responsibility.

So all of us should look after them and all of us should tell what's wrong with them, how to get them to proper ways.

I would suggest that you should have a committee for discussing about small children. And every month you can meet, the committee can meet and in a ashram if they are, or if there are no ashrams then some people can meet and discuss about children what's the matter, what can we do about it. If there's any problem you let Me know. Now I have, I think, instructed some things about children but it's not yet been sort of circulated so much: for very small children who are born, for the women who are pregnant and how it all should work out.

So, carrying the children too much is also not very good and also putting them all the time on a perambulator is also not a very good thing. You see, if they are grown up children they should learn to walk and they should be more sort of working with their limbs, than sitting in a perambulator or something like that and also the buggies. I've seen the children who are just used to buggies never walk.

So if you are taking them out, if they are too small is all right, otherwise don't take them out too long a distances. Take them for shorter distances. They must learn how to walk; otherwise later on you'll find it's impossible for them to take to this.

The another thing, Indian children as they know from very childhood that they have to squat.

So from childhood if you teach them how to squat and how to be quiet, they will learn. I have a feeling that when the child is born, the kind of massaging and all that is done to them is very little. That's why the children become so violent and so disturbed. If you start massaging them just after the birth of the child, gradually till they are five, six years of age if you massage their body every night before sleeping and then with a little powder you wipe it out, or before bath, I'm sure the children will not develop this nervous temperament and this kind of a situation where they just become absolutely out of hands. Moreover, it is better that when the child is very small, the mother should not work. Or else now I hope you start some sort of creche, somewhere where there are Sahaja Yoginis looking after the children and where the children are kept in a proper shape, that they are looked after.

You see now, I would say that this is the training: whatever you give helps the child to become what you want them to be. If you do not give them the training, children can never be all right, they can never behave themselves and they can never be good children. You'll have problems, problems, problems. Of course, we've started a school with very great jittery conditions, anyway. The teachers had really become like pantomimes, I think, because these teachers had never seen such horrible children, to begin with. And they used to beat them, spit at them, bite them and within one month's time all the teachers wanted to run away. They said, “We can't manage these horrible children. I don't know from where they have come." Moreover, the education was so poor. They didn't know how to write even ABC these are the big boys while in India at the age of five years children can read very well, do this. Despite that, you see, all this was happening and also there's such a pressure of all the teachers, on the teachers by the parents. The parents came down there, stayed there, the mothers stayed there, tried to correct this, do that. I mean, nowhere in the world in any school this interference is allowed.

So the teachers were so fed up. And the person who became really hard on them was a boy from abroad. He started hitting them, because he said these children cannot be all right unless and until you hit them.

So we told them that this is not the way it is be done. But we had to use a plastic rule just to show them, that ruler, that if you misbehave you'll have this; because they were very disobedient. They would climb up any tree, fall from there, they would like to jump everywhere. And impossible to control these children in a place like Dharamshala, which is hills and dales and all kinds of trees there.

So they got a fright and they said that “Now we'd like these children to go away. We don't want to have a school." I mean, they'd paid so much money to start the school. And it came on them suddenly because there was no school; but such interference of parents and things and something too special. Now if they are sitting in a Pūjā, if the food has to be served at eight o'clock they'll get up from the Pūjā and go away, as if it's very important to eat. Doesn't matter once in a while if they are delayed to eat. All these ideas are very regimental type of things. And then children become really like military people, who come after war and become horrible: it's that's exactly what happens with them.

So the way they are looked after now I must tell you these children who came as just ignoramus things, absolutely good for nothing, have now started reading, writing, calculating. Not only that but they also write Hindi language, which they did not do. They have changed so much in this such a short time, it's hardly I think one year's time that they have been there. And we have looked after them in a way because My attention was there. But they got fed up with the mothers who went down. And it is demeaning for the teachers also, to go and correct the teachers in the presence of this thing. Also I must say I was sorry to see that somebody was sent from Australia to find out about the schools. When the school was here, nobody bothered. When there was a school in Austria, nobody bothered. Nobody bothered about the school which was in Rome or Milano, but when it was in India they sent somebody to find out and get photographs and everything. It's something very demeaning. And the Indians refused to have a school there and they said “we will not have this kind of a thing anymore." So you have to trust. But I can tell you this much, that Indian culture is the best for your children.

That will make them perfectly all right and you'll really enjoy them; because you see, Indian children now see, even now look at these children, how disturbed they are but if you go in India and see, the children are least disturbed. They are just there, they are obedient, they are giving type. Understand this, what is good for our children we should give them.

So this is also not good, to interfere with the school. Now there's another school we have started in Washi where we'll be getting children, all of them, because they have given up now: they have given up, the teachers have given up in Dharamshala. They just said, “We cannot manage these children” because the place is so dangerously placed and they are, you cannot control them. They have no sense of caution and they are jumping all over. It's very difficult to manage. After all, this year they will continue but from next year they are saying we'll send all the children to Washi.

For nine months they could be there and the parents can bring the children to Dharamshala and they can stay and they can look after them. It is so bad as that.

So you must know, the quality of our children has to improve. They have to become peaceful, righteous, good children and they are not to be troublesome and exacting; because they are Sahaja Yogis. Otherwise, if you do not give them the proper guidance, I tell you, they'll be all a waste. They are born to you because you are all Sahaja Yogis and we have to give them that beauty. If you cannot give that beauty to them, they will not realise why they came on this Earth, how important it is today that Sahaja Yoga has started.

It never happened, this kind of thing before; it never happened, such a great thing. And this has come here and this has brought such greatness to all of you; and perhaps, I think, many people do not understand how great it is that's what is very surprising. Now you have entered into Sahaja Yoga which has transformed your life, has given you everything that you wanted, it's so beautiful. But understand the importance of it and that how we have to develop and how we have to grow; because you will be held responsible in future if anything fails.

So we have to go very deep into it and we have to get to it in a big way.

Why is she crying? What's the matter? She wants to go to Mummy, let her go. Whose child it is? Martin's? Martin, you know your children. You are too much attached to them, I must say, too much attached. You really that's what I was going to tell you, that they were very, very funny when I came there. They're too much attached. She has improved a little bit but I think still You should keep them out, keep them out; don't get attached to them. They'll be such a headache to you, you won't know. Before Sahaja Yoga people used to neglect their children, I've seen it; after Sahaja Yoga they are just stuck to them. Like the two extremes. Tell her not to cry. Otherwise, you tell her you'll send her out if she cries any more. Now don't cry, keep quiet.

Sometimes you have to scold also. You have to. You shouldn't tolerate their nonsense, otherwise you are responsible for these children, who are godly children who have come on this Earth. God has given you a gift: you have to look after them with care and understanding.

I think it will all work out.

What's it now? What does he want? What happened, what? Ask him, what is the matter? Everybody is laughing at you. Now, now, don't cry. See, you want everyone to laugh at you? Sit down, sit down, ah.

Now such a big boy like you, you shouldn't cry. Now see, they are all laughing. Ah, sit down, sit down.

What's the matter? All right, take him out. He'll cry more, he won't listen. What's the matter, what is he asking? All right, you take him out. Don't cry, don't beat him. You take him out, take him out, he'll be all right. Take him out, outside the thing. Don't beat him and don't get angry. That's not the Take him outside.

All right. You know, you shouldn't beat your children all the time, otherwise it has no value! You must make a big ritual of it, you see, before beating; make a big ritual, `Now, this is going to be bad.' [Children singing.] Wonderful, thank you very much. Ah, which is the next one? Oh, My God! Thank you very much. It's beautiful, thank you. All right. Please, please. Yes. It's nice they know everything by heart. It's beautiful.

Thank you, thank you, believe Me.

[The teacher asks if Shri Mataji would like to see the preschool children do a stick dance.] All right. When? We'll see it after Pūjā tomorrow? All right? Will be good. All right.

Now, all the children are going to keep quiet. We are going to have now music from Nagpur musicians.

They have come all the way.

Now keep quiet. All the children have to be quiet. Do you think they want to sleep now, the children at this time? Have you to send them for sleeping? Hallo. Children, is their sleeping time now? Is it their sleeping time? They don't sleep so early these [UNCLEAR].

So let them go, those who want to sleep. I think some of them are already feeling sleepy. What do you say? After one song they can go. Let them hear one song.

Want to go? Those who don't want to go, need not go. Those who want to go can go, all right? Let's keep it open. They are telling Me, no, we don't want to go; they are telling Me.

No, this side. Martin, I said this side. It's all right, that side is all right. There's no other thing.

[Baba Mama speaks on behalf of the Nirmal Sangeet Sarita. He says how happy they are to be here and how they have gone from one ocean of love to another ocean of love: that of the Sahaja Yogis in India and in Australia. He says, why do we need a passport to go from one Sahaja center to another Sahaja center? And to pray to Shri Mataji for a day when no passports will be needed.

And he says how “music is the shortest track to the Divine." He then introduces the first song.]

Contents: 1991-03-31 Easter Pūjā, Bundilla Scout Camp, 6 Baden Powell Pl, Winston Hills (35 kms E of Sydney), New South Wales, Australia

Today we are here to worship Christ as He was resurrected from dead. There are lots of theories about His death, but actually He resurrected Himself and then He went down to India and settled there with His Mother. After period of His resurrection is not described in any books, as such, but in one of the Purānas written about Shālivāhana, one of the kings of the dynasty I belong to, has met Christ in Kashmir and he asked Him, “What's your name?" He said “My name is Issa." And then he asked Him also that “from which country you come, which place?" He said, “I come from a country which is foreign to you and to Me and now I'm here in my own country." That's how He appreciated, I think, the Indian thing. And then He used to cure people there and his tomb is there and His Mother's tomb also is there.

So there are other stories also written by people who did not know much about Him. But whatever it is, what you find that Christ was very much impressed and was very much there to teach about morality, as in the Indian Scriptures, very strongly. For Him, morality was the most important thing, in life because, as you know, He was the incarnation of Śhrī Gaṇeśha.

So, for Him, Gaṇeśha's principle was extremely important and that He has expressed by saying that “In the ten commandments it is said that `Thou shalt not commit adultery', but I verily say to you thou shalt not have adulterous eyes" to such an extent that even the eyes should not be adulterous. It's a very good understanding of a personality where we find in the modern times most of them have their attention moving up and down with adultery. Also in one of the Upanishads I read that even to look at a woman is adultery, even to think of a woman is adultery and talk to women too much is also adultery. These modern times I've seen there are women who are used as public relations, everywhere, in every country. And they just go and chit-chat and talk to people in position and talk in such a manner that they feel very much pampered. And one of the ways of getting favours, wrong favours from officers is through this kind of PR business. It's very common and this is what is responsible, also partly, for the corruption in many countries.

Morality goes hand in hand with all kinds of violence. Anybody who is a violent person, a person who is in the Mafiā, a person who's regarded as an outcast, all of them are adulterous people of the worst type.

So one has to understand how important it is that morality should be our basic asset in Sahaja Yoga, specially, I would say, we are so lucky today that it should be celebrated in the land of Śhrī Gaṇeśha, that we should be here to celebrate His resurrection, which actually is due to His clean, we can say, absolutely Nishkala finka life, life which was so pure. His purity was there because He was nothing but Chaitanya. He was nothing but vibrations. He was so pure that He could even walk on the water. He was so pure that death could not kill Him.

So we have to aim at our purification. We talk of resurrection, of when we think of getting a second birth. As I have told you before that an egg becomes a bird. That's called a dvijaya. It's twice-born.

In the same way, we who are covered with our ego and our conditionings, opens out to become a bird and that's how we all have come to know about the Brahma, about this All-pervading Power, which is the Brahma. And that's how we have now really become the dvijaya, meaning the Brahmins. Those who have not known the Brahma, without that, what is the use of any worship or any kind of chantings or anything? Because you are not connected and if you are not connected, it has no meaning.

But we have to look at ourselves, about purity part of it. On a very low level of people, you see, I have seen that the impurity comes from what Christ has called as murmuring souls. These are the people who start talking at the back of others and just enjoy this kind talk. This is a very low level of a personality.

I think in Sahaja Yoga this should go away completely because it creates problems and the main, basic strength of Sahaja Yoga, which is collectivity, is harmed by that. Specially, in this respect, I would request the women. Specially the wives of the leaders have a great responsibility. If they start talking like that, taking interest in such talks, then they come down to the level of others and their motherhood is challenged.

Any mother who allows the children to talk like that is really spoiling the entire life of children.

Anybody who talks ill of any people in Sahaja Yoga is really extremely dangerous for both of them, but especially for the person who does it.

So one should always avoid even thinking ill of others, let alone the talking of it. If anybody talks like, you should put your hands to your ears and say, `Don't tell me. I don't want to hear anything against anyone.' Because when we start talking against someone, we get all the bad things that person has, Apart from that, our mind is spoiled, is impurity in your mind. Then we talk to others, it increases and it becomes worse.

So it's the responsibility of the women to be very much careful because this kind of thing is more with the women because they are little excluded. They have exclusive friends and they have exclusive life.

They are different type than men are. Men, if they have to get angry with someone or if they want to say something, they'll just go and have a fight and finish it. But women will keep it in the mind and will say something and it's such a bad thing to start. It's just like a worm, it moves and is very infectious.

So all of you must remember that this is the first thing, you must avoid is to listen against anyone, talk against anyone, have small talks. I have said the same thing in Perth because last time when I came I found horrible things were done against people. Now, again I tell you this because we are at a point where we have to understand that morality is not only about what is the sex is, but is much more than that, much wider than that.

So, because we want to have our purification, let us have introspection within ourselves. People ask Me, “How did you manage so well in Russia?" There is one thing about Russians, very great, that they're very introspective. If you read any novel of a Russian writer, you'll be surprised to see that all of them are introspecting. All the characters are introspecting. They want to see `why I did it.' For example, somebody is lazy. He doesn't work. He dedicates his time in reading or something else, but he cannot put his physical body to any strain. Then he introspects. `Why? Why am I so lazy? Why can't I do something more active?' Then somebody who is always sort of difficult and angry type that people don't like him. Then, instead of getting angry with others, he has to see himself in within himself, `Why am I like that? Why people don't care for me? What do I have within me that is making me so miserable?' So you'll see that you're either conditioned or you have a funny ego which is coming up and is making you do wrong things which you should not do. That's one of the purifications you can have of your mind, when you start introspecting yourself.

Now, as the culture is, I find is, not very much for the benevolence of human beings. It is, you don't know what people are up to, what they can do, how far they can go. Nothing is possible. I've seen in these some of the marriages we had very shocking things that the men or women never told Me and they had horrible diseases. And they just put Me into trouble. There are many others who have done this kind of thing.

So first thing, you must know that you cannot be a hypocrite in Sahaj Yog. If you're a hypocrite, if you do not sincerely believe in Sahaja Yoga, fully engross yourself, you do not purify yourself and jump into yourself, then you will be exposed very soon and you'll be thrown away from Sahaj Yog, no doubt about it. I will not throw. I will forgive, but as I have told you, there are two forces in Sahaja Yoga. One is centrifugal and another centripetal. By centripetal force, you'll be attracted, but by centrifugal force you'll be thrown out.

So one has to be very careful because whatever you have got is something really remarkably, surprisingly so heavenly and so easily. Actually, I am surprised at Myself, how I have achieved all these things, but it has been achieved because, as I have told you, that the All-pervading Power itself has taken a dynamic role. It is acting because it is now in, we are in Krita Yuga. This Krita Yuga comes when there is a gap between from one yuga to another yuga. Like we had Kali Yuga. Kali Yuga has to go to Satya Yuga. In between there's Krita Yuga, when mishaps and evolutionary process have taken place at that time.

So now the last evolution has started and again this All-pervading Power has become very dynamic.

That's how you get all My photographs and you get all these things and you are also getting people realised. You, yourself, you are surprised at the miracles you have. Everybody can tell you hundreds of miracles.

So these miracles also are worked out by this All-pervading Power. At this juncture, when we have all these possibilities, if we try to be hypocritical, we are harming ourselves. If you try to criticise others and not ourselves, then we are going to miss the bus. You must understand the importance of time. That is something people miss out. Sahaja Yoga is very good because you are blessed and you feel that you are secured, things are very good, you get so many brothers and sisters and I see you faces just like roses shining. All that is good, but still there is a chance that you may fall back. The reason is you must purify yourself. Never get satisfied with yourself.

Some people, when I talk to them, they never think I am talking to them. They think I am talking to somebody else.

So, please try to understand, we have to introspect ourselves. We have to meditate and when we are conscious about our own defects, we start looking at it and they'll drop off.

It's a very tremendous task that we have to do, is to emancipate the whole human beings and, for that, you have to be something very special. You have to be ideal. People are going to see you. I have seen some people who are very fond of going on the stage and trying to show off. It's ego. Understand that it is ego. If you are not what you are talking, nobody is going to take you seriously. On the contrary, they'll disappear from Sahaj Yoga. If you are going to show off, people will say, `Look at this show-off.' Everybody can see you being like that. They will not see themselves, but they can see another person like that.

So for all these ego manifestations, you have to be very, very careful. Now supposing if you have money, then you'll try to show off. If you have some power, supposing you have certain position in the government, you'll try to show off. Anything, these artificial things. I have known people who show off for absurd things which have no meaning. I don't understand that these all things are outside. They're not enriching you.

They are in no way giving you the strength that you need, in no way making you beautiful.

So all these outside things anybody can have. It's nothing great about it, but the inner wealth that you develop is the only way you can purify yourself and the resurrection can take place in the same manner as Christ has said.

Now the time of resurrection has come. You are all resurrected, but you have to still cleanse yourself.

First, as I told you, that morality should be the highest priority for all for of us. Now just think of the life people live. For example, I have been in the West with My husband in another atmosphere, another society. We've been to parties, we've been to all such things and what I found that no man is safe, no woman is safe. They're all flirting with each other, God knows for what. It's a joyless pursuit. And when they go back home, what they find, that the wife is missing or the husband is missing.

So such an insecure life they have because they have no sense of morality. To them, these pleasures are something great and because of this misunderstanding about the life they are suffering with such tremendous insecurity.

You have to guide your children to a proper, sane morality. For that, you must behave properly. You should not go romantic in the presence of your children. You should not try to put them in a way that you lock up your rooms and do all kinds of things, but behave in a manner that is dignified, otherwise children will pick up from you to begin with. Then also, you should be careful as to the television and things that they show or what children see. You have to be careful. And talk to them that this is wrong. `This is very wrong and this will bring problems to us.' If you have a proper rapport with your children, you won't have any problem. You see, here they have so much of this education. Despite that, how many problems you have with children. While we do not educate children in all these things, but we don't have these problems in India because we are just kept innocent about it. If the children are kept innocent, they never indulge into it and they will never let into any problems which are created by curiosity. Never make them curious. You will feel happy, the children will feel happy and they'll start their life from the very beginning on the basis of morality. This is what you have to do to your children is a proper, moral sense.

Then another thing I've seen is that very important is to give, for Sahaja Yoga, your time. Many people do not give their time, do not work in the ashrams. They do not think that they have to do something for Sahaj Yog. You must understand that you are part and parcel of one body. Now supposing I do not allow one hand to work, put it in a sling. You'll find it will never work. It will become weak. Weak, it will not be able to do anything. It will be wasted.

So you have to use all the limbs of the body in the same way.

You all must also put in physical, mental, emotional, whatever is possible for the work of Sahaja Yoga because it is your work. I don't need Sahaj Yog. I don't have to do it. It's for you I have started this and it is for you to give it to others. Is your responsibility, so you should take it up as your own. For example, you know that at this age I'm travelling every third day or fourth day and travelling long distances. All this I'm doing for what? There's no need for Me to do. I don't need it anything. I'm just doing it because is supposed to be My life. I don't know how to explain why I'm doing it really. Logically, it doesn't sound sensible. But, if you see Me, you say that `we have great regard for Mother, we respect Her very much, we are very fond of Her and we worship Her,' all these things. But do you give so much as She can give? How much do we give? Secondly, I have also heard that people are very miserly in giving money for My programs and things.

You want Me to come here. I used to spend My own money in the early days, but you don't want Me to come here with My own money. Is it proper? Is it? If you have self-respect, you would not like Me to come, spend My own money coming here and spend money for building this and spend money for your car's petrol. Would you like Me to do that? No.

So there are many people who come to My program, I am told, that do not pay for My programs. It's very wrong. If you do not pay, I'll tell you immediately, you'll suffer and that is in money matters because, if you do not give, money doesn't come. Those people who have been generous with their hands, have been very prosperous, even in Australia, even in India.

So I have to tell you, even this is not a temptation to you, but when people say, `Mother, our thing is not coming up, this is not working out.' So there's something wrong, some where wrong. Once you start dedicating yourself to Sahaja Yoga, immediately you'll find things will work out.

Something, there is something you have done wrong, which you should not have done or something you have not understood. You have done something and a misunderstanding, try to find out. Things must sort out.

They must soothe out in Sahaja Yoga. Everything sorts out. Not only that, but I have seen it, just becomes absolutely beautifully falling into line and you are amazed how it works out. From a small thing to big thing.

So, if it is not working out in your life, there's definitely something wrong.

So it is your the morality of your, I should say, financial morality. Also there were some horrible mishaps we had in this country of yours, where horrible leaders came who were interested only in money.

That's how they came to Sahaja Yoga and what has happened to them, you know that.

So you don't come to Sahaja Yoga for money. You come here for everything, in a sense in totality. You have to get that higher situation. Like that, you have to give also with an open heart. Know that you have got such a great gift, so now, `What can I do about it?' Of course, I don't need your money, I am not in the same position as even Christ was, but He never took any money, so I need not take any money from you. But still, for other things, those people who have not paid should remember that if they want their children to be all right, if they want their family to be all right, if they want to be all right as far as the money is concerned, without feeling the ego, without pressurizing the leaders, try to spend your money in a way that is really useful for Sahaja Yoga.

Then another point is about the family, as I told you yesterday, that `My house, I must have my house, I must it.' Specially leaders' wives, again I should warn them because all this has created problems to such an extent now that we have had to throw them out of Sahaj Yog. Despite the fact that husbands were very good, but some women wanted to have their own home, wanted to have their own children. They wanted to stay on their own.

So this kind of thing, if a leader's wife has ideas, then what will happen to others? They have to follow an example, that is that of a leader. If a leader doesn't have that and the wife doesn't have that example, the whole thing can be absolutely in state of jeopardy. And that's what I have seen, that people suffer so much when they do not realise that we all are part and parcel of one family and we start thinking, imagine we cut one finger and plant it somewhere. What will grow out of it? Will a tree grow out of it? Or what will grow out of it? Nothing. It will stick.

Till you were not joined with that whole thing, you were all right, whether you were rotting in a place or wherever you were, it doesn't matter. But when, now, you have joined and when you are part and parcel of the family, then see how you behave, how your children are. Are they collective? Are they sharing? Or they are fighting? Try to see that your children can share their things with others and you, first of all, start doing that, otherwise children cannot do it.

Now look at Christ. He lived hardly for four years in the sense that He was out of that country. Only for four years He could work out the mission that He had to fulfil.

So He was only there to achieve this resurrection at the Āgñyā Chakra. In that short period, how many beautiful parables He has given, how many places He has been, how many people He has talked to. All His life is spent like that. He lived in a very simple manner and He had no such tents or anything, so He used to go on mountains and mount, you know, Sermon on the Mount is very famous sermons are. And then He would gather people there and talk with them. They would listen to Him, but nobody imbibed anything that He had said. Very few that He had, about twelve disciples, who also understood Him when He died. Before that they did not understand what He was. They could not visualise actually within their minds what He is doing, what He is talking about. But when He was resurrected, that made them think, `Who was He? And what has He has done. How is it we are His disciples?' And they're ordinary fishermen. You know that very well, but their intelligence suddenly manifested. Their dynamism manifested and they really showed such good ways of achieving what we can call the second birth.

Also, Christianity spread under wrong banner of Paul and Augustine and that's how we see the problems of Christianity, so much so that we are shocked. `How can Christianity of Christ be like this?' But it is.

And this Christianity of Christ that has come has nothing to do with Christ. And He has said it, “You be calling Me, `Christ, Christ.' I won't recognize you." We are the people who are carrying this. And also He has said, they'll be wearing a mark on their heads and I will know who are those.

So, as it is, you are already marked. You're already been chosen by Christ. In His last judgement, He has chosen you and you are there, but still, one should know that there is all the possibility that we could be hypocrites, that we are playing with only words. Could be that we still have to cleanse ourselves.

So just put your mind into yourself and see for yourself that `Where have I done wrong?' As far as Mūlādhāra is concerned, you people have a special responsibility. Australians have the greater responsibility than anybody else because this is a place of Śhrī Gaṇeśha and, if you do not fully understand the significance of Mūlādhāra clearing, I am sure you won't be able to achieve any height in Sahaja Yoga.

So all of you should decide about this and work it out so that there is no problem of your ascent or of your rising because you're so pure or so beautiful.

All this you have achieved already, without much difficulties. Only thing is if those things which are left behind suddenly are trying to come up, also you should not allow it to come into your life. You should just throw away. For example, like a lotus leaf, when it is under the water it doesn't show anything, but when it comes up, then water doesn't stand on that. It just falls off, doesn't get attached to any water.

You may pour water, any amount. It just takes away.

So this is what you have to find out. Relationships between each other, racialism and other things, we have to just oppose it. It's not a good thing to hate anyone for any small thing like that.

The forgiving quality of Christ at the time when He was crucified has to be remembered. How he forgave those who crucified Him because they do not know what they were doing. But even when they know what they are doing in Sahaja Yoga, still people try to crucify and this crucifixion can be all right for a person who's crucified, but very dangerous for the person who is crucifying.

So this has to be understood that to get out of all things and to get out of all your crucifixions, you have to have an extremely pure, ideal, beautiful life. You should be proud of your virtues. You should be proud of your greatness. You should be proud that you are so righteous. There's nothing to feel bad about, otherwise people will boast about their mad things, as in the modern times, but not about their good thing, regarded as bad manners. You need not boast about both the things, but you can be proud of the things that are so beautiful, so nice, so energy-giving.

Christ had to surrender to the desire of His Father and He asked Him that “If You could take away this cup, it would be nice." But when the Father said, “No, you have to drink this cup” He accepted and He went through it very bravely and beautifully.

We have to have the same kind of surrender, that whatever we have to do, we have to do it with a surrender. We should not think that we are achieving something by that, we are showing off by that or anything. Just, we should feel that is being done because we are surrendered. We should feel our surrender as a great blessing. If you can put your attention to your heart and just say that `I surrender myself,' that's more than sufficient. But you shouldn't say that `Mother, please help me to surrender.' How can Mother help? All these prayers sometimes are escapes from reality. `You just help me. Help me in this.' To surrender is very easy. You just you have to say, `Mother, come in my heart and come in my head and come in my attention.' That's all. Go on saying like that, `Please come in my body. Come in my head. And come in my attention.' And, as you go on saying, Kuṇḍalinī will rise and She will cleanse you completely. She's the one who cleanses you. All the time She's cleansing your Chakras, but problem is you always falter, again and again. Poor thing again and again rises and does that.

So all these problems are because we are not introspective. Also seen people are very attached to their wife or attached to their husband, then they cannot see anybody else. For them, everything is wrong, but for themself or their husbands or their wives. This is, seems to be, very common failing. This kind of false attachment will not only harm another person, but will harm your husband or your wife because they will also get away with wrong things. Once they start getting away with wrong things, there's no end to it and they'll be destroyed.

Now the task before Me is to go to area of Viśhuddhi in America, which is another very difficult task and unless and until that is put right, My throat will not be all right, so I have to jolly well do it and I have to work it out. But, as you know, Americans have something wrong with their upper storey. They can only, I just don't understand. They like people who take money from them and who befool them, who have Rolls-Royces, all kinds of things and can you imagine. They would not have Me on the television because I have no Rolls-Royce. I mean, in the television, in the government, can you imagine such a television where they don't take you up because you don't you have no Rolls-Royces. It's not prestigious. Why have a Rolls-Royce by cheating everyone, then it's very prestigious. It's a business. With all these things happening, one feels that the level of spirituality is really great in a place like Australia. It is cut off from the world, which is so much away.

But spirituality is very, very expressed here and I am sure in Sahaja Yoga they will rise very high if they keep to one understanding, that they are living on the soil of Śhrī Gaṇeśh. How important it is how you live, with what purity and with what understanding.

So today is the day of Christ's resurrection. You should say it's a resurrection for all of us. He is the one who managed it, who did everything for us and He's the one who has helped us so much, otherwise Kuṇḍalinī could never have entered into Sahasrāra.

So one has to thank Him from your heart, plus you should try to imbibe His qualities. One other quality is there, that if people try to criticise your Mother or try to insult your Mother, you get angry.

That is just like Christ. He could not tolerate any insult or any kind of a neglect of His Mother. He Himself has said that this will not be tolerated. In the same way, you people also, if you have only for that, then I am with you.

I am absolutely with you, that you do not have any more the feeling of guilt or anything within yourself. When you understand that whatever you are doing, you are doing with complete sincerity, with complete understanding. Even if you make mistakes, doesn't matter. The mistake will also bring you something there, but you have to be extremely sincere. This feeling should be within you. Look at the feeling of Christ. I mean, He crucified Himself. He asked for the trouble. He went all the way there.

There was no need for Him to go, enter into that area and He got this. Of course, you are not going to be crucified for your resurrection, not at all, but, in a way, we have to crucify whatever is ugly, whatever is wrong, whatever is detrimental to your growth. You have to become really very beautiful people, very beautiful. Anybody who talks to you, anybody sees you should say that “I met such and such person. He's very beautiful and then I asked, `How is it you're so beautiful?' And the person said that `I am Sahaja Yogini.' " It's a very, very common experience of mine, very common experience and the main thing is that you have to respect your Self-realisation. Your resurrection has to be respected. If you do not respect your resurrection, you are not going to help yourself or others.

I met once, by chance, the High Court judge of Hague High Court, which is a world High Court. Just in Romania, he was sitting there. I was also sitting and he was looking at Me. Trying to locate him, I couldn't locate him and then we went to Paris and he was also in Paris, Frankfurt. He was changing and I was also changing there.

So he just came and asked, “By the way, have I met you before?" I said, “Maybe." I knew who he was, but I kept quiet. He said, “You know, I'm such and such and I went to India and there was a lady who cured me. Are you the one?" I said, “Yes. I am such and such." All right.

Then what he told Me was most encouraging was this. He said, “That time you cured me I felt gratified.

I thought you are one of the healers and all that, but when I saw the life of Doctor Nagen, you see, my colleague, the way he's transformed, the way he had become such a good man, such a wonderful person, I asked him once, `What has made you so good? How can you be such a good man in these bad times when from every side there's such an attack.' And also he took a very big stand." Which child is crying so? “And what, what was the thing? What made you such a good person? You are living in a place like this and you know how Hague is surrounded by all kinds of criminals and drugs and all that. And you are such a nice and a beautiful, saintly person. What has made you?" So then he told me, “You remember the lady who cured you. She has changed me completely. It is because of Her, I have become a yogi and that's why my life has changed because it gives you the style." So this man told Me. I was really very much touched.

So he said now, “Can I have your photograph?" I said, “I don't have any photograph." There were three, four Sahaja Yogis with Me. They were wearing the badges, but only there was one badge. But the secretary of the Hague High Court was also with him.

He got so much interested.

So he said, “Can I have the badge?" So we gave it to this judge.

So the other fellow says, “What about me? I would also like to have a badge." I said, “Are you going to carry this badge?" “Yes, yes, of course." Immediately wore it. Suddenly, Matheus found another badge, but they had gone to the aeroplane. Then he ran there and he told the air hostess, “Give it to the gentleman." “Ah, I saw one with this badge. All right, I'll give it to the other." And she took it inside.

Can you imagine these people of such high society, I should say, so highly placed in life, such intellectuals, they are the judges of the supreme high court, in the sense that is the supermost high court in Hague, world's high court and so humbled down because of one person whom they saw so changed.

So you can imagine how you can change your colleagues, how you can show better results by your proper dignified behaviour. It's going to work out very well if you have that example.

And Christ, why He impressed people so much? Because of His personal life. In His personal life He showed how powerful He was and then and His death He showed by His resurrection that He was something beyond human comprehension, where He has just become resurrected after death. Must be that He was absolutely purity personified, which He was.

So today we have to place ourselves in such a manner that we are ask for purity and purity and purity and that we are going to work out this purity within ourselves with full sincerity. We are not going to get into ego trip or anything that we are perfectly all right. No. We are just going to ask for complete purity within ourselves. This is what the Christ has given us, which we should achieve and we should really show that we can achieve that purity within ourselves. Whatever has happened, you forget it. You don't worry on that point.

Whatever has happened is a gone case. But whatever has to happen is this, that you all should ask for purity. All criticism, all hatred and all those things will disappear, plus the purity will give you that unique position that when people will even see your life, they will change. Only by seeing your life, they will change. I hope this works out very well here and maybe by the time I come next time we'll have lots, lots of Sahaja Yogis, beautifully connected to each other, beautifully having relations with each other and with children growing up very fast as well. I hope to come back here again to the land of Śhrī Gaṇeśha, where purity has taken over.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-03-31 Talk to the Scout Camp Leader (evening), the day after Easter Pūjā, Bundilla Scout Camp, 6 Baden Powell Pl, Winston Hills (35 kms E of Sydney), New South Wales, Australia (other date 04-01)

[When the arrangements were being made with the Scout camp for the Easter Pūjā seminar, the Scout camp leader was not very cooperative. As the weekend progressed his attitude towards the Sahaja Yogis and Shri Mataji mellowed down considerably. Apparently he attended the music program and came at the end of the Puia. The evening Shri Mataji was leaving the camp he asked to see Her and She met him. He complimented Shri Mataji on the love he saw among the Sahaja Yogis. Shri Mataji said:] Yes they all love each other and they all love Me. This is why there is love everywhere.

[The Scout leader had earned the highest Scout medal due to his services to the movement. This he presented to Shri Mataji, who said that Her husband had been awarded hundreds of medals throughout his life from the Order of Saint Michael onwards, but this was the first medal She has been given and She would enjoy showing it to Her husband.] [Shri Mataji praised the camp and said that the Sahaja Yogis will be returning next year. He said he would welcome them back as either the Scout organizer or as a fellow Sahaia Yogi. His duties at the camp covered a 24-hour period but he said he was taking time off regardless of the consequences to attend the upcoming, Public Programs.]

Contents: 1991-04-00 Two Quotes from a Newspaper Article, Perth, WA, Australia

Self-realisation is invaluable, you can't pay for it.

[About the mechanism which is like a power cord and must be plugged in:] for us to harness unused sectors of our brain and become a new breed of human being.

1991-04-00 Copy of a Newspaper Article, Perth, WA, Australia

Contents: 1991-04-05 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Brisbane, Queensland, Australia

Sahaja Yogi: I'm really sorry that she was the only one of the Brisbane media that turned up.

Shri Mataji: There were many expected?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, but not expected, I sent to all the television and radio stations and both newspapers and I found them yesterday and they all said the same story, “Maybe, it depends on what the day is like."

Shri Mataji: They are busy with something so-called important, all these newspapers. To be in the newspapers you have to be in the politics, that's the only way. Otherwise they don't care for you.

Sahaja Yogi: And they don't even listen because I told them in a way that Shri Mataji is in politics. I told them about Sir C.P. being who he was and introduced that angle and still they didn't buy it. I think if they see anything to do with God or the Spirit, they are frightened. Or they think It doesn't exist or, don't know. I don't know what we can do Śhrī Mother.

Shri Mataji: I think we are spreading the best way. Those who are the people, who would come to Sahaja Yoga would be coming, whosoever. But those who are not that kind, can never come.

So also to have too much advertisement and all that, I don't know how far we'll be successful. There may be some we can never give realisation perhaps. But you go on. In France now, the French government has taken a good look at it. They are sending some children for a crash course to know about Indian culture in seven days. Just like French.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, I'm sorry, we might have to get You to use this, there are people out there who can't hear.

Shri Mataji: They can't. I'm sorry.

So this crash course has started I think now. Nobody would take it up. They said it's all nonsense. I said better, because their children, may be they might be able to understand certain things. Perhaps they must have seen something good about it. Imagine in France to start a course like that. It seems that something is going into their heads. I think the way we are growing is the best because Sahaja Yogis have to also become real Sahaja Yogis, otherwise people see you and they reach certain conclusions. Moreover, we have had some horrible leaders in Australia, also in England then we had now somebody in Austria. And they have had the main thing, main weakness is for money. How they were grabbed into this weakness, God knows but they fell for it. And also their wives are responsible for that kind of thing.

So there was retarding influence, very much retarding influence on Sahaja Yoga and we really lost some of them.

So many were frustrated and upset about it. Recently we have one gentleman called Marcus, used the Sahaja Yogis, built his house, everything he did, borrowed money from them and then suddenly now he has decided to give up Sahaja Yoga and sell the house. Now the Sahaja Yogis are upset because they have given him money, they have given him labor and he's using that to make money out of that house.

So My only suggestion was that why didn't you tell Me that you were lending money to him. After all, it's very important. They thought that `You see, how could he do such a thing?' I said, “But still, now I have to warn all of you that if there is any extra money asked for, best is to inform Me." I'm going to tell all the leaders also that they have to inform Me if they are collecting any extra money from you on certain things. In a group like ours, where we live with trust, we know that we are better off people than others are and we don't have all those horrible qualities of lust and greed as they have, at least we have tried to come over it.

Then it's important to understand these two points. People are very vulnerable and if they find anything like that, they should inform Me. Also I've been informed that, say for Me I'm travelling, formerly I used to come with My own money, then gradually they said, “It's very wrong Mother, why should You pay for our salvation?" And also for My programs here like our halls are to be booked. Now you've got some musicians to come here to help you. They do help very much, no doubt.

So in every country they have to collect some money for our programs. Now I was told that there are very few people who contribute to that kind of thing. It's not because you have got realisation you have to pay. It's not because you have been benefitted physically, mentally or emotionally, none of these but because it's your responsibility. It has to be your life. You have to involve into it. It's not only for getting married in Sahaja Yoga and having a good married life or by which you get a good ashram where you can live comfortably. But try to understand that how important it is today to save people from completely getting drowned. I mean I was surprised that such a little amount is charged and still people don't want to pay. After all who is going to pay for it? As you know the situation is very, very bad in America. We have now statistics that sixty-five per cent people, white skinned people will suffer from incurable diseases, also mentally, schizophrenia. And those who remain will be only mostly from Asia or from other cultures. Even the black people, I don't know how many are going to survive, because they try to copy completely and fall into the same trap. Everywhere apart from these diseases, people are taking drugs and these drugs also can take you to some diseases, of mental disorders maybe.

So what will happen? We have to think for future also, for our children.

What sort of a world we are going to give them? Of course, in Sahaja Yoga you don't have to pay for Self-realisation, you don't have to pay for anything else. Otherwise if you see a Guru, this Guru Mai, who has come, she charged three hundred pounds to begin with, ended up with three thousand pounds, in Italy.

They raised an objection to her. She said, “I'm an entertainer, you cannot charge me any income tax." Because she gets lot of money, she can advertise better. Anywhere, she can even run her own newspaper if she charges more. She charges more, she gets hold of rich people. And a kind of immoral life she leads if you see, you will be shocked. We have the whole report about her Guru. If you read that, you'll be so surprised that he was a very immoral and a very great cheat person. Just see for yourself, you'll be shocked [UNCLEAR what Sahaja Yoga is]. And people gave in thousands and thousands to this man who collected, as I was told by income tax people in India that he had six hundred crores, means I don't know in...

Sahaja Yogi: Crore is ten million, Mother. Six billion, six American billion you could say.

Shri Mataji: Six billion worth of diamonds only apart from rest of the money. They must be really stupid fool to give him money and that's how they must have been with him. But that means wise people come to Sahaja Yoga, no doubt. But wisdom should also give you a sense of responsibility, it's very important. Now at this age I'm travelling, you know, every third day I'm travelling. It's all right only in Australia but I travel all over the world.

So I enjoy it because I think I'm doing My job. That's why I'm on this earth. I'm not paid for it, nothing, this is what I feel. But I don't need Sahaja Yoga you know that very well. Sahaja Yoga is not for Me. I don't need it at all. While you all need it and you all need it for your children and your grandchildren and the generation that is going to come. Because this is such a great revolution and in any revolution people sacrifice their lives. They made so many sacrifices. They made so many years of their lives dedicated to that work, to achieve that freedom.

So we have to also understand, we have to little bit take responsibility of Sahaja Yoga. And this thing I've found out that people in Russia do it without asking. They haven't got much money with them.

They have rubles but they can donate any amount of rubles. Imagine they book for Me always a stadium.

Everyday I have to speak in a stadium, everyday. Can you imagine if you have to book a stadium here, can we pay for it everyday? That might be the reason that God sees that we are not in a position to hold meeting in a bigger place.

So, let it go slow. While in India we have luckily open grounds and we can have meetings in the open grounds in the villages. But in big cities people take up responsibilities to arrange everything in a proper way.

So we have not to take it just as a by the way thing this Sahaja Yoga. It's a primary thing in life because these are very, very special days I feel. From Kali Yuga we are jumping into Satya Yuga. The interval between always has something, they call as Krita Yuga, where this All-pervading Power tries to create a further movement of our evolution. Now this time is very, very special because the jump is too big. From Kali Yuga we have to jump into Satya Yuga.

So this All-pervading Power has become over overactive. The activity of the All-pervading Power is so great that I Myself am amazed how to go fast with it, so we get the best of the all the advantages of this time. But in Sahaja Yoga also I find people who are there, they mentally work about it, like in a way they are little critical about someone or some work or something as if that one, that part, is not their responsibility. Like they'll come to an ashram supposing, now they'll say, “Oh, that should have been better colour here, I think” or something like that. Who will do it? I'm not going to paint it.

So everything I find wrong I have to correct it, is our responsibility.

It's a tremendous vision. I'm sure it will work out. But where will it work out? Where we'll have really dedicated Sahaja Yogis, in that big way.

So the dedication is so important and if you are dedicated then also the Divine is dedicated towards you, you get the blessings of that, in every way, from every angle you get the blessings. It all works in such a beautiful manner that it's amazing, people are amazed and I'm also amazed that how individually everybody is blessed. Now as you know My husband has got this special award and he has got thirty-one more awards. Major awards from thirty-one countries and he's the only one in the whole world who has got these thirty-two awards, in the whole world. And the award he has got is the highest. There are very few people who have got it. One of them is Mister Reagan and I mean for an Indian is out of question.

There are five types of Knighthoods and this is the highest of highest, which he got it. And he just started thinking about it and in one of the meetings he said that, I think in Poona he said it, “It's only because of my wife I am blessed. Because She's so selflessly working for the betterment of people that perhaps the Divine is kind to me and that's how I got it." Even Mister Parkinson in his meeting very sweetly said, I mean English you know how they are, not easy to give awards. [UNCLEAR]. But very sweet man Parkinson, he made a big issue of the whole thing. We were invited in Lancaster House which you know is a very rare place for English to invite and there were so many others also from British parliament. And the British parliament itself invited us and gave My husband presents which are very special type. My husband said that “there are many like me” nothing so special. Even in this meeting when Parkinson said that “I have heard about legends, I never knew I'm going to see one legend and here it is somebody sitting in front of me." Then later on after dinner they started talking.

So Parkinson asked Mister Srivastava that, “By the way how will you look with all these thirty-two awards on your body, because something for a super human being to have." He joked that I'll look like a ring master in a circus. But all the time he felt he's so much changed, My husband, so much changed.

He became extremely humbled down and he started suddenly caring too much for Me. He said, “You are extremely precious for the whole world” and he's very sure that it's only because I'm so much blessed by God that he's being looked after. And every walk of life, you see, he has been specially very helpful as far as money is concerned.

In the beginning of course I mean we had to spend all My money to travel. First time when I came to Australia, twice I came with My own money and also your first leaders they came to India, I paid for them throughout.

So, he never objected to it. Anytime even now I mean if I need money for anything for Sahaja Yoga, he's the first to donate. This year I don't know how much money he has really given. He said this is the last year when I can really donate because now I will be retiring. But as a result how he's blessed even money-wise you will be surprised, because whenever we sold our houses in London, he got ten times more, twelve times more price.

Which is out of the blue, I mean nobody got it like that and the house was sold in no time without no problems and he has so much surplus money. And he's kept money for Me, for My travel and everything in the bank. But he told Me one thing that You have to show some income here otherwise our government will start asking how are you living there. Because after all it's My husband's money but still he's supposed to declare all his money. Though he's donated it to Me but still we have to show some income. I said, “All right I'll try to see if I can arrange some sort of a royalty or something for My tapes and things." So, actually, you see, he's so oversatisfied about it and he knows that.

He says, “Nothing can happen to our family, nobody can touch our children and My son-in-laws are also doing very well, My daughters are doing very well, My grandchildren are doing very well. I have no problem from My family and they all support Me, they are always with Me and they are all very generous, they are quite well-to-do people. They have no problem with money but they think that all blessings are because of You alone doing all this for Sahaja Yoga. And we have no family problems as some people have of this and that, no quarrels, nothing of the kind." This time I told him that Sahaja Yogis are here. He said that “You must invite them for lunch to our place." I said, “I won't be here." He said, “Don't worry, I'll arrange." And he really did such a good job of it. Those who have been to Pratishthan this time here, you see, remember that lunch he arranged. All arranged by him. From menu, he did everything himself and he had to leave very soon after that. But he saw to it that he stayed there, entertained you all. And I have reports that on My birthday they had a Pūjā, perhaps in England, he was there, invited him and he gave a very beautiful lecture to them about Sahaja Yoga.

So once you believe that you are blessed, then you should feel like doing something for it. And once you have that feeling within you, you'll be really helped. As I have told you that Krita Yuga has started. Now you have seen My photographs so many of them. I've got some of them. Have you got them here? Where is he? Steve, have you got those photographs, which you have enlarged? So many of them. I mean one better than the other. Recently we had some more which are not here.

So the whole of Śhrī Chakra is on My head, like this, has come out with great light.

So for you to believe that you are now in a different age, you cannot think about it and you cannot question it, you just have a look at it and what are we doing about it? Where are we? While if you see, these Gurus are never asked any questions, nothing. Just they want to do for this, just to keep him pleased. While what is his game? He's got so many Rolls-Royces, he's got this, he's got that, but the reputation-wise he has none. But definitely he has very dedicated disciples, extremely, all of them and in thousands. Apart from that they give money, they really never ask him any questions and have such dedicated disciples, absolutely. You have to read.

Now we have got a report about the of this Guru Mai and you read and you will see what it is and then you will be amazed how people were dedicated to this man who has not given them anything, who was so immoral and on the contrary he just lynched them.

So then our righteousness is challenged and we have to see that. We have to go all out to do our level best to achieve spreading of Sahaja Yoga. Nothing else. When you start spreading your depth also will improve, like the tree when it starts growing outward it starts growing inwards also. I've been talking about it since I came here because there have been so many mishaps in Australia and no more of that now. If you people are extremely dedicated, immediately you'll have that depth and that strength to oust anybody who tries to spoil the image of Sahaja Yoga and to understand it. Because it's not only that you are going to enjoy, it's only you are going to feel the blessings, but all the rest of the world will be thankful to you. I wish you could see this and also read about them.

And another thing is that some non-Sahaja Yogi has made a horoscope for Me, from some special type, R. V. Rāman, who was a very famous astrologer and this fellow is I think his disciple of whatever it is and he is completely surrendered to Me now. Also you should read.

So convince yourself and try to introspect.

You see, this is what we have to learn from the Russians because they introspect. What are we doing about it? If they find one person doing wrong immediately they get out. What are we doing about it? We have ego or we have miserliness or we have some conditionings. Are we saving our lives? This is very important. Instead of finding faults with Sahaja Yogis and Sahaja Yoga, better find faults with yourself.

Try to correct it and also to understand the greatness of Sahaja Yoga. You must have that kind of a mind to understand the greatness of Sahaja Yoga. It's not only that I love you, it's not only that you have to love Me, but you have to love the whole world. You have to have concern for the whole world. What was Christ? What was Buddha? What was Mahāvīra? Any one of them. They were born with that concern.

Now you have all the powers. Only what is lacking is the concern and that's what you have to develop.

May God bless you all! Thank you.

Contents: 1991-04-06 Bhava-sāgara Pūjā, Brisbane, Queensland, Australia

This is the first time we are having a Pūjā in Brisbane and I'm happy so many have come here from various places.

You know that by Pūjā, you excite the Chakras within Me and you get lots of vibrations and you achieve, suddenly, a height in your awareness. You do achieve that, but after some time they say that: “Mother, again we come down." Also, they were saying that: “When we go to India we are all right and when we come back, again we come down." Luckily, now we have an Ashram, which is a very good thing.

To have an ashram itself is a, I must say, is a very, very positive thing because that is how Gaṇeśha is established here.

So Ashram is here for a collective living, but collective living of spirituality. It's not just living here, but it is of spirituality. And we have to know certain things about the discipline that we have to keep, is very important. It's not just a house where are...

Some people have gathered together to live together, but it has to have a discipline. Then only you'll be helped, because if you do not come to the Ashram with this idea that you are going there to ascend yourself, it will make no difference whether you stay in the house or you go in the Ashram.

So there are two types of meditation, two types, where one is the meditation where, we can call it the Antarmana, that we meditate inside ourselves. To see for ourselves what's wrong with us and how we have to correct, what we have to do about it. And another is Bahirmana, is outside, how we have to live outside. You have to have a discipline, which is not imposed on you but, very happily, which you have accepted and have imbibed. For any art, say in India, I don't know here, but you have to put yourself into a rigorous training to achieve any height. You cannot haphazardly move about it. You cannot take just easily everything. In Sahaja Yoga there is no Tapascharya, there is no penance for you. It's all blessings.

But one should not get lost with those blessings, if you have to really get into yourself in its full depth.

So, for the Antarmana it is important that you all should meditate, morning and evening, every day.

Is all right even if you do not brush your teeth, but you must meditate is an important thing. That is the reason I find that in the West people go on catching, again cleaning, again catching. Every time I come... find somebody is suffering from either... for some sort of a conditioning, or say, some sort of a badha, or sometimes it's ego or something. It comes and goes. It is not something that is detached permanently.

As we have to take our bath every day, we have to wash ourselves every day, in the same way we have to wash ourselves within.

So meditation is the Antarmana Tapaha, as you can call it. But it's not such a Tapaha even. You don't have to go to Himālayas and sit there. You have to just do this meditation early in the morning.

In the Sahaja Yoga system, I would say the best that is working out is in Germany and in Austria, these two; and also England, but not to that extent. I would say these two are working out the best; and thirdly, in Rome.

They too have ashrams of the same kind, but for them it is very important to achieve the heights of Sahaja Yoga. Absolutely. Nothing is more important.

Invariably, in all these ashrams I've seen people get up at four o'clock. I also get up every day at four.

Then I may sleep later on, but at four o'clock I am up. They take their baths, get ready for the Pūjās and then sit down and do about five, ten minutes Pūjā of the photograph and then meditate. Then they go and have some breakfast or something. Then when they come home from work, also they sit down together to meditate, that's the collective part of it, or discuss whatever is to be done, what, how are we to propagate Sahaja Yoga. They just talk about Sahaja Yoga, or they decide what should be done, what is the best way to solve the problems of Sahaja Yoga. And then in the night, before sleeping, invariably all of them, all of them, one and all, even children before sleeping, soak their feet in the water, sit for meditation and sleep. That's why I find Austria has come up so well and Germans. You know, Germans are like that. If something gets into their heads, for them that's the most important thing; then they do not sort of fickle out. There's no... they don't have any compromises on those points. And they make their body work hard.

Now, what is the Tapa in this thing here, the penance? That our body is used to some sort of a life.

India also, we are all like that in India, everybody will get up in the morning and they will sit for Pūjā, or they will sit for meditation. I mean, that goes without saying, you don't have to tell them. Because that's the traditional thing to do in India: always when they get up, have their bath, they always do some Pūjā, all of them. If they're Christians, also, they'll sit down and pray. Muslims, they'll do Namaz. That's a kind of a practice and the breeding of the family.

Here I find that the parents do not take the responsibility to pass on any information to children about disciplining themselves, because children are also extremely aggressive. They don't want to know about it.

So the parents also dare not tell them that: `It is good for you, please do it this way; it is better that you meditate.' They're afraid that they may lose their children if they tell them like this. Or, `You pray,' or `You get up at this time,' you dare not tell them that you get up at this time. This is the greatest crime in the West, if you tell them that: `You have to get up at four o'clock', abbah. It's like the worst punishment. But once you start getting up in the morning, you'll get the habit and then you'll sleep early.

Then you can sleep early. Getting up in the morning, really, will help you for the whole day.

So start this kind of a practice. You must meditate every day and this is the reason why I find people, whenever I come, they're again caught up, something gone wrong. This is wrong, that is wrong; they're caught up here and there. Why should you? Day by day, you must rise. Day by day, you should be at a much higher state and this new breeding has to come within us, that we are Sahaja Yogis. And we are not here only, just to have good food and to have a nice time or nice meetings, but we are here to become those unique personalities, which are required to raise the humanity to a higher state.

So you have to be, now, responsible for yourself. You have to look after yourself and you have to tell yourself: `Mister So-and-so, Mrs.

So-and-so, please now behave yourself.' Otherwise, Sahaja Yoga is lost to you. It's not going to help you much. We might increase in quantity, but quality-wise we'll be missing; and one attack of negativity can finish such a quantity that we think is too much, it has happened once.

So now, all of you must develop that dedication to yourself, to find out what's your problem and how you have to correct it. If it is done every day, I can assure you, you will have no problem of any kind.

Your thoughts will stop, your problems will be solved and you'll have no catches at all, because you've washed them off. But if you leave them on your being, then they grow and they become big.

So there should be no lethargy, as far as meditation is concerned, but joyfully you'll start doing, after some time.

You won't be happy if you have not done it. But in the beginning you'll have to goad yourself and tell yourself that this body has to be cleaned; but more than that body, this mind and intellect, both of them, are to be corrected. To be an instrument of God, you have to be perfect, perfect personality, otherwise we may not be able to communicate the message of Sahaja Yoga in the proper way. Many people say that: “We are surrendered to Mother and we are surrendered to Her and our surrendering will get everything." But what are you surrendering? Is that a clean heart, or a heart full of all kinds of wrong things? Or is that the intelligence, which is a very superior type of clean intelligence? Or else, are you coming out with all your arrogance? So though there is the Ganges of Sahaja Yoga flowing, still you have to have the depth of a pitcher. A stone cannot fetch any water. Same with children. Of course, as they'll be going to India, I'm sure they'll form proper routines and they'll form proper meditation methods.

It is obvious that we have never had the sense of Divinity in the West. Whatever we had, whatever we got from the church or from any synagogue or something like that, which was only Sunday to Sunday, Sunday to Sunday; for a Muslim it is Friday to Friday, Friday to Friday, finished. But that has led them nowhere.

So we have to do something about it. Problems will be solved in no time. You don't have to sit down and contemplate and worry: how will you solve your problem? It will be solved. But what cannot be solved is the habits you have developed, habits of lethargy.

I can understand in London if the people are lethargic, but they are not. They have become extremely, extremely hardworking, active and also dedicated. How they have achieved it? Only by knowing that this dedication brings forth all the cleansing and all the powers. Now, supposing this instrument is not clean.

You won't be able to even hear Me, it is useless.

So our instrument has to be perfect to manifest Sahaja Yoga. If it is not, all the defects can have double effects; like, first it will affect you, you can never feel the full advantage of Sahaja Yoga and secondly it will affect the people who will meet you and gradually they'll find out there's something wrong with you. “Some sort of a subdued madness” they'll say, “this Sahaja Yoga is, because I don't find anything great about this man. He's halfway here and halfway there." Once you start getting deeper into your being, you'll be amazed that you can develop such capacities that you'll be amazed at yourself. Of course there are blessings, there are miracles, but think of your own capacities. What are your capacities? How far are you able to do something about curing people? We have few people in Bombay [Mumbai] and very few people in Pune also. But they are available for curing.

Some of them are going to villages. Now they have asked Me to give them a jeep, so they could take a music party to the villages and sing there and achieve a greater number of Sahaja Yogis. But when they come back, immediately, whether they come in the daytime or in the night, immediately they wash their feet before the photograph.

Also to protect yourself, you have to give yourself a bandhan, all the time. It is not you should say: “Now, I'm all right." You should not say that: “I am perfect." You should not say: “Now I'm a Sahaja Yogi." Never, never think like that. The moment you start thinking you are perfect, you are finished.

So before going out, you must give a proper bandhan. Also before sleeping you must give a proper bandhan.

Put your attention to your Sahasrāra and then sleep.

It's very amazing how things work out. Immediately you will know a person is meditating or not, immediately. It's like he is a person who has given a bath to the child. Though he has given a bath to the child, still he has not taken a bath. You can make it out, the difference between the two. In the same way, those who have been meditating every day, morning and evening, not much time needed. You see, we waste all our time in something nonsensical. When there is complete understanding of yourself and complete understanding of these vibrations, then only you can handle them properly. All this knowledge is for you. Is absolutely free as you know and all this mastery can be yours.

So do not just get satisfied: “All right, today's Sunday, we'll go to the church, take the hymn book, let us sing this hymn number such-and-such, again sit down, get up, sit down." Come back home just the same.

So today I have really thought of telling all of you that you have to develop the depth within yourself.

And if you cannot develop that depth, then you are still a mediocre. Actually all these great secrets about the Goddess or Her powers, were not told to anyone like that. Never. Only when they had completed their oneness, I would say the full idea, full understanding between the oneness of God and your relationship with that, absolutely, nobody would do anything before that.

Now the days are, of Sahaja Yoga, are so simple that as soon as you get realisation, you can start giving realisation to others. Immediately. Just under your hand you will see the Kuṇḍalinī will move. You put your hand on somebody's head and you'll find that person gets realisation. It's a fact. It just works that way. But that means, for many: `Oh, there's nothing to be done. After all, is all done by Mother, we have just achieved something.' You can always understand that Mother can only work out a very good instrument and not a weak instrument.

So now, we have some very great Sahaja Yogis who have gone very deep into it. Invariably, whenever I asked, they say: “Mother, every day we worship. We worship morning and evening, every day.

We either wash our feet and sit down before Your photograph and worship Your photograph, or else in the morning time also we do something like that." And amazingly, you can make them out immediately.

There may be six hundred people at the airport, but immediately I know who has been meditating every day.

Now, it is for us. We have been doing Sahaja Yoga for the last, now, more than twenty years and now we are entering into twenty-first year, we can say; but I'm ready, you see, it is like that, because now it was 1970 and now it is 1990, so it is all this thing, plus ninety-one.

So much time we have had. Of course, I would say, you didn't get your realisation at that time; but whatever time you got the realisation, I did not judge how far you were in it. I said: “First let them have their realisation." They got their realisation.

So once they got their realisation, you see, people who have really felt the responsibility, from the very first day they got to it, from the very first day. I didn't have to tell them. I'm not talking about Indians, I'm talking about others. And they've done, they have shown tremendous improvement, tremendous.

We have been sending you Indian boys from there, Indian girls from there, just for you to know that they can also help you in Sahaja Yoga. It definitely can help you. You have to have a proper type of a person and you'll be amazed at the way they are, that they can impart everything and they are least bothered about their ego. There's no ego at all.

So you are not achieving all this for your ego. You are achieving it because you are a seeker and now you have become a Sahaja Yogi.

So it is to be understood that it's not something like a advantage in money wise, or something that I have to have a power, this, that; because if you do not meditate, your attention will go to such things.

Immediately you'll start thinking: `Can I become the leader?' All right, if not: `Should I debase the leader? How can I insult him? How can I fight for that? How can I do that? How can I work it out this way?' You try to insult also. If not possible, you might use violence sometimes, anger, because you are not yet, I should say, that much evolved, so much mature, so much wiser.

So now, what you have to do is to... at the very first shot when you get up in the morning, you first say that: `Let me see, what is my responsibility, as a Sahaja Yogi?' After some time you will start enjoying it, because it will give you such tremendous powers, such tremendous experience. Now then, you just sit down with very humble mind and first of all say: `Mother, if I have any ego, please take away. Mother, if I have any conditioning, please take away; because I'm a seeker out and out, I don't want all these things.' But if you do not meditate, then this Mister Ego will secretly crawl upon you and you may try to become the leader, or some sort of an assertion you'll do, some sort of a stupid ego actions, which we have many in Sahaja Yoga.

If you write them down, you'll not know how to stop laughing.

So to warn yourself, I would say that the only way to protect yourself is to do the meditation in the morning and evening and also to keep yourself in complete bandhan. Yours is a very important role and a very important time, extremely important.

You have no idea, that in the history of spirituality no one could do so much as you can do.

So, if you really do the Antarmana, if you really see inside yourself, while meditating you see yourself, your Chakras and all that and then you find out this introspection: `Why am I like this?' Just separate from yourself, see for yourself: `Why am I like this? Why I did like this? Why do I think like this? Who am I?' These questions when answered, you will know all your worth, your value.

I do not know how much I should stress, how much more is needed to stress the importance of meditation, every day. Like these advertisements you see, every day they just go on bombarding on your head, and: `Buy this, buy that, buy, buy, buy, buy, buy.' It acts. In the same way, you have to every day bombard yourself: `Now, meditation. Get to meditation. Get to meditation.' Then you'll be surprised that when you all go out, you'll see something beautiful; immediately you'll get into thoughtless awareness. Don't have to do. As soon as you'll meet a Sahaja Yogi, immediately into thoughtless; the other person, you both will go. Everything you start enjoying in a very different manner.

And such beautiful feelings come in, such beautiful security is built up that you're surprised: `How I could be like that? How I could feel these securities just expressing themselves in such a beautiful manner?' Because if you are, say, washed and clean, simple thing, everyday life, then before touching everything you are careful that you don't again spoil them. If there's a sarī, which is dirty, absolutely dirty, then if there are two spots or hundred spots, makes no difference. But when it is absolutely clean, then even the slightest spot you can get worried, because everybody will see that. In the same way, unless and until you cleanse yourself every day, you will not know what's wrong with you.

I hope you'll pay full attention to what I've said here today, with full attention on your inner being projecting out, like a witness to yourself. Just see how you talk to others: `Why should I talk like that? What is the need to talk?' And then you'll start understanding that behind all this is some sort of a funny thing going on in my brain and this brain has to be corrected, Very important.

Now, at the end of the day we should find out: `What good things I have done for Sahaja Yoga?' Also, we can find out how I have been not up to the point in Sahaja Yoga. If it could be done, you find out: `How far I have gone with these powers to spread Sahaja Yoga? How far I can go?' It's really remarkable because, as I told you, in Austria we have some boys who are all the time researching about Sahaja Yoga. They have read the book of Ādi Shañkarāchārya, which I have not yet read. They have read all kinds of things, just to find out how far they are and as a result they themselves went on developing very, very deep into their beings; but the way, you see, you go on developing deep, deep, deep, deep, deep and you'll be amazed the deeper you go, you won't show off, you won't show off.

It will just emit.

Like, one gentleman once came to My house and they said: “Mother, some cooler has come inside. It looks [like] some cooler has come inside. Ya, ya, there's a cooler coming." He didn't say anything, didn't do anything. Just walking inside the house: “Some cooler has come." You just felt, you know; like in the forest if you go and you find complete silence, even the birds are not twittering. They know there's a tiger sitting there. Tiger doesn't do anything; it's just sleeping maybe, poor thing. But the whole place is awed by his presence, you see. In the same way, a Sahaja Yogi, anywhere, will stand out. Look at these saints, they didn't know how to raise even the Kuṇḍalinī, but they were very pure people. They never raised anybody's Kuṇḍalinī. They never gave realisation to anyone. They were extremely pure people. There was no impurity left in them. And so, how much they could produce: what poetry, what work, what spiritual ideas, what sayings; I mean, tremendous, such depth in whatever they did, such effectiveness.

Now, we are here to gain our spirituality, not to gain money, not to gain positions, powers, nothing.

We are here to gain our spirituality and in that spirituality, it's all there.

All the satisfaction, everything is there. It will have an effect on the children. It will have an effect on the surroundings, in every way and the personality.

So it's not a question also individuals doing that, but collectively doing it. The collective should look a beautiful thing.

So you should have, I would say, in an ashram, a collective meditation.

In Austria they do it early in the morning, four o'clock, collectively.

So they know how many are there and how many are missing, this, that. But I said: “Don't point out. Let's see."

When those who have been doing meditation like that rise so high, others start following them.

So don't think about others: what time he got up. It's I; I have to look after myself. It's very selfish: Swarth. You have to know the meaning of Swa, that is selfishness and when you know that meaning, then you are not bothered whatsoever anybody might say, whatsoever one may try to do. Supposing your husband is funny: `Oh, doesn't matter. He'll come round.' Supposing your wife is funny: `Doesn't matter, she'll come round.' It is nothing important. To you, this is the most important thing to do and all those who have thought like this and have acted like this, were above everything. Nothing can put them down.

So, today is the first day of Brisbane. I bless you all, that you should have this full idea about yourself, why you are on this earth and what great work you are supposed to do. Each one of you is capable. Each one of you can do it, but you... I would request you that you imbibe these qualities within you, which are already there. I mean, I wouldn't say `imbibe,' but you manifest them and once you start manifesting, see your temperament how it is.

We'll look after your children; don't worry.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-04-08 Śhrī Gaurī Pūjā, Residence near Ashram, Parnell, Auckland, New Zealand

Gaurī is the mother of Śhrī Gaṇeśha and She produced Śhrī Gaṇeśha because She was having a bath and to protect Her chastity She created Śhrī Gaṇeśha.

In the same way, Kuṇḍalinī is the Gaurī and we have got Gaṇeśha sitting in the Mūlādhāra Chakra.

So we have Mūlādhāra as the abode of the Gaurī, of Kuṇḍalinī and the protection of the Kuṇḍalinī is done by Śhrī Gaṇeśha. As you know, Śhrī Gaṇeśha is the deity which is for our innocence. Only Śhrī Gaṇeśha could be there in that position because as you know the pelvic plexus looks after all the excretory functions and it is Śhrī Gaṇeśha only who can really stay there without getting dirty by the surroundings, He is so pure; He is so innocent, while the Kuṇḍalinī is the virgin, the virgin mother of Śhrī Gaṇeśha.

People have started talking against Mary by saying that there was something wrong, “How could a virgin get a child?" because we do not understand it is God and in the area of God anything is possible. They're above all these things and they can create anything and in any way Gaṇeśha had to be born out of a virgin because He was so pure.

So Kuṇḍalinī has to be supported by Śhrī Gaṇeśh. If Śhrī Gaṇeśha is weak, then Kuṇḍalinī cannot be supported. Śhrī Gaṇeśha has to support her in the awakening part first of all. When the Kuṇḍalinī is getting awakened, Śhrī Gaṇeśha stops all the functions that it has to perform. All the functions are stopped so that, you must have seen, I sit for nine hours, ten hours sometimes, I don't get up, because all functions of Śhrī Gaṇeśha, everything stops when the Kuṇḍalinī is rising. She is fully supported and looked after by Śhrī Gaṇeśha. The Kuṇḍalinī is the energy that you know which gives you your ascent, but it is a virgin energy. It's a energy that is detached; it doesn't get attached to any center, to any function, only one function it has to do, is to slowly and steadily pass through all these centers, nourish them, give them whatever they like, whatever they want, whatever they can bear and slowly and steadily open the Sahasrāra. She is coiled up in three and a half coils it has a mathematical significance why three and a half, why she is, I think in My book I have described about her. But though she's a virgin energy, still she is so wise, so sensible, so loving and so caring that when she rises She doesn't give any complications to you. She doesn't even make you feel that she's rising, in some people she does, when the people are not normal, some obstruction is there; then you do feel it, but normally you do not even feel how she is rising.

She goes up in a way automatically, supported by the whole mechanism when she rises from one center to another center. The lower center first opens for her to enter in and then it augments, it closes down so that it can keep the Kuṇḍalinī in its place, then it goes higher, there again till it pierces through Sahasrāra, this ascending of Kuṇḍalinī goes on. This is what is raj Yoga that is not artificial, something outside, but the spontaneous working of the mechanism is raj Yoga As I always say that when you start the motorcar all the mechanism starts working by itself, but by just moving the wheel you cannot make the car move. In the same way, when the Kuṇḍalinī is rising, She rises spontaneously and passes through these six centers.

That time she also at Viśhuddhi, she opens the Viśhuddhi and when she emerges through it at that time the tongue is a little bit pulled in just to keep the flow on. This reaction is called as khechari so when people are very deeply in meditation, those who have achieved great heights in meditation, they find suddenly they get into khechari situation, or we call as mudra in that state as if some nectar starts flowing from your palette. If you move your tongue upward like that you'll feel the cool coming down your tongue: try that.

Now this, you don't have to do when you are in deep meditative state. It starts cooling down your tongue slowly as automatically you get into khechari state. As far as Sahaja Yogis are concerned today, there are very few who really feel that way. The reason is you do not meditate. We do not pay attention to our realisation, also. We talk about it quite a lot, in the West specially we discuss it more than to do something about it. We have to meditate every day, just like washing our hands or just like cleaning our teeth, we have to in the morning time meditate and also in the evening we have to meditate. We have to meditate both the times otherwise we cannot rise, we cannot grow. Just to think that we are realised Souls you do not become. This cleansing has to be done every day, every day in and out. And this is why none of the experiences which are described are felt sometimes in Sahaja Yoga and people ask, “Mother, how it is that we don't feel the khechari?" Because your attention is not also there where it should have been.

So one has to try to meditate in such a manner that it is working of the Kuṇḍalinī is facilitated. The Chakras are cleansed out and ultimately you are in a state of meditation. It is not a question of how to go into meditation, but is the question how to be in meditation all the time.

So as you know that Kuṇḍalinī, when she reaches the Āgñyā Chakra and when She opens Āgñyā Chakra, then you can be in thoughtless awareness, then you don't think, thinking just stops. You watch everything, just watch, but you do not get involved into what you are watching, but you just watch and that watching itself gives you the growth within. Think of the tree which is, say, in a turmoil order during earthquake: it won't grow. When the earthquake stops, everything becomes quiet, everything is peaceful, then only the tree can grow. In the same way, our growth can only take place if we are peaceful within ourselves.

So for a Kuṇḍalinī growing wider and wider and rising higher and higher, first thing is we must have peace within ourselves, but this peace is possible if you can make really peace with others. If you cannot make peace with others who are in Sahaja Yoga, who are in the collective, if you are in a turmoil, this Kuṇḍalinī can never rise. That is why collectivity is so important. Without collectivity your Viśhuddhi cannot open and without collectivity you cannot have the growth of your spirituality. It's the growth of the spirituality as they say the tree of life is upside down and the roots are in the brain and this Kuṇḍalinī has to go and water that brain, as we water the roots. Then it starts growing downward and that's how you start expanding. When you start expanding, then you touch the depth of your divinity and once you have touched the depths of your divinity then you start working it out in such a manner that people will know that you are yoginis, you are people of higher realm, you have something great. It is not how many times you read something, it's not how many times you talk about Sahaja Yoga, it's not even how many times you just go on reciting names, but how many times from your heart your pure desire is to ascend.

If this pure desire got upon you, then the first thing and the last thing you'll do is to meditate, you can't do without it. Even if you try, you can't do without it. If you will sleep without meditating, you'll think `Oh, I have not meditated', not out of guilt, but `I have missed something, I have missed something.' That should happen to us.

So this power of Gaurī has to be respected because she's our mother; she's our individual mother, she has given us second birth. She is the one who knows all about us; she's so gentle, so kind, how she slowly rises. She doesn't give us trouble; she takes all the trouble of penetrating through these centers and she gives us a second birth, because she understands everything, she knows everything; she organizes everything; she brings forth all the beauty that you are. Once you start developing that beauty within yourself, then you'll be surprised how powerful you are, that all these things are of the same nature is the truth that you discover, is the same as the beauty, is the same as the joy. You don't have to think that joy is separate, truth is different, beauty is different. Because we are not yet at that point we just take one facet, but once we reach that point then the whole thing seems to be one. There is no differentiation at all. It's all one. Many facets of a diamond but it's one diamond and that diamond is your self, your spirit.

So today is a very great day, we have to thank our mother, our Kuṇḍalinī, the Gaurī for giving us realisation and to know that we have to every time awaken Her, every time we have to expand Her and every time to worship Her so that we always keep our realisation intact and keep our ascent intact. It is this ascent which is going to transform all the human beings.

So you have to pray to Her that keep us pure, make us pure, She purifies you, Her job is to purify your Chakras, so please purify us, make our hearts clean, our minds clean, everything clean and ultimately keep our connection forever and everlasting so that we feel this beautiful power of God's love flowing through us. For that, whatever is necessary he will do, will be very much in the collective, will sacrifice anything and also will try to be very sensible, will try to spread Sahaja Yoga, because when you spread Sahaja Yoga like a tree then the depth will grow also.

But it has to be done with the same beauty as the awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī. She has not troubled you, she has not given any problems to you, so from that one has to learn that we have to behave in a manner the way Kuṇḍalinī is so gentle, so sweet, so nice, so effective and she brings our life to some meaning.

She completes the meaning of our life, she completes our desires and she takes us to the point where we start seeing the whole thing, the whole universe as one, all human beings as one. She gives us collective consciousness. All this work is done by Kuṇḍalinī alone.

Of course, if she does not go to any Chakras and does not awaken any deity, we cannot even have the fruits of those Chakras being awakened.

So it is all her work, all her ascent, all her understanding and wisdom which has given us this beautiful state that we call ourselves as yogis.

So I would request you all to pay attention to your Kuṇḍalinī, try to raise her all the time, see that you get your vibrations, also see that not only that you get your vibrations all right but also for others you have a different attitude, do not criticise others, do not say anything about how wrong they are but just see how right they are and what good they are capable of. She is a virgin and still so wise. In the same way we have to be very wise, very sensible. We cannot afford to waste our time now because we have to save the whole world, is our responsibility. If we do not now work out even our own Chakras, we cannot help anyone.

So first of all we must work out our own Chakras and then we can help the whole world. It's not something like a cult or an organization where you just say, `I belong to this cult or this organization.

So it's all right, I'll be saved by God.' That's not promised in Sahaja Yoga. There's nothing like a ticket to Heaven. It has to be worked out; you have to work it out and work it out with full understanding as to what is this Kuṇḍalinī is and how she works.

May God bless you!

Contents: 1991-04-09*, Public Program, Conference Room, Aotea Entertainment Center, Auckland, New Zealand

[After the program, Shri Mataji works on seekers for three hours.] Last seeker: Looking at your patience I developed my own patience.

Shri Mataji: Love gives you patience.

Contents: 1991-04-10* Śhrī Virāta Pūjā, Appreciation Should Be Practiced, Ashram, Melbourne, Victoria, Australia

Because of distances and also we had no ashram in Melbourne all these days, I found that the collectivity is not yet properly woven here and so I think best thing is today we must worship the Virāt.

Virāt is the Primordial Father you can say, or the One who is in our brain, acts for our collectivity. As the Kuṇḍalinī rises, ultimately she ends up by piercing through the fontanelle bone area. Before entering into that, she enters into the Sahasrāra. Sahasrāra is the area which is surrounded by one thousand nerves and in the medical terms it is called as limbic area.

Now one thousand nerves are all connected to the sixteen important nerves of the Viśhuddhi. That's why they say that Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa had sixteen thousand wives, that is, He had all His powers as His wives and I have all My powers as My children.

So when we are growing in our ascent, in our Dhyāna, we have to go to our Sahasrāra. If the Sahasrāra was not opened out, we could not have done this en masse realisation.

How it is connected, the collectivity is so connected with the present-day Sahaja Yoga.

Before that it was just up to the Āgñyā Chakra but when it reaches the Sahasrāra it enlightens all the nerves and all the nerves look like flames which are very silent, beautifully coloured in all vibgyor colours.

The appearance of these is so soothing, so beautiful that there's no better view in the whole world, I think, that human beings can see.

So when this Sahasrāra was opened out, which we are having now a Pūjā as you know in Rome, before that it had to go to the collective, that is, I had to pay My attention to the collective. I had to see the people, their different problems, the permutations and combinations by which they are all suffering.

They can all be brought to the seven major notes, we can say, but they are also divided into twenty-one: one on the left, one on the right and one in the center.

So we have altogether twenty-one really basic problems, fundamental problems within us which we have to solve.

We have, in the beginning of Sahaja Yoga, I tried only to cure people their physical problems, mental problems, their family problems, financial problems, all kinds of problems have been solved in Sahaja Yoga and we have had some very mis... great mishaps in between. As you know that when they came up to the Āgñyā they started taking over the whole atmosphere by some sort of a authority which was not God's authority.

As a result, many people went out at the Āgñyā but those who have come to Sahasrāra have to understand that collectivity is the basic of your ascent. If you are not collective, if you do not come to the Center, if you do not meet each other, then you are like a nail which is cut out of the finger and the Divine has nothing to do with you, you are out of the tree, like the flowers which have come out of the tree can exist for a while, no doubt, but after some time they are dead and finished.

So it is important for all of you to understand that collectivity, if it is not established in Sahaja Yoga, Sahaja Yoga will die out.

I am now going to America where collectivity has to be really of the maximum nature, but it is not so.

There are so many problems on collectivity in America, but still I would say that they realise one thing, that they have to be very collective. The problems are, like there are very few people who are Sahaja Yogis there, but among themselves they understand responsibility. They are all working very hard. They are spreading Sahaja Yoga. Now you see they have this Cool Breeze [official magazine of Sahaja Yoga founded after Nirmalā Yoga] started from there. There are so many activities they are doing in America with such a small number that it is amazing how they are managing these things and they do it very beautifully because they feel joined together; they are so far away, from Honolulu to New York is such a long distance. But there's such a lot of understanding, such a lot of love and sense of responsibility.

Because they are a small number they feel extremely responsible that we have to be absolutely collective, no question of having groups.

Even if somebody makes mistakes or something, they never talk about it to anybody else but to Me.

They never discuss about each other; they never talk ill about each other. They never form any groups.

The children outside who are... just they can come here. There's space. Can you move a little bit halfway in the... there. Just make them space in with you. Come along.

[In Marathi:] You come forward. Come forward. Baba come forward as much you like, come and sit this side. Eh Hari, take it here. Come forward. Baba pull them little bit.

[In English:] Children can sit in front. They don't occupy much space. Children can even sit on your laps.

[In Marathi:] How many people are outside? [In English:] Can you move... you can make a gap in between the... Ya. Now this is question of collectivity.

Sahaja Yogi: Mother's saying...

Shri Mataji: Bring the children up here. All the children can come round. They can help Me in Pūjā.

They are very good at helping. Yes.

[In Marathi:] We can lit them afterwards, we don't need them now.

[In English:] Yes, yes come along. Poor children were kept out. Can you imagine.

[In Marathi:] Come, come.

[In English:] Hmm, sit down, sit down, sit down.

[In Marathi:] Take care, take care; put them off.

[In English:] Sit down, sit down, sit down. Here, sit down. Now, oh. Come along, come along, come here, come here.

[In Marathi:] Place can be made spontaneously, just we need to have a large heart.

[In English:] Now who are outside now?... small children are there?

Sahaja Yogi: Just the very small children. Just the babies.

Shri Mataji: Come along, come along. I think if you could just sit little... not with such a big asana a little smaller asana people can come. Put up one and I think open one window is important.

[In Marathi:] Open the window.

[In English:] Yes there is some space. If there are three cameras then how can there be space? I think we could have one camera in there and they can sit inside. All right. You all should sit with one, one knee up like that so there's more space. Just like Baba Mama is sitting.

[In Marathi:] Sit with one knee up. Like this everything will be all right.

[In English:] Give it in Chaya's lap.

Don't spread out yourself. Little bit pull your one leg like that on top. Yes, one straight, one like this.

Even easier to sit that way. Easier to sit.

Now this is the sense of collectivity, that it's in a small hall, doesn't matter, we are all together and how are we going to get all of them inside, because you can't enjoy it unless and until all of you are together.

Now, everybody has to keep quiet, all right, children? All of you, āh? Otherwise they'll again ask you to go out.

So now, let us see how do we miss out on collectivity. There's a very practical down-to-earth understanding.

First we must know without collectivity we cannot exist. As the body has to be in connection with the brain, in the same way without collectivity Sahaja Yoga cannot exist. Once you understand that, then you have to work it out that collectivity is absolutely established, within and without. It is more within that you have to establish, than without. Whatever you have within is manifested outside. Now how do we establish it within ourselves? First of all, we have to understand that now we are the relations of each other. Gñyāneśhwara said, “Techi Soyarik hoti" [They will be your relatives].

Who is there crying? All right. Take her out.

[In Marathi:] Let her go. She is remembering her mother.

[In English:] All right.

So the first thing is that within ourselves we have to see introspection, with introspection, what are we doing against collectivity in our mind? How our mind is working.

I do not know what thing comes first in the human mind about another person, but the first thing is that these are your real relations and nobody else are your relations.

These children are your children and these men are your brothers and these ladies are your sisters and we are one big family together.

We are part and parcel of one body and this hand cannot hit another hand, thank God it doesn't think, otherwise as human beings they might start thinking against another hand, but they don't because they are connected to one brain activity.

So the first thing one has to understand that do not try to see the defects of another person, but goodness of another person.

That is really going to help you the most. Like in India, you see, I don't know, here maybe the same, if you, if, if they know you, supposing, immediately they'll find out, now what work can we take out of this person? If somebody is a minister's brother, immediately they'll approach the minister's brother. All right, `Will you do this work for me?' Then somebody says, `I am such-and-such...' immediately people will think, `Oh, so what, what work can we get out of this person?' In the same way you can go little further in the language of Sahaja Yoga. As soon as you come to know about someone, you should not think what business I can do with him. I've seen immediately if somebody has money people will jump at him, all right, let's have the business together, even in Sahaja Yoga. Or if there's anything like that immediately they start employing that person for your purpose.

On the contrary, what you have to do, as soon as you know about somebody, then you have to think what goodness he has got, how can I imbibe that goodness within myself? Because we are here to enrich ourselves spiritually, so you must think as first and foremost thing, “What can I do to get the goodness of that person within myself?" So you'll be looking out for the goodness of that person than instead of looking out for bad qualities, because bad qualities are not going to nourish you at all. Also if somebody has bad qualities, no use thinking about you yourself because if you start thinking about it they are not going to be improved, it is somebody else's problem. The best thing is to look at another person with adoration and understanding, with love, that he is one of us and what can I use? Now if I have the hand I don't have to think because we are programed that way. If I have to hold this, automatically I use My hand, not My feet, I know My hands are going to do.

But when I have to walk, I don't walk with My hands because I know My feet have to walk.

In the same way, you have to know which Sahaja Yogi is going to help you to nourish yourself. Immediately your mind will become very clear.

Like now, I saw some boy in New Zealand who was really about to be dead and when he came back I found the attitude towards him was not kind, as it should have been, but this is the best chance when you should see how you can practice your compassion. We talk of compassion, compassion.

Now let us see how we can practice our compassion when this boy is so sick.

On the contrary, everybody was harsh on him, they were passing remarks at him, doing things like that. Because we have to have compassion, now Mother has said we have to have compassion, well now where do we have our compassion, on the walls? Where do we use our compassion? Where do we use our compassion? So Sahaja Yoga is to be practiced, doesn't mean that you sit down with My photograph all the time, doesn't mean that. It means you practice compassion; you practice that.

Then you have to practice love. Now how do you practice love with others? If you love someone, what do you do?

You try to please that person. Small things can make people very happy. I know, you all try to please Me very much, you'll give Me presents, you'll find out things which are good for Me, you'll go out of the way buy sweet flowers for Me, beautiful things you do to please Me. I am overpleased, I must tell you. But I am more pleased, much more pleased if you understand collectivity and try to please each other. Such a person pleases Me the most, that the attention is more on pleasing each other.

As soon as you decide you have to please others, your tongue will become different. It will become a sweet thing. The tongue which was like a pair of scissors becomes such a beautiful thing of honey. Then you talk little but you really pour honey on another person and another person really enjoys it.

So now the practice love, where do you practice? Ask you a question: where do I practice love? What do I love? We live, love our house, we love our photographs, our decorations, everything, but do I practice this love on my wife, or on my husband, or on other Sahaja Yogis? In our Sahaj Culture we have to practice compassion and love and thirdly we have to practice patience.

I know some children are maybe little more mischievous, some are less mischievous. Maybe some people are very talkative, sometimes really they give Me also headache; they go on talking, talking, talking, talking, so much! Sometimes I think it's good because it's a rest for My mouth, one way of looking at it. Another way of looking at it is just switch off your mind, let him talk, take it out whatever he wants to do.

Once he is finished with it and fagged out then he won't bother you much and also he'll feel satisfied that somebody has listened to his prattles.

So patience is needed and patience is needed in such a way that others should see your patience.

Yesterday for example, I was sitting for about I think three hours shaking hands with all sorts of people and all types of problems and the person who came last, he said, “Looking at Your patience, I develop my own patience." And love gives you patience. This love nourishes you. I'm telling you, it's absolutely down-to-earth method: here I've not mentioned that you trust God, I'm just saying trust yourself, absolutely down-toearth because we are talking about your brain.

Now we have been saying that we have to forgive everyone, but we don't practice that. Small, small things like mad people we remember. I mean only I have heard that snake has this capacity to remember if somebody has hurt him, but here I find human beings have no less capacity. Whatever has happened thirteen years back, fifteen years back, they all remember each and every thing: whatever has hurt them, but how they have hurt others they don't remember, how they have been nasty to others they don't remember, because this is a human mind which has got the ego, it can go on hurting others, it doesn't feel anything and the superego which goes on receiving all the hurts and always complaining about it.

So it is for you to realise that you are the one who is breaking the collectivity.

First of all, we had horrible leaders here, that's how our collectivity was very poor but now we are getting soberer people, better people.

Also for Melbourne I am thinking of getting somebody elderly for you to be the leader because I think Greg is full with responsibility.

So, I thought of Henshaw [John Henshaw, respected leader in Melbourne from 1992 to 2000] and I asked him and he has agreed.

So now in Melbourne we'll have somebody staying in the ashram, who is a retired man, who'll look after you, he'll do everything that is possible to look after the collectivity of Melbourne. But you have to know that I have one connection with you through your leader. That doesn't mean you cannot connect with Me. Like supposing there's a pin and you put the pin to Me, immediately My hand will go off, means there's a reflex action also, but mostly everything is reported to the brain.

In the same way, everything should be reported to the brain but from the very beginning if you develop a kind of a criticising attitude towards your leader, then it becomes very difficult, for the leader as well as for you.

First you should not criticise. Don't use your brain for criticism, already criticism has been too much in the West. I mean, they have got now technique of criticising. All the art is finished because of the critics.

The artists are afraid to show their paintings, artists are afraid to show their creations because they will be criticised. Now the only thing that is left are critics, critics, critics and the critics are criticising critics, that's all. There's no creativity, nothing.

So try to appreciate everything. Children are producing pictures, paintings, any way. They make sometimes My face is very funny when they draw, not the children, even grownups. Doesn't matter, I appreciate it, it's very good, wonderful, very nice, to encourage that person.

So criticism should go out of our mind, but appreciation should be practiced: appreciation of others' children, appreciation of other people is very important but that doesn't mean that you appreciate all others and torture your wife or torture your husband, that also is an imbalance. First responsibility is your family but you should appreciate others and this comes when you have no jealousies about anyone.

This jealousy, I don't know from where it comes, so I don't know this quality of jealousy, why there is jealousy.

So, also if you have jealousy you have to use it for the right purpose and what is the right purpose is that you should be jealous of a person who is spiritually higher than you and you practice it that you become better. If jealousy is for competition, then you compete with the person who is more compassionate, more loving, more sacrificing, more patient.

So this competition becomes a very healthy competition and the collectivity becomes very nourished.

Now try to feel that you are all part and parcel of one personality. Try to understand this and practice this. This will help you a lot. Little things like buying a little present for someone. You see something, `Oh, this will be very nice for this person.' We have officially decided that the men should not give presents to women and women should not give presents to men, but if she is your sister, rakhi sister, you can give and the rakhi sister can give to the brother, but otherwise one should not do that.

We have done it because I've seen it creates problems, but that doesn't mean you hate women or hate men. But a distance has to be maintained of purity. Till you become completely innocent is better is to keep that distance. This purity is to be practiced and this practice of purity is that you try to develop your innocent feelings towards others. In innocence everything comes, everything comes in innocence. If you are innocent you will immediately become a very good Sahaja Yogi but it has so many facets.

Like the other day there was one girl she was fighting for getting some sort of a sweet and they were distributing the prasads.

So I gave her one of the small plates, I said, “You distribute." Immediately she forgot what she wanted, she started distributing very sweetly with little, little hands the prasad to everyone, very sweetly.

So this has to be practiced from childhood, with your children you have to tell them, `All right, let's do these things, distribute this to people, go and put kumkum on their heads', they may not do it well, but doesn't matter.

They will learn how to meet others, how to talk to them, how to be with others.

Now the worst enemy of collectivity is aggressiveness.

Some people are basically aggressive; their style of talking is extremely aggressive, the way they say things is aggressive. May be because anything, may be they are better educated, may be they come from a very aggressive family, may be they are having a kind of a superiority complex or an inferiority complex or a sense of insecurity, or maybe they are possessed.

They try to dominate and show their very strong feelings towards people, of superiority. They may be inferior, it's not necessary, but they do and this is something is to be curbed.

So what you have to practice here is humility. Try to be humble.

There was a joke like this, that one gentleman was going on the staircase and another was coming from the top.

So this gentleman who was going up there said to the another that Please move." So he said, “I don't move for fools." The person who was climbing up, he said, “But I do" and he moved out.

That's how the humility works. You have to be humble in your approach to others. I mean, English language is outwardly very humble, like you must say `please' you must say `thank you' ten times, please, please, please, thank you, thank you, thank you, but not in the heart.

Like supposing somebody doesn't say thank you, the another person may even beat you. Why didn't you say `thank you' to me?" This is not humility. Humility is that in no way you try to aggress others and if others are aggressive you accept it as a childish thing, as a stupid thing, as a foolish thing, has no meaning: because you are so powerful, you can bear it.

That is humility which you have to practice and all these qualities if you have, you will really be surprised that you will lose your selfishness. Your selfishness will start dropping out because selfishness how ugly it is you start realizing very soon when you become generous.

So you practice your generosity.

You are all willing to spend lot of money on Me, I know. You want to give Me presents, I've stopped it now, that individually you cannot give Me any presents or anything, but generosity is a general term: generosity of kindness, generosity of compassion, generosity of patience and generosity of material things.

If I see something, immediately I think, Oh, I should take this because I know I can give it to this lady or to this gentleman this thing, or I could give it to this purpose or for this organization or for this kind of a work we are doing." Immediately it comes to Me.

You'll be surprised that if I'm in the market and if I'm thirsty, I don't even think that I should go and buy some soft drink for Myself, doesn't come into My head. Even I have never opened My fridge in My lifetime, you'll be surprised. But for others I'll run about, I'll cook for them, but supposing I'm in the house and there's no cook, I'll not cook for Myself, it's all right. If there's nobody in the house and My husband is not there, I may not eat for two-three days and then servants, servant will complain to My husband, then I remember really I didn't eat any food, I didn't know. If I'm eating it is just I am just eating because he is there, so I have to eat with him. I never used to take tea but because he is so much fond of tea, I started, so I keep the practice so that I should not give it the practice up. Later on it will be difficult.

It's just adjusting your to, self to others, it's not difficult. Few things here and there that pleases, you should do.

There's no harm in trying to please. But it's not only for the wife to do it, even the husband has to do something to please the wife, it's not only between husband and wife, it will be between children and you; between the whole family of Sahaja Yoga, it should be such that we should adjust.

So practice your adjustments as you have to adjust your cameras. If you don't adjust the camera, you do not get the right picture.

In the same way, unless and until you a, you adjust yourself to the whole atmosphere, to a person, you cannot get the real picture and then you start fighting with that. It is actually the fight has to be within yourself. It's quite a long, long story, I mean, as far as I know human beings and the problems of collectivity. And certain problems are being solved now, I am happy about it, that people are not falling in love, I mean they are not falling and having a bump on their heads.

But it's better now, they are taking it easy, thinking it over and are marrying a person for marriage sake and not for falling in love. There's something very great is happening because that will give you purification of mind and a mind which doesn't hover over nonsensical things.

So as I said, practice all these things and your collectivity will be beautiful and the best is to practice your meditation together.

In Delhi we have started an ashram, every morning I find people coming, sitting together to meditate, it's like a temple, it's like a church. They come there and so many of them are sitting and meditating together.

Meditating together is the best way to feel the collectivity. You can meditate at home, of course, you also cleanse it for your depth, but also you must meditate together and when you meditate together then the strength that you have strengthens others and the strength of the whole collectivity improves so much.

We are meditating together is a very big thing. Everyone has to understand that whenever you get time you find out in the morning times, for example, we'll go to the ashram and meditate. Say, Sunday morning, we'll just go and meditate in the ashram. Just for meditation you have to come. Meditate and go away because I reside in this ashram, I am here, so leave your homes, come here and meditate. Meditation will help you a lot. Wherever you are together, I am with you but when you are away from each other, I am not with you.

Only in difficulties, when you are pushed into some places where I am not there, where you think I am not there, I am there. But if you deliberately are keeping out of collectivity, I am not with you, so try to grow your collectivity otherwise you cannot go deep into your own depths, you cannot become a great Sahaja Yogi, you cannot really be called a Sahaja Yogi. Those who have a sense of collectivity can only become that.

So we have before us in Melbourne so many people and when the quantity increases, the quality should not fall down and the quality of collectivity has to be very strong by having very strong bonds. I like when you praise someone. Normally I have seen whenever I am anywhere, people only talk about people who are negative, nobody talks about positive people, so I don't know about them, mostly I know who are negative.

So I would love to know about people who are very positive, who are great, who are doing good things and forget about the negative, they'll drop out in any way.

So best thing is to tell about the people who are positive, who are doing good work, who are real Sahaja Yogis.

I bless you all in Melbourne that you have a beautiful collectivity and enjoy yourself and every, every meeting should be a festival for you and an enjoyment.

May God bless you all! So thus today you have to worship Virāta. He's nothing but Akbar who is Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa Himself becoming Virāta. And thus we can have a song, Gaṇeśha's song first of all to wash My feet and some songs about Kṛiṣhṇa.

[In Marathi:] Do you have the songs? We have all songs of Viṭṭhala, in Maharashtra you get all songs on Viṭṭhala. First sing the Gaṇeśh Stuti and then wash the feet and then you can sing.

Accha, now the children have to wash My feet. All right?

Contents: 1991-04-11*, Public Program, Day 1, Melbourne, Victoria, Australia

Please be seated. I think I'll stand up and speak, would be better now.

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

At the very outset we have to know that truth is what it is. We cannot conceptualise it, we cannot change it, we cannot buy it and also unfortunately at this human level we cannot know it. The truth is that you are not this body, this mind, this intellect, this ego, these conditionings, but you are the pure spirit. The second truth is that there is a All-pervading Power of Divine Love, which is very subtle and which works out all the living work.

You see all these beautiful flowers here and we take them for granted. We never even think from where have they come, how have they come, from a one little seed how `and so many varieties, so many types' how they have been created and how they grow and how a flower becomes a fruit. Look at ourselves; look at our eyes. It's one of the greatest cameras you could think of. Look at every machinery that is within us, how it is working beautifully there. But we do not think about it; we take it for granted.

All this living work is done by this All-pervading Power of Divine Love. Now when I say that, you need not accept it blindfolded. But I would request you to have a scientific mind, have a scientific attitude that you keep yourself open. Treat this as a hypothesis and if it is proved then you have to accept it as truth, if you are honest, because it is not only for individual emancipation but for the emancipation of the whole world.

As I have told you that truth cannot be understood or felt at this human level because we are mental, at the most, if not emotional being, or we are mixture of both. We are a bundle of conditionings and egos and everything, but we are not our selves. When we say “my ego", “my intelligence” “my body" but where is this “my"? From where does this word “my" comes? This is what is the spirit within us.

You have been already explained about a mechanism we have here and you have been already told this kind of a mechanism exists within us.

[Aside:] If you remove this one would be better, I think.

Now this mechanism does exist within us and is for your last breakthrough in your evolutionary process.

You have become from amoeba to a human state, but we have not yet known the absolute truth. We have not yet known the absolute knowledge.

[Microphone falls down.] All right, now can you see that? It's just for your seeing we are managing something! It's all right. But this is all within yourself, is all within yourself which is not going to fall out! So, we have this mechanism, as I told you, for your last breakthrough. If we had known the absolute truth and if we had the absolute knowledge, there would have been no quarreling, no different `isms'; there would have been no wars. But because we haven't got that, we are separated by ignorance and everybody thinks `I'm right. Whatever I am doing is the correct thing and whatever I am thinking is the correct thing.' But there is no way to judge whether it is correct or not. Like when you say it's a one metre long, then we have a metre, as you know, in the Museum of Paris which is kept as one metre all the time. But that, unless and until you discover we are living in a relative world without any absolute relativity. That's why there is chaos; that's why there are problems. Most of the problems if you see are created by human beings.

These problems, if you just try to locate, are just based because we haven't found out the absolute knowledge. For example, if this place is completely dark and you can't see anyone and if you start all running, you'll hit someone, somebody will fall down, somebody will be beaten up, somebody might get hurt because there is darkness, there is confusion. These are the days of the greatest confusion that we are born in and it's promised that in those days of confusion only you are going to find out the truth. That's why there is a category of people, as William Blake has said, are the men of God who will find themselves and they will make others the men of God.

The time has come for you all to have your Self-realisation, your Self-knowledge. As a result of that you develop a new awareness. You develop, again I say it's a question of becoming; it is not certifying, you develop a new awareness on your central nervous system, which we call as `collective consciousness'.

Is described by Jung very clearly. This is where you can feel your centers on your fingertips and you can feel the centers of other people on your fingertips. Now only thing you have to do is to know what do they denote “this decoding has been done already" and how to correct them.

So, to correct your being physically, mentally, emotionally and also spiritually, you have to enter inside your being, which you cannot. For example, you are paying attention to Me, but if I say “pay attention to yourself" you cannot. You cannot pay attention to yourself inside.

So something has to happen and this something is the awakening of this residual power which we call as `Kuṇḍalinī'. It's a Sanskrit word: `kuṇḍal' means `the coils' and is there in three and a half coils, this energy is settled down. If this energy is awakened, just like a primule in a seed `it's a living process' just like a seed sprouts, this Kuṇḍalinī gets awakened, passes through six centers, pierces through the last one and you yourself feel the Cool Breeze coming out of your head. And then for the first time you start feeling this Cool Breeze, it's not very cool, it's very pleasantly cool, which is the All-pervading Power of Divine Love.

With this you become like a Divine computer. You can feel the centers which are in trouble within yourself. You can feel the centers of people around. You can feel the centers of people who are far away, also the centers of people who are dead and gone. That's how you can know who was a realised Soul who came on this Earth and who was a nasty fellow and who was a devil. Otherwise there is no way of making out.

For example, from India people get out of the jail, immediately they wear these saffron-coloured clothes and are in Australia: they become big Gurus. And Australians had lot of money and they have really fed them with that.

So many of them are coming down. But not so many, because so many are exposed also, so many are in jail, so many have died. But still, they can say that `the world is coming to an end and you must do this. This is happening and you must do that'; and just frighten you.

And you think, `Oh, otherwise, you see, how can they tell lies? But they are thieves! They are coming from the jail direct' you find out their bona fides: from what kind of families they come, what sort of education they have had? But blindfolded, people go to them and get infected by them. Mostly they are mesmerizers and they spoil your chances of your ascent. Not only that: they can give you some diseases, they can give you some sort of a brain, you might have an effect of your taking a drug. Anything can they do, I don't know to what extent they can go; because so many have come to Me and I am really now fed up the way people are still running after them, paying them money. It's something like you see some people coming out of the pub and falling down on the street and others try to push their way inside to get again the same way.

But in spirituality you have to know that you cannot pay. It's a living process of living energy; it's a living process.

[Aside:] Will you take photographs afterwards? All right? So the second thing that should happen to you as a result of Self-realisation, that you get empowered yourself. You yourself can give realisations to others. You can find out about another person, you can give them realisation, you can cure them. You can help them in every way possible. It's like one enlightened light can enlighten another light. You are all ready for it, absolutely ready to get enlightened. I don't have to do much, you will see that, how easily you all can get your realisation. It has to be easy, it has to be Sahaj, it has to be spontaneous, because the time has come. And also this All-pervading Power has become extremely active, extremely active and it is working wonders everywhere.

When the Kuṇḍalinī rises on this center, then you reach a state which we call as thoughtless awareness, in Sanskrit it's called as `Nirvichar samādhi'. When you watch something you just watch, you don't think. If you want to think you can think, but you are not bombarded by thoughts, you are not under the control of thoughts. Then she rises above and pierces through here and establishes a connection properly: then you get into another kind of a higher awareness we call as `Nirvikalpa samādhi', which is a doubtless awareness, in which you start raising the Kuṇḍalinī of others, curing others, helping others, knowing such a lot of knowledge; because once this Kuṇḍalinī goes into the limbic area, she enlightens these thousand petals there, that is the thousand nerves.

Many children I've seen who have been absolutely very dull children now are scoring above everybody else, getting scholarships. We have some boys who have done their engineering or chartered accountancy and all this thing in very, very record time; they have records. They always stand first and they are doing very well in their education, but despite all that they are extremely humble and obedient. They respect their teachers, they respect everyone; because the new virtue which has come in them is the respect, to respect others, which we have lost long time back.

The second thing that happens to a person is this: that you become absolutely free. Of course, in the beginning also I respect your freedom. I cannot force Self-realisation on you, you have to ask for it.

Otherwise, I cannot force it on you. But when you get your Self-realisation you become really free, in the sense that you are able to be free. Like we think we are free, but we have addictions, we are slaves to so many things, we cannot control ourselves; so we are not free. But when you become a Self-realised person all such things which dominate us, whether it's addiction, alcoholism, any habit, any such thing, tempers, or too much interest in wrong things, all drops out and you become really a able person: absolutely you have the ability to be enjoying your freedom and your virtues. Then it happens that you start seeing everything, as I told you and not getting into thoughts.

The human nature is such that whatever you see, you react. But after getting Self-realisation you do not react and your mind is thoughtless. It's like a lake which has no ripples on it and all that is created around that lake is reflected inside. In the same way when you watch something, you just watch it. Now I watch these flowers: I'm just watching and all the joy that the Creator has put it in it, it doesn't come to Me as words but as joy itself and it starts pouring on Me and it soothes Me down.

You become a person without tension, because tension comes to you through thoughts. But thoughts are coming from the past or from the future and they throng your head and give you this tension. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises she comes in between two thoughts, so the future and past, the Kuṇḍalinī is in the center, that is, in the present.

So you just stand in the present and when you are in the present there is no tension in your mind. These days there's a big trouble people are having of tensions, blood pressures and all kinds of things, which are absolutely there because this window has not yet opened out. Once it has opened out everything goes away and you are extremely a relaxed person. You also reduce at least ten years of your age. As you know, I am sixty-eight years of age and I am travelling every third or fourth day all over the world.

So you get very dynamic and you get such a lot of energy within you. At the same time you are very compassionate, you are very considerate and you are extremely wise. In every way you are helped: you are helped in your business, you are helped in your work, you are helped in your relationship with, in your family, with others and the whole thing becomes like a beautiful drama you are playing.

I'm telling, all these things sound very fantastic to you and should find, because you might say `we have never seen such angels before.' But there is a chance for all of you to become that. Supposing you take a television into a remote village of India where they have never seen a television and tell them that `you can see pictures from all over the world inside this.' They'll say, “What, this box? Useless thing `how can it be?' " But when you put it to the mains, then they see the miracles of it. In the same way when you are put it, you are put to the mains you start seeing the miracles of your being. Then you understand how glorified you are, how beautiful you are and what is the purpose of your life.

There's no end to this knowledge. For example, in here so many lights I see here, but to put them on there might be only one switch and you can put on all the lights. But supposing I have to tell you all the history, how it came and how the electricity came and then how it was brought in Melbourne and how it was fixed and everything, it's quite boring.

So the best thing is just to put on the light first.

So I would request you, you'd better have your Self-realisation first and then understand, because it's a very subtle subject and I don't know how many thousand lectures I have given only in English language. There are many other languages I speak, but only in English language I don't know how many lectures I have given and every time they say, “Mother, every time You say something new." I am giving you thus a introduction to Sahaja Yoga.

Now, once you get your realisation you have to know it works on collectivity. It's not that you go home and say, `All right, Mother, I am meditating at home.' It would be like a nail cut out of the body. You don't have to pay for anything, but you have to give some time for your Self-realisation and you have to come to the collective. Luckily in Melbourne we have wonderful people who have achieved great heights in Sahaja Yoga. They are extremely humble, they are extremely beautiful people and I'm sure they'll help you to achieve the same heights as they have achieved.

This is what we have to get. We have to emancipate the human beings to solve all our problems, to enter into the Kingdom of God. This has been promised and this promise has to be fulfilled. Of course, before I go ahead with the process of Self-realisation which will take ten minutes only, I would request you to ask Me questions. But ask relevant questions, questions which show your curiosity to get your realisation, because I'm not here for any votes, nor am I here for any money. I am here to give you your own key of your own treasures.

So accordingly, please ask Me questions. I'll be very thankful to you. May God bless you.

Question: He says he thinks he is reaching that stage, but could You tell him the symptoms?

Shri Mataji: Yes. We'll tell him. You see, first what happens, that you start feeling the Cool Breeze out of your head.

Sometimes you might get hot also, hot breeze coming out; then you start feeling the Cool Breeze all around it. Then you become aware of it and you work it out. Then you give realisations to others. All these things happen and you become extremely peaceful, loving, affectionate and a righteous person, you become. It's not like following any religion as such, because when we follow a religion we can do, we can commit any mistakes; any sins we can commit. But Sahaja Yoga is such that religion is born within you, like here, as we have got eight valencies within us, ten valencies within us and these ten valencies are in this green part: when they're awakened, you become religious. You become. You are not to be told, you just become. I don't have to tell you `don't do this' I never say that. It just happens, because you see in the light what is right and what is wrong.

Question: What is God, for You and is God a separate entity?

Shri Mataji: Ya, He is. He is and God for Me is the one who is witnessing everything. But He has His Power which is the Primordial Mother, which is the Holy Ghost, which is reflected within you as the Kuṇḍalinī and God is reflected within you as the spirit in your heart. At this point they meet and that's how you get your Selfrealisation. But such a wide subject it is, so you have to have more patience for such a wider subject.

Question: Will there ever come a time when the negative force in society will cease to exist?

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course, if you help us.

Question: Which Indian saints or masters do You acknowledge, or did any of them inspire You in Your cause?

Shri Mataji: Yah, all of them were there and there are some more but they have all disappeared in the Himālayas, because they say that `these human beings are absolutely dullards and they won't listen to us; You try Your luck!' We have so many saints in India who are no more, who really came down to the masses. The first one who really ventured to talk to masses was Gñyāneśhwara, Saint Gñyāneśhwara.

About Kuṇḍalinī it was written in so many Sanskrit books, so many of them, you see, but never in a local or a vernacular language.

So Gñyāneśhwara in the twelfth century first time talked about it. He took the permission of his master, because it was a tradition to have one master and one disciple and he wrote it about it in his book first of all. And today the time has come for you to get en masse realisation.

There are so many saints that I really, in this thing I cannot tell you, but there was Rāmdās, there is Nanaka, there is Kabīra, so many of them, Ādi Shañkarāchārya; in India, as you ask. But outside also: William Blake was another saint.

Question: He says that TM talks about Self-realisation. What is the difference between their talking about Self-realisation and You talking about it?

Shri Mataji: Now they have started. They never talked about it before and they are just talking. If I have to tell you everything frankly about TM, it's better that you listen to it. I'm not afraid of them. I had the head of their siddha, what they call the `flying academy', head of that, the director, one Mister Peter Pearce, his wife, his deputy director and his child, all suffering from epilepsy, came to Me. Luckily My husband was not at home those days, so I kept them in My house and treated them and got them well. He's about to write a book about it.

Now I asked him what do they do.

So he told Me “because he was in it" he said that they give three mantras, first stage they give three mantras and these three mantras, they were to pay three thousand pounds. Now these three mantras, out of them any one could be yours. One was `nga', another was `pinga', another was `tinga'. Now any Indian would laugh at it because they know there is, these are not Sanskrit words. `Inga' means the scorpion bite; the `pinga' means a person when he gets possessed, he goes round, is called `pinga', it is also in vernacular language, not in Sanskrit and `tinga' means showing like this.

And they paid three thousand, done! It's all marketing. People are so stupid! I mean, I have a disciple who came to Me from TM, her sister was in lunatic asylum. We had to work so hard on her, but now she's cured; and this barrister girl, poor thing, she suffered so much.

So many people have gone into recluses. She told Me that she had to go to Switzerland, pay six thousand pounds for a course of seven days. And the first day they were given, this is for flying in the air. Now this is also another stupidity, to go for flying in the air, halfway through, what is the need? As it is, today there was such a lot of jam; you see, if you start flying like this, then no car can move! What is the need for you to fly at three feet? But this is stupidity and for that stupidity she paid six thousand pounds. And she had to go to Switzerland and she said, “No arrangements for us, nothing. We were to live in a big hall and they asked us that we have to jump on, what you call these foam mattresses” and she broke her bottom and many broke their bottom. And they were asked, they were asked to give. And they were given to drink the water that boiled the potatoes for six days and the seventh day they were given the rind and the fifth day the potatoes. For that they paid six thousand pounds! She's a daughter of a very, very rich man.

But this is what it is, if you have surplus money there are people to befool you. There's a market, it's all marketing. Now they are marketing what you call ayurveda. What is there to market ayurveda? You can buy things directly from India; you don't need a Guru for that. And most of the ayurveda cannot be practiced abroad because these are made out of fresh leaves. But if you have to treat yourself with ayurveda you can go to India.

But Sahaja Yoga is a direct method that you can cure yourself by, with your Kuṇḍalinī awakening.

There are two doctors in Delhi University who have got their M.D. on Sahaja Yoga, which proved that Sahaja Yoga can cure many incurable diseases. We have cured. Not that I have cured, but people are cured through Sahaja Yoga. Diseases like blood cancer, myelitis, so many diseases have been cured and there are so many that I really do not know how to even keep account. We cannot keep account of them.

So this is what TM is. Whatever they talk, they should prove it. Have you met any TM fellow who can give realisations to others, or who can talk like Stephen? There is no modus operandi. There is no modus operandi they can describe, nothing. On the contrary, if you are a doctor you can find them out just like that. Once in a lecture there was a Sahaja Yogi, who is now head of the Psychology Department in Amman, he was there in their meetings and they said that when you take the brain scan, you see the theta waves. Immediately he got up, he said, “But you get it with epilepsy; you get it with epilepsy." And they were shocked. They just got round him and said, “Doctor, will you come and have some tea with us?" and this. Then he went there and they were offering him money and all that. Is all money business. If you have intelligence you can understand it, that it's all money. You cannot purchase it. How much money did you give to Christ? How much money did you give to Kṛiṣhṇa or to Rāma, or to any one of them? Those people whom you can purchase are your servants; they cannot be your Gurus.

Seeker: I was in Siddha Yoga for seven years and I have a lot of problems.

Shri Mataji: You will, but I know that, I'll manage that. It's very difficult, but I'll manage. I know, with all these Yogas you get nothing but trouble. I know that.

Seeker: I tend to get very sleepy and tired and meditation makes me even sleepier.

Shri Mataji: I know. I know that. I'll help you, don't you worry. I'll help you, all right? Definitely.

I know this is not only your case, it's so many. But in Australia he was so popular. I don't know why he was so popular here. You are supposed to be much more intelligent than normal people! Aren't you? Question: What are Your views on eating meat, as opposed to vegetarianism?

Shri Mataji: You see, we, in Sahaja Yoga we treat a person according to his needs. Supposing you need proteins, you have to have proteins. Supposing you need more carbohydrates, so you have to have carbohydrates. It's a balancing thing. By eating meat or anything, like you think, if you save some chickens, can I give them realisation? Simple question.

So we are paying too much attention to all nonsensical things. What you have to think, what we are human beings on top of everything. Of course, some people don't have to eat meat because they have problems; but some people have to eat meat because they have problems. We have to be logical about everything.

These are all fads, or `isms'. These are fads: don't do this, wear this kind of a dress, go on the street and sing `Hare Rāma, Hare Kṛiṣhṇa' or do another nonsensical thing, or jump here. These are all fads and fashions. The fashion started that you should put a tin on your head and tie up your hair, bouānt or something. Everybody started doing that. We must have our individuality, we should have our personality.

How can we accept anything that comes in the way? And these entrepreneurs are playing with you, so these Gurus also play with you. We should be alert now, we have already suffered a lot, haven't we? Question: What's Your opinion of Swāmī Muktananda?

Shri Mataji: Ah. Better not ask! You know, I have got just now a complete file on him, from America they have published: he's such a horrible man. If you want you can read it, but I assure you will not be able to eat food for at least eight days. He had relations with even thirteen-year-old girls. What are you asking about a swāmī like that? Useless fellow! Question: Sāi Baba?

Shri Mataji: Another horrible person. He is giving you diamonds. Who has given diamonds to others? Who wants diamonds? From where does he get diamonds? You know that very well. He gets even Swiss watches. People are so stupid! You are talking of spirituality and of God, not of these mundane things. If you want you can go in the market and get a diamond; even if you don't get, doesn't matter. Those who have it or have not, nothing wrong with them. Look at his, their faces, how they look.

I tell you, how can you be enamoured by these things? You always talk of materialism, you talk against it and then you get enamoured by these people because they are in America. When I went there in Boston, can you imagine, Americans are the best for this, so that they asked Me, “How many Rolls-Royces You have?" I said, “I have none." They said, “Then we are not interested in You." Can you imagine? If you are going to impress by these things you are not going to get to the real thing, is definite. These all things can be bought by money, but you cannot buy reality with money. Take it from Me, you cannot. It has to happen is a fact. I am telling you the truth, whether you like it or not.

Question: Is there an energy field that is built up by raising the Kuṇḍalinī en masse and does it spill over into another area?

Shri Mataji: I think, you see, before describing it you'd better feel it. All right? What's the use of describing the beautiful Australia unless and until you visit it? Better feel it yourself and then you will know. All right? Yes?
Question: [about Kuṇḍalinī raising giving her headaches.]

Shri Mataji: She's a With whom did she do this Kuṇḍalinī awakening? Do you know? Ah, must be somebody like that. You see, Kuṇḍalinī is your mother, all right and she is anxious to give you a second birth. She works it out herself, beautifully, like your mother gave you the birth without giving you any trouble. That's how she works it out. But if you go to a person who's not authorized spiritually, they do all these things. I have not seen, but now as they must have told you that we are working in about fifty-four nations and I must have visited at least forty-five of them I have never seen anybody suffering because of Kuṇḍalinī awakening. On the contrary, feeling very much better. This is what it is. You must see first of all when you go to somebody: what about the disciples, how are they? How are they behaving? Are they beautiful people? Have they achieved anything, have they got anything? And also you must see the life of the so-called Guru. How does he live? Where is his interest? But headlong if you fall into something you are going to suffer, isn't it? Now I've been coming to Australia for the last, how many, from the year '78 I think, '77 or '78; but I saw all the people were scattered around these people, not around Me. They all like them, all such kinds. They wouldn't come to Me. Even some people advised Me that “You'd better charge some money." I said, “How much will you pay? Tell Me." This is invaluable you can't pay for it.

Question: Could You suggest anything that would help her, now that she's in that situation, please?

Shri Mataji: Help! Doesn't matter, we have people there also. You give us her address, we'll find out for her. Australia and Iceland's quite close, isn't it! But sweet of you to remember her.

Question: When she meditates she feels the Kuṇḍalinī rising, but suddenly it drops down again. How does she keep it up?

Shri Mataji: You have been in Sahaja Yoga? Did you get your realisation through Sahaja Yoga? You see, we do not take responsibility of people who have been to other places, but if you have been in Sahaja Yoga then we can find out why it is happening. If you have got your realisation through Sahaja Yoga we know and we can help you very much better. All right? Then it's our responsibility. It does happen sometimes because if you have problems in your brain, or maybe in your body there is some disease where the Kuṇḍalinī wants to help, may be happening, but it can be expedited, it can be cleared out. These are all the problems which can be solved. You should have patience with yourself, that's all.

Question: Could You explain levels of Samādhi and nirvāṇa?

Shri Mataji: Ah? Nirvān.

a? It's too early to talk about it, but first you get your Samādhi, all right, step by step, step by step. Nirvāṇa is the same as Samādhi is, but in nirvāṇa state the, it's the highest that you can achieve in spirituality. All right? So it's step by step we have to move. We can say it is the beginning of nirvāṇa and then you have to be working it out and you go to nirvāṇa itself, into the complete state. But one thing is definite there, that we have to understand that these words we have read from some books and the connotation of them, it could be very, very wrong, could be very, very misunderstood.

So whatever is the reality you should face it as reality, you should see it as reality: not to have any concept about it, because if you have a concept then may be that it might be wrong.

So it's better to see for yourself. All right? Question: Is it possible for the Kuṇḍalinī to be raised prematurely, or does it just rise in its own time?

Shri Mataji: Prematurely? This is.

Question: Is it dangerous? there are lots of written warnings that Kuṇḍalinī can be dangerous?

Shri Mataji: No, there is no danger at all in Kuṇḍalinī awakening at all. As I have told you just now, she's your mother. There's no danger. But people must have warnings because they don't want you to get realisation, perhaps. One might have warned because they must have put their hands into some sort of a burning fire, thinking it is the Kuṇḍalinī.

So that must be the reason.

So far, we have had thousands and thousands and thousands of people: nobody has felt anything bad. After all, when you became a human being, what was the danger in becoming human being from a monkey stage? Did you feel the cutting of your tail even? So after all, you are made a human being for a purpose and that purpose is to make you the higher being. How can it be troublesome? It is so vitally important. Why should it be troublesome to you? Use logic. If that is the last breakthrough of your evolution, it has to work spontaneously and easily.

Now, so there's one more gentleman but now this is the last, all right? What is the question? Can you get up, please? We can't even see you. Thank you.

Question: Does Self-realisation have to take place in this life or if you believe in reincarnation, does it take place over a longer period?

Shri Mataji: Some people are realised in last life, I know. They are born as realised Souls also, I know. But I know one thing, that they don't know all about it partly they know. They have to know all about it. They have to know all about their powers. They have to know how to raise the Kuṇḍalinī. They have to know what is missing in their realisation. All that they have to know.

All right.

So now, very simple thing we have to do, raise. As you know, we have to use the force of the Mother Earth very much. For that we have to take out our shoes for a very short time. Those who are sitting on the ground just have to take out shoes, that's all and sit comfortably.

We have the left and the right, two sides, left and right sympathetic nervous system. The left caters to our emotional side and the right to our physical and our mental side.

So we put both our feet apart from each other but those who are sitting on the ground are all right, no problem those who are not sitting on the ground. They can sit comfortably there, just folded. Just sit whichever way you like, folded is better.

Be comfortable is the point.

Before we start anything else, there are two conditions which you have to fulfil. The first one is that you have to know that you are a human being and you have to be confident that you will get your realisation and that it is your right to get your Self-realisation. You are not to feel guilty about whatever has happened in the past, because the Divine Love is the ocean of forgiveness and whatever mistakes you might have committed can be easily dissolved by that ocean of forgiveness.

You must have faith in the power of that ocean. After all, you are a human being, you are not God and if you have done any mistakes it's all right.

So don't feel guilty, don't condemn yourselves. Those who have told you “you are sinners” you should know they must be the greatest sinners to say that. Nobody has business to say that to anyone.

So please have full confidence in yourself and not to feel guilty. When you feel guilty, then this center here on the back side there catches on, on the left side and this gives you horrible diseases like angina, lethargic organs and also spondylitis.

So why to feel guilty for nothing at all? If you think you have done mistakes, forget it just now.

Second condition is that you have to forgive everyone in general. You don't have to think about people whom you want to forgive. Whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything. Again, logically you don't do anything it's just a myth; but if you don't forgive then you play into wrong hands, in the sense those who wanted to torture you or trouble you, they are quite happy, but you are suffering mentally.

So the best thing is to forgive everyone in general, not even thinking about any individual whatsoever.

This is a very, very important condition. Every time I have seen everywhere that people just don't forgive and I have to work hard on them.

So best is, to make My situation better and to make the whole thing work out faster, please, for My sake forgive everyone, everyone. These are the two conditions. That's all.

[Aside:] You know, I don't need that now. Too.

Now please put your left hand towards Me and right hand on your heart. The spirit is residing in your heart. Left hand on your lap, just on your lap please, comfortably. Now. Now we are working only on the left hand side with right hand, because right hand is for action and left hand is for desire.

So when you put the left hand towards Me, you are desiring to have your Self-realisation; and with the right hand you are nourishing your centers, yourself raising your own Kuṇḍalinī.

Now take down your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. This is the center which all the prophets have created for us, all the great masters have created for our mastery: mastery over the Divine work, Divine laws. Now we take down our hand in the lower portion of our abdomen on the left hand side. This is the center of Pure Knowledge. This knowledge manifests on your central nervous system. This is what is called is `bodh' from where the word `Buddha' has come, or `Ved' from the word `vida' meaning `feeling on your central nervous system.' As the Gnostic: `gn' means `to know.' `Know' doesn't mean mentally, but to know on your central nervous system. That's the Pure Knowledge.

Now you raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen and press it hard, on the left hand side. Again you take your hand onto your heart. Now please put your right hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to your right. This is the center I've told you already is in trouble when you feel guilty.

Now please take your right hand on to your forehead across and put down your head as far as possible.

This is the center where you have to forgive everyone in general. Now take back this right hand on the back side of your head and push back your head. Push back your head as far as possible. Here, without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, you have to say, `Oh Divine Power, please forgive me if I have done anything wrong, knowingly or unknowingly.' That I'll tell you later on; just now I'm telling you the position.

Now stretch your palm fully. Put the center of your palm on top of the fontanelle bone area here. And now press it hard. Press down your head. Press it hard, push back your fingers and start moving your scalp with the pressure, seven times clockwise. This is important. Push back your fingers. Put down your head fully and now go on moving your scalp seven times clockwise, very slowly. Now take down your hands.

Now you have to close your eyes. Before that you can take out your spectacles, because you are not to open your eyes till I tell you; this might help your eyesight. Now please remember to put your feet on, away from each other a little bit. If there's anything tight on your neck or on your waist, you can loosen it a little bit.

Now put your right hand on your heart. Here you ask Me a very fundamental question you can call Me `Shri Mataji' or `Mother', whatever you like `Mother, am I the spirit? Mother, am I the spirit?' Ask this in your heart three times.

If you are the spirit then you become your own master, because in the light of the spirit you see everything clearly.

So now please take your hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side, press it hard. Here you have to say, again a question you have to ask Me, `Mother, am I my own master?' Ask this question three times, `Mother, am I my own master?' Three times, in your heart. As I told you, I respect your freedom and I cannot force Pure Knowledge on you, so you have to ask for it.

Take your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen on the left hand side and here you say six times, because this center has got six petals, `Mother, please give me Self-knowledge' or you can say `Pure Knowledge', `Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge.' Say it six times.

Now, raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. As you have asked for Pure Knowledge, your Kuṇḍalinī has started moving upward, so we have to nourish these upper centers with self-confidence.

So here you say ten times, `Mother, I am my own master.' Say it with full self-confidence, ten times, `Mother, I am my own master.' I have already told you that the most important truth about is that you are not this body, not mind, not your conditionings, your ego, but you are pure spirit.

So now raise your right hand on your heart and say here with full confidence, twelve times, `Mother, I am the Spirit.' Please say it twelve times.

The Divine Power is the ocean of knowledge, is the ocean of love, joy and bliss, but above all it is the ocean of forgiveness.

So whatever mistakes you have committed can be easily dissolved by the power of this ocean of forgiveness.

So please forgive yourself and raise your right hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to your right. Here with full confidence say sixteen times, `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' Please say that, `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' I have already told you, whether you forgive or don't forgive you don't do anything, but if you don't forgive then you play into wrong hands. It's a myth to know that you are not forgiving someone. It's a myth.

So please raise your right hand on your forehead across and please put down your head as far as possible. And here with full confidence you have to say from your heart not how many times, from your heart please say, it is very important, `Mother, I forgive everyone.' Don't say `I try' just saying it, with full confidence, `Mother, I forgive everyone in general.' Now, take back your hand on the back side of your head. Push back your head as far as possible. Here we have to say, without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes; just for your satisfaction, from your heart, not how many times, `Oh Divine Power, if I have done any mistakes knowingly or unknowingly, please forgive me.' Now stretch your right hand. Put the center of your palm on the fontanelle bone area which was a soft bone in your childhood. Now put down your head as far as possible, put down. Push back your fingers. Here again I respect your freedom. I cannot force Self-realisation on you you have to ask for it.

So now push back your fingers with the pressure; move your scalp seven times clockwise, saying seven times, `Mother, please give me Self-realisation.' [Shri Mataji blows into the microphone seven times.] Now please take down your hand.

[Aside:] If you can close the air conditioning, they would feel it better.

Now please put, open your eyes and put both the hands towards Me like this, like this. Now, put your right hand like this and don't think, you can manage, now you don't think. Put the right hand and put down your head and see with the left hand if there is a Cool Breeze, can you get up and show them?, if there's a Cool Breeze coming out of your fontanelle bone area. Now, please put the left hand away from your head, not on top, away, not very far; some people get it far also, but just try to feel if there's a Cool Breeze coming out of your head. Now please put your left hand towards Me like this, like this. And now put down your head and now see for yourself if there's a Cool Breeze coming out of your head.

[Aside:] There is so much of Cool Breeze.

Now feel it with the right hand. Right hand towards Me and left hand: you see it clearly, if there's a Cool Breeze coming out of your head, the fontanelle bone area. You can move your hand a little bit up and down and see for yourself on sideways.

Now, raise both your hands towards the sky. Push back your head and ask a question, `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost?' or ask, `Mother is this the All-pervading Power of Divine Love?' or `Mother, is this the Param-Chaitanya?' Ask any one of these questions three times, raising your hands.

Put down your hands, please.

So much of breeze already blowing all over! All those it's tremendous breeze already blowing all over. It's not air conditioning, for your information. Now those who have felt the Cool Breeze out of their fontanelle bone area or on their hands or fingertips, please raise both your hands. May God bless you.

So many of you have felt it now.

Some of you have not felt, doesn't matter. Tomorrow again we have a program and I'll explain to you more about the nature of spirit and the nature of these centers. Please inform your friends, everyone, to come and tomorrow hopefully, I will meet all of you one by one. Also those who have problems should write them on a piece of paper and their address and we'll try to contact them and help them as far as possible. Thank you very much.

Those who have not felt can come on this side and the Sahaja Yogis can work it out in five minutes, those who have not felt. Because you did not forgive; I know you have not forgiven. If you had forgiven you would have felt it. Come along, this side. Just five minutes and they'll give you realisation. You felt it? Ha, good. Your problems will be solved now, it's good. You felt it? Which hand you felt? Left you felt, not the right? Doesn't matter. We'll work it out. It's good. Surprising! First of all, see on their heads are you feeling it or not; just see it. They might be saying they are not feeling it because of Viśhuddhi.

Yes, yes, do.

Seeker: [asks about her chronic low energy and the Haṭha Yoga she has been doing.]

Shri Mataji: You know, you see this modern Haṭha Yoga is most unscientific. It is just done like all the medicines you take from the medicine box, without knowing what you need really.

So you give up that and come to Sahaja Yoga and know what's wrong with you and fill yourself with energy, all right? Is all nonsense. It's all nonsense. It has given heart attacks to people, heart attacks. It's the way they go about it. We also do a little bit of Haṭha Yoga, but wherever it is necessary; it's not like mad, doing all the time there. Now you have a catch on this one, you have a catch on there. Two centers are very badly caught up.

So you'd better come to Sahaja Yoga, all right and fix yourself up, because Haṭha Yoga nobody reaches God, that's true.

But this Haṭha Yoga is very limited: a wee bit of it. You see, Patanjali wrote `Ashtanga Yoga' out of which this Haṭha Yoga that you do is one-eighth of one of them. And that to be is understood with the guidance of the Kuṇḍalinī: where is the Kuṇḍalinī stopping? Whatever center it is stopping, that is the one you have to look after. And that is the one you have to do that particular asana for that particular thing, not all of them like that mad. All right? So. You cannot do it unless and until you start your Kuṇḍalinī. Once you start your Kuṇḍalinī, you will know where the problem is. It's like if your car has started then you will know where is the problem is, isn't it? It's like that. May God bless you.

So now, how are you? Your sister? You are all right now? She's in Iceland. You give her address to us, we'll contact her. All right. What is she, now? Iceland? What's the matter with her? You see, they will tell. You come and see Me and take the photograph. And then you send My photograph and tell her to put both her hands towards the photograph and both her feet in the water with salt every night.

Both the hands to the photograph and both the feet in the water. All right? But first you master this.

You felt the Cool Breeze?

Seeker: [says he wasn't sure if it was cool or not.]

Shri Mataji: Better forgive. You have to forgive, you don't forgive. How can I forgive for you? You have to forgive yourself, forgive everyone. I can't forgive for you.

Seeker: [asks where Shri Mataji lives in India.]

Shri Mataji: For practical purposes I live in London.

Contents: 1991-04-12*, Public Program, Day 2, Melbourne, Victoria, Australia

I bow to all the seekers of Truth. As I told you yesterday that truth is what it is. We cannot understand it, you have to feel it. We cannot conceptualise it and you cannot feel it also at this human awareness.

We have to become a subtler being, as described in all the scriptures that you are to be born again and that you have to become the spirit, to feel the existence of truth.

First thing we have to understand, that all this is a process of one living energy. Divine is a living energy and divinity within you also is a living energy. We do not understand sometimes what is a living energy. When we sow a seed in the ground, they sprout by themselves. When a mother conceives the child, according to the normal nature of human beings their body has to expel everything that is foreign.

But when the child is conceived, it is not only kept in the body but is nourished, looked after, developed and at the right time it is expelled. There are so many other things which cannot be explained through medical science, but one must know that to understand what I am saying, you must have an open mind like a scientist has. And if you find what I am saying, which is like a hypothesis, is true and gives you the experience of the truth, then as honest people you must accept it, because it is for your emancipation and for the emancipation of the whole world.

In our evolutionary process now we have become human beings here, but as you know we have not achieved the absolute nature. For that something has to happen within us: last breakthrough has to take place and that is what we are talking about here. You have been already told about the mechanism that is here. And this mechanism exists within you, these two lines that you see, left and right, are nourishing our left and right sympathetic nervous system. And the central one that you see here is nourishing our parasympathetic nervous system. Now these centers are created by these two sides, left and the right like this in the center and these centers are all the time exhausted by us whenever we try to use energy. For example, if you are running fast you can increase the heart rate, but it comes to its normal self through the parasympathetic nervous system, while in emergency you use your sympathetic nervous system. Thus we start exhausting the energy of these centers and that's how we get into problems of our physical, mental and emotional being.

Supposing we are exhausting the energy on the right hand side means you are very futuristic, you are planning all the time, thinking of the future then what happens, the right side starts moving like this. And something happens on the left side, a shock, then it breaks. When it breaks, then we lose our connection with the central nervous system: that means we lose our connection with our brain that controls it and we become on our own. And that's how psychosomatic troubles start, specially cancer and the malignancy sets in. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises from there, she goes through this center as well as this center, pushes them together and nourishes them. Now let us see what is the quality of all these centers within us. This is all within us and we have to see that how we exist with the energy of these centers.

The first center that you see is down below. This center which is down below is below the Kuṇḍalinī and so we have to understand that this center supports the rising of the Kuṇḍalinī, but is not pierced through by the Kuṇḍalinī. This center is for all our excretion, even sex.

So those people who say that through sex you can raise your Kuṇḍalinī, they are absolutely wrong and are misleading you, because you can see here clearly, it is below that. This is the center of innocence, is the center where we say that the deity of innocence is sitting, who incarnated later on as Christ on the higher center there between, where you see this line, My red spot, is one of the windows it is on the Optic Chiasma. And that's how we say that Christ was the incarnation of innocence.

Because He is sitting on the Optic Chiasma, He said that “Thou shall not have adulterous eyes." This is the sentence He has used. To such a subtle way He has suggested that you will not have adulterous eyes, meaning you will have very pure eyes, innocent eyes. Why did He talk of the eyes, because He's sitting on the Optic Chiasma. It's a very constricted center and He was to be resurrected to show that you can also pass through that center very easily.

So His message is not His crucifixion, but His resurrection; and that is how we are all going to resurrected, not after death, but right now. We should not postpone our resurrection any more.

Then this second center that we have is very important. It is called as the Swādhiṣhṭhāna. This center looks after the physical and our mental activities. Perhaps the doctors don't know that it has a very important work to do, is that it has to nourish the brain with new cells, because all the time the brain is using these cells for its activity.

So the energy has to go from this center, acts on you can see and then it nourishes the center, it nourishes the brain through its activity. Now when we are very futuristic or we are using too much of our brain, I should say, too much of our brain activity we have we are futuristic, we are planning too much, thinking too much, all the time thoughts and thoughts and thoughts that time we are using the energy of this center. But this center has another very important thing to be done, that it goes round, as you see, it moves all round here is shown here directly but it's connected to the center and it moves round and round and round and gives energy to this area where we have our liver, our pancreas, our spleen, kidney and parts of the intestines. Now if you start exhausting ourselves with too much thinking, then the main work of this center suffers and that's how we develop all these diseases of all these organs: like for example, with liver you develop a liver problem.

Liver problem means that liver has a function to emit heat from your body, which is poison, into the bloodstream. But when liver gets upset, we should say, the heat is retained in the liver. It passes upward and downward. When it passes upward it affects a center there, as you can see, which we call as the right Heart and people develop what we call the disease as asthma. And when it passes downwards it reaches the kidneys and coagulates and you get kidney troubles, for which we have to go on dialysis and ultimately to die.

So this heat is created because our liver is out of gear. At the same time this heat can also pass, if a person, say, at a very young age drinks and puts in too much of physical efforts and is all the time busy thinking, thinking, he might get a very fatal heart attack, because this heat can go towards his heart and just collapse it. Also those people work very hard like that can get a very massive heart attack.

But the people who have other problems on the left hand side are different type. They are the people who have lethargic organs. These organs do not work and when they do not work then they have all the other problems of the left side, as we call it; and this also causes another serious problem of psychosomatic troubles.

Now the essence of this center is that it is creativity. When the Kuṇḍalinī nourishes this center, people become extremely creative. Now you have seen these artists who are playing here. They were very simple, ordinary artists, but after coming to Sahaja Yoga suddenly they have bloomed so much. The most surprising thing is that people, say, even from Switzerland who do not know a word of Sanskrit, do not know a word of Hindi language have composed poems, they have put them to tunes and they sing as good as these people can sing. Is impossible to believe that even the English who were so difficult to even pronounce a one, a sentence in Hindi language, are now fluently speaking Sanskrit and talking all these things because of this creativity improves you. We have so many artists in India who came to Sahaja Yoga, I don't know if you know their names or not like Amjad Ali, Dhelo Dhar, so many of them they got their realisation and after that, now today they are very well-known artists. Also the paintings: we have some Australian people who became quite good artists after coming to Sahaja Yoga.

So it gives you a sense of aesthetics and also it gives you the energy to express yourself. Now if you have the technique of how to create anything say, you want to make a house or you want to paint, or if you want to do something, moldings or anything that you want to do if you have the technique, the creativity, the power of creativity starts pouring in you and you start producing things on which you cannot even have thought of and these things happen to a person.

So a person can become extremely dynamic with this. But if with that you do not keep your Sahaja Yoga practice means if you do not keep your connection with the Divine then the energy gets exhausted. That's why Self-realisation is very important for every artist, that he should get his connection with this All-pervading Power which is the combination of all the powers, so that he doesn't feel exhausted with it. Not only that, but all the time this source is flowing into him. Constantly it has to flow and that's why you have to do a little practice of Sahaja Yoga after getting your realisation as I told you yesterday that now you don't stop at this point, you have to make the connection perfect. Without the connection it may be that you may go down.

So it's best is to keep your connection on and work it out, to give full respect to yourself, to your being. You are not an ordinary thing, you are not a chicken or something like that you are a human being. And the beauty that is within you is to be discovered, is to be nourished and to be proud of. It is such a great thing you have within yourself, the powers, which I'll tell you one by one.

Now above that is the, you see the third center. It's called as Nābhī, it means the navel. This is the center of the way we absorb the virtues, or the virtues are enlightened. When this center is enlightened we really become righteous. We don't have to tell `now you don't do this and don't do that' you just become.

Like a saint, a real saint will not do wrong things. In the same way when a person gets his realisation, by the virtue of this center he becomes absolutely balanced: balanced with his family life, with his wife, with his children, balanced with the politics, economics, balanced with the society, balanced with all the people whom he knows. In a very balancing way he starts behaving; there's not one-sided activity.

For example, somebody may be very much attached to the wife and may try to harm others.

Somebody who is very much attached to others may harm his wife.

So a kind of a balance is established by this and a person who gets this develops a personality which we call as regal. That sense of dignity comes into such a person. Now you see our children have lost the virtues, our children don't have that regality. They have become very cheapish also and they run after materialism and things like that; they fight for small, small things. It's not only children, even the grown-ups are like that and they try to waste their energy, fighting for something that is so useless.

So by enlightenment of this center you understand the value of matter. And the value of matter is this: that it has aesthetics, first of all and secondly, you can express your love only through matter. If you love somebody you'll give them something, a little flower also can express your love. Anything can express your love through matter and then you become a very generous and very enjoyable person.

Some people feel that if you become generous, you'll be bankrupt. It's not so on the contrary. If you open one door no air will come in there, but if you open the other door all the air will start circulating. In the same way, when a person is generous he starts getting so many blessings because he is also connected with the Divine that he's amazed, he doesn't know what to do with the things that he has got and then he starts pouring it to others. There are so many things people are telling Me about miracles and miracles of even material things in their jobs, in their purchasing, in their shopping, the way they have seen miracles happening that it is nothing but just that this center is enlightened. And with this center, within you a righteousness comes in. And this righteousness doesn't force anybody else. It's just righteousness itself which doesn't command anything or demand anything, but it becomes a respectable personality and you just start really understanding that `look at this man.' Somebody was telling Me today that in the office people asked, “How are you so dignified?" He said, “I didn't know I was so dignified." No, you don't do anything in-dignified and you do everything just like a child also. There's a child-like dignity you develop and it's a beautiful thing to happen, really it's angelic.

Now then there we have another center on top, which we call as the Heart center. It is in the center.

Now in the sternum bone, behind the sternum bone this center is there and thymus produces the antibodies in your sternum bone. These antibodies later on fight your diseases. Right when you are about twelve years of age they go into the whole body and waiting there for a signal from your sternum bone. That means supposing you see something, you get frightened, this bone starts pulsating. When it pulsates the antibodies know there's some emergency and they get prepared for it. Now this is such a normal thing to happen to people, but the insecurities while can be of the worst type and when these insecurities develop, people can develop all kinds of diseases of the lungs; specially the women develop what you call as the breast cancer. Mostly these women are insecure: maybe their husbands are not good, or they feel that the husband may leave them alone or something like that. There are certain insecurities that are built in. They might be quite frightened people, personalities. I have seen most of the air-hostesses have this Center Heart catching, because they are afraid they may miss the plane or I don't know, they have to be on the job and run and do. Mostly these time-bound jobs cause you a trouble here of the Center Heart and this Center Heart is very important, because for women specially they have to be secured. If their motherhood is challenged then they are even worse. And this is how one has to understand, a woman should be very much respected if she is your wife, she's your child or anything, she has to be respected and given all the security. It's the woman who makes the society, is the woman who creates the children, is the woman who looks after the children.

So the men have to give all the security and the protection to the womenhood [womanhood] and understand it is a very important factor, which if we neglect we can have lots of problems with our society; and the women will start competing with men and then the society will be all dislocated.

So the center on the left side and the right side are the centers of your father of your mother and your father. If there's any problem with your father, then the right side catches and it gives you asthma. First of all you are, we can say, vulnerable to asthma, due to bad liver. Plus if you have problems with your father or if with your fatherhood supposing you are an unhappy father, or maybe that you are not looking after your children, then you get this center caught up very badly. Then on the left side is the mother's thing and the mother's thing is that when some mothers are not good mothers, also children can get this.

Or when the children are not nice to the mother, they also get it there.

So the mother and father are very important factors in Sahaja Yoga and you have to understand that if your parents have been unkind to you, you must forgive them. Just forget about them because they have given you birth you should be thankful and just forget about them. That's the best way to get over the problem of left and right Heart.

Then we have on top, if you see, is this Chakra which we call as the Viśhuddhi Chakra. This Viśhuddhi Chakra is, has got sixteen petals and looks after our ear, nose, eyes, throat, everything. Our face, everything is looked after by this center. Now this center also has left and right all centers have left and right and when you feel guilty the left center catches, which is a very dangerous thing because this gives you diseases like angina, or maybe diseases like spondylitis and lethargic organs. Right when a person is very aggressive, talks very aggressively and tries to dominate others and use his power of speech to show off, the right side catches. The reactions of this can be many: that the hand gets frozen and they also get the cancer of the throat; all kinds of things can happen with this Chakra being in trouble.

Now then we go to the Chakra here in between the Optic Chiasma, it is placed like this and it's absolutely closed. It is when you forgive Christ has said that you have to forgive when you forgive everyone and also when you ask for forgiveness, this Chakra opens like this. Otherwise it cannot open. We saw yesterday that some people, at least there was ten, fifteen people who never got their realisation, because they had not forgiven. Then when I put My hand, worked on them and it worked. But it's very simple to forgive, because whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything. It's a myth, it's absolutely a myth that you don't forgive, but for that myth you suffered so much.

So you have to forgive, to open this center of Āgñyā. It's very important and is, the Deity on that is Jesus Christ.

Then you enter into the area called limbic area which is on top, which is called as Sahasrāra in Sanskrit, means there are one thousand petals. These look like “tongues of flames" as described in the Bible. All of them look like “tongues of flames" but in the brain they are of seven colours, beautifully, very silently, peacefully opening, closing, opening, closing.

So when the Kuṇḍalinī goes into the limbic area it enlightens your brain, it enlightens it. And as I told yesterday there are many children who have been dullards have now records in their examination and they have put so much of a new dimension to their understanding that their teachers, their professors are surprised. This is what happens when the brain, which is used very little, starts getting enlightened. Automatically you start using it. Then it pierces through the fontanelle bone area, which is a very soft bone through which this Kuṇḍalinī comes out.

I told you yesterday that Kuṇḍalinī is your mother, individual mother and she is the power of pure desire. All other desires that we have are impure. Today we want to have, say, a chair, then we want to have a table, then we want to have a house, then We are never satisfied, we go from one to another; and it is a principle of economics that wants are not satiable in general.

So what is that want which is satiable, is this want, this pure desire. And what is the pure desire, is to be one with this Divine Power. Whether you know it or not, whether you are aware of it or not, it exists in all the human beings and the only thing that has to be done is, it is to be awakened and to be connected to this All-pervading Power.

So the truth is that you are not this body, not this mind, not these conditionings or ego, but you are the pure spirit. And the second one is that with this All-pervading Power which is a wonderful thing, impossible to describe it in this short lecture of Mine but it's the one which organizes, which does all the living work. To the minutest things it organizes, so complicated everything is, but it manages all that.

Not only, but above all it forgives and it loves.

So such a beautiful power is all around us, so why should we have any worry? And now we have to know that yesterday we had lots of questions and nice questions were there.

Today also I would like you to ask Me questions. But in asking questions, please remember not to ask `what is Your opinion about this person or that person?' Of course, now you must have known that I condemn all the people who take money in the name of God, absolutely openly.

So please don't ask Me questions about such people. Moreover, you ask questions which are related to our subject, because I have come here not to get anything out of you, but to give you what is your own: your beauty, your divinity, your glory. And then you will be surprised that the first thing that happens to you is a new awareness, a new dimension in your awareness comes in. And this awareness is called as collective consciousness, by which you feel others on your fingertips. Who is the other then? Also within yourself you can feel what's wrong with you. Only thing, you have to be decoding these signals and you should know how to correct it.

This is what has to happen; it is very simple. Within a month's time you can become your own masters and you'll know how to treat yourself and how to look after yourself.

I'm sorry I am here in only for today, tomorrow I have to go to Canberra. And in this lecture whatever is possible in short I am trying to tell you about this great mechanism that is within us. But by this you achieve so many beautiful things, as I told you yesterday, that you achieve the peace, you achieve the witness state, you achieve the collective consciousness, you achieve the light in your attention which acts.

You pay attention to something, it acts, it works. Then you get the power that you can raise the Kuṇḍalinī of others, like one light enlightened can enlighten another light. Then it gives you a complete idea about yourself and about others.

Above all, you get an absolute knowledge about everything. When you have the absolute knowledge, there's no quarrel, no war and everybody knows it on their fingertips. To know on your central nervous system is the real bodha, from where the word Buddha has come, is the Vidyā from where the word Vedas has come. Gnostics, `gn': `gn' means Gñyāna'. `Gñyāna' means the knowledge. And the knowledge is not mental knowledge, but the knowledge on your central nervous system. Whatever we have achieved in our ascent as human beings, we have got all this on our central nervous system. For example, you take a dog or a horse through a dirty place, he can pass through easily; but a human being cannot pass, because he has developed a new awareness about it. He knows what is beauty is, he knows what virtues are, he knows what is sin is. For an animal there is no sin, he'll do whatever he likes, because he's completely under the control of the Divine. But for human beings there's freedom and he has to judge it with trial and error and reach a point to understand that he has to get to a higher awareness.

May God bless you all.

You have to ask the questions I think that these are all forgotten! Question: Are melanomas and skin-cancers caused by a blockage in the Chakras?

Shri Mataji: Yah, all. Of course, all our diseases are because of the blockage on the Chakras, no doubt. But see now, if you have to treat a tree and you start putting the medicine on the leaves, it will never be cured. You have to go to the roots. And because this is at the roots, it's so simple. Only there are seven Chakras and three Nāḍīs means for twenty-one permutations and combinations you have to work out, that's all.

Question: In meditation, where should we put our consciousness in the body?

Shri Mataji: You don't have to do anything, you just get into it. When the Kuṇḍalinī crosses over this center, immediately you become thoughtlessly aware. That's a state when you are in the present neither in the future, not in the past and then the growth, spiritual growth starts working it out. And suddenly you will find one day that you have touched that depth of your divinity. You don't have to direct yourself at all, the Kuṇḍalinī itself directs.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Yah! What's this? Question: What is the spiritual significance of what we are doing to our world in the sense of pollution?

Shri Mataji: Yah, spiritual aspect is that we do not have a balance. Now once we start a machine, the machine has to produce, go on producing like mad. It produces more and more. Then the accent is on money, not on spirit.

So what happens? That they produce more and more things and they create an atmosphere through advertisement, this, that and everybody starts running for it. Then you have accumulation of so much of rubbish and what you have done is that you have exhausted the Mother Earth. But when you get your realisation and when you are spiritual, then what happens, you buy very few things, but very good things. You don't run after the fashions or anything, but you make a dress which is good for you, which is decent for you and may not be one hundred dresses, maybe five or six, but very beautiful, dignified, artistic dresses.

In the same way now, supposing I tell you that `you don't drink any alcohol,' you will all run away, but I don't say that. After Sahaja Yoga, people just don't drink. Now your money is saved by that. But also what is saved in that is the amount of paraphernalia you need for a drinking party! First time, in India I never used to serve any drinks in My house, but C.P. said in England “You have to do it." My husband said, “You have to do it in England." I said, “All right, that's your lookout, not Mine." So he got hold of a dictionary, you see, a French dictionary, to find out what all we have to buy to begin with.

So you'll be amazed, at that time it was in 1973 we went to London, yah and he said that “at least we'll have to pay nine hundred pounds to get the best quality tumblers." I said, “Nine hundred pounds for what?" He said, “For everything you have to have a different type of a tumbler." I said, “Really, but for what? What is the need?" He said, “That's the custom, that's the norm." So you see, also the norms that we have created are so stupid. There is no need. Instead of that in India supposing you are well off, all right they'll have six tumblers made of silver which they'll pass on from father to son, son to his son and that's all. You won't need many things. Or plates now: so you'll have first course, then a second course and a third course and then you start moving with all your cutlery this way, then this way, then this way and really you don't know what to do with it.

So there's no need to do all that. There's no need, you see, to do it. What is the necessity, do you see? But you could be simple, you could use your fingers is the best, because after realisation you have vibrations in your hands, Divine vibrations.

So you start using your hands and you can use a one nice plate of brass or of silver in that same amount. You see, six plates of silver cost you the same as this elaborate, say, a dinner set which is always, I would say, has to be replaced because it breaks, this happens, that happens. And the same plates you can pass on to other people.

There are so many things, we waste our time. Now if you go to a lady's apartment, you will be surprised that the whole place will be filled with this Elizabeth Arden, this, that, that, that. You open something it all falls down. And then you say, “Why have you got so many?" “No, Mother, this is gone out of fashion." “Baba, whatever it was good for your skin, whatever was once good for you, use that throughout." “No, but they are changing every time." I said, “But you decide what you want to use it and use that thing all through. What's the use of filling these cupboards with all this?" You see, we were in London, we were searching out houses and, I mean, horrible, I tell you, the experiences were. You go into any house and suddenly you'll find two legs of the pans falling on to your And then you look up and there's a pile of things kept on the top of the loft. Just the loft is overfilled with all the clothes and so much was filled. I tell you, Australians are much more neater people, but if you go to England you'll be shocked, because they are the buyers. For ages they have been buying, buying, buying, buying and there's no place for human beings to live inside. They live outside, in the Hyde Park! They are sitting in the Hyde Park if you ask them, “Why are you here?" “Our house are overfull." So you develop the balance. And because of this lack of balance, there is ecological problem.

Question: Is the Kuṇḍalinī to be developed at a certain age in human existence, or can it be developed at any age?

Shri Mataji: At any age. There's nothing like that. There's no age, no time, nothing it's beyond all that. Even so many children are born realised these days. Sahaja Yogis get the children, when they marry, they get children who are already born realised. They are so wise, you know, very wise and they come and have a conference with Me very special. And then they tell Me about all the uncle and aunties, what's wrong with their Chakras. They are My great friends, I should say; they're very wise, you know.

Question: She was recently told that she should never meditate unless she's had a glass of water.

Shri Mataji: Who, I? For Me? I didn't understand, what is it? Question: She was recently told that she shouldn't meditate until she's had a glass of water.

Shri Mataji: Are you Sahaja Yogis told you that? See, sometimes what happens, supposing you are a liver patient, then the heat might be generated out of your head, you see, like a chimney it opens out.

So if you take a little water the heat won't feel so much may be that. But I get the heat from all the rest of the people and I go on drinking water all the time to cool Myself down.

Question: There are so many different forms of meditation. Does any sort of meditation work?

Shri Mataji: No, no, it does not. We do not meditate, we have to be in meditation. There's difference between the two. You do not meditate before realisation; after realisation you are in meditation.

So you become thoughtlessly aware.

So when you meditate in Sahaja Yoga you become thoughtlessly aware and then you start growing into a new awareness or a higher awareness which you call as doubtless awareness and that is how you start growing.

So the meditation is that you get into meditation, you don't do meditation.

[Aside:] There's one.

Question: If you are an excessive thinker, you're thinking all the time and this causes a block on the opposite side, how you balance things out?

Shri Mataji: Just by, you see, turning your hand left to the right. Is very simple. You won't believe, but that's how we manage it. First the vibrations must flow from your hand, then you will know how to balance. But when that doesn't happen, then you can ask somebody to balance you.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: It's quite a big question.

Question: He says, You appear to be forming a hypothesis about Kuṇḍalinī and relating it to medical conditions. From where does this hypothesis come?

Shri Mataji: Hypothesis? Is My own knowledge. I have also done medicine, to relate it to that. Is My own knowledge, I should say and so many saints had this knowledge too. But the only thing I have done is I have related to not only to medical, but also to science. That's very important. Apart from that I have devised a method, I would say, of permutations and combinations of human problems. I've studied them and worked it out in such a way that en masse realisation can be given. You see, I always try not to talk about Myself because, you see, Christ said that He was the Son of God which was the truth, truth, absolute truth but people crucified Him for that. Because people don't understand Divine things, they don't understand, you see; they have no idea as to the Divine Power, what it can do.

So they don't understand, so no use telling them about Yourself. As I told you that I want to live, I don't want to get crucified just now.

Question: When you are meditating and you feel a force within you moving, could You explain what this force is?

Shri Mataji: When you are meditating? Now which meditation she is doing first of all, let's know.

Seeker: Chanting meditation.

Shri Mataji: Chanting is absolutely wrong. Absolutely wrong. Because if you are not connected, supposing you are taking the name of God, any way and you are not connected, so what's the use of taking the name? You are not connected it's like telephoning without connection. It's very practical.

Moreover, say, if you have to meet, say, the Queen of England, you have to have a protocol. You have to know her, you have to go by proper channel. You cannot just go and say, `Oh Elizabeth, Elizabeth, Elizabeth.' They'll all arrest you then. And if you do chanting, then you get into troubles, terrible trouble.

So you must have authority. God is not in your pocket, that you go on chanting His name all the time.

But what you have to do is to be in His Kingdom; then even once if you take His name, you are blessed.

Chanting is the most maddening thing, I think.

[Aside:] Just stand before the light, I can't see well.

Question: He says there are a number of teachers who can make this connection for one with the Divinity.

Shri Mataji: I have not known any, so far. I have not known any. They are all in the market and making money, that's all. I would like to know if there's somebody else. But once you get your realisation, once you become a Sahaja Yogi, then you can give realisation to others. That's different. But I have not known anyone so far who is doing this. If you know anyone, please let Me know.

I didn't understand it.

Question: How do you see God, how do you describe God?

Shri Mataji: Should I describe Him just now? It is we should say that God is the one who is the Divinity, you can call it Divinity. And the Divinity becomes active. It sleeps and then it becomes active.

When it becomes active, then we say that God is now awakened. And when it is awakened, He separates Himself from His Power; and His Power is the Primordial Mother as we call Her, or the Holy Ghost. And He is watching the work of the Holy Ghost. She creates everything, She creates up to human beings and it is He who is watching it. He is the spectator. There are many things can be said, because you see God cannot be described in such a short time, but once you get your realisation you'll start understanding what is God Almighty and what is His Power but first you must have the light. As I told you yesterday, now there are so many lights in this hall. Now if I start telling you about the origin of this light and electricity and how it came here and all that, it's a headache. But what you have to do is to just put on one switch and it comes. When you have the light, in that light if you see, this subtle knowledge will be easily understood. I am surprised that these people, who have never heard a name of Kuṇḍalinī and who had no idea of Divinity also much, have become such experts in this knowledge in such a short time, while it's a very, very subtle knowledge.

So gradually you will know everything. First you get your realisation.

Now again Question: I just wanted to respond to what You said, the response that I've had from other people is very similar to what You said in terms of “I don't know of anybody else who is able to..."

Shri Mataji: Really that's all right Yes, I really, I must tell you that they I think these people understood there's a market. Because, you see, this is a special category of people you are. Is a special category, is already described as such a special category of people who will seek God they are called as “men of God" by William Blake will be on this Earth and they will know God. Also they will make others men of God. This is described.

So many of them have prophesized like that. But when they came to know about that such a thing exists, they just started a market.

What is he saying? Question: He has a connection with somebody in India who speaks in a similar way about these things to Yourself and he is confused as to who are the genuine and who are the...

Shri Mataji: You see, the genuineness is first to apply one thing: does he take money, first? Ninetynine percent they're finished. Then you should say, does he give realisation to his disciples? You talk to the disciples have they got their realisation? Have they got any knowledge? They know the modus operandi or not? If they do not know, just they said “now you are realised" that's not. They have to know each and everything. What is their depth of knowledge? First, as you go in the market, you see, find out if somebody has purchased something: is it good, is really good, or not? In the same way when you are seeking something, you must first really with a free mind go and see the disciples: what have they got, what have they achieved, how are they, what sort of a life they are leading? It's the best way if you want to really find out, it's the best way to do that. You should not just blindly go to something and you should not just succumb to something because somebody says so. Even I, whatever I have said it, I've said that you first experience it. If you have the experiences, then only you have to believe in yourself and you believe in Sahaja Yoga. Not before that it's a blindness.

What's he say? Of course, now I am going to do it.

What's he saying? All right No, no, no, no, no, no. No, no, no. Not at all it's not thing like that. You have to certify yourself. Now the experience is that you feel the Cool Breeze coming out of your fontanelle bone area yourself. And also you feel the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost all around you. This is to be certified by you only. But you should not also doubt yourself even so many feel, then say `this is due to this air conditioning.' Then they go home, close the windows, close the doors, make it hermetically sealed still they feel. Then they say `now what is this?' So doubting up to a point is sensible, but if you go beyond that then it's harmful to you, not to anyone. Because I don't need Sahaja Yoga, you need it. You need it. You want it, you have to ask for it. I cannot force on you no, no, no way I can force you. You have to say `I want my Self-realisation.' In your freedom you have to ask, otherwise I cannot force. It cannot be forced.

Now one more question and then we, we'll start the See person, such...

Question: Is the healing capacity of Sahaja Yoga aligned to ayurvedic medicine?

Shri Mataji: What medicine?

Sahaja Yogi: Is the ability of Sahaja Yoga to heal in any way connected with ayurvedic medicine?

Shri Mataji: Of course. There are two doctors who have got their M.D. in Delhi, in Sahaja Yoga.

They have shown how certain diseases are cured. They have taken three, four diseases each person; now there's a third one who's doing. And there are seven doctors in London who are doing experiments I mean, they are just trying to document it, those people have been cured.

There are people like blood cancers, nephritis, myelitis: all kinds of people have been cured, so they are trying to document it. We have two hundred no, how many? four hundred doctors in Russia who are practicing Sahaja Yoga. It's all related to it. Because this is a new science, we can call it, this is Metamodernism: when people are seeing something higher. It is working out. But that doesn't mean that we'll take away all the practice of doctors they should not be afraid of it, because, you see, we can only help people who get realisation, not the people who do not get realisation. Those people who do not get realisation, we cannot help them.

So it is a by-product of your realisation.

Question: Reincarnation, what are Your thoughts on reincarnation?

Shri Mataji: You do reincarnate, no doubt, you do. But you should not believe whatever I say why should you believe that, because I am saying that? You should find out yourself. You can find out in Sahaja Yoga if whatever I say is true or not. Whatever I say is for you to judge later on. It's all absolutely open.

The biggest thing that Sahaja Yoga has achieved, I feel, more than medical, is that they are absolutely free of addictions. People who came to Me were so addicted to such horrible type of drugs that when they came they couldn't see Me even, they were like coma patients and overnight they gave it up. This is the biggest achievement today, I think. And I feel very gratified for that, because you must have heard how even small children below twelve years of age in England, in one part of England, in the southern part, are taking drugs, which is such a dangerous thing. Because you become absolutely free and capable of asserting your freedom.

Should we now have our Self-realisation, all of us? Before we start, I have to request you to take out your shoes, because this Mother Earth helps us a lot. It's not working? All right. Now Connections, you see, that's the point! Now there are two conditions which you have to accept. First one is that at this moment you forget the past. Absolutely, you should know that you have no business to condemn your life, that you are not guilty at all of anything. If you feel guilty, then it's another myth. And at this time you have to know this All-pervading Power is the ocean of forgiveness and you cannot commit any mistakes which cannot be completely dissolved by this Power.

So have confidence in yourself, please. These are very important conditions. Yesterday I met all of you, but today I may not be able to meet you all. At least those whom I've met yesterday must have noticed that I had to really correct them on these two points.

So please help Me cooperate.

Then secondly, the second condition is very simple, if you understand that you have to forgive everyone in general. Because logically, whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything. Logically think about it you don't do anything, whether we forgive or we don't forgive. But if we don't forgive, then we play into wrong hands. The people who have tortured us or troubled us or hurt us are quite happy, but we are the ones, by not forgiving, are suffering. Now some people say it's very difficult, but this is just a myth, it's just a bubble in your head.

So just forgive all of them, once for all. I told yesterday those people who were not forgiving they got their realisation “Tell all the flowers and all the trees and everyone loudly, `I have forgiven everyone.' " Don't think about them also individually, just say `all of them I have forgiven, in general.' It's such a relief, immediately you'll feel the relief on your head. It's very important to forgive. And that you must have full confidence that you are all human beings and you all are capable of getting Self-realisation. And `I will get my realisation' that should be your full self-confidence. That is going to help us.

Now as I have told you, that there's left and right, two energies. The left is the energy of mundane desires, everyday desires, not the pure desire. And the right is the energy of action.

So you please put both your feet a little apart from each other, who are sitting on the chairs. Who are sitting on the ground are perfectly all right, they don't have to bother. Now please put your left hand towards Me. This is symbolic that you really want your Self-realisation. Those who do not want to have, I cannot force it on them and they should in all civility leave the hall, because they can disturb others' ascent.

So to be civil to others, they should leave the hall. But those who want to have their Self-realisation have to do this much, is to do what I'm telling you; and hardly ten minutes will take to have your Self-realisation.

So just left hand towards Me, the right hand is to be used for nourishing your different centers.

So you put first your right hand on your heart. This is the center of the spirit. The spirit resides in your heart, but its seat is here; but it resides in your heart. It resides in your heart. Then you take down your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen. This is the center of your mastery, which has been created by great masters and prophets. Then you take down your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen. This is the center of Pure Knowledge, absolute knowledge: knowledge about the Divine Powers, its laws which work through your being. You don't have to know mentally, but they are manifested through your being Pure Knowledge. As you can see Me, as you can feel something, in the same way this Pure Knowledge works through you.

Now raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen. Then again on your heart. Then in the corner of your neck and your shoulder, as I told you, that when you feel guilty this center goes out of order and turn your head to your right, completely. Here is the center where you have to forgive yourself completely and to know that you are not guilty at all.

Now take your right hand on your forehand across, like this and gently put down your head as far as possible, resting on your hand. This is the center where you have to forgive everyone in general. Now you have to take your right hand on the back side of your head. Back side of your head and push back your head as far as possible. Push it back as far as possible. This is the center where, without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes you have to ask forgiveness from the Divine Power.

Now stretch your palm. I'm just telling you how to do it; then later on we'll do it in a proper way. Now stretch your palm fully and put the center of your palm exactly on the fontanelle bone area, which was the soft bone in your childhood. Now please put down your head as far as possible, please put it down and now start moving your scalp. Push back your fingers, otherwise there's no proper pressure, please push back your fingers nicely. Now move your scalp with that pressure not the hand so much as the scalp seven times clockwise. Put down your head please, push back your fingers and move your scalp slowly seven times. It's very slow. Put a proper pressure. Done that's all we have to do.

Now I will request you to take out your spectacles because you have to close your eyes and till I tell you, please don't open your eyes. Move your legs apart from each other and please put your left hand towards Me and right hand on your heart. And now, if there is anything that is tight on your neck or on your waist, please reduce the pressure: be comfortable, sit straight, not too much bending or bending back but in a comfortable way, in a very comfortable way. Now, you have to be pleasantly placed towards yourself.

Now, please put your right hand on your heart. Here you have to ask Me a very fundamental question about yourself. Because I told you, you have to become a Divine computer, so first you use Me for that.

Now ask a question, in your heart. You can call Me `Shri Mataji' or `Mother' whatever you like ask a question three times, `Mother, am I the Spirit?' Ask sincerely, `Mother, am I the Spirit?' Ask three times.

Now, if you are the spirit you are your master, because in that light you know what is right, what is wrong and you become your own guide.

So now put your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. We are only working on the left hand side. Press it hard. And here you ask another question three times, `Mother, am I my own master?' Ask this question three times, `Mother, am I my own master?' I have already told you that I respect your freedom, I cannot force Pure Knowledge upon you.

So now please put your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen. Here you have to ask three times six times, because this petal, this center has got six petals please ask six times, `Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge.' Please say that six times, `Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge.' Say it in humility: you are asking for the highest. Six times, please. When you ask for Pure Knowledge your Kuṇḍalinī starts rising.

So we have to clear our upper centers with our self-confidence, so raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side and here you press it hard and say with full confidence ten times ten times, `Mother, I am my own master. Mother, I am my own master.' Please say. Ten times.

As I told you that you are not this body, this mind, this ego, these conditionings, but you are the pure spirit.

So now please raise your right hand on your heart. Here now, say with full confidence twelve times, `Mother, I am the pure Spirit.' Please say it twelve times, `Mother, I am the pure Spirit.' Please put your hand on your heart. This Divine Power is the ocean of knowledge, is the ocean of love, compassion and bliss; but above all it is the ocean of forgiveness and you can not commit any mistakes which cannot be dissolved by this great power of forgiveness.

So please forgive yourself and put your hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to your right. Here, please help Me by saying with full confidence, `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' Just say that with full confidence, please. You have to say that, please. Sixteen times.

I have already told you that if you forgive or don't forgive, you do not do anything. It's a myth, absolute myth. But if you don't forgive, then you play into wrong hands and torture yourself.

So give up this myth, once for all just give up this myth! Now raise your right hand onto your forehead across and put down your head as far as possible. Now here you have to say not how many times but with your heart in it, say it, `Mother, I forgive everyone in general.' Just say that, from your heart.

Now take back your right hand on the back side of your head and push back your head as far as possible. Here, without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, just for your satisfaction you have to say from your heart not how many times, `Oh Divine Power, if I have done any mistakes knowingly or unknowingly, please forgive me.' Say it from your heart, `Oh Divine Power, if I have done anything against you or any mistakes, please forgive me.' That's all you have to say, from your heart. Stretch back your head fully.

Now, stretch your hand fully. And put the center of your palm on top of your fontanelle bone area, which was a soft bone in your childhood. Now, bend your head as far as possible. Now, push back your fingers to have a good pressure on your scalp. Here again, I cannot force Self-realisation on you. I cannot force.

So you have to ask for it. Now move your scalp slowly seven times, saying seven times, `Mother, please give me Self-realisation.' Saying seven times, `Mother, please give me Self-realisation.' [Shri Mataji blows into the microphone seven times.] Please open your eyes slowly, put down your hands. Now please put both your hands towards Me like this. Put your right hand towards Me like this and now put down your head and see if you are getting yourself a cool or a hot breeze coming out of your fontanelle bone area. Just see for yourself. Now don't put the hand on top of your head, but away from it and sometimes you might get it much further. You can also move your hand to see if there's a Cool Breeze coming out of your head. Now don't doubt about the air conditioner, because it's coming out of your head. Now put your left hand towards Me and put down your head. And now see with your right hand, right hand, if you are getting a cool or a hot breeze out of your fontanelle bone area. Now, again put your right hand towards Me, right hand like this. Put down your head, see for last time, see clearly if there's a cool or a hot breeze may be slight, might be more coming.

Don't get confused, but see for yourself with attention, it's coming out.

Now put both the hands towards Me like this and watch Me without thinking. You will see that there's no thought in your mind. Now raise both your hands towards the sky like this and ask another fundamental question, `Mother, is this the... Mother is this the breeze, the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost? Mother, is this the All-pervading Power of Divine Love? Mother, is this the Param-Chaitanya?' Ask any one of these questions three times. Put back your head completely. Push back your head completely and ask this question, any one of them, three times. Now take down your hands. Such flowing of vibrations! All those who have felt Cool Breeze on your fingertips, in your hands or on top of your fontanelle bone area, please raise both your hands. Please raise both your hands.

May God bless you all. May God bless you all.

Now you should know, it has not happened through any mental activity.

So you cannot argue it out, you cannot discuss it, but you have to just feel it and grow into it. Another thing I would suggest that it's not an individual procedure, it's a collective procedure, it's a collective thing. Like one nail which falls out of your body, it's not looked after. In the same way if you say that `I am doing it at home, Mother, it's all right,' that's not the thing. You have to come to our collective. And we have a very nice collective arrangements here where you can come and you can tell your problems and you can master this art, absolutely master. I hope next year I'll come to Melbourne and I'll find lots of people who have achieved this mastery.

I bless you all from My heart. Those who have not felt Cool Breeze can come on this side So I may not be able to meet all of you, though I wanted very much to meet all of you today again, but we'll have some music for you to enjoy. Please! Just sit down. Please, now we have a special announcement to make, so please, please. She wants what? I didn't follow. Water all right, please come. Give her some is there any other glass? some other glass It's difficult for Me. It's all right for a child. [Hindi.] She is all right? Ah, she is the one Yah! Really! What trouble they had?

Sahaja Yogi: That one was paralyzed. Now she can move left hand and right foot.

Shri Mataji: Amjad! Amjad! Doctor Amjad Ali, please come along. Are you here? He will just talk to them and he has to take their They must be having their medical reports and So I think I'll ask Amjad to file it, because we have to send certain documents of people being cured here, so Yes, but I'll tell Doctor Amjad to help you.

Sahaja Yogi: I go to bring her here.

Shri Mataji: Not necessary, it's all right.

Sahaja Yogi: Somebody is outside who is hurt and the doctor is helping him at the moment.

Shri Mataji: Hurt what? How? Bring them here, I'll cure.

Contents: 1991-04-13 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, before, Public Program, Ashram, Canberra, Australia

[A Small child coughs.] You should know I cannot bear to see a child suffer.

[Shri Mataji then rubs with eucalyptus oil the spine of the child until his coughing stops.]

Contents: 1991-04-1x Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Ashram, Canberra, Australia

(year not sure)

If you have trouble surrendering, just look back, look how far you have come since you got your realisation and you will have no trouble surrendering.

Contents: 1991-04-13*, Public Program, National Press Club, Canberra, Australia

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

At the very outset we have to know that truth is what it is. We cannot organize it, we cannot conceptualise it; we also unfortunately cannot know it at this human awareness. That's why in all scriptures it is said that you are to be born again. But it is not just a certificate one can take that `I'm born again'.

It is something that is a real state within us, that gives you the right to say you are born again.

At the very outset again I would like to say one more thing, that whatever I'm telling you here has to be understood as scientist. It's a scientific outlook. Don't accept everything that I am saying, blindfolded.

But scientific attitude is such that if I am putting before you a hypothesis and if you find that it is working out, it is being proved, then as honest people you must accept, because it is for your emancipation and for the emancipation of the whole world.

We have to realise that we are not at the point where we know the absolute truth and the absolute knowledge. `Absolute' means `when there is not the other.' If we had known the absolute we would never have had all these problems, these fightings and wars, different ideologies propounded all over the world, but we all would have felt the same thing, understood the same thing and we would have been all one as far as our understanding of the truth was concerned. That's what you find among saints. They are all of the same style, of the same type, talk of the same thing, in the same way. But whatever they have known in their lifetime has not been yet delivered to the common people and that's why so many of them misunderstood them and they were crucified, they were killed and tortured. The time has come for us now, a special time, when the common person has to know about it.

Formerly in India we had three type of institutions, as far as the Divine was concerned. One we call as the right side of Vedas. `Veda' itself comes from the word `vidh' means `to know on your central nervous system.' It's not mental; you have to know it on your central nervous system. And this was also shown in the early Christians, when Thomas has written a beautiful treatise which were found about fifty years back in Egypt, that he called Christians as `Gnostics'. `Gn', `gn' word comes from the word `gn' or `dnya' in Sanskrit language, meaning `the knowledge'. Knowledge is not mental and according to this book which is now being rewritten, knowledge is an experience on our central nervous system.

So we have to understand that in our evolutionary process whatever we have achieved is felt on your central nervous system. For example, a dog or an animal, any animal if you want, can pass through any dirty, filthy place without feeling anything about it. But a human being cannot, because in his evolutionary process he has developed a new awareness of cleanliness, of beauty, of virtues, of sublimity. In the same way now we have to have the last breakthrough of our evolutionary process, where we have to become the spirit. The spirit is within our heart. It's the witness of what we are doing. But it has not yet come into our attention and so this is the mechanism within us which is built in during all our evolutionary process one by one. And now the time is for you to get the last breakthrough through that point, as you see clearly, is the actualisation of the baptism, where you do feel the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost.

The Holy Ghost is reflected in the triangular bone as Kuṇḍalinī. These centers are on your central nervous system. We can say they are looked, they are the sources of parasympathetic nervous system and there's left and right sympathetic nervous systems which are nourished by the left and the right, two channels. In one lecture, I am sorry, I won't be able to tell you all about this thing. But luckily they have agreed to have a follow-on, in which they will have people who want to know more about it enrolled and they would like to give you a course of about seven weeks, every night once a week. And if that happens you can gain a lot.

But one thing I must tell you at the very outset: you cannot pay for it, you cannot, because it's a living process. Try to understand, logically, when it's a living process we don't pay. For example, see these beautiful flowers are here. We take them for granted. See the beautiful area you have in Canberra, now the autumn has come. Autumn comes, the beautiful colours of ochre, this, that, I'm just enjoying. All that comes by itself, the seasons come by itself. You don't pay anyone for that. You don't pay the Mother Earth for giving you these flowers. In the same way when you have become a human being, you have not paid at all for your evolution. Then how can you pay for a higher awareness? Is a logical thing you should understand. You cannot pay for this living process and nor for this knowledge. All right, you can pay for this hall, is all right; but you cannot pay for this happening. You cannot pay for anything that is Divine.

If you understand this point you'll have to understand also another point: it has to be very effortless.

If it is so vital, it is so important, it has to be effortless. With a very little effort you should be able to achieve your evolution. If that doesn't happen, that you should know that it is something else but not your evolution. Now, you have to know what you are seeking is the truth. And what is the truth is, actually you are seeking your higher evolutionary attainment. That is, to be the spirit is the first truth you are seeking. And the second one is that all this living work is done by an All-pervading Power, that's the Divine Love. They may call it by the name `Param-Chaitanya', they may call it as the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost, they can call it as the All-pervading Power of God's love or they can call it as the `ruh' or anything. But it is a fact that all this living work is done through this vital power which combines all the powers of the world.

This power has created us and this power wants us to feel that power, to get connected with that power, to be enriched by that power, to enjoy that power and then ultimately to use it to give it to others also. We are human beings and we get so frustrated with ourselves sometimes, people start asking, “Why am I here, for what? What's my purpose? After all this useless thing I'm going on with the insurance; so much to be paid, the bills to be paid, this to be paid!" You are fed up. Is a fact, no doubt, I agree. But you have forgotten your purpose, that's why. Actually within yourself you are extremely beautiful. Your divinity is waiting for you. In your depth you have all that. You have to reach that divinity. Then you will know how beautiful you are, how dynamic you are, how compassionate you are and that how universal you are. All this has to come to you through this connection.

I'll tell a story about taking a, say, a television set to a very remote village in India where they have never known anything about television. You show them the box and they'll say, `What, this box?' If you tell them, `No, you can see lots of pictures in this from all over the world,' they'll say, `What, this box?' That's what we feel about ourselves. But once this box is put to the mains, then you know how fantastic is it. Then you realise how great you are. And this knowledge has to be our own. It has only been made possible now. Luckily, something has happened to this All-pervading Power that it has become so dynamic and it is helping us to get you all as seekers. I say you are a special category of people who are seeking truth. This category has to be faced by every country, every nation, every government. You cannot stop them from seeking.

But in that seeking they have gone to drugs, they have gone to alcoholism, they have gone to all kinds of madness and also to false people. They have suffered so.

People come to Me and... Yesterday there was three people; and they told Me, “Mother, they went to this Guru here, someone and they are so much suffering." I don't mind, if they want to make money, let them make, because there are so many thieves in this world, you know, can't help it. All right. But it's not only that: they spoil your Kuṇḍalinī, they spoil your Kuṇḍalinī, they spoil your chances of realisation and they give you diseases. They give you serious diseases of such a horrible nature that sometimes I really give up. I say, “Now how am I to help them?" And we listen to them and believe them, blindfolded.

So in this short time, what I can warn you, this way: that first of all before going to anyone like that, you must find out what other disciples who are there have got, what powers have they got, how they behave. Are they beautiful people, have they really become religious or righteous, have they really become? Because you can follow any religion, Hindu, Muslim, Christian, any religion, you can commit any sins. How these people are, how they are living among themselves, what are their relations with each other? Once in a while we might also get somebody who is a money-maker or something, but we throw them out. We throw them out. Maybe sometimes we might get somebody, you see, just like a outsider coming in, but such people are then thrown out.

So you have to see the body of such organization, how it works, what is the way these people are, what have they achieved? What about their children, what about their families? Everything you can find out first and then you should go to anyone who talks about God. That's first thing: have they got godliness? Because William Blake has said there will be a special category of people who will be born on this Earth, he calls them “men of God", “they will know God and they'll make others godly." Now with Sahaja Yoga you get so many powers. The first and foremost is that you yourself get completely physically cured.

So many diseases are cured by Sahaja Yoga. But it's not a guarantee. If you get your realisation and if you settle down in Sahaja Yoga, you don't have to get to any diseases. It's possible: we have worked it out, it has worked even in Australia, it has worked in India. There are two doctors who have got M.D. in Sahaja Yoga in Delhi University. There are seven doctors in England who are experimenting, means they are documenting how many people have been cured. We have such a lot of documentation that we don't know how to even transport it. And there are forty doctors in Russia who are following Sahaja Yoga.

I must say, unfortunately Australia is one country where they never understood us. I've been coming here from the year 1978. Unfortunately at that time all these Gurus were here prevalent and nobody would accept us because we are not charging any money. And it was impossible to tell them about it. They would just walk out as soon as I said we don't take any money. It was really very difficult to communicate.

And as a result we have very few Sahaja Yogis, specially in Canberra and the report is that they come but they just disappear. But if they have commitment of money then they stick on, because you paid for it, you see. Like you go to see some funny film or some funny drama and you don't like it, but still you stick on because you paid for it. Is a human psychology. But I say, how much can you pay for it? How much can you pay for it? It's so invaluable. This, you cannot measure it in money. God doesn't understand money, He doesn't understand banks. This is your headache, it's not His headache.

So, once we understand one thing: it's a pure thing, it's so pure. Reality cannot be purchased, you have to know it.

So, now these centers are here, as you see: he must have told you about them one by one. And when you come to this course they will tell you all about it in details and within, I'm sure, seven weeks you all will become great masters of Sahaja Yoga. And you can cure people, you can raise their Kuṇḍalinī. Not only raise their Kuṇḍalinī, but you can understand this subtle knowledge in no time. It really increases your capacity of your intelligence so much that we have had children who came to us as dullards and now they are scoring so well, they have records. Not in India, even in Australia they are doing so well.

Now in England which is, which has got a disease of unemployment, in Sahaja Yoga it's hard to find even one person who is unemployed; because we don't think that taking dole is a very respectable thing.

So suddenly they get their jobs and they work it out. It's something that happens: a person becomes so dynamic, so relaxed.

Now these days there are so many diseases about which I need not tell you; but specially the tension that you have, because I was told most of them are bureaucrats here. My husband has been a bureaucrat all his life, so I know what it is, I know the bureaucrats very well. And this tension comes to us because we work too much on the right side, as you see there, this yellow line. And that develops onto another horrible thing called as ego: that we feel we are doing it. There's nothing wrong, it's nothing wrong, because ignorance gives you that idea that `I am doing this work.' There's nothing wrong in feeling that way. But what happens that when Kuṇḍalinī rises, she pushes that down and makes a, should call it as a chimney, because that's what they understand in English language, that it makes like an opening here.

And this opening takes away all the heat of the work and the idea that `I am doing this work.' You just don't feel you are doing it; it's so relaxed. All these problems that you have, as the bureaucrats specially, I will explain to you what problems they have. In this short time whatever is possible I'll try to give you.

Now, we work on the right side: they're bureaucrats because they're planning, because they're thinking too much. They are futuristic people, planning, planning, planning like mad. Not only, but their nature becomes such a planning that if they are going on the road, immediately they'll say, `Oh, they should have put this signboard here. They should have done that there. They should have put this tree there.' I mean, you are not doing that job at all, you see, you are nothing to do with it. But they'll go on thinking for others also what they should have done, what it is should be done, that should be done.

So all the time thinking, thinking makes them mad, with this, with this right side developing too much, they become work-alcoholics and they are very unkind in the family also because, you see, they are so irritable sometimes. And sometimes they try to push back the temper and that's how they become even worse.

Because this, this center, this is a very special center within us: we call it as Swādhiṣhṭhān. This center outside, in the, we can say in the physical way or in the medical terminology, acts through our aortic plexus. I studied medicine forty years back or so but now they might have changed the name, but we used to know as aortic plexus. This aortic plexus looks after this viscera as you see there, whole thing, all that, all the viscera. And here is one, first one, is the liver. Now liver is the one that's very important in our body, which is responsible for taking out all the poison of the body as heat and deliver it into the bloodstream. But when this center is doing something else much more important, then it is neglected.

Now, what is this important thing we do, that this center also has a responsibility to supply energy to the brain or supply even some cells, fat cells, for the displacement of the used-out cells and nourishing them with new cells.

So when we think too much all the time, this poor center gets very busy and it has no time for your liver.

So the liver gets into trouble. Now when the liver gets heated up, the heat passes upward. When it passes upward, it touches the center that we call it as the right Heart. This center when is heated up, then the lungs start getting coagulated and you develop asthma. Of course, it has also due to the effect of the left side which I'll tell you later on which, which triggers it, which triggers this asthma.

Now this asthma once settled in cannot be cured by any means but by Sahaja Yoga. We have cured, I mean, not I would say I have cured, but Sahaja Yoga has cured through Kuṇḍalinī awakening, asthma of a gentleman who was an architect. Mostly architects also are of the same style: they get asthma, very common and there's another disease they get which I'll tell you later on and that is also a result of this kind of overthinking.

Now when you neglect your liver, also the heat passes downward. When it passes downward it catches your kidneys. And the kidneys get coagulated and they cannot function, so you get kidney trouble. And the doctors don't want to tell you the truth but I would like to tell you, the dialysis can never cure you.

And it's such an expensive thing, you become bankrupt and die, that's all.

So for that, what is the treatment is in Sahaja Yoga. We have been able to see that people get cured of their kidney trouble with a very simple method of Sahaja Yoga. Because we are dealing with the fundamental things: like if there's a tree which is sick, if you want to apply some medicine on the leaves it doesn't work out; you have to go to the roots.

So we go to the roots very easily through your Kuṇḍalinī and it works out.

Now there's another disease they develop, because the heat can pass to the left side. Now supposing somebody who is young and he's very ambitious and is sort of a sportsman, we can call him, playing tennis or football or such a game and drinking too much. All this creates heat very much and may get a massive heart attack at a very young age and it's absolutely vital. Also such people get heart attacks of the massive type later on, who have got this problem of too much working. There's another kind of a heart attack we call angina, due to lethargic heart which is, which comes from the left side. They are two things, one is the left and another is right and when we confuse them we do not know what to treat what person. But in Sahaja Yoga you can easily find out a person is right-sided or left-sided, or is it psychosomatic: means combination of both. It's very simple to find out.

Now then the another horrible disease that comes to a person who is sitting on the table and planning, is diabetes, it's very common. If a woman also is diabetic, her child can get it as an inheritance. Now this diabetes comes to you as a result because you think too much and you neglect, the pancreas is neglected.

This pancreas is responsible for looking after your problems of diabetes. And when it is done then what you get is a collapse of this pancreas in a way and you start getting this diabetes in you. Here also the left side triggering is done when you get diabetes. But diabetes also is quite curable in Sahaja Yoga. If you practice it properly every day, morning, evening, five minutes in the morning and ten minutes in the evening, it works out.

Now the other disease that you get is much more dangerous is, is the blood cancer. It comes from the spleen which is again neglected by this center and you lead a very, very hectic life. Actually all the bureaucrats are on, on very highly strung notes and they are very hectic also. Early in the morning they will, they cannot get up, they are so tired.

So they get up just about ten minutes before the work, somehow or other push their clothes in and just rush out; the wife runs with the breakfast too! And they get into the car and then they see a jam and they get so upset. Now they are so time-bound, that's again problem, they are so time-bound. And in these days when there is so much of jam and all that on the street and they get so frustrated, they are so hectic. All this hecticness leads us into a very funny situation, because this spleen is responsible for creating RBCs, that is red blood corpuscles, whenever you are in emergency. When you are in emergency, then this starts working more.

For example, if you have taken your food and if you start running, you'll get a pain, terrible pain on this side. That's because your spleen has gone into action, is producing more red blood corpuscles.

So this hectic life that you have today, you make this poor spleen a crazy one because she doesn't know what this man is up to. Suddenly he becomes so much excited and he gets into emergency, then again he gets into emergency, so this spleen gets absolutely into problem. And when again some triggering takes place, then you develop this blood cancer.

But the another, as I told you, the kidney and a person who is like this is suffering always from constipation. Because it also, heat goes down and it makes this lower end into a kind of a very dry, dry thing and that's how people suffer from terrible constipation sometime. This is a little bit that I've told, that a bureaucrat is capable of suffering.

Also is possible is paralysis, paralysis he gets on the right side. Also he might get a frozen arm, right arm frozen, all sorts of things: migraines because of bad liver and cirrhosis of the liver, cancer of, the other day we met one fellow who had cancer of the liver. And the doctor said “you are a gone case." I found out he's a very big boss somewhere. I said, “Now you'd better resign for a while and then I'll work it out." So all these things are to be understood in a proper way and we have to treat ourselves with respect.

We have to govern our body properly. In Sahaja Yoga you'll get all the knowledge that is necessary for you to know about your well-being, first of all. And then you will also know how to keep yourself all right.

Now this is something that I have told you already, but the left side triggering takes place when you go to wrong places like this and to wrong Gurus: they, I think, mesmerize you or I don't know what they do. Their styles I don't understand, because they do not tell you the modus operandi as to what they do, while you'll know the complete modus operandi of Sahaja Yoga. You yourself become masters of this. If you use a little assiduity, if you little bit work it out, I'm sure you yourself will be surprised how you have become your masters. But this is only the physical side of it. Even emotionally those people who have suffered, like epilepsy and also you can say mental disorders and all that, have been very much helped, because that's the left side will work out.

Now the psychosomatic diseases are like, we call them, even diabetes, as psychosomatic because there's a effect of the left on them; or myelitis and all this, this what you call the disability of the muscles to work out, all these things and recently another disease called as the yuppies' disease. I had told them beforehand, five years before this disease came in. I had also told them about the AIDS. But as I was not taking any money, Americans were not interested. Because Americans are so proud of their money; they think “how can we not purchase this woman?" Moreover when I went to America, you'll be surprised, they asked Me a question, “How many Rolls-Royces You have?" I said, “I have none." They said, “We are not interested in You. You have no business." I said, “I have no business. There's no business about it." But this is difficult to make them understand, Americans, that God is not a business. They want to make business out of everything and now see the situation there of the business that they did: what is their situation is not very good.

So whatever, even the business you are doing, even the economic side of it, has to be understood that we have to have a balance. If we don't have a balance, we cannot achieve anything in life. And this imbalancing has taken us to this ecological problem, this problem. Actually most of this problem, all these universal problems, if you see, all these global problems, come from human beings. You know My husband has been working with this U.N. and he agrees with Me entirely: it all comes from human beings. And if this transformation can take place, we don't even have to have U.N., you just become united, within, not outside, but you just become united.

And this is what you achieve is a collective consciousness, a new awareness within you. You start feeling the Cool Breeze in your hands, the vibrations, very soothing and you can feel the centers of all the persons. And you can also feel your centers and you know how to correct them, yours and others. This is a new awareness that comes to you as collective consciousness. Thank God, Jung has already talked about it, that if you have to evolve, you will evolve into a new awareness as collective consciousness and in Sanskrit language it is called as `samuhik chetanā'.

The first state where you reach is out of this Āgñyā Chakra: when you cross over to the limbic area, you become thoughtlessly aware. You are aware, but thoughtless.

So you become a very peaceful person.

People who have got peace awards, I haven't seen them, seen such hot-tempered people, I don't know, from where did they get this peace award? Extremely hot-tempered: you can't go near them without a bargepole, you know! Any time they are willing to have a hit at you. And they have got peace awards, Nobel awards, this, that. I mean, I don't know from what angle they got, get all these things, what is the judgment point is.

So one has to know that the peace has to be within and this peace is established. You become a witness of the whole drama. You start seeing the whole thing as a drama. You are away from the problems and that's how you can solve the problems and once you become an expert you can help others to solve the problems. It's something awaiting us. We all have to rise to that level and to get to that state where we can really have that special status which is meant for us. Is your right to have it. As a result, you'll be surprised, you'll be so free and so capable to enjoy the freedom. People don't even enjoy their freedom because they are not capable. Like, you see, our democracy has become demono-cracy, because we don't know how to enjoy our freedom, we don't know how to balance our freedom. But after that, what happens, automatically you become so free, I mean, you get rid of all your habits.

In England I, first time when I started My work, I got seven hippies, all drenched in drugs. But they were brought like dead pieces before Me. And overnight they gave up their drugs. I said, “Look at that! How is it possible?" They had not established their Sahaja Yoga so far but they gave up their drugs, all right. An example is like this, that supposing you are holding onto a snake and you have no capacity to give it up and moreover you are obstinate. There's all darkness, you can't see; somebody tells you it's a snake. You won't give it up till it bites you, till you are dead.

So if there's a little light in you, immediately you yourself throw it away. I don't have to tell you anything; you do it yourself everything. You become your own masters. You guide yourself, because you are great, as I've told you, but you have to touch your divinity.

And it should not be, like as we have in the schools, a mathematical proposition, in smaller classes they used to say, “A house was to be built, `A' came for one day, ran away, `B' came for two days, ran away and third came for half a day and ran away. When will the work be over?" Never, is the answer! Because if you have such run-away people, how can you have the house being built? I mean, it's not possible, mathematically it is not possible, but it might be imaginary, you might think like that.

So you have to pay some attention to your realisation, you have to pay to yourself and to your ascending.

I don't know how many you are here today and I feel sorry that we didn't have a hall; because last time we had a big hall and it was practically empty, so we thought this time we should have a smaller hall.

It was a miscalculation completely on our behalf, I must say and I am sorry for this, that you all have to stand like this. But I'm sure whatever may be the situation we all will get realisation today. You should have full confidence in yourself that we are all going to get our Self-realisation. Of course, I would like you to ask Me some questions for a very, because we started little late because of this music and all that, but I would like you to ask Me some questions for a while and then we'll have this process of Self-realisation.

As far as the questions are concerned I would say that, that I am not here to take anything away from you, but I'm here just to give you the key of your own being, to know yourself.

So ask relative questions, not aggressive ones, because I'm very good at answering, I must tell you, because I've been now answering questions for the last twenty years all over the world.

So I'm quite clever and I'll answer all your questions now. But it's a mental feat, again I'll say it: that is no guarantee that you'll get your realisation, that is no guarantee.

So it's just a mental feat. If you have any sensible question please ask Me, because I don't want at the time of realisation suddenly your mind comes up and says, `Now, hey, you didn't ask this question to Mātājī.' So please, whatever is possible, we'll take about fifteen minutes for that and after that we'll have a realisation which will take hardly ten to fifteen minutes, that's all. I hope you have all that patience. After that I would like to meet all of you today. Those who get realisation I would like to meet you, because I may not be back here for one year at least.

May God bless you.

There's one thing I would like to suggest, that those who are Sahaja Yogis can go and stand and those who are not can come and sit down. It's better that the Sahaja Yogis can go and stand there. Those who are not Sahaja Yogis yet should come here, this side and please be seated. Sahaja Yogis can stand now.

[Hindi.] Question: If the Kuṇḍalinī is awakened are you then more sensitive to other people and their ailments and the ailments of yourself?

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course, that's what I said. Not only aware, but you know each and everything about them: not outward things but their centers, you know what's wrong with their centers.

So when you say that the Pentecost got their realisation, when the Holy Ghost blessed them, they started talking in some other language, it's not Latin or Hebrew, but they started talking in the language of Chakras or centers, as we also talk the same way.

Question: Traditionally in the literature of India when we look at the information about Kuṇḍalinī, it appears to be a very difficult and arduous process.

Shri Mataji: It's true.

Question [continues]: So what has occurred in 1970 or since then, that now makes it accessible to everybody?

Shri Mataji: Yah. You see, it's true, it's very difficult. If something very difficult is done by someone, then there must be something about it, isn't it? It is very difficult. And once, a Guru of Shivaji was asked how much time does it take for Kuṇḍalinī to rise. He used the word, Sanskrit word, `tat kshan', means `that moment'. But there should be a person who is able to give and the one who is able to receive it; and that's all ready now, I think, so it's working out. You are capable of receiving and I think I am quite capable of giving! Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: I didn't hear... She's just standing... No, no, yes in front.... No, no, no....

[Aside:] The light you can bring it down a little bit at least, you see. I never used to use spectacles, but because of these lights all the time on My eyes.... Ha, now.

Sahaja Yogi: She says she has experienced Kuṇḍalinī and she's experienced an increase in energy, but she doesn't know what to do with it.

Shri Mataji: She was in Sahaja Yoga? You got it in Sahaja Yoga? Where?

Seeker: Anand Marg...

Shri Mataji: Ah, impossible. They can't give you. Anand Marg, of all the things? Ah... less said the better about them, madam. It's a very dangerous cult you have joined, the most dangerous. Yah, you see... No, no, not at all. He's incapable. They are incapable of doing. They are very violent people, extremely violent. They were banned in India for years together and the gentleman was put in jail and not only that but now his own wife and his own son has joined Sahaja Yoga. It's so terrible as that. You see, it's a very violent organization. But it's surprising.

Seeker: And is that what You say why I can't do anything...

Shri Mataji: Yah, no, not at all. How can you? No, not all. You see, because the energy you must be feeling is not that energy, but of the sympathetic nervous system. I will see about you now. Do you feel the Cool Breeze in your hands? Do you feel the Cool Breeze on top of your head?

Seeker: Yes, I feel like some string is holding me, like...

Shri Mataji: No, no. Not that way. It's very simple, yah.

So those who have followed Anand Marg, it's very dangerous, I must say. I don't want to discuss all these things but it's absolutely illegal stuff, horrible. When, once I was with My husband in one of the hotels and two people came with policemen to see Me. I was quite shocked and C.P. being a bureaucrat he didn't understand the police coming to see us, you see. The police people told us that these two people, husband and wife, want to see You. And they wanted police protections when they come. I asked them, “Why? What's wrong with you? What's...?" They were very active. His name was, what was his name, is Doctor... Doctor Prasad.

He was a very active man. He even came to Australia for this work and he went also to America and all those places. And he discovered that there were twenty-eight deaths which he could not explain. And he got such a shock and he said that he went to a temple where he suddenly felt that he was doing all wrong.

So he talked to people about it, whatever he knew. And he ran away with his wife in a jeep and came to Lucknow and from there he came to Delhi. There somebody told him, “You'd better see Mother about it." So he came to see Me, but he had this police protection.

So he came and he told Me how these murders took place and what all happened.

Then the mother, the wife of this gentleman, Mister Sarkar and his son, both of them came to Sahaja Yoga and they are very active Sahaja Yogis today. And the lady tells Me how terrible things he has done.

And he has amassed money, amassed. And this lady told Me, “I don't want to take a single pai out of that." He made a will, he, I think at the end of life he must have felt that “I should give something to my wife and child." They refused to have anything to do with that money. They said, “We know from where this money has come." It's the most violent organization.

Question: He said, “You say that You are born again. Is that true?"

Shri Mataji: I? I didn't say that, did I?... You cannot certify. I said it is a state you have to reach.

When you are born again you have all these powers which I described to you, minimum. You cannot just say `I'm born again.' All right? This is the point is.... What is it? Question: He's saying, the second question is, “Are You saying that You do not know the truth, or we do not know the truth?"

Shri Mataji: I know the truth, I should say very humbly and you will also know the truth... all right?

Seeker: There was one man who actually said He was the truth and that was Jesus Christ.

Shri Mataji: And we know Jesus Christ also very well, much better than any one of you, which you will also know.

Seeker: But He's my saviour.

Shri Mataji: Yes, He is, He is there and whatever He has said is to be proved. Otherwise what is Christianity doing today? I was Myself born in a Christian religion and I know all about it. Do you know the...

Seeker: There is one thing Jesus said, He said He is “the way"...

Shri Mataji: He might have said anything, but Christians are not doing that please... Yes, you are not... You see, you must first of all understand that are we practicing what Christ has said?, first question.

We are not. Christ has said, “Thou shall not have adulterous eyes." Let Me see who is that Christian? But I can say all My Sahaja Yogis are like that. They have innocent eyes. We are not following what Christ has said, that's the mistake. You are just organizing Christ. You cannot organize a personality like Christ. You don't know anything about Christ. Christ is a very great personality. Only for four years He lived actually in the public and they crucified Him; and they are again crucifying Him in the name of Christianity and Christians, take it from Me. I can't understand that Vatican itself printed securities worth two billion dollars.

[Aside:] What is they call, securities of what? What these are... securities of what these were? The...

Yes, in the [UNCLEAR] yes, Mafiā, with the Mafiā, with the help of Mafiā. They sold it! False, absolutely false! Do you mean they are following Christ, the one who took a hunter in His hand and whipped all the people who are selling things? Are they following Christ? He was a carpenter; did He take any money from anyone? We take Christ into our pockets, think that He is our own. It's like all these great incarnations who were born on this Earth to prepare you for your last resurrection. He has said, “I will send you the Holy Ghost." What about that? The question is, what about the Holy Ghost? They don't know anything about the Holy Ghost. You will, you will know. See, as Christians... Excuse Me, sir, as Christians what have you achieved? Nothing.

What have you achieved?... What is the question? Ah? You are going round in circles. Now you better sit. Be seated. You must understand humbly one thing: as Christian you have not achieved anything, but as Sahaja Yogi you will achieve Christ. If I promise you that, I will show you that, all right?

Seeker: Jesus said that He is the only way..

Shri Mataji: Yes, it's true. He is the only way and that's what we are going to prove, that He is the only way. But we are going to prove that. You cannot prove it. You say Jesus is the only way, Muslims will say that Mohammed is the only way, Hindus will say Kṛiṣhṇa is the only way; everybody saying they are the only way....

This is all fundamentalism, nothing else. This is absolute fundamentalism and not understanding Christ. Christ has said, “Those who are not against Me are with Me." Who are those? He has also said for these Christians, “You'll be calling Me `Christ, Christ' and I won't recognize you." Clearly, in the second chapter and second verse of Matthews. It was Paul who ruined Christianity and then Augustine. And you know in England what they are talking about Him? That He was a homosexual. Oh, how dare they say such things about Him? Horrible things they are saying about a Divine personality which they do not understand a word.

It's all minting money and paying people some money to preach about God. How can you pay money to preach about God? Try to understand. In India they came with a gun in one hand and a Bible in another hand, imagine! And even one gentleman in a Calvinistic church came with a pistol towards Me and a Bible in the another hand. I said, “Now put the Bible on one side at least", raised the pistol. Is this the way Christ, the one who said that “forgive", He asked His Father to forgive those who crucified Him? You have not understood Christ at all. You have made a mess of His life and you have really brought such bad name to Him. Please understand. By calling yourself Christians you do not become. By following Him, by practicing Him and that's what these people are doing. They are doing all over the world. You'll be surprised, we have so many people who are Jews and they respect Christ, they worship Christ. Can you do that? Because they know who He was.

These were all incarnations of the Divine and they were born as flowers.

[Aside:] Please keep down your hand till I tell you because it may, you may get tired.

So, these all flowers came on the Tree of Life, Tree of spirituality. They were all nourished by the same. But we plucked them and now these are dead flowers we are fighting. We should get rid of this fundamentalism and this idea that He was the only one and He was the only one and He was the only one. While Kṛiṣhṇa has also said, “Sarva Dharmam parityajaya mam ekam sharanam vraja", “Give up all religions and follow Me." So all the Hindus can say, “All right, we are the ones who are chosen ones." All these chosen ones, how they are behaving?

Seeker: He didn't say about truth...

Shri Mataji: If you think you are convinced, sir, that you can do well with Christianity you can leave the hall. But I do not think that way. Yes? It's there, the gentleman there. Please get up. All right? Thank you.

Sahaja Yogi: Did you hear that, Shri Mataji? He is saying that You say that the Kuṇḍalinī is coming out all the time, out into the All-pervading Power.

Some people say that you should keep it in.

Shri Mataji: No, no, no, no. It's a connection. See now, as we have a connection for this instrument, it's a connection. A connection has to be made. If we, if this connection is kept inside, how can we use this instrument? Yes, please? Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: You came to Sahaja Yoga, madam? [Aside:] She came to Sahaja Yoga? We can't be, we can't guarantee about others.

Seeker: Yes, I must say I have experienced the Kuṇḍalinī awakening, but I can't hold the state.

Shri Mataji: You see, the trouble is I don't know what sort of a Kuṇḍalinī awakening you have got, because whatever we know is through Sahaja method. We don't know any other method, all right? So to keep up the state or go back to whether you are realised or not, we'll have to check you. All right? Question: We are all here to achieve something for ourselves but the world is full of unhappiness and You talked about compassion. How can an individual affect all these terrible things in the world?

Shri Mataji: You are not an individual any more, I must tell you. Do you know, in Russia we have thousands of people who have got realisation. That's what I am saying, here you do feel, because Australia was not so kind to Me, I should say, or kind to themselves. But not otherwise. We, this awakening is taking place very fast and it's spreading very fast and every candle that is enlightened can enlighten another thousand candles.

So it's not so. We have to change the world only in this way; there's no other way out.

Through this transformation. [Hindi.] Any other question, please? Question: Could You tell us a little about the traditions that this system is based on?

Shri Mataji: All right. Now, the tradition is that we had a group, we should say, we called them as Nath Panthis, in India who were working on the central path, which is called as Suṣhumnā. But the tradition was that only one Guru could have only one disciple. That was the tradition for ages together.

And we had this Gorakhnath and you must have heard about the Macchindranath, Gorakhnath, Ādi Nāth, all these people. But only in the twelfth century there was a great saint called Gñyāneśhwara and he begged of his brother who was his Guru, that “please allow Me at least to talk about this in the local languages." Now in all the great books in Sanskrit language, like Yog Vasistha and all these books, even in the sixth century Ādi Shañkarāchārya has described about Kuṇḍalinī. Everywhere it is described, but in Sanskrit language. Sanskrit language was only read by very few people. At the time of Rāma, His father-in-law was Janaka: he was a great master of Sahaja Yoga and he gave realisation to only one person called Nachiketa.

He's mentioned there. Then it was all limited.

But in the twelfth century, Gñyāneśhwara described it in a treatise which he wrote about Gītā Gyāneshwari, in the sixth chapter. But the people whom we call as Dharma markandas, is the people who are in charge of religion, couldn't do anything about it.

So they said this is nishida, means is not to be accepted, it's not to be read.

So that chapter were closed down. In that he has written very clearly that “I have now said as a great homage to the spirit of the universe, that now please give us the blessings for the masses." And he's described Sahaja Yoga very well: what will happen when you get your blessings, how the collective consciousness will come and how people will evolve, what will happen. He did this on the twelfth century. After that we had Kabīra, we had Nanaka, we had Rāmdās, we had TukāRāma; we had so many of saints who have talked about it.

But still it could not go very far. Only two, three people used to get realisation. Even `Buddha' itself means `the realised Soul'. Buddha, Buddha, Buddha means from bodha. `Bodha' means `to know on your central nervous system'.

So all of them said the same. Even Christ has said it. “You are to be born again", clearly He has said it.

So we'll have the certificate on top: `We are born again', finished! We don't go further with it. We have to make enquiry: what does this mean? Because all these religions were organized, you see. You could not go out of this thing. And those who tried to go were thrown out of the religion. Only in India the philosophy is there, it's not a religion as such. I mean, you can say that the Sikhs, the Jainis and all of them are all in philosophy level; it's not organized at all. Nothing is organized.

The saints then came out of it and they lashed all the society and they talked about the reality. They have all talked about it in their own vernacular languages. Now, some of the songs they are singing was written in the sixteenth century by Namadeva, I'll ask them to sing this song. It's sung in every village, where they are singing, “Oh Mother, give us our realisation, jogwa." So we had this tradition in us. But then these Gurus started coming up, because they said we now have to have a Guru. Now, Guru and a real Guru, there are descriptions already given in vernacular languages.

Despite that, you see, human beings are so great that they can mess, make a mess of everything, I tell you. You give them anything beautiful, they know how to make a mess. And this is what they have done it. Now let them get their realisation, let them get perfected. Let them get that subtle knowledge and then they can judge. You become like a Divine computer. You can feel it on your fingertips, the absolute truth. You ask a question, `Was Christ the son of God or not?' Immediately you'll start feeling tremendous vibrations. Even to take Christ's name you will see.

The time has come for you to prove all these things. Otherwise everybody thinks they are correct, like Saddam Hussein. What's wrong with him? He thinks he was the chosen one, by Mohammed Himself.

Then what can you do to such a person? If you have such make-believes, you cannot help it. Hitler thought the same way. But what is the criteria? We live in a relative world. We have to go to absolute. If we accept this humbly, then only we can have it. But if you are satisfied with something or your brain is washed by some ideologies, then I can't help it. But what good it has done to us? Think it over.

While Hinduism, same thing, where it is said that in everybody it resides the spirit. How can we have caste system? This all came later on. There's a brahmin saint, a great saint in India, Dasganu, He says, “We have not known the Brahma. We have not known this All-pervading Power. How are you brahmins?" There are so many instances to prove that caste system is something that is put on our head. But it's there and we have to fight it. It's the aptitude of a person. It's not inherent or it is not prenatal; it is just what type of thing you do. I would say all Sahaja Yogis are the real brahmins, because they know the Brahma.

Question: You recommend meditation and chanting every day. How long should one maintain the chanting?

Shri Mataji: We have no chanting, madam, at all, no. It spoils your throat. Five minutes in the morning, ten minutes in the evening: is it too much of a time? And chanting is another nonsense. When you are not connected with God, what are you chanting? If your telephone is not working, now see, we must be logical about it, what's the use of telephoning? Your telephone gets spoilt. It's so logical, I tell you. Supposing now you have the prime minister here and you just go into his area and start taking there his name, they'll all arrest you there. You have to have connection. But once you are in His Kingdom, just remembering once is sufficient.

Even mantras: they will just give you some sort of a nonsensical mantra, like these TM people have given you horrible mantras, I must tell you this, horrible. They are the worst, I think, as far as money-making is concerned. We had three people, four people. One of them was the head of their Flying Academy, from Scotland. His name is Peter Pierce, another his wife, another his child and fourth one was the, his director. They all came to Me with epilepsy. Of course, now they are cured. But poor things, they have all become bankrupt and have gone to South Africa. They are writing a book about it. And they told Me about it and then many of them came. Even we have some now in Sydney and everywhere, poor things suffering so much. And they told Me that three mantras were given. One was `inga', `pinga', `tinga'. Now any Indian here will know that these are not Sanskrit words. They'll just start laughing at these things. And they paid for each mantra three hundred pounds, in those days. Now `inga' means, it's a very colloquial village thing because the Guru who is there, he doesn't know any Sanskrit, nothing.

He was just a clerk; I think he was a ticket collector. Yah, he was a ticket collector in India. But all the bureaucrats fell at his feet. Do you know that? That's the best part of it! What is the bona fide of this man? Now this fellow, is the `inga' means `scorpion bite,' is `inga'; and `pinga' means when you get possessed you go round and round, `pinga'; and `tinga' means this [UNCLEAR]. For that you pay three hundred pounds! Then six thousand pounds were paid. A barrister who had become mad, her sister had become mad. She was in lunatic asylum; she was brought out, then now she is cured. Both of them are all right.

Her name is Hester. She told Me, “Six thousand pounds they took from all of us. We had to go to Switzerland in very far-fetched horrible hotel and they put us there for this flying course." And they had to jump on some forms and they all broke their bottoms, to begin with. But the food that was given to them, for six days they had to drink water which boiled the potatoes. Then the seventh day they had to take the rind of the potatoes. And the eighth day the potatoes. For six thousand pounds! And this, I'm sure this Guru must be thinking how stupid these people are.

So he used to, he used to giggle all the time.

He could not help giggling.

And they are every time marketing something new. Now they are marketing here, what you call, ayurveda. What is there to market? Why do you need a Guru for that? And ayurveda cannot be marketed in the West in the real sense, because you have to use fresh leaves. You cannot. One gentleman had a very bad eczema. He was from Australia, but then he came to England and then he came to Russia. I told him, “You have to come to India, because I know one thing by which it can be easily cured. It's a very simple leaf you have to use." And in three days he was all right.

So even if you have to practice that, you don't have to have a Guru for that. Why do you? This is just a marketing thing. They'll sell anything. How can you sell anything? Use your brains! By God's grace, you all have much more brains than Indians have. But we have much more wisdom, I think, because we have known all this kind of thing. And thank God, we don't have so much money to waste. Our poverty is a blessing to us, I think, in a way. That's why they have gone abroad. They have formed groups, they have formed this, that, everywhere and nobody would listen to Me. In America they told Me, “You'd better go back. Nobody is going to listen to You." Now let's see how the Australians are going to take it. Thank God, I was born in a Christian religion, because I can talk to you about it very clearly. My father joined Gandhiji. Immediately he was thrown out of the church. Because in India people, Christians, mostly they are converted from poor classes, you see.

So they think, they believe even now that Christ was born in England, can you beat that? Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: No, you see, the meditation as I told you is a little attention to yourself. You are not to `do' meditation, but you have to get into meditative mood. As I told you, first you get into the state of thoughtless awareness, where you know everything but there's no thought, that is, you are in the present.

You are neither in the future nor in the past, but you are the present where there is no thought. You watch everything, you see everything; but nothing you react. Just there, you are seeing. That's a very great state, because when you just see something, now see, I look at these flowers. Now if you are not a realised Soul and you look at these flowers, you think from where they must have got it now and how much they must have paid, all those things, what colours. I don't think like that; I just look at it. And all the joy that is put into it by the Creator just starts flowing down, in the abstract way.

So that first state when you achieve, in that state you start growing spiritually.

So achieve that state, you have to pay attention to yourself. Now if I say `Now you pay attention to yourself,' you cannot. All right. Now if I say the attention is spread like then like this shawl and the Kuṇḍalinī is here: she starts coming up like that.

So she puts your attention inside. When she puts your attention inside and she breaks this through, then all this attention gets enlightened and nourished by her.

This is to be seen within your life. You see, if I tell somebody about the beautiful place Canberra is, nobody's going to believe it till they come and see it, so better see it! It's very simple. And moreover, see now in this place there are so many lights, you see and to just to switch them on there must be one switch: just switch on, all of them are there, all right? But supposing I have to tell you how all this was built and how all this came here and how this electricity was invented and how the source has been built, you'll get a headache.

So first thing you get your realisation, get your light, then in that light you see for yourself and you, you are not a loser, you don't get into trouble, nothing at all.

So first have it and then know, all right? You have not to be very futuristic about it. All right? So I am happy that your intellect is now satisfied. You have to now help Me by taking out your shoes, because we have to take help from the Mother Earth. She is such an energy-giving thing.

So we can, no, it's all right, if you are sitting on the ground you take out your shoes, that's all. If you are sitting on the ground you are all right, take out just your shoes. And also you feel comfortable.

Now Sahaja Yogis, as I requested you, can you go on the back side and ask the people to come here? [Marathi.] You can come this side. Please, come this side. There is room. Please come. Move forward a little bit, just a bit move forward. Yes, you can all move forward a little bit.

You have to a little bit adjust, sorry for this miscalculation. Sahaja Yogis can go out for the time being. I want you all to sit down and sit down here closer to Me, would be better. If you sit there it won't help so much as if you can come this side. You have to see Me. Please, if you don't mind, come this side and this side. Are there any Sahaja Yogis? She's a Sahaja Yogini, no? Not yet. All right, move on, move further. I'm sorry for this, really.

[Marathi.] Now only for people who are sitting on the chairs, not who are sitting on the ground are all right. Are there some people this side, can go this side also? Can you move so that you can come this side, please, all of you? Can you move this side? There is room. Because there's some people sitting behind. You know, if you don't mind, if you could come this side.

Some of them can come here. Please come. Yes, some of you can move this side, please. Thank you. Can you come here please, all of you? Yes, please. You, too, madam, come along, this side. All of you come along.

Now, before we start [UNCLEAR]. Won't you come this side? There is room here, please. Hello, they are Sahaja Yogis? All right. The people who are sitting on the chair should put both their legs or feet apart from each other, because these are two powers on the left and the right. The left one is the power of desire, of the common desire; Kuṇḍalinī is the pure desire, power of pure desire. The right one is the power of action. This looks after, left side looks after our emotions, the right side looks after our physical and mental activity.

So you have to put your left hand on your lap, very comfortably on your lap, left hand, towards Me. This is symbolic that you want to have your Self-realisation.

Now, there are two conditions we have to fulfil in Sahaja Yoga. First one is that you have to be in the present. That means you have to forget the past. To be very frank, you have to know that you are not guilty of anything. Please have no guilty feeling within you. This feeling is absolutely hypothetical and has no meaning. Actually, when you feel guilty this center on the left hand side is sometimes so ruined that you get horrible diseases like angina, lethargic organs and also spondylitis.

So what's the use of having such a illogical thing like a guilt? If you were guilty really, you would have been in jail.

So please believe in yourself. Have faith in yourself that you are not guilty at all.

This is very important because if this center is catching, which I feel very much is catching today here, Kuṇḍalinī won't rise above.

So please, please, please just forgive yourself and know that you are not guilty.

Many people are told, you are sinners, you are this and that. I tell you, don't believe them. Because I feel to tell even this is a sin. Nobody has right to tell someone like that.

So please have no guilt about it. Just forget it. The animals don't have any guilt of anything. Only we with our own thinking have created this institution of guilt.

Now the second condition is that you have to forgive everyone, in general.

So see logically again: whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything. What do you do? `I cannot forgive. I'll try to forgive.' But what is there? You don't do anything; it's just a mental process. But if you don't forgive then you play into wrong hands, absolutely. And this center of Christ catches, terribly. If you don't forgive, this center which is very constricted and Christ had to be, go, had to go through that and resurrect Himself to establish this center within you. And He has given us the greatest weapon of forgiveness.

So you have to forgive everyone in general. Don't think who is wrong, who has done me wrong, nothing of the kind. Because when we do not forgive we play into wrong hands. The person who has troubled us, tortured us, is enjoying life. But when we do not forgive that person, what happens to us, that we play into wrong hands and we torture ourselves. Please remember, that is very important that you should all forgive. Throughout Australia My programs have been and every time I meet them they say, “Mother, I never felt any Cool Breeze." Then I have to go on working on them: “forgive, forgive, forgive, forgive, forgive" and it works.

So why not cooperate with Me a little bit, just to say `I forgive everyone.' Just to say, in general, just forgive. If you could just say that, it will really help Me a lot. You'll also feel much lighter, much lighter. You are carrying this load for nothing at all.

So these are the two conditions. And the third is a promise: that you should have full confidence in yourself and believe that you are going to get your Self-realisation. Most of you will get today.

Some if they do not get, may, we try to get them today and then later on they can come. But also you must promise that you should not just allow yourself to be drifted away. Like Christ has given a parable, that some seeds were thrown onto lands which were marshy, of course, the rocks were all wasted, but on the marshy lands and they just sprouted and finished.

So you have to grow into your trees, to get to your beings, which is so great. That's a promise from you and that will help a lot. Because, you see, Divine also has common sense. It doesn't want to work out people who are good for nothing. It's not meant for frivolous people. You see, if you know that this light is not going to work out, why will you try to correct it? So we have to understand our value. We have to understand our role, how important it is. And it's such an important time at this time, we should not miss it out. After all, you have been seeking and seeking gives you the right to get to the Self-realisation and then the Divine has a right to expect that you'll spread the light all throughout the world. You'll be surprised, when I went to Russia first, twenty-five Germans rushed, Sahaja Yogis, to Russia. I was really touched. I said, “How are you all here?" They said, “Mother, isn't it our duty? Whatever done by our forefathers we have to undo." And with such gentleness, with such sweetness. You won't believe these German Sahaja Yogis are one of the gentlest ones. They handled these Russians, gave them so much love, so much attention. And they have taken the responsibility of the whole of Russia.

So we have to be conscious of our being and then all this knowledge will be much more manifesting through you. If you do not give, it won't come into you. If you do not open the other door, no air will flow from this one.

So you have to give. And when you give, you grow deep also; like the tree when it grows outward, it goes deeper. They're all related.

So Sahaja Yoga is a collective happening. It is not individual; you cannot say `I do it in the house' and finished, no. You have to come to the collective.

It strengthens you, it strengthens others and you understand each and everything. And everyone is so much in unison and in love, you'll really enjoy it. Like a nail which is cut out of your finger doesn't grow.

So now it is not an individual thing, but it is absolutely a collective thing and is an open knowledge to everyone, absolutely open knowledge to you. You don't have to pay for any one of these things.

So may God give you wisdom and understanding about yourself.

So [UNCLEAR].

As you put and now we'll show you first of all and then you have to do it with your closed eyes.

But first you see how you have to nourish your own centers and raise your own Kuṇḍalinī.

So put the left hand towards Me, suggestive or symbolic that you want to have your realisation. Then you have to put your right hand on your heart. We are working only on the left hand side with the right hand. In the heart resides the spirit.

So we start from there. Then we take our right hand in the upper portion of our abdomen, he'll show you, upper portion of our abdomen, on the left hand side.

[Aside:] It's better to put inside your coat. He's, he's a realised Soul, so it's all right for him! This is the center of your mastery, by which you become a master. This center has been created by great masters and it gets awakened.

Then you take your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. This is the center of Pure Knowledge, Pure Knowledge that you feel manifesting on your central nervous system, on your nerves, by which you know how to handle this power and work it out. This cannot be forced on you. I respect your freedom. Then we take our right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. Again press it hard. And then on your heart. Then in the corner of your left shoulder and your neck, like this, from the front. And turn your head to your right, fully, fully to your right. This is the center, as I told you, you catch when you feel guilty.

So please turn your head to your right as far as possible. Then we take our right hand onto our forehead across and put down our head as far as possible.

This is the center where you have to forgive everyone in general.

Now we take our hand on the back side of our head and push back our head as far as possible. This is the center where, without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, for your own satisfaction you have to ask forgiveness from the Divine, not just now; I'll tell you later on what is to be done. Now you have to stretch your palm fully. Put the center of your palm on top of the fontanelle bone area, which was a soft bone in your childhood. Press it properly. Now push back your fingers as far as possible and put down your head as far as possible. Now push back your fingers, that's very important. Now press your scalp nicely and move your scalp, not your hand so much, but the scalp is to be moved, slowly clockwise, seven times. Put down your head, please. Push back your fingers. Now, push back your fingers, you see, next time when you do it.

You want to be seated? All right, come forward. You can go this side. There's room here this side, you can go this side. Come along, it's all right. Just take out your shoes, now. You can take out your spectacles, because you have to close your eyes and not to open till I tell you. If there's something tight on your waist or on your neck, please loosen it a little bit. Sit comfortably straight, not backwards stretching or forwards bending, but in a straight manner.

Now close your eyes and put the left hand towards Me on your lap and the right hand on your heart.

Please close your eyes. Here now you have to ask Me a very fundamental question about you. In your heart you ask Me three times, you can call Me `Mother' or you can call Me `Shri Mataji', whatever you want to call Me, `Mother, am I the Spirit?' Ask this question three times. `Mother, am I the Spirit?' Please don't feel guilty, I'm getting these catches very much. Just ask this question.

If you are the spirit you are your own master, because in the light of the spirit you know how to guide yourself.

So now please take your hand, right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. Here you have to ask another fundamental question to Me, three times, `Mother, am I my own master?' Ask this question three times. I have already told you that I respect your freedom and I cannot force Pure Knowledge on you; you have to ask for it.

So now please put your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen and press it hard, on the left hand side. Here is the center which has got six petals.

So please say six times, `Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge.' You have to ask. Please say that six times, `Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge.' As soon as you say that, the Kuṇḍalinī starts rising.

So we have to clear the upper centers with our self-confidence.

So now raise your right hand onto the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side and press it hard. Here now you have to say with full confidence, ten times, `Mother, I am my own master.' Here you have to say with full confidence, ten times, `Mother, I am my own master.' Say it ten times.

[Aside:] Who are these children crying? They are Sahaja Yogis? You see, this is the problem is that the Gurus, you see, these false Gurus are torturing them.

Now please take your right hand onto your heart. Here again you have to say with full confidence, the greatest truth about yourself, `Mother, I am the pure Spirit.' The truth is, you are not this body, you are not this mind, you are not this ego, you are not these conditionings, but you are the pure spirit.

So please say it twelve times, `Mother, I am the pure Spirit.' Now, this All-pervading Divine Power which organizes everything, creates everything, which thinks, above all it loves us, is the ocean of knowledge, is the ocean of compassion and bliss. But above all, it is the ocean of forgiveness.

So we cannot commit any mistake which cannot be dissolved by the power of this ocean of forgiveness.

So please now raise your right hand in the corner of your neck and shoulder and here please say sixteen times with full confidence, turning your head to your right fully. With full confidence you have to say, `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' Please say it with full confidence. This is the worst catch today we have here.

So please say it with full confidence in yourself, `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' Turn your head to your right, fully.

I've told you, whether you forgive or don't forgive, you do not do anything whatsoever. It's just a myth which you are carrying. And this myth has burdened you so much that you torture yourself.

So now raise your right hand on your forehead across and very gently put down your head on your hand, resting as far as it is possible. Here you have to say again with full confidence and please say it from your heart, not how many times. Please say it from your heart. Don't try; just say it from your heart. It's very important.

`Mother, I forgive everyone in general.' From your heart, not how many times, from your heart. It's the greatest weapon you have got.

Now, please take your right hand on the back side of your head and push back your head as far as possible, holding your hand tight on the back side, pressing it down hard on the back side. Here you have to say, without counting your mistakes, without feeling guilty, just for your satisfaction please say, from your heart again, not how many times, `Oh, Divine Power, if I have done any mistakes, knowingly or unknowingly, please forgive me.' Say it from your heart again. Push back your head as far as possible and hold it tight, on both the sides.

Now please stretch your palm fully and put the center of your palm on top of your fontanelle bone area which was a soft bone in your childhood.

So is important you push back your fingers, fully. Here again, I cannot force Self-realisation on you. You have to ask for it.

So now please put down your head. Please put down your head. And now move your scalp slowly, seven times clockwise, saying seven times, `Mother, please give me Self-realisation,' saying seven times, `Mother, please give me Self-realisation.' [Shri Mataji blows into the microphone.] Now please take down your hands and open your eyes very slowly. Very slowly open your eyes, very slowly. Put both the hands towards Me like this.

[Aside:] You stand up.

Higher. Now put the head down and see with left hand if there's a cool or a hot breeze coming out of your own head. Now don't doubt it, please see it clearly, you have to certify yourself. Now see clearly if there's a cool or a hot breeze coming out of your head. You shouldn't put your hand on top of your head, or it should be above your head.

Some people do get it very far away.

So try to move it on both the sides up and down and see for yourself if there's a Cool Breeze or a hot breeze coming out of your head, fontanelle bone area. Now please put the left hand towards Me. Again bend your head and with the right hand you see. Gently you can see. It's a very subtle thing, so be careful.

Some people get it as a great rush also, some get it in a very big way, but some get it in a very subtle way. But don't get confused.

Now please put your right hand towards Me. Now bend your head. Bend your head and see for yourself if there's a cool or a hot breeze of the Holy Ghost coming out of your head. Now raise your hands, both of them, towards the sky. Raise your hands and ask a question, `Is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost?' or “Is this the All-pervading Power of God's love?" which is called as `Ruh' also, or `Is this the Param-Chaitanya?' Ask this question. Push back your head fully and ask this question three times, any one of them three times. Ask any one of these questions, three times. This is the first time you'll be feeling this All-pervading Power.

Now take down your hands, please. Put your hands like this. Now watch Me without thinking, you can do it.

[Aside:] Should I stand? Just, you are in thoughtless awareness, just see; even if you cannot see Me you are in thoughtless awareness, absolutely relaxed. All those who have felt Cool Breeze or hot breeze out of their fontanelle bone area, or they have felt it on their fingers or on their hands, please raise both your hands. The capital of Australia! May God bless you all.

So many of you have got it. It's all over! See, but don't doubt it, don't doubt it. It's all over: you can go home and close your windows and see, it's all there. But you feel extremely relaxed and happy.

So now, I know it's time, but still I would like to meet you people, those who have felt the Cool Breeze.

Those who have not felt the Cool Breeze could go into another room and these people will try to fix it up for you. But those who have felt it, I would like to meet them first and those who then get their realisation there could come and see Me. But some people did not do it, so that's not our responsibility in any way.

In the meanwhile there will be some very nice music and now you will enjoy this music better.

Contents: 1991-04-14 Śhrī Gaṇeśha Pūjā, Meditation Room, Ashram, Canberra, Australia

This will be the fifth Pūjā in Australia and I thought that this is the land of Gaṇeśha, we should have the Gaṇeśha Pūjā. Is very important also, very helpful. We all should have Gaṇeśha Pūjā, it's very important. And so today there will be Śhrī Gaṇeśha Pūjā. Have you got the hundred and eight names of Śhrī Gaṇeśha? So we have now requested John Fisher to be your leader in Canberra. And he has agreed.

I don't know what to tell you more about Śhrī Gaṇeśh, because really it is so important that we have to know the importance of Mūlādhāra Chakra. If you read the newspaper, just on the first page you find people going amok as far as their moral sense is concerned, absolutely I mean, to us it is something so shocking and perhaps I think people are possessed on their Mūlādhāra Chakra. The way they behave one feels that there's something gone wrong with them completely and they have no control over themselves; and just like mad people they are behaving. And all these problems that are coming, of these perversions, are due to this kind of a possession on the Mūlādhāra Chakra. One has to be very, very careful and respectful about it. I have already told so many things how to keep it clean, how to respect it and how to behave yourself.

As you know, Śhrī Gaṇeśha was created at the gate of hell to protect us from falling into hell. But actually when we insult Him and we do not care for Him, He just sleeps off. When that happens, any kind of a possession can come and can really make people mad. When you come from India to these places you are really surprised and shocked. What is wrong with these people, how can they be behaving in this manner? How can they go all out to ruin themselves like this? And how is it they do not understand the importance of morality when they are following Christ? The Christians, I think, are the worst as far as morality is concerned. They have no moral values left in them. It's such a sad thing that the number of people killed by Christians is also the maximum.

Sometimes I think these people who were killed everywhere might have possessed the Christians this way, that they are just going amok and behaving in this manner, destroying themselves.

Now the first quality of Śhrī Gaṇeśha is that He gives us wisdom. And that wisdom gives us the sense how to behave, gives us the balance and gives us the sense how to behave towards ourselves, how to preserve yourself, how to respect yourself. But if Gaṇeśha is not at all there to watch you, might be from hell some horrible hellish bhoots are coming out, or I don't know, I cannot explain this kind of a thing. But the other way round, I'll tell you, in India, is specially with women, they are extremely particular about their chastity, extremely particular.

Like we had a queen called Padmini and she was a very beautiful woman. And one Muslim aggressor who became sultan heard about her beauty.

So he wanted to see her.

So she refused, “I don't want to see him." Even seeing a woman like that: those bad eyes, are bad; seeing a woman also, are bad.

So he said, “If you do not allow me to see her, I'll invade your country." So she agreed that, “All right, he can see me in a mirror, so at least his bad eyes don't fall on me directly." She agreed to that. And he saw her in a mirror and he saw that it was even more beautiful than he had thought her to be.

So now he wanted to have her.

So physical, so superficial.

And he said, “If you now do not come to me, I will again attack." So they made a plan, “Let us now decide whether we are going to surrender our queen or not." So everybody said, “Nothing doing. We are not going to surrender." Because the chastity of a woman is very important and that of a queen and a queen, who is representative of all the womanhood should not be sacrificed like this. They could not bear the idea.

So they said that, “All right, we'll organize something and cheat these people." So they sent a word, “All right, we are all coming and the queen is coming too." And they sent hundred palanquins. We use palanquins for ladies in India, covered. And inside every palanquin there was one warrior sitting with all the weapons. And there were four carrying the palanquin and all these four were also warriors.

So thus they have about five hundred warriors. It was a small kingdom.

So when they went down, these people were very happy. “The queen is coming" and they were all getting drunk and celebrating it. “The queen is coming. Queen is coming." So they were half drunk also.

They had told these women that, “In case we win, then we lit a fire and you will know that we have won. But if you do not see any thing like that, then be sure that we have lost the war." So the king sat in the front palanquin and the rest of them and they went and attacked them in the sense that they first entered inside and then instead of the queen, the king came out and they all fought those people. But they were only five hundred so they could not be saved and these people had better weapons, so they were killed. They did not lit the fire. Now the women knew that all of them will be coming. Now they were very rich sultans, very rich Muslims and things like that. But they thought that now their chastity is in danger, so there was a big platform and they made a big pyre on that. And they all entered into it and killed themselves, before they could enter and touch their body.

So for women specially it is very important to have a great sense of chastity. And if they do not have the great sense of chastity, then they develop all kinds of funny ideas and mentally they become very imbalanced. And the children that they have, also become very funny and you have all these problems of perverted relations, incest relations. And today I read a horrible story about a little girl who suffered with this incest relationship. It's hell that we have created. In hell what else is going to be? Same thing.

There's no sanity about it, there's no wisdom about it.

So we have to now understand how we have to build ourselves as Sahaja Yogis. Men and women, all of them, have to go hand in hand, because the first quality I told is wisdom, but the essence of Mūlādhāra is innocence. They are made of innocence. The power of Gaṇeśha is innocence. And innocence comes when you do not destroy it. Actually a child is born innocent, but if the mother is like that, immediately the child takes over and if the father is like that the son takes over. But later on it has effect, whether it's mother or father. The whole society is decadent, is in decadence, is going down. You can see it so clearly.

Thanks to certain great saints in India who made the culture of India, it has not come from any philosophers or any writers or intellectuals, but it has come to us from the saints who understood the value of chastity and who understood the value of innocence. And they have built the whole thing in such a manner that these things never enter into our head.

So we call them as suSaṁskāras, means `good conditionings'. These good conditionings are surrounding us so much that this never enters into our head, all these kind of things that people are doing here, are mad. When it doesn't enter into your head, we can say that we just do not allow these possessions to come in. Because if you make preparation in a way for these possessions to come in, then the possessions will be there. Like the way people dress up nowadays, you see, they look like really witches or bhoots, absolutely. And such people will be definitely attacked, because the bhoots think that, `These are someone like us. Let's go enter them.' Also Āgñyā is not to be covered. I have told a hundred times, please don't cover your Āgñyā, please clear it down. Don't cover your Āgñyā. If you cover your Āgñyā, then you cannot be protected. They enter into your Āgñyā and from Āgñyā they can go up to your Mūlādhāra.

So you are living in atmosphere which is very dangerous for saints to live. Actually that's why they said the saints must go to Himālaya.

If they could say that to Indians, I don't know what should I say to people who live in such horrible circumstance, absolutely horrible. I mean, you think about it, how terrible it is and how many problems it gives us; how many people are ruined, how many children are ruined, how we go amok.

So the first thing is that we should understand that Gaṇeśha gives us Maryādās, limits, it is innate within us. It's not imposed on us, it is innate. A little girl if you see, she's shy, she knows how to protect herself. Even the boys, they are shy and they try to protect themselves, but that innate innocence we try to out, because ego is there. `What's wrong?' You tell them anything, `What's wrong?' And you do not know how devastating it is. In London I know of so many parents telling Me that their children are already squatting, they have got already children. At a very young age, about fifteen, sixteen they have got children. And this is so widespread and so shamelessly they discuss. I mean, in the newspaper if you read, I mean you can't imagine why to write all these things in such details in the newspaper. There's no need to write each and every thing in the newspaper.

But basically we are good people. God has created us good human beings. We are beautiful people, but this ego and this kind of a stupid idea that, `What's wrong?' in doing anything, coming from ego; people have gone amok and when you go amok you get caught up by these bhoots and then once you are caught up by these bhoots, you start behaving in a manner that no one can explain. `Why they behave like this?' I just don't understand.

There was a boy who came with all his hair not properly done and looking funny and with all these jattas, as we call them.

So I asked him, “Why do you dress up like this? You look like a primitive man." He said, “I want to be primitive." I said, “You cannot. Your brain is modern. By just making such hair, are you going to become primitive? You cannot become primitive." But just imagine, all these external things they do. For what? To have an identity. Now this idea of identity is also is a sign that you do not have your Maryādās. You can do anything. You can become a punk and all kinds of things you do. I mean, there are no Maryādās. And that means you are denying Gaṇeśha completely. Gaṇeśha has created those Maryādās innately within us. Even a prostitute in India, if she has to take to that profession because she's forced into it, maybe she's been brought from somewhere or maybe that out of her big problems she might have been a prostitute; she will see that her child is saved. She knows that it's wrong. But here it is so bad that we do not know also that it is wrong. Can you imagine, this is the limit of things, that you see yourself getting drowned in the water and you know that you are going to be killed. Still you are enjoying, `Very nice, I am going to be killed.' This is the situation of the wisdom. This is really shocking.

So we have to now understand what are our Maryādās are, how we have to live within our Maryādās and I'm sure if you really work out your Śhrī Gaṇeśha. For that the best is to meditate. Put yourself on some nice turf, grass. Sit on that. Put your left hand with the light and right hand on the Mother Earth and say Atharva Sheersha. If you can remember it by heart, it's a very good thing. Otherwise, you can keep the book and read it, or say Gaṇeśha's mantra to begin with. It's going to help you very much. It's going to help you, your eyes, it's going to your whole thing, is going to be very nice. And also with this kind of a mad Mūlādhāra, a woman can become extremely aggressive with her husband. I mean, she can be a very cruel woman and that's what is happening in America now. But I can't understand how women could be that cruel. I mean, I never used to think women could be cruel, really. I mean they could be sly, they could be sort of, doing some scandal-mongering or some sort of stupid things like that. But that a woman should be a cruel woman... when I first read the history of England I was surprised that there were some queens who were very cruel and also that there were seven queens who were killed. In India if a king kills even one queen, he'll be ousted completely from the whole country.

So it's not a something very simple thing. It's very serious. For Sahaja Yogis very, very serious. They have to revive their innocence. They have to revive their Maryādās. They have to delimit themselves. It's very important. Otherwise, I would say that, if you have some wheat spread out everywhere, how can you reach the heights? You have to put them into some bags, some Maryādās. Only by Maryādās you can rise. Of course the Kuṇḍalinī will help. Of course Gaṇeśha will help also. But we should also try to watch ourselves. There should be introspection, `Are we still in the same category?' I have told many people that it is better you walk with your eyes towards the grass, at only at three feet, because at three feet you can only see children, flowers and grounds, not higher than that. Nothing very beautiful is beyond that I think. Or raise much higher, so that you just see above the heads of people, nothing in between. And our whole style, lifestyle is so funny; I mean, I just don't know how to explain it, but is accepted. Yesterday there was an Indian and very seriously he came and told Me, “I have been committing one sin, so I must tell you." I said, “What?" “In my family nobody takes beer, but I am taking beer sometimes." After that, I didn't know where to look and what to say. Very seriously he said, “You are Mother, so I must confess to You, but now I will never touch beer." Imagine. Very seriously he was talking and another fellow came, he has told Me.

I said, “Now you Indians don't want to come to this thing. What is it? You are all making money?" He said, “We have made a lot of money here and we don't want any money." But I said, “Then why don't you come? You should come and take your, to Sahaja Yoga. Why not?" He said, “You see, Mother, mostly the trouble is..." With very great hesitation, he said that, “You see, mostly it is not advertised in Indian papers and we Indians think that we are rather of a different species, you see, how are we going to fit in with these people because, you see, their ideas are so different, ours are so different and how are we going to fit in with them? It's very difficult. But this time I saw some Indians also and some Indian musicians singing, so it seems that we can fit into them." “Yes” I said, “they can fit in to you and you can fit in to them. It's easy. They are your style only." He said, “We were really enamoured how they were nice, you see and they were." Because they do not consider that these things are bad or anything. India is like that, you see. They think you are of a different bottle and they are of a different bottle.

So you are like that and they are like that. They cannot be like you and you cannot be like them, so they think it is a different bottle you belong to, you see, different category of people. But they don't think that you are bad or good, they don't pass judgment. But this is what it is, that we have to understand that we have gone too far with this madness, spoiling our Śhrī Gaṇeśha.

Also Australians have to give a very big lead in Śhrī Gaṇeśha's area because you are sitting on the soil of Śhrī Gaṇeśha. To all the Sahaja Yogis, you must show. But, as you know what, we had horrible experiences so far and how people have been dominating and doing all kinds of nonsensical things, moneywise and otherwise also morality-wise.

So it sometimes upsets the whole balance of Sahaja Yoga because it's all depending on Śhrī Gaṇeśha; that means depending on Australians. And Australians have all the possibility of reaching a great height in Gaṇeśh principle, because they have the Mother Earth here sitting down. What else do they want? You need not take to stupid American-style things. I mean, if you see their Hallowe'en, I tell you, you won't eat your food for eight days. And if you go only to Rio, even you do not visit their carnivals, but even if you see the pictures, you won't eat your food for one month, so horrible they are.

So are we going to follow them, or are we going to start our own Australian Śhrī Gaṇeśha's special people? Or, this I have to warn you and people are all watching all over, all Sahaja Yogis are there; you know that all over the world we have Sahaja Yogis. They're watching everyone and you have to do your maximum to express your Gaṇeśh principle, which should be very easy for you. And as I have told you, that Australia was a part and parcel of India once upon a time. It has come down here.

So, at least in your films and all that, you can say they're Dharmic, they are Dharmic. They're not so bad as the American films are, but still this idea of copying the French or the Americans shows that we have lost our personality.

But Śhrī Gaṇeśha gives you a personality. He gives you your personality, because He gives you Maryādās.

You see, by Maryādās only, you get your personality. A person is known by his Maryādās. And that's what has to come within us, are our Maryādās.

So today's Pūjā is about Śhrī Gaṇeśha. As of course you know, He has got four petals and you know what He is placed in and what He does and all that and how He looks after the chastity of His Mother and all that. But the main thing is that how we develop Śhrī Gaṇeśha within us, how people see us as the incarnations of innocence on this Earth. I know it's very difficult, but imagine Śhrī Gaṇeśha sitting on the gate of hell, of excretion, because He's just like a lotus, above everything else and He makes everything fragrant.

In the same way I expect all of you, the Sahaja Yogis of Australia, to have that beautiful personality of Śhrī Gaṇeśha and that you emit that fragrance of innocence among all the Sahaja Yogis and then among all the world.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-04-16*, Public Program, Day 1, State Theatre, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia

I must apologize for being late but we were held up in a funny way watching a big ship passing through and the gate would not open. I hope you don't mind.

Contents: 1991-04-17* Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Preschool, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia

Left anyone? All of them? Nice flowers, eh? Mummy got for you? Ah, these are also? They're from primary. Oh, that's My hand! Thank you.

The whole place is a school, is it? Whole place is a school? School ashram. How many there are? Teacher: Shri Mataji, the children have made these paintings for You.

Shri Mataji: Ah! They have great feeling. She didn't have any drawing before? Not that one! These are future artists, I think, aren't they? This one, Radhika? Free hand? Showing all vibrations. This one is, who has done this one? Looks like Christ. It's tremendous. It's Kuṇḍalinī-shaped art.

Really? Have to look at their inside. They're seeing the Sahasrāra, I think. All the seven colours, it's Sahasrāra. With section, I think. This must be the left side and this must be the right.

Oh, that's beautiful. Who is that? It's beautiful.

Sahaja Yogi: That's like the brain, isn't it?

Shri Mataji: Brain and also a little Kuṇḍalinī, because green, yellow Swādhiṣhṭhāna, see and then the blue. They are really the smartest. Very sweet. The body is missing! That's what they are. Beautiful.

All are the Kuṇḍalinī.

So how many children are studying here, about? Fourteen? Thirteen.

All right, you all sit down. I would like to talk to you. All right? Let them also sit. Let them come in.

They can sit. All right.

So what are we learning in the school? Child: We dance.

Shri Mataji: I'm sure you can write, you can write your names? Do you know how to write your names? All right. It's a Montessori style you are doing or Teacher: No, Śhrī Mother. Sahaja Yoga style.

Shri Mataji: That's better. Sahaja Yoga style, yes! And, you come what time to the school? Ninethirty.

And then they have their lunch here, or they go? Teacher: They have their lunch and they have a little.

Shri Mataji: Rest.

Teacher: They have afternoon activities as well. Yes. The little ones have a rest and then they finish at three o'clock, so they go all day for four days.

I see.

[Aside:] Sit down. Sit down.

We'll have to have a proper big building now, isn't it, because you'll be increasing in number, I think.

And what's happened to the children who are doing primary school here? Ray?

Sahaja Yogi: [explains that the primary children go to a local primary school nearby.]

Shri Mataji: Good school?

Sahaja Yogi: [explains that it is a small public school and that the thirteen Sahaja children form one-tenth of the whole school. Also that Sahaja Yoga is taught there in the scripture class.]

Shri Mataji: That's a good solution, because children who are doing primary school also should go to a proper school, where they are guided properly and have a proper education. Because yours is a secular state and whatever the parents want will be taught to the children, you see, so they cannot force you onto anything. Also the children have to, some children could come to India also once we have the Washi school we'll see. Washi we are trying to make it up very well and work it out in a proper way. First of all, I mean it's easy to get teachers in India, no problem. Very well-qualified teachers you can get, if the place is not so far away as Dharamshala. But to get proper art teachers is a problem: they are expensive as well as a little fussy type, you see.

So we are trying to get a at or a house next door where these artists could be kept, so They could teach from very childhood; certain things we can start so the children develop the deftness, you see. The problem is they don't have the deftness to do artistic things.

Also we're thinking of starting a class with the mechanical things also, so the children learn how to play with the mechanics also. Because if you see in Japan, they make the children I think by the eighth class they know how to make a watch. Yah. And the children have to clean the trees even.

So bigger children climb up or they go on a ladder, but the smaller children clean the lower part of the tree. It's very sweet, you see.

So that's how they train them up in a practical way, like Gandhiji's style was that you should make the children know about everything from childhood, whichever is good for his livelihood and also for his life.

For example, if you have say, cotton. Then you tell them about cotton: what is cotton is, how it is come, what are the seeds are, how it is sowed; from there up to how the, you make threads out of them in the churka. And then how you weave them, how you put patterns. Like that every class, you can be taught one by one things like that. Ultimately we'll be having a school of twenty-one arts and crafts of India in Ganapatipule, for adults.

So these children can go finally to that place if they want to take to any art or craft and polish their, their deftness and their craft. This is the idea we have. We have so many crafts in India, lots of them; and here I think this starting very late in life, that's why they find it difficult, but if you start it very young it's very easy to put it into them.

Sahaja Yogi: I think most parents here would like to send their children to the Washi school. It's best for the children.

Shri Mataji: Yes, but they think it's too much price for them. Now we have found out a very cheap price for you to travel to India. They said the school is not expensive, but the travel is. But for travel we have found out for children it is How much percent is less? Or go the Sri Lanka one also.

So I mean, we can find out cheaper ways to send children there. But the schooling is not expensive because it is all found: everything, clothes, everything and so many arts and crafts and all that; it means a lot of money.

And it would be very versatile education to them, so they do not have these conditionings of religion and conditioning of one country, because they'll be coming from all over the world. They have certain basic problems of Mūlādhāra also and also about ego and these two centers are really catching. But I think gradually, living in India, they'll come round. It could be managed. It's not so difficult.

[Sahaja Yogi reads out a letter from the NSW Minister for Education in support of the Sahaja Yoga scripture classes at the local primary school, also praising how the Sahaja parents have become very wellrespected and involved in the school's activities. And commenting how also the Victorian government have recognized Sahaja Yoga in the Victoria state.] This should be, I think, used against the ABC! Teacher: The children did some drawings for You this morning, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Really? So I'll have to put them in Washi School now, all these. But you must write your names. Also `Australia'.

Teacher: Shri Mataji, we have fourteen. You were correct when You said `fourteen' because we have the little girl from Cairns. That's fourteen, that's what You said. Thirteen now are fourteen, that is the number.

Shri Mataji: Because actually they are seven into two: we have fourteen centers, you see, to create a seven, you know. Ah, good is a good number. Fourteen is very auspicious, very auspicious.

So now what is this for? All right, come along, one by one. All of you get up, one by one. Start from the very beginning. All right, now Thank you oh, look at that! May God bless you. One better than the other. All done so spontaneously. The Kuṇḍalinī. All right. Now who else? Ah. Tanya is she French? No; is she, is she Russian? Fred's daughter? Fred, how do you name her Tanya? She's a, it's a Russian name. We have one Tanya in Russia, very good Sahaja Yogini, very good, very intelligent.

May God bless you. These are people flying in the air, or what? All their Kuṇḍalinī coming out The other way round; that's what I was wondering. Oh, I see. Ah, that's a rainbow? May God bless. May God bless.

So you are Daisy, eh? Ah, may God bless you.

Teacher: [explains that Daisy's mother is at the school in Dharamshala.]

Shri Mataji: Oh, I see, she's gone there? Yeah, I've heard about Oh! Really Thank you. Seven loops seven Chakras! Many of them have started to see a flower enjoyed by Kuṇḍalinī. Thank you. Have great sense of colour, I must say Done so well. Very well done. Beautiful. Now, who else? Yours? All right. Not yet finished? All right. Thank you. They are too sweet for words! So now then, if the somebody was telling Me that you find it difficult because of the airfare. But now the airfare is so sensible, there should be no problem. But we are thinking that we'll send the children to Dharamshala during the summertime, about three months or so, not for study but for holidays; and then the parents can go and stay with them. But it's not proper to, you see, interfere with the school all the time. It's not proper. They get quite disturbed about it.

So best thing would be that you take your children with you, go to Dharamshala, spend some time there it's very nice, is beautiful. You can go round, see Himālayas there or wherever you want to go. And children will be there, they'll get their food and also you can pay for your food, that's all it's not very expensive.

So you can spend some time with them in the summertime, because summertime is here very, very cold, I'm told.

June, July, August. You see it's actually, June, July, August could be May, June, July. August is not such a bad month, I think. But actually in India the schools start in July, eighth of July.

So July it starts and they close it in April, May, June, like that. Or maybe the fifteenth of April and the fifteenth of July or something. You see, we have to put them in a regular proper way. And I think they'll get adjusted: it's not very cold there and it's not very hot. Should be quite all right. It's a very nice school, open school.

It's planned well for children and it's so planned that nobody can get out because it has got a great, big, huge compound in the center only, what you can call like a courtyard.

So they don't have to get out of the school. Very important it is. Though in India they don't have all these problems that you have here for children, but still, to be on the safe side. When it will work, it will work very well, I know that, but it has to start.

So, I think we should say thank you to all the children. I should have at least brought some sweets for them, I'm feeling rather guilty! Because it's just he told Me in the morning. Oh, that's fine! I'll give it to them.

Teacher: Shri Mataji, before You go, may the children sing a song to You?

Shri Mataji: Yes please, please. All right.

Thank you. Beautiful. Also, next time when you come, I'll give a small harmonium for them and a small tabla and let them start. If they start playing on it, they'll get the knack of it. Easy to get a small one and one tabla.

So or a drum.

So once they get the knack, they'll manage. We are going to do that in our school there.

So now give them the sweet. I've already started! They love this.

Where is the house of Mātājī Nirmalā Devī? Teacher: The children are making this mat and we thought we might send it to the school in India.

Shri Mataji: Let Me see, let Me see Ah! Very good idea. They'll be very happy to get this. These small children have done this? This is remarkable. You can make a cap also, with this. We don't get this in India. No, these we don't get. We get cotton ones, cotton what do you call, it's used for the cord in the, this thing and we can get them coloured. And then they can do it.

Teacher: We do a lot of sewing. We do a lot of sewing here with the children.

Shri Mataji: They stitch their clothes? Teacher: Not quite. No, not yet. That'll be the next thing. Is there anything

You would like us to do with the children here at school, that You could tell us about?

Shri Mataji: Only thing, you see, I was saying that you have some very sweet prints. The other day I saw that print David has, about the children playing the cricket.

So some of them if you can get hold of somewhere some prints where the children are. Children playing, or children move with the theme. You can send them with these people when they come. I have bought lots of them, but that kind of a print we don't have in the mass done by one fellow called who? I saw it in Melbourne no, Brisbane. It's a very good one.

Something like that if you find anywhere, with the theme of children. Not the faces only, but if they are playing or they're studying or doing something. I've tried to collect a lot of things: dolls, I've collected lots of dolls and lots of also toys, by which you can make things like houses, a ship also not that difficult part, but easier. In Poland we got all that for children.

So.

I'm thinking of maturing them by making them work out themselves things for themselves, so they mature very well. You see, the other day, you see, that child was crying so much and I just asked her that “you take the sweets and distribute to everyone." She didn't eat at all, she just took it over and was distributing. Even in the Pūjā if you make the children sit down and do Pūjā things and all that, they're very good.

So you have to involve them into something and then they mature into some sort of a work.

Children are to be given problems like that. `Now solve this problem. How will you do it? Solve this problem.' So they develop mentally also and they mature. Now you should not solve problems for them.

So tell them, `Now, how can you do this one? How can you do this one?' Like that. And there should be a competition in sharing. See that how much they can share with each other. Now say you have given sweets now, so `who can give one sweet?' like that. Teach them how to share. Giving to others, you see.

This is very important at this juncture: doing for others, not asking for yourself.

Say, I was saying in India that no child would ask for anything, never. Even My own grandchildren if I have to take, do for shopping, they're very difficult and one thing they will take at the most; but if you say take second one, `no' I tell you. It's impossible. And all this perhaps comes from childhood, you see. They see that the mother gives things to others, she doesn't take anything. The father gives things to others, he doesn't take anything, he doesn't take anything. And they're, if they when you give something to someone, you see, everybody praises them a lot.

So then the children start developing those virtues.

But if you start only clapping for their ego, then children get spoilt.

This has to be understood that you should not pump their ego in childhood, then it's difficult to control when they grow up. Like a balloon which has been, you see, already bloated, it's very easy to bloat; but which is not yet bloated takes time, you see.

So see to it that ego doesn't build up in children. That's one of the big problems in the West. Specially, before Sahaja Yoga I have known that parents wouldn't look after their children, but after Sahaja Yoga they just stick like glue, you see. They just think that their children are the last word, they must do this and just spoil them, much more than normal children do. I did say they are realised Soul, you have to look after them, you have to treat them with respect; but not if they are glued to you, how can you do that? Keep them a little distant and see for yourself how they are growing. That is important, because it is you people who'll make the child or mar the child.

Teacher: [says the children are learning some Hindi.]

Shri Mataji: They should, yah. Hindi. Yes, please let them sing.

They'll pick up Hindi in no time. Look at them. These children are writing to Me in Hindi language.

I don't know how many, they had not been there even one month, they started writing wonderful! All right, I can never leave this place, you'd better ask Me to go now! Who's done this?

Sahaja Yogini: The primary school children.

Shri Mataji: Really? It's very nice. Such small children can do this? This you'll have to bring.

Beautiful, this is beautiful.

So, who's coughing? Just come here. You should always wear a shameez. Come, come, one minute.

One minute, just come. They get frightened.

Teacher: We have this little room here and another little room out here and a backyard here.

Shri Mataji: Well, you'll have to get a better school. You'll get many children now, I think. I hope they wear some under a shameez or something. It should not be just one covering. That's how also they catch cold and start coughing.

All right.

So, I hope you'll send these things. I'll show them and then they can make caps out of it! It's very interesting.

Are you all right now? Are you all right? You know she, she sings very well. And she dances so well.

And she said she knows everything about Me, isn't it? She's the one who answered that “I know all about You, Mātājī." So may God bless you.

[Aside:] Some problem with the seat. I'll come out.

So you people all have very children, but be very strict about.

Do you think we should have, from primary school we should have some uniforms for the children? But there only you can wear something cotton, that's all like kurta pajama or something. That would be nice.

All right.

So may God bless you all.

If you send in the ashram, I would like it, to have a look at it. Thank you.

Hello! Ah, now, she's wearing something inside or not and that's what nothing! That's why you are coughing. Now, you must wear something inside, all right? Some sort of a shameez. Hallo, you are all right now? What was the matter? How will you treat it?

Sahaja Yogi: The shoes.

Shri Mataji: Now you must buy some boxes! Child: Bye-bye!

Shri Mataji: Bye-bye, bye-bye! He's all right. How are you? has passed through very difficult times; he had such problems. Very bad problems from South Africa. But now it's working out very well in South Africa? Yes, working very well. They have been calling Me let's see. Their government doesn't permit.

Let's see what happens.

Contents: 1991-04-17*, Public Program, Day 2, State Theatre, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

You have been already told about these centers within us, their qualities and these three channels which constitute them, But one may ask why all this instrument [is] placed within us, with what purpose and why [the] evolution has to go further? The reason is you have to now become the Spirit. Go beyond your physical, emotional, mental being and become the Spirit. Because Spirit is the reflection of God Almighty and Spirit is the universal being within you. When you become the Spirit you become a universal being.

.....

Of course when you neglect your liver you know liver as they say you will live till your liver will allow.

Now this liver has to clean all the poison from your body. It comes out as heat and is delivered to the blood stream. But when this is neglected this poor liver doesn't know how to function without the energy and all the heat is accumulated in the liver.

So a person suffers from liver trouble and symptoms are he gets migraine, he cannot see the sun then also he gets very hot tempered, irritable, angry because there is so much of heat. Then this heat passes; I was telling in Canberra most of the Bureaucrats have this problem because they plan too much and where do we land with that planning oh God all knows.

So then this heat passes upward and downward so when it passes downward it gives you a very bad problem of terrible constipation because the heat constitutes your intestine large intestines. It also coagulates your kidneys by which you have kidney trouble you cannot pass your urine. Then you go on the dialysis and you are certified as really dead. Because you cannot last longer.

So very expensive treatment but doctors do not tell you frankly that oh, you are not going to live.

Then this heat can pass upward and when it goes upward it goes say to your right Heart as shown there. As a result of that you develop asthma. Of course asthma is connected also with the left side.

So when this triggering is done by the left side then you get this horrible disease called asthma. Then this heat can go upward and can ruin your throat. It can freeze your right arm. It can make your left eye red and also your left ear deaf. But by chance if such a person is young and using too much physical energy and mental energy as well as drinking a lot he can have a very fatal heart attack very massive one and he may die in very early in age. You must know that all such attacks in young age always are fatal.

But when you see to the other side is that there is a pancreas which is neglected as a result of the neglect of the pancreas you develop a disease called diabetes. Even the mothers who are extremely planning type and thinking type give that disease to their children and children are born with diabetes.

Then you have the third problem with the spleen. This is the most dangerous one. Now a days as the life is we are all time bound very particular about time. As a result of that we have become extremely hectic. Supposing if you sleep very late in a night then you have to get up early in the morning somehow.

Somehow get into your clothes and run to the office. Don't even take your breakfast; your wife will give you so on the way in the car you are eating your breakfast and then you read the newspaper. You get a shock of your life because so many horrible things are happening. Newspaper will never give something that is good or is doing well. But something that is gone wrong to give a sensational feeling. It's just a sometimes horrible thing so early in the morning if you read something that is horrible being a human being then you sometimes shocked. Then you find there is a jam on the way and you get so upset and all your peace is disturbed. Now this spleen is responsible for creating red blood corpuscles when you are in emergency. You must have seen when you eat your food and you run you get a pain here. That's because your spleen is trying to pump out new RBCs. Now to create that poor this spleen has to work very hard but it cannot understand the crazy hectic personality. Every time it tries to cope with it. It goes crazy.

So such a spleen becomes crazy and ultimately leads some triggering on the left hand side; [UNCLEAR]; you develop a horrible disease called as leukemia or blood cancer.

Also your intestinal problems, the pain in stomach and all that indigestion all go hand in hand only because of the one center only on right hand side. I have not even described the left side center.

So if I describe all this the whole Materia Medica will be described. It's like that.

So all the permutations and combinations of these centers give you physical problems then the left side gives you the mental problem.

[After the, Public Program, to the seeker Susi Baumgartner who got her Self-realisation and start crying:] Don't cry, My child, give it all to Me. That's what I'm here for.

Contents: 1991-04-18 Welcome Greetings and Meeting with the Lord Mayor, Separate Room, Town Hall, Newcastle, New South Wales, Australia

[SYNOPSIS!] [Shri Mataji drove straight from Sydney to the Town Hall to be greeted by the Lord Mayor. They then adjourned to one of the rooms where they had tea and talked together. The Lord Mayor complimented Shri Mataji on Her work to bring about brotherhood. Shri Mataji replied that She had created angels in Sahaja Yoga; She told him that they never argue. The Lord Mayor asked how this could be, since within the council they have many discussions and arguments could not be avoided. Shri Mataji said that there were no arguments In Sahaja Yoga because everyone stands on the absolute; if all stand on the absolute, how can there be any arguments? There can only be agreement and acceptance.] [The Lord Mayor asked Shri Mataji where She was living now, to which Shri Mataji answered that She lives either in a suitcase or an airplane. She then spoke of the many countries She had visited and lived in and spoke in glowing terms about the Russians. They also talked about corruption in government and Shri Mataji said that England was the country with the least corruption of any of the Westminster systems of government, maybe because the system of government had had many hundreds of years to evolve. Countries like Australia and America whose constitutions were still very young were still evolving.] [They talked for about half an hour while Steven stretched out his ten-minute introduction further and further. After some time the Mayor said that he had better not keep Shri Mataji from the many people who had gathered to hear Her. The Banquet Room was overflowing with new people and visiting Yogis.

In all about 300 new people and about a hundred Yogis had come.]

Contents: 1991-04-18*, Public Program, Banquet Hall, Town Hall, Newcastle, New South Wales, Australia

[Introduction by Steven.] Lord Mayor: One of the many pleasures of my office Is meeting people who come from other places as well as the city of Newcastle In an atmosphere of friendship and good will. I have Just had the opportunity of speaking for too long, as far as you're concerned, with Mother. You have been here waiting while we have been chatting in an outer room and I am very grateful to you for that. It is good for our city that we should welcome people with ideas, information and philosophies that will assist us all. And it would be very difficult to understand anyone who did not agree with the things that are purported here. To find someone who comes to tell us about meditation, relaxation and good will to one another is a marvelous thing for our city, And therefore it is a great pleasure for me as Lord Mayor of the city of Newcastle to welcome you to our city.

Shri Mataji: We are so much thankful to the Lord Mayor for doing such a favour to us and for understanding the need for universal brotherhood. it Is very amazing that I should find in Newcastle such a person who thinks about the higher things in life, things that will make us all happy and give solutions to our problems. We are all such lucky people to have such a personality as your Lord Mayor and am I sure there are many of us who are jealous of you, that you have such an open hearted enlightened person to look after you and to guide you in the right way. I thank him again and again for giving Me this opportunity to come here.

[Shri Mataji and the Lord Mayor then sat together and enjoyed the music program.] [The Mayor had another engagement that evening which he postponed to hear

Shri Mataji speak and to receive his realisation along with many of his fellow Novacastrians. Shri Mataji told him that in all Her travels there were not many Lord Mayors who had received their realisation.]

Contents: 1991-04-19 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, before Departure, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia

Now because there'll be so many Sahaja Yogis here and it will work out, not only for Sydney, but other places, like New Castle was a surprise. You've seen New Castle how it worked out. You have to go to other, smaller places which are around.

So, we have to know that Sydney people who are now coming to Sahaja Yoga and we have to strengthen ourselves by meditating also and also by spreading Sahaja Yoga across.

But more if you start paying attention more to the defects here and the defects there, then you'll never grow. What you have to see is defects within yourself and it will definitely grow very well. The best way is to grow yourself and become something that we can say is a solid Sahaja Yogi. That's much more important, I would say, for all of you.

You can always write to Me. And I always take heed of that and I work out many things even before you have written to Me.

So, there's no need to be frightened of someone, or to be afraid of someone. You can always tell that person what you think. And nobody will now throw away anyone from Sahaja Yoga without asking Me. It's a law.

Nobody is going to be thrown out. But, of course, always I'll have your photographs with Me. And I know you very well. There's nothing to be told. But when I am busy with other people, you should know that Mother has given such a responsibility on us, we have to grow and let everyone grow. And gradually, I'm sure, everything will be all right.

And so far we have had mishaps, not so much because of leaders but because of you people, because you should have told Me and you should have informed Me. Also, I know we are very capable people here, but still people don't meditate. That's why I find they are catching. Once you have got your realisation, you should know what should be the attitude towards yourself. Now we have a Sahaja Culture as you know and we have to come into that Sahaja Culture. And when we...

Ah! Hey, what are you doing? Bad. No. Ah ah. At this age they pick up these things here, so what do you say of children? Whose child is this? Just take him. You must correct, yourself. At this age you must correct. Maybe later on no, but at this age you must correct. You see if they hit, then you hit them on their hands. Hit where their legs. Hit them there so they are all right.

Now come along, now what's your name? Hallo? What's your name? Such a right Āgñyā. Very bright Āgñyā he has and also see his eyes are showing the reason.

Gradually everything will be all right. You have to be grown in Sahaj Culture. And also the women have to grow in Sahaj Culture; men have to grow in Sahaj Culture. And the women have to grow in a Sahaj Culture is this, that you should not answer back your husbands at all. That's not the way you can conquer him.

They do not understand how they can conquer their husbands.

That's the main point. Not by answering them back. Not by torturing them, but by bearing up whatever they are saying. And explosiveness of women is absolutely wrong. That puts them off. They come from outside; they are very tired. And they are themselves in explosive condition. And then you suddenly do something to them and they start being explosive. You see? So women, if they cannot run their husbands and family, all right. Then I think it is their responsibility.

So the responsibility is much more on women than on men as far as the culture is concerned.

Now, what is the matter? Sit down. Sit down here. Come along. Sit down. Sit down. Be a nice boy.

Otherwise, Now, sit. Nice boy, all right? And when you want to say something, don't show anger, but determination. You see. Just sit down with them. Then they know what you mean.

So one side of the thing is of establishing the Sahaj Culture among ourselves and being kind to them.

In the family, to create peace. That's the job of a woman.

You see how that man was trying to provoke Me. But I wriggled out of all his provocations, because I'm a woman. Any other man would have slapped him twice I tell you.

In My place, any one of them. Kṛiṣhṇa must have used His Sudarshan. And Christ must have hit him with His cross, you see. They cannot bear, you see. They don't have so much bearing power. And they cannot wriggle out, you see. But we can.

So that is the quality one has to learn: how to wriggle out of this.

Then the men have the work to go out, earn. Women also, it doesn't matter. But you must share with them, have companionship with them. Enjoy your companionship. After all, you see, the romance starts actually after marriage, not before marriage. I was surprised that there's no book which describes the romance after marriage in English language. I asked so many people to find out if there's a book that describes romance after marriage. They said, “No book." But in Indian books, Indian languages, we don't have any romance much described before the marriage but always after the marriage.

So I didn't understand what was this thing was. After marriage, the romance finishes. Not in Sahaj Culture...

Hallo. Now, come along. Ask him to... take him out... Put him in there in the room. He'll be all right. No, you can't sit here. Come along. Tell him. Now he'll be all right. If you beat, you cannot sit here. Now you take him. No, you take him out. Take him out and put him in the room. He will be all right. Now, why did you beat? And the men have to know that they have to respect their women. In the presence of their children specially, they must really respect. If you're angry you can do what you like in the bedrooms. In the presence of your children you should behave yourself. And this is one of the reasons why the children in the West are not at all obedient. No sense of respect.

So the respect that husband pays to the wife is absolutely important. For example, now supposing I'm sitting here and my husband is sitting here and I want a glass of water. If I try to get up he'll ask the children, `Go and get it for your mother.' If they say, `All right, daddy, should we put some oil in your head?' `First put in your mother's head.' `Can we go out?' `Ask her. What does she say.' So put all the authority towards her. This is the job of men. You see, then only the love grows.

Moreover, if wife is sick, she needs your protection. You must go all out to be gentle, very gentle with them. If the husband is gentle with the wife, the children will be very gentle, too. How you gently hug your wife. How you talk to her, how you express yourself to her. It's all very, very important. And care for her, to make her most important.

You see, if she's sitting uncomfortable, `Should I make something comfortable for you?' Then if you are decorating, `Aha, this year Mommy will like very much, isn't she.' All such things suggest how much the husband cares for the wife.

Or sometimes bring some present for her, in the presence of children you should give, so that they also have that respect for the mother. Gentleness is missing, completely. We are very harsh sometimes. We are volcanic. And I don't know how people can stand volcanic women and volcanic men.

So to be very gentle is the best way to live together. And to care for each other is very important. Then you start missing each other, don't dominate each other. On the contrary if the wife is going towards, then the husband would rush, say, `No, no, no, no, no, let me go.' Gradually they develop these qualities in them. Not by fighting, not by quarreling, arguing. Gradually they will develop these habits. And you'll be very happy to be in love with each other.

I am only worried about our family system in Sahaja Yoga. It's very important, extremely important.

If the family is not all right, how are we going to keep all of you together? And I want the whole world to be together. How can we get the whole world together if you cannot have one family all together? But in no way it means that you become a slave to your husband or a slave to your wife as far as Sahaja Yoga is concerned. Sahaja Yoga is above everything. If husband tries to do something against Sahaja Yog, you should stand against it. If the wife wants to do something against Sahaja Yoga, you stand up. Nothing else. Because this is something precious you have got and you have to live with it and you have to enjoy it.

It is very difficult for people to understand that Sahaj Culture is the only culture in which people can live happily together. There is no other way out. We start from the very primitive to the most modern.

We have imbibed lots of things of the Indian culture as well as lots of things from the Western culture.

For example, we allow divorce. Not at the slightest thing. It's not a very good thing to divorce also, but in case everything fails and everything is so horrid and by law you feel horrible with your standing, then I say, “All right. You can have this, you can have the divorce." So we could have a little compromise on that point. But we have the least divorces in Sahaja Yoga. Say in a church if there are ten marriages per year, I don't know if they even have so many, but even if they had, nobody goes to the church, out of them, nine of them are failures, first year only. Compared to that, we are much better off. We have some problems, in the beginning sometimes it happens, but on the whole we are much better off than all other people.

Now it's for you to decide whether you want to enjoy your wife or your husband or not. If you have everything and you do not know how to enjoy, then what to do? So all this anger, all this temper should go away. You should introspect also, `What am I doing? What am I expecting? What am I doing to the other party? Why can't I enjoy?' Just ask this question: `Why can I not enjoy my wife or my husband?' Just ask this question and you'll realise the problem is more with you than the other party.

So our family system has to be absolutely ideal. And we have to prove to the world that those who are getting married in Sahaja Yoga are the ideal husband and wife; or those who are Sahaj Yogis, even if they are married outside but they become Sahaja Yogis, they become ideal husband and wife. The relationship between them are the best and for that, whatever is necessary you should do; whatever has to be done, you should do. No sacrifice, no adjustment. It's just our idea. Just our idea.

So this is My last advice to you, that have beautiful families, pure families and love all the children as your own children. It will work out much better. Nobody should object if some child is corrected. Never.

If somebody corrects your child, you should be thankful to that person that they have corrected your child.

And then children are frightened of the collective because they think all the collective are together if they are not misbehaving. You see, if you start supporting on your own child, then the child becomes, you see, quite clever. It knows that `Nobody can say anything to me,' but the whole collective, if just now the child has gone there, you see, they all have felt it. Because all of us have decided. They'll all behave. But if somebody had supported that child, then the children wouldn't.

So all of us should support all the children and if some child is wrong, then we all should say, `All right, you're wrong.' Because all of them are your children. Take it like that. They are collective children.

You have to look after them; you have to bother about them; you have to help them. Everything has to be done on a collective basis. But supposing one child is bad, then all of us, all of us, should tell that child that `You're bad.' Then he improves. Also we have to tell them, `You are Sahaja Yogis, you can't do like that. You are Sahaja Yogis; you're great. You can't do like this.' And that will work also, very well.

Also other relations we have outside who are not Sahaja Yogis, just see if they are nice people. You need not be rude to them, need not cut out from them. But if they are rude and if they are against Sahaja Yoga, then it's better not go near them. Better not.

So you should just try to make a point in your life that you are going to show Mother that we are very happily married people. And that's what it is I want to see among you. Now we are a very big family all over the world and as you are Gaṇeśha's patrons here, it's also important that the family should be the best in Australia. `Cause Gaṇeśha is the product of a very beautiful family. I hope you'll all understand this. Seriously take it up and work it out and practice it.

I'm told that people get angry if somebody corrects their children. Is very wrong. Never. Feel detached about it. You shouldn't spoil your children. And we have had a very bad experience with these children when they came to India. And we thought from which land they have arrived.

My tour has been very successful thanks to you all. You have worked very hard, I must say, very hard.

Next time I'm told I'll have no radio, television, nothing of the kind. Just a waste of time with them. We'll just have all posters which are very good because they emit vibrations by which people feel much better.

We'll have also beautiful, what you call them? Banners. Banners. And wherever is possible, you can put it. And it is My name there; when the wind blows also, the vibrations are emitted. Also you could go into the newspapers. That's all right. But no more of this radio or these things.

The other day I asked some people, “Did you hear the radio?" Nobody has known if there was a press card.

So we are wasting our time with this radio and television absolutely, we are not going to have anything to do with it.

All those who are coming to India, they should try to book as early as possible and let Me know when they are coming; they are all welcome. This time we are changing our plans. We are going via Madras [Chennai]. I want you to see the south.

So we'll be travelling not by those horrible buses, but by the train, by the train this time. Up to Ganapatipule we cannot go by train as you know, but up to Kolhapur. And from Kolhapur to Ganapatipule is not such a long distance. The road is quite nice.

This time we are going to very different places like Madras [Chennai], Bhairov, Hyderabad, then Poona and then to Ganapatipule. I hope you'll all enjoy your stay this time again in India. And lots of people will be coming again. We are really having a great success everywhere. I'm sure this time we'll have many more people.

If you have money problem, you can write to Me also. We can make some arrangements for that. But, you see, we cannot reduce now any more. We have kept the same price throughout because we have to pay for the Russians, for all these Eastern Bloc people, their food, their living. We have to lend them money.

There are absolutely, say, about a hundred people coming without a single pai on them. They're travelling; so, sorry, but we have to compensate for it. I know it pressurizes everyone. But we have to compensate.

And other nations are at least paying for their travels.

I can't pay for their travel. That's a hundred people travelling.

So, as far as Australia is concerned, you don't have to share that part.

So, may God bless you!

Sahaja Yogi: Śhrī Mother. We would like to give You a little memento of Your tour. It is something that has been with You for some time. Each time you had a Public Program or even at the Pūjā it was there. It was made by Sahaj Yogis, a whole series of them, even some children participated in it, into this screen.

Shri Mataji: Oh, My! Thank you so much. It's so beautiful. You know, today only I was just thinking what a nice thing it is. I shouldn't desire anything, I think.

Now, very beautiful. Very, very beautiful. It gives so many ideas of colours and things. You have so much of talent here I must say. But you'll have to bring it with you.

Sahaja Yogi: We could dismantle it, You know that? and just bring You the silk screen.

Shri Mataji: Thank you, Alex.

Sahaja Yogi: Śhrī Mother, from all your children in Australia, we thank you in our hearts for coming and giving us such a wonderful tour.

Shri Mataji Nirmalā Devī. Ki Jay!

Shri Mataji: And any disease or anything you have, any problem, you have to tell Steven, or you can tell Me, or inform Doctor Szpiro, or someone, whomsoever you want to. Any disease. Don't be shy about it. And I'll tell you how to treat it. I mean, normally it is only on the vibrations you have to say left, right, what is the problem is, but there are certain things which require more attention...

[Part of a bhajan is played.]... only Mrs. Thatcher. Tell Me what is to be done about the bum. I must say, that's the only point where I agreed with her.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Mother.

Shri Mataji: Otherwise, you know, she is a very simple woman, otherwise. What happened, that I was to go to a party to her place for a luncheon here and it was a Monday or something and a holiday.

It was a holiday and all My ornaments were in the bank, you see. But My daughter had asked Me to buy 500 some artificial ornaments.

So I said, “Now what to do? I have nothing to wear." See she doesn't like Me to go just like this.

So I said, “All right." So I bought one of these artificial diamonds. Quite big, big ones. Absolutely artificial.

So I went to the lunch. It was in the area. She saw Me. She just started looking at the diamonds. And she came and talked to Me again and again. And then ultimately she asked Me, “Is this from Your family?" I did not tell her, I said, “Yes." But I was wondering, “Look at this woman. She doesn't even know this is artificial." But apart from that, you see, even if I am wearing anything, what does it matter, I'm not going to give it to her in any way.

But the way her eyes, you know, just opened up. I was amazed at her. And then she became very friendly with Me and she was following Me, neglecting everyone. And in the next lunch party, she made Me sit with her. She asked lots of things about India and “how You manage Your family" and this and that.

Very surprising. That artificial diamond stuff. I told My daughter about it and she just laughed.

But in England people are quite conscious of ornaments, very conscious. Maybe here also, I don't know.

Sahaja Yogi: Not so much. In England, they're very concerned with status.

Shri Mataji: Status. Like one day, she wore a, I had an old necklace of Mine with real pearls, you see. They know what is real pearls are, I don't know how. And she went to the market, she went to the shop and she came back. She said, “Now take your madam necklace." I said, “Now what is this “madam?" She said, “Mommy, whichever shop I went, they called me madam." At first I didn't know what was, how I become madam now, then I realised it was the pearls.

I have lots of such things with Me because of the family.

So I was wearing one ring, it's a big emerald.

Very big emerald it is, such a big one, from the family. I don't know how many in India would look at this... [MISSING.]

Sahaja Yogi: There's a story, Mother, of King Charles I, when he was riding through Scotland and he came across a man belonging to a very small Christian group who didn't approve of kings. And his lieutenants, they were all on horses and this man was on foot and his lieutenants said, “Will you not take your hat off before the King, sir?' And the Scotsman, who was very independent, said, “No, actually, I won't." So the king said, “Then sir, I will take my hat off to you." So he took his hat off.

He was a gracious man, apparently. Actually it was King Charles II.

Another Sahaja Yogi: He must have been the same man who was going up the stairs, wasn't he?

Shri Mataji: You see, it's all right. I mean, supposing it's your country, it's all right. But we are from another country. We are not even in the Commonwealth.

So why make everyone bow to her? Actually, Americans would have said, `Hi.' Rosie, are you going to America now?

Sahaja Yogini: Yes, Mother.

Shri Mataji: When?

Sahaja Yogini: I'm not sure when.

Shri Mataji: I see. Are you all right? When are you going?

Sahaja Yogi: I leave in one week and then a few weeks after that.

Somewhere between one month and then three months.

Shri Mataji: I see.

So where will you be?

Sahaja Yogi: Seattle. If that's OK.

Shri Mataji: Very good. And when do you love Me?

Sahaja Yogini: All the time.

Shri Mataji: Very sweet. She's a poetess.

Gaṇeśha is standing in attention for you. Really. It's beautiful.

Thank you. Ask them to keep it carefully somewhere. They will do it. There. Give it to King. I'm very happy now.

So, you are enjoying yourself?

Sahaja Yogi: Very much, Shri Mataji. Very, very much.

Shri Mataji: Rosie looks so nice.

That Phillip is such a pitiful, he's doing all kinds of things in France. He's going on the streets and shouting, “I'm the incarnation and this and that." And big problems. I said, “Let him shout, he's going to lunatic asylum." Lots of lunatics are there.

Sahaja Yogini: There are.

Shri Mataji: They're on the streets.

Sahaja Yogini: I've seen them.

Shri Mataji: They are not in the lunatic asylum but on the streets and they go within the buses and things. And talking all kinds of things, you know. Horrible. And I told Marie, “What is this nonsense, they put all of them on the streets and they're walking into every bus." So she told Me that “Mother, you see, the French are very considerate and we try to help them." I said, “What? You're helping them and ruining everybody else. This is a stupid help that you are giving them. Better put them in some lunatic asylum." French are coming up now, getting better.

Sahaja Yogini: They seem much happier. When I saw the people that I knew there, they seemed very joyful.

Shri Mataji: Better now. They must change.

You see, in that country, if you are miserable, then you are very knowledgeable. You have to be extremely unhappy, all the time. If you are not miserable, then you are an ignoramus. Can you imagine? `Les miserable.'

Contents: 1991-04-24*, Public Program, Divine Love, Ebell Theatre, Los Angeles, CA, U.S.A.

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

At the very outset we have to know that Truth is what it is. We cannot organize it, we cannot change it, we cannot conceptualise it. Unfortunately, at human awareness we can not feel it and know it. We have to become a subtler being.

This is the third time I'm in Los Angeles [without counting 1972] and I'm in search of the angels. [Soft laugh and laughter.] Now whatever I am going to tell you or whatever he has told you about this, you have to keep an open mind. Blind faith is not going to help you at all. But a scientific outlook.....

Contents: 1991-04-27*, Public Program, Theater-in-the-Park, Flushing Meadow Park, Queens, New York, USA

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

At the very outset we have to understand that Truth is where it is. We cannot organize it, we cannot conceptualise it. Unfortunately, at human awareness we can not know it.

Now whatever I am going to tell you here you have to have a scientific attitude towards it. There should be no blind faith, that's not going to help, nor complete denial but you must have an open eye to find out what is the Truth about yourself and about this Universe.

The greatest Truth about us the human beings, ourselves is that we are not this body, this mind, this ego, this conditionings but we are the pure Spirit. And we have to become the pure Spirit.

The second Truth is that the whole Universe is organized, is coordinated, nourished, above all loved by God Almighty who exists as [UNCLEAR is/His/this] power which we can say is the All-pervading Power of Divine Love. This Power is the Absolute Truth, is Eternal.

Contents: 1991-04-28 Śhrī Haṁsa Chakra Pūjā, Queens, NY, U.S.A.

Today we have assembled in the area of Viśhuddhi. In the Gītā, Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has described the area as Kshetra and the one who knows the area is called as Kshetragna. Gna, yesterday as I told you, gna or gya, means: `The one to know on your central nervous system'.

So the one who is the knower of that area is the Kshetragna.

Today we are going to know about the Haṁsa Chakra. That is the area of, between the two eyebrows, bhrukutis, they are called as. This one is placed at the base of the brain, which is called as murdha and this part is the complete controller of the whole of the base of the brain, again I say, base of the brain. And that is a part of the Viśhuddhi still, which is an extremely important center as far as the human awareness is concerned, because these two Nāḍīs, Iḍā and Piñgalā, before entering into Āgñyā and giving, crossing each other, part of them crosses over this Chakra of Haṁsa.

So when the ego and superego develop in our brain and cover our limbic area, from both the sides the strands which are coming out of the Viśhuddhi sit on them.

So they also control these two institutions from outside.

For example, it crosses like this, goes up like that from Haṁsa and then, some strands.

Then the others go up again and cross like this and form ego and superego.

So from the back side, on top of them, these two strands go and sit.

You all know that Haṁsa Chakra gives you discretion, but still we do not understand, what do we mean by discretion? The first and the foremost important center within us is the Mūlādhāra Chakra. If we do not have the proper discretion about Mūlādhāra Chakra, we get into wilderness, I should say, or we open the doors of hell for ourselves.

As you know, that only the Iḍā Nāḍī starts from the Mūlādhāra. That means, it's the desire, power of desire within us, starts from Mūlādhāra.

But it's not the mental, which is the Piñgalā Nāḍī, which starts from Mūlādhāra. It starts higher.

So to have a complete understanding about.

This child is crying, please take away the child. Yesterday again same thing, I mean, this is indiscreet.

Continuing with the child all the time, yesterday was the same thing, immediately you should take out the child. In the meeting any child is crying, immediately take out the child. There's something wrong with the child. Immediately take out the child. Again it is discretion.

So one thing one has to know, that Mūlādhāra Chakra cannot be controlled by our mental activity. But if you shift it to the mental activity then the control over Mūlādhāra is completely lost.

Apart from whatever has happened in the West, Mūlādhāra Chakra is all gone into the mental activity of human beings. It is so much discussed, talked. It is so much described, written down, so much read, so much put into our heads, that it has become a mental activity.

So, Mūlādhāra doesn't act spontaneously as it has to act.

That's why there are problems that people cannot produce children.

So many become impotent very early because it is used not by the power of desire, but by mental activity, is shifted.

Now you see the light here, is burning there because there is oil and there is a wick, it is burning. But instead of this oil, you put just water. Will it burn? It won't. Because water is not going to nourish this light.

So, the more mental activity you have, your Mūlādhāra gets spoilt and it becomes uncontrollable.

But if it is left to your desire, so it becomes spontaneous. This is a fundamental principle that is missing in the Western thinking, I think, that whatever is spontaneous, they leave it to the mental activity.

Wherever the mental activity is to be used, you should use mental activity and wherever your desire and emotions are to be used, you must use your desire power.

Also, it is spontaneous, though it should not be an obsession. Any obsession cannot be spontaneous.

It's just, at a moment, you have the desire. That's all. But all the time if there sits in your mind, that means you are using water to have the fire.

Same about the Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra. Swādhiṣhṭhāna is for creativity. Anything you can create. You can create a sarī. You can create a beautiful design, pattern.

You can create a beautiful art or anything, but as soon as you put it on a mental level, it's finished.

Also in the West, too much discussion is about the art. This is not art, that is not art. This should have been like this, that should have been like this. I mean, it's creativity, spontaneous.

Whatever the artist wants to produce, let him produce and who are you to judge and criticise? You cannot appreciate anything unless and until it is brought to the mental level.

So now, we have critics and the artists are not spontaneous, they're afraid; they only think: `What will the critics say?' Even when I'm writing the book, when I give it to some Sahaja Yogis to read, they say: “Mother, if You write it like this, then they'll say like this." I said: “Let them say, who cares?" So then, critics should criticise and say: “This is not all right. This is not an art because this is such, this is such." So the artists are finishing, art is finishing. Now what is left are critics.

So now they don't know what to do with their profession, so they are criticising each other.

So we have only critics criticising each other.

But there's no art now. What to criticise? And art has to be now made into money.

So the critics must certify. It's so man-oriented, the whole programming of these critics is, that it is never an art.

You know, they draw one line and say: “Now this is art, all right." If the critics say it's art you had better accept, it is an art.

Now, what is so artistic about a line? Then again mental: “It's a lonely person standing ther", this, that.

It should be spontaneous! Why to describe an art? So the mental level is so alert and is all the time trying to see things according to certain norms. All these norms are created about something so spontaneous like sex, like art. All bathroom culture is decided by the brain. Nothing is spontaneous. It's such a joke, I tell you! So people become artificial. Art becomes artificial. Your Mūlādhāra becomes artificial. Because it's all now man-made. All the spontaneity is lost.

If you see any art from any country, just watch. Why must you react to it? Just watch, as Sahaja Yogis you should just watch and the whole thing will start flowing through.

Now this Greek tragedy of romanticism, then the romance of Romeo and Juliet, all is imaginary, is all mental. There's no spontaneity in it. And then you accept, accept only relationships when there is artificiality, even between husband and wife. Like the husband must bring a flower every day to the wife, show her a flower, as if she's a priest or something.

And the wife must, I don't know what they do, all artificialities. And then he must say `Thank you' ten times to her and she must say `Sorry' to him a hundred times. I mean they're husband and wife, left and right side of a chariot! And then the men expect this should happen. Women expect this should happen.

Men expect the women should be like men and women expect women, men should be like women. Men are very particular about time, women are not.

So women must be very particular about time, otherwise they think she is the worst person they have ever known.

The woman is, say, more particular about her kitchen or maybe about her dress.

So the man would get angry with her because she takes too much time to get ready. It's mutually so indiscreet that the relationship becomes absolutely absurd.

There should be understanding that she is the left side and you are the right side and both of you have to act according to your nature.

On the contrary, you want to make somebody look so funny, because imagine a man becoming a woman and a woman becoming a man. You see it's a joke, but that's what has happened.

Whatever the men are supposed to do they cannot do and whatever women are supposed to do they cannot do. Whatever the children are supposed to do they do not do.

For example, children in the West will go on asking: “Why?" Who are they to ask “Why?" What is their growth? What is their intelligence? What is their maturity? They cannot be treated like a judge sitting in the court. They are children! But when they come to Sahaja Yoga they lose their discretion. First, before coming to Sahaja Yoga, the husband and wife quarrel all the time. Half steps are in the courts and half outside. After Sahaja Yoga they cling to each other, so much like glued together, it's impossible.

So much so that for the wife's sake they will leave Sahaja Yoga. They'll ruin each other like that.

They're glued together.

Before Sahaja Yoga they neglect their children, don't bother. After Sahaja Yoga they're glued to their children. Then nobody can say a word against the child. The child can go and hit anyone, you cannot say any word.

They'll ruin the child also.

So the discretion is lost completely in relationships, whether it is sex, whether it is creativity, whether it is family, anything.

That's the part of the Haṁsa Chakra.

Then we come to the Nābhī Chakra. In Nābhī Chakra also we do not understand that eating is not such an important thing. Doesn't matter if you don't eat your food today, what does it matter? It's very important, you know! In Poona we had a Pūjā and we had Western children sitting there in the Pūjā and there were Indian children also. As usual Pūjā is always late, but it was in the evening, Sankrant Pūjā.

So the children, Western children, got up at eight o'clock, whether it was Pūjā or anything and all marched out for their dinner. It looked very bad. Indians couldn't understand, how can that be? But they had to have their dinner at eight. Supposing they don't eat their food at eight o'clock, what will happen, will they die? So in a way, we restrict children also by our own conditionings and also we allow them to behave in a manner that they, as if they are very grown up, matured people. We are so enamoured by our children, as if to get children is something great. Anybody can have children, what's so great about it? You have to look after your children. It's all right. But it doesn't mean that you should all the time dote upon them, think about them, worry about them and nobody else.

So, if you have to enter into the limbic area which is the Virāta's place, which is the, I would say, from Viśhuddhi to Haṁsa and then to your limbic area, into the Virāta, then your interest must expand.

So the other discretion should be that: `Am I only thinking of my child? Am I only thinking of my wife? Am I only thinking about them, or I am worried about others' children also? I'm thinking about others' children?' I just tell you this because it's such a funny type of a concern we have and you destroy your children also, by this kind of a indiscreet concern.

Like we had a school in India and the children stayed in Poona. I had My Pūjā. I told them: “Don't bring children” because I knew these children are Western children, not easy, they can't bear anything.

But the children insisted and the teachers had to bring them.

So the Pūjā was over as usual, very late, about I think eleven o'clock in the night and there was no transport and that's why I said: “Don't bring them." So they had to get some sort of a truck, because these days we were not getting petrol, we had been having a very bad time.

So they had to go on the truck. It reached there by about two o'clock.

Some of the fathers were staying in My house. Next day they said: “Mother, our right Heart is catching." I said: “What is that?" “Such cruelty!" I said: “What cruelty?" “The children reached at two o'clock in the school." So what? Right Heart is catching! What attachments! Your children, if they reach at two o'clock, what does it matter? Why are you so much concerned about it? They are realised Souls, there is God who is looking after them. Why are you so much worried about them? Leave them alone.

They send them to India School. Then the mothers are sitting there. Teachers don't like it. No-one likes it. They have just gone there, mothers. No school allows such a nonsense. But in Sahaja Yoga they think they have a right. What right have they got? Have they paid for the school, have they done anything for the school? What right have they got to go and sit in the school? So the discretion should be, we have to bring up our children according to Sahaj Culture.

The first of the principles of Sahaja Yoga is fortitude. Sahaja Yoga is not meant for such dainty darlings. You have to be soldiers of Sahaja Yoga. Your children have to be the soldiers of Sahaja Yoga, not the dainty darlings. It's not meant for them. Though they are born realised, you are ruining them by making them dainty darlings. You have to rough it out. You have to make them sturdy. You have to give them self-respect. You have to give them dignity and a fortitude, forbearance.

So this left Nābhī, right Nābhī, specially the left Nābhī, is a very big problem, where the woman has to be a Gṛuhalakṣhmī and husband has not to be a Romeo, but a husband.

He has to see how his wife behaves. Correct her, that is his job, his duty. He should not shirk it.

Gṛuhalakṣhmī is the woman who should know that she has the great responsibility of creating a very great society of Sahaja Yoga. She's not an ordinary woman. How many women got their realisation before? But in Sahaja Yoga if you find the ladies, you hardly find very few who are really alert. Most of them are in trance condition. They don't know anything. They don't know anything. They don't know much of cooking, you ask them anything, they don't know anything.

You talk to them, you feel as if they have taken some sort of a drug. Nothing goes into their heads.

Sometimes one feels, it's better I do it Myself, impossible. The alertness is gone, because alertness that comes through your right side is wasted on nonsensical things. Attention is wasted on nonsensical things, that's why the housewives have lost that discretion to know that they have to be extremely alert and sensible and wise.

They should know each and everything. It's not so. They just live in the air, somewhere hanging, you know. You don't know what to say to them, how to ask for anything. How to explain anything to them, is an impossible situation.

So that alertness has to be there in a housewife. It's extremely important.

So we have Fātima at a young age. She had these two sweet children who died in the war in Karbala.

What a brave woman, the way she established the Shia system. Her husband also died and she did all that on her own. Living behind the purdah, living behind the walls, she managed everything. We have had many such queens in our country. There was a seventeen-year-old widow, who was the daughter-in-law of Shivaji; she fought with Aurangzeb and defeated him, in our country: Tara Bai.

So many of them we have.

But if you do not have the alertness, then you cannot be a Gṛuhalakṣhmī, you cannot be a good mother, you cannot be a good wife. There's no slavery in it. They don't know even what pleases their husbands, how to create peace in the family, what to say, when to say beautiful things and when to be strict. All this discretion is not there. Either they are shrews or they are slaves.

So, Sahaja Yoga is meant for women who are alert, who are wise, who know everything about life. Even they don't know, where are the Chakras on the feet. Look at your Mother. She's a woman. She knows so much. They don't know anything as to how Kuṇḍalinī passes through these centers, what it does, what She is capable of.

But the Kuṇḍalinī itself is the feminine Power. She knows each and everything about you, about Her child. Many mothers don't know if the child is taking drugs, or is behaving which way. Except for spoiling or beating, there's nothing in between. With discretion, the mothers can make these special children into something. That is My vision about them. But with their indiscretion they can ruin these children completely.

This is so important, that our Haṁsa should be all right, that we should be able to create a beautiful home, a peaceful home, not only for our family, but for all the other Sahaja Yogis who come to our house.

I don't know how it has come into the brains of Indian women, I don't know how, but if you have to please them you have to just say: `Sister-in-law, will you cook this for me tomorrow?' That's it.

Or if you say: `I am coming for dinner or lunch,' that's the best. They are very much pleased. `Oh!' Just they'll start thinking: `Oh, what am I going to cook, what does he like?' They know about each and every person, what he likes. It's not slavishness. If you want to please someone it's not slavishness. The whole nature is there to please us. Is it a slavish thing to do? But the another side of a woman is she's a Rājalakṣhmī and the man who is the king. The discretion at that point is: are you dignified or not? We went to Japan once and they were treating us with great respect, even in a village. First we entered a shop because it was raining, so the villagers actually bowed to us. We didn't understand what's happening. And they, they gave us presents.

So we asked ultimately, then, the interpreter: “Why are they so humble before us?" They said: “Because you belong to royal family." I said: “No, we don't belong to royal family. How would they know?" “No. Because your hair are neat, your daughters' hair are neat and shiny. And you don't go to hairdressers." “I mean, I said, is it a sign, is it a sign of royal family?" “Yes, that's how the royal family is. They don't put their head into the hands of somebody else." We were amazed. Imagine the Japanese thinking like that! So the discretion is that you have to be like a queen and the husband has to be like a king. But not like the king who killed his seven wives, but like a king who respects his wife.

If you cannot respect your wife, you cannot be a Sahaja Yogi. Respect is different from being romantically in love. I think that you don't respect. To respect your wife is a very important thing in Sahaja Yoga.

For this, I would say the Indians are not so good, but also I know some of the Western people are also quite funny. Your dignity is reduced if you cannot respect your wife. Indians, especially in the North India, not in the South [India], they lack this, to respect their wives.

Also, they lack the discretion that a wife, if she is not respected, the children will not be respectful to her and she is in charge of the children.

But the most indiscreet thing about Nābhī is that you don't listen to your Guru.

Hundred times you tell something to Sahaja Yogis, but still they will not listen to Me.

Still, they will do as the fashion tells them or the norms that they have.

Listening to your Guru, as they say, as if is to obey the God Almighty. Whatever is said is to be accepted as a great blessing, as a great correction and is to be followed, not to be just left out as it is.

As you know, your Mother is your Guru and She is your Mother. Also She's Mahāmāyā. Also She's Ādi Shakti. And She's so gentle and She's so kind. She says some things to you to correct you.

So many lectures I've given, of telling you what is important. But you should open your heart and surrender it fully to your Guru, then only you'll mature, otherwise there is no way out, I'm sorry to say.

I do not like anybody surrendering to Me or touching My Feet or falling at Me. I, I, I don't understand that. I mean, I'm not conscious of it, not aware of it. It makes no difference to Me. Even when you sing My Jai, I think that you are singing some Mātājī Nirmalā Devī's Jai, in the third person and sometimes I'm afraid I might say `Jay' with you. When you are singing `Swagata Agat' I always think there's some Mātājī Nirmalā Devī `Swagat' song they are singing, somebody else.

But for your goodness, for your ascent for which you have come here: you have not come here just to waste your time, but to ascend and for that it is important that whatever I am saying, you have to obey implicitly.

But I never say a thing which will be uncomfortable for you. I never say: `You don't take your food' or `Don't drink water', nothing of the kind. But, out of laziness, people just don't do many things; or, if not laziness, then just they do not know how important it is. Or else they feel nervous.

So the discretion is that Guru is Parabrahma, any Guru, SatGuru.

But what about the Parabrahma Itself, which is your Guru? I do not say things as [UNCLEAR hearty/hardly] as the Gurus used to do it. I mean, if you read about them you'll be shocked. But whatever I say, every word, you must note, is for your benevolence and for the benevolence of the whole world. And, by not obeying that, you are not only spoiling your own chances, but the chances of the whole world.

So you understand how important it is if you are the disciple, if you are blessed by your Guru.

All these things are written about them, but I say not only that you are My disciples, but you have got your realisation, you are Sahaja Yogis. You got all the powers. You know each and everything. You are so special people.

For such people there should not be any difference of opinion, because you know the same thing all the time, so there cannot be any fight, there cannot be any quarrel, there cannot be any argument.

But the discretion should be that our Guru is a Mother. She's very mild. She's very gentle. She's very kind. I know that. One day, My brother told Me, that: “What sort of a Guru You are? When my Guru was teaching me tabla, he used to break the tanpura on my head and even one percussion I would make wrong, he would bring his hammer: `And now I'm going to break your nails!' " I said: “There's no need to do all this. Not necessary in Sahaja Yoga, because they are self-disciplined people." So there has to be the self-disciplination, as you can so call it, on the Haṁsa Chakra, which is the one which knows what is right, what is wrong, through which we work it out; whatever is the right, that's all we do. Otherwise we don't do whatever is wrong.

Then comes the Heart Chakra. We talk of love. We talk of this. We talk of that. I mean, so much of talk of love in the West, which is never in India. But there isn't any love. It is such a love for money, love for positions, but there is no pure love, Nirvaj. There's no love like that.

So the discretion between your family and others' family is to be seen. Very clearly, you will know that you are doing something wrong. This is more in India than here, abroad.

A couple will stay back. One by one they'll come. All right, couples are all right. But they'll not bring their uncles, aunties, their aunties' parents, their parents and then the grandparents and all that.

Together they will come in one line. They will always be grouped together. All of them will be on My head. I have seen.

There's no discretion there, that we are individuals as far as Mother is concerned. She is our Mother.

She's our Guru and we have to face Her individually, not to take all this paraphernalia with us: all our relations, my brothers or my sisters or my this and that.

So the discretion as far as the Guru is concerned, is an extremely important thing in Sahaja Yoga.

It is. You want Me to explain to you how the gravity acts through Nābhī. No doubt. But through your Heart Chakra, if you gravitate at people, or sort of what you call, the charisma of a person or some sort of a nonsense, or the charmingness of a person, that means you're attracted towards something that is extremely superficial and not at something which has gravity in it.

So, the discretion at the Heart is to have a relationship which is so detached that you nourish everything, every part of your family.

Now somebody's attached to the husband, somebody's attached to children, somebody's attached to the dogs, somebody's attached to the, only to the plants. Is very indiscreet.

You should be attached to everything the same, same way. I would say that you should be so detached that you are attached to everyone equally. Detachment doesn't mean that you wear dresses or scantily. It doesn't mean that. It's a wrong idea. Detachment means that you watch everything and you do not get involved with anyone. You are out of it and you are seeing everything, watching it, you're a witness. This sort of love if you have for anyone, you will be blessed by that personality very much more.

So now the discretion of the Viśhuddhi is another very important thing. The other day somebody came and his right hand was frozen. I asked him: “What do you do?" He says: “I am working as a secretary." That lady.

So I said: “What do you do?" She said: “I type. I type a lot." I said: “You take to Sahaja Yoga and before typing you just say `Namas-kār' to that work that you have to do, just like that and then you start doing the work, as if you are not doing it. You are just doing it, typing, you are just typing, that's all. You are not doing it, you are not doing anything." Some people say, “Mother, You travel so much." I never travel. I'm sitting or I'm walking. Where do I travel? It's the plane that travels, I'm just sitting in the plane. I never travel like a Superman. I'm sitting very nicely. Where do I travel? If I start thinking: `I travel very much, I do this work, I do that work,' somebody would say: `Mother, you do so much work.' I mean I don't do anything. I tell you, really, I don't do anything.

Now I'm speaking. All right.

So, just I'm speaking, that's all; and this speech also I'm not doing it.

It's just coming out, like a radio. Would you say that the radio is doing any work? It's just a radio.

Actually, I don't do anything whatsoever.

So when I'm not doing anything, why should I feel tired? Why should I wear out? So this feeling of: `I am doing this and I am doing that,' is responsible for creating your problems of ego within you.

So, to use the discretion over this ego, to put it down in its proper place, are these strands of Iḍā and Piñgalā sitting on top of them, bring it down. And it's like a brake and an accelerator.

So, if somebody has too much of ego then the discretion, see, is missing from that person. He does something, thinks: `I have done this, I have done that'; as they say, Humpty Dumpty sort. And then he suddenly finds that's finished. `I was very stupid to have such a, such an ego.' So, what does he say? `All right, Mother, You do for me. You work it out.' Finished. It's done. Of course I don't do anything, nor you do anything. If you just say, `'Mother, please do this for me,' it's done.

If you say, `Mother, come in my head,' I come in your head; `Come in my eyes,' I come in your eyes.

Say what you like, I don't do anything at all. Neither you do anything. It just works! Somebody else is doing, all right? Need not bother about that.

Somebody's doing it, but as long as I am not doing it, I am relaxed and I am not worried. I am not upset.

So Viśhuddhi is a very, very important center and for you Americans, especially, American Sahaja Yogis, you have to know that to be in the Viśhuddhi means you're `in charge'. Not doing anything, but in charge.

Like these two hands are there and you should know that it's the Viśhuddhi Chakra which controls the two most important Chakras, are Lalitā Chakra and Śhrī Chakra. Just think about it. How important is Viśhuddhi? How important is America? Just think of it.

But nobody's aware of it. I mean America means Las Vegas, then all these horrible beaches, horrible, horrible, horrible! Nobody knows what is America is, what does it mean to be in America, what's our responsibility.

All this comes to you when you allow your Kuṇḍalinī to be up there, so you're absolutely detached, you're connected with the mains, like this one and the whole work is done by the mains.

You don't have to do anything.

So when you are detached of doing anything, of appreciating anything or debasing anything, or judging anything, when you are not at all doing all this nonsense, that means you are absolutely detached in the real sense of the word.

So this works up to the Āgñyā Chakra. We can say that all these discretionary powers are within you, they are built in, they are spontaneous and you have to just allow them to grow, by meditating, by watching yourself every minute, every second, whether are you enjoying yourself or not? So the whole of discretion rests on one point: how far you are enjoying Sahaja Yoga. What a nice thing! Like yesterday, I was meeting every sort of a person and some, some of them felt I was exerting too much Myself. No, no, no, no, not at all! I was enjoying all of them. Sahaja Yoga is a very big joker, very big joker. Say a person comes up to you, you talk to that person. It's a drama behind every individual and you discover what a drama this individual was. No need to go to any theatre or any film! Every personality is a drama. Very enjoyable, if you just want to see the drama and if you just know that, oh, you have to watch the drama. You have to see it.

Only painful part is, that as a Guru, I have to tell them this is not good, that is not good. That's the only painful thing.

I wish I could have avoided it somehow, but it's not possible. Because from the darkness to the sunlight you have to come out and you're holding My hand so I have to tell you that be careful, it's a very, very small road and both the sides you can fall off into Iḍā and Piñgalā.

So hold My hand tightly, we have to go further. Further. Further. Don't look this side, that side.

That's all. And this is what it is when you have discretion to put your hand into the hands of your Guru.

Then you don't do anything. You just watch everyone, see everyone and only thing you do is to enjoy.

Whether you do it or not is not the point, but you are in the state of enjoyment, completely in the state of enjoyment. And that is the state we have to achieve, we should become that state as our own being.

Up to Hamsa Chakra you have come and the Kuṇḍalinī is now ready to open, very much better, because She knows that you are in a state, She knows you now. She knows you very well and the Kuṇḍalinī knows that you can now pass through Āgñyā.

Your attention can pass through Āgñyā because you have discretion. You've cleared out yourself of all these loads and things and you can now pass through this Āgñyā.

So before realisation, those people who have had discretion are the best people to rise. They're solid people.

Or, those who are weak again and again fall and rise, fall and rise, fall and rise. They catch again and again.

So the discretion, at that time, is to know that you are here for your ascent and for nothing else. And that has to work spontaneously only by just finding out Joy and Joy-giving things. It is not so difficult if you allow the spontaneity to work it, but they told Me that: “Mother, we have to do this, we have to do that. What to do? This and that." Just leave it at that point. Just leave it and everything will work out. You are not doing anything.

You are not really doing anything. It's this All-pervading Power, which is so efficient, is doing everything for you.

There is one point which I wanted to tell you about the Ashram life. We have ashrams and ashrams and ashrams everywhere. Ashram is a small world which is a symbol of an ideal world of the enlightened people. It's not that only those who are having no house: `All right, you have no house? Come along! Because you can pay the rent!' It's meant for people who are of that quality.

So now in the ashram one has to realise that you are under complete observation.

So you have to be alert.

Somebody's watching you. Now you have come in the camera. You are now in the ashram.

So let's start from the very beginning, as I said, in an ashram, as far as the Mūlādhāra is concerned. That part I think most of you have worked out, that you should keep an extremely clean atmosphere.

But I have seen some mad people, even in the ashram, start behaving in a manner that doesn't show that they are Ashramites.

Their behaviour is so funny towards sex sometimes that I just don't understand.

The relationship between the husband and wife also: either they fight with their fists or their legs or feet, or otherwise they're absolutely docile and given up each other.

It is such a misunderstanding we have, without Haṁsa Chakra being enlightened, that we take to things which were so dangerous for us, for our society a long time back, just for granted and we start doing the same thing.

If not to go down to that level, but we try to keep company with such people, we try to so-call `help' them, whatever we try to do for them all the time, we are so indiscreet that whatever we try to do for others, anything: either there is some sort of a passion or a obsession or some sort of a gain or whatever it is, then it is indiscreet, absolutely indiscreet. Because you don't do anything, it just flows, goes to everyone.

So, in the ashram the life should be very pure. Relationships should, should be very pure, there should be respect of the elders. Those who cannot respect their elders will have a right Viśhuddhi problem, always.

They must know how to respect their elders and a proper respect of the representative of your Guru.

The other Chakras are to be seen in the same manner. In an ashram try to have things which are spontaneous. Not to have something artificial or some things your Guru won't like. Like, I don't want to see there some sort of funny paintings or some sort of, of funny, suggestive, stupid kind of an emblem.

In a household that is Sahaj it should be felt by anybody who comes in, feel: `Oh, this is an ashram!', clean, neat, tidy. And also, ashram should be a place of peace and happiness and joy. If somebody comes to that ashram he should feel: `What a place I have found out! What a nice place it is! I wish I could also come here.' It's only your discretion that works it out, that whatever you create, whatever you do is for the best.

Now what do I do? You bring some water to Me, I just put My hand. I do not vibrate.

I do not do anything to vibrate, or... just put My hand into it. Finished, it's vibrated. Now why should I take any credit for it? Just vibrated. Finished! Do I do anything? Anything else have you seen? Nothing. Just put My hand. Finished! It's vibrated.

In the same way, when you are doing something you just think that: `I'm not doing anything. It's just this hand put there. If there is some red on my hand the water will become red.

So what did I do? Nothing! Nothing.' Now there are vibrations in My hand. You have put it in the water, it has been vibrated.

So what? Now in the ashram I have seen people are not alert at all. Now there's a telephone call comes in. It gets lost, or there's no communication. One person doesn't tell another person what is the telephone that has come. But even in the household we have to be careful and alert.

Like you put a paper there or some sort of a notebook where you should write down today, whose telephones came. Write it in, one after another.

So when a person sees a telephone call has come, that person can telephone back. It's one of the examples I'm just giving you, how you have to be alert about things.

Now if you are cooking you should know how many people are going to eat. There are going to be, say, ten people, then the food will be cooked only for two. But if there are two persons, then the food will be cooked for ten people! And then the food is thrown out, because after all. But this is absolutely absurd! I must tell you a story of Mahatma Gandhi. I was in his ashram. I was quite young at that time, but that is on My... very much recorded.

So he wanted everybody to stay for dinner, lunch.

They said: “But we are going there." “It's all right, you can have your lunch with me"; and they were having a conference. All the big Johnnies were sitting there.

So he got up and he had the keys in his janeva as they wear it, you see, it is that sacred thread. Came out, with his key he opened the storeroom and got everything taken out, according to the allotment of every person; like one person would get only one...

[Aside to a Sahaja Yogi:] [Hindi.]... ounce, for each person.

So he stood there. It was all measured, brought out, for cooking.

So all these people were there.

Maulana Azad said: “We didn't know, Sir, that you had to do it yourself, to stand there with the keys, to take out everything. We, you have wasted so much your time for us." He said: “What, wasted?" “Yes, for this you had to stand there and take out the food." He said: “Do you know, this is the blood of my countrymen." There are so many people starving in this world and if you throw food like that, I assure you, one day you will be starving.

You cannot insult food like that, but you have to be alert.

You go to an ashram, I've seen in Australia, everywhere it's on, you just go and ask them, all right: “Have you got ghee with you?" “No." “Then what oil you have?" I say: “What oil?" Only going on like this. What is this? Where you have, what oil you have got? No-one knows what oil they have got.

They don't know. They don't read what oils they have got.

So somebody brings an oil bottle. I read it: “Castor oil." “Castor oil?" “Yes, what else?" I said: “Do you know for what castor oil is used?" “No, Mother." “Do you cook in this oil?" “I don't know." From where are you coming? Lunatic asylum, or what? There is no alertness, is the point.

So, you have to get up at four o'clock, four-thirty. I don't say you have to do it, but discipline yourself because that's the time you get the alertness, the first shooting of the rays of the sun gives you that. You'll always see Me early in the morning awake. Not that I need that, but for your sake I get up. You can sleep later on, but that time you just get up. First rays, sun comes much later, the rays come first. That gives you alertness. Then you have your bath, do your Pūjās. You are ready. By six o'clock you are ready and alert.

But the alertness should be about everything. Now supposing I ask: `Where did you buy this?' This should never be answered for anything. `Where do you get this made?' I know everything, if you ask Me.

I may not know about this but I will find out from where did you get it and I will know.

Alertness about things, what we have, what is in the ashram, are we keeping it clean or not, or we are lousy people, absolutely lousy, don't know anything.

Is a big fashion to say: `I don't know.' I'm not asking absurd question like: `How many hair do you have in your head?', or `How many stars there are?' A simple thing if I say: `How many cups you have got?' Same with the men I have seen. It's not with the women, but men, also, do not have that alertness that they should have.

There's no communication among themselves. They have more alertness because they are right-sided, but they have no alertness about the feelings of others. Like, there's a husband who is very rude to his wife, always insults her.

The alertness of the man should be in the ashram, is to shave off his head and also shave off his mustaches and ask him just to go about with the pajama. Or even then he misbehaves, then get a donkey and make him sit on that. Even then if he misbehaves, then tell him: `No water available for you, do what you like.' Such punishment should be given to a man who misbehaves, who has no emotional feelings towards his wife, who ill-treats. Or somebody who is very romantic, also you should make fun of that person.

This is the alertness of men, is very important to see. Also they should be alert as to how the money is spent. You know very well how they have made money out of Me in San Diego ashram.

Nobody bothered even to find out, what's happening to this. They're paying their rent, finished! Where are they spending? What are they doing about it? Nobody knows about it.

I asked them: “Did you find out where they were sending money? Did they send Me the money, My rents, things?" Nothing! “We don't know, Mother. We didn't see. We didn't bother." There should be alertness as to how much money is going where, where it is spent, how much you have got, this thing. You go to an ashram, you ask them: “Now, how much money you have got?" In short, you don't know how much money you have got. “No, Mother,

You know we went to that place and then we bought twenty tins of fish, so all money was exhausted." “But why? Why did you buy twenty tins of fish?" “Because the women said: `You'd better buy twenty fish." “How many there are to eat?" Like that, they have no idea, no alertness, nothing, it's all a mess. What time people get up, what time they sleep, what time what they do; there is no alertness about it, because in Sahaja Yoga you are your own Guru.

Everybody's Guru. A Great Guru they are! You are your own Guru, no doubt, but you must have that self-discipline. To be a Guru you have to be self-disciplined and a determination, complete determination to rise higher, to ascend by whatever means it is possible, whatever is needed for your ascent.

That's, is a sign of a person who will be a Guru.

cHow can you waste your time chatting? So it is to be realised how to behave, for a person who is the mouthpiece of God. You represent Him, actually. How you should dress up, how you should walk, how you should sit, how you should eat.

I was surprised that people are drinking beer in the ashram. I mean, it is non-alcoholic. But it's beer, made of molasses. But, anyway, it is beer. How can you drink that molasses business? Have you ever been near any sugar factory? The smell of the molasses! You are consuming that! So whatever you are eating, whatever you are spending, whatever you are talking, I mean whatever is the extroversion, whatever is outside, must express your inside.

So you have to develop your Haṁsa Chakra. Self-disciplining and introspection: `Why do I do such a thing, I am a Sahaja Yogi?' Ask this question every morning and in the evening please note it down: `What did I do for Sahaja Yoga?' We have fun. We have music. We have everything, but everything should be done in a dignified manner. Even dancing, I was saying, learn some rhythms. Otherwise somebody's doing the trot and another is galloping. That too like horses, looks so odd.

There should be gentleness. There should be understanding of the rhythm and rhythmic patterns.

Learn more, how would you dance? Practise it. It's all right, in the house. How the ladies should dance, how should they walk, because your whole expression is the expression of God Almighty.

So how you should be among yourselves, how you should talk, when you should get up, when you should sleep. Everything will change if you really become aware of the fact that you are representing God Almighty, who is the Source of discretion. In discretion so many things you will learn.

The first is the tolerance. `It's all right. We'll work it out. It will work out.' You will learn what is love, which is detached. You will learn what is humor, which tickles but does not hurt. You will learn also what to say in your lectures, what to listen to. And of all the things, you will know how to fulfil the visions of God Almighty.

Now today, I had to tell all these things, of course, is a part of Viśhuddhi. But the other part of the Viśhuddhi is that you are part and parcel of the whole, of the Virāt and you become the oceans.

So you have to be like oceans. Oceans in every way.

That's how you will realise that this ocean of yours has no limits; not only the ocean, but the beauty of the ocean and the creativity of the ocean. Everything is within you which you have to utilize, which you have to develop, to manifest. Because if you are the part and parcel of Virāt, that you are the Virāt, then how discreet you should be.

I hope all of you will know that your behaviour has to be of a level, not superficial, not cheapish, not greedy, of course not lusty; but dignified, saintly, royal, magnificent, beautiful and joy-giving.

May God bless you all.

Today My discretion was telling Me all the time, so I had to force Myself, that better not say all these things just now, they'll be all shocked. I hope you are not shocked by what I have said.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-05-05 Sahasrāra Pūjā, Realise Your Own Divinity, Sports Stadium, Island of Ischia (1 hour from Naples), Italy

Today we have assembled here to celebrate the Sahasrār Day which was opened in 1970 on this date. I find this beautiful canopy is like our Sahasrār and so very apt to have this beautiful arrangement for Sahasrār Day.

We have to understand what happens when the Sahasrāra opens.

When the Kuṇḍalinī passes through the five centers it enters into the area which we call as limbic area.

This area is all surrounded by thousand nerves and when these nerves get enlightened they look like flames of VIBGYOR colours, seven colours and very mildly, beautifully shining, emitting peace. But when the Kuṇḍalinī starts emitting its vibration on the sides, all these nerves get enlightened gradually and start moving on all directions, opening the Sahasrāra. And then the Kuṇḍalinī...

[Aside:] What's this noise about?... emerges out, emerges out through the Fontanelle bone area, which we call as Brahmarandhra.

`Randhra' means `the hole'. And the Brahma is the All-pervading Power of God's love.

So it enters into the subtle energy which is all-pervading, which we do not feel normally, but then the Chaitanya, the vibrations, which are the part and parcel of this ener[gy]... of this energy, All-pervading Power, the Param-Chaitanya, they start entering into our brain and showering their blessings in the limbic area they assemble.

Now the limbic area is connected to all the area of the brain and also to the nerves.

So it starts flowing onto the nerves, giving you the new awareness of collective consciousness, called as `samuhik cetana'.

So, you get a new chetana, a new awareness, which is showered upon your limbic area. The working of these Chaitanya waves is very interesting. They are normally formed like small comas, but then they go into different forms. They make themselves into swastikas as the four-limbed symbol of innocence or they become the aumkara, as you know how aum is written, which is the symbol of our doing, our awareness.

So, when they form the swastika they try to nourish the left side and when they form the aumkara they nourish the right side: left and right sympathetic nervous system they nourish.

But Sahasrāra is to be kept open is rather difficult for people, because it's a vicious circle. First, these vibrations should enter into your brain through the Brahmarandhra when it is opened out and they should nourish your nerves by which your left and right side open out and so more Chaitanya can flow down all these centers. But if your Sahasrāra is not properly opened this process doesn't take place. As a result of that the Chakras don't open, the Kuṇḍalinī only as very few strands, is kept in the spinal cord and the new strands cannot rise because your Chakras are not open.

So, in Sahaja Yoga, it is very important to keep your Sahasrāra open. Otherwise, there's a vicious circle.

To keep the Sahasrāra open is, in a way, very easy, as well as difficult. As you have known in Devī Māhātmyam that “at Sahasrārare Mahāmāyā comes." She's a Mahāmāyā: not easy to recognize Her, not easy to know Her. She lives just like you. She moves just like you. And you can never make out Her real nature. She is in the form of Mahāmāyā.

So, at the Sahasrāra, to recognize the Mahāmāyā is another vicious circle. You may say that, `Why should it be Mahāmāyā? Should have been better as starkingly, some other form.' But any other form could not have worked out Sahaja Yoga in modern times. Because people would have been frightened and upset and they would never have taken to Sahaj Yog because they had no discretion already within them already to know what is right and what is wrong. That is why it had to be in the Mahāmāyā form.

In the Mahāmāyā form you have to recognize. This is another test because Mahāmāyā you cannot recognize, while you have to recognize. But in Sahaja Yoga you have seen so many photographs which should convince you people mentally about this Mahāmāyā Swarūpa. You can see mentally, you can understand there's something very different. Even when I came to Napoli, the policeman and everybody was given a photograph and they all recognized that there's something very different [note: they all asked for Shri Mataji's photos and badges]. They all wanted to shake hands with Me. This is one way.

Another way is that you start seeing the blessings and you start seeing how you become so progressively better materially, physically, emotionally and spiritually. Still on a mental level most of the people recognize.

But, unless and until, it is recognized in the heart, it's no recognition. Already the heart is surrounded by seven auras of the seven Chakras and the Spirit, the Ātmā, resides in the heart. As it is, on top of your head here, resides the God Almighty Sadāśhiva.

So, when Kuṇḍalinī touches that point, your Spirit gets awakened and the light of the spirit starts spreading and it starts acting on your central nervous system because automatically the vibrations, the Chaitanya flow into your brain, who enlightens your nerves.

But still the recognition on the heart is not there. Even without that you start feeling the Cool Breeze, you can raise the Kuṇḍalinī of others, you can cure people, you can do many things. But still it is not yet felt in the heart so much. That's why we have music, art. All these things start opening your heart.

But still it is not recognition because recognition is a mental activity of the heart. How can heart have a mental activity? This is another problem you all can face,and I know that, that, recognition, if it is a mental activity of the heart, how do we do it? Say, if you are a Christian, born in a Christian family, as soon as they see the photograph of Christ, immediately you feel, `It's Christ,' you see, something here. Or if you are a Hindu, if you see the photograph of Śhrī Rāma, immediately you know. “It's Śhrī Rām” you see, there's a kind of a thing, recognition in the heart.

But the recognition of somebody living with you is very, very difficult and you live on the cusp of your mental activities only. But to go deep down into your heart, “What should we do?" people tell Me.

“Mother, how should we get into our heart? How this mental activity can be performed through the heart?" Now, you must remember that heart is absolutely connected with brain. Absolutely connected.

It's not [a] disconnected thing. If it was, it would have not have worked. When heart fails, after some time, brain also fails. The whole body goes out of order.

[Aside:] If the child is crying please take out the child. You better take out the child.

Something wrong with the child if the child is crying.

So, this mental activity of the heart is to be understood this way: that as soon as you see the danger, without even thinking, in a reflex way, your heart starts pumping more blood and you get palpitation.

You don't have to think. There's no mental activity. Just you see, supposing, a tiger standing before you, immediately the heart will start pumping. It's a reflex action.

Now, how this activity takes place, one may say, is that, because it is built-in within you that as soon as you see some emergency, your sympathetic nervous system goes into activity and you start feeling the fear, you start feeling that there should be some protection, that you should do something about it. But you do not think, you just run, you run as fast as possible. You don't think about it, `What I should do, where I should run?' Just you go on running away from the danger. And how do you do that? Because it is built-in within you, all this in your brain, that as so[on] as the heart starts pumping too much blood it should just make the legs work and the hands work and you should run. Or we can say, it is in the central nervous system built-in, the fear. Any reaction, any response like that is built-in within you.

But the response to spirituality is not yet manifested. It is manifested, it is all built, no doubt, but it is not yet manifested. And how will it manifest? That's what people ask Me, “Mother, how will it manifest?" Through your past you have learnt that you have to be afraid of this, you have to be afraid of that. Also in this lifetime, you have learnt many things. For a child were to put his hand to the candle, won't feel be frightened but a grown-up would because [of] an experience. With the experience gradually you build in that reaction of reflex within you so that you try to save yourself.

Now, what experience you should have to build that in your heart is the point. And the experience is of your own divinity, of your own spirituality. Once you start developing that experience, then you will know that you are Divine person. Unless and until you are aware fully that you are a Divine person, howsoever faith you may have in Me, the recognition is not complete because who is recognizing Me is a blind person.

If a blind person is recognizing Me, it won't have that response of the heart.

So, first you have to recognize yourself to be a Divine person, to have faith in yourself. We do not have faith in ourselves, though we are Sahaja Yogis. If there's any problem, they will write a letter to Me. If they are sick, they'll write a letter to Me. If there's any family questioning, they'll write to Me. If there's somebody bothering them with some questions, they'll ask Me. But if you become introspective and meditative then you touch that divinity within you. When you touch that divinity you know you are a Divine person.

So, in Sahasrāra Pūjā, actually, you have to recognize your own divinity, that you are Divine, by experiencing your divinity. How do you experience your divinity? That you give realisation to others. It's a great experience to give realisation to others. Not only that you give realisation but you can tell about their Chakras, you know what's wrong with them. You are quite confident. And mentally you know that, “Yes, yes, it's working" you'll say, without getting involved into it as `I do it.' You'll say, “Mother, it's working. It's happening. It's this thing, that thing." But you never introspect, `How is it I am working? How I'm working it out? How I can feel it? What has happened to me? What has improved in me? What has sharpened in me? What is the development in me? What is the transformation?' Once you start thinking about it, the experience of your own being, then a kind of a feeling, feeling towards the Mahāmāyā develops. Feeling, again, I say `feeling'. Like feeling of fear, feeling of happiness, feeling of depression, any feeling you develop. And this feeling, you could call a feeling of gratitude, feeling of love, feeling of oneness, feeling of joy. All this starts working in your heart and then you feel the responses. If, supposing, the seed is responding to moon that means it has that mobility in it to respond.

A stone will not react to the moon.

In the same way in your heart, these waves of these feelings are created by the experience of spirituality, by the experience of your own being. And then you start expressing them. And I could make it out. Such a person may not be so much talkative, may not know much about Sahaja Yoga, but in the heart, in the heart he feels the response. Is something to be achieved because you know that the center of heart is placed here. The Pītha, the seat of the Heart, is on Brahmarandhra.

If your heart is not open, in the heart if you do not have those responses built-in... they need not be of awe or fear. But a natural protocol that develops. Then you can never do wrong because you know what ever is good in your heart. Supposing you love somebody from your heart, you're not going to harm that person. In the same way, when you start feeling those responses in your heart, you can never do wrong because they are now manifesting which were built within you. Because there was spirituality, there was that divinity which was built in. Now it is manifesting.

And then you do not worry about things and you do not do anything outwardly. It is said in Upanishads, like Shandilya Upanishad, Kanto Upanishad, it was this, that “Once you know the Brahma, then all the outside things like wearing a thread of your yagyopaveetha [ritual covering] and all that should be thrown away." It's not necessary because now you got the sutra [thread] within yourself. Then you should give up all those outward things because inside is all built in now, is expressing itself. And such a person automatically becomes a Yogi of very high calibre.

There was one gentleman in Calcutta [Kolkata], his name is Mister Khan, though he is a Hindu gentleman and a great scientist of physics. He was developing those feelings. And one day he was taking his bath in a bathtub and fell down [UNCLEAR on] his back. And it completely broke and some of the splinters went into the brain and he was in complete coma.

So much so that doctors gave up complete hope about him, saying that, “He can never come back to life." And he was in the intensive care. But just before falling he called, responses, “Ma." That's all. Then I was in Delhi. They informed Me that he has fallen and this is what has happened. I said, “All right." I just paid attention to him, gave a bandhan. Next day he opened his eyes. The doctors could not believe it. And then they removed him to the another ward. where Sahaja Yogis went and said, “We'll give you vibrations." He said, “But I'm not feeling any pain, nothing." He's looking ten years younger now and so different. Now the experience, this is a complete thing for him now. He is absolutely into his divinity.

So he says, “Mother, I am a person now who doesn't think about anything, about life, death, [UNCLEAR and need], what my children.

Now I know who You are. I know that I am under your protection and I don't have to worry." Another case was a Doctor Worlikar who had a very bad heart so they made a bypass for him. A great devotee. And his bypass went out of order perhaps and he had a very massive heart attack. He, again, went into coma. They put him in the hospital. His aorta, in the beginning, was eighty per cent clogged.

So only twenty per cent was opened. There was no hope.

So they did this bypass for him and he just said, “Please send word to Mother." That he need not have done all also but it doesn't matter. And I just put bandhan to him. I was in Australia. He, again, was given-up case and they said, “Now, how can we have another bypass? This pass is finished now, what should we do?" They were about to operate him and thinking about it when he opened his eyes. They told doctor. “Doctor, I am feeling all right. I don't know what has happened, I'm feeling perfectly all right. Can I sit up?" So the doctor couldn't understand. He felt his heart. He said, “His heart is doing very well. What has happened?" So, they put him on the test and they found out that his old aorta was opened out completely, which never happens in the history of medicine.

Now this experience that he had about is also because of his divinity that I could work on him, the connection was so good and it worked. But if you mentally go on analyzing everything and mentally understanding Sahaja Yoga, you cannot reach that state of divinity from where you receive all the blessings.

It starts pouring on you in every way. If you hear the way these people were helped as far as the money was concerned, as far the buildings was concerned, the transport was concerned, every thing, as if somebody's working it out. Even if you're mentally Sahaja Yogis, all these things work out. But you are definitely helped when your divinity is manifested in a very, very big way, in a such a big way that it is not possible otherwise.

These are not miracles. For human beings these might be miracles, but for God it is not. After all the whole world He has created, the whole universes He has created, universes of universes He has created, so what is so great for Him? But this is the faith with experience not a blindfold. Faith with experience.

And through introspection,`Why do I do this? Why should I do like this?' `Why shouldn't you do like that?' This introspection should start. When you're introspecting then this depth moves further, but more through meditation. That's why I always tell you that please get up in the morning do your meditation and get up in the evening and do your meditation. At least before going to bed, you should get to it.

That's the only why you can go deeper into your divinity which is the source of all creativity, source of all the innocence, is the source of all the knowledge and the source of all the joy.

So when you get it into your Sahasrāra, yes, it is true that Sahasrāra was opened out [and] because of that you got this mass realisation. That's true. But now the quality has to go up. Quantity is quite big.

The quality has to grow of the Sahasrāra and the Sahasrāra is the only instrument which is going to work out Sahaja Yoga in the modern times, if you realise that heart plays the most important part in Sahasrāra.

Just here [at the center of Sahasrār] is the heart center. How important it is that you have to recognize through your heart otherwise this [Sahasrār] center won't open and how do you get your realisation? What a beautiful connection made that this center here is the seat of the heart, is the pītha of the heart and this has to open out, then only does Kuṇḍalinī comes in.

So all this machinery is connected and made in such a manner that you have to understand the importance of heart connected through this brain which is absolutely integrated with heart. Sahasrāra is the one to be preserved by putting left to the right, right to the left and everything, opening it out. But [mainly] by recognition. With introspection also, you can ask, `Why can't I recognize that way? Why can't I do that way? What is my interest?' Now, if you come to Sahaja Yoga for making some sort of a power game, you want to have a power, you are finished. You want to have money or some sort of a business, you are finished. Anything else you try, like making something for your children or for your marriage or family or any such outward things if you come to Sahaja Yoga, this won't work out. But just to expand your heart, to spread your love to everyone, to feel their love within your heart and then to put yourself into a position when it responds, the heart responds to divinity within you and to your Mother with full mental activity of the heart.

Today's subject may sound rather difficult for you to understand. But I had to say this one day because we are quite satisfied with a little of the Kuṇḍalinī coming out of our head. There's so much to come up.

So much divinity is there which has to come up and if you have to ascend and if you have the foundation of that new age which is going to transform the whole world, we'll have to work hard. We shouldn't say, `I don't know how to get up in the morning. I don't know.' You are on a warpath. You are soldiers now.

And you have to work it out if you have to fight the forces of ignorance and darkness. This has to be worked out. This has to be paid attention to.

So what you have to do is to absolutely decide within yourself today that, `We are going to work it out in such a way that we will all become very powerful Sahaja Yogis and through us the whole world is going to be saved.' It's a very important thing for all of you to understand.

Today is the Sahasrāra Day which, of course, I agree I opened the last Chakra. But, further to go, to grow, you have to get to meditation where you become silent and your Tree of Life will grow in silence, not in a turmoil. If you understand that, please work it out in such a manner that you all become completely aware of your divinity by which you can see.

If you have to see the image you have to have a very good mirror. In the same way, if you have to feel the Mahāmāyā you have to have complete, pure divinity manifesting in you.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-05-07*, Public Program, Day 1, Naples, Italy

Question: Is it going to be the end of the world?

Shri Mataji: No, because Sahaja Yoga has started.

Contents: 1991-07-23* Visit of Palazzo Doria with the Mayor of Genoa, Cabella Ligure, Italy (date not sure)

Sahaja Yogis: Mother, it is such a farfetched place, who will come here, there are Mafiā around! [Sahaja Yogis make fun of the castle.]

Shri Mataji: Don't laugh, I'm drenched in vibrations. See the vibrations, see its potential. To feel the potential you have to feel the vibrations of the place.

[Sahaja Yogis pull their ears and beg for forgiveness.] Shri Mataji [smiling]: You have to meditate to improve your vision. It should not be a vision, which reflects your particular ideas about particular things, but it should be clear-cut. You just become meditative and this meditative temperament emits vibrations and creates a path for you.

Contents: 1991-07-23*, Public Program, Florence, Italy

I bow to all the seekers of Truth. At the very outset, I have to tell you that truth is what it is. We cannot conceptualise it. We cannot know it through the flight of our imagination. Unfortunately, we cannot also know at this human level, human awareness. Because it is subtler than human awareness. Within all of you there is divinity. But because of ignorance, you do not know it. Is not difficult. On the contrary, is the easiest to feel your divinity. Now whatever is told to you about this machinery within you and whatever I'm going to tell you, you have to understand it with an open mind. Like a scientist, you must know that whatever I'm saying is a hypothesis. And when you find out that that is the truth, then you must accept, as honest people.

So believe Me, that every human being is capable of achieving his divinity.

Every scripture has said that you are to be born again. And it is said that you have to know yourself: “Know thyself." But it is not some sort of a artificial baptism, or artificial certificate, that you become a realised Soul. But it is a living process of evolution. Like this in the triangular bone is placed this power for your ascent. This is the reflection of the Holy Ghost. Holy Ghost is the Primordial Mother, the Feminine Power, God's desire. We talk of God the Father, God the Son and not of the Mother. How can it be a child there and not the mother? So we talk of the Holy Ghost as a dove. But dove is just a symbol. But despite everything, people do believe in Madonna.

So She is the Goddess and people worship Her. This power is the reflection of the same power. And when she is awakened, she passes through six centers, piercing through the fontanelle bone area, giving you the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost.

In the modern times, there are so many seekers of truth. But they have been misled. Because there is in the market lots of people who want to make money. But you cannot pay any money for your evolution.

Because it's a living process. When you became a human being from amoeba state, how much money did you pay? Or else, how much money do we pay to the Mother Earth who sprouts all the seeds? So, one has to remember that it is your birthright to have this union with the All-pervading Power.

So, there are two truths you have to know. One of them is that you should know that you are the Spirit. Not to know it mentally, but on your central nervous system. The second truth is to know that there is an All-pervading Power which does all the living work.

So, unless and until you feel that subtle power which does all living work, you are not to believe that you are a Self-realised Soul. This is how you have to be honest... this is how you have to be honest to yourself.

I hope tonight all of you will get your realisation. This knowledge is endless, is limitless. But best thing is first to have the light within you and then try to understand this subtle knowledge. In the meanwhile, I would like you to ask Me some questions for about five, ten minutes, if you have any. But I've not come here to take anything from you. But to give you what is your own.

So there should be no argument about something that should upset you.

So please, ask Me questions which are relevant. And even if I answer, it is just a mental feat, that doesn't guarantee your Self-realisation.

So I would like you to ask Me some questions and then I will give you Self-realisation.

Question [repeated by Guido]: Come si fa a fare dello Yoga oggi quando si e cos presi da questa vita forsennata? Shri Mataji [laughs]: It is only in the frantic world we start seeking the truth. Is only in the stagnated pools the lotuses grow. Have faith in yourself. It has been predicted that all the seekers of truth will be born in those modern times.

Question [repeated by Antonio Saracino]: La domanda e questa: poiche Shri Mataji ha detto prima che la consapevolezza non ha limiti, il signore notava che c'e come una contraddizione, perche se si ottiene la realizzazione si ha la conoscenza completa; quindi come puffo essere questa conoscenza senza limiti, se e completa?

Shri Mataji: Like a drop becomes the ocean. Our limits are broken and we become limitless. All right? That's good [UNCLEAR]. Very good questions, I must say. They are all great seekers sitting here.

Question [repeated by Guido]: In order to awaken the Kuṇḍalinī, is some kind of a spiritual preparation needed?

Shri Mataji: Is all... you see those who do not know the job try to escape.

You please don't judge yourself, your Kuṇḍalinī will judge you. This is the time of Last Judgement.

She is your individual Mother, she knows everything about you. As your own mother took up all the problems upon herself and gave you your birth, in the same way She looks after you.

So please be confident. Because this is the resurrection [UNCLEAR time]. You will be resurrected.

Question [repeated by Guido]: What should we do against those people who ask for money for the Self-realisation? Shri Mataji [laughs]: You see, those who are asking money for Self-realisation, you should not give them, that's all, they'll all run away. [Laughter]. This lady, raising her hand, just see what does she say.

Question [repeated by A. Saracino]: Come mai in politica sono sempre gli ignoranti, e mai gli illuminati, che emergono, che hanno il potere? Shri Mataji [laughs]: You only let them! [Laughter and applause.] Question: Qual e la via adatta per mettere in comunione il se piccolo con il Se supremo?

Shri Mataji: This is what we are going to do, like this instrument [microphone] has got this chord, you see? To be connected to the mains. In the same way we have Kuṇḍalinī within us, which will have to be just awakened and you'll get connected. It is like a seed, when you put it in the Mother Earth, the Mother Earth has the capacity to sprout it automatically.

Question: Perche per Milarepa e stato cosi? Duro e per noi e cos facile? [Why to Milarep? Hard and foe us it is so easy?]

Shri Mataji: You are special people! [Applause.] They must have passed... just say... you have to say that... just a minute [problems with microphone]... you have gone through all this in your previous lives. [Problems with microphone]. All right? Question: Io volevo chiedere, per favoure: se con delle tecniche, con della gestualitā, si puffo veramente muovere queste energie, se non c'e una dovuta presa di coscienza, non potrebbero essere usate male?

Shri Mataji: It is never dangerous, never dangerous. But is better that you know, after your realisation.

I hope there will be some courses given to you to tell you how to use it and how to perfect yourself, free of cost.

Question: Io non ho una domanda speciale, pero volevo dire questo: da poche persone sento parlare di Madre, mentre sentiamo solo parlare di Padre. E volevo semplicemente che Lei mi dicesse, se puffo, qualcosa di piū sulla Madre.

Shri Mataji: You see, I'm so happy that in Italy people have so much respect for their mother and also for Madonna. It's rather surprising why they did not describe about Christ's Mother in the Bible.

The last words spoken of Christ where He says: “Behold the Mother." In all other scriptures of the world, this Primordial Mother is discussed and everybody has talked about that that She is the Power, She is the Shakti.

Question: Io volevo chiedere questo: da una decina d'anni seguo queste losoffe. Mi sono accorto che c'e un gran movimento di losoffe orientali verso l'Occidente, anche qui in Italia ne abbiamo diverse: lo Zen [UNCLEAR].

Non si rischia di creare una certa confusione? Cioffe, non si perde di vista qual e la retta via da apprendere?

Shri Mataji: That is quite true. You see, when the market started in the West, they all got themselves exported to make money. I'm sorry for that and I feel ashamed as an Indian. They took advantage of you people. But if you are a seeker, you will get your realisation. Don't you worry about anybody else. Have faith in yourself.

Question: Perche Buddha e grasso e Cristo e magro?

Shri Mataji: You see, that's a mistake, Christ was never a thin man. Because they were so happy people, such joyous. Only Michelangelo could see Him clearly, in his Sistine Chapel he has put [UNCLEAR] Him properly like a huge big man. But on the table down below they have put a skeleton of Christ, with skin on top of that. Is absolutely horrible! That is just to excite your sympathy, I think. With that kind of a body, like a skeleton, can you carry the cross over the Calvary? Question: When the strength is coming from within, we can... mountains...

Shri Mataji: No, that is true, but such people, you see, mostly thin people suffer from liver. Or over-activity. Also the Mother of Christ is always shown as a fat person. Now these are modern fashions that you should become like a mosquito. Mona Lisa is a famous painting, Mona Lisa: she was a very fat woman! Is all the craze of the entrepreneurs you are playing into. They are making a fool out of everyone.

Also, a Divine personality needs water to protect these centers, the Chakras. If you want to become actors or actresses then it's different [laughs], but for a Divine person you don't worry about your body much.

Say, now, I'm sixty-eight, I'll be sixty-nine years of age and I'm every day travelling.

Question: Volevo sapere se secondo Lei, secondo voi, questo e l'unico sistema per la realizzazione del se, o se viene accettato anche il ricorso ad altre forme di meditazione come Kriya Yoga, Yogananda ecc.

Shri Mataji: No, the only way is that the Kuṇḍalinī has to be awakened, like this one [microphone] only way to make it start is to put to the mains. Is there any other way? Question: Io vorrei chiedere che differenza c'e, fra questo Yoga, se c'e, e gli altri Yoga che vengono effettuati, le dottrine Yoga che ci sono ormai da molto tempo in Italia.

Shri Mataji: See, others are not Yoga: Yoga means union with the Divine.

Now, should we have our Self-realisation? At the very outset, I've to tell you that you cannot force Self-realisation on anyone. Because I respect your freedom. Those who do not want to have Self-realisation, should leave the hall. It will hardly take about ten minutes. Not more than ten minutes and you will feel the All-pervading Power. There are two conditions to be followed: one of them is that you are not to feel guilty at all about anything whatsoever. At this moment, you should forget the past. And have respect for yourself, because you are human beings. You are not God, so if you make mistakes, doesn't matter.

Because the Divine is ocean of forgiveness. And whatever mistakes you might commit, He is capable of dissolving it completely. If you feel guilty, then this center on the left hand side catches very badly. And sometimes with this catching you might get a disease called angina. Is a disease of the heart. You might get the cancer of the cervical. Cancer of the cervical, cervical bone, here. Or you might get spondylitis.

Or else you might also get lethargic organs on the left side.

So please do not feel guilty at all, be happy with yourself. Forgive yourself.

All right. The other condition is that you have to forgive everyone. I have seen that Italians find it very difficult to forgive [laughs]. The other day I was sitting till four o'clock in the morning, they came to Me and they said: “Mother, we can't feel it." And all of them had not forgiven others.

Now logically, whether you forgive or don't forgive, we don't do anything. But if you don't forgive, then you play into wrong hands. You torture yourself, while the person who has troubled you is quite a happy person.

So is the greatest weapon we have is to forgive, so nobody can torture you. This is the second condition. I hope you note it down, because otherwise later on you will all say, `I didn't feel it.' Now. Simple thing is now is to see how we are to help ourselves and raise our own Kuṇḍalinī and then we'll close our eyes. We have to sit not with any strain, neither bending nor backwards nor forwards, with both the feet apart from each other. You will know there are two powers, left and right. The left is the power of desire and the right is the power of action.

Now. Can I request you also to take out your shoes, so that this Mother Earth can help us a lot to suck in our problems. Let them all be seated, they all should sit down. This lady also, ask her to sit down. What did she say? All right. Now show them. Please put your left hand towards Me like this.

[UNCLEAR] on your lap. Now. This is symbolic of your desire to have Self-realisation. Then, please use your hand for nourishing your centers as we tell you.

Put your right hand on your heart. There resides the Spirit. Then put your hand in the upper portion of your abdomen, on the left hand side. This is the center of your mastery. Because when you become the Spirit, in the light of the Spirit you become your own guide, your own master. Then take down your right hand in the low portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. This is the knowledge, this is the power of, or we can say the center, of the Pure Knowledge, which works out all the Divine work. Now raise your hand again in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. Now raise your right hand onto your heart. Now raise your right hand in the corner of your neck and turn your head to your right. I've told you that you catch this center when you feel guilty. Now. Take your right hand on your forehead across. And bend your head as far as possible. This is the center where you have to forgive others. Now. Take back your hand on the back side of your head and push back your head. This is the center where, without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, you have to ask for forgiveness from the All-pervading Divine Power of God's Love. Now. Stretch your hand fully. Put the center part of your palm on top of the fontanelle bone area, which is the soft bone in your childhood. Now, put down your head as far as possible, push back your fingers and press it hard. And now start moving your scalp seven times clockwise. Bend your heads, bend your heads.

All right. Now. You can take out your spectacles because you have to close your eyes. If anything is tight on your stomach, or on your back, you can loosen it a little bit, or on your neck. Put your both the feet apart from each other. Now. Please put your left hand towards Me and right hand on your heart. Now, please close your eyes and don't open them till I tell you. Here you have to say, or ask a very fundamental question to Me, you can call Me Mother or Shri Mataji:, so you have to say, ask a question: `Mother, am I the Spirit?' Ask this question three times.

Now. If you are the Spirit, you are your master. Now, please take your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen and press it hard. Here, now, you have to ask another fundamental question to Me, three times: `Mother, am I my own master?' I've already told you that I respect your freedom and I cannot force Pure Knowledge on you, so you have to ask for it.

All right.

So now please take your right hand in the low portion of your abdomen and put, press it hard with your fingers and ask six times, because this center has got six petals. Now. Please ask Me six times: `Mother, please, give me Pure Knowledge.' When you are asking this question, the Kuṇḍalinī starts rising slowly.

So now, we have to nourish our upper centers with our self-confidence.

So now raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen and press it hard on the left hand side. We are working on your left hand side. Here you have to say, with full confidence, ten times: `Mother, I am my own master.' I've already told you that the greatest truth about you is that you are the Spirit. You are not this body, you are not this mind, you are not this ego or your conditionings, but you are pure Spirit.

So now, please raise your right hand on top of your heart. With full confidence you have to say twelve times: `Mother, I am the Spirit.' This Divine Power of God's love is the ocean of compassion, is the ocean of absolute truth and knowledge. But above all, it is the ocean of forgiveness.

So, whatever mistakes you might have committed in the past, can be easily dissolved by the power of this ocean of forgiveness.

So now. Raise your hand and put it onto the angle between your shoulder and your neck and press it hard, push back as much as possible and turn your head to your right. Here you have to say sixteen times, with full confidence: `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' [Aside asks Guido to massage Her Viśhuddhi and while he does so, She says:] It's terrible. Little lower, little lower. That's good.

I've already told you that whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything. But if you don't forgive, then you play into wrong hands and torture yourself and suffer yourself. But those who have troubled you are happy people and you are playing into their hands! So now please raise your right hand, put it on your forehead across and bend your head [Guido puts his hand on Her back Āgñyā]. Bend your head and now you have to say with full confidence, from your heart, not how many times: `Mother, I forgive everyone.' Please bend your heads. [Moves Guido's hand from Her back Āgñyā to the left side of Her head.] Bend your heads, please bend your heads. Say from your heart.

Now. Please take back you right hand onto the back side of your head and push back your head. Here, without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, just for your satisfaction, you have to say again from your heart, not how many times: `Oh Divine power, if I have done anything wrong, knowingly or unknowingly, please forgive me.' Say it again from your heart.

Now the last center. You have to stretch your palm, your hand fully. Now. Put the center of your palm on top of your fontanelle bone area and press it hard. Push back your fingers. Push back your fingers and put down your head properly. Here again I cannot cross over your freedom. You have to ask for your Self-realisation.

So you have to say seven times, moving your hand on your scalp clockwise, moving your scalp with a force, say: `Mother, please, give me my Self-realisation.' [Puts Guido's hand on Her Sahasrāra.] [Shri Mataji blows into the microphone.] Now. Please take down your hands. Open your eyes. Put your right hand towards Me like this. Bend your head. And see with your left hand if there's a Cool Breeze coming out of your head.

Sometimes it can be hot. Bend your heads, bend your heads.

Now. Please put your left hand, now see with the right hand if there's a Cool Breeze over your heads.

Bend your heads, bend your heads. Not on top. Away.

Sometimes you get quite far away.

Now. Again put your right hand towards Me and see for yourself if there's a Cool Breeze coming out of your head.

Now. Put your both the hands towards the sky and bend your head backwards. Look upwards. Ask a question now three times, anyone of these questions: `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost?' Or: `Mother, is this the All-pervading Power of God's Love?' Or: `Is this the Param-Chaitanya?' Anyone of these questions you can ask three times.

Now put down your hands please. Put your hands towards Me like this, little higher. All those who have felt cool or hot breeze out of their hands, or out of their fontanelle bone area, cool or hot breeze, please raise both your hands.

May God bless you.

I bow to all of you.

So now the new growth of your saintliness has started. Now you have to know how to fix up your realisation. The musicians have to come here on the stage. Now. Those who want to meet Me are welcome on the stage. [Applause.]

Contents: 1991-07-28 Pledge Taken by Sahaja Yogis, before the Guru Pūjā, Cabella Ligure, Italy

from the Divine Cool Breeze, Vol. 5, Issue 9 (Oct 1991), pp.10 to 15 Yogi Mahajan [reads aloud]: We, the Sahaja Yogis of the world, do declare that we have experienced Self-realisation through Sahaja (Spontaneous) awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī as discovered and taught by Shri Mataji Nirmalā Devī. We do declare that these are the benefits we have experienced in our own lives and see in the lives of others who have had their Self-realisation.

Our life becomes one of purity and simplicity. Before marriage we lead a very chaste life. We don't even like to listen to talk of sex. Sex we enjoy only in a sanctified and legal marriage.

We enjoy monogamous or monandrous marriage with a Sahaja Yogini of our choice. Husband and wife respect each other. They understand each other fully, There is very deep love between husband and wife, but there Is no public display of romance, as it upsets our modesty and privacy.

Children are an important part of our married life. Most children of Sahaja Yogis are born realised.

We love children, our own and those of others. We enjoy watching their growth and their play. We enjoy taking them on holidays. We are not possessive of our children and do not smother them with our affection and prevent the development of their own personality. We want them to be strong and settled within themselves so that they do not become Impressed by wrong ideas, wrong behaviour or fall under the influence of wrong types of media and advertising. We do not spoil them by letting them dominate us with their demands, Children mostly like our correction and sometimes they correct us as well, We like to teach them proper manners and respect for others. to share with others. We like them to be clean, tidy and properly dressed. We do not let them be cheeky or insolent. We like to send them to registered Sahaja Yoga Schools, if they want to go, where they will get a high standard of balanced education, where proper moral conduct Is taught and encouraged, where they won't be abused or subjected to immoral and wrong behaviour.

We love to watch their aptitudes develop, to support the flourishing of their innate talents and encourage them in other fields of development, We like them to understand us and all other Sahaja Yogis, as well as all the cultures of the world, artistic, musical, literary, religious free from prejudice. We like them to understand and enjoy the beauty of the world and the natural environment.

We enjoy our new found knowledge that comes through wisdom and inspiration, When we mature we are no longer afraid of the horrible aggression of modem methods. We spontaneously enjoy all the arts, but only those works that are beautiful and soothing, that give joy: works that are traditional or classical, enduring works of great masters of art, music and literature and works that inspire and praise the Divine.

We do not enjoy things that are not respectable, that are vulgar, jarring on the nerves.

We love to read and understand all the scriptures and find the true message in them which we can verify through our new found vibratory awareness.

We are very normal and we keep the company of all others who are abnormal or sub-ormal. We do not give up our Jobs or our work but we enjoy the company of all the Sahaja Yogis, whatever work they may do or whatever country they may come from. We enjoy this vast ocean of beautiful people. We are no longer only limited to the company of our colleagues, but have friends from ail over the world. We would love to write about and publish air the miracles that happen to us through Sahaja Yoga and also the miraculous photos that we get spontaneously. but Shri Mataji will not permit us to do so, because of Her modesty. She says no one would believe they are real.

We like to find out about the activities of the religions, cults and anti cult movements and why they are trying to mislead people away from the truth and away from the reality of the Divine. We like to speak openly about our findings, without fear because we know we are speaking the truth. We travel to different cities and towns, to mix with people and find out why they are so unhappy in their life.

We love to create our own works of art. We enjoy the new Inspiration we get from within to produce these works. We also enjoy mastering new skills besides our innate ones and then to create some things that are uniquely spiritual.

We enjoy our work, whatever it may be and try to excel at It.

So many Sahaja Yogis have reached high positions in their fields whether they be lawyers, judges, Industrialists, ambassadors, bureaucrats, doctors, architects or artists. These achievements they have reached through balance and respect for those who work around them. There is no aggressive ambition in Sahaja Yogis, we do not try to outdo our colleagues so they are very relieved. We are promoted because of our talents, respectability and understanding and not because we are always hankering after someone or doing sycophancy to any boss.

We love to keep our homes open to all kinds of families. We like our homes to be welcoming, to be clean and tidy. We like them to be decorated with artistic and handmade goods of a high quality. We like to use natural materials for our homes, our clothes and on our skins. We do not like man-made plastics, nylons, etc.

We love to help each other and are concerned for the welfare and well-being of others. We enjoy our generosity. We enjoy feeding people and giving them presents.

We eat any foods we like, or that are good for our well being, without greed or denial. We don't eat large animals (cows, horses etc.), or food cooked in alcohol. We don't take alcohol as it causes us to vomit.

We are also so contented that we don't need to escape from reality using strong drink or drugs. We are so relaxed we don't need to smoke. This also causes us to vomit.

We have no worries about money. All our needs are catered for. Shri Mataji will not let us read the Guru Glta as it says that the disciple should give all his money and everything to the Guru. We would happily do this as thanks to Her for saving us from our own destruction, but She will not take a single paisa from us. We would love to give Her a garden of flowers, but She won't let us waste our money and says that one is sufficient. We all would love to give Her, individually, birthday presents, but She will only accept one present that is given collectively. If we do forcibly give Her an individual present, She gives us a bigger one in return, so we have stopped giving Her individual presents. She Is always insisting we should not even give Her collective presents.

She has only now allowed us to pay for half of Her travelling expenses, Only now can we pay for our food and travel In India. Previously She paid for all of us who went to India. She has bought houses to use as our ashrams which until recently were rent-free. She has never stayed In these as without paying.

Previously all books and tapes were sold without any royalty payments. Now Shri Mataji has agreed to accept some, but so tar nothing has been sent. She always uses the money collected for the spreading of Sahaja Yoga. Houses which are in the name of some Sahaja Yoga leaders, were completely built by Sahaja Yogis but now they have taken their homes back.

Although we cannot give any money for Self-realisation, or to Shri Mataji in person, we do not object to giving some money, In trust, for the spreading of the teaching of Sahaja Yoga. We do not know of any organization or group that does not collect money for some reason, In most countries Sahaja Yoga is registered as a charitable, non-profit society. Any money that is collected is kept in a bank with proper accounts. Shri Mataji is extremely trusting of all Sahaja Yogis, but same have taken advantage of Her confidence and taken large amounts of money from her personally. These people were asked to leave Sahaja Yoga. They were not even made to repay the monies they took from Her. They were just forgiven.

We only trust Shri Mataji, who has a great sense of public money. Whenever anyone makes money out of Sahaja Yogis and is found out, they turn against Shri Mataji, Most of these people are pardoned by Shri Mataji. They have mostly fallen under the influence of their half-baked wives who have mislead them into these corrupt practices. In the twenty-one years of Sahaja Yoga hardly a dozen people nave been asked to leave. Apart from wrongfully collecting money, people were asked to leave for the following reasons: homosexuality, flirting and adultery, mental disease, aggression and domination of others, particularly towards women. These people were given all opportunities to improve their behaviour before being asked to leave.

Some of them have since overcome their problems and returned.

Some of those that were asked to leave have turned against Sahaja Yoga, but they never say why they had to leave Sahaja Yoga. We do not discuss them or bother about them as they are like a rotten apple and we are glad to see them go. It they are lying it is their misfortune. We are happy that we are not so unfortunate as to come to Sahaja Yoga, see the truth and still misbehave and be sent away.

Thus Sahaja Yoga is a Mahā Yoga. Never before in the history of spirituality has such a mass awakening of truth been seen. It expects a very high moral standard from its participants because these are the innate qualities of a spiritual person who wants to do spiritual work. We are not a money making concern so we do not require great numbers of people. We are only interested in people of spiritual depth and quality.

Our precepts must be expressed in our practices and our rife. We cannot be hypocrites.

There is no prejudice on the grounds of colour, race, religion, creed or financial standing. The only criteria Is spiritual growth, which makes us feel joyous, If we do make any mistake we would like Shri Mataji to punish us, as a Guru does, but She punishes us by forgiving us. Even if we want to feel guilty for our mistakes She will not allow us to feel that way on the grounds that we are only human beings and slowly we will all improver by facing our mistakes.

Even though we would like Her to give us constant advice and guidance, She makes us become our own Gurus, to become the masters of our own lives and spiritual ascent (to know thyself).

If we write to Her confessing our past lives and sins, She won't read our letters. Instead She always tells us to be in the present. A true Sahaja Yogi should not commit sins because of his spiritual nature, This Is very easy for us as we develop a great sensitivity to sin. We believe in the unity of all religions, which we know as a fact through our vibratory awareness, are all from the one source of God Almighty. We worship all the incarnations and venerate all the seers, saints and realised Souls of the past and present.

We enjoy all their writings, poetry and works of art. We have discovered many saintly people who were never recognized before as great, evolved souls.

We are against fundamentalism and the ignorance of organized religion. We believe in the unity of one world and one God. We respect our wives and all women as the mothers of children. We enjoy our virtue, faith and sense of security, We enjoy our peace, calm and forthright attitudes.

We enjoy our responsibility for the awakening of the spirituality in man: to work for the seekers of the world with love and patience; to see the light in their eyes when they feel the actualisation of Kuṇḍalinī awakening; to see thousands of people of every nation experiencing Self-realisation; to see Germans, Russians, Jews and Arabs live in harmony together.

We enjoy the purity of relationships of men and women as brothers and sisters. Any person in an ashram or one of our groups who is found flirting or dating is asked to leave. Thus we have no family complications. We enjoy speaking pure, correct language which is clearly expressed. We enjoy keeping silent and letting others speak, We enjoy the speeches of other Sahaja Yogis and they also enjoy ours.

We enjoy the sweet, loving nature of other people but avoid arrogance and aggression. We abhor vulgar, obscene and scandalous talk and gossip. We enjoy the fragrances of the flowers and nature. We enjoy food that satisfies the body and not the tongue. We love to discuss God Almighty and His compassion and also His wrath for the people who are evil.

Our ears love to hear words of wisdom and the praises of God, melodious music that soothes the mind.

We love to sing songs in praise of the Divine in a proper language with correct pitch, harmony and rhythm.

We enjoy the purity of non-adulterous eyes. We enjoy watching our ego and laughing at it. We try to remain in a state of thoughtless awareness because It is only in this state that we can grow spiritually, as we are in the present. The past is over and the future does not exist. Only the present Is the reality.

We do not rationalise our mistakes or our achievements. It is God who is doing the work, not us. We are rust the witnesses of His drama. We are not disturbed by past conditioning or future ambitions. We enjoy expressing reality and Sahaja Yoga in words and deed. We enjoy our strength and wisdom and the freedom we have from vanity, greed, hatred, jealousy and violence.

We try to analyze and find out through discussion why all the religions have failed, why the scriptures have been mutilated and misrepresented. We want to find out why people give money for God when He has no understanding of money. We study the cults and anti-cult movements to see how they affect the subtle center of seekers and spoil their chances of ascent into higher awareness.

Many new facts we learn can be verified scientifically. We put this knowledge Into practical use for the betterment of society. We have become aware, alert, wise, dynamic, relaxed and above all, enlightened. We enjoy the achievements of our young people and how they are saved from the corruption and immorality that abounds in today's society; how they are transformed from a lethargic and depressive life Into a new dynamic, youthful life. We enjoy their amazing meteoric progress in their sports, art and music and in their scholarly capacity through their ascent.

We enjoy knowing Shri Mataji as our Mother. We enjoy the example She sets for an ideal life. She never demands. She is self-content and self-contained. Loving, can gently solving any problems we may have, always paying attention to our lives, She knows all of us and all the good things about us. She is the Ideal housewife and mother, caring for all Her relations, We enjoy listening to Her husband speaking of Her many qualities as a wife and mother: how he describes Her capacity to do many things at the same time without any effort; how She has the love and respect of ail the staff and officers of his work whatever office he has held; how even they coiled Her, “Mother." Through Her own example She has shown us how to live as good householders and has saved many marriages through this example.

She will not permit us to escape our social responsibilities by taking Sannyāsa or turning away from society, no mailer how decadent it may be.

Although She has so much power She has never used it to manipulate anyone. On the contrary, She is so trusting that we fear She will become the victim of manipulation. But we have learnt that She cannot be tricked or manipulated.

We enjoy the knowledge She has in every subject, except money and banking. All Her accounts and cheque books are kept by Sahaja Yogis. They write for Her and She Just signs.

Her knowledge is very, very deep as well as wide on the subtlest of subtle subjects. She explains these In simple words. She never has to read anything but has a knowledge of English, French and Spanish literature. She knows many languages, especially Indian. Her mother tongue is Marathi. She never studied English, Hindi or Sanskrit languages at school because She was a medical student, but Her mastery over these languages is admirable. She has never studied psychology but She was invited lo speak on Jungian Psychology at the Jungian Society in New York.

We enjoy giving realisation and curing people without using our egos. We enjoy our enlightened attention. Our attention sees the good points of others and doesn't go to violence and aggression. It works quietly and keeps quiet. We are gifted with a new dimension in our awareness of collective consciousness.

It can penetrate into any area of the subtle center of any human being and we know the problems as well as how to solve them. It also gives us knowledge of ourselves, judges us and cures us, It fills us with sell-confidence and humility.

Our attention can go to the problems in the home, of our family and friends, of our country and the world and it can go to international situations, Wherever we put It, it can work things out by offering solutions to bring freedom, prosperity and peace. Sahaja Yogis from all over the world enjoy communicating with each other about solving social, political and economic problems through their enlightened collective attention. Our attention goes to Divine beauty, which is soothing and elevating and enjoys the best of all the world's cultures. We enjoy the love and compassion and Innate virtues enlightened by Sahaja Yoga.

We can laugh at our own faults and enjoy the good points of others.

We enjoy knowing the absolute truth and absolute answers through vibratory awareness, free from doubts. We erg joy looking after the needy, especially children and our elders, through our vibratory awareness, to diagnose diseases and cure the sick and the incurable. We do not ridicule the weak, but try to uplift them to our level of strength, power and dynamism through our loving attention.

We enjoy the comfort of our Spirit and are not attached to the comforts of our body and mind as we are no longer the body, mind, conditioning or ego but the Spirit, We enjoy our knowledge like a cook enjoys a good meal he has cooked and we enjoy sharing it with others. We enjoy the Joy which has no duality of happiness and unhappiness, which only can be enjoyed after Self-realisation has matured.

We enjoy the hurdles created by our enemies because they challenge us to rise higher. Every disadvantage becomes an advantage. We enjoy blind and stupid opposition as a joke. We leave the aggressive and cruel In the hands of the Divine. We wish ell the arrogant, scandalous liars to be prosecuted, testing the validity of the laws in the name of God and also the laws of all the lands.

We enjoy the great task of the emancipation of humanity put on our shoulders. We enjoy rectifying all the horrible mistakes of the greedy, selfish, aggressive and cruel people, individually or collectively.

We enjoy our powers because we never feel powerless as this is the power of Divine bye which is ever growing.

This is how we enjoy the real spiritual life of the Kingdom of God.

Contents: 1991-07-28 Guru Pūjā, Four Obstacles, Tent, Cabella Ligure, Italy

Today they're all here to worship your Guru.

It is a common practice, especially in India, that you must worship your Guru. And the Guru has to fully be in control of his disciples. Guru principle is extremely strict and the strictness made many people could not confirm to the ideas of a disciple. In those days, the Guru had to be absolutely the authority and it was the Guru who would decide which disciples he'll have and one had to go into great tapasya, to great penances to even become a disciple. And this hardship was the only way the Guru used to judge.

Gurus would always live in jungles and they would select their disciples, very few, very, very few and they had to go and beg food from the neighbouring villages and cook food for their Guru with their own hands and feed the Guru. That sort of Guru business is not in Sahaja Yoga, that basically we must understand that the difference between those styles of Guru-ship and that we have now is this, that, very few individuals were given the chance to become the Guru, very few. And these few also were selected out of quite a lot of people and they felt that they were something really special that they are being selected, chosen and that whatever they will have to go through is all welcome. With this idea, they became the disciple.

But Sahaja Yoga is a very different thing. I would say, just the opposite. First of all, your Guru is a mother and who suffers from Sandra Karuna. At the slightest things that happen to you, My eyes get filled with tears.

So, as a mother, to be a Guru is a very difficult thing. But, at the same time, for you to achieve heights is also difficult because you get lost when I love you so much and, in that love, you forget sometimes that the progress in your being is very slow. It is important that in Sahaja Yoga you have to be strict with yourself. That's why I said that you have to be your own Guru, which people do not understand what it means. “You have to be your own Guru" means you have to guide yourself. You have to treat yourself as your disciple. And you have to trim yourself. If you do not understand the responsibility as a Sahaja Yogi of working it out yourself everything, you cannot move very fast because it is a different type of relationship between the Guru and the disciples.

So, first I have always said you become your own Guru.

So you have to make a lot of introspection and fix your ideals. Before you, I am sitting, you have seen Me, how I am. I can eat anything. I need not eat at all for days together. I can sleep anywhere. I may not sleep at all. I travel for miles together, untiringly.

I have this energy because I am a Guru of Myself, also.

So the first thing is that there should be lot of introspection. “What's wrong with me?" not wrong with others. What's wrong with me? Am I seeking the comfort of my body? The attention, is it on my body or on my spirit? If so, what am I doing? I think best thing is to write it down. Can I sleep on the grass? Can I sit on the stone.

You have to make this body work. Can I sleep any time I like and can I keep awake any time I like? I've seen people doze off. The reason is this, not that they're bad or in any way indisciplined people, but because inside the are tired. If you're tired inside, then you feel tired all the time. You'll see on the television, if you see people in the West, they are always, “Hāa” sitting like this because they're so very tired. Why are they so tired? They don't work so hard.

So introspect, how you behave. Now when you start introspecting yourself, you'll also start introspecting your surroundings and your styles and your methods and what you are doing to yourself because of the conditionings of the outside.

Now the conditionings of the outside in the West are of a psychological nature. Indians have other conditionings which are also quite surprising or which we should say the Western people, they must wash their hand ten times even if their skin comes out, they go on washing like mad. They must have a bathroom attached to them all the time or they must have their baths. If they don't have bath, they are not comfortable. They have other conditionings also. All kinds of stupid conditionings they have, but the conditionings that we have in the West are more psychological and that's why you cannot find out what's wrong with you.

The physical conditionings are not so dangerous. You can get over them or you can manage it, but when you have conditioning of your psychology, you cannot understand what's wrong with you.

Now, if you see, if you introspect around. What you will find is a very subtle thing. Firstly, that because of the wars maybe, I don't know why, but everybody is afraid of everyone. Specially, I think, Freud. Because of Freud, even the mother is afraid of the child and all these things, to Indians, are absolutely, they can't understand this. But you people know that very well. They won't touch anybody.

They won't hug anyone. First of all, when they used to play football, they used to hug, but now I see they don't hug, they just touch hands like this. After some time, I think they may just do like that or something.

So frightened that nobody, even the children, I've seen, are frightened of hugging their parents.

So the expression of love is not there and when there is no expression, there is no love inside also and that's how it goes on drying you up and drying up and drying up.

There was a little girl in Sahaja Yoga and I had some present for that child. She was quite young, must have been about ten years of age.

So I gave it one Sahaja Yogi, Western Sahaja Yogi, that “you go and give it to her and say I have given." “No, Mother, I won't give." I said, “Why?" “She'll misunderstand me." I said, “What will she misunderstand?" It has gone so much into the heads of people and this has created really the psychological insecurity within you. From very childhood, this insecurity has been working and that's why you are frightened of each other, even of your parents, of your brothers, your sisters. Psychologically, you are suffering. And when first I came to England, they used to say, “It is the insecurity."

I said, “What insecurity?" The whole world is afraid of the Western world and what are they suffering from insecurity? They have made everybody insecure all over the world and why, what are they insecure? They are insecure within themselves, in their own society, in their own family, in their own groups. They're so much frightened of each other.

So the first thing, you should be fearless. You're a Sahaja Yogi. You are no more immoral, cannot be immoral. If all the time, if you start thinking that you are immoral and if you do something, it is immoral and that you have to go and do some confessions somewhere, then what is going to happen to you? What sort of a personality you will have? We have to change this by changing ourselves.

So among Sahaja Yogis there should be no insecurities, but Maryādās. You must know how to respect each other's privacy.

The second thing, that if you find with the Western mind, which a very common thing that they are bombarded by criticism. There are so many critics that now there are no more artists left. Only critics are criticising critics. All artists are finished. They're all the time criticised.

Somebody will come in, there's an education on criticism. They may not know how to play any instrument, they may not know how to sing, but they can criticise all right.

So all the time in your mind is a way that you always feel that somebody will criticise if you do this.

All the time the fear is there that somebody will criticise. “So, should I say or not?" As Sahaja Yogis, you shouldn't worry about these stupid people because they're blind and if they want to criticise you, let them criticise. What does it matter? Makes no difference. But this you have to build up within yourself.

Now, the third is even worse, which I don't know if you have noticed or not. I don't know how it has gone into the heads of the Western minds that you must always see to the other side of the bank, even if you standing on this side to be fair! And never to say something that you're sure of. Like you ask anyone, `How are you?' He'll say [rotates Her hand from side to side], always. Nobody will say, `I'm perfectly all right! Nothing wrong with me. What's wrong? Perfectly all right, thank you very much.' But it is never.

They're not sure of themselves all the time, it's shaking. And this shaking inside gives you a personality, which can never progress. Progress comes when you put your step forward, you put your foot firmly on that point and then put the second step forward, like as you climb on a mountain. But, in the first place only, if you are still thinking that it's halfway through, then how can you go further? You'll only move on two steps, this or that or this or that. This is another very big psychological detergent, I should call it, or detrimental thing for your progress.

Now, the third thing you have learnt, which is also third or forth maybe, that you must argue out yourself. Like you have a problem, you'll come and tell Me, “Mother, this problem I have got." This is very common with everyone. “I have this problem." I'll say, “All right, this is the solution." Then you'll come out, “No, no, no, no, but in this, this will happen." Then you tell another solution. “No, no, no, no, no, no, no, Mother, this can be this way." All right, you tell third solution. “No, Mother, in this, this can happen." Tell fourth. “This can happen." You are standing against yourself all the time. Then I have to say, “This is your problem, not mine and I am giving you the solutions and if you want to solve your problem, better take a positive attitude." The brain is this way. In our Hindi language it's called `Ulti Khopdi'. You are all the time arguing against yourself, so how can you progress? This is another great problem of the Western mind that it doesn't try to face any problem as your own, but go on arguing with yourself like a lawyer, you see. There are two lawyers, one yourself, another lawyer, [who] go on arguing.

So is a double personality in the being. Is not a single personality. As I said, it is very, very psychological that people have to take to this kind of a turn suddenly without understanding how dangerous it is.

With the enlightenment of your brain this should disappear. On the contrary, in Sahaja Yoga it's very dangerous because you say something, you are a Sahaja Yogi, you are connected with the All-pervading Power. Whatever you say gets connected and it acts. It's very dangerous for you people not to realise that you are realised Souls and not to assume your own powers. Like, you see, I have to say something secretly, then I must put my hand here and then say it because it is connected to the mains, but supposing I keep it open like this and say something, it goes to everyone. In the same way, whatever the Sahaja Yogis say or desire or want, there are just people sitting there. `See, here and here, you have put them there.' They are listening to you all the time. They're so anxious to do your work. `All right, you say so, done.' So whatever you think or whatever you desire or whatever you say, you have to be extremely careful.

And when, now, I mean, old people, all right, I can say that, very conditioned, they have problems and all. But the generation that is here, most of them, are all capable of improving yourself and making your brain straight by bringing it backwards to the forward. This psychological problem you do not see.

The another psychological problem is which you do not know. It is very surprising, that whatever is the entrepreneurs' ideas, you must act because the whole fundamentals of Western life is to see and to be seen.

So, `Oh, that's the fashion, so we should do like that. This is the fashion, so we'll do it like.' Like the other day, about three years back, I went to England and I found all the Sahaja Yoginis having their hair here [covering forehead]. I said, “What's this?" So I asked an Indian girl. I said what is this about, “What's this suppose to be?" She said, “This is a new fashion." I said, “What new fashion?" Call it jipreya [disheveled, unkempt hair] in Marathi, you know. We call it `jipreya' fashion. Only the Maharashtrians can understand! [Laughs.] And they call had their hair here, you know, like this [covering forehead]. All! I said, “My God, this is Āgñyā, this they are covering, their eyes will become squinty." But the fashion, if it comes and the whole fashion is with the hair alone. Hair, I don't know what.

There's so much interest in the hair and they lose the hair so fast in these countries, without using the oil, which they should use. They lose their hair very fast.

Starting from the hair, the Sahasrāra. Then fashion, means, what is this entrepreneur, these stupid people, are creating ideas and why should we follow? I don't say that Sahaja Yogis should all look alike, not at all. You can dress up the way you like, you can live the way you like, but you should not get yourself enslaved by any entrepreneurs. You are free people now know that very well. Know that you are absolutely free and your freedom is absolutely in the light of your enlightenment. You can never do wrong. But first of all, have that confidence within yourself that, whatever you have to do, you are not going to enslave yourself to entrepreneurs, what people have to say, how you will look, how you will appear. This is a very important point that half of the time we are laboring just to look like many others. It's very surprising how these entrepreneurs have befooled the Western people. In India it wouldn't work, won't work, especially the Indian women. This, in between came a mini-sari, came up to Bombay [Mumbai] for about four, five days, I think, disappeared! No Indian women would wear a mini-sari, finished! [Laughs.] Nothing doing! Any sort of fashion now comes in India, doesn't stay because whatever clothes we have now in India is traditionally has been there, has been tested and error and trial and error and trial and we know now this is the best now, stop it. At a certain age you stop. This is the style that suits us the best. But anything goes on, you know, the styles go on changing.

And this is what you have to be very careful to see, that you do not take to stupid things, which have been created by entrepreneurs, but to sensible things which are required for you.

So one of the enslavements, I feel, is that you have to play into the hands of entrepreneurs. But a slavery is very deep and is so psychological. In so many ways, it is extremely hidden and so subtle that you cannot make it out.

So, in the introspection, you find what's gone wrong with you, how you are made this way. `What's wrong in my own personality? It has come from all the surroundings and the way people have been putting ideas into my head.' You should have your own ideas. You shouldn't worry about Plato said and what Socrates said and what this thing said. What do you think? After all, you are enlightened people.

But then there is another psychological thing which is even the worst! And that, `Mother, if you are very sure, then we are putting up our ego.' They're so much afraid of their ego that as if, after some time, they'll take off. The ego will bloat so much that we'll take off. This is another fear people have, that if you assert, `All right, this is what I want, this is the right thing to do, then I'll get off, so I don't want to say such a thing. I have an ego.' So with Sahaja Yoga also, certain fears have crawled in. One of them is that `Mother, I should not have any ego.' Now, what is the problem of ego. That also surprising, despite all fear and everything. As a reaction to it, people have developed a kind of a protesting character. But again, these entrepreneurs have pampered your ego. Like in the morning you ask the child, “What will you have?" Then child says, “I will have this." The mother has to run and get it or she must keep everything in the fridge. In India that's not the case.

`Whatever is cooked in the house, you better have. If there is no salt, all right, without salt. Come along.

Otherwise, don't eat, doesn't matter. In any case you will eat.' So when the disciplining comes within yourself and you understand this, then you do not say, `I desire only this, I desire only this.' `What? You desire?' You tell yourself, `All right, you'll not have it for one month. Let's see.' Once, I must tell you about Myself that little bit comfort grew up on Me, sometimes I think.

So we had a transfer and My family was not with Me at that time. We had been given small, little bed where My husband slept and I slept just on the bare cement and next day I started getting the pain in the body.

I said, “All right." I slept on the cement for one month. “On the cement you get pain? All right, sleep now!" [For] one month I said, I'm going to sleep on the cement. Then cement lost its power on Me. Then might be the cement might be feeling the pain! [Laughter.] So... that's what you have to do, is to master your mind. Now the problem only will come. `What is the discretion? This ego will come up, Mother.' Because your ego, as I said, is developed by reactions, by protesting against things and also by the pampering of the entrepreneurs. All right, whatever may be the reason, we are not going to psychoanalyze ourselves, but the fact is also we have an ego problem. Why? I've already told you that if a balloon is bloated many a times, it can easily be bloated. At the slightest air, it bloats and that's why you're afraid that, `Suddenly my ego might become so big that I may be like a balloon in the air somewhere moving.' But how to get rid of this? Is to know that you're an enlightened soul. Respect yourself. Once you start respecting yourself, you will not fall into any traps of ego. Very simple, respect yourself. You have to say, `I am a Sahaja Yogi. How can I behave like this? After all, I'm a Sahaja Yogi.' A kind of a dignity that develops and then you will start feeling shy of doing something that is stupid because ego makes you stupid, that's the point is, absolutely! Now, if you develop this respect for yourself, `I am a Sahaja Yogi, so I can't behave like this. I am a Sahaja Yogi.' If you say like that to yourself, then you will be amazed that the dignity of a Sahaja Yogi will definitely keep you down to Earth. You will not get into the trap of your ego.

So one side is the conditioning. Another side is this ego. Simple thing is ego. That dignity has to be developed. You'll be surprised, among animals, there are Maryādās. Like a tiger won't behave like a snake and snake won't behave like a tiger.

So we are now Sahaja Yogis. We are tigers among human beings.

We are lions among humans. The highest! We are the highest human beings. It's not necessary to have ten medals on your body to show that you are something great, but you are Sahaja Yogis. You're Mahā Yogis.

So develop that respect and you'll be surprised the humility will immediately come into it you, I mean will walk into you, humility.

I have seen some Sahaja Yogis sit like this, sometimes sit like this, sometimes they one, if their left Viśhuddhi's there, like this, right Viśhuddhi sit like this. But then you see yourself. Like a bridegroom has to dress up and he remembers, `I am the bridegroom. I cannot behave like other younger boys who'll be there. I have to have my own personality. I'm the bridegroom. I am going for my wedding. I cannot behave like all my other friends are there.' You have to behave in a particular manner.

So assume this.

Still, we do not know that we are Sahaja Yogis. Once we know we are Sahaja Yogis, the dignity will develop within us and, with that dignity, you'll be amazed [that] you'll also see what is wrong in our own country, what is undignified.

Now, with whatever has happened in France, you can find out what's wrong with French laws. But French are more interested in drinking and eating and other things.

So they never paid [attention to law] `Oh Let it be. What do you care for laws? Let it be as it is, doesn't matter who should bother about these things? It's nothing important. After all, if you can get something to drink!' You go to any French village, at a certain time you cannot meet anyone, even a drunkard. They are sitting inside and drinking, drinking. I mean, that's the main religion, main pastime. Next day, with the hangover they come.

So they see everything the other way round. Like this fellow, this journalist who went to India, they saw an iron gate and they thought this was the iron curtain of Hitler! Everything expanded, you know, so big, crooked, because [of] hangover, you know.

So the whole life in the West's like a hangover. Either they see things too big or too small. They don't see things as they are. Now most of these things are written, which you will read, the psychology and all those things and the books, mostly they are drunkards! If you see their lives, they've been drunkards, so whatever they have written, why should we take them so seriously? Except for very few who were realised Souls, most of them were drunkards. Like those who wrote about Greek tragedies must have been really drunkard people. They must have been taking lots of things inside and then must be writing something like that because most of the drunkards, when they write, they say that “Why should I live? I must die." And, like that, we too in India have many people who have written Ghazals [sad romantic songs], who always say that “Why should we live? We should die." So if there's one poet who has said, `Now we are talking of dying, why don't you die once for all!' So you will realise that what you will write, what you will say is higher than all these people. But Sahaja Yoga has worked so smoothly in you that you do not know what you are.

Today on Guru Pūjā, you are worshipping your Guru. At the same time, I bow to your Guru within yourself. Let your Guru come up and show itself! Especially the kind of a Guru you have. I am not strict with you. I'm very gentle. Because, as I told you, fundamentally is a different thing, is that it is not for an individual, but it is for the collective. And if something has to spread collectively, then you have to understand that it has to be only love that is going to work it out. There is no other way you can spread Sahaja Yoga because we cannot be like Hitler, giving wrong ideas of hatred. Either it could be hatred or love. [If] you teach people, `We hate this one,' fundamentalism, this, that, you'll get thousands ready to fight. You can elevate their baser self and say, `Come along, let us fight!' Racialism, this, that, anything, even nationalism. All right, there are people. But when I say love it is very different. Try to understand and, because of our collective work, you have to know that love is a source of energy that makes things grow in a living manner. It is the energy, which is a living energy. Try to understand now. This is...

people don't understand. Love doesn't mean that you hug somebody or do something, but living energy that understands. That makes you grow.

I hope you have seen My books and I hope you have read it. In that I have described to you very clearly what is the living energy within us that works. And anything that is working, for example, see this flower. Now, I cannot order this one to go straight. It's moving in its own way. Let it be. It looks nice because no flower should look like another flower. Living energy never creates the same thing exactly like another, only [with] plastics, can be done. Now, when it is growing, it is growing in its own way.

So whatever is built in within you, it is a living energy, built in, but living energy and a living thing that works. It blossoms by itself. The water of pure love is to be given. In pure love, what you see in another person, as a Guru, `What's the matter with myself where it is obstructing me to go further?' In another person, as a Guru, what you see is how to handle this man with love so that he comes closer to reality. Is a very gentle process, is [a] very loving process and nothing like really enjoying your love. Just to know that I love so many people, itself is so great and you, too, see, feel that, `I love so much.' But it should be Sama drushti, means with the same eyes you should see everyone. You see everyone with the same eyes.

Isn't it, only two eyes are there? But you see everyone with the same eyes. They're different. All right, you see them as different, but you do not, your eyes do not discriminate. Your eyes do not see somebody black, somebody white, somebody blue. They see what they are. When you start seeing with Sama drishti means the same eyes, same sight, not to change your ideas. Because what happens, that your own mind twists it and you start seeing somebody as different, somebody as different. Now with the eyes, I see the fan, but supposing my mind is off. I might see as a human being.

So, if you are a sane person, then you'll see everyone as they are. This is `sama drishti', is that you have the same eyes for everyone. Do not get twisted.

So that you cannot have somebody is your special friend, somebody is number two friend, somebody as number ten friend and some as your enemy. Once you start looking at things like that, everything will get into proper shapes, otherwise, one can go crazy. Also it should be Samyak. `Samyak' means integrated.

There should be an integrated knowledge, like the eyes, when they see, they see where you are sitting, where you are, where is this person, where is that person, what is the relationship.

So the knowledge about others is in relationship with each other. Now, supposing there is a gentleman who has a child and there's a problem between that gentleman and the child. To approach that person, you must know that he has a child, not to just make him just separate from others, singularize him. You take somebody, say he is from, say, from England or he's from Italy, then try to understand him that he is from that particular background and that background is around him.

So he is like that.

If you can have this kind of a full knowledge of others, there will be no problems, no quarreling, nothing.

Otherwise, there is a conflict all the time and that's how one feels very tired. Eyes do not react. Eyes just see. Whatever is there, they just see. Eyes never react, but the mind reacts and this reaction is the one, which is responsible for spoiling your attitude towards people.

So now, you should have a witness state. As Gñyāneśhwara said, “Niranjana pahane." Niranjana pahane, to see somebody without any reaction, just to see. And you'll know everything about that person as soon as you see that person. Niranjana pahane, because as long as your brain is there, you do not see that person as he is. But as soon as you see that person, you just know what it is. And then immediately you will know his Chakras, his Kuṇḍalinī, everything will penetrate. But your mind, which is loaded with nonsense, will not allow you to go to that level.

So the Niranjana pahane, the one where you just see something, that kind of a eye we have to develop.

So, with that, a detachment starts. Automatically, you do not criticise anybody because your mind like this, against that person. You do not love somebody because your mind thinks this way. You, cannot form groups. You cannot have some people who are dear to you, some are not.

Sometimes, if I do not smile at some people, then they grumble and say, “This time Mother didn't smile at me." I mean, I cannot keep all the time a smile, you see [laughter]. You must also think of My muscles. All the time, how can I keep My smile on, you know, but there are people who feel very bad that, you see, this time Mother didn't smile, so I have to go on smiling all the time at everyone. I try! [More laughter.] So the attitude towards others has to be with niranjana attitude because it's a collective work. It's not strict. It is not in any way clamping anything because it's a living work. Absolutely, it's living. We cannot. But it is definitely the work which creates harmony, love, affection, the feeling of oneness.

Imagine, to think about someone who is not kind to you, is a horrible thing. Better think how nice you could be to that person.

So the attitude should be that `How nice I'm going to be with that person', you know. See, somebody's angry with you, it's easy to fight. `Come along. You are angry. I am angry.' No, go and just tickle, simple thing like that and enjoy! Because you cannot enjoy hatred. You cannot enjoy rivalry. You cannot enjoy separatedness. Like this hand has to enjoy this hand. In the same way, you have to enjoy each other. If you cannot enjoy, then you have lost the point, lost the point.

So, in the collective progress, we have to know that we cannot progress if we have no sense of collectivity, that we are part and parcel of one person. If I pull my one ear, it's not that my ear will come out, but it will give pain to the whole body. That's why I said pull both is better. And when you start, you see, seeing this way yourself, then you'll be amazed the kind of a sweet humour about yourself develops and you really become a very interesting, magnetic personality and a very enjoyable person, extremely enjoyable.

Everybody will seek your company. This is what is the sign of your Guru Principle being enlightened. Of course, they have said that “You should get detachment. You should not have any attachment to this and that and that and that." This is all talking! But actually, only introspection and assumption or, we can say, the knowledge of your own depth itself will give you that feeling. If you have that knowledge that `I am a Sahaja Yogi and my depth of divinity's so great!', that itself will be more than sufficient for you to exist as the topmost Guru.

Actually, I'm no more a Guru. I was never a Guru. I am a mother. I'm hopeless Guru because a Guru who cannot be strict is useless and I have to prepare Myself to say things, you know. If there's problem between two people and then if there's some gap of time where I have to say to them then I start, “Aah.

How to become strict?" I tell Myself. “How?" Spontaneously, if something comes in. I say, “Why are you doing like this?" At the most, spontaneously.

So you have to develop this special style of Guru-ship within yourself, which is for the collective working.

Again, remember, it is for the collective working.

So today you worship your Guru Principle within yourself when you're worshipping. I would not say that you should try to follow Me because I'm hopeless in many things. Say, banking I don't understand.

Money I don't understand. I mean, there's so many things I don't know, really. I'm hopeless. Law I don't understand. I mean, you should not be like Me, agreed, but you you should be able to say as I say, that see, `I have these problems.' But one thing for sure, you must have, complete knowledge of Sahaja Yoga or desire to know everything about Sahaja Yoga. If that works out, then you will swim into this ocean of knowledge like a jet and whatever you want, whatever you want to know, you will know. But there should be a desire to know.

Never get satisfied that I know sufficiently enough about Sahaja Yoga. No. Never! In all other things you can be satisfied, but only on one thing, that Sahaja Yoga, still I have to know through my brains and my heart should have that knowledge. It should be in my heart, not only in my brain. I should know through my brain. It should be in my heart. Like when you see a film. You see King Kong, then you know it's King Kong. `All right, this is the film, doesn't matter.' Normally, our knowledge is like that, but if you see Mister King Kong standing here, `Oh, my God. He's already here.' In the same way, when our knowledge is in the brain, it is just like a film, is away from, is not in our heart. But when it is heart, it acts, it works. It doesn't work through brain. In the brain it just stays, but in the heart it works. And in the heart resides the Spirit.

It's very simple that we are people who are more living with our brains, not with our heart. But know that we are in reality, you see. King Kong is standing before us. You're not seeing a film. It's reality and in reality the heart has to work, not the brain. Because reality is only through the heart, not through the brain. Once you understand this, then you'll open your heart, enlarge it. `Now, this is in my heart.' So the whole thing will be so clear cut in your head. You will know everything clearly, what is to be done, how to react, how to work it out. If you put all this knowledge of Sahaja Yoga into your heart, first of all you will have to enlarge your heart, otherwise you can't put this ocean. And then you should see Sahaja Yoga. To Me, everything seems to be Sahaja Yoga, buying this house, coming to this place. All this is Sahaja Yoga. I can see clearly. Anything that I see, I connect it to Sahaja Yoga immediately. “This is Sahaja Yoga. Why is this so? This is because of Sahaja Yoga. This is Sahaja Yoga." So everywhere you start seeing Sahaja Yoga, when your heart knows what your brain knows.

I've know people who know all the mantras very well, everything very well and all that. But in the heart.

So put it in the heart.

In Sahaja Yoga, the Guru is not through his brain, but through his heart.

May God bless you all.

For the Guru Pūjā, first he'll read it out. This is, now this Guru gupta business, I never gave it to any one of you to read. The reason is not that it's not truth. You see, it's truth, but it was told by Shiva to Pārvatī, what is the Guru. But why I didn't give you, because all these Gurus in the market, they say, “All right, I'm your Guru. And this is Guru Gītā." In the Guru Gītā is written give all your money, all your belongings, all yourself tana, mana, dana, your body, your mind, everything to the Guru and become a stupid fool.

So they give it to them. That's why I didn't give it to you, but today, Rajesh [Shah] I've told him for the first time, but that doesn't mean that you should follow the way it has been described by Shiva! Rajesh Shah [reads aloud]: For the Guru Pūjā, first, he'll read it out. You see now, this Guru Gītā business, I never gave it to anyone of you to read. The reason is that it's not true, they say it's true, but it was told by Shiva to Pārvatī “What is a Guru." Why I didn't give because all these Gurus in the market they say “Alright, I'm your Guru and this is Guru Gītā." In the Guru Gītā, it's written “Give all your money, all your belongings, all yourself, tana, mana, dhana, your body, your mind, everything, to the Guru and become a stupid fool." So they give it to them. That's why I didn't give it to you. But today Rajesh, I've told you for the first time, but that does not mean that you should follow the way it has been described by Shiva.

Om Twameva sākṣhāt Śhrī Ādi Guru, sākṣhāt Śhrī Ādi Shakti, sākṣhāt Śhrī Dakshinamurti, Shri Mataji, Śhrī Nirmalā Devī namo manah.

In the Guru Gītā, Śhrī Shiva, who is also known as Śhrī Dakshinamurti, the one who faces the south, is, at the request of Śhrī Pārvatī, telling Her as to who is the Guru. And Śhrī Shiva tells Śhrī Pārvatī in the Guru Gītā who is the Guru. And in the first He says that: In the word Guru, the first letter, the Gu, highlights the attributes of Māyā whereas the second letter Ru destroys the illusion caused by the Māyā.

So he is first and foremost the one who destroys the illusions that are caused by the māyā. He also creates them, he destroys them. He alone has that position. And therefore the position of Guru is the most exalted and most inaccessible even to all the Gods and Śhrī Guru is worshipped by them all.

Salutations to Śhrī Guru who pulls out those fallen into the ocean of hell while sitting on the tree of mundane world.

Salutations to Śhrī Guru, who is Śhrī Brahmadeva, Śhrī Viṣhṇu and Śhrī Shiva and who alone is the Superior Brahma.

Salutations to Śhrī Guru who has created all knowledge for benevolence of the people so that they have the bridge to cross the ocean of the mundane world.

Salutations to Śhrī Guru. who opens the eyes of one who has become blind due to the darkness of ignorance, by anointing them with the kajal (collyrium) of knowledge.

Salutations to Śhrī Guru, for achieving the enlightenment in the world: `you are my father, you are my mother, you are my brother and you are my God.' Salutations to Śhrī Guru who is the truth and in the light of this truth the world becomes manifest and you are the one who is the joy that enchants that world.

Salutations to Śhrī Guru who is the Sat, the pure existence, the truth, having known which, the world of variety of forms and objects, ceases to appear as real.

Salutations to Śhrī Guru, whose form is cause and action and who is present as the cause in all action.

Salutations to Śhrī Guru, whose presence as the cause and actions in everything, brings oneness, brings the collectivity, brings the integration in the variety of forms and objects.

Salutations to Śhrī Guru whose two lotus feet dispel the heat of duality and save us from all calamities.

Salutations to Śhrī Guru, with our speech, with our mind, with our attention with our eyes. For the Guru is verily Śhrī Shiva and Shakti together and whose two lotus feet, are red and white and full of splendors.

I meditate upon the Śhrī Guru, on the letter Gu which shows the state beyond the three Guṇas and Ru which shows the formless forms and who bestows on us the form which is beyond the three Guṇas.

We bow again and again to Śhrī Guru, for destroying through the Self-realisation, the Karmas (fates) that we have accumulated during the series of all our past lives.

We bow again and again and again to Śhrī Guru, for there is no principle above that of Śhrī Guru, there is no penance that you can do. For the highest penance is to be done is to achieve Śhrī Guru and no knowledge can exist beyond the principle, which is Śhrī Guru.

We bow again and again to Śhrī Guru, who has shown us the form of uninterrupted canopy that has pervaded all living and non living things.

Salutations again to Śhrī Guru, whose lotus feet are bedecked with diamonds which are the Śhrutis and the lustrous lotuses of the Vedas.

Salutations to Śhrī Guru who spontaneously awakens in us all the Pure Knowledge.

Salutations again and again and again to Śhrī Guru, who is Chaitanya, eternally serene, beyond confusion, extremely pure, beyond the Nād, the bindu and the Kala.

The origin of meditation is the form of Śhrī Guru, the origin of Pūjā is the lotus feet of Śhrī Guru. The first Pūjā is the Pūjā of the lotus feet of Śhrī Guru. The first mantra, the origin of the Mantra itself is the speech of Śhrī Guru, the first liberation, the origin of all liberation, is only by the grace of Śhrī Guru.

Sākṣhāt Shri Mataji, Śhrī Nirmalā Devī namo namaḥ.

Contents: 1991-08-01*, Public Program, Day 1, Others Should not Take Advantage of You, Natura Artis Magistra Konigsnsalle, Amsterdam, Netherlands

Sahaja Yogini [introduction]:..... Shri Mataji is a sixty year old Indian Lady who established a new Yoga method: Sahaja Yoga. Her full name is Shri Mataji Nirmalā Devī, but she is called Shri Mataji which means `Holy Mother'.

.....

In the flower-like figures, there are the seven energy centers, called Chakras in Sanskrit.

Sahaja Yoga means `spontaneous'. In this Yoga, you have, in fact, nothing to do. Inside our physical body, we have a subtile energetic body: seven main energy centers linked together by the energy channels or Nāḍīs.

The three most important channels run in our spinal cord. The people who use more their left channel are living mostly on the emotional level, get attached to the past and are easily dominated. The aim is that the two lateral channels get balanced and allow the central channel to express itself. At the basis of this central channel resides the Kuṇḍalinī, [Divine Energy] in the hollow part of the Sacrum. When she rises along the central channel, you feel her as a Cool Breeze over your head or on your fingertips.

.....

Shri Mataji speaks:

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

At the very outset I have to say that Truth is where it is. It is what it is. We cannot change it, transform it, or conceptualise it. Also unfortunately, we cannot know it at this human awareness. We have to become a subtler being what we call the Spirit. Otherwise it is not possible to feel the Truth. The Truth is you are not this body, not this mind, [UNCLEAR not/nor] this ego or conditionings but you are pure Spirit.

The second Truth is that there is a subtler power of Divine Love that does all the living work. We have never felt it. Holland is a country of flowers but we've never thought how these small seeds have produced such beautiful flowers, spontaneously. The seeds had the potential to sprout and the Mother Earth had the potential to make them sprout. But we take it for granted.

Look at ourselves. Look at the eyes that we have. They are such beautiful micro cameras. But we do not know how we have achieved this stage of human awareness. From the amoeba stage to this stage we have come, but we do not try to find out how. In the Zen system of Buddhism it is called Tao, which means how. But as in every system they have lost their way to reality because of ignorance.

When we find that science cannot give the answer to absolute questions we take to other things to find out the truth. Say for religion, we take to some religion, but we find that anyone from any religion can commit any crime; there is no binding force. They may claim that they are the chosen ones, but they don't behave that way.

So there is something wrong. We have missed the point. In every religion, at the beginning of it, it is said that you have to find your Self, “Know thy Self!" One cannot achieve this Self-knowledge by reading books. It cannot be reality. By seeing a film about Holland I do not come to Holland.

So you have to actualise the experience of spirituality.

Now whatever I am telling you today, you have to listen to it with the open mind of a scientist. Treat it like a hypothesis and if it is proved you have to accept it as honest people; because this is for the benevolence of human beings. These are the resurrection times, no doubt. These are the last judgements and we are going to judge by this force of Kuṇḍalinī. We are going to judge ourselves. But unless and until we have our Self, how can we judge ourselves? If I ask you to pay attention to your Self you will not be able to do it. You can pay attention only outside.

So something has to happen within you which should attract your attention inside.

As you have already been told, there is a system within us, a subtle system, that works out this last breakthrough of our evolution, because you are at the epitome of evolution, but there is a little breakthrough needed to achieve that state of spirituality. All of you have got that divinity within yourselves.

It is not manifesting because you are not yet connected to the mains. Like this instrument is made very beautifully but if it is not connected to the mains it won't work. As a seed has to grow out its roots to suck in the power of the Mother Earth to grow, in the same way we have to be connected to that All-pervading Power which does all this living work.

It is not easy in this short time to tell you all about this subtle system within us but one can understand what Self-knowledge is, what the Spirit is. When this power pierces through your fontanelle bone area and connects you to that subtle power then you can feel a Cool Breeze, the vibrations of the Cool Breeze around you.

So for the first time you start feeling this energy around you. Also you can feel, through your fontanelle bone area, a Cool Breeze coming out of your head.

This is the actualisation of your baptism, the actualisation. It is not that I put some water on your head and say, `Now you are baptized.' No. It is a question of becoming; becoming the Spirit. And when this reality starts manifesting within you, you are amazed at your own glorious and beautiful life. This is a living process and it cannot be done by some sort of acrobatics, nor through mental acrobatics, because this connection has to take place; this Yoga has to take place.

And how can you pay for it? How much do we pay to the Mother Earth for producing these beautiful flowers? She doesn't even understand money or banking or anything.

So you can't pay for it and you cannot put in effort for it. Sahaja means, `saha' means with, `ja' means born with you, all of you. It is the right for all of you to be united, to be in Yoga, with that Divine power.

When you are enlightened by the light of the Spirit then you start feeling the centers of your own being on your fingertips. For example, if somebody is developing cancer or becoming mad he does not know. He is not aware of what is happening inside. Nor does he know if there is a friend who is suffering from some malady. But after Self-realisation your fingers become knowledgeable. They can feel the centers of others also.

So you jump into a new dimension of your awareness which we call collective consciousness. Jung has talked about it.

In the scientific field, of course, it is a subject which is now being taken over by many medical practitioners.

There are three doctors in India who have got their M.D. in Sahaja Yoga, in curing incurable diseases. Also there are seven doctors in London who are now recording all the maladies which have been cured by Sahaja Yoga. In Russia there are forty doctors who are practicing Sahaja Yoga.

There is one good thing that has happened to the Russians. They are very well educated people.

There are thirty to forty people who are not educated and who are doing ordinary work and they ask for, say, American jeans or something, but the rest of them are not only very well educated but also very introspective. They are extremely introspective. And the character I have seen of the Russians, since long, has been very introspective. If you read Tolstoy or anyone you will find that they are very introspective. That may be the reason that in Russia it is spreading very fast. They are surprisingly sensitive to spirituality.

There is a place called Togliatti which was established by an Italian who revolted against Mussolini or something and went down and settled in Togliatti. And there are now forty thousand Sahaja Yogis.

And on My birthday they took a holiday, it's very surprising, there was a general holiday. Very surprising! So there's a kind of thing which is built into them that they can be controlled without any state control; because if the Self comes up it is all enlightenment, because the spirit is the source of absolute truth.

But in the West the ideas that we have about our freedom, that we cannot discriminate; and that is how we have fallen into the trap of evil. And many people don't even believe that there is evil. But only after realisation you will understand that your hands will speak. Mohammed Sahib has said in his Koran that at the time of resurrection your hands will speak and they will give witness against you. That is exactly what happens and you start understanding what is right and what is wrong. Freedom doesn't mean abandonment.

The first time I went to America, in 1973 [1972], I told them that they would get into AIDS, clearly, it's on the tape, it's on the television and they got very angry with Me, because they thought that I was curbing the freedom which Abraham Lincoln had pictured for them. Abraham Lincoln himself was a realised Soul and his idea of freedom was not abandonment by any chance.

Then about six or seven years back I told them that if you go on too much on the right side and go on becoming futuristic, you will develop a disease which will make you like a reptile. Your conscious mind won't work. And now they are getting into a new disease, called `yuppies disease', where a person really becomes like a reptile, like a big caught fish. You have to put them on your shoulder and carry them.

They can't walk.

So all intelligent people should try to see why we are in trouble, why we are having ecological problems, why our children are becoming so adamant, arrogant and wasteful. This dry industrialisation has really made us like robots. We have lost the source of joy that is our Spirit. We run after pleasures which have repercussions on us, but they are never joy giving. Moreover we are the slaves of entrepreneurs, their ideas; we are the slaves of the media; also we are the slaves of so many weaknesses that we have. Even if we want very much to get out of it, we cannot because that strength is not there.

So we are automatically moving the way the atmosphere is, the way fashions are, the way we are led into. And we are living in a relative world. We do not know the absolute.

But within us lies the Spirit, it is all there waiting for us and then you know the absolute. Like you have seen these Sahaja Yogis, they are very joyous people because the Spirit is the source of joy. On your fingertips you can feel the truth. This is actually what was called `bhod', or in the Vedas the `vida'; that is to know the truth on your central nervous system. Whatever we know on our central nervous system is absolute. Supposing I touch this flame, I will feel the heat; I mean everybody will feel the same. Also the early Christians were called Gnostics; `gna' means the same. In Sanskrit `gna' means to know, on your central nervous system.

That is why, because we live in the relative world, we are fighting. Everyone thinks that he knows the truth and he is absolutely correct. But there cannot be a hundred truths. It has to be one.

So it's time for all of us to get to that state of Spirit and feel that you are part and parcel of the whole. The microcosm becomes the macrocosm. But again, it is a question of becoming. It is not some sort of a brand. And all of you are quite capable of becoming that.

You don't have to suffer, you don't have to feel guilty, nothing of the kind. There's no need to suffer.

Christ has already suffered for us. Are we going to suffer more than him? And you are not to feel guilty about anything either. These are all wrong ideas. After all you are a human being. You can commit mistakes; not God. But this All-pervading Power is the ocean of forgiveness. It forgives everything. It sucks in all your Karmas, everything.

So the only thing that is needed is an honest desire, a pure desire to become the Spirit.

I would like you people to ask Me a few questions, a few again I say, before we start our meditation for our realisation. That will hardly take fifteen minutes. But it cannot be forced on you. I respect your freedom and the Divine respects your freedom. But when you ask Me questions please remember that I have not come here to take anything from you, but whatever you have I want to just give you the key to that. But those who do not want their Self-realisation should really leave the hall.

Now can we have the questions? Question: Shri Mataji you say that we can feel the truth on our fingertips. What kind of truth can we feel? I told you there are two truths; that you are the Spirit and that there is an All-pervading Power which does all the living work. And through this new awakening you can discriminate between what is falsehood and what is truth about anything. But when you grow more within yourself you don't have to use your fingertips, you just know it. We can say you are like a Divine computer which is absolutely perfect and when your connection is established properly you know the truth.

Question: You have described what the Spirit is and about becoming and I have not clearly understood it.

You see it is a subtle subject no doubt. And it is the ocean of knowledge. Now for example there are so many lights in this room and when you want to put on the light, I just have to tell you to put that switch on and everything comes on, because it is built in. It is all built in.

So the best thing is to put on the light first. If I go on telling you about the invention of electricity, how it came to Amsterdam, how this was built, it will be all boring and maybe you may not understand.

So the best thing is to first get your enlightenment and then, I think, I must have spoken about the Spirit... there must be at least ten or fifteen tapes, must be there, on the Spirit. It's a very subtle subject.

As you have to have a microscope to see the things in a cell, you have to become the Spirit to know fully well about the spiritual science.

Question: I have a very strong longing for Self-realisation but I also have a partner. Does the desire to be with this man go against the Self-realisation? [Laughs.] You see everything works out, don't you worry.

People in the audience: [ask for the question to be translated].

Shri Mataji: It's more personal she is talking. It's personal. See how these flowers are arranged on a bush or on the trees, just see, it's a tremendous force.

Question: Is there a difference between knowing the truth and being the truth? Yes, it's like if you see King Kong in a film you see it's a film, but if King Kong arrives here everyone will run away! [Laughter.] Alright, I think now we should have our Self-realisation.

Of course, there are a few conditions. First of all, I cannot force Self-realisation on you, as you cannot force the seed to get sprouted. I respect your freedom.

Now the second thing, you all should know that you all are capable of getting Self-realisation.

So you must have all self confidence within yourself.

Thirdly, you are not to feel guilty about anything. As I told you, whatever is your past you had better forget; it doesn't exist at this time. We have to be in the present so forget your past as far as guilt is concerned. Also it's a Western mind which always has this guilt. Indians don't have it. I don't think any Indian feels guilty. [Laughing.] Maybe the psychiatrists have put this idea into your heads, or maybe the church. I don't know who.

So it's no use feeling guilty. We must face our mistakes and clear them out.

The fourth condition is that you have to forgive everyone in general. It is even more difficult. But logically, whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything; but if you don't forgive then you torture yourself at the hands of wrong people. While those who have harmed you are enjoying themselves and you are torturing yourself in their place.

So this is all mental torture for nothing at all.

So you forgive them. Do not think about them. They are not worth being remembered. Just in general say I forgive every one of them. Finished! You will just feel so much lighter I tell you.

I think these are the only conditions. It means, in short, that you must have respect for yourself because you are a human being. We are glorious. We only have to discover our glory and divinity.

Self-realisation.

Most of you have got it. I bow to all of you. Now you are becoming saints.

May God bless you all.

Tomorrow again I'll be here and some Indian musicians are coming to sing to you. And I'll meet all of you tomorrow. Also call your friends and tell them to come along.

Thank you very much.

[Applause.]

Contents: 1991-08-02*, Public Program, Day 2, The Liver, its Problems and Treatment, Natura Artis Magistra Konigsnsalle, Amsterdam, Netherlands

I bow to all the seekers of truth.

Yesterday I told you that truth cannot be felt at human awareness and that the truth is that you are the pure Spirit. In the evolutionary process you have become a human being, but there is a little growth needed in your awareness where you become the Spirit. To start that growth you have to awaken a power within you which we call the Kuṇḍalinī.

Somebody should show it [on the Chakra Chart]. Now this residual power is the reflection of the Holy Ghost.

In the Christian religion it's a mystery, the Holy Ghost is a mystery. Maybe because Christ came on this earth and he was here only for eight years in Israel, in that place where he was born; and then he had to go to India for twenty years. And he came back and three and a half years only he got before people crucified Him. And as I told you, three and a half years is nothing to explain to people, because it took Me four years in London to give realisation to seven hippies. It's a headache I tell you! [Laughter.] They were so argumentative and so ignorant and arrogant; I had to use all My patience and love to bring them round.

So I must really give credit to Christ and the people around him who at least listened to him even these three and a half years.

But this growth of spirituality within you can only start once it has been sprouted; the seed has been sprouted; and that is what we call `Self-realisation'. To begin with you can feel the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost out of your fontanelle bone area as you felt yesterday; and also you can feel this All-pervading Power of Divine Love. But then you have to have patience with yourself because there are obstructions where this power goes and cleanses your Chakras, your centers. It is a living process and it is not an economic affair, I should say.

So it works out spontaneously; for which you cannot pay.

But people who make money... you pay them money, you get involved and then you think `Let us go through it because we have paid.' Like you go to see some show, you pay for it and though it is horrid you go through it somehow. But in Sahaja Yoga because you have not paid, you take it for granted and do not understand the value of Self-realisation.

Moreover you are absolutely free to leave Sahaja Yoga or to enter in; there is no compulsion of any kind. But those who are of that spiritual intelligence understand and they grow into Sahaja Yoga.

So the first thing you must know is that you cannot pay for your awareness to be improved. You cannot pay for your realisation. You can pay for this hall alright, but not for your Self-realisation, or for any knowledge which is pure.

So we must first of all understand that, even if you get realisation, unless and until you grow to the full extent you will be half-baked Sahaja Yogis. And a Sahaja Yogi has to have a complete understanding about himself, as to how his growth is taking place inside and about everything that is outside; the Sahaj Yogis, the people, the country, the ecology; everything he has to be aware of. And this you do not have to pay for, nor do you have to put in much effort.

Once you get your Self-realisation you get into meditation. You don't have to do it. You get into the meditative mood.

So you just have to practice how to get into the meditative mood of thoughtless awareness. You are aware, but you are thoughtless. You can imagine, if this earth was always bombarded as the thoughts bombard us, how could this tree grow? So you have to achieve a state of thoughtless awareness which is very easy for you, but you have to give some time. In the morning time about five minutes or in the evening about fifteen minutes. Also we have collective programs which you must attend.

As we do not take money we don't have elaborate palaces for you. We have very humble places and we have to humble down. Once you are established then you just seek the comfort of your Spirit and nothing else.

I have already told you that, believe Me, you are all capable of getting your Self-realisation and that there is divinity within you, all of you. There is innocence within you which is not lost. Innocence cannot perish. It is eternal. The only thing, like clouds, it is covered by our wrong behaviour.

So you should not believe anyone who says that you are a sinner or anything like that. It is not so. As I said, you don't have to suffer. It's a wrong idea. Why should any father make his son suffer? And when Christ himself has suffered, why should you suffer? Can you suffer more than him? And he never suffered because he was an incarnation. They don't suffer. It's a drama for them. And they play it well. [Laughter.] So with that happy mood we have to know about ourselves a little bit. I'll tell you where we go wrong, but on one promise, that you are not going to feel guilty about it. Howsoever you may go wrong; there is a string which pulls you back to normalcy. It is the string of your seeking and it's a string of love.

So you should not become desperate by any chance. And whatever I am telling you, you can just listen to it but you should not imply it to yourself at all. And by no means condemn yourself.

So here we see now, in this drawing1 is the complete mechanism that works out our Self-realisation. In the medical terminology we know there is an autonomous nervous system.

So it has got two sympathetic nervous systems, left and right and the central one which we call the parasympathetic. In Sahaja Yoga we know that these two systems, left and right, work for two different things. The left and the right...

For example, if you are running you can increase the beat of your heart.

So in an emergency you can use either the left or the right; but when you stop running the central autonomous nervous system, called the parasympathetic, acts and brings it to normal.

So now we have three systems working within us; and in our evolutionary process whatever we have achieved is expressed in our central nervous system.

So the left side is, as I told you yesterday, the power of desire and the right side is the power of action.

So the left side looks after our emotional side and the right side looks after our physical and mental side.

So in the brain we have got the left side... because it crosses over...

So the left side, acting for the right side; and the right side acting for the left side.

So now when we act on our left side you see a balloon-like structure develops in the head which is the conditioning and when we act on the right side then another balloon develops which is the ego. Both of them meet together and overlap each other. That's how we become a closed personality.

Now we have to understand how we develop these two things, like conditioning and the ego. If we are futuristic we move to the right side. If we think too much, we plan too much, we move to the right side.

We start using our conscious mind. With that, if you have also physical exercises like jogging or another kind of `Haṭha Yoga' so-called, then you go more to the right side. When you go more to the right side you start using your conscious mind much more than you should use. As a result you have developed a horrible disease now in the West called `yuppie's disease' where human beings just become like reptiles.

Now some people go onto the left hand side to balance the right side. Like a pendulum goes to the right then it must move to the left.

So to overcome the right side they start indulging into things. Of course, we had horrible people like Freud who was absolutely half-baked. He didn't know about these two things. He only talked of the left side. And he has reduced human beings to a sex point.

Movement towards the left started with all these horrible... they are anti-Christ's. They are anti Christ! Because Christ has said, “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes." Can you imagine? Up to that; up to that subtlety he said, there should not be adultery in your eyes. But I don't know who we worship.

In all the Christian nations all you find is one fundamental principle; is to see and to be seen. All the time the eyes are hovering like that, full of lust and greed. It's very surprising how this has gone into our heads. Our attention has become very disturbed by this.

So as a result of movement to the left we start indulging into all kinds of so-called pleasures.

Then all kinds of funny people came up saying that we must experience everything. I was told there is a poet who started this hippyism here. Experience everything; we experience all kinds of drugs, all kinds of alcohols, all kinds of women, experiment with... why not with poison? And somebody told Me; because it is new you must experiment. There's no wisdom in this kind of preaching;

no wisdom; and no understanding of totality and reality. It is such a horrible thing that I feel absolutely concerned that; what is going to happen to this decadent society? Say in France, if you go... When I first went to France they said that, “Mother, you look so happy and people will think you are an ignoramus. You have to look miserable." So I started My lecture with `Les miserables'. [Laughter.] If at every tenth lamppost there's a prostitute standing and after every twentieth lamppost there's a pub and after that somebody is selling drugs, what else will happen? You will be miserable. You are inviting your pain. And then on top of that, very nicely, very generously, they say there is nothing evil, nothing evil. There is no evil. No evil! So now once in a dinner I was sitting with the ambassador of Mexico and he told Me that one should always experiment with something new and Freud told us something new always. I said, “Alright, we have had this kind of dinner before, but we have never tasted the table.

So why not eat the table now, to be new?" [Laughter.] There should be some traditional wisdom in people to understand that, why should we try whatever is new? We should know whether it is detrimental to our health or not; and not try everything that is new.

And what I found about these seven hippies, they were extremely greedy! They used to eat a lot, which I was surprised about, as if they were taking some sort of an appetizer. And such a lot of food they would consume! I was amazed; how could they manage? So they told Me they take that `bung', what is it in English that `bung'; hashish? They take that hashish.

In India, where it grows, some servants, some miserable people take it. I mean, I have known only one person in My household who used to take that, but he was regarded as a leper. No wife will live with such a man, no children will live. He will have no jobs. He will have to stay somewhere like a leper, in a leper's home. Nobody educated can think of such a nonsense. The first small thing we must understand is that whatever destroys our awareness, or changes our awareness for a short time, how can it be good for us? I am sorry; this is the first time that I am talking so clearly to you people because I have found that Dutch people are very intelligent. I have talked about these things to Sahaja Yogis but never to the general public, because half of them might leave.

Then we had some people who came. They had hair all twisted, with lice in their hair and I asked them, “Why do you do this? It's primitive." He said, “I want to be primitive." [Laughter.] I said, “You cannot be, because your brain is modern. By growing this kind of hair how can you become primitive?" And then he came to Holland, I must tell you and died here.

So many of them have died and do you know, they were seekers of truth. They were seeking something beyond and in their earnestness they lost the path. It's very sad. All these things have happened.

So many people we have lost.

So this kind of indulgence took us so much away from the central path of our ascent.

Our Chakras are made like this, left and right, both sides. Now if you start using too much on the left or the right they become constricted and if something happens suddenly on the left, or a shock, they just break.

So the connection with the whole is lost and then you start moving on your own. That is how a malignancy is created. That is how cancer is created.

I have to tell you about this right side because actually in the West people are more right-sided. I will be just dealing with one centre because there's not so much time. We have this second centre here in yellow colour if you see, it's called the Swādhiṣhṭhāna. It manifests your aortic plexus, in the medical terminology. Maybe they might have changed the names because I did medicine a long time back.

Alright, now this aortic plexus gives us physical and mental power. And, as you have seen, it goes from the right, turns towards the Optic Chiasma and goes to the left hand side as ego. And it gives us ideas about the future.

So now, when a person thinks too much... We just go on thinking like mad, I mean, there's no need to think so much, but we do think. We try to plan everything; now how will I go, which bus shall I take; then I'll go home, then my wife will be angry... or some sort of a thing. We cannot remain in the present.

The future doesn't exist so we waste our energy thinking about the future. But this centre has too much work when you think, because it has to convert... or give energy to the brain cells.

So now when you think too much, other functions of this Swādhiṣhṭhān centre become absolutely zero. The other functions are liver and pancreas, spleen, kidney and part of the intestines.

So when it is neglected, first of all your liver goes out of order.

The liver is the one that takes out poison from your body and throws it out. Throws it into the... I don't know the English word, we can say, throws it into the blood circulation, to make it simpler. But when this liver is `out', all that heat remains in your stomach and when this heat starts rising you develop problems of your lungs, like asthma. This also melts the phlegm and you develop a funny type of a cold, like hay fever and sneezing; all the time cold.

Some people sneeze sixty times in the morning.

Also this heat goes to the heart and you get a heart attack. There are two types of heart attacks. One which comes because of overwork, like the one I told you and another one from a lethargic heart, like angina. Now this heat goes downwards, it coagulates your kidneys. Then you cannot pass urine, you have to be on dialysis. You just spend money and then die. This heat goes downward and you get constipated and you have all the troubles of constipation. This is only because of one centre.

Another is your pancreas. Now this pancreas is actually the one which is responsible for absorbing your sugar but it is so big that it cannot do it, so you develop diabetes. You develop diabetes because you think too much. Can you believe that? In Indian villages, you see the farmers, if you don't give them the sugar where the spoon has to stand at a right angle they will say, “This is not tea!" you know. [Laughter.] But they never get diabetes because they don't think. [Laughter and clapping.] Then the third horrible disease people develop is due to the spleen. The spleen is the speedometer within us. Supposing you eat your food and just walk or run, then you get pain in the spleen because it reacts to emergencies. It has to produce more red blood corpuscles, RBCs, whenever there is an emergency. But our modern life is so hectic that in the morning first you see the newspapers, already one shock. [Laughter.] I mean, there is always horrible news and you get a shock. Again this poor spleen starts pumping out.

Then you have a hangover, [laughter] so you don't get up early very much, so you have no time even to go to the bathroom.

Somehow you get dressed and get into your car without taking your breakfast, of course, you may carry some food with you and on the way eat it and when you go in the office the boss is shouting at you; you come home, your wife is shouting at you, [laughter] or maybe the husband.

Because of this hectic life you have no patience, with yourself, or with anyone else. But this poor spleen doesn't know how to cope with crazy people who are all the time hectic. It becomes mad and it starts producing all these RBCs all the time. It doesn't know when to... just like a crazy person. And then suddenly a shock comes from the left side; he gets a horrible disease called leukemia, blood cancer.

It is curable in Sahaja Yoga. We have many cases. If you follow Sahaja Yoga, it's absolutely curable.

Those who are cured are architects, chartered accountants, doctors, lawyers and bureaucrats, [laughter] and bankers. It's surprising. And also the women who are very much planning all the time and hectic, can have children with this leukemia, can have children with diabetes.

So with one centre in imbalance, going to the right, how many diseases are standing on our head? But the most dangerous is the last centre which manifests the pelvic plexus and is the centre which also looks after sexual activity. This is the centre of innocence. Now when we indulge too much, arbitrarily into all kinds of nonsensical things, you see... There's nothing like private parts left; nothing like private parts. And when it gets spoiled you get so many varieties of diseases and basically so horrible; starting with AIDS and these muscular disabilities. All diseases of muscular disabilities come from that. Also you develop these horrible secret diseases like gonorrhea and all that.

This centre is to be respected. We have to respect our chastity. If we do not have a sense of chastity, we are in for trouble. And when somebody says this, people don't like it. They think that it is being made into a taboo and their freedom is curbed. But actually we become slaves of this. I mean, in India we never know anything about this till we are married and we produce children alright, much more than any one of you can do. [Laughter.] Sometimes I think the way children are treated... In England they say two children are killed in London city every week, killed by their parents. I think all of them want to be born in India, where even if they have ten children, they will love all of them; because we never have problems in producing children. While, you would be surprised, in England, in Germany, even in America, the white people have a negative growth rate. I don't know about Holland? Also Holland? So we have gone wrong somewhere. We have to understand that these things are not joy giving. If it was nice to carry on with ten men or ten women then why is there jealousy? You should have enjoyed it. But it's not so. Husbands murder wives, wives murder husbands. All over these things happen. That means basically we don't like all this.

So now we have to understand that we have to respect our innocence.

After Sahaja Yoga you will be surprised, your innocence will be awakened. Your eyes become innocent.

You can see Sahaja Yogis how they are. We had recently about one thousand five hundred in Italy. They don't look at women or men. Nothing of the kind! Nobody has the fear that when he goes home his wife will run away with another. Nothing of the kind! There is no such insecurity anywhere, such pure relationships and we have marriages and we have children, no problem! There is no insecurity of any kind in Sahaja Yoga.

So this is what happens to you spontaneously and you become a really righteous person and you start enjoying your value system. Of course, I must say that India has other problems; economics and politics... horrible, horrible.

So if I say that this is the sin against the Mother, of indulgence into such pleasures which are destructive, then India has got the sin against the Father, because they feel so insecure. Politically, economically, it's a mess. They tell lies. I mean just see the way these false Gurus are telling lies. I'm amazed.

I heard about TM being very successful here. It's very surprising. You see, such lies! After four or five years they all become recluses. The gentleman who was running their `Flying Academy' in Runnock in Scotland came to Me with his wife and his child, with his director. They all were suffering from epilepsy, of a serious type. Especially that lady, for three hours she used to be in that state. Luckily, in those days My husband was on tour, so I put them up in My own house. They all got cured and now they have gone to South Africa because they were South Africans; but they lost all their property, they lost all their money and became bankrupt. The husband was a diamond merchant and the wife was the daughter of a duke.

And they told Me about the lies. That the first time, when they joined, they were asked to take some mantra; and three mantras were used. And were told with a great... you see, you couldn't just sit like this... you had to go through seven rooms and the Guru was sitting at this height, the “giggly Guru" he was called, he was four feet tall! And you had to pay in advance for that mantra. And the mantras were `inga', `pinga', `tinga' ! [Laughter.] There are no such Sanskrit words and this Guru doesn't know a word of Sanskrit himself. He speaks some sort of a, what you can call a rustic language.

So `inga' means the scorpion bite, `pinga' means when a person gets possessed and goes round and round and `tinga' means showing like this to someone [thumbs up sign].

For this they paid three hundred pounds; and then they had to go to Switzerland... I mean, people must use their brains. They should have asked some Indian. He would have laughed! Then they went down to Switzerland, six thousand pounds, to learn how to fly in the air. Why do people want to fly at three feet like that? Imagine the jam on the road! You can't, you cannot fly. It's all nonsense. Alright, they believed it; they wanted to fly, six thousand pounds! And then they were asked to go in a hotel and stay there. And you'll be amazed, they paid six thousand pounds and they were asked to drink the water of boiled potatoes for six days to become lighter in weight.

[Laughter.] Then, on the seventh day, they were given the rind of the potatoes, the skin. And then, on the last day, they were given potatoes to eat. Six thousand pounds! Then they were made to sit on some sort of foam and they started jumping and so many broke their bottoms, really and they have made a case against them. And they have paid, they have paid! In America! All kinds of things there are; one better than the other I tell you. There's no end to these stupid people who came here and told all kinds of lies. And you people believed them? And they said, “Mother, but he said he was Bhagwan." So what? They are liars of the first waters. They can tell you lies. Because Dutch people never tell lies, that's why they think Indians cannot tell lies. You were all cheated and I feel ashamed of the whole thing. And to add to all this nonsense Mr. Freud, Mr. Sartre and all these nonsensical people were throwing their theories at you.

And the worst are the entrepreneurs. They introduce new ideas. Like in England, with that cold weather, people were wearing pants with holes in them, square holes. And I asked them, “Why do you wear these holy pants?" “This is the fashion." But in England it's so cold, I mean, you will get into trouble.

Then the ladies had to wear something extremely tight, some new fashion, so they could not get into the buses.

So they had to be pushed like this! [Laughter.] Every time I come I find a new fashion of the hair, new fashion of the dress... because these entrepreneurs are working out their machines and they want you to pay for it. That's all.

So this is the Paris fashion, this is this fashion. Why should you take to all that nonsense? I am just telling you because we are not aware as to how these entrepreneurs are befooling us. There's no alternative left for us to be befooled, that's all, I think.

If you come to Sahaja Yoga, you develop that age old wisdom which is there stored up in your head.

Because, when the Kuṇḍalinī comes up here, she enlightens you completely. Then you understand how mad this world is and then you realise how you can be benevolent to yourself, how you can bring benevolence to everybody else, because you get empowered. Permissiveness and abandonment are not freedom. Freedom is only possible when you are the Spirit. Freedom which has no wisdom in it cannot be freedom. But when you have your real freedom nothing can dominate you. No one can cheat you. You know everyone very well.

Today I am sorry I didn't talk too much about Sahaja Yoga, but about how we have gone into wrong alleys, because we have to come to the centre.

So the attention is spread like this, like a cloth you can say and when the Kuṇḍalinī rises she pulls the attention into the centre. This attention becomes so active and so effective that even paying attention to somebody you can help them. The eyes become so innocent that even a glance from such a person can do many things. You just feel that you are the storehouse of peace, joy and wisdom. But you don't feel superior to others, but you feel concerned. Most of the Sahaja Yogis are asking Me, “Mother, what is going to happen to this world? When are all of them going to get realisation?" It's your freedom that you should take your realisation. I cannot force it on you.

I would like you to ask Me some questions again today for a short time, remembering that I have not come here to take away anything from you, but I am going to give you something that is your own, the key to that, which has been there all the time, in a sleeping state.

So when you ask Me questions, please ask Me questions which are related to this subject.

Question: How do you know when your Chakras are cured, when your Chakras are complete?

Shri Mataji: Then you start getting a Cool Breeze in your hands and it starts flowing from your head, a lot of Cool Breeze; and you can get thoughtlessly aware; and you can give realisation to others; and you can cure people; and you are in joy. Joy is not unhappiness and happiness. It's not duality. It is joy to be experienced.

Question: What should we do with our sexual energy when we are not married?

Shri Mataji: One should marry, [laughter and applause] that's why you have that energy and marry nicely for ever.

Question: This man has had an amputation of his hand but he still feels this `phantom pain'. How does this work?

Shri Mataji: We'll see that. You try Sahaja Yoga. What is this gentleman saying? Question: I started with Sahaja Yoga three years ago but so far I have not had any particular experience, even though I meditate twice a day.

Shri Mataji: Where did you start? Question: He started in Antwerp but he is not participating in the meetings.

Shri Mataji: You see, I told you it's a collective happening now. It's not like other, former types of saintliness where one individual was a saint. You have to be in the collective, like you are part and parcel of the whole. Supposing my nail is cut out, it will never grow, will it? If you live individually it won't work out.

And the feeling is so strong that I am very proud to tell you that twenty-five German Sahaja Yogis flew down to Russia to help the Russians. At their own expense, everything, they were there and I was amazed to see them there suddenly.

So they said, “Mother, are we not supposed to do something for what our forefathers have done?" And such love between them, really, I mean, it's to be seen and to be enjoyed.

We have Muslims, we have Christians, we have all kinds of races, white, black, all kinds, there's no question of feeling that you are something different, because your Spirit is the collective being. It's the reflection of one God Almighty. And when you become that, not only that you are collectively conscious, but you become collective. Like if this hand has any pain, this other hand immediately goes to help; you don't have to tell this hand.

Question: Can you explain me more about sexual energy? [Some laughter.]

Shri Mataji: What? Question: How to deal with it.

Shri Mataji: First you get your realisation. In darkness you do not know how you are related to others. In the light you will know.

Question: Is Sahaja Yoga your own creation?

Shri Mataji: No, not at all My creation, I wouldn't say that. It's the most ancient thing and even if you read the whole of Patanjali's Sat Yoga it's the ultimate aim.

Actually, we had three types of movements in spirituality in India, three types. One was on the right side where they were dealing with the Vedas; so just to enlighten the elements within us. But `vida' also means to feel it on your central nervous system. And the very first words of the Vedas say that; by reading this, if you do not know the truth, it's better to close the book, if you do not seek the truth.

Then there is another one where they thought of devotion, of `Bhakti ', praying to God. But without connection if you pray, how can God hear you? Kṛiṣhṇa has also said it should be `ananya Bhakti ', which means when we are connected. Without a connection we cannot telephone to God, that's the point.

Now the third was the central path, which was done by Nath Panthis, since long. Ultimately these two had to submerge into the third one of ascent.

Fourteen thousand years back Mārkandeya wrote about Kuṇḍalinī, then also Ādi Shañkarāchārya, everybody has talked about Kuṇḍalinī. But the system was such that the tradition was to have one Guru to one disciple only, one disciple. And it was all in the Sanskrit language.

So only in the twelfth century one great saint, called Gñyāneśhwara, wrote about it for the public in a local language. Then it started, like Kabīra, like Nanaka, like Tukārām, all of them started talking about it to people. They were individuals and they all suffered a lot.

Buddha also has said the same thing; Mahāvīra has said the same thing; Zen is the same thing; Tao is the same thing; Christ has said the same thing; Moses has said the same thing; Mohammed has said the same thing, they are all related to each other. Christ has said, “Those who are not against us are with us." Also this is the tree of life. In the Bible it is written, “I'll appear before you like tongues of flames." These Chakras look like that. Mohammed Sahib has clearly said “that at the time of kiyama” resurrection, “your hands will speak and will give witness against you." So they all have said the same; only we are fighting because we have blinkers.

Question: What is the relationship of Prāṇa to your system?

Shri Mataji: Prāṇa is the right side and when it is enlightened it is called Praṇava. Prāṇa is only right side. That's why I said Haṭha Yoga is not suitable for you.

Sahaja Yogi: He is arguing that `asanas' are the second stage in Patanjali's system Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: No, no, not at all. Yama-niyama is one of the ashtangas. There are eight fold in Patanjali, out of which one is Yama-niyama. Out of niyama there is one fold which is exercises, asanas.

And there are only ten asanas, he has written, ten. And they are all related to Chakras.

So only when the Kuṇḍalinī rises and she stops at some place due to a physical problem, we also use any one of these asanas. But it's a science, it's a science. But otherwise the way people are doing asanas, it's something like taking all kinds of medicines out of the medicine box without any discrimination.

With enlightenment this Prāṇa becomes Praṇava. But the whole of Patanjali's work is so big, out of which these exercises are so little and the rest of it is nothing but Sahaja Yoga. [Laughs.] He has talked of Nirvichar Samādhi, meaning thoughtless awareness; he has talked of Nirvikalpa Samādhi, which means doubtless awareness; everything, the stages which you have to pass. This All-pervading Power is called Ṛitambhara Pragñyā, which creates the seasons. Ṛitambhara Pragñyā. `Pra' is for enlightenment, `gya' is the knowledge, knowledge that is enlightened.

They say that a little knowledge is more dangerous than ignorance. But these are not the days of Patanjali. As we have grown outside, this knowledge has also grown deep. And if we do not have the knowledge of the roots, this big tree will fall over.

So we have to have the knowledge of the roots.

Question: How do we get knowledge?

Shri Mataji: Just now we are going to work it out. You are a real seeker I can see that. You'll get it in no time. Alright, so let's have the knowledge now. He has already asked the right question to Me, “What about the knowledge?" Now, what's it? What is that gentleman asking? What is it? Question: Is it destiny for each living creature to reach God's will?

Shri Mataji: It must be something like destiny. Otherwise in this place, Amsterdam, there are so many people, how is it that so few are here? While in Russia I have to always hire big stadiums.

So it must be the destiny that they go to false Gurus and finish off. It must be destiny. I can't explain it otherwise.

You are destined to be realised so you are here. It must be your good deeds of the previous lives, “Guru Puṇyas" as they call it. Guru Puṇyas.

Question: Is Sahaja Yoga the same as Kuṇḍalinī Yoga and if it is, can it be dangerous?

Shri Mataji: It is actually Kuṇḍalinī Yoga; but in the so-called `Kuṇḍalinī Yoga' there is no Kuṇḍalinī awakening at all. It's hokus pokus! [Laughter.] What is your question? Question: If there is a catch do we focus only on that and how do we discriminate between which medicines to take?

Shri Mataji: That of course they will tell you. You will know yourself. It's not difficult. You will be amazed that this enlightenment is so great; I am Myself amazed that, such a subtle knowledge, you know it in no time. I mean except some mad people who are really mad, that's different, but otherwise you know it in no time.

Question: Whatever happens, does it have to happen? Is it our destiny?

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course. [Laughter.] You are here because your destiny has brought you here.

What you think is not your destiny, but what it is is. What is he saying? Question: And there is destiny?

Shri Mataji: That's it. [Laughter.] Those who are not destined will not even stay for the program.

[Laughter.] There are people who come all the way and just leave the hall before realisation because they are not destined. You can't help them.

Question: Shri Mataji, but what happens to these people? [Someone leaves, laughter.]

Shri Mataji: I don't know where they will be fitted in. I just don't know really. You see, My concern is with you people, the seekers.

Question: The Bible speaks about the apocalypse and that it should be horrible.

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course. It's all there. [Laughter.] Very much so! Question: Is this also destiny?

Shri Mataji: Of course it is. This is the resurrection time. But don't ask Me about Me, I'm not going to tell you.

Question: Why?

Shri Mataji: Why? Because Christ said he was the son of God, which was the truth and people crucified him. I don't want to get crucified just now. [A lot of applause.] You'd better find Me out yourself.

Through your Spirit you can find out about Me. I'm not going to tell you anything about Myself, because you can find out the absolute truth.

So let us wait till you get your realisation.

Question: Christ didn't say who he was.

Shri Mataji: He did in a way. I mean he did say in a way. You see, he should have been more cautious as I am now. Because he didn't know people could be that horrible. He talked of his Father, he did everything, but people could not tolerate anyone saying that. Today also it is the same situation, where the thieves have become great, religious people; thieves, the Mafiā, this, that; while a real person is nothing. No saint, real saint, was spared; even in India they were tortured. We have to establish the emancipation of the whole world so we have to be careful. What is he saying? Question [arguing]: Christ knew everything at the time he lived.

[Some people ask this man to be quiet.]

Shri Mataji: It's true, agreed. But today there is no Christ. I am sitting before you, all right, so don't avoid Me now.

[Indicating another person:] What was it that he wanted to know? Question: Could you say something about the astral worlds Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: Oh that's all nonsense. [Laughter.] You should go into the kingdom of God first of all and then know all these things, all right. This is all horrible stuff. You will know each and every thing. I am not saying that you will not know. You will know everything. But first you achieve your status, you achieve your protection. As you have to be a doctor first, then to operate.

Question: She has a Guru and she asks if you know this man. His name is Da Free John, or Da Kalki he calls himself.

Shri Mataji: You see there is a saying; Guru Nanaka has said, “Guru wahi jo Sahibamili hai." which means, “He is the Guru who just gives you Self-realisation, to be in connection with God." The rest are not Gurus.

[Some disagreement from the person asking the question.] See now, if you are satisfied with him you can go to him, but as far as I'm concerned, I don't think your Guru is alright, to be very frank. She's catching so much on the left. Of course, there are real Gurus no doubt, but they are not in the market. I am the only one who has ventured.

Question: Why has Sahaja Yoga not come earlier?

Shri Mataji: That's a question really. You see I had to find out a way, a method, by which I could give `en masse' realisation.

So with My own penetration I tried to understand human beings, their permutations and combinations. It only worked out in 1970 and I started Sahaja Yoga with one lady. One! Moreover, it's a living process. You can produce thousands of plastic flowers, but to produce real flowers you have to have time.

I came here in the year 1965 with My husband and I met one man who was very much interested in Sahaja Yoga, but when I told him he said, “Don't talk about it." Officially, I was here with My husband.

People were not prepared also. I went to America before any one of these Gurus had gone, but they didn't like Me because I was not pampering their ego.

Question: Why do you think people need Gurus?

Shri Mataji: There is no need at all. You have to be your own Guru. You have to be your own Guru, but of course you need guidance no doubt. Without enlightenment how can you be your Guru? Actually, I would say it was the advertising department of these Gurus which has worked on the minds of people. Any advertisement, you see, really makes you absolutely surrendered to it.

So they earn this money by befooling people and making big, big advertisements, then getting more people and more money and making more advertisements, very huge big... they own newspapers, they have got big television channels and everything.

So if you can be befooled by advertisements, how can anybody help such people? We should not get enamoured by that. For example, whatever I have said also you shouldn't have blind faith. If you experience it, then. When you experience it, then as honest people you must know that this is the truth. Alright? So now let us have it because I've spent about one hour answering your questions. I was going to spend ten minutes but it doesn't matter. Because you are intelligent people you must ask questions no doubt.

But that proves beyond doubt that you are free people. You cannot ask any questions to these Gurus. No questions are to be asked. Alright.

But asking questions, answering, I am very good at, because now I have known all kinds. But this is mental acrobatics. This doesn't give a guarantee for realisation.

So if you want to have your realisation you must have it and have a very strong desire to have your Self-realisation.

[Self-realisation.] Most of you have got it, most. One or two, or three, four haven't. It doesn't matter, you have to be honest.

I bow to all of you. You are all saints. Look after your growth.

There are some people who did not feel it. They shouldn't feel so bad. The Sahaja Yogis can work it out for them. They can come out and then Sahaja Yogis will work it out for them. In any way I would like to shake hands with all of you.

Contents: 1991-08-02 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Ashram, Weer Street, Zāndam, Amsterdam, Netherlands

[Everyone is allowed to greet Shri Mataji in person. Shri Mataji receives lots of flowers, the Dutch translation of the Ascent and a table cloth, embroidered by the Dutch ladies. She shows the children how to make paper airplanes.] So I have to congratulate you all for coming to Sahaj Yoga in Holland. It's very important. [Waiting for some people who still have to arrive.] So it's nice to see really so many people in Holland, really. I'm very happy because I was thinking we should go to Sweden, to Norway and I always said let it be settled first in Holland. In the beginning it was so difficult but now gradually it's settling down and I think from yesterday's group we might get lots of people.

You see the main problem of Dutch people is this, that suddenly they got this idea into their heads that nothing is evil and nothing is wrong. Everything is alright. And that's how it all started working here in a wrong way. And we came here much later than that, so already this idea was prevalent that nothing is wrong, everything is good. And that's how they went to all kinds of people and drugs and, I mean, everything. Because once you start thinking that nothing is bad then you do everything; and this came out of their stupid ego that they thought of abandoning everything.

But maybe it is a reaction to the austerity of the church, maybe. Maybe. They said, “In any case we are sinners, so why not sin?" [Laughing.] In any way we are branded permanently as sinners. And there is no limit to that also that you are a sinner. Up to a point everybody's a sinner.

So it's alright, we are sinners, so let us have all the sins upon ourselves. Enjoy yourself and then die. Finished! So despite that there are seekers, you could see yesterday, so many of them. And most of them raised their hands, I think except for ten people. It's very surprising. And none of them asked Me to cure them or anything; very positive.

So now I would suggest that you people have to understand that you are now the foundation and everybody must learn to little bit sacrifice. Because this kind of a place [the house Sahaja Yogis were living in] is not going to work out very well. We have to have a separate place and a good place to live in. I've told him to find out some nice place a little away from the city. Because for your programs you can hire some hall or something, but for your living and for your own meditation you must have a proper ashram for which we can work out something.

So try to find out something outside and with about ten, fifteen rooms something like that. Or some dilapidated thing which we can repair would be good. That's much better.

So, by next year he hopes we will be able to get something.

But you also should decide to live together, not to live separately. Also living separately builds up your ego much more.

So all of you should try to live together and work it out, because unless and until you live together you will not know if you are alright. Like a ship has to go on the sea to know it is seaworthy. In the same way, when you are in the collective only you will know whether you are Sahaja Yoga worthy or not.

If you live individually it's different. I've seen people who live individually do not grow much. It is a collective happening. Because Sahaja Yoga is very different from other Yogas which are really for individuals. This is for a collective happening. And the collective can only grow if you live collectively.

So all of you should prepare for that, to live collectively. It's very important. Individualistic life has lead to this kind of an ego business also quite a lot. Even when they came to Duilio this time in the program it was such a nice one. They started suggesting, “Can we buy our houses here?" And I said, “Nothing doing." You see they just don't know the enjoyment of collective living. Also you start living then you will know. How you have to adjust yourself, how you work it out. If you cannot adjust there's something still wrong with you. That is to be accepted.

Something wrong. You have to improve. And it should be very congenial living like one body. Then you can say you are alright.

Like in Austria, they're all one and they're all after the life of this X, you know. This mad person, he's really mad. I mean, he must be mad to do all that. I mean I just don't want to condemn him so much as people have condemned him, this stupid fellow X. But now poor thing he'll lose his house also.

He can't get that house for which he's done, because he had not paid the tax saying that this belongs to the collective. And they were all paying for the mortgage, so how can he now get the house? Poor thing you see. Stupid! And, he's really mad, I can't understand. He's the one who saw My photographs of Sahasrāra and all that; and after seeing all that, how can you be so stupid? Whatever it is that's just one person like that, but the Austrian collectivity is very strong; and now the French, after this thing has happened, the French collectivity has become very strong also.

So in the same way I think, collectivity works much faster and even, you will see children will improve.

See this child, as you were saying, she was not even talking and now how much she's changed by collectivity.

So one should not develop individualistic things, or your children will be harmed. If you live individually your children will be harmed. You cannot. It has to be collective. Alright Richard? Richard: Yes, Mother.

Shri Mataji: I'm really amazed to see the change in you. It shows everybody can change.

May God bless you.

Still but you... Robbert has to work out. Still his problems are there. I mean these Rajneesh people I tell you. When they came to Me they were shaking like... One of them collapsed. Do you know what he's done? You never went to his ashram did you? Robbert: I went to a centre...

Shri Mataji: Imagine those who have lived in his ashram what must have happened.

Robbert: No, I never went to live.

Shri Mataji: That's what I'm saying. Those who must have gone how he has damaged them completely.

Maybe that time's gone now? North of Italy there were many of them. And the way he died and everything happened in Poona, it's terrible because when he died you see... they said that there was one lawyer from Canada and one doctor from America or something. They had puzzled? out all his money and everything. There was not even money for his cremation and then the doctor said that we should cremate him within half an hour's time. Then they discovered he had AIDS so to the nearest place they took and burnt him off. And none of them got much money so they announced there's no money at all.

sucks their soul Nobody would buy even his bed. [UNCLEAR].

The other day we had somebody from Rajneesh. You could make it out because... I knew he was from Rajneesh; he was all burning; all his nerves were out and he was tense and that sort of thing.

Sort of his neck was all... he'd put on some sort of tentacles here. He couldn't talk to Me like that without doing like this. Horrible! He was very thin and all his bones were showing and he said, “I have no job, nothing. I was a manager and I've lost everything in this life." I said, “You are very badly off” and he looked pretty poor. Then he told Me Rajneesh.

I said, “You see, you have to give him up." “No, no, no. He's my Guru. I can't leave him." What to do? All his backbone was just jammed. All had come out! [UNCLEAR]. And when he was sitting with Me to help he just ran away. I said: “What happened?" there was such heat. Very bad! Now this TM has to go also some day. Also has to go? It appears he's writing a book? He wanted to have my permission to say that he was cured by Sahaj Yoga.

So Holland has one very great point that there are so many flowers and the flowers are the most beautiful things God has created, or the Ādi Shakti has created, in the nature. That's the best because they have fragrance and the Sahaja Yogis are the other things She has created which are very fragrant.

So Sahaja Yogis have to live in one house and to love each other and to be fragrant with love.

If you want to find faults with others then you are not a Sahaja Yogi. That's one of the things one should know that you cannot find faults with others. Better find faults with yourself and that's how the collective will grow. I know at first you'll have some problems living together, will be a problem. But then know that there's something wrong with you. You can get out for a while, work it out and try to clear it out. But unless and until you live together you will not know, what's wrong with you.

I mean of course in Sahaja Yoga there's no compulsion nothing but I'm just guiding you for your ascent.

All the time you must do meetings, you must get up at the right time, do the meditation and then in the evening you do maybe meditation, some music, everything; and you are in the know of everything that is happening in the whole world.

If people have any questions they can ask Me, would be a good idea.

[UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Come along, ask a question.

Sahaja Yogi: Mother, should we find a permanent centre?

Shri Mataji: Yes, not centre, if you can get that would be nice. That's alright. Try it. In the city there should be some place where they could meet you as such; could be an office of Sahaja Yoga plus a little centre. But you'll be increasing very fast and I don't think you will have to hire something. I mean, unless and until you hire something you cannot manage. Look at yesterday, the hall was full and some were standing outside.

If you become collective then, I mean your lives themselves, that will impress people.

Sahaja Yogi: [Centre in Breda.] I have a question for Breda.

Shri Mataji: How far is it?

Sahaja Yogi: A hundred kilometres, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: It's better in such countries if you go to smaller places. Like in England; you see in England what they have done, they've got Sahaja Yoga in every crook and corner and now they are making a pattern, a kind of a network and that's how it spreads. [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, what can we do to make it easier get up earlier because we feel it's quite heavy here in Holland...?

Shri Mataji: Then at night time you should work hard. Before going to sleep you must clear out yourself. For example in your case it's the left side. You have to take three-candle treatment for about eight days. For eight days you'll have to take three-candle treatment, at least and then you'll feel like getting up. If you work in the night before sleeping you'll feel much better. Put your attention to your Sahasrār.

Three candle treatment you should take... and somebody should give you three-candle treatment. And at least two candles you can easily do. And then you should wash your feet properly, you should do this washing your feet with salt water and then go off to sleep, but before going to sleep you must put your attention to your Sahasrār. Very important! Tie up your Kuṇḍalinī take a bhandan and sleep. Especially who are left-sided always have this problem.

But ultimately everything works out you see. But one thing you should be collective, it's very important.

And Gaṇeśha has to be settled down. Now this place is just temporary and also the neighbours are there, all the problems with the neighbours and their vibrations! That's the worst. Worse than the neighbours are their vibrations! But not in Cabella; when we came at all I must say they were very nice. Very sweet!

Sahaja Yogi: Mother, there's a new technique now by which you can scan documents and you can put them into computer and make books with it and I was thinking would it be a good idea to have all Your Pūjā talks scanned and put and bound as books...

Shri Mataji: That would be good.

Sahaja Yogi: May the Dutch have the honour to publish your complete work? [A lot of technical explanations about scanners (reading and storing documents) and CD-ROM (a whole encyclopedia on one CD); Johan de Cocker Question: “CD one" three shelves of books on one CD, search all information on any topic etc...]

Shri Mataji: Find out how much it is.

Sahaja Yogi: Why don't all people come back after enjoying Sahaja Yoga?

Shri Mataji: Well. It's a very good start. I started with one person. And now you see, there are so many. It's incredible how it works out. I didn't expect this during My lifetime.

[After this point the meeting got a bit more informal, Mother gave a bhandan to the gambling problem and noticed other addictions were over the top already, mentioned the ashram should be in the country.

We all bowed down to Shri Mataji.] May God bless you all.

Contents: 1991-08-03 Quotes from the Article "SHRI MATAJI longs for a `new awareness' of human beings `Everything is business oriented' " by Marjan Van Den berg published in `Typhoon newspaper' after a Press Conference, Ashram, Weer Street, Zāndam, Amsterdam, Netherlands

[A small group of Sahaja Yogis sits barefoot. A reporter of Krant op zondag (Sunday newspaper) sits ready with a tape recorder and the other one from the Typhoon newspaper holds a draft.] Woman is the source of love. God is a woman. Churches always wanted God's division: Father, Son, Spirit. God is the source. It is a shock for Islam but in Koran also it is written that chastity should not be challenged.

The people who follow Me are a special category of people. They are looking for truth, lost as they were in the crave for material things but now they are saved.

[Shri Mataji takes a strong position against this commercial conditioning so vivid in the whole world:] In all areas, they drive people mad. They conceive the fashion in such a ridiculous and limited way and the people just follow them! Look at the hairstyles they are able to create. Everything is done in such a way that you are compelled to change regularly.

No paradise after death but paradise on earth. Jesus never promised paradise. Christians read a book and walk on it with eye aps. After Christ's words, there is Paul who never saw anything in fact.

Contents: 1991-08-04 Śhrī Buddha Pūjā, You Must Become Desireless, Brielpoort Sports Hall, Deinze, Belgium

Today, we have assembled here to do Pūjā to Buddha.

As you know Buddha was a son of a king. And one day He was shocked to see a very poor man, thin man, walking on the street, very unhappy person and He felt very sad about it. Then He saw one person who was very sick and about to die. Then He saw a man who was dead and people were carrying him to the cremation ground. This all upset Him very much and He started thinking about it and seeking what is the reason for all these happenings in human beings. Firstly, why do they become so miserable or sick, or, why do they die so miserably? The reason He found out in His search. He went round the whole world, I should say, in the sense: He read Upanishads, He read... went to many Gurus, went to many places of spiritual education, Benares, everywhere He went. And ultimately, He was sitting under a banyan tree when suddenly His Kuṇḍalinī was awakened by Ādi Shakti and He got His realisation. Then He realised that the reason for all this is the desire.

In Sahaja Yoga, we have now understood that all other desires are not pure desires. Firstly, whatever desires are fulfilled, we are not satisfied by it, first thing. And secondly, all these desires have a repercussion.

So what is the pure desire? That, you all know, is the Kuṇḍalinī. Kuṇḍalinī is the power of pure desire, which fulfils your pure desire to be the spirit, to be Buddha, to be enlightened. Buddha means a person who is enlightened.

So Gautama become... became Buddha, as you people now have become Sahaja Yogis. But because He went through all these various penances, whatever He learned became part and parcel of Him, but in Sahaja Yoga it is all Sahaj.

So we always conclude everything that “This is, after all, Sahaj." And when we try to work out anything, we always say, “Oh, it will work out spontaneously. It's all right, Mother will do for us everything." This is a common failing in Sahaja Yoga.

So whether to put you all through that long process or to give you realisation was a question before Me. Because, in these days of confusion there cannot be much time to put you through all which Buddha had gone and He was one individual, I had to put all of you. That would have been very difficult. I don't know how many would have sustained it. Most of them would have dropped out half way, or maybe quarter of the way.

So it was done in a Sahaj manner. You did not have to sit in a banyan tree. Ultimately you got your realisation. Your Kuṇḍalinī was awakened and you got your enlightenment.

But that enlightenment which settled in Buddha, is not settled in us because our Chakras were not cleansed as He had cleansed His Chakras. We had the same body, the same mind and the same attitude when we got realisation.

As we were looking at the house of God, still we are looking at the house of God, but you have entered inside the house and you have to look out from the windows. This you forget. And though we are sitting now on a hilltop out of all the congestion and all the traffic, still you see a car, you get frightened. You don't know you are sitting on top of a hill where your Mother has put you nicely. And that is how you try to behave.

When I get reports about Sahaja Yogis, I am quite amazed that they do not know that they are realised Souls now. That's why Buddha talked of desirelessness. It's not possible before realisation, even after realisation I find it's difficult.

Some sort of a subtle desire exists and where you have to work it out, you do not work it out, saying that “Our ego will be catching." So wherever it suits us we work that way, wherever it suits we work this way.

The solution of the whole thing is one which I have found out Myself, was this: that it's a collective happening. A person who is an individual can never get over his ego. Individualistic person cannot get over his ego. The one who lives individually, wants to enjoy everything individually, can never get over his ego because you have not gone through all that penances. Or else, if you are an individual then you better go through all these penances and then come back.

So the solution is to wash all our Chakras, cleanse our life in the collective and this is what was the solution of the problem of ego.

Formerly, everybody worked out individually. Like they had to go to Himālayas, take some Guru, then the Guru would throw him out. Then he would go to another Guru, then work there, then he'll throw it out.

Then next life he'll be born again; again he'll be thrown out. Ultimately, if one Guru accepts, all right, very well. He's beaten up, he's tortured, he's treated every way, hanged upside-down. And then ultimately, if any Guru gets nearer to any one individual, he would give him realisation. This was the situation.

But in Sahaja Yoga, the door is open, anybody can come in, anybody. Get your realisation. Because I have faith in collectivity, this collective life will definitely give you what Buddha got through His individual efforts. But there also we fail that we do not know how to be collective. Individualism is all the time around us. In every way we think of individuals. Wherever collectivity has worked, Sahaja Yoga has prospered; and wherever it has not worked, there has been a problem.

So it is very important that we should look at ourselves and see for ourselves and see how much collective we are. Do you enjoy collectivity, or not? Are you aiming at collectivity, or not? As soon as I thought of this Cabella place you have seen and I thought I'll make a little ashram there, near the river, for you. Immediately people said, “Mother is it all right if we buy our own houses here?" Immediately.

Then what is the purpose? And then they will call Me, “Mother please come to my house for dinner.

Please come to my little house for some tea." I'm not interested.

So in Sahaja Yoga, unless and until you really become collective in every sense, you cannot ascend and you cannot wash yourself, you cannot cleanse yourself. This point He did not say, but in a way He did say because He has said, “Buddham sharanam gacchāmi." First I surrender myself to my Self-realisation. Then He said, “Dhammam sharanam gacchāmi" means the Dharma in me, I myself surrender to that Dharma.

That is spirituality. And thirdly He said, “Saṅgham sharanam gacchāmi." Saṅgha means collectivity, I surrender myself to the collectivity.

But He did not know how to give en masse realisation at that time.

So He got hold of disciples who had to shave off their heads, whether you are a queen or a king; who had to wear only one cloth, whether you are a man or a woman; who had to have only one mat to sleep in a big hall. No husband and wife, no marriage, nothing. And they had to beg their food in the village and feed the Guru and also they themselves had to eat that food, whether it was sufficient or not. That is not in Sahaja Yoga. Everything is enjoyable in Sahaja Yoga from the very beginning and you are supposed to be absolutely joyous people in Sahaja Yoga. That is there. But the joy of the collectivity, if you do not know how to enjoy, then you cannot ascend, because there's no other way out. What is the other penance? For some people even collectivity is a penance till they start enjoying it. And they are very troublesome; “This is not good” very critical.

Some of them stay in the ashram and criticise everything all the time. “This is not good. I don't like this, I don't like that." So here, in complete awareness, I mean you cannot be mesmerized. If you are mesmerized then you can live whatever way you like. But in complete awareness and full understanding we have to become collective.

This is one of the solutions for our cleansing. We can say like this: supposing My hands are dirty, so I go to one tap and I find there is one drop coming, so I can't wash.

So I go to another place, there's no water. Third place I find there's nothing available.

Ultimately, I reach the place where I find some water. Then I wash Myself completely, because I know I can't find it anywhere else.

But in Sahaja Yoga, you are immersed in the water of collectivity. If you enjoy this collectivity and can swim in that, then there's no problem.

Buddha, as you know, is working on our right side, on our Āgñyā. Is very surprising, the Deity like Him, to work on the right side. First He said, for the right side, you should be detached, desireless. I mean, nobody would work if they have no desire and if they have no way of earning something out of it, I mean, in the normal sense.

But desirelessly you have to work. Then only the right side can be conquered, very symbolic. Normally the right-sided people are extremely thin, but Buddha is very fat. Normally the right-sided people are extremely serious, very serious, even if you tickle them they won't laugh. But Buddha is laughing all the time with His both His hands like this, enjoying Himself. See the contrast.

So when you are working without any desire, only then, this state can be achieved that you'll be all the time laughing. But those who feel that `we are doing this work' with certain desire... I mean, some are very low-level people, want to make money, some, this, that, nonsense, that goes on. But it becomes even subtler and subtler and subtler. As you become subtler, the desires start becoming subtler and subtler and subtler. And if you are not careful, it just comes up.

So He's the one who is on the right side placed, going to the left side. He's the one who has said that “You have to be desireless” on the right side. What a contrast. Specially in the West, I've seen people do little bit “Huh." What have they done? “I lifted that spoon." And with the spoon they sit down. And they are surprised to see Me that I'm not tired. But I don't do anything. I mean, I have no desires. Actually I never do anything; I'm just Nishkriya, I'm just doing nothing.

So, when you become that instrument, surrendered instrument, when you know you are not doing anything whatsoever, then on the right side you achieve mastery. How you achieve mastery? You don't do anything, all right? You go to any shop and you get a jackpot, without doing anything. You do not desire anything and suddenly you find, which you have never even thought of is before you, there, sits there, available for you, just have it.

So, with the desire to achieve something, when you work out, it also has a reaction. Every action has a reaction. But action without desire cannot have reaction because there's no desire already.

Supposing, supposing, I get lost somewhere on the way.

So I never feel upset about it because, maybe I have to be there. Supposing I want to, sort of, I have to buy some, say like a castle, take it like that.

So people get... I have to buy you see, that's different than desiring. I mean, it also came in My neck suddenly, I just said that “I have to live in Italy, so must buy a house” they showed Me a castle and this turned out to be no good. All right, doesn't matter.

Then the second one, everybody got attached. “You must buy this, at any cost" this thing. I somehow didn't like the place very much, but I said, “All right, let their desire be fulfilled." It so happened that they were all uprooted and they had to buy another one, which they didn't want to buy. And I was very happy about it because I didn't desire anything and it turned out to be the best.

The reason is, whatever is best happens to Me.

So whatever happens to Me, I know is the best, is all for My good, is for the good of Sahaja Yoga.

Now anybody criticises Sahaja Yoga, it's very, very good, excellent. Like in India, first of all, there was one magazine where Rajneesh used someone to speak against Me. But that lady had stolen some of My photographs and had given the photographs as well and everybody in My family was so angry, My brothers, My husband, they wanted to sue the paper. I said, “I don't like this idea of suing the paper or anything." So, when we had the first program in Delhi, it was so overcrowded that I could not even take My car inside.

So I had to... I mean, the outside also was filled and they had to put loudspeakers outside the hall.

And I asked the people how is it they are here? They said, “We saw your photographs in the Illustrated Weekly and we were so much impressed." They never read anything, not a word and they were all there. One of them is Harsh and so many of them have come from there, just seeing the photograph.

So if she had stolen the photograph it was for our good and it... I mean, normally we would have paid lot of money to publish something, without paying any money it was there. And then these people, you see, My family people, they saw that this magazine was closed for six months and they had to go into a terrible loss. I didn't desire that either.

When you're desireless you are happy because you are never disappointed, you are never nervous.

So to be desireless doesn't mean that you become something absurd or ascetic or anything like that, but not to expect something. `If I do like this then this will happen. If I do like this that will...' Not to worry, do what you want to do. One thing you should know that nothing bad can happen to you and if something bad is happening, that something wrong with you.

I'll tell you another thing. This time, first time, I fell down a little bit, little bit, not much.

So they said, “You can't go out of the house at all. You cannot move out because it's raining and you'll develop arthritis." I can never develop anything like that, but doesn't matter.

So I was made to stay in the house and I wrote this book in that.

It was nice I fell down. Otherwise they would have said, `Come here, come.' All My family was there for a holiday. Thank God. I got these four-five days, I wrote this book.

So make the best of all disappointments. If there is a disappointment, just smile at it and know for...

it is for your good, to discover something new, to find out something better. But the conditioning is so strong. That's why I say, “Be in the collective." Now for example, we have Indians, we have got French, we have this, that and all that. All their conditions are around them, still. For Indians, must have Indian food wherever they go. It's a very difficult situation. That way you people are better, you eat every sort of... even you eat wretched Indian food. I don't like very much Indian food Myself; it's not very nourishing. It's more tasty but not nourishing. But you don't mind eating any food whatsoever, that's a good thing about you, but your desires are another, little different, which you know very well, I need not tell you. Like, I told ladies not to carry too many cosmetics and heavy things with them, but whenever they come the men break their hands picking up their big, big suitcases.

Now, I'm not saying that should walk about in a manner that is not so decent, but for that, keep to minimum. Or else, there is a competition with a leader, always, somebody will be there. But in the West what I find, not so much for food but for house, even in India, if you marry an Indian wife she'll try, or a Greek, Greek wife also will try to keep the husband to herself, is a common thing, I've seen it. They're something like Indians and they'll spoil the ascent of the husband and theirs also. Is a fact. And very dominating. Indian women won't be dominating but they will try to control the husband, to have another house of their own. But they don't know...

Indians don't know collectivity, they are very individualistic.

Now with Sahaja Yoga, of course, they are learning gradually how to be one with others. Moreover, culturally some people are different so they stick onto their own culture. Of course, whatever is good in any culture should be taken, because whatever is universal culture is in Sahaja Yoga.

But so many things there are where we just falter because of our conditionings. And that's why, at the same time, we had another great incarnation of Mahāvīra, who's pointed out what are the punishments for people who indulge into their conditionings. I mean, horrible things He has talked about. What will happen to people if they have their conditioning, where will they end up, what will be their situation, what kind of hell they will get, this has been described. Horrible things. Of course I'm not going to tell about that today.

But common thing about Him and all His contemporary: like Buddha, Kabīra and all these people, was one thing common which came that they, not Kabīra so much as Buddha, that it's better not even to talk about God but to talk about abstract, about formless. Because the worst conditioning in those days was that once they started worshipping any deity or anything, they became complete slaves of that.

Like Mohammed Sahib also said... He talked of nirākār. But these two went even beyond that and they talked, “There's no God, better not talk of God just now, better get your Self-realisation." I did the same in the beginning. I said, “Get your Self-realisation." Because anybody can start, `I am God.' So they never talked about God, not at all and they all the time said that “There is no God but it is your Self." They tabooed actually, they're called as Nirishwaras, Nirishwarwad did not believe, both of them did not believe in God, but in Self-realisation.

They knew that I had to come and tell you about it.

So Buddha has talked about the future Buddha, which is Maitreya. Ma is Mother, who is in three forms: Mahākālī, Mahālakṣhmī, Mahāsaraswatī. Any Buddhist, if you ask him to ask the question of Maitreya, he gets his realisation just then.

So He talked of Maitreya because He knew that when Maitreya will come, She will have to tell people about Īshwara.

According to them, the people had not that... reached that stage that you could tell them about Īshwara.

So they said there is no God just to accentuate Self-realisation, ĀtmāGñyān, knowledge about your self, Self-realisation.

And early Buddhists, I'm told... of course they were bhikshukas, they were ascetics, but they had the experience of the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost, just like the Gnostics I think, but they were very few.

They were not as many as you are, but quality-wise they were very high because all of them had come through that terrible penances.

So quality-wise they were very high and because the difference between them and others, the quality-wise, was so much that they could not impress the others and so just it died out, I should say.

But still we had Zen, where Viditama, is another disciple of Christ went down... of Buddha, went down and Tao. These two are the ones which are expressing Buddha's ideals about Sahaja Yoga. Tao is nothing but Sahaja Yoga. Tao means how, how it works out and Zen system, Zen means Dhyāna.

So they also believed in raising the Kuṇḍalinī. They did not hit, at that time, anybody's spinal cord, but later on they started hitting people's spinal cord with some stick to put them into Dhyāna.

So Tao and Zen both are offshoots of the same Buddhism, in the real sense of the word I should say, of their ascent without talking about Īshwara, about God, but aims were the same, to become Buddha, but they also died out. I met the head of the Zen who came to Me for curing. I asked him, I said, “How is it you are the leader, you are not even a Kaśhyapa?" Kaśhyapa is the one who is a realised Soul.

So He told Me, confessed to Me they had only twenty-six Kaśhyapas throughout and only after the sixth century it started and very few were there and it has died out. That means how lucky you are that you are all realised Souls.

So for our banyan tree, is the collectivity. We have to make ourselves subtler beings, to be one with the collective and that is very enjoyable, very beautiful. Those who cannot do it, cannot progress in Sahaja Yoga, they are problematic and they create problems and they trouble everyone. Their attention is bad and no one knows how they stand.

So Buddha's message is, of course, is not to develop ego. But how do you do that? First of all, whatever you are doing you have to say, `I am not doing it. It's Mother who is doing it' or `God who is doing it, I am not doing anything.' But if you feel that you are doing something for Sahaja Yoga, it's better you stop doing it. But you should say, `No, it came my way. I just... I didn't do anything. I was just there.

That's all.' Then you have achieved a great deal.

And the second thing is of desire, even desire of anything, of smallest thing or the biggest thing or even loving your children, loving your wife, this `my, mine' all those things; all these desires, if they are not fulfilled you feel frustrated, then you must know that there's something wrong with you. But, if you understand the sense of collectivity, then you can ascend very fast.

I would say Indians are extremely religious, disciplined people, in a way, but they are lacking in collectivity. If they could come up to collectivity, they can shoot off.

The only nation which I have found very good, is Russia. Because of Communism they are collective and desireless, because all their desires were fulfilled by Communistic ideas, they didn't have any choices left and also they were collective. In a way Communism has suited the public not the government. While the other way round, democracy has suited the government to make money but the public has suffered.

So we are people who have not been able to know about collectivity.

So I would say the collectivity develops faster in the West, no doubt, much faster, but desireless, desirelessness is less.

So it's like somebody has the teeth and somebody has the food, sort of a thing. If we can see ourselves as we are and try to understand that either we have this problem or that problem. If you could just somehow or other neutralise this one-sided problem, you could be there, because if you solve one you can go to another, from there to there. But just to stand in the center and see for yourself, `What are my desires?' Count them one by one. I mean if I have to think, `What is My desire,' I become thoughtless, really, My position is horrible. If I have to think, `What should I desire now,' I become thoughtless. I was...

Sometimes I said, “I will develop some ego." I don't know from where to start. Must have some ego, after all everybody has, so why not Me? I don't know how to start it.

Then, we also have these conditionings of developing this horrible thing called guilt. I mean this I, it's another... at the time of Buddha nobody had this problem, I think. This is a modern technique, to feel guilty; some sort of a modernism in it because I don't know how it is worked out. And this modernism of this horrible thing called `guilty' is something really has come to My lot to clear out, not at the time of Buddha, He never had this. Otherwise He would have paved way for Me, but that He did not. He has left it to Me to clear out your left Viśhuddhis and Mine also, all the time hurting Me here.

So this horrible thing, specially Western mind, Indians don't have guilt, nothing, but this has to be overcome.

As you know that Buddha and Mahāvīra both support the center of Āgñyā.

So if you have to have a very clear-cut Āgñyā Chakra then on one side you should be desireless, you should forgive, `kshum'. Kshum is the bīja mantra, is to forgive; bīja mantra of right side. Kshum, I forgive.

And the left side is `hum'. Like the left-sided person always feels, `Oh, I'm no good.' This he has to say, `No, I'm good.' `Hum', `I am'.

So hum and kshum: these are two bīja mantras, which we have to say.

Of course, if you say they will act because, after all, now your pranas have become Praṇavas, your breath has become enlightened, but rather weak I should say, but doesn't matter.

Your mantras can act. You must use these two bīja mantras to clear out your Āgñyās. But Mahāvīra has a solution for this that after realisation if you catch your Āgñyā, you get a terrible headache. That's Mahāvīra's style. You do anything wrong, you get punishment; you indulge into anything, you are punished; you go against Sahaja Yoga, you are punished. I'm not doing anything, it's Mahāvīra, simultaneously working. If you try to be overly smart, you are outsmarted.

So these two forces are working from the right, left, left to right. If you over-do right, then the left hits you hard. If you over-do left, then the right hits you hard. Both of them are like, really like, double-pronged attacks. One is, says, `Don't have desire.' All right, you have desire, punished, this side.

Like, some people say, “I must have children, I must have children." You give them the children, they say, “Mother, why this horrible child you have given me; he's such a horrible thing." Then somebody says, “Mother, give me a lady from, say, Maharashtra." Recently there was a case like that. She was bothering too much, “Mother, give me one lady from Maharashtra." And a real special style came to punish. They said, “No more from Maharashtra” and she was really... I've never heard of such a woman in Maharashtra.

Horrible. Because she was insisting on it, so she had it and she says, “No more from Maharashtra; bārpre bāp." “No, no” I said, “everybody is excellent. This was an exceptional case, came just to punish you." So, to have any desires... if you cross a certain limit you are punished and that is done by Mahāvīra.

In a small way or a big way. Like, there was a little boy who came to London, very bombastic and he wanted to buy something for himself. I took him to an ordinary shop and there was a very nice coat, full wool and all that. He wouldn't buy. “I want to go to a big shop." I said, “All right." So, I said, “I'm not coming." I sent His father. And he came back with an artificial coat from that shop without knowing that it was artificial, because he wouldn't take something from an ordinary shop.

So in the big shop, very nicely, big price they gave and this they got.

Every minute Sahaja Yogis must know that there is a Mahāvīra sitting round. Also, Buddha is there who gives you an indication that `Don't do this. Do not desire so much.' He puts limitations to you; but if you don't listen, then all right, Mahāvīra is there to correct you. Up to a point He goes, then you get headaches, then you say, “Mother, why did I get headaches?" You asked for it. It's such an automatic machinery that we have to be very careful as Sahaja Yogis.

So, today's understanding should be that we all should become collective from inside. We should not grudge or grumble about everything and enjoy the collectivity.

But the second side of collectivity is this, that, do not try to exploit the collectivity otherwise you'll be in trouble. Like, I've seen some people don't know how to use their bathrooms. When you are collective you have to be respecting the collectivity of others. By your presence another person should not, by any chance, suffer, or should not feel in any way insulted or inconvenienced.

So when you are in the collective it should be such that another person should enjoy your company, enjoy your being there. That is something where there is no problem. But if you are demanding and if you are asking for things and you think no end of yourself, you can not at all collective, by any chance, but you'll suffer for that, automatically you will suffer. If this is realised and understood properly, your Āgñyā is solved.

Like anger. There are people always boast, “I'm very angry with him." Boast. But just make that anger into forgiveness and you will see the person, instead of you getting into problems, he will get into problems. Anger will upset you, but forgiveness will upset him, automatically. It's the biggest weapon you have got, is to forgive. And this is shown in Buddha's character throughout.

And this will give you self-respect that you are not disturbed by anything, you see. Like a ship has to be seaworthy. If you put the ship on the sea and if it breaks, what's the use of making a ship? What's the use of a Sahaja Yogi who gets disturbed at every moment? You have to be seaworthy and if you are seaworthy nothing can disturb you. All right. The elephant is walking and the dogs are barking, all right, let them bark. What does it matter? The elephant looks this side, like that, sometimes takes some water and blesses them with water. `All right. Quieten down; so that your head will be cooled down.' That will give you self-esteem and you will know what you are, much higher than others. And this is what is...

how to get rid of your ego, which is a very, very big problem according to you people. “Mother, how to get rid of ego?" Ego can be said, `You go.' When this `I'-ness goes away, the Self rises. What is there to feel hurt? What is there to feel bad? What is there to hurt others? Han [Yes] all right, you are cheated, very good; at least you have not cheated anyone, be happy about it.

But once you are without ego means you have surrendered yourself, no one can cheat you. Can you understand that? No one can cheat you because there is some higher force, which is looking after you.

This is the way we should understand Buddha. This is... we should know our Buddha qualities. This is how our ego can be dissolved.

When you say, “Mother, we surrender to You” That just means that you give that horrible ego a complete holiday, it means that. That is how this ego disappears. I think all your, your... just now, your Āgñyās are opened out, most of you, somehow. And then you'll laugh at everything; you'll make fun of yourself; just enjoy everything.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-08-0x Phone Conversation with Henno de Grāf

[Henno calls Shri Mataji informing about the miracle phone call on August 5 related to a possible Ashram in Amsterdam and about all the obstacles.] Henno, you are a Sahaja Yogi, so don't worry. Everything will work, you just sit back, relax and enjoy! These problems don't exist, just watch the drama.

[In four weeks the Dutch Sahaja Yogis move into the new Ashram. Shri Mataji requests that this miracle is told to all Sahaja Yogis.]

Contents: 1991-08-05, Public Program, Day 1, CA-Tent, Vienna, Austria

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

At the very outset we have to know that truth is what it is. We cannot conceptualise it, we cannot change it, it is beyond human awareness. That means, at human awareness we cannot know the absolute truth. This is the reason why we have different theories which go against each other and we fight. Absolute truth can only be known if you become a higher person. That you have to become the Spirit. This is the fundamental truth about you that you are not this body, not this mind, not this ego, nor your conditionings but you are the Spirit. Unless and until you become absolute you cannot understand the absolute. This second truth is that there is a subtle

All-pervading Power around us which does all living work. We see these beautiful flowers here, we see them, we take them for granted. They have come out of a small little seed differently. How it happens, we don't think. Look at our eyes, what a beautiful micro camera it is, but we just take it for granted. We have also taken our evolution for granted, from amoeba stage to this human stage. Unless and until we human beings find out the truth through this evolutionary process of becoming the Spirit, none of our problems are going to be solved. And it is very easy. Sahaja means `born with you'. And Yoga means, is the union with this All-pervading Power. This is done through a residual power within us, as you can see here, in the triangular bone, of sacrum. This bone was called as `sacrum' by Greeks, meaning the Greeks knew it's a sacred bone. This instrument exists within us and is just waiting to be triggered. And when She rises She passes through six subtle centers, ultimately piercing through the fontanelle bone area giving you the actualisation of baptism.

It is the actualisation, it is not some sort of a brand. And then your growth starts because there is Divinity within you. With this growth you are amazed that physically, mentally, emotionally all your problems are solved. Spiritually, people talk of many things but it is just talk, but is not reality. Unless and until you had the experience of this All-pervading Power it is just a talk. And unless and until you are connected to this All-pervading Power, your life has no meaning. Gradually, we are living like robots, without any joy, without any love.

So, the first experience you get is that you become thoughtlessly aware, meaning you watch something, you just enjoy it but you don't think about it, don't react. And the second state is, we call it as `doubtless awareness'. At this state you yourself develop the power to raise the Kuṇḍalinī of others, curing others and knowing about your centers, that is Self-knowledge and knowing about others' centers, which is collective consciousness. Thus, you enter into a new awareness. When the Kuṇḍalinī pierces through your fontanelle bone area you start feeling a Cool Breeze in your hand. These are gentle cool vibrations which are the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost, or this All-pervading Power. But when you get to this stage that you become the Spirit you become extremely peaceful. Like a wheel which is moving and if your attention is on the wheel, on the periphery, then your mind is all the time moving.

But if you jump on the axis of the wheel it is silent.

So, you enter into the area of complete silence and from there you see everything as a drama, a play. Spontaneously all these things happen to you. You are already built in that way.

Today, I am sorry, the musicians arrived very late because they were stopped at the border and the whole thing has taken so much time. But it is all built-in within you as all these electrical bulbs are here.

If you have to put on the light you have to just press the button. But supposing I have to tell you all about these lights and electricity invention, it's a headache. The best thing is first to get your enlightenment.

For this enlightenment you cannot pay because it is the last breakthrough of your evolution. It is a living process. As you do not pay anything to the Mother Earth you cannot pay to Sahaja Yoga. When we sow the seed, there is built-in quality in the Mother Earth to sprout. And also, there is a built-in quality in the seed to sprout as well as in the Mother Earth. In the same way you have built-in this instrument which works out your spontaneous Self-realisation.

So today, as we have done a little more time, so I would request you to ask Me some questions and tomorrow I'll tell you what is Self-realisation and what is Self. You can ask Me some questions and I can answer them but I have to tell you that this is all mental acrobat. I am not come here to take anything from you but to give you what is your own.

So please if you can ask Me a few questions and then we can have the session of Self-realisation, which will take hardly fifteen minutes.

Such great seekers of truth! So, as you have no questions we could have the session of Self-realisation. First thing I have to tell you that it is a living process and nobody can be forced. If you have a pure honest desire to get your Self-realisation then it will work out spontaneously. Please have full confidence in yourself! Now, there are three conditions before we start. First, as I said, you must have full confidence in yourself. The second is, you should not feel guilty at all about anything, whatever has happened in the past. Because we are all human beings and if we have committed mistakes it's all right. You are not God.

So, to feel guilty is absolutely of no use. On the contrary, if you feel guilty then the center on the left hand side here catches very badly. And this is a very dangerous thing that happens. With this catch you develop a disease called angina and also spondylitis and also the left side organs become lethargic.

So, please forget the past at this moment, you have to be in the present! The third condition is very simple but people think it is difficult. The third condition is that you should forgive everyone without thinking about them individually. Many people say, “It is very difficult to forgive." Whether you forgive or don't forgive you don't do anything. Logically, you don't do anything. But if you don't forgive then you play into wrong hands and you torture yourself unnecessarily while the person who has troubled you is living happily.

So, if you just say, `I forgive everyone in general,' don't think of them, immediately you will feel very much lighter.

So we must have respect for ourselves because we have no ideas to how glorious we are inside, that there is Divinity within all of us which has to manifest to give us joy, it's all waiting there.

So please, forgive everyone, without thinking about them! Now, we have to take out our shoes to take the help from Mother Earth. Put your both the feet away from each other as these are two powers. Left power is the power of desire and the right one is the power of action.

So, we have to put our left hand like this towards Me, symbolic that we desire to have Self-realisation. We have to use our right hand for nourishing our centers on the left hand side. First we put our right hand to our heart.

[Aside:] Somebody should show.

First I will show you and then we will close our eyes. Here resides the Spirit. If you are the Spirit, in the light of the Spirit you become your guide.

So you become your own master.

So now, take down your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. This is the center of your mastery.

Now, take your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. This is the center of Pure Knowledge. Then, you raise your right hand again in the upper portion of your abdomen. Then again on your heart. Now, between the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to your right fully. This is the center which I have told you goes out of order when you feel guilty.

So now, you have to raise your hand on your forehead across and put down your head as far as possible. This is the center where you have to forgive everyone in general. Now, please take your right hand on the backside of your head and push back your head. Here, without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, just for your satisfaction you have to ask forgiveness from this All-pervading Divine Power. Now, please stretch your palm fully and put the center of your palm on top of your head, on top of the fontanelle bone area.

Now, please put down your head as far as possible. Now, please push back your fingers, please do this, push back your fingers otherwise there won't be proper pressure. And now move your scalp seven times clockwise, slowly. Push back your fingers, put down your head! That's all we have to do.

Now, remember you have to take out your shoes, put both the feet apart from each other. Please put left hand towards Me. And the right hand on your heart. You can take out your spectacles because now we have to close our eyes and unless and until I tell you you are not to open the eyes. Those who do not want to have their Self-realisation must leave the hall because it is not civil to disturb others. Now, please close your eyes and don't open them till I tell you! With the hand on your heart you have to ask a very fundamental question to Me. You can call Me `Mother' or `Shri Mataji'.

So ask this question: `Mother, am I the Spirit?' Ask this three times.

If you are the Spirit you are your master.

[To the translator:] Little loudly, loudly.

So now take your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. And here you have to ask another fundamental question three times: `Mother, am I my own master?' I've already told you that I respect your freedom and I cannot force Pure Knowledge on you.

So now take your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen and here you ask for Pure Knowledge, because I cannot force on you.

So please say six times because there are six petals: `Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge.' As soon as you ask for Pure Knowledge the Kuṇḍalinī starts rising.

So we have to open the higher centers with our full self-confidence.

So, please raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side and with full confidence say ten times: `Mother, I am my own Master.' I've already told you that the fundamental truth about you is that you are the Spirit. You are not this body, you are not this mind, you are not this ego, these conditionings but you are pure Spirit.

So now, raise your right hand on your heart and with full confidence say twelve times: `Mother, I am the Spirit.' This All-pervading Power is the ocean of love and compassion. It is the ocean of absolute knowledge.

But above all it is the ocean of forgiveness.

So whatever wrong you may do, this ocean of forgiveness has the power to dissolve it.

So please forgive yourself and raise your right hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to your right. Here, with full confidence, you have to say: `Mother, I am not guilty at all,' sixteen times.

I've already told you, whether you forgive or don't forgive you don't do anything. But if you don't forgive then you play into wrong hands.

So please forgive, because this center is extremely subtle, so please forgive everyone in general without thinking about them individually. Now, raise your right hand on your forehead and put it down. Put down your head as far as possible. Here you have to say from your heart, not how many times, with full confidence: `Mother, I forgive everyone.' Now, take back your hand on the backside of your head and push back your head as far as possible.

Here, without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, just for your own satisfaction, you have to ask forgiveness from this All-pervading Divine Power.

So again say with your heart, not how many times, please say: `Oh Divine power, if I have done any mistakes knowingly or unknowingly, please forgive me.' Now the last center is important, so you have to stretch your palm fully and put the center of your palm on the fontanelle bone area. Now put down your head as far as possible. Now, push back your fingers, this is very important, push back your fingers and press your scalp. Here again, I cannot cross over your freedom and I cannot force Self-realisation on you. You have to ask for it.

So now, please move your right hand with a pressure on your scalp, move your scalp seven times clockwise saying, seven times: `Mother, please give me my Self-realisation.' [Shri Mataji blows into the microphone.] Please take down your hands and open your eyes. Put both the hands like this. Now, put down your head and see with your left hand if there's a cool or a hot breeze coming out of your fontanelle bone area.

[To the translator:] Loudly, loudly! But don't put the hand on your head but away from it and see for yourself, sometimes it comes very much far away. Now, put the left hand towards Me. Now again put down your head and see for yourself with the right hand. Now, again please put the right hand and see for yourself if there's a Cool Breeze or a hot breeze coming out of your head. If you have not forgiven then it will be hot breeze, so please forgive, even now. Now raise both your hands towards the sky like this and push back your head and ask a question three times, anyone of these questions: `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost?' or, `Mother, is this the All-pervading Power of God's love?' or, `Mother, is this the Param-Chaitanya?' Ask anyone of these questions three times.

Now, please take down your hands. Please put your hands towards Me like this and watch Me without thinking. Now, those who felt Cool Breeze or hot breeze on their hands or fingertips or out of their fontanelle bone please raise both your hands.

I bow to you all Saints, the whole of Austria will get one day Self-realisation if we move like this. Now, don't discuss it, don't argue it out, because it is beyond the mental side. Tomorrow I'll explain to you what is the Spirit and how we have problems of our centers. Please also telephone to your friends and tell them to come to get your Realisation. Thank you very much! [Audience applauds.] Those who did not feel cool vibrations should not get upset, tomorrow it will work out.

May God bless you all!

Contents: 1991-08-06*, Public Program, Day 2, Vienna, Austria

May God bless you!

I bow to all the seekers of Truth. I've told you yesterday that truth is what it is. We cannot conceptualise it, we cannot imagine it and we cannot know it with our human awareness.

So we have to become a subtler being that we have to become the Spirit. Only when we become the Spirit then we will understand that this whole creation is looked after by a very subtle power of love of God Almighty.

So to become a subtler being, within us is placed a mechanism about which we told you yesterday.

Today I want to tell you about this power which achieves the state of Spirit and about the Spirit. This power resides in the Sacrum, in the triangular bone. And is the reflection of the Holy Ghost. While the Spirit is the reflection of God Almighty in our heart, the Spirit is the one which is just watching, like God Almighty. And the Power of God Almighty, His power of desire is the Holy Ghost, is the Primordial Mother. They talk of Father, the God, Son, the God and nothing about the mother. How can you have Father and Son and no Mother? But they avoid it, somehow, I don't know for what reason to talk of the Primordial Mother. But in all other scriptures there is a description of the Primordial Mother, like Athena. Atha in Sanskrit means the Primordial. But even if they did not mention Christ's Mother as a Goddess, still the people on their own, with their feeling and with their background of the Pagan religion called Her Madonna. But She was not called as Madonna in the Bible.

Now this Primordial Mother is expressed or is reflected as this Kuṇḍalinī. And this Kuṇḍalinī is your individual mother. And She knows each and everything about you. Many people have said that Kuṇḍalinī awakening can harm you. How can you think that Kuṇḍalinī can harm you when She is your mother? When you were born your mother took over all the problems of your birth. She did not trouble you. In the same way, when this Kuṇḍalinī is awakened She gives you this second birth without giving you any trouble.

So, we have to understand that this Mother Earth cannot give us any trouble when She sprouts the seeds, in the same way this Mother Kuṇḍalinī doesn't give us any trouble. The Spirit is the reflection of the God Almighty in all of us. As there is only one God all of us react the same and so we are collectively conscious when we become the Spirit.

So everyone has the Spirit reflected in his heart.

So when you feel this Cool Breeze as you felt the other day, what you feel is this All-pervading Power. At the same time you become collectively conscious.

So you can feel another person also on your fingertips.

In the Koran Mohammed Sahib has said, “At the time of resurrection your hands will speak." And this is the resurrection time. This is the last judgement. And you have to judge yourself.

The other day in Holland one person asked Me, “Mother, how is it that some people will be saved and some will not." I said, “It is destiny." Maybe those who are here have done such righteous things in previous lives and in this life that they are here. It depends, I don't know how, in Russia for example I have to always book a big stadium. For example there is a place called Togliatti and this gentleman Togliatti was actually Italian. And he revolted against the Christian church and went to Russia. And there he started a big factory for making motorcars. Now there are 40,000 Sahaja Yogis. I've not been there as yet. And on My birthday they had a holiday for the whole city. I can't understand why in some places it works tremendously in a big way, many people come to Sahaja Yoga and in some places there are very few people.

As I told you, when this Kuṇḍalinī rises then you improve physically. Now, I must say many diseases have been cured as a by-product of Kuṇḍalinī awakening. We have three Indian doctors who have got their M.D. in Sahaja Yoga for curing incurable diseases. And there are seven doctors in England who are recording all those who have been cured. But in Moscow there are forty doctors who are practicing Sahaja Yoga. Because for this you don't need a hospital, you don't need money, you don't need anything. It is your own power that works. And once you are properly established, then you don't have to worry about your health at all. It also helps for mentally retarded people, mentally sick people. Because this Kuṇḍalinī, when She rises She is also a redeemer. She nourishes the centers, by that nourishment the centers get cured and ultimately She integrates all these centers. The Spirit, when it shines your attention, then your attention becomes enlightened. If you can pay attention to anyone and try to feel what centers are in problem in that person, you can immediately feel it.

There are many criminals from India who came to the west countries wearing these orange dresses and became false masters.

Some of them also knew how to mesmerize very well. And they have lynched people because main interest was money. Of course there are also other so-called masters in other countries also.

Even a person like Freud, he was anti-Christ, you can see it clearly. Because Christ had said, “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes” such a subtle description of purity. But on the other hand this Mister Freud has made everyone into nothing but a sex point. And the people have lost understanding that these are the human weaknesses. To such an extent they have been misled that they say that you can ascend in your spirituality through sex. This is absurd! On the contrary, in the Christian dogmas people believe that you should abhor sex. This is both are absolutely absurd. One has to have a sane attitude.

If you see it clearly, the lowest center, which we call as Mūlādhāra is placed below the Kuṇḍalinī. Now this center looks after our excretion, including sex.

So your ascent has nothing to do with sex. On the contrary, when your Kuṇḍalinī starts awakening you become innocent like a child. And that is what Christ has said that, “You have to become like children to enter into the Kingdom of God." So it is Sahaja Yoga which really explains Christ and practices Christianity. Moreover, the breaking of the Sahasrāra, which is what we call is the fontanelle bone area, is actualisation of the baptism. You may follow any religion, Hindu, Christian, Muslim, any religion, you can do any sin, you can commit any sin, there is no restriction. There is no restriction from within. But once you become a Sahaja Yogi I don't have to tell you anything. You just become righteous. I don't have to tell you Ten Commandments, you just do it yourself. You become your own master. And you guide yourself. And you know the absolute truth.

You can get ten children who are realised Souls and tie their eyes and put one person in front of those children and ask them, `What's wrong with this gentleman?' And they will put up the same finger. And you ask him, `Is something wrong with his throat?' And he says, `Yes, but how do you know?' Because this finger indicates the throat.

So, these false Gurus who have come here, the falsehood that they have talked, you can feel it. You can feel if they are crooks, if they are false, if they are deceiving you. First of all you should know that you cannot pay for your ascent. Because it is an evolutionary process, which is living process, for which you cannot pay. And then you enter into the Kingdom of God. And then you become joy. Not the wrong type of joy, but joy that elevates you, [UNCLEAR sublimates] you. Joy does not have happiness and unhappiness like two sides of a coin. That means joy is absolute, but pleasures are not. When you indulge into any pleasure it has a reaction, it has a repercussion, but joy is absolute.

So, yesterday all of you who were here, most of you felt the Spirit. Because you could feel the Cool Breeze.

So the growth has started. And hardly you'll take a month to master it. But you have to work it out, because the connection has to be all right. Maybe there are some problems within the being which need to be corrected.

So it would be very nice if you people attend their follow-on and meet them. But the whole thing works in collectivity. See, at the time of Buddha they had to do all kind of penances, cleansing, absolute renunciations. Still they could not achieve their Self-realisation. Buddha also had to suffer a lot in His cleansing. But in Sahaja Yoga it is the collectivity which cleanses you automatically, corrects you, yeah. Now supposing there's something wrong with this left hand, so the right hand immediately helps it, automatically. Because they are part and parcel of one body. In Sahaja Yoga you have become part and parcel of the whole. The microcosm has become the macrocosm.

So now, you can only grow when you are with that body. Supposing My nail is cut from My body, it won't grow.

In the beginning you will find little difficult to adjust to collectivity, you may find that it's not very congenial for you, maybe. Not with everyone, but some people do fuss about it. And the door of Sahaja Yoga is open to everyone, sometimes we also get mad people in Sahaja Yoga. Then you start thinking, `How this mad man is here?' and all that, you start criticising. But if you take to introspection, then it will be excellent for you. And not to worry about others, you will grow much faster. For you are the seed, you are the Mother Earth and you are the gardener. And you are the love that is water.

So as it is, I've told you, all you have Divinity, only thing you have to feel and grow into it. Yesterday nobody asked Me any questions, it was such a good sign that you all want your Realisation, that's all.

Then I told you that asking questions is just a mental acrobats. Now, I can answer all your questions, but, that is no guarantee for Self-realisation. Only thing, you must have the pure desire, pure desire to be the Spirit. Then it works, because the Kuṇḍalinī is the power of pure desire.

As you know all other desires are in general not satiable. This is the only desire which gives you real satisfaction.

Thank you very much! So, are you going to ask Me any question today? Question: [UNCLEAR].

Translator: He wants to know about the appearance of Holy Mary, for example in Fātima or in other places.

Shri Mataji: Might have, might have, it's quite possible, you see one of My photographs, where people are taking photographs and She's there, She's appeared before Me also, it's possible. You must see some of My photographs, it's interesting how these apparitions come in. All right? It's possible.

But unfortunately She's described as just a woman in the Bible, I mean there's no respect for Her.

Must be Paul who must have done it, because he was just an organizer and I think he wanted to use Christianity as a platform for himself. And he had nothing to do with Christ, you see on the contrary he killed one of the disciples of Christ, Steven, he killed him. He must have thought it's a very good way of getting a platform so he must have jumped on the platform. Or might be to make some money. We do get sometimes such people in Sahaja Yoga. What to do? [Laughs.] But he was not a realised Soul, nothing of that kind.

Sahaja Yoga will explain everything, the relationship of Christ with others. Christ has said, “Those who are not against Me are with Me." Who are those? Actually Christ was there till eight years of age and then He went to India. For twenty years He was there. When He came back He lived only for three and a half years. And they crucified Him. I mean, whatever He has done is tremendous in three and a half years. He just used ordinary fishermen and did such a lot of preaching about truth, very forcingly He talked about truth, courageously. But three and a half years is nothing. In England I was struggling with seven hippies for four years, I had to give them Realisation, struggling for four years. They had no background at all. And they are now, I feel, they were following Freud, not Christ, it was such a shock to see.

All right, so it will take as ten, fifteen minutes for us to get to that state. I have to just request you to take out your shoes, to take the help of the Mother Earth.

One thing I have to tell you, that Self-realisation cannot be forced. You have to ask for it in your own glory of freedom, because ultimately you have to achieve the complete freedom, complete mastery of yourself. Where no addiction, no habits, no false Gurus, nobody can dominate you.

So those who do not want to have their Self-realisation should please leave.

Come and sit there, that's your seat, come and sit here. No use standing, please be seated. All of you should be seated will be good idea. You shouldn't stand and watch others, it is not civil.

Now, please try to understand what you have to do and we'll show you that, after that you have to close your eyes. There are two powers within us, left one the power of desire and the right one the power of action.

So we put our left hand like this on our lap, very comfortably. You should not sit with a slouch or a stretch on your body, but just a straight comfortable pose. Those who are sitting on the ground are perfectly all right, they should just take out their shoes. Those who are sitting on the chair put both the feet away from each other.

So we use the left hand to express that we desire to have Self-realisation. And we use the right hand to nourish our centers.

So first we put our right hand on our heart. Because in the heart resides the Spirit. Please put it on your heart. Now, here resides the Spirit.

Now, you take your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen, where is the center of your mastery. When you are the Spirit, you are your master.

So now, please take your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen. Everything on the left side, because this is the center of Pure Knowledge.

Then we raise our right hand again on the upper portion of our abdomen. Then we take our right hand on the heart.

Then we take our hand in the corner of our neck and our shoulder and we turn our head to our right.

This center is spoiled when we feel guilty. And as a result we get horrible diseases like angina.

So please don't feel guilty.

Then we take our right hand on our forehead across, forehead across like this. And put down your head, as far as possible. Why don't you do it, please. This is the center where you have to forgive everyone.

Now please take back your right hand on the back side of your head. And push back your head. This is the center where, without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, you have to ask for forgiveness from the All-pervading Divine Power.

Now stretch your palm fully. And put the center of your palm on top of your head. And now press it hard. Push back your fingers and put down your head. Now move your scalp slowly seven times, scalp! Now, that's all we have to do. But there are three conditions. The first one is that you have to be absolutely self-confident about yourself that you will get your Self-realisation. Whether you have come late or earlier makes no difference. The second one is to forget your past, at this point you have to be in the present.

So that you do not feel guilty. After all you are a human being, you are not God. If you have done any mistakes, it's all right.

This Divine power is the ocean of forgiveness. And whatever mistakes you commit, it can be dissolved by the power. That means you should be pleasantly placed towards yourself and you should have respect for yourself because you are a human being, because you are the epitome of evolution. Only thing, the last breakthrough has to take place.

So don't feel guilty at all, at this moment. Now, the third condition is that you have to forgive everyone in general. As I told you yesterday whether you forgive or don't forgive you don't do anything. That is just mental. And if you do not forgive others you play into wrong hands unnecessarily. And you torture yourself while the one who has troubled you is very happy. Just say, `I forgive everyone in general,' and you'll feel immediately lighter in you head. These are the only three conditions.

Now please close your eyes and please do not open them till I tell you.

So put the right hand on your heart and left hand towards Me like this and both the feet apart from each other. Now, here is the center of your Spirit. Please close your eyes and ask Me a fundamental question, you can call Me Mother or Shri Mataji, whatever you like.

[Aside:] [Hindi.] Here you ask Me a fundamental question three times in your heart, `Mother, am I the Spirit?' If you are the Spirit you are your guide.

So now please take your hand on the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side and press it hard. Here you have to ask another question to Me, `Mother, am I my own master?' Three times.

I've already told you that I respect your freedom. And I cannot force Pure Knowledge on you, which does all the Divine work.

So please put your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. And here you have to ask six times, `Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge.' Six times.

As soon as you ask for Pure Knowledge the Kuṇḍalinī starts moving upward, so we have to nourish the upper centers with our full self-confidence.

So now please raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side and here, with full confidence, say ten times, `Mother, I am my own master.' I've already told you that you are the pure Spirit. You are not this body, you are not this mind, you are not this ego, this conditioning, but you are the pure Spirit.

So now please raise your right hand on your heart. Here you have to say with full confidence in yourself twelve times, `Mother, I am the Spirit.' This All-pervading Power is the ocean of love and compassion, it is the ocean of absolute knowledge, but above all it is the ocean of forgiveness.

So whatever mistake you might have committed, it can easily dissolve all of it.

So now, here you raise your right hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to your right. And here you have to say with full confidence sixteen times, `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' I've already told you whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything. This center is so constricted that, please, you have to forgive everyone in general. If you don't forgive you may not get your Realisation.

So now please, raise your right hand on your forehead across and put down your head fully.

Here you have to say, with full confidence you have to just say, don't say it is difficult, `Mother, I forgive everyone.' You have to say it from your heart, not how many times.

Now take back your right hand on the backside of your head and push back your head as far as possible.

Here you have to say, without feeling guilty, without counting mistakes, just for your satisfaction, `Mother, if I have done any mistakes, or All-pervading Power, if I have done any mistakes, please forgive me.' `All-pervading Power,' you should say.

Now please stretch your hand, stretch your palm and put the center of your palm just on top of the fontanelle bone area and put down your head and press it hard by pushing out your fingers. Here again I cannot cross over your freedom, so you have to ask for your Self-realisation. Now please put down your head, push back your fingers nicely and move your scalp seven times slowly, saying, `Mother, please give me my Self-realisation.' Please put down your head, please put down your head, bend down your head. If you don't bend it won't work out.

[Shri Mataji blows into the microphone.] Please move your scalp seven times, saying, `Mother, please give me Self-realisation.' [Shri Mataji blows into the microphone.] Please take down your hands, please open your eyes. Now please put both your hands like this. Now bend your head and see for yourself, if there is a Cool Breeze coming out of your head or hot breeze, if you have not forgiven it will be hot breeze. But please don't put your hand on top of your head, little away and see for yourself.

Now please put your left hand and see for yourself with your right hand. If it is hot air that means you have to forgive.

Now put the right hand again please and see with the left hand.

Now put both your hands towards the sky and ask anyone of these questions, `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost? Mother, is this the All-pervading Power of God's Love? Mother, is this the Param-Chaitanya?' Anyone of these you can ask three times, questions.

Now please take down your hands. Put your hands like this towards Me. Watch Me without thinking.

All those who have felt Cool or hot Breeze out of their head or on their hands or fingertips, please raise both your hands.

I bow to all of you, you're the saints. I know some people did not feel it, very few, doesn't matter.

[Aside:] What's the time? Those who want to meet Me are welcome, but the Sahaja Yogis should not come.

Those who have not felt should come on this side.

Contents: 1991-08-09 Meeting with a Famous Musician, Airport, Frankfurt, Germany

What use is all this money if you become blind?

Contents: 1991-08-11 Śhrī Ādi Kuṇḍalinī Pūjā, The Power of Pure Desire, Weilburg, Germany

Today we have gathered here to do the Pūjā of Ādi Kuṇḍalinī as well as your own Kuṇḍalinī.

First of all, I think this is the most important thing to understand about your own Kuṇḍalinī, as Self-realisation is Self-Knowledge. And the one who gives you Self-Knowledge is this, your own Kuṇḍalinī, because when She rises She points it out what are the problems on your Chakras.

Now, we say that it is pure desire, but we do not know what purity means. It means your chaste desire. It means it has no lust, greed, anything in it. That power is your own Mother and is settled in your triangular bone. She's your own mother. She knows everything about you, it's like a tape recorder.

She knows everything about you and She is absolutely the knowledge, because She's so pure. And whatever Chakras She touches, She also knows what's wrong with that Chakra, beforehand.

So She's quite prepared and She adjusts Herself fully so that you do not get a problem by Her awakening. If any Chakra is constricted, She waits and goes on slowly opening that Chakra.

Now, this Kuṇḍalinī is the primordial power which is reflected within you. And within you, in a human being it is like many strands of energy.

So it's like a rope and these energies are all twisted together to form this Kuṇḍalinī. In a human being these strands are three into seven, that is twenty-one, raised to power 108. But when your Kuṇḍalinī rises, one or two strands out of this come up and pierce the fontanelle bone area, only one or two. Because it has to pass through the innermost Nāḍī, known as Brahma Nāḍī.

It's all a spiral throughout because Kuṇḍalinī is a spiral and these Nāḍīs are also, are like a spiral like this.

So the innermost Nāḍī is the Brahma Nāḍī. The outermost Nāḍī is the right side and the second innermost is the Iḍā Nāḍī.

So, through the Brahma Nāḍī She starts sending those threads. By that they relax the center. By the relaxation of the center the sympathetic nervous system also starts relaxing. And when it goes to the Āgñyā Chakra then your eyes start relaxing, your pupils start dilating and your eyes can become like Mine, very black, absolutely relaxed.

So, you can easily see in a person how far is the Kuṇḍalinī. If it has pierced the Āgñyā, then the eyes will be completely dilated and will be shining. And then She enters into the Sahasrāra.

Now, it is absolutely pure light of knowledge, love, compassion and attention. All these three things are in that energy. We know of many energies, like electrical energy, we know of light energy, we know of other energies. But these energies cannot think, they cannot adjust, they cannot work on their own.

They are to be handled by us. But this energy, itself, is the living energy and knows how to handle itself.

It thinks.

If you see a seed being sprouted, you'll find at the tip of the seed there's a small little cell which knows how to go around the soft places and then how to encircle the stones and then how to find its way to the source. That cell has got, I would say, a little Kuṇḍalinī in it, the way it moves. But within you is, a tremendous force of Kuṇḍalinī exists.

So, you have a storehouse of compassion, which can be enlightened by the Spirit. You have a storehouse of love, compassion and knowledge and ocean of forgiveness. When people get Realisation, they do not understand that they have to now grow. And why they don't grow? Because they do not ask for these energies. A person who is a realised Soul, if he says that, `I have to have more compassion. My compassion is not all right. My concern about others is not all right. My generosity is not all right. I'm exploiting others. I'm exploiting their love.' Then this energy starts moving, giving you that greater dimension of love and compassion. But, if you do not want to be growing in your awareness, then She says, `All right, he is a half-baked Sahaja Yogi, let it be.' She doesn't supply that energy which is stored within you. I told you, three into seven, that is twenty-one, raised to power 108.

So what a storage you have within yourself.

But because of your mundane style of thinking and asking, in the beginning, when I started Sahaja Yoga people used to ask for, say, jobs or for, `My mother is sick' or a father is sick or they would ask for money or something like that.

So these wants are not pure wants. As we know in economics, they are not pure wants. They're impure wants, because they are never satiable in general.

So this Kuṇḍalinī that is your Mother, She is there to supply you, nourish you, to look after you, to make you grow by giving you a higher personality. Higher personality, wider personality, deeper personality.

Now, we think if somebody is well read, then we think he is a higher personality.

Sometimes a person who is rich, we think he is a higher personality.

Sometimes we think a person who is very hard working is a higher personality.

Sometimes we think a person who is, I mean, some sort of a confusion about religion or something, we think he is a higher personality. Our ideas about higher personality itself are wrong.

People are higher because they are spiritually evolved, otherwise, they are not, they go to dogs. Nobody respects them.

Now we are in Germany and Germany, `germ' itself means actually `Kuṇḍalinī'. Germ means in Sanskrit, as you call it, `aṅkura'. Ankura is the germ. And Germany is the place where we can have Kuṇḍalinī Pūjā, is something really a great coincidence or I think it's just Param-Chaitanya's arrangements.

So, to look at a seed, looks like an ordinary thing, nothing special, could be very hard nut also, mostly the seeds are in nuts, mostly. If they are not in nuts, then they might be having some sheath or something, minimum. But you won't find a seed just hanging from somewhere on a tree.

It has to have some protection, some sort of a hardness outside. Now, that hardness is there, but the germ has a capacity to break that hardness. Just imagine a germ, which is such a delicate thing, which even if you touch it might break. Can it break the covering, the hard shell? How can it do it? Isn't it fantastic that such a hard shell, which we cannot break it with our teeth even, can be easily broken by a delicate germ.

So at that time, what happens is the shell itself doesn't become lively. It doesn't get life.

There is no movement of the shell itself, but it moves and it opens.

So that delicate thing, when it grows, then the shell has to break.

In the same way, this Kuṇḍalinī, which is a delicate thing, if you see a person who is compassionate.

“Oh” they say, “Mother, he's too much a gem, you know." Everybody has sort of a sympathy, protectiveness for that person. “He's just, Mother, he's just compassion, you know, it's too much." We always feel such a person to be very, a weakling, a weak personality and that he should be protected. “Oh, Mother, he doesn't know also how to abuse people. How will he beat anyone? He cannot even kill an ant on this road. How can he do anything when he's good for nothing?" That's our concept, because we think we should have somebody really a tyrannical person to handle things. But just see that in a seed, it is that delicate germ grows and breaks the shell. In the same way, when we become really delicate like a germ and then grow in our delicacy and in our beauty of compassion, love and knowledge which makes you humble, then these shells will break.

But it's the other way round, normally. In Sahaja Yoga now we have leaders. We've had leaders and leaders and leaders.

Some of them came like tigers. I didn't know what to do to them. Even tiger can be ridden by the Goddess Kuṇḍalinī, because this love has the power to break any hard nut.

So what we should ask for is that beautiful, soft, compassionate nature and then the Kuṇḍalinī will supply, because She only has that. Kuṇḍalinī doesn't have anything else. All Her power is of love, nothing but love.

So how can She give you something She doesn't have? Supposing you hate someone, what can She do? She can't do anything because She cannot give you powers to hate.

So what She says, `You hate someone. Hold or forgive.' She gives you the power to forgive.

Like a sword has to fight a shield, not a sword.

So the violence, as they say, can be only fought with non-violence. In the same way, if we have to grow, the Sahaja Yogis have to grow, first of all we have to see how softly we talk, how kindly we talk, how considerate we are. Now this is externally, but when you start doing that externally the energy starts coming internally.

You might say, `Mother, even if you think?' So that's our thinking. No, you're thinking that time. For that thinking, the energy will come from Kuṇḍalinī, because you're asking Her help. Whatever She has, She is willing to give, but whatever She does not have, how can She give? Now, supposing you want to get angry, She hasn't got the power to show anger.

So how can She give you anger and temper? I mean, sometimes I try, “Let's see if I can get into ego." How to get, I don't know.

Because this Kuṇḍalinī [laughing] doesn't know what is this ego, how to pamper the ego and how to make you fly in the air. No.

So whatever kind of energy She is, She will give you that.

So please remember, those who try to bring in assertions and conditionings and ego and all that are not going to grow because they are not getting the energy from the Kuṇḍalinī, but from outside, which is absolutely useless.

So the power of Kuṇḍalinī is absolute purity, auspiciousness, holiness, chastity, self-respect, pure love, detachment, concern, enlightened attention, to give you joy. As every mother wants that her child should get the joy. Whichever way is possible, She'll try to give joy to Her children. In the same way, this Kuṇḍalinī has only one power, how to give joy to Her own children and She does that.

Supposing, I mean, I don't know about modern mothers, but normally, if I would go and say to My mother, `Teach Me how to be angry,' she will say, `You go and cut Your nose.' If I tell her that, `Tell Me how to tell lies" she'll say, `Go and cut Your tongue.' If I say, `Tell Me how to see bad things in others,' she will say, `Take out Your eyes it's better.' All these ideas that we harbor within ourselves make a very big problem for Kuṇḍalinī to enter into your attention.

Now, people always ask, "Mother, how are we to grow? What should we do?" That's why I say introspection. There should be introspection, `What do I want in this life? I should be able to love many more people without any lust or greed or expectations.' All right. Then the floods of abstract love will flow.

She gives you witness state. She gives you peace. How many things She has to give you by which you become so powerful, so very powerful. No one can trouble you. She gives you security. She gives you peace. She gives you wisdom. But if you want to ask for stupidity, She cannot do it. It is impossible. She hasn't got it with Her.

So every Sahaja Yogi who has to grow, must know what is in store with your own Kuṇḍalinī.

So now, if you try to do the other way round, you jump on the left or the right side. Jump on the left side, then you start moving on the left side, then you can become anything.

Whatever we hear about people, the way they murder and rape and this and that and all these things start coming in very easily, because that energy lies beyond the Kuṇḍalinī. Because you move on that side, all right, you want bhoots, have them. You want diseases, have them. You want to indulge into filthy things, have the filth. Whatever you want you can have it. Also that is available. Nobody can stop you.

You want to be sly, you want to be talking behind the backs, all right, go ahead. This is also very common, I've heard that the Sahaja Yogis, specially ladies, go on talking behind about others, discussing. This is how we can never grow. If you have to talk, only talk good about others. Otherwise don't talk, best is.

These things are not going to help us.

Now we are not here in this world, at this stage, to build them more churches or temples or mosques.

No, had enough of them, had enough of problems.

So now we want to make for ourselves abode of love and purity, but those who are residents are not, then how can you have love? It will be always jealousies and selfishness and all those things there.

So when we talk of the light of the Kuṇḍalinī, we have to understand that this light spreads in your life, outside your life and expresses itself in a very, very beautiful manner. Everyone says that Sahaja Yogis look very different from others. “There's a glow on their face. There's a, they look like flowers” so many.

“Relaxed, they're very beautiful people." For example, in Cabella people were so impressed. They said, “These are young people and they have come here, they're not fighting among themselves, there are no hooligans among them." They're quite surprised how you could be so sensible, so many of you.

So many people if they gather anywhere, they can go amok in no time. I mean, even a smaller group can become mad, for no rhyme and reason they go mad.

So this collective behaviour of yours was so much seen clearly by those simple village people. For that, you have to just desire. You just have to desire and this pure desire works out in the right direction, otherwise whatever you desire you can't get it. You want money? All right, have it. Move to the right side. Get money this way. Get money that way. Do what you like. Then you want to kill somebody, all right, get to the right side. You can get many people who will go and kill anybody they want to. Then you want some publicity or something. All right, get to the right side.

All these things can happen, whatever you want according to the movement that you have. But for ascent, your desire should be pure desire to get to that greater personality of love and beautiful relationships.

Today you're worshipping your Kuṇḍalinī. You are also worshipping the Ādi Kuṇḍalinī. Now, you have to find out what are we doing as far as the Ādi Kuṇḍalinī is concerned. When you worship the Ādi Kuṇḍalinī, the reflection in you, which is your own Kuṇḍalinī, feels very happy. Also the Deities feel happy.

In that happy mood you can achieve a very much deeper experience, that's a fact. But, to keep it up, you have to meditate, otherwise all these strands will go back, slip down, which have come out in the Pūjā.

I know everyone likes to come to Pūjā, they enjoy it. But you should understand that, `What do we get in this Pūjā?' You come here, desire for that higher life. But try to get out of this every day-to-day nonsensical life. If you want, you can do it. It's again a question of your wanting.

So throughout it is `want'. What is your desire? We have desire like `children'.

Some people want to have children. After the children are born then they say, “Wow, what these children! God save me!" [Laughs.] Then you want to have money and most of those money people are now in jail. Then you want to have fame. The fame of the people never helps them, only it gives you problems because of jealousies and all kinds of things. If fame was such a good thing, why should people be jealous? So the power of Kuṇḍalinī, which is your own Mother, which has to rise, which has to come up, which has to manifest itself, because of your pure desire.

So in your introspection, in your Pūjās, in your meditation, if you see for yourself why are you meditating, it is for pure desire of compassion and love to be awakened within us. You are already in the meditation, you're already growing, the growth has started.

And you'll grow so fast that this shell, which is this human conditioning and egos will just break open.

And then this small, little thing which is only in the triangular bone, imagine in a... there's a very little space in this triangular bone, that it comes out and manifests and can save the whole world. Just see the magnificence, the expansiveness, the greatness of this Kuṇḍalinī which was within you and which came up in its full strength and has shown tremendous things.

Such people are the really great people and not the people who are trying to show off some sort of a brand cloth they wear and try to show off. All these silly ideas and stupidities have to be given up by Sahaja Yogis.

So that this Kuṇḍalinī wears the beautiful flowers, your words become fragrant, your glance becomes soothing, your smile becomes satisfying. Everything, all your being is emitting nothing but goodness, righteousness, peace, above all, joy. And the joy you feel now, together when we were yesterday clapping and singing songs and were feeling the joy at a very simple, simple music concert, without any drugs, without any shouting, screaming, nothing, very simple. The joy we were feeling, it was because our Kuṇḍalinī was dancing. She was so happy, because what were you asking there? Nothing, but the enjoyment of collectivity.

Collectivity doesn't mean that we all should be stuck together with some glue or something or we all become like Gibraltar, Rock of Gibraltar. No, it doesn't mean that. It means wherever you are, you are connected. That is collectivity. Connected doesn't mean that you hate that person. No, you're connected means you love that person, you're concerned about that person. The connection, the connecting line is of love and not of hatred.

So, when you are connected with another person, or persons, then you are in collectivity.

But people will live together and everyday break each other's heads.

Some of them really give Me headaches, I tell you, sometimes, because they are nowhere near the real growth of Sahaja Yoga.

So you may be in America, you may be in India, you may be anywhere. You are just connected. And you are concerned. As soon as there's a problem somewhere, into any part, any part of the world, you are connected and you're effective, you can manage.

But if you are not connected and you are just glued together, it's very inconvenient to live under such circumstances. I think people don't even understand the meaning of collectivity where there's not the other, ananya. Where there's not the other, there's no other personality. These personalities are separated from you because of left and right. Or could be both. But you are yourself fully when you're absolutely detached and your Kuṇḍalinī is dancing, you're alone and never alone.

This oneness with the whole gives you all the security that you want, all the joy you want. And that's why Kuṇḍalinī Awakening means collectivity. Unless and until you want pure collectivity in your being, Kuṇḍalinī won't rise.

I feel sad sometimes when people tell Me, “This gentleman is like this, this lady's like this and she just says things like that and she tries to put down her orders” or some man like that. Then I really can't understand what are they doing here? We don't want Hitlers.

This attitude of ours, so far has been on a different level, like acquire more money, acquire more wealth, acquire more houses, acquire more cars, acquire more wives, husbands, whatever it is, children. But the whole thing changes in Sahaja Yoga. You enjoy everything. All right, this is your hall, doesn't matter whosoever it paid, I am enjoying. It's better not to pay for it and enjoy other people's money! [Laughs.] This carpet is not mine, very good. That's excellent. It's beautiful, I'm enjoying. [Laughter.] Maybe the one who has got this, one must be worried about something. It might get spoiled or something, but I'm enjoying.

So when this detachment comes, really enjoy everything. And in that detachment only you enjoy others also because you are so detached about it, don't want anything with anyone. Only person to person you enjoy. That means you enjoy the Spirit of another person through your spirit, [UNCLEAR Ātmānva Ātmānye]. It is through the Spirit only you enjoy another's Spirit. And then the Spirit itself is, as you know, is the source of knowledge. The light of the Spirit is the light of love, compassion, forgiveness, everything. All that starts shining in through your faces. I mean, from faces you can make out a Sahaja Yogi. There's no need to put hands and see. You know this is a Sahaja Yogi, can't be anything else.

So the relationship with the Ādi Kuṇḍalinī is that it is the reflection of the Ādi Kuṇḍalinī. Now the reflection, supposing you take an Indian mirror; you look in the mirror and you'll find you look like nothing on earth, it will just cut you into three pieces, maybe, or anything. But if you take a Belgian mirror, say, then the reflection is correct, full, but still not three dimensional. But this is a four dimensional reflection, four dimensional it is, what is called as Turīya state. And that four dimensional personality you have reflected because of your reflector of your desire. The reflector is the desire and the reflection is complete.

So when you worship the Ādi Kuṇḍalinī, what you are trying to do is to cleanse your Kuṇḍalinī as well as please the Deities. Because this is an object, it is object, it is not to be changed, but the reflection can change.

The movement of Kuṇḍalinī also depends on the temperament of the person, what sort of a desire he has for his Kuṇḍalinī to rise. First of all, there are people who doubt. They don't even believe there is Kuṇḍalinī. All right, even if they believe, they say, “Oh, the air might be coming out or something else." They don't want to believe.

So it's dishonesty. Kuṇḍalinī cannot give you dishonesty. It can give you honesty and faith in honesty.

So She gives you faith in goodness, faith in honesty, not just by sermon or lecture, nothing by reading Bible or anything, but actually by actualizing the experience.

Now, supposing, you want to go to the garden, supposing. Just you want to go to the garden and suddenly you'll find in the garden. Then you will know that your desire is pure. That's why it has worked out. `How am I in the garden? Has garden walked to me or I have walked into the garden?' All such things go on happening within you. These are miracles, as they call it, miracles of Sahaja Yoga. It's not that. It's the pure desire works it because it is powerful. It just works it. And when it works the whole thing out, you develop that faith within yourself.

So that faith, if it is within you, nobody can challenge that faith, which is not a blind faith but an open-eyes, experienced faith which is established within you, cannot be challenged. If you have the faith, it will be done.

That's why I always say don't say even off-hand things because you're Sahaja Yogis, you are connected.

If you say, `Let that plane be late,' it will be. There is no need to say such things. We have had so many experiences like this. I have been telling Sahaja Yogis not to say something off-hand because you must know you are connected now. Your pure desire is now being fulfilled and you are now connected, now you are Divine, you are realised Souls, you are very different from others. You can't imagine, I can't talk like this to anyone.

Take any judge, for example, even from France, [laughter] I can't explain anything to them or talk to them. It's beyond their mind. But for you, all this subtle knowledge is just being absorbed because your Kuṇḍalinī's absorbing it.

Now, as it is, you know I always perspire too much. Why? Because I go on absorbing your heat. I absorb so much that I perspire.

So much, despite the fact that you people are having a nice Cool Breeze and I am feeling hot.

So this, your Kuṇḍalinī also absorbs. But whatever you absorb is absorbed back by Me. But that becomes like a barometre. Immediately you know, `This is this. This is that. He's very hot. He's like this.' You immediately know, without even thinking, without for asking, without any desires, you know that this one is like that. But the same fellow will be quite friendly with others, it's all right, but you just can't stand it, because your Kuṇḍalinī is a barometre and She tells you what's wrong with others, with yourself.

Now, for example, Āgñyā is a problem, Āgñyā. Everybody, “Mother, Āgñyā is a problem. Āgñyā is a problem." Means, I am egoistical. No one says that, means that.

So you are the one who can know about yourself, that is Self-Knowledge and also you can know about others because of the Kuṇḍalinī's purity, it's the reflector. And the more you become a better reflector, the more Kuṇḍalinī shows.

So, for us it is important to know that our Kuṇḍalinī's awakened, that is the pure desire, that's the pure Mother of ours. Each one has got a separate mother, individual mother and that this Kuṇḍalinī, whichever we have our own separate, different from others in a way that She, Her awareness about us is different. But, in Her function, in Her methods, She's just the same in everyone. She,

She knows about Me, She knows about you, She knows about you, so She's different in a way, in the knowledge. But the way that She works in everyone is just the same. You wouldn't find somebody's Kuṇḍalinī in the stomach, somebody's in the throat. It's in the same place and it moves the same way. It cures the same way. It works the same way, except that it has the knowledge. For example, if you have two Mercedes cars, they work the same way, exactly the same. But supposing if I have to go from here to, say, Frankfurt, then the road is circuitous, so she has to go in a circuitous way. But another Mercedes, which has to go on a straight route, it will go on a straight route. But the working is the same.

Only the knowledge She has about you in particular, She knows you very well out and out. Remember this. You cannot cheat Her. She knows you very well and that is the reason why today we are here to worship our Kuṇḍalinī, to give Her all the credit, that `Oh, Mother, You have given us these great powers.

You have given us this subtle knowledge within ourself. You have given us the love which encompasses the whole world.' And the more and the more you become aware of her connections, very, very delicate connections, then you'll be amazed. In one of My photographs which came out, you must have seen many, many lines going like that, but very thin lines, sharp, thin. This is how we are.

Now we are all realised Souls. Only thing, if we have to develop ourselves and grow, we have to ask for, desire for something very beautiful. But our attention is moving on nonsensical things, how will you grow? That's why I said we have to meditate so we get into thoughtless awareness by which we allow the Kuṇḍalinī to grow.

I hope after today's program people will pay attention to their own Kuṇḍalinī and not to the defects of other people. First you must grow and develop a personality of that compassion and love and everything.

Then only you'll be amazed. You'll grow into something really, a beautiful picture of perfection as a human being.

So may God bless you! I didn't want to go into the details of the mathematics of three and a half and this and that and this, forget it. There's no need to deal with all those mathematical calculations and things. There's no need.

I mean it's the mathematics of love and what is the mathematics of love? But I am writing a book. If you want to know about it, you can read it later on, once you have become something great, then otherwise it will go into your head again.

Āgñyā is too much. What is making you so very Āgñyā? I didn't say anything to hurt you, did I? Better? I think you all should put our finger to our Āgñyā and move it a little. Here we become really thoughtlessly aware and detached. Move it slowly. Better, much relaxed.

Contents: 1991-08-15*, Public Program, Day 1, Berlin, Germany (other date 08-14)

I bow to all the seekers of truth. At the very outset, I have to say that truth is what it is. Truth cannot be conceptualised. By thinking you cannot reach truth. By reading you cannot reach truth. By any physical, mental, emotional efforts you cannot reach truth. Unfortunately you cannot also know the truth at this human awareness.

Something is missing in our lives, in our human awareness that we do not know the absolute truth. That is why we have different opinions, different ideas and ideologies. If truth is one then there should be no quarrel about it.

So that missing point is that we still have to evolve more, that we have to become the Spirit. Whatever I am telling you today here should be treated as a hypotheses with an open mind of a scientist. You need not believe blindly. But if you experience it and if you find it that it is true, as honest people, the seekers of truths, you have to accept it.

The fundamental truth about you is that you are not this body, not this mind, not this ego, not these conditionings. But you are the pure Spirit. You are all, all of you are pure Spirit. All of you have got the divinity within yourself. Only you have to touch that divinity. The second truth is that there is a all-pervading power, power of Divine love. You see the beautiful flowers here; we don't even think that they have come out of small little seeds, different seeds. We take them for granted. Look at ourselves, we have evolved from amoeba to this stage, we take it for granted. And look at this eye, what a beautiful camera it is, micro camera. Which energy has done this? All this living work has been done by this all-pervading power of Divine love. It is subtle, that's why you have to become a subtler being. Human organizations and enterprises have grown big like a tree. Human civilization like a big tree has grown, but waiting for some sort of a shock. And there are so many problems for which we have no solution. We have the knowledge of the tree, but we have no knowledge of the roots. This is the knowledge of the roots. And you have to become a subtler being to enter, penetrate into the roots. Like this instrument is made here and if it is not put to the mains it has no meaning. And as long as we are not connected to the mains our life also has no meaning. He has already explained to you about this instrument that resides within us. In the Bible it is described as the `Tree of Life'. Also “I will appear before you like tongues of flames", in the Old Testament. These are the centers. It's not only in the Bible but in all the scriptures it has written that “you have to be reborn." That doesn't mean that you just certify yourself as a `re-born person'. It is a higher subtler state of the Spirit that you have to achieve. It is the actualisation of your baptism, actualisation. Not just somebody says, `You are baptized,' no not that way. It's the becoming of you. As a result of the awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī, all our centers get nourished and enlightened.

Saint Thomas who went to India has written in his treaties which he had put them in Egypt about what's the reality. And that book is now ready as called as the `Saint Thomas' Gospel' after forty-eight years of research. Which talks of this happening and also he talks of the centers. In all other scriptures, Indian scriptures also it is mentioned in a very elaborate manner that there is this power of Kuṇḍalinī in the `sacrum bone'.

So the Greeks knew about this Kuṇḍalinī. She is your individual mother. And She knows all about your problems. But as your mother took all the pains upon herself while giving you your second birth, She does all the job very beautifully. Every human being has a right to get this union, this Yoga with the Divine power. But I do not know how many are really destined for it in this lifetime. It's very surprising that people do not understand that it's a living process and you cannot pay for it. They run after false things because they think they can purchase false Gurus or false religions. God doesn't understand money. Look at this Mother Earth, She gives us so many things, how much do we pay Her? She doesn't understand money or banking. You can pay for the hall, you can pay for the flower, but you cannot pay for something that is living process. And it has to be very much effortless, because it is so vital.

So as a result of this awakening the first state you receive when the Kuṇḍalinī crosses this center is what we call as `thoughtless awareness'. We are either thinking of the future or of the past, but we are not in the present. The present we cannot achieve. Present is silent. By Kuṇḍalinī awakening you come to that state of silence within. And when that silence is established the growth of divinity starts. The second state you achieve is called as `Nirvikalpa samādhi', which is meaning the doubtless awareness. At that state you can awaken the Kuṇḍalinī of others; you can cure others; you can feel others and you can feel yourself.

So a new dimension in awareness is awakened on our central nervous system, of `collective consciousness'.

And this collective consciousness is the one makes you understand the centers of other people on your fingertips. In the Koran it's written that at the time of resurrection your hands will speak and that they will give witness against you. Means they will tell you what's wrong with you. That means you'll have self knowledge. This is the Resurrection time. This is the Last Judgement. Not after death, is a wrong idea. Because Christ has said, “I'll send you the Holy Ghost, who will counsel you, who will redeem you, who will comfort you." How this is going to happen to dead bodies? How can we talk to the dead bodies and counsel? There are many wrong conceptions which have come through wrong ideas.

Also believing in one book and only in one incarnation it has created a kind of very subtle fundamentalism.

If you ask a Muslim he will think he is the chosen one and the Christians and Jews are the worst. You ask the Jews they will say, `These Christians and these Muslims are the worst.' Same with the Christians, they think Muslims and Jews are the worst. But they are just the same, there is no difference because any one of them can commit any sin. But after Self-realisation you become saints you don't commit sins. You become collective, you don't hate anyone. No question of killing. And you abide in the realm of kingdom of God. Whatever I'm saying might sound to you very fantastic, because we have no faith in ourselves.

And we feel very guilty all the time for nothing at all. Say if we take a television set in a remote village of India and tell them that, `All the pictures will be appearing into here.' They think, `What is this box, how can it be?' But as soon as you put to the mains they are amazed at this box. In the same way when we are put to the mains, we are really surprised, amazed the way we are glorious. After all we are human beings, we are not Gods. If we have made mistakes what does it matter? This All-pervading power is the ocean of forgiveness.

So why should you feel guilty? Now why should you suffer? If God Almighty is our father, which father would like his children to suffer? And if so, Christ has already suffered for us, we are now going to suffer more than him? So after Sahaja Yoga, you will be surprised to know that all these incarnations, these prophets and real saints are all related to each other. Then you develop a very collective feeling for all of them. And automatically you become righteous. There is nothing to be told to you that `don't do this, don't do that.' In the light of Spirit you'll see the truth, the reality, the beauty and the love.

Tomorrow I'll tell you about the nature of the Spirit. Today I would like you to ask Me questions. I have not come here to take anything from you. I have just come here to give you the key of your joy.

So please ask relevant questions. Now I know all the answers to all the questions also very well and it's just a mental acrobat. That doesn't guarantee your Realisation, it's an actualisation, it has to work out. But you must ask Me question, because later on you will just at that time of entering into new awareness your mind might just jump up to say, `Ask this question.' Moreover you are free to ask, there's no compulsion on you, because it cannot be forced. It has to happen in the glory of your freedom. Because you have to be absolutely free later on.

Yes, please stand up.

Question: [about Viśhuddhi Chakra].

Shri Mataji: Of course, of course; you become you own master.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Of course, of course; he can, of course he has to...

To kill yourself? Why? Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: You see this is not happening for your sake only, is happening for the rest of the world.

This is for the emancipation for the whole world and you have to give this to others. You don't take it just for yourself, is selfish. You have to give it to others and share it with others. I didn't understand, sorry! You will never kill yourself. You won't do it, because you'll be filled with such compassion. You will know the value of your precious life. And the importance of this time, these are very important times. May God bless you! Aside: I didn't understand what you said, I thought he wants to get out of a [UNCLEAR matter].

Shri Mataji: Yes madam.

Question: [difference between enlightenment and Self-realisation].

Shri Mataji: Both are just the same. You see the light enlightens you. Self-realisation means the Spirit coming into your attention.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: The God the father is the one who is watching the work of God the mother. God the father is the witness of God the mother. His aspect is more to be angry with people who try to trouble the mother. You'll know about them later on very well.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: That means there's something wrong in the body which is to be corrected. That could be liver. Or you have been to a wrong master.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: I'm talking about the freedom which comes through wisdom, Divine wisdom.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: That means that your Spirit shines in your attention, in your being, in that light you see everything clearly. Now you see there is darkness you don't know how you are related to others. You start walking, you'll trample over other people, you'll destroy people, trouble them. All right, any other question? Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: It does not in anyway. Sex does not play any part when the Kuṇḍalinī rises. You have to be married in a sane way and live in a sane way. The last center that you see here, the red one, the first center is the center of your innocence. And it looks after yours pelvic plexus, means the one which looks after also your sex activities.

So this center is not to be pierced through by Kuṇḍalinī as you can see clearly. But you would be happy to know whatever you might have done to this innocence of yours, it can never be destroyed. It can only get covered with some clouds, because you've gone into perversions and wrong type of life. But it is all the time there, it's eternal.

So you should not have any worry on that point. As Christ has said you have to become like children to enter into the kingdom of God.

So that's what happens when the Kuṇḍalinī starts rising, this center puts all its energy for the rising; and doesn't pay any attention to any other activity, all your activities of excretion stops. Christ has said, “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes." What a subtle way of saying that your eyes should have no lust and greed.

But if you see the fundamentals of Western life is that `to see and to be seen'. Because perhaps maybe we never worship Christ but we worship this horrible fellow Freud, anti-Christ. But when Kuṇḍalinī rises your eyes get back your innocence, absolutely. All the lust and greed is finished from the eyes. And when they develop properly even a glance of such a person can bring peace and joy. All this madness of wasting our attention and making our head full of tensions just disappear. And such a joyful life, such a pure life.

In Sahaja Yoga we have many marriages and I've seen they get children who are born realised, great children they get. Because they are so many who are waiting to be born on this earth, I was sorry to hear that in Germany and most of the Western countries the population growth is on the minus. But once you get your Realisation you'll be surprised you'll get saintly children, beautiful children, something very special and extremely wise. The other day one Sahaja Yogi told Me that, “My daughter was telling me `daddy, you are again getting complicated.' " They talk in such a wise manner that you are amazed at them. If you have to change the world and if you have to solve our problems we have to transform human beings. Any other question? Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Very good question. See this is human beings were given all the freedom, then Adam and Eve tried to get out of it. And the whole evolution system had to be set up.

So there have been different periods called as Yugas. And these modern times are described as the Kali Yuga. Are the worst times when the people will be completely under illusions. They will loose their wisdom and follow people who are false. And they will try to destroy themselves. They will be in such a confusion [bhranti], such a confusion that they will not know what is right and what is wrong. And they'll suffer with diseases which are incurable, most of them brought by their mistakes. In those days only there will be great seekers of truth will be born. And those seekers who have been seeking in the Himālayas and on the hills and dales will be like householders, ordinary people. Special category of people, William Blake has called them “Men of God." They will seek truth and they will give truth to others.

So this is the time specially where there is Resurrection because people are seeking. They are honestly seeking the truth.

Sometimes they are misled, all right, doesn't matter, makes no difference.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: In Sahaja Yoga marriages we hardly have divorces. That is allowed, divorce is allowed but hardly we have divorces in Sahaja Yoga marriages. The basis for divorce is the difference between the levels of people and understanding of relationship between the two. Love seems to be a very great misnomer, it's an infatuation, some sort of an infatuation, temporary. Because certain ideas are built in that you must fall in love, you really fall, no doubt. But we have a choice always, find out the proper man whom we can like.

Sometimes people marry after twenty years of living together and then they divorce immediately. Such of a right build in the minds that marriage means some sort of domination, some sort of a competition, which is not, it's beautiful companionship. But only with the light of the Spirit you can discover the beauty of another person.

So this is what happens to you when you are an enlightened person. We should not reduce ourselves to sex point as Freud has told us. You are not animals, we are human beings and we have to become the Spirit.

So we do not become beastly people, fighting, quarreling, criticising. No, we become beautiful supports of each other, enjoying each other. We have people about two thousand people come for a seminar in India, in a village, you know, we can say near the seashore from 55 countries. They never quarrel, fight, nothing. Of course, they do little bit of leg pulling, is all right, very friendly, isn't something great? When you see all these hooligans everywhere. Whenever human beings nowadays join together they just fight. Conference means fight, any big thing, United Nation means fight. Or competition, or jealousies, hatred. All the beauty and divinity of a human being is lost. Also there is no dignity, no self respect.

So, you do not respect others either. All these qualities are just there within you. All of them are there, they are not lost. You get completely cured of your diseases.

You get completely cured of mental problems, stress and all this nonsense and it's your own power. All right, now should we have Realisation? One more, all right? Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: When you get your Self-realisation your attention becomes concentrated, your brain becomes enlightened. Many people have got, many people have got their doctorate in science after coming to Sahaja Yoga. Many children who were dull in school are getting first positions. Because they are no more confused.

So you really become perfect, inside and out.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Sahaja, saha means born with you. Born with you is this right to get the union with the Divine.

So Sahaja Yoga is the wider terminology, encompasses all the Yoga systems, all the history of Spirituality, also it encompasses all the problems of the world. It is not only Kuṇḍalinī Yoga, it's not an individual happening. It cannot after getting your Kuṇḍalinī [UNCLEAR opening] get out your responsibility to the whole world. Like a nail, if you cut it out it doesn't grow. It's not an individual Yoga. Like the Buddhist they will sit individually, meditate and on, no. Because in the olden days when it was individual they have to go through terrible penances, terrible penances. For their cleansing, for their ascent, so they had to be individually done. But Sahaja Yoga is a solution that in collective you live. You meditate in collective. The method I have found out is that you can get your Self-realisation en masse.

So your cleansing and all that automatically takes place in collective as soon as you become collective, you don't have to go to Himālayas for that, fed up with all that.

Question: [about God].

Shri Mataji: Just the same as Christ saw Him, just the same. In every scripture it is described the same thing. In Sahaja Yoga you find all the scriptures saying the same thing between the lines; all the incarnations building you up for this today. You will know everything as to whatever I have said about God Almighty is called as Sadāśhiva. They had to talk of also abstract about this All-pervading Power, because people when you talk of God they start thinking they are Gods.

So they started talking about the Nirākāra, about the formless. First they talked about the flowers.

So to get the honey they started worshiping the flowers, the forms.

So said, “No, no, let us talk about the honey otherwise they will worship the flowers." So they talked about the formless.

So it was talk, talk and talk. Whether about form or formless, you have to become the bee to get the honey. By talks you do not become. All these questions will be very easily understood if you get your light.

Question: [about God Almighty].

Shri Mataji: You can't question God in His whim. You cannot question God why He did it? You see there is reason for everything that He does, there is a reason. It's all a very well planned thing, He's more efficient then Germans. [Laughter.] He knows, He knows how to organize this creation, He knows and that's why He had to make Himself separate from the energy of love. And in the office we have one manager and the other is the energy that works the management.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: I told you you started with Adam and Eve. They didn't accept His commandments. It's a headache, more for God then for you. They were told if they behaved all right there would have been no problem, but they did not. Then He understood that those human beings need their own freedom to be used. Because they were given freedom, this was the mistake. They were given freedom, because animals don't have freedom. Only human beings have the freedom. But we have freedom to go to the kingdom of God or to go to hell. We have freedom, if you want to do, you can do it.

Question: [if you occupy her life with Sahaja Yoga].

Shri Mataji: I mean, so funny question. There is nothing like that. I'm not going to occupy your life.

I'm like an ocean, you cannot put it in a small little cup, can you? Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: I want you all to get your Realisation. [Applause.] But you know I'm desireless and you have to have the pure desire to get Realisation, you should have, because Kuṇḍalinī is the power of pure desire. All other desires are impure that's why we are never satisfied.

So I think now we should start it now. This should be the last. All right? Now that's all right, you can ask now.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: It doesn't, it's imaginary. There are many imaginary things you believe in. If your pain is physical it will disappear and if your guilt is there it will disappear too. You do not know how dangerous it is to be guilty. Please be seated. When you feel guilty the center here, left side, catches very badly. As a result you develop Spondylitis, angina and most of the lethargic organs on the left side. Moreover if you feel guilty the Kuṇḍalinī cannot rise because the Chakra is completely closed. Whatever you think is not always reality. When it's very absurd also. Now Germans should have no guilt at all about war. Because your forefathers did it, not you. Now your forefathers are born in Iraq. They are not here. Why are you feeling guilty for them? You will lose your chance of Realisation out of this artificial idea. On the contrary I must tell you in My experience, I found German Sahaja Yogis are the gentlest people you could think of, absolutely very gentle. That `Gestapos' are born there somewhere, quarreling, fighting. Have no guilt.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: There are deities on every center. Deities all do it. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises She awakens those deities and they dissolve all these catches. But when we do this meditation then you will have to say that you want it. I'll tell you how to do it yourself, you can support it.

All right? Let's have it now. It will take about fifteen minutes, but as I said it cannot be forced.

So those who do not want to have it can leave the hall. All others must get seated. Better be seated, there are seats here, come along. Be comfortable. Now. All right.

There are two forces left and right. Left is the power of our desire.

So the left one is the power of desire and the right one is the power of action.

So we put our left hand, left foot on one side and right on the other side when we are sitting on the chair, on the ground you are all right. I think she should sit on a chair otherwise she will not get her Realisation. Poor thing. Yes, better. She's not all right, poor thing. Yes, it's better yeah. No. You can't put [UNCLEAR your over].

Just for fifteen minutes. Put it on the sides, put it on the sides. Poor thing she's not well at all. It's all right. All right, you see this. Now. You have to be comfortable, absolutely. You don't have to go to Himālayas or anything. Very comfortable. Put both your feet apart from each other, take out your shoe because we have to take help from the Mother Earth. Please take out your shoes, all of you. Good. He's a real seeker, actually. What about him, he can't take out? This gentleman behind you, he can't take it out. You have to help him I think, just help him.

All right. You put right hand for your action and left hand on your lap, in a very comfortable manner.

Now try to follow properly. Your right hand is going to nourish all your centers on the left hand side. Now he'll show you how to do it. Just to see him. Very simple.

But before that I have to tell you there are three conditions. The first one is that you have to have complete self confidence about yourself that you will get your Self-realisation, all of you. The second one is that you forget the past and be in the present and don't feel guilty at all.

Third one is very simple, that you have to forgive everyone in general. It's very simple but people think it's very difficult. Logically whether you forgive or don't forgive you don't do anything. Nothing you do but you should play, if you do not forgive then you play in the wrong hands and torture yourself for nothing at all. You are torturing, not the people who want to torture you. They are very happily placed.

But you are torturing yourself by not forgiving.

So just forgive everyone without thinking about them individually and forgive them in general. Just say, `I forgive all of them.' You'll feel so much lighter. You have to do that because this center of Optic Chiasma is closed like this, very, very constricted, Āgñyā.

And if you don't forgive it won't open. And you won't get your Realisation properly and even if you get it you may not get the Cool Breeze; you may get a little hot breeze. But if you forgive it opens up like this very beautifully. These are only three conditions. Now please don't feel guilty. Actually you should be very pleasantly placed towards yourself. Because you are a human being, the epitome of evolution and there's a little breakthrough needed, that's all.

So now please put left hand towards Me like this, you need not bend nor push back yourself, sit just straight, that's all, comfortably. You put your left hand on your lap comfortably. It will work out. And put now your right hand on your heart. In the heart is the reflection of the Spirit that is the God Almighty.

So if you become the Spirit then you become your own master.

So put your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen. This is the center of your mastery. I've already told you that I respect your freedom.

And this is the center down below on the left hand side in the lower portion of your abdomen where there is the Pure Knowledge, but I cannot force it on you. Now raise your right hand again, raise your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. This is the center of Pure Knowledge, which will work out all the Divine work. Now raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen.

Then on your heart. Then in the corner of your neck and your shoulder. From the front you have to take your hand and turn your head to your right. This center you catch when you feel guilty, I've told you about it. Then take your hand on top of your forehead and put down your head as far as possible. This is the center where you have to forgive everyone. Now take back your hand on the back side of your head and push back your head and here you have to say without feeling guilty, without counting mistakes, for your satisfaction. You have to ask forgiveness from the Divine power. Now stretch your palm fully and take the center of your palm on top of the fontanelle bone area and bend your head and push back your fingers and press it back nicely, the scalp. Put down your head, press back your fingers and now move your scalp clockwise seven times with a pressure. Slowly. Now, that's all we have to do. If you have got anything tight on your waist or in your neck you can loosen it a little bit. And you have to take out your spectacles because you have to close your eyes and don't open them till I tell you.

Now please put your left hand towards Me like this and right hand on your heart and please close your eyes. Here you have to ask Me a very fundamental question. You have to ask three times. You may call Me Mother or Shri Mataji, whatever you like. Three times you ask Me a question `Mother', in your heart, `Mother, am I the Spirit?' Now if you are the Spirit, you are your master.

So take down your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen. And press it hard. Here you have to ask another question three times, `Mother, am I my own master?' All right, I've already told you that I respect your freedom and I cannot force Pure Knowledge on you.

So please take down your hand in the lower portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. Here you have to say in your freedom, `Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge,' say it six times because this center has got six petals.

As soon as you ask for Pure Knowledge your Kuṇḍalinī starts rising.

So now we have to nourish our upper centers with our self confidence.

So please take your right hand onto the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side and press it. Here you have to say with full confidence ten times, `Mother, I am my own master.' I've told you the fundamental truth about you is that you are not this body, not this mind, not this ego, not these conditionings. But you are the pure Spirit.

So now raise your right hand onto your heart and say it with full confidence, `Mother, I am the Spirit.' This Divine power is the ocean of love and compassion. It is the ocean of absolute knowledge. But above all it is the ocean of forgiveness.

So whatever mistake you might commit it can be easily dissolved by the power of forgiveness.

So please forgive yourself and take your right hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to your right. Take it from the front. Here with full confidence please say sixteen times, `Mother, I'm not guilty at all.' Please say sixteen times.

I've already told you whether you forgive or don't forgive you do not do anything. But if you don't forgive then you play into wrong hands.

So now raise your right hand on top of your forehead across and bend your head. Here you have to say with full confidence, not how many times, `Mother, I forgive everyone in general.' Now please take your hand back on your back side of your head and push back your head as far as possible. Here you have to say without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, just for your satisfaction, `Oh Divine power, if I've done any mistake please forgive me.' Now please stretch your palm and put the center of your palm on top of the fontanelle bone area, which was a soft bone in your childhood. Now push back your fingers. As far as possible, push them back so that there's a good pressure. Push back your fingers, now bend your head. You all should push back your fingers, please push back and put down your head, please put down your head. Here again I cannot cross over your freedom, I cannot force Self-realisation on you. You have to ask for it.

So please move your scalp seven times clockwise and say seven times, `Mother, please give me my Self-realisation.' Now please take down your hands. Put your hands like this towards Me and watch Me without thinking, you can do it. Now put down your head, put the right hand towards Me and see for yourself if there is a cool or a hot breeze coming out of your head. Don't put your hand on the head but away from it and see for yourself by moving your hand, left hand. Now put the left hand towards Me and again put down your head, put down your head and see for yourself again, with the right hand.

Now take your right hand towards Me and again please see with your left hand.

Some people get it far away. Now take your both the hands towards the sky like this and push back your head and ask anyone of these three questions three times, `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost? Mother, is this the All-pervading Power of God Almighty? Mother, is this the Param-Chaitanya?' Ask anyone of these questions three times.

Now put down your hand. Put your hands like this, you feel very relaxed. Watch Me without thoughts.

All those who have felt cool or hot breeze on their hands, fingers or out of their fontanelle bone area please raise both your hands.

May God bless you! Your saintly life has started now. I bow to you all. Tomorrow we'll have again, those who did not feel will feel and those who have felt will feel better.

Also I'll meet all of you individually tomorrow. I hope there will be less questions tomorrow and we'll save some time on that. Thank you very much.

Contents: 1991-08-1x Quote, Prague, Czech Republic

People should not be involved where a lot of people are involved, like in airports.

Contents: 1991-08-17, Public Program, Day 1, fistvanice, Prague, Czech Republic

I bow to all the seekers of Truth. At the very outset, I have to tell you that truth is what it is. We cannot conceptualise it or we cannot change it. Unfortunately we cannot also know it with this human awareness.

We have to become a subtler being to know the truth; that is, we have to be the spirit. For that one has to understand that it's a evolutionary living process. It is a living happening within us which makes you the spirit, for which you cannot pay. You cannot put any effort, but it just works because you are seekers of truth.

Whatever I am telling you, you have to listen to it with a open mind of a scientist. If it is proved to be the truth, you have to accept it as honest people, because it is for your benevolence and benevolence of the whole world. We see beautiful flowers here, but we take them for granted. We do not even think that they just come from small little seed. Look at our eyes, what a micro camera it is, but we take it for granted.

So, one must understand that there is some power which does this living work.

So the first truth is that you are not this body, this mind, this ego or conditionings, but you are, but you are pure spirit. The second truth is that there is a subtle power of Divine Love which does all the living work. Through that power only we have become from amoeba to this stage and there is a very small breakthrough that we have to achieve, to know the truth. We do not know the absolute truth. That is why we are quarreling with each other, fighting with each other, we have wars. But if all of us know the truth, it is only one. As you all can see Me sitting here, you all know that I am sitting here, there's no quarrel about it. But when you become the spirit, then you can feel this All-pervading Power which you have never felt before. You feel it on your fingertips and also you feel the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost coming out of your head.

In the Bible there is the God Almighty as the Father God and we have the Son God. And the Trinity, the third one is the Holy Ghost. But how can you have Father and the Son and no Mother? The women are called as `second citizen' because they say that She was not on the table of the twelve apostles, who were having the Last Supper. But then how do you have Paul there, who was not sitting on the supper table also? But people could feel the Mother of Christ as a Goddess, so they called her as a Madonna.

And I can't understand, those who do not want Her as the Goddess go and worship Her as Black Madonna in Poland.

In the same way in every religion they have created problems, because they wanted to have it organized the way they wanted to have it.

So the people concluded that there is no God, because whatever religion one may follow, they can commit any sin.

So they lost faith in God. But when you will become spirit you will know that there is God Almighty and His love, His All-pervading living Power. It can be proved by Sahaja Yoga that there is God and there is His power of love. Whether you believe in God blindly or don't believe in it, it's just the same. Many people come and tell Me that “Mother, we pray to God and nothing happens to us. We are just like people who do not believe in God." The reason is, you are not connected with God. If this machine is not connected to the mains, it won't work. If your telephone is not connected, it won't work.

So the first thing is to get connected to this All-pervading Power. And all of you have got this divinity within yourself. You all can get your Self-realisation and get connected to this All-pervading Power. You should have no diffidence about it. It's so simple. `Sahaja' means it is born with you and all of you have the right to get this connection, Yoga, without any difficulty. As a result of that, all your physical, mental, emotional problems can be solved. Even your material problems are solved. Above all, you enter into the Kingdom of God, which is the ocean of joy. This is what is going to happen to you. This is extremely simple, which you cannot achieve by reading, by studying or by doing anything. It is not the mental act, but it's a living happening.

Today I think you have heard about the Kuṇḍalinī and the power which is within you.

So tomorrow I will tell you about the nature of the spirit. In this short time it is difficult to give the complete idea of this knowledge of the roots. I must have given at least four thousand lectures on this subject in English language only.

So, like here there are so many lights which we can put on with one switch, but if I have to tell you about the electricity and its history and how it came here to Prague, you'll get bored. Only one switch can open the light, because it is all built in. In the same way it is all built in within you.

So it is better to get this enlightenment and then to know about the subtle subjects.

But in any case, I would like you to ask Me questions for a short time. Only My request is not to ask Me questions which are not related to the subject. Please try to understand that I have not come here to take anything from you. I have come here to give you what is your own. You may ask Me questions.

[Aside:] Can you move this from top, in front? Remove all this from there. You can remove all this from the front, because people can't see Me. Do this now... Baba, very cold, but it's all right. I'll have My spectacles. It's all right, just I'll have My spectacles. Spectacles.

Loudly.

Sahaja Yogini [translates question]: “You have helped me in Vienna", with her ears. But she doesn't hear that well.

Shri Mataji: All right, that's different. I will see to it again. Did you meditate? All right, we'll see it again. All right, sit down and we'll see it again. We'll see you tomorrow.

They have no questions? Wonderful people! Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: I first of all told you, have no diffidence and don't judge yourself. The question was, if they are not ready. Your Kuṇḍalinī knows everything about you. She is your mother, your individual mother and she's anxious to give you your second birth.

Question: To awaken Kuṇḍalinī, we have to meditate for a long time. What does it mean, a long time to meditate?

Shri Mataji: You have already done it in previous life, everything. That's why you are here. You are destined to be here.

Question: How do You see the future of the Earth?

Shri Mataji: Of what?

Sahaja Yogini: Of the Earth. Of our Earth that we are living on, its future.

Shri Mataji: In Prague?

Sahaja Yogini: How do You see the future of the mankind?

Shri Mataji: Great! Question: There are many wars in the world nowadays and very much violent. And my question is, what must come before the joy will come?

Shri Mataji: You see, these wars are because of the problems with human beings who have created them. If you could transform human beings, these problems will be solved automatically. If certain number of people are transformed, they'll trigger it. Already there are thousands who have been transformed and you can transform others when you are transformed.

Question: [about the Gipsies.]

Shri Mataji: Any race, whether these are gipsies or any race, can get their transformation. It has nothing to do with your race, your nationality or your religion, nothing to do. It is something inner, innate.

As long as you are a human being it will work out. The best part of it, that all so-called bad Karmas are also washed off. Only human beings think that they do bad Karmas, not the animals.

Question: [about Christ.]

Shri Mataji: Of course, of course. But Christ has said that those who are not against us are with us.

All these incarnations and all these prophets are related to each other.

So we see them separated and this creates hatred between people....

There's one more there.

Question: Do You believe that Jesus Christ was killed for our sins, to help us?

Shri Mataji: Yes, He suffered for us. He had to do that. But incarnations actually never suffer. He had to do it, which I will tell you later on, because the way He had to go through a center of Āgñyā, of Optic Chiasma was closed like this.

So He had to get crucified for it. His message is His resurrection, not crucifixion, resurrection. But now we need not suffer.

So those who say you must suffer, they're absolutely wrong. Are we going to suffer more than Christ?
Question: How can we help the people who don't want to get realisation, to get it?

Shri Mataji: You can't. They can't. You cannot force it. Kuṇḍalinī is the power of pure desire. If you do not have pure desire, I cannot surpass your freedom. It has to be a personality like a good seed which can be embedded in the Mother Earth. But you must have desire, otherwise it cannot be worked.

You cannot force a seed to sprout. Now, this gentleman has a question.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: All right, that's a good question: that by raising the Kuṇḍalinī of others and also establishing yourself, you become a righteous person and another also becomes the righteous person.

They become really saintly people. They are peaceful, without any lust and greed. After all, this world is made by human beings and if the human beings are transformed, the world will be transformed.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: I don't know what you are saying, I don't follow. You should not worry about Me. I will not tell you anything about Myself. Christ said that He was the Son of God, which He was. But He said that, so they crucified Him. People don't want to hear truth, unless and until they are realised Souls.

So I do not want to get crucified; I have to do My work still. And it is because I say you cannot take money, all these people who have made a business out of religion and business out of all this false Guru propagation, they're all against Me. Also the religions have made a business, all the religions have made a business nowadays, so they don't like Me. You cannot make business out of God.

So now I think we'll have the session of Self-realisation. For this again I have to say that I cannot force it on anyone whatsoever. Only those who want it and desire it should be in the hall. Otherwise they should leave the hall.

[Aside:] The whole thing starts shaking if you get up, even.... Can't understand. Would you come from this side, I can't hear.... You wanted that? See once, even when you come up, it shakes. When they get up, it shakes.

So let it be... The whole thing started shaking...

And those who do not want should not sit here, please.

So, at the very outset I have to again tell you that be fully confident that you all will get your realisation.

The second thing is, there are three conditions which you have to understand. The first condition is that you have to forget the past and you are not to feel guilty at all. You are after all human beings and if you have done any mistake it's all right, you are not God. But feeling guilty is some sort of a mental torture. But also when you feel guilty, this center here catches on the left hand side and you physically also torture yourself. Because when this center is caught up, then you get angina, spondylitis, all these diseases.

So what's the use of feeling guilty? Please do not feel guilty. When I say don't feel guilty many people are leaving, because they want to feel guilty and get sick.

Now the third condition is that you should forgive everyone in general.

Some people say it is very difficult, but whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything. Again, when you don't forgive, then you torture yourself for nothing at all.

So you should not even think of people whom you are to forgive. Just say `I forgive everyone' and immediately you'll feel better. That's all.

Now to take the help of the Mother Earth, you have to take out your shoes, that's all. Please put your left and right foot away from each other. Just for about five, ten minutes, that's all. Now as he has told you, there are two powers, left and right, so...

[Aside:] After, after, after the meditation, all right? Well, let him take one. All right, let him now.

That's all. Sit down, sit down.

So put your left side on one side and right side on another. Left side represents your desire power and right side represents your action power.

So please put your left hand on the left side, on the lap and the right side we will use for nourishing our centers on the left hand side. First we'll show you how to touch your different centers on the left hand side, to nourish them, so please see first of all and then we'll have to close the eyes.

Put the right hand on your heart. This is the center where there's the reflection of God Almighty as spirit. And Kuṇḍalinī is the reflection of the Holy Ghost, the primordial Mother. Now, please take your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen. This is the center of your mastery. When you become the spirit, you become your own guide. Now take your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen, on the left hand side. This is the center which is for Pure Knowledge, with which we work out all Divine work. Then raise your hand in the upper portion of your abdomen, on the left hand side. Now raise your hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to your right. This center you catch when you feel guilty. Now please take your hand on your forehead across and bend your head as far as possible. This is the center where you have to forgive everyone.

Now please take your right hand to the back side of your head and push back your head. This is the center where without feeling guilty, without counting mistakes, for your satisfaction you have to say, you have to ask forgiveness from the Divine Power. Now you have to stretch your palm. Now put the center of your palm on the fontanelle bone area, which was a soft bone in your childhood. Now push back your fingers and put down your head as far as possible.

So there is a good pressure on your scalp, push back your fingers. Put down your head. Now you move your scalp seven times clockwise, slowly. Put down your head. Now, that's all you have to do.

Now please put both your feet apart from each other, left hand towards Me and do not sit too much bent down or forward, but comfortably. Now, please put your right hand on your heart. Left hand towards Me, on your lap. Now please close your eyes. Here you have to ask Me a fundamental question, three times, you can call Me `Mother' or `Shri Mataji', `Mother, am I the Spirit?' Loudly.

If you are the spirit you become your guide, your master.

So please take down your right hand on the left hand side of your abdomen, in the upper part. We are working only on the left side. Here you have to ask another question, `Mother, am I my own master?' Ask this question three times. I have already told you that I cannot force Pure Knowledge on you, because I respect your freedom. You have to ask for it.

Now please take your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen and press it hard. Here you have to say six times, because this center has got six petals, `Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge.' Six times. As soon as you ask for Pure Knowledge, the Kuṇḍalinī starts rising higher.

So now we have to nourish the upper centers with our self-confidence. Now raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen, on the left hand side. Here you have to say with full confidence, ten times, `Mother, I am my own master.' I've already told you that you are not this body, not this mind, not this ego or these conditionings, but you are pure spirit.

So now raise your right hand onto your heart and here you have to say with full confidence ten times, twelve times, `Mother, I am the spirit.' Ten times, twelve times.

This All-pervading Power is the power of compassion and love. It is ocean of absolute knowledge.

Loudly, loudly. But above all it is the ocean of forgiveness and whatever mistakes you might commit, this ocean can dissolve it very easily.

So please forgive yourself and put your hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to your right. Here with full confidence say sixteen times, `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' I have already told you that whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything; but if you don't forgive, then you play into wrong hands.

So, now raise your right hand on top of your forehead across and please put down your head as far as possible. Here you have to say with full confidence, from your heart, not how many times, `Mother, I forgive everyone in general.' Now, please take your right hand on the back side of your head and push back your head as far as possible. Here, without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, just for your satisfaction you have to say, from your heart, not how many times, `Oh Divine Power, if I have done any mistakes, please forgive me.' Now stretch your hand fully, your palm fully and put the center of your palm on top of your head. Now push back your fingers. Please put down your head. Here again, I cannot cross over your freedom. You have to ask for your Self-realisation.

So move your scalp seven times slowly clockwise, asking, `Mother, please give me Self-realisation' seven times.

[Shri Mataji blows into the microphone.] Now please take down your hands. Please put both the hands towards Me like this. And now put the right hand towards Me like this. Please put right hand towards Me and put down your head and see for yourself with the left hand, if there's a cool or a hot breeze coming out of your head.

[Aside:] Loudly, loudly, loudly.

If it is hot, means you have not forgiven, so please forgive and don't feel guilty.

Now left hand towards Me, but bend your head, bend your head. Now please see with your right hand if there's a Cool Breeze coming out of your head, or a hot breeze coming out of your head. Don't put the hand on top of your head, away from it.

Sometimes you get it far away. Now please put again your right hand. And put down your head and see for yourself again with the left hand.

Now, raise your both the hands towards the sky, like this.

[Aside:] Loudly, loudly.

And push back your head. And ask any one of these questions three times, `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost?' or `Mother, is this the power of Divine Love?' or `Mother, is this the Param-Chaitanya?' Ask any one of these questions, any one question three times.

Now take down your hands. Now put your hands like this towards Me. Open your eyes. Watch Me without thinking. Those who have felt cold or hot breeze on their fingertips or in their hands, or on the fontanelle bone area, please raise both your hands.

Prague! All of you have become saints now. I bow to you all! Your saintly life has started. Tomorrow I will come again and explain to you about the spirit. May God bless you. Please inform your friends and also call them, because I am here only for tomorrow. Those who have felt the Cool Breeze or hot breeze will settle down tomorrow and those who have not felt at all will also feel it.

May God bless you all.

[Aside:] Also tell them not to talk about it. It is beyond your mind. To be quiet. Don't discuss it.

Contents: 1991-08-18*, Public Program, Day 2, fistvanice, Prague, Czech Republic

[Hindi.] They have done three songs, have they? One more... one more...

[Hindi.] [Sahaja Yogi asks about taking of photos during Shri Mataji's talk.] But when I am talking, one should not.

You have to sing one song more, smaller one. Hamid, My spectacles. My spectacles.

[Sahaja Yogi explains to Shri Mataji that they have already spoken about Chakras, etc.]

I bow to all the seekers of Truth. As I told you yesterday, that truth is what it is. It cannot be conceptualised and cannot be felt at this human awareness. For that you have to become a subtler being that we call as the spirit.

Today I'm going to tell you about the nature of spirit. Spirit is the reflection of the Father, the God Almighty. The seat of that is on top of fontanelle bone area, but He is reflected in our heart; while Kuṇḍalinī is the reflection of the Holy Ghost, the Primordial Mother.

So this spirit, when it is enlightened into our attention, our attention becomes active: in the sense that if you pay attention to something, it doesn't act there, but on the contrary wherever you pay attention, that acts upon you. On the contrary an enlightened soul, even a glance of such a person can manifest peace, joy in the other person. The spirit, when it starts showing through your central nervous system, you develop a new dimension on your nerves, by which you can feel your own centers, that is Self-knowledge and you can feel the centers of others. It is absolutely accurate sensation you get on your fingertips. If you know how to put these centers all right, then you get physical, mental, emotional complete balance.

The center is like this and when we start using it on the right side or left side too much, then it becomes constricted.

Sometimes a certain shock can just break it and then you develop maladies, physical and mental. But when the Kuṇḍalinī passes through these centers she puts them right and enlightens them, because she's now connected to the spirit.

So the spirit tells us what is wrong with us. This is the Last Judgment. Also this is the Resurrection Time. We are going to judge ourselves and we are going to resurrect ourselves through Sahaja Yoga.

Spirit is the source of truth, absolute truth. If you have ten children who are realised Souls and if you tie up their eyes and put somebody before him and ask what's wrong, then they will all put up one finger.

That means they all are saying that something wrong with the throat of the gentleman. And if you ask the gentleman, `Is something wrong with your throat?' he says, `Yes, but how do you know?' In the light of the spirit gradually you understand this Divine Power, which is all-pervading. And if you know how to work out this Divine Power, you can also raise the Kuṇḍalinī of others and give them, others realisation. Also you will know which man is truthful and which man is not, because immediately as soon as you put fingers towards such a person, you will feel terrible heat if he is a crook; because in your awareness you develop a new dimension called as collective consciousness.

First you develop a state, what we call as Nirvichar samādhi, meaning `thoughtless awareness'. For example, there's a nice carpet here and I look at it and I start thinking about it. But after enlightenment you see something and there is no thought; because thoughts come from the past or from the future, but in the present there is no thought.

So when you see something, whatever joy is created by the artist starts pouring on you and absolutely soothes you down. Your stress, your worries all disappear, because spirit is the source of peace.

There are many people who start talking about peace, but they have no peace within themselves. They also get Nobel Prizes in peace, but what's the use, they have no peace within themselves. But it is like a wheel: when the wheel is moving and you are at the periphery, you are disturbed; but if you go to the axis of the wheel, it's peaceful. In the same way you, your state becomes that of an axis. Like if you are standing in the water, there are waves coming and you are afraid of the waves, like the thoughts coming from the right and left, future and past. But if you get into the boat, then you are no more afraid of the waves. But if you learn how to swim, you can get into the waves and bring people with you back to the boat.

This is the third, this is the second state where you arrive, is the doubtless awareness, Nirvikalpa Samādhi, where you become very knowledgeable. Your light of the spirit enlightens your brain. What we know through human awareness is very little, but when the brain is enlightened you start discovering new things. We have some scientists who have discovered lots of things after coming to Sahaja Yoga. It gives a new dimension to your creativity. We have many artists, musicians who have become world-famous after coming to Sahaja Yoga. Physically you feel all right; all incurable diseases can be cured, most of them can be cured with Sahaja Yoga.

Some people take more time, some less, but most of them are cured. But it is not meant for people who are frivolous, or people who do not want their realisation. It is meant for people who seriously are seeking honestly the truth. People who have been even spoilt by false Gurus or for following some religions in the wrong way, all can be saved.

In the light of the spirit you become your own master, because you see the truth. For the first time you feel this All-pervading Power which does all the living work; and then if you know how to handle this great power, you can become masters. You become extremely dynamic, fearless, but at the same time very compassionate. And this has to happen to all of you. Only those who do not want, or those who are not destined, will not get it. But it is not a plastic growth, that you can create thousand flowers of plastic, it is reality and so the becoming is important in Sahaja Yoga. Above all, your spirituality, your divinity start expressing itself and you become automatically righteous and you enjoy your virtues.

The greatest thing about Sahaja Yog today is that it's a collective happening. Before this, people had to cleanse themselves by going to Himālayas or hiding themselves in some caves. They had to do lots of penances. But in Sahaja Yoga, collective work makes you absolutely perfect. It is like if My nail is broken then it will not grow, it has to be connected with the whole. Once you are connected to this Divine Power, then you all become part and parcel of the whole. You are not only guided, but also very much protected and blessed. Specially it gives you joy. Joy cannot be expressed, cannot be described. It doesn't have duality of happiness and unhappiness; it is absolute in its nature. It is just to be experienced and that is what will happen to you.

Today again if you have some questions, I would like to answer; but again I have to tell you that I have not come here to take anything from you.

So please ask Me a question, any question which is relevant.

Thank you very much.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course. Continuously. You have to know about it, for which you don't have to pay anything. All this knowledge is absolutely free. You cannot pay for the Divine work.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: They are all our mistakes, these are human mistakes. Human beings have to change, they have to be transformed.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: No, it cannot be. It cannot be by any exercise, or by reading or by anything. It is a living process. Like the seed, you cannot force it to sprout. You have to put it into Mother Earth.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: They all have to be upset. All the religions are just making money. `Yoga' means `union with the Divine'. All scriptures have said that you have to be born again. Nobody is paying attention to that; they are just busy collecting money.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: He has never said so. You better read your Bible again. Of course word of God is there, no doubt. Hello!... What is it? It is not, it is of course the word of God. Hello, listen, sit down. I'll tell you. Sit down. I'll tell you what. It is, Christ has said that it is the word of God and I am using word of God alone. Sit down. Also He has said that “I'll send you the Holy Ghost." If I am the Holy Ghost, I am God also. Please be seated. If I am the Holy Ghost, how will you recognize Me, as a Christian? How will you recognize Me? I am the Holy Ghost. I have to say this, because if you bring Bible here, I'll have to tell you; because, because I give comfort, we have cured so many people in the whole world. There are three doctors who have got M.D. in Sahaja Yoga. There are forty doctors in Russia who are practicing Sahaja Yoga. And I am counseling you, I am telling you what Christ could not tell, because in three and a half years He was killed. They were the same people who were reading Bible and saying, “This is not our Savior" and they killed Him. And the third thing is the redemption. Holy Ghost has to be a Redeemer and that's what it is: I am giving you realisation. This time don't miss it.

Three and a half years they allowed Christ to live and they are using His Bible when I'm here. When Christ was there, they were using the Old Testament to decry Him and talking about Moses. By reading Bible, if you people would have achieved anything, you would have seen to it. I was Myself born in a Christian family. And do you know what Christians have done with this Bible? If you go to South America you'll be shocked. Billions and billions of Red Indians were killed by Christians showing them Bible. In India they brought Bible in one hand and a gun in the other.

Don't miss it. The time has come for you to get your realisation, to take your resurrection. You were born in a Christian religion, so you believe in Bible; but those who are born in Islam, they believe in Koran only. They think all the Christians will go to hell and the Christians think that all the Muslims will go to hell. What about the Jews? When you have blinkers and when you put blinkers, you do not see the unity of God. This has... Those people who read Koran, Bible, Gītā, anything, they follow any religion, commit any sin. Are they righteous? Christ has asked you to be humble. Where are the Christians who are humble? I would like to see, they are so arrogant. Christ went to the extreme of morality: “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes." Let us see which Christians have that kind of eyes. Only the Sahaja Yogis have those innocent eyes.

You all are to be born again, you should have an actualisation of baptism. You should feel the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost out of your fontanelle bone area. We have had enough of sermons and lectures and Bible reading. Let us read the book of reality, the book of reality. No blind faith is needed. You have to feel the All-pervading Power. You can prove it through Sahaja Yoga that Christ was the Son of God, you can prove it. They cannot prove. Can they give Self-realisation? [Aside:] You better take another hall and give address there. No one wants you. Just throw him out.

You should not believe blindly into anything whatsoever. You must have the proof of everything. If you don't have the proof, why do you believe in Bible, why do you believe in Gītā, why do you believe in Koran, just blindly believing into it? Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji [aside]: What did he say? I can treat her later on. We'll treat you, no doubt. It will take some time, better? We'll treat you, all right? Just now I want to give Self-realisation to all of them. That is very important. They have come here to get their Self-realisation. All right.

[Aside:] Ask them to give, give these boys some bandhans.

I had to say it, I'm sorry. I had to say, the time had come to say this, see, so I'm happy.

Those who do not want to have Self-realisation should please leave the hall. It is not civil to come to somebody else's meetings and disturb it. It is a Divine work which is going on and you have no business to disturb.

So people are paid for this kind of work, I know; but why not seek your benevolence? Why stick onto these ideas and get ruined forever? There is no wisdom in this kind of blind faith. Now so many Muslims and Jews worship Christ, because it's a proof for them. It is not because they go to church and listen to someone and then accept something. If it is a proof, then as honest people you have to accept.

They say in English, proof of the pudding is in the eating of it, not by talking or by reading something. If you are hungry, you will get it; not those who are living on words and books. One poet has said in India, his name was Kabīra, he said, by reading too much, even the educated have become stupid.

Now, as you know, there are two forces within us: what we call the left sympathetic and the right sympathetic nervous system. They work when we are in emergencies. But the third one is called as the parasympathetic, which supplies the energy to bring the whole system into balance. Actually the left side is the power of desire and the right side is the power of action. Christ could not tell all these things, they crucified Him. This is the problem, that His work has to be completed.

Now we will be using our left power of desire, expressing with your hand like this. But there are three conditions which you must have: that if you have pure desire to get your realisation, then be sure that you all will get your Self-realisation. You should now have no diffidence.

[Aside:] Let it be, doesn't matter. They are useless people, you see; they are paid by someone. You forget it now.

So there are three conditions: first is, you should be confident that you will all get your Self-realisation.

All right. Then the second condition is that you are not to feel guilty at all. You have to forget the past.

You have to be in the present. If you feel guilty, then you catch this center very badly and as a result you develop even physical problems, apart from mental torture. You develop angina, spondylitis and many diseases from the lethargic organs. All right.

The third condition is that you have to forgive everyone, everyone in general; not to think about anyone who has troubled you. Even the gentleman who tried to disturb you: forgive him, just forgive. Because whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything. But if you don't forgive, then you play into wrong hands.

So logically you must forgive. Actually you don't do anything. But why should we torture ourselves for others when they are enjoying themselves? And don't consider yourselves as anything low. Now you are a human being and there's a last breakthrough that you have to achieve, which is the actualisation of your baptism.

You have to take out your shoes for about ten minutes and put them, your feet, on the Mother Earth.

... On your lap. This is suggestive that you are desirous of having your Self-realisation. We'll tell you about the centers on the left hand side which we'll be nourishing ourselves. Now please put your right hand on your heart, where resides the spirit. On the heart. Left side, left side.

If the spirit shines in you, then it guides you; that's how you become your own master.

So now please take down your hand in the upper portion of your abdomen, on the left hand side. This is the center of your mastery. Now, here is the center made by all the prophets, which when enlightened, makes you the master of handling Divine Power.

[Aside:] Please sit down. Don't disturb us, at least. If you are Christians, sit down. Please don't disturb us. Sit down. Be humble, listen. Please be seated. At least behave like Christians.

Now, you have to take your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen, on the left hand side.

This is the center of Pure Knowledge, not bookish knowledge but Pure Knowledge which works, which works the Divine Power; by which you give realisations to others, cure others, everything. Now raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen, on the left hand side. Now, again on your heart. On your heart. Now in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and turn your head to your right. I have already told you that this center goes out of order when you feel guilty. Don't feel guilty at all.

Now, take your right hand and put it on your forehead across. Put down your head. Here you have to forgive everyone in general. Now, please take your hand back on the back side of your head and push back your head. Here you have to say without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, for your satisfaction, `Oh Divine Power, if I have done anything, please forgive me.' Now, please stretch your palm and put the center of your palm on top of the fontanelle bone area and press it down, your head. Push back your fingers so there's a good pressure. And now move your scalp slowly, seven times clockwise. Now, take down your hand. That's all we have to do. You can take out your spectacles because you have to close your eyes and also if there's anything tight here or on your waist, please take it out.

Now again put your left hand towards Me, both the feet away from each other and close your eyes and put your right hand on your heart. Here you ask Me a very fundamental question, you can call Me `Mother' or `Shri Mataji', three times, `Mother, am I the Spirit?' Ask this question three times....

[Aside:] Loudly.

If you are the spirit, you are your master.

So please take your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen and ask Me another question, on the left hand side, `Mother, am I my own master?' I've already told you that I respect your freedom and I cannot force Pure Knowledge on you.

So please take down your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen, on the left hand side. You have to ask for Pure Knowledge.

So please say six times, `Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge.'...

[Aside:] Loudly.

As soon as you ask for Pure Knowledge, the Kuṇḍalinī, the reflection of the Holy Ghost, starts rising.

Now please take your right hand onto the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. We have to nourish these centers with our full confidence. Here you have to say with full confidence, `Mother, I am my own master.' I've already told you that the fundamental truth about you is that you are the pure spirit. You are not this body, you are not this mind, you are not this ego or these conditionings, but you are pure spirit.

So now raise your right hand on your heart and with full confidence say, twelve times, `Mother, I am the pure Spirit.' The Divine Power is the power of compassion and love, it is the ocean of Pure Knowledge, but above all it is the ocean of forgiveness.

So whatever mistakes you might commit, the ocean of forgiveness can dissolve it with its power.

So now raise your right hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and put your head to your right. Here you have to say with full confidence, sixteen times, `Mother, I am not guilty at all.' I have already told you, logically whether you forgive or don't forgive, you do not do anything. But if you do not forgive, then you play into wrong hands and torture yourself.

So now raise your right hand to your forehead and put down your head. Here from your heart, not how many times, say, `Mother, I forgive everyone.' Now, take back your right hand on the back side of your head and push back your head. Here you have to say, without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, for your own satisfaction, `Oh Divine Power, if I have done any mistakes, please forgive me.' Say it from your heart, not how many times.

Now, stretch your palm and please put the center of your palm on the fontanelle bone area, which was a soft bone in your childhood. Now bend your head. Push back your fingers to put a pressure on your scalp. Now move your scalp slowly, seven times. But here again I cannot force Self-realisation on you. I respect your freedom.

So say seven times, `Mother, please give me Self-realisation.' [Shri Mataji blows into the microphone.] Now, please take down your hands. Please put your hands like this towards Me and watch Me without thinking. Like this, like this. Now bend your head and with the left hand see if there's a cool or a hot breeze coming out of your own head, you have to certify yourself. Don't put the hand on top of your head but away from it and see for yourself. This is the proof. Now, please put the left hand towards Me and put down your head again and see with the right hand.

Some people get it far away also. Now with the right hand again.

Now, please put both your hands towards the sky like this and ask a question, one of those, one of these questions you ask, `Mother, is this the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost?' Or second one, `Mother, is this the Divine Love of God?' Or `Mother, is it Rūh or Param-Chaitanya?' Any one of these, you ask question three times.

Now please put down your hands.

[Aside:] They have got it! Put down your hands, please. Like this you put it now. Those who have felt cool or hot breeze out of their fontanelle bone, or on their hands or fingertips, please raise both your hands.

This is the proof. May God bless you. Now you have become really Christians. Now you have become saints. This has to grow, your divinity has to grow. As I told you, it will grow in collectivity. We have here a very good center and there are many people who know about Sahaja Yoga very well. You all should come and become great Sahaja Yogis. You have to save your fellowmen here; and you'll become masters in no time. You don't have to pay for anything.

May God bless you. I would like to meet you people today, tonight, if possible.

[Aside:] Now, they should come up and... Don't talk with them. They are negative people.

[Shri Mataji works on the seekers.] [An old lady, with help from both sides, centimetre by centimetre crawls to the stage and on the stage until she is four metres away from Shri Mataji.] Old Lady: Mother, I know you can cure me.

Shri Mataji: OK, then throw away your sticks.

[The lady throws them and starts running down the stairs.] [In the car on the way back to the hotel:] See, this is what happens if people really believe in Me.

Contents: 1991-08-1x Dinner, Art Nouveau Restaurant, Prague, Czech Republic (year not sure)

[Two opposite walls are lined wit large mirrors into which a mighty crystal chandelier reflects to and fro into eternity.] This is how the world came into existence. Śhrī Gaṇeśha was standing between Shiva and Pārvatī [Shakti] and He got reflected into eternity so that all matter emerged out of Him.

Contents: 1991-08-19 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Welcome Meeting, Sheremetevo Airport, Moscow, Russia

When I was leaving Prague all the Sahaja Yogis was crying and I was also crying. But after coming to Moscow all that sadness has gone now. I'm so overjoyed to see you all again here. I hope this time My coming is going to do something great for all of us.

Sahaja Yogis: Jay Shri Mataji [several times].

Shri Mataji:... and very handy, I must say. I was rather worried when I heard that this problem in Russia [A military coup d'etat started few hours ago in the USSR by some orthodox sticklers of the old communist regime who named themselves as GKChP.

So in the early morning armored forces had occupied Moscow and some other main cities of the USSR and President Gorbachev was arrested. The state of emergency was declared and any social gatherings were prohibited, all the theaters, cinemas, restaurants, etc. were closed. The only exception in Moscow was Shri Mataji's, Public Program! Many people, including some Sahaja Yogis, were afraid of the possibility of a civil war. But in a few days the situation has changed dramatically, the USSR has broken out into the Independent States, the absolute power of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union was finished and people have got some democracy, so further propagation of Sahaja Yoga became possible there.] But I see you quite all right? [Laughs.] Sahaja Yogis: Very good, very good. We did not know about the problem.

Shri Mataji: That seems. You are in the Kingdom of God. [Shri Mataji has cited this several times in Her talks to emphasize how we should behave in any precarious situation, there is no threat when She is here.]

Sahaja Yogini: I love You very much, Mātā.

Shri Mataji: I love you too. I love all of you.

Sahaja Yogis: Jay Shri Mataji [several times].

[The leader of Ukraine says that all the Sahaja Yogis are happy when Shri Mataji is here.]

Shri Mataji: I'm happy Sahaja Yoga is spreading so much here in Russia. And when you tell this to others they also going to competition with you [laughs]. And they think that spiritually you'll be very powerful one day and they'll be left behind [smiles]. And one fellow asked Me, “Mother, I hope there is sufficient place in the Kingdom of God for all of us." [Laughs.] Sahaja Yogis: Jay Shri Mataji [several times].

Shri Mataji: And I told them how Russian understand Sahaja Yoga so easily, they are not conditioned.

And they are also not so materialistic as the Western world is and very immoral. Very immoral and extremely violent. Now this all Nazi group is again rising.

So Sahaja Yoga has to spread fast in all the countries where yet they are not contaminated by this.

People are going, say, from Austria to Czechoslovakia. And from Italy to Bulgaria. And from Switzerland to Poland. And Romania French people are looking out. They were hundred and twenty Romanians who came to meet Me in Hungary.

So Czechoslovakia and Hungary is looked after by Austrians. It's all working out very well in all these countries. Even in Austria we have lots of good Sahaja Yogis, very matured Sahaja Yogis. In France also we have many.

So much so that people are now frightened of us [laughs]. Because they are false people, they are making money in the name of God also. And they are afraid that falsehood will exposed very soon. They are very proud of you, all of them. And they think...

Sahaja Yogis: Jay Shri Mataji [several times].

Shri Mataji: I'm also very proud of you. You have become very...

Sahaja Yogis: Jay Shri Mataji [several times].

Shri Mataji:... you have become very deep Sahaja Yogis. May God bless you.

Sahaja Yogini [presents her handwork to Shri Mataji and describes it]: Kuṇḍalinī, Mūlādhāra, Swādhiṣhṭhāna, Nābhī, Anāhata, Viśhuddhi, Āgñyā and...

Shri Mataji: Sahasrāra.

Sahaja Yogini: Sahasrāra. In order to embroider the letters of Your name...

Shri Mataji: Exact, exact colours.

Sahaja Yogini: In order to embroider the letters of Your name there had to be threads out of the Sun and the Moon rays.

Shri Mataji: Beautiful. You have taken so much so much trouble.

Another Sahaja Yogini: She is a Sahaja Yogini from Leningrad and she wanted to express her great love to You.

Shri Mataji: Thank you, very kind of you.

Sahaja Yogini: Is it nice?

Shri Mataji: Very beautiful.

Sahaja Yogini: I'm happy, I'm happy.

Shri Mataji: Every colours is absolutely the same!

Sahaja Yogini: She made it in the state of meditation being in front of the Photograph and she thought that You blessed her.

Shri Mataji: Of course.

[Sahaja Yogis are presenting flowers to Shri Mataji.] So beautiful flowers.

Thank you very much. Spasibo [Thank you].

Contents: 1991-08-20 Talk to Ukrainian Sahaja Yogis, Dacha in Rastorguyevo (south of Moscow), Russia

Galyna [offers a gift to Shri Mataji on behalf of Ukraine and says in Russian:] This sheep is an ancient ritual vessel with live water which symbolizes family.

Dr. Bohdan [translates]: It's a sheep, Shri Mataji, it's a symbol which carried the living water and this is the symbol of Kiev.

Shri Mataji: You can put vibrated water? Dr. Bohdan: And it is the head of a lion, Shri Mataji.

Galyna: This is the Sun. And this is the Rām. And this is Agni.

Shri Mataji: Agni? Galyna: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Agni is fire.

Galyna: This is the ancient Rus.

Dr. Bohdan: This is the old Russia, old Rus, Shri Mataji, was based in Kiev and then spread to become Russia.

Shri Mataji: Really? Dr. Bohdan: Kiev is the center of the old Empire, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: I see. Thank you very much. Oh! Where it was brought from?

Sahaja Yogini: From Novosibirsk.

Shri Mataji: Beautiful.

Galyna: This is the poetry for You, Shri Mataji, from Kiev done by the Yogini, in Russian.

Shri Mataji: Written by whom? Dr. Bohdan: By her, Shri Mataji.

Galyna: Some of them are written on Your Birthday, Shri Mataji. We celebrated this Holiday? Your Birthday and read those poetries.

Shri Mataji: I must come on My Birthday to you now.

All the Sahaja Yogis: Jay Shri Mataji!

Shri Mataji: So, what about [UNCLEAR] small little house, I don't know what to? Oh! Too much. Always you give so many things.

Letter? In English? What can I give them to eat?.....

Small house, but is good.

.....

Can you all be seated? Can you move this side a little bit? Sahaja Yogis [sing a song in Russian]: Jai Shri Mataji Nirmalā Devī Bless us, Mother and live in the hearts...

.....

We are Your flowers and You are the Gardener...

Shri Mataji: Very good.

Sahaja Yogini [who wrote the song]: I sing it in front of Your Photograph. When I was sewing the design of Sahaja Yoga I got the idea of this song and two more.

Shri Mataji: Very beautiful. Very beautiful. Is the expression, you see, I don't know how to really express My love because I must learn your language.

Sahaja Yogis [laughing]: We all study English.

Shri Mataji: We have to, we must learn English. Easy to speak, English is a very easy language.

Because of your script I can not read, otherwise I might learn it very fast. But script is Greeks script they use. Otherwise it's very easy to know. But I have taken a book, let's see now.

I have no time, I travel so much, you don't know how much I'm travelling all the time. Now I'm going to South America also then Latin America, to Columbia, to Peru, to Chili, Argentina, Brazil. Then to this side: Taiwan, Bangkok or Nepal, Malaysia, Hong Kong then Australia. And also in Europe, you see, all these countries. They are all waiting to meet you all.

So many wanted to come. But just now there was no arrangement to see, because that it would be difficult to accommodate them.

Galyna: No, no. We can accommodate them in our homes.

Shri Mataji: I know they'll come, I know the Spirit.

[Sahaja Yogis give over some plums for Shri Mataji.]

Shri Mataji: Thank you. Is what you call this in your language? Sahaja Yogis: Sliva, plums, green plums.

Shri Mataji: These are plums, green and there's red also. We call it alupukhara, alupukhara.

Dr. Bohdan: Is it sour, Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: No, nice, very nice. What about apricot, what do you call it in your language, apricot? Galyna: Abrikos.

Shri Mataji: The oil of apricot seeds very good for the hair.

Galyna: Is there anything that can be used instead of lemons for the cleansing of negativity in this country because here they are very expensive?

Shri Mataji: Chills can be used, this [points to the plums] can be used. Best is to use the candle, left side. You see, put the candle like this on the photograph, hand like this, the right hand on the Mother Earth. But the best for serious troubles like cancer or anything, like radiation in Kiev you were having, you see, for that you have to use three candles. One with the Photograph, one to be kept here, left Swādhiṣhṭhāna. The third one is to raise the Kuṇḍalinī. Any incurable psychosomatic, like cancer or anything. When the Parkinson with your hands shake.

Galyna: What can we use in our country instead of Ajwan dhuni?

Shri Mataji: Ajwan dhuni. Is also there. Very good for cold.

Galyna: It's pity that we don't know the Latin name for Ajwan.

Shri Mataji: A very big name. But I can send you by [UNCLEAR mons], whatever you want. You let Me know what you need.

Galyna: Oh! Thank you very much, thank you very much.

Shri Mataji: You wanted, you wanted to have Ajwan. Any amount Ajwan I'll send, any amount.

Next time with Arun Kumar I'll send lot of Ajwan. What else you want? Galyna: Also some red clay which one take inside along with honey.

Shri Mataji: Gheru.

Galyna: Gheru, gheru.

Shri Mataji: All right, gheru I'll...

Galyna: We have some green clay from Kiev which been used in past for cleansing purposes, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Green what? Dr. Bohdan: It's green clay that they dig out under Kiev and they also use it for cosmetics.

Galyna: We use it for caltesis, they ate it for oncological problems, cancer problems. We put it on the legs, it's an ancient natural method.

Shri Mataji: What? Dr. Bohdan: Green clay, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: But effect is what? Is this hot or cold? Galyna: By vibrations it's cool. We would like to show You that in the program, Shri Mataji and see whether it can be used instead of gheru.

Shri Mataji: You see, all these things are meant either they are for right side or for left side, even food. They are left or right effects. Say now for fruits, like this, the sour fruits we can call the citrus fruit, like this [points to the plums]. These are, these are for the right side. Liver over activity, too much thinking and also rice, carbohydrates. And for the left side is more proteins. Now some things, like a clay is cool, should be used for the right side. For liver. But if you have gout or if you have arthritis, all that, that is due to the left side.

Shri Mataji: Left Nābhī. For that you have to use something that will heat it, like ajwan, like what you call [UNCLEAR claus/clows].

There are many things which are in effect are heat, they are good for the left side, very good. For example, left side you use the light, you see and the Sun. But the right side you use water or the ice.

Gradually you will know everything. Now because you have got your Kuṇḍalinī in your head, so it will give you all the light and you will know all the knowledge.

Galyna: Mother, You have already sent medical reference book to us. It's in English and we will translate it.

Shri Mataji: That we have written down certain for liver, this, that. But not yet complete. I mean, there's all kinds of diseases people have.

Galyna: We have this book in Kiev and now translating it.

Shri Mataji: You have had, you see, there are boils coming at wrong places it's radiation. Radiation.

So, you see, the radiation is the one which is heating you.

Galyna: A lot of erysipelas cases have come up in Kyiv [Kiev] and in Czechoslovakia also.

Shri Mataji: What do they say? Galyna: Nothing. They do not relate it with radiation.

Shri Mataji: You see, this radiation can be overcome with Sahaja Yoga.

Galyna: We asking for help from our Mother.

Shri Mataji: Nothing can happen to Sahaja Yogis. You are in the Kingdom of God. Who can touch you? Just enjoy yourself.

All Sahaja Yogis: Jay Shri Mataji [several times].

A

Sahaja Yogini: We know that You are God, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: What shall we offer, we have nothing in the house to offer them.

Sahaja Yogis: It's all right, Shri Mataji. We are happy to be here with You.

Shri Mataji: Very kind, very kind of you. Very kind.

Sahaja Yogis: We are very happy to be side by side with You, Shri Mataji and give our love.

Shri Mataji: May God bless you.

So are you coming to Togliatti for the Pūjā? Sahaja Yogis: Yes, Shri Mataji, but not all of us, there is a problem with tickets.

Shri Mataji: Really? Next time next time we should have a Pūjā even in Leningrad also.

A

Sahaja Yogi: If we are sick or making mistakes, Shri Mataji, do You find it difficult, do You also find it difficult to carry this?

Shri Mataji: I should, I'm worried about you. On the contrary My body is more compassioned than Myself. It just sucks in all your problems. You must surrender, that's important, you must surrender.

There are seen so many miracles like this. In Prague only two days back a very old lady came up, she all her has everything and nothing moving, brought her in a chair on the stage in a very bad shape.

So she said, “Mother, I'm sorry I'm in this shape, but I completely surrender myself to You. I know what You are and please if I am not cured I would not say anything." And I told her, “Now you get up!" And she got up. And then she stood up herself and then she run. Everybody looking at her, she went running.

Even in Moscow it had happened. Doctor, you remember? Doctor Bohdan: I beg Your pardon, Mother.

Shri Mataji: That lady in Moscow, that lady who came to us. She couldn't walk. She had Parkinson, I think, or something. And she just got up and she just walk and when we were going in the car we saw her running for the bus.

Galyna: We also can tell You an interesting story of a Sahaja Yogini in Kyiv [Kiev]. 18-year-old girl came from Ivano-Frankovsk [West Ukraine] in a wheel chair. She saw the video tape of the Leningrad, Public Program and stood up. Later on we taught her and now she still living in Ivano-Frankovsk and walks and even runs. She had encephalitis.

Galyna: Yes. Her name is Galyna. She could not walk for eleven years. We have letters from her. This lady has not walk for eleven years and this is the first time when she can sit on the Earth and walk and she's so very happy.

Shri Mataji: Who? Dr. Bohdan: This Lady we are talking about now, Shri Mataji.

A

Sahaja Yogini: First I saw Shri Mataji in October in Leningrad and I came there on crutches.

All Sahaja Yogis: Jay Shri Mataji [several times].

Shri Mataji: It is your own power.

The

Sahaja Yogini: In my embroidery in the first line I wrote “O, loving Mother, You have saved me!" Galyna: And me and her.

Shri Mataji: I can see, you see, you can make out a Sahaja Yogis the way they are just like flowers, they look so beautiful.

So happy, all the time laughing [laughs].

A

Sahaja Yogini: We just sang the song, that we are flowers and You are the Gardener. [All are laughing.]

Shri Mataji: I'm the Gardener. I am the Gardener.

Doctor Bohdan: Yes, Mother.

The

Sahaja Yogini: Later on in this song there are words: We are Your flowers and You are The Gardener, Mother, so pour on us The Divine's Grace. Light will make the darkness go.

Shri Mataji: Ah? Dr. Bohdan: Light will make the darkness ee.

The

Sahaja Yogini: And the garden of Paradise will blow in the flowers of love.

All Sahaja Yogis: Jay Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: May God bless you.

Beautiful thoughts, beautiful thoughts.

We have to put the flowers in the garden, because we have no flower pots.

Dr. Bohdan: They worried, Shri Mataji, that they making You tired.

Shri Mataji: No, no.

A

Sahaja Yogini: We wish that Mother have rest.

Shri Mataji: Thank you. Very kind. I got up at today at four o'clock in the morning.

Galyna: We know.

Shri Mataji: And in the morning I think of you all.

Sahaja Yogis: Thank You, Mother.

A

Sahaja Yogi: Mother, one farewell poem.

In the morning having raised by the narrow path I will ask o, Mother, let me hear Your call from the Highest Gospel.

Let me see the Highest Face of Immortality, a glance from the secret mansion.

My eyes are shining, my road is great, I can not hesitate by my threshold.

Take your path to the Heaven's shelter Fight the darkness till the morn Loosing not the image Mine Went on, My son, to the Truth of Light.

Don't loose your strength in the faraway abyss I will give the love to your heart Please come back, my loving.

Sahaja Yogis [several times]: Jay Shri Mataji!

Shri Mataji: You should write it down. You write it down, then we will translate it. All right, where is the poem that you have written? I'll ask somebody to translate it. Yes, you write in the Russian language. In which way, in Ukraine language? Which language he used? The Sahaja Yogi: I am from Mineralnye Vody, near Pyatigorsk, Caucasia.

Shri Mataji: All right, just you write it down on a piece of paper and then I'll get it translated, this also I'll get it translated.

Beautiful handwriting.

The

Sahaja Yogini: Can I also write my poem down? Shri Mataji [reading a note]: Why are you asking? Why you saying sorry? Dr. Bohdan: I don't know, Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: Is she ask for forgiveness? Ah? Dr. Bohdan: Aha.

Shri Mataji: `Prostite' means `forgive'. Prostite.

Forgive. For what? The word `Prostite' I know, because I have to tell everywhere that you forgive, otherwise your Āgñyā will be bad. By this I learned that word `prostite'.

Galyna: Oh, You are speaking it Russian word very nice.

Shri Mataji: Prostite. [Shri Mataji laughs.] I My pronunciations is good in Russian language, they say so.

Galyna: Very well.

Shri Mataji: Because I can say `s' which pressures `ts.' Dr. Bohdan [translates]: I can speak good Russian, because I know all the sounds like `ts', `dg', `zh' in Marathi.

Shri Mataji: In Sanskrit. Sanskrit is a big Tantristian men, Tantristers, so you can say many words easily, pronunciation can be good.

Thank you very much.

Sahaja Yogis [several times]: Jay Shri Mataji! A

Sahaja Yogini: We love You very much.

Shri Mataji: I also love you very much.

We have bought a house for you here, so I could stay in Russia.

[Dr. Bohdan missed the last words of Shri Mataji and could not translate it in Russian.]

Shri Mataji: I said that I love you very much, because I bought this house for Myself, because I want to live in Russia with you people.

[Sahaja Yogis express their delight and ask Shri Mataji to come in Russia more frequently.] Galyna: So Kiev ask You too.

Shri Mataji: Thanks.

Galyna: We invite You to Kiev too, welcome to Kiev!

Shri Mataji: Oh, of course. I'll take a house in Kiev also. We must say it was something just miraculously I got this house. You can't buy a house [n the USSR], very difficult. But somehow we find this.

Galyna: We want to buy a house in Kiev for You.

Shri Mataji: All right, but... under law, I don't know under law [UNCLEAR]. It's was that somebody gave Me. He left the country, gave Me, so I'm here. But it's very difficult the law here, that the foreigner can not buy. But the only thing were that, you see, this law may change.

Galyna: Yes, there will be changes.

A

Sahaja Yogini: Of course, but we don't know for the better or for the worse.

Another Sahaja Yogini: Of course for better, because Shri Mataji has arrived here.

Shri Mataji: Yes. I don't know, but yesterday I came and they said all Gorbachev will be removed and all that, so I said, “I don't know what happening now." Dr. Bohdan: Sorry, Mother.

Shri Mataji: I had yesterday came and they told Me that Gorbachev is removed. I don't know what's happening in this country, but we should all pray that every good thing should happen to this country now. We need something very good prosperity to come in.

Something good should happen, should happen, very good should happen, because you people have suffered a lot now, have enough of it. No more.

Sahaja Yogis say: Thank You. Jay Shri Mataji!

Shri Mataji: May God bless you all.

All right, will see you for the program? Sahaja Yogis. Yes.

Shri Mataji: Thank you very much.

Sahaja Yogis [several times]: Jay Shri Mataji!

Shri Mataji: Just enjoy, enjoy yourself.

Contents: 1991-08-31 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Mastery and Marriage, Evening Program before Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, Cabella Ligure, Italy

I'm really thankful to both of them, really, for one reason, see, humour can say many things you cannot say otherwise. This is absolutely a best way of saying things in which you feel embarrassed, isn't it? But this shows that we should understand Sahaja Yoga, that unless and until we're quiet, unless and until we're in thoughtless awareness, we cannot grow.

So all these extreme behaviours cannot take you to the center.

I must admit that the marriage business sometimes really shocks Me the way some people are married to some people. I don't know how it works out but because very surprisingly somebody appears on the stage and we have no time to consult three hundred, what you call, the reports and Yogi tells Me, “It's all right, all right” and I say, “All right." Because for the whole month he is behind Me with his file, you know and showing Me names of the people who are to be married, this, that and really it's quite confusing and there're so many other things I'm doing at the same time, doesn't matter.

Sometimes really it has made a real blunders, I think such horrible blunders and I suddenly discover them and then I'm surprised that most of them are the entries at the last minute, you see and you don't know what you've done. And everybody in such a big mood of marriage. It's impossible to tell them, `No, no, no, no, you can't marry now, you haven't given the...', because you see, they just come with such enthusiasm that you don't know what to say. And sometimes you marry somebody at the last minute and they try to escape that. Also it's dangerous.

These last minute marriages, I have told that now should be avoided, if possible. But some of them turn out to be very wonderful. These last minute marriages, I must tell you there's..., we can say that, see this Madhuri and her husband Dave, absolutely last minute. But last than, I must tell you the last, more last or absolutely the last was our Giovanni and Sashiwala.

When Giovanni came he was supposed to marry some girl and this girl didn't turn up. I think she, I don't know what was the matter, she never turned up. Now he was all ready, you see, in Marathi we say, means that thing you put on your head is, so much in a hurry that he tied it on his knees, you see, with his mangal sutra and all that he was there. I didn't know what to do. He said, “Mother, where's my wife?" I said, “Now from where to get somebody for him?" So this Sashiwala, I don't know, I was just thinking that Sahaj, something should happen, otherwise this fellow will collapse. “The boys have come now, they're here, where is my wife?" I said, “I don't know, she was to come, I don't know why she's not come." “No, where's she?" So luckily this Sashiwala, I don't know how she got this idea and she said, “Mother, can I get married now?" I said, “Now?" “Yes, I want to marry now." “So should you not tell your parents?" “Doesn't matter, in any case they belong to some group which doesn't want me to marry, I would like to marry someone." So I said, “All right, there's one Giovanni here, would you like to marry him?" “Yes, of course." And Giovanni was in such an enthusiasm, he said, “Yes." They're really an ideal couple, both of them are doing very well. And there was no sarī available at that time, so I said, “All right” I pulled out a sarī from My couch and I said, “Now use this one." So we have had many a spontaneous marriage, very spontaneous and they've been extremely beautiful and has not been a problem. And some problems have been were, they have been living together for years together and as soon as they married they come to Me, “Mother, can we divorce now?" This I can't understand, they have lived together for years together, something has to do with your previous lives, I personally think. These marriages have something to do with your previous lives. Maybe you might be wanting to marry somebody, hankering after someone, so that person had to be in your life to learn your lesson, whatever it is. But I just can't understand because apparently whatever looks very nice then sometimes it really becomes very funny and sometimes also we make mistakes like, I think Warren was the real culprit, the way he made mistakes, I mean, I can't imagine.

Now Yogi is a hasty man, so if you find somebody on the stage standing, some girl standing there and he doesn't know what to do, he has to marry her to someone like that.

So, you see, some boy suddenly refuses to marry someone or some girls do not like some boys, then you feel that they're in a mood of a marriage, better get them married to someone like that.

So there's a mood in Sahaja Yoga. In Sahaja Yoga I've seen people get into moods and things.

But the problem is like this in India we are built up from childhood that you'll have your husband..., so we don't consider anybody as our husband or anything, we wait till our parents decide our like this, all right. Normally girls never think of any husband, boys also I don't think this love affair is there much in India. And the parents decide for them that, “This is all right." But we consult horoscopes, you see, but here we consult vibrations but there we consult horoscopes. And when horoscopes are all right, you see, like Baba Mama's marriage, I must tell you.

There was a very well-known person to us and his sister's daughter was there to be married to him.

The proposal came from Baba Mama. Now Baba Mama was much fatter than this at that time and he had six friends who were even as fat as himself. And we had a huge big car, in that they all sat and went to see the girl. That's a custom in India. Now this girl, poor thing, she saw from the window six wrestlers coming down. She got such a fright, she said, “Which one of them is going to be my husband?" So I went up and I told her that such and such, this and this, but she said, “All right, if I have to marry this man, I will marry him but you just tell me, you stand behind the person whom I have to marry because there are so many looking exactly the same." And that's how the marriage took place but that was the first time they saw. Then he asked Me, “Do you like the girl?" I said, “I like her very much." And I asked her, she just nodded her head and the marriage was fixed at that moment.

So that was the style, we think that our elders are much more wiser and sensible. But in Sahaja Yoga sometimes, you know, we fail; I think sometimes really we are befooled by some negative things. And sometimes you get girls who are really not at all capable of getting married or I should say, not good, or boys like that. It's very shocking sometimes what happens but this is due to the last minute thing.

So now I'm going to think about it that only under some circumstances which are absolutely compelling that you know about someone very well and if such a person is let down then it's all right. But mostly if you don't know the person and suddenly they come up then one should not go with the spontaneous marriage.

But, you see, marriage is a thing for Indians, it is that it's a, just like having a baby in the house, just like that, it's a part and parcel.

So they never think that, `All right, my wife has come, she's short or she's fair or dark,' nothing, `Now she's my wife.' Like your child, like your child comes in, that's it.

So this is what it is, a marriage. This is the wife who has come and the husband is there. Husband is supposed to be a husband, wife is supposed to be a wife, finished. That's a part of the family, we all live together and husband is supposed to protect the wife and the wife is supposed to look after the husband and all the family people and everyone.

So it is such a training morning till evening. Everyday we see even like Aradhana and Anupama, My granddaughters and Shonu, all of them, I see them they are just training themselves, you see, automatically.

So when the marriage takes place they take to it like a fish takes to water, it's no problem with them. But here the thing is that you have an idea that you must fall in love, when you fall ten times actually and you really fall.

So the marriage is regarded as some sort of a shopping business. That's how it fails also. Once you're married, just accept this is a part of your life, it's your destiny, it's your life, previous lives things; just accept the fact, work it out. And we don't even work out marriages, they just work out. Many people say, “I'll make it work." I mean, how? Is it a machine or something that you make it work, so artificial. That's how if you take to marriage, in that way.

A married couple has to know in Sahaja Yoga that they are married because they're Sahaja Yogis and they have to have children who are going to be great saints and Sahaja Yogis and great people. And then they have to develop their relationship in Sahaja Yoga in a proper way. Now as I see it's correct that you say, “You're left-sided, you're right-sided” you're this, you're that. But, you see, in Sahaja Yoga you become actually the person who is a Vaishnava, the one who is in the center, Viṣhṇu's path. You are neither left nor right, you're on Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's path.

So how can you be left or right? If you are left or right then you are no more a Sahaja Yogi.

Sahaja Yogis are, now see, look at Me, I would say that if you want to keep Me awake, I can keep awake for five days, if you want Me to sleep I can sleep for five days, under My command. If you want Me to sleep on the ground, I can sleep on the ground, I can sleep on the stones and I need not sleep at all. Doesn't make a difference to Me at all because I'm not at all bothered about My body or My physical comfort. I don't know what physical comfort means.

So you can do whatever you like.

So if you have to get up at six o'clock, I can get up at five. Or if you want I can sleep at five also.

So the thing is, the body should be under our command, we should not be under the command of the body, both ways.

But in a left-sided person it's not only the body, also the emotions play a part. But in the right-sided person it's his physical body itself is a jerky type, all the time jumping, jumping. You know, if you take a child, nowadays they're suffering from this disease that they want to go out, run here, run there, do this, do that, all the time, just like a monkey.

So they're just roaming about and they're overactive and it's a disease now, an overactive disease. And nowadays I think it will end up in that horrible stuff as you call as yuppies disease and you just become like reptiles. People have to carry like you see, as they carry snakes or they carry fishes, like that. Your body becomes absolutely revolting against your conscious mind.

So you can't even walk, can't even talk.

So that's one thing that happens.

And the second part is the lethargic people also, they cannot lift their legs, you see, they cannot sit on the ground, they cannot do this, they cannot keep awake.

So these problems are so serious that they have to be finished off in Sahaja Yoga, no doubt. But if your body demands anything, now supposing your body demands that you should sleep.

So you should say, `I'll not sleep, now let me see what can you do?' You command your body, `What do you mean by yourself? Who are you to tell me to sleep at this time, sleep at that time.' That is how you've to master your body.

Like once I remember we had a transfer and we had no beds, nothing and I thought better sleep on the ground because I could sleep anywhere and I had some pain in the body. I was amazed at Myself, for one month I slept just on the cement, direct. Let Me see, what is this body going to do? Then with the mind also. You see, the mind also all the time wobbly, as like, they cannot sit at home, now they've come here, `Oh, let's go out, look at this, look at that, let's see this, let's see that,' they can't sit properly for five minutes together.

So there should be contentment within yourself. You make Me sit in a room, I'll sit comfortably for hours, ages. I would not like to go anywhere, to see this, to go round this, if I have to go, I will go, otherwise I'm contented. Just what is there to see this and see that. Now you go about this way, that way, run about.

So this is also a mind of the right-sided person. It's all the time running away from this, running away from the house, running away from himself.

So these extremes come in only when you're not in the center when you're not yourself fully. When you're yourself you really enjoy yourself fully, whether there is someone or not.

Now we're just thinking today that supposing any other Indian lady would have been in this big house, she had written a long letter to her husband that, “Oh I'm so frightened here, there're bhoots looking at me from this side” and this and that and all kinds of things. Because I've seen such letters written, you see, by people and I used to be amazed what is there to be afraid? Because if you are in a big house also a small house, what does it matter? If it's a big house does it mean that it becomes bhootish and if it's a smaller house it doesn't become bhootish, like that.

So it's all conditionings of the mind.

So if you have the conditionings then you're not a Sahaja Yogi.

There should be no conditioning. Now you've seen that by God's grace I have all the comforts in My family life, but to Me it makes no difference, neither physical nor mental nor emotional, nothing of the kind. Now so many people get very upset if they do something wrong like Marcus, Mister Marcus, you see, turned out to be a funny fellow, doesn't matter. He's funny, that's all, finished. I don't feel much about it. People were very much disturbed, of course you feel more disturbed because he said some thing against Me but to Me it doesn't matter.

Now you start singing My praise, My jais, sometimes I don't know if you're singing My..., all the time I think, yes you're singing somebody else jai and sometimes I may join you, you see, it's possible. I've to keep quiet, `No, no, no, It's Me they're singing about.' I've to tell Myself to stop it, so there should not be any sort of a reaction, that's the point, niranjana, should not react. You see something, just see it, don't react. You hear something, you just hear, don't react. If you can manage no reaction business, means you do not react on that, neither emotionally nor physically nor mentally. Then spiritually you'll act, it works, that works.

Like Mister Gorbachev's problems. I told them, “Give Me about two hours, just I'm going to sleep now." Because when I sleep then all My attention is on one point.

So I said, “All right Gorbachev, come along, sleep now” finished. Problem was solved. That's how it works out but when you sleep also you're dreaming, you're thinking about this, you're doing that, `Tomorrow I've to get up for meditation,' nothing, you just tell yourself, `Tomorrow there's meditation,' finished, that time you'll get up. Four o'clock means four o'clock. For the whole today, I think, what time I got up, I don't know, get up very early, then everybody's sleeping then again I sleep, I don't know what to do. Again I get up, everybody's fast asleep, all right, let them sleep, doesn't matter. Then I say, “All right, call somebody, I'll have some tea or something” but what I'm saying that such a person is not troublesome to anyone. There's no demand, nothing, everything's fine, it's all right.

But on the contrary you do so much for Me that I don't know what to do with Myself. Like I must thank you all the Swiss who brought such nice beautiful sheets and things for Me. I never knew what sort of sheets I was using, I never knew what sort of pillow case I had, nothing. Today she told Me they've brought the sheets. I said, “Really?" “This is from them." I never knew what I was using. Not that I don't know about things, I know this sarī when it was given to Me in what Pūjā. I know from where it comes, I know the art but what I don't worry about is this, `Where is that thing gone? When is it this meticulously? Why this is not at ten o'clock? Why this?' You can meditate any time but four o'clock is the time that's too much for you, but I should say, about six o'clock. Six o'clock is the time when, you see, you are away from the day's problems because so much time has passed and that's the time when you are in a state where you are silent, you're now getting up.

Now supposing you have to go to work at seven. Then you must do your meditation by about five.

So five o'clock you get up whichever way you like, at least you get ten, fifteen minutes free where you'll meditate.

Because then you'll have to get ready, you've to go.

So one hour you take to get ready. Before that if you can get up, I tell you, you'll just practice it, it would be very helpful. It's not that it is compulsory, `If you don't meditate you'll go to hell,' nothing of the kind, Sahaja Yoga is not like that. Only in Sahaja Yoga one thing is there, if you have to grow then you have to meditate and that's the best time for individual meditation, for individual meditation. And that's how one has to do it.

But in the West I don't know why getting up early in the morning is worse than giving them a corporal punishment, I think. But maybe because in India the timings are such that we are used to that kind of life and I always get up very early. Whatever time I may sleep, I get up early and then if I've to keep awake, I can keep awake.

So the body should be, you should be the master, should be the master of your body, should not try to...

Now you would know that I'll be very soon seventy years of age, quite an old age it is supposed to be, you see and still if you make Me sit on the ground I can sit for hours, I can sit for hours.

Sometimes I just sit on the ground just to allow the vibrations to go up. Many people can't even sit on the ground at this age. They have pains here, pains there. Of course if you have pains, so what does it matter. You can see your pains. See I've burnt My fingers yesterday, there was a blister, can you see that? So what I did, I put more oil and burnt it more. It's settled down, little bit is still there but it will go back. It's very simple thing, you see, you should do to your body. If it is trying to misbehave, all right, do it more.

It's paining there, it more.

So that is how you can conquer your body. But if you want to become slave of your body then you cannot be spiritual person. Because of that all these things come up like all these problems I saw as you said it between the two persons, it's very obvious, shows that we're more concerned about each other than about ourselves.

We should be able to be ourselves. If somebody says, `All right, sit here,' all right sit there, what is there? What does it matter? It's no so important. If somebody says, `All right, you don't have your food,' all right we won't have food, so what does it matter. You're not going to die and even if I'm going to die I'm going to die anyway, anyway, if that is the last.

So if you take an attitude, you see, which is is not strictness for others but for yourself, then it works. Then it works out. And you can make your body your slave, you are now masters. Just make your bodies your slaves, don't have to go to Himālayas, don't have to do all those things, you can now. Because they could get their realisation, poor things went to the Himālayas, they stayed in the cold, they used to, I don't know, most of them died also in that condition.

You might be one of them possibly, those who did all those things.

So in this lifetime you have to know that that's the best time and whatever is good for our benevolence we should do, this wisdom we should have, because we're Sahaja Yogis. It's for our good, for our benevolence, why shouldn't we do? We've been seeking this, we've been doing this, we've been asking for this, we're born like this and now we found it, so why not do it? But I've seen people, if they've to go to work they'll get up in the morning but if they've to go to meditation, they will not. Because still the conditionings are there. The best way, I think, is to first of all, to get up in the morning.

Some people say, “All right, tonight I'm going to sleep early so I'll get up tomorrow morning” you'll never. I've tried that also. Because it's good, that's why I'm saying it's not that compulsory, nothing of the kind, it's good, you just try it, it's good that's the best time that one can meditate.

Now supposing I'm travelling now, today here it is twelve o'clock, if I'm in Russia the twelve o'clock there is twelve o'clock for Me. Five o'clock there is five o'clock for Me. I don't have this problem, I don't have to worry about what is the time there or what is calculated now, nothing of the kind. When I'm there it's five o'clock, Russia all right, five o'clock. There exactly five o'clock I'm up there.

So what I'm trying to tell you is this that you can master the time, you can master anything.

But first you master yourself. If you've not mastered your body, your mind and emotions, how can master it? Master everything, you can master it, everything. You can stop the sun, you can stop the moon, you can stop the rain if you want, can do everything. If you want I can try something for you tomorrow. Even the moon will move with you, I've seen, I've shown people that when I move the moon moves. You see, they become your slaves absolutely your slaves because they respect you for the mastery you've shown.

So all what we are mastering are all elements within ourselves. And that is not to be done with force or anything, with dedication, I think, I would say. But for Me it comes just a matter of, what should I say, it's part of My life, part of My life.

Now, Sahaja Yoga, I don't need anything, it is a part of Me, I don't need anything and I can sleep whenever I like after all, get up whenever I like, nothing. Food now, today I don't think I had lunch, nothing, so doesn't matter, nothing important. Still I look fresh and I feel fresh, I'm feeling all right.

So this is the thing, we should now try to know we should master it. Supposing you're fond of something, something you want to eat. Then you tell yourself, `Now you're not going to eat that.' Now say, you are fond of pasta, poor Guido has been tortured for pasta. All right, so you say that, somebody told Me Guido didn't like some pasta when he came to Milan.

So I thought why he didn't like, I was eating the same pasta everyday. Then I ate and I thought of it, “Ha” I said, “See this pasta, they've not put olive oil but have put corn oil, raw corn oil." All the time I've been eating that I've never thought like that, but when he didn't eat I thought that there must be something wrong. And this I do with My husband also. When he says that this is not good to eat then I put My attention to it to see why it's not good to eat, because I've been drinking that throughout, you see. I never feel that there's something wrong, I eat everything.

So this is what it is that I've mastered My tongue. This tongue cannot trouble Me. What I want I will eat, jolly well it has to tolerate. This is what it is.

If you can master your tongue, master your eyes, the eyes are such which are very powerful things, extremely powerful. And the feelings of the eyes are extremely powerful. But if you have artificial eyes, I mean, artificially you do things, artificially you..., then the eyes have no power, eyes have no power. You should master your tongue, if you say anything it may be wrong, but it will come true. Truth will only come from it.

So it is the same with the ears, you have to master it. In the sense that, `What, you're talking like this? All right talk, I don't mind.' So any amount of noise I can sleep, only thing, what I don't like electrical light when I sleep. I've seen that I had no, these spectacles till about four, five years back but with these lights the way you're putting on Me, I had to give it. They're artificial, so because of these artificial things, if the body doesn't like, it's very good. That's if the body's sensible, it is honest and it's sensitive. Should not like artificial things. If it likes artificial things then something wrong with the body, this is genuine, that the body is genuine, you see.

So this is what we have to understand that sleep you must master. All right, you feel sleepy stand with a pole in the hand and don't sleep, let's see that way. Now if you feel like eating too much then don't eat food at all. Once I went for a massage some place, they said, “You'll have to starve here." I said, “All right, how many days?" He said, “About five, six." “I can starve any amount." Sixteen days I just didn't eat anything, they got a shock. They said, “Baba, please eat something, what's the matter with you?" And others were stealing chapatis and puratas from the shop and eating. I said, “Why?" I never even thought of food.

So you control your thoughts, `No, no, I'm not going to think about it, finished,' just thoughtless awareness.

So what happens that we have become slaves of everything, just think of it. You're not master of anything. Or supposing you're getting late for the plane.

So people become the aeroplane, you take the name of the airport they go off up and down. I don't understand what is the need. At the most you'll miss the plane, at the most, which I never miss, which I never miss.

So this is a conditioning in our own mind.

So what? But if you miss the meditation, it means something.

So priority's changed that actually when you start mastering yourself, the priority's changed and you really become the master of it, of the whole atmosphere, whole of everything but I'm quite a master I must say in so many respects but I never force My ideas on you. If I want I can, I don't. I allow you to grow the way you are. Because what's the use by My doing if you do something then how will you grow? It's like using a computer instead of your mathematical brain, isn't it? If by what I do if I change you then how will you grow.

So you have to do something. If you want I can make you all get up at four, do meditation regularly, I can, but that's not good, you have free will. If you want to do the meditation, if you don't want, don't do it.

So it's something is to be respected is your freedom but you must respect your ultimate freedom, have to become the master, just the master.

How you play the game is your style, that's Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's.

Like buying this house, Cabella, there was a crook, you know. Everybody who had fallen a thing to him. I didn't know how to play, just now I said, `Let Me see, let Me see.' Ultimately the whole thing was discovered only five days before the Guru Pūjā I bought this, five days. And four days before I bought and three days before we purchased this and one day before it was pitched. You can do anything, ask our Guido. Guido told Me that there are two ashrams available. I said, “All right, what have you done about it?" He said, “Nothing so far." So I telephoned to him. He said, “Mother how will you do it?" “We'll see." And the plane did not go that day, went and bought both of them.

So if you are a master, you see, if supposing you are a master of sorcery, you can do whatever you like with them but if you're a master of everything you can manage everything. Everything looks magical but it's not. Actually you're mastering. Like we went to Germany, he said, “Mother you must also buy something from Germany for Pūjā, what's the use all the time you bought from Holland so why not from Germany." I said, “This' such an expensive place all I try to avoid." But still I was going round and round and suddenly we came to a point. I said, “Now see here." In Germany we bought things fifty percent less, Germany, can you believe it. That too not the east, the west Germany.

So that's what happened but, you see, you have to have the knack and a master is not worried, you see, master knows. Let everybody play their cards, the master sits on the trump card, that's the one. Then you're so confident because you're the master. But we don't spend time in mastering ourselves, this is our trouble. Now supposing if this was the situation, supposing the husband is right-sided, which I have very much, he's very right-sided, all the time sees the time, like this all the time. I've played so many tricks with him now that he doesn't now see the time much.

Like My daughter's wedding was there, now this elder daughter, you see, they all came from Lucknow, all left-sided people. But in Lucknow if they invite you at ten o'clock you better go at six o'clock in the evening because by ten o'clock they would all be sleeping and snoring. That's how the people are in Lucknow. My husband comes from the same Lucknow, Lucknow-walla, but he is very right-sided, first class, first this, that. These people, poor things came from Lucknow also.

So he had arranged everything.

Six o'clock the barbers will be ready to shave, you see.

So these people were still in bed, the barbers were there, you see, in their beds they were shaving, so imagine the boy's side.

So then they got up from their beds, poor things. Then they're that eight o'clock will be the breakfast served. Rushed some or other, poor things, you see, they have never known such a thing, they'd never got up before ten in Lucknow.

So they rushed up, came there and all that, so much poor things, they thought, `We must show our efficiency, otherwise in Bombay [Mumbai] people will think what these lethargic people are.' So they all tried to be very smart and this and that.

So the marriage was fixed and the custom is that the girl has to take the garland and has to garland the boy, otherwise you cannot marry.

So the stage was fixed and My son-in-law was to come after a certain Pūjā on the door and come there and the girl has to walk all the way and put the garland. It was all fixed, you see, set, so she was told, “You have to walk exactly at this time” and told Me, “Keep your watch ready..." and so poor Kalpana started walking and nobody on the stage.

So she looked back, she said, “Who am I going to garland here?" I said, “Garland the chair now." So I brought her back.

What we discovered, I immediately knew what must have happened, that My son-in-law felt like going to the bathroom. And he was wearing those tight pants, you see, that they wear, this churidar and they were pulling his churidar, poor man trying to go to the bathroom. She said, “Mummy, I don't know what to do." I said, “Take it easy." C.P. was jumping here and there, he didn't understand. I said, “Kalpana, you go back, stand there, I'll bring Prabhat." Then Prabhat came. It took over fifteen, twenty minutes, according to time. C.P. said, “You played some tricks again on me." I said, “Sorry, I can't help it." Like that, so you see, then I played tricks like this. Now he knows Me too well that I'm playing tricks and so now he doesn't force Me to do...

So this is what, if you're a master, but in a very gentle and sweet manner you play the tricks. He told Me, “Now I know why you went to Russia, I know you know that, all right." Now gradually he's realised this is the mastery. But I don't show like that, I am otherwise a very good housewife, all the time saying saying, “Yes sir, yes sir." But if you are the master you can play, that's what is Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is the master, He has the mastery, you see. All the mastery He had and that's how He managed things.

So that's what I'm trying to say that you must master yourself. Instead of blaming anyone, instead of saying anything, you just tell yourself, `Now I'm a Sahaja Yogi, come along, why am I here?' So the right-sided will become left, left will right and ultimately it will station out to the center, like a pendulum we move.

So this is what is a very good thing that you have shown, I'm very happy, but these problems exist.

And actually in Sahaja Yoga nobody should be right-sided or left-sided. You're all in the center, you're all in the center. Because certain things like shoe-beating is such an embarrassing thing, you know but you have to do it, you can't help it if you have ego. But this all can be easily solved once you face yourself, just face yourself. But this is me, not others, not others, not others, yourself, face yourself. `I'm like this, all right, I'll see to it, I'll put it right.' All right? So now they have decided to do everything, finish everything tonight and then they will do it. I would say if you want you can do it now, whatever it is and if you feel it's sleepy tomorrow you can sleep also, doesn't matter, whenever you think I will be ready to come. May God bless you.

So tomorrow I'm going to talk about the master of masters whom I can master also. I can master that master also, all right? May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-09-01 Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa Pūjā, The Technique (Master) of the Play, Cabella Ligure, Italy

Today, we have decided to worship the Yogeshwara. I think that is the greatest name of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa for us. That means He is the Īshwara of Yoga. `Yoga' means `the union', as you know, with the Divine. But also Yoga has another meaning which means `yukti'. In English language to translate it properly [is] not possible. We can call it as a... yukti means `the trick', the trick. But trick is always connected with something funny and bad. But this yukti means `the technique'. The `technique' is mechanical.

So I couldn't find any proper word for yukti. But one can say it is the `to know the technique' and `the trick of the technique' is also another meaning of Yoga, yukti.

So, even if you are connected, if you do not know the trick of the union, then it is useless, it is of no avail.

So what one has to learn after getting realisation, not only the technique, but the trick of the technique.

At Kṛiṣhṇa's level when we reach, it is an Incarnation after Śhrī Rāma's.

So Śhrī Rāma came as a `Maryādā Purushottama', which means a person who has within a complete ideal of Maryādās and a benevolent king.

But, in the case of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, it was a different phase because people had become extremely serious, very disciplined and were leading a life which was, we can say, over Dharmic. And this had put the people at a level fixed and they thought that `If we are doing all these things every day, then it's alright. We have reached the last.' So Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa had to come, Himself, Śhrī Viṣhṇu, came as Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, to tell us about the ascent and that all this is just a play. But only a person who is a master of the play can do the play.

So to know the play, supposing you have communication, electrical communications you have. Now, you don't know how to play with it, play. Not, how to know or how to connect, but to play. Supposing only you know all the technique. Then it becomes quite a headache because all the time you think you are doing it, you are... have to do this and, this is to be done, that has to be done and this connection is not all right, that should be properly connected. You get tired and bored. But, if it's a play for you, just a play, for any master it's a play. If it's just a play for you, then you don't feel tired, it's fun, it's fun.

And that is what is is `leelā'. That's why He is called `Leelādhara'. Because He is a master. He came as a master, master, not as a Guru, but master of all the arts of this Yoga, yukti.

So He's so deft, He's so capable, that for Him it's a play. All this is a play for Him. And this is what one has to know, that in Yoga everything that you do should be just a play. Say, getting up at five o'clock in the morning should be a play. In the morning you get up, say, it's not yet, the sun has not come to suggest what you have to do and the moon has departed and in that twilight or a little darkness, you get up. It's very beautiful and that time you sit down for dyān[a]. But's up... it's is not a serious thing, it's ah... it's not something that is boring, it's a play. But for that you have to be a master. If you are the master of Yoga, then it's a play.

So the first Śhrī Rāma's state has to be there, where you become really [a] Vishwa Nirmalā Dharmi, so that it becomes your play.

Now communication with the Divine has to go to the whole world. [The] whole world has to get this communication that you have received. For this part Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa arranged something in His lifetime in a very simple way, as a child. Very child... childish it looks, very childlike. Like when the gopīs were taking their baths, He hid their clothes. [UNCLEAR I mean, the/But] Indian women are never fully nude. Never. [He] hid their sarīs and all that and He could see their back, this little boy. What is for a little boy? He's sitting on a tree and is trying to raise their Kuṇḍalinī. They're coming out of the river Jamuna, which is being vibrated by Rādhā. Already there are vibrations, [UNCLEAR you see/here], raising their Kuṇḍalinī. Then they are taking the water and He breaks their pitchers from the back, it is... has also got vibrated water.

So the vibrated water falls on the back of these ladies and He tries to awaken their Kuṇḍalinī.

See the play of a child, how He tried to play in His childhood, just like a child. And then He shows, later on, His childlike expertise in dealing with politics, with dealing with people, with communication and everything. And His power was Rādhā. Rā-dhā. `Rā' means energy, `dhā' means `the one which sustains', `Rā-dhā'.

So the “Dhare dhi sa-dharma ha" as they say, in the same way, Rā-dhā, `the one who sustains the energy'.

So the first quality that He got from Her is, She's the ` Āhlāda Dāyinī'. There's no word. I couldn't find any word in English for `āhlāda'. `Āhlād' is when you suddenly see something nice, it's joy starts.

Just to [feel] very happy. But there are very few words in English, as you know, for... for ah... translation for `joy', or at the most `happiness'. But `āhlād' is a kind of a joy which, as you say it, get the fresh air.

And how you feel. That isāhlāda.

So She's ` Āhlāda Dāyinī'. She's the one who's the giver of āhlāda. And so with Her powers, He could work out this āhlāda to all the people with whom He was connected.

So all the gop[as] and gopīs who were with Him had to do Rāsa. `Rā' is `energy', `sa' means `with'. To dance with the energy that is Rādhājī. He used to just play the flute and She used to dance, the energy used to pass through Her hands to all the other people and the Kuṇḍalinī would be awakened.

So this was another play that He had.

So in the play only He raised the Kuṇḍalinī. But in modern times it's very difficult. It's not easy to raise Kuṇḍalinīs in modern times in that way. I mean, nobody will understand also.

So, in modern times, when Sahaja Yoga is not just raising the Kuṇḍalinī, but giving the complete knowledge about Sahaja Yoga and also empowering the person with the power to give others realisation, it was tremendous task. And that's why we had to find out these methods by which we could give realisation to people.

In those days Kuṇḍalinīs were awakened, but it was not that Sahasrāra was broken.

So Kuṇḍalinī must be somewhere hanging in the Āgñyā, maybe at heart, maybe somewhere. And such people became the seekers. And that's how we find today people are here, as Sahaja Yogis whose Sahasrāra's are open and they know all the yukti of Sahaja Yoga.

But there are subtler and subtler yuktis of Sahaja Yoga, which you have to master. The first is that His character was `mādhurya', meaning `the sweetness'. Sweetness. We always says, “Sweet like honey." So when He talked to anyone or He communicated with anyone, it was through sweetness and this communication, if you have not developed then you are nowhere near Yoga. To talk to someone sweetly, automatically. Everything is mādhurya for Him: His talking, His actions, His face. Everything is mādhuri.

So when we talk of communications, first of all the greatest thing is the communication between human beings. And when we have to think of the communication with the human beings, many people think that by aggression you'll communicate better, which is not true. I mean, if somebody wants to get something out of someone, say; so you go there and just talk, “I have to have! How can you do it? This, that!" As it is, it's “no". But if you are sweet and start talking sweetly, then 99% will definitely dissolve.

So, to dissolve people with sweetness, how to do it, that trick one has to learn. How, with sweetness, you can dissolve people. This is one of His special qualities, that you talk to someone in such a manner, genuinely, in a very sweet manner and the problem between you and that person will be dissolved, absolutely.

Now, there are many tricks. How to talk to someone is one of the biggest things one has to learn. First of all, you must always show that you are less intelligent than another person. Like [when] I'm talking to a scientist I will say, “I'm sorry, I don't know any science you know. [I'm] no good for a scientist." So they feel `ahhhh, very good!' If you have to talk to some musician, must say `I don't know any music. No, I just... I've have learned little bit, but not much.' Musician feels very happy. You may call it a pampering of the ego, you may call it. But there's no harm in saying that `I'm nothing compared to you.' So the first trick is complete humility when you talk to another person. Is the sign of greatness, is a sign of fulfilment. As the trees, when they are laden with fruits, they bend down.

So the first of all, if you say, `I am no one. I don't understand anything, but I would like to hear.' This is first.

First quality of communication is to be extremely humble about yourself. The another person should not know who you are. And there's a lot of fun in it. Say, for example, now, say, I can say about Myself that My husband was very highly placed in India. But I met a friend in Delhi, she was studying with Me in school and in college and She asked Me, “Where do you live?" I told her, “In Meena Bagh” which was just a useless, small, little place [in New Delhi] meant for very ordinary officers because they had not allotted us any house or anything so, temporarily, we were there. She said, “What? What is your husband doing?" I said “Doing, he's some government servant." I didn't tell her [his position]! He came [UNCLEAR down].

So he just looked at Me [and] smiled. She said, “Do you know him?" I said, “He is My husband." She was shocked, “He's your husband? Oh my God! Why didn't You tell me?" Immediately the whole thing changed and she felt so ashamed of herself. She had started looking down upon Me there, married to some clerk or someone or somewhere.

So, the best thing is to play down. Play down everything. Now I know of certain Sahaja Yogis, they say, “Oh, Mother has given me such powers. I can do this. I can do that." This boastfulness is of no use.

`I haven't got any powers, you see. I just... I'm a Sahaja Yogi that's all. But if you want I can try.' So, is to play down, as much as you can. Practice this at home. First practice and then go and do it.

So that is one of the greatest qualities of communication with others.

Second thing, I think in the whole of Gītā, if you read it, there's one very important thing, it says “krodhād `bhijāyate sammohah" [Bhagavad Gītā 2.62-63:”kāmāt krodho 'bhijāyate, krodhād bhavati sammohah", from desire comes anger, from anger comes delusion]. You see, among all the worst things that we have, according to Him we have six enemies. But in Gītā He started with `krodh[a]'. He said, “It starts with krodh[a]” is anger.

If you have anger within you, then you are not a master at all. There's no need for a master to get angry because he can play about. He can make you dance like this. What is the need to lose your temper? But that mastery if you don't have, of handling people, then after five-six minutes of talk your voice starts raising and a sort of a something starts barking. Because that temper is still inside you, burning.

But for a master, there should be no temper. No need. He has started with krodha, that with the Krodha all problems start, from one to another to another to another.

So we should watch out if we are angry people. Anger comes from Viśhuddhi. Starts from liver, Viṣhṇu, but [it is] expressed through Viśhuddhi: face becomes red, eyes become red. From the mouth, you see, you start saying all kinds of horrible things and the whole expression becomes so different, when you are angry.

So this anger is to be seen. Where is it? Within us, where is it, this anger? Liver? “All right, I'll put it right." So to master it you have to face yourself, clearly. Many people I have seen, people say “Mother, you know this lady is such a hot-tempered women. She is so dominating. She does this and does that." But if you tell her, say “No no, I don't do that way. No, no I'm very good." “But how others are saying that?" “I don't know but I'm very good", finished! If somebody is saying that then you watch yourself, do you get into tempers or not? Are you losing your temper? It's very easy to make it out, then face [it].

So the trick of the trade is to face yourself and see for yourself how much you are lacking.

So first is humility, which it should be genuine. And secondly is equanimity, no temper. There is no need to take to temper. At the most you can say `What are you doing? Why are you doing that way? Now if you do something, you know, maybe something I might say which I do not like so I don't want to say.' Like that, at the most! Up to that point is all right, that you should say that `I dislike.' But not to go further with it.

If you just stop at a point, then this habit of getting into temper will go away. This arrogance will go away, which has to go. This arrogance has to go, this temper has to go. And then, you'll be surprised, you will feel very much relieved. Because this anger, once it comes in, reacts and catches your left Viśhuddhi and you become guilty. You feel very bad: `Why [did] I said so? I should not have said this.' So Viśhuddhi's finished. Left Viśhuddhi means it's a headache. It goes on accumulating like a storehouse there all your anger, temper whatever you have and this left Viśhuddhi catches. And you know the problems of left Viśhuddhi.

So, if you get angry with someone, don't feel guilty, but go before the mirror and slap yourself nicely, twice, cha cha cha cha cha [laughter]. Now you get angry with yourself, `Let me get angry!' Then stand before the mirror: `Shoo shoo shoo' [pretends to punch Herself], like that [laughter]. In the same manner as you get angry, try to act. You never feel guilty. Or maybe more angry would be better.

So you empty out your left Viśhuddhi. Next time you won't do it. But feeling guilty means you'll again repeat and repeat and repeat the same thing.

So this temper is expressed by men differently and women by differently. And I'm very much worried about the women sometimes because they take to waterpower and I'm lost. But those who have ego too much, cry much more. That's the sign. I've seen, if you say anything to them, immediately they start crying because already the left Viśhuddhi is there full, like a full balloon and [when] you touch them it becomes water. But men, their temper is different style, as you know very well, that when they get angry they might fight with each other, box everyone and then settle down nicely and have something to drink.

[Laughter.] “Let us have it out!" you see, they'll say. Take out. But women don't, they keep it there and once they keep it, then it becomes tears, it starts coming down.

So [if] these are just tears out of joy, happiness, that's different, or out of feelings for others, but it's not that. But it's tears just to impress another person that you are very sad or something.

So the second trick is how to master your own temper. And the third one is how to master the temper of others. That's even better. I don't know if I have told you the trick of Gagan Gadh Mahārāj, when I went to him. He is a very hot tempered Avadhūta, sitting on a thing [tiger] and he's lost his legs because he was feeling hot, he was sitting in the water all the time, so his feet are useless and he goes on a tiger, they say. I never saw the tiger, of course. But he knows about Me and all that and he told everyone about Me, so I went to see him. And he's supposed to control the rain. It was quite a steep climb for about one and a half hours. And as soon as I stepped in, it started raining, raining, raining heavily throughout and he couldn't stop it.

So he felt very challenged! When I went up, he was sitting on his own stone outside the cave and he was doing like [this] [twisting the head], with anger. He didn't know what to do. I looked at him, then I walked into his cave and sat down nicely. Then he came. They brought him. He said, he touched My feet, everything he did and then he said, “You tell me now, why did You not allow me to stop the water? You got completely drenched. I'm very angry with this rain. I know, but why did You do that? Is it to control my ego?" I said, “No, not at all I never knew you had ego or anything." [Laughter and laughs.] “Then why?" So, because I'm a master as you know, I said “You see you are a Sannyāsī and you brought a sarī for Me, that too of an orange colour and I would not take the orange colour sarī from you. Any sarī I wouldn't take, because you're a Sannyāsī. But I had to get drenched to get the sarī, isn't it?" Immediately, he melted away.

But I had to be the master. First of all, how to melt him and secondly, the master of his mind. This is the subtler part of it. You can be master of a person. Like that, you can know what he has done for you, what he has prepared for you, what is coming for you. I wouldn't say that you know all the whole future, but if you try just to know about a person, you can know everything about that person. Very simple.

So first try to understand a person.

My father had lots of tricks with him I know and a very humorous person. And one day My brother told Me, Baba Mama, that he has a friend who sings very well.

So I asked My father “How does he sing?" “Oh, he is very courageous” he said. I said “Why?" “He sings whether he knows or not. That's the trouble!" [Laughs.] What an exact description he gave Me of this gentleman: “He's very courageous, you see. He doesn't know, but he sings, quite alright.

So he's very courageous." I mean, he didn't say anything against him. He said “He's courageous” but he gave Me the complete picture of the gentleman that: `You have to be careful you see, he might start singing in a funny way, you shouldn't laugh.' And all that came in that “courageous" word.

In the same way, if you study someone, you see, then you will just describe that person in an interesting way and you will not feel that this person has these bad habits or that bad habits or this is wrong with him, that is wrong, but you'll describe this part of that person. Is a way of knowing a person in totality, with all his defects, with all his qualities, with everything and accepting that person as he is.

If that mastery you can have, now how will you have? If your attention is not on his qualities, you'll only know his bad things. And if you know his qualities, then bad things will be there a little bit, but they'll just be adding a little masala to his character, you see. You'll feel: `Ahhhh, that's it, you see. He is but little bit like that.' Little additional svaras [musical notes] added to his character. And you wouldn't mind it so much, such a person. You'll really enjoy.

Like My son-in-law is very fond of dogs and his wife says, “No dog in the house. It's a at." So there's a fight between them for the dog.

So Prabat said “You never meet me." I said “This is not proper but next time I have decided to be a dog." [Laughing:] Immediately he took the point. See? So the way you talk to a person you can suggest to him what is so special about that person or the defects of that person. But you need not say directly something to him. If you say indirectly, in such a humorous manner, that the person will understand.

So, in communication with others, you have to be a very humorous person.

But mostly I've seen, people have humour if somebody cannot walk straight, if a physical problem is there, they'll laugh. If he has, say, not properly made his hair, then they will laugh. On some sort of a very superficial thing they laugh. This is not humorous. This is, this is some sort of a criticism in laughter. Or some people have a humour like this, that they say sarcastic things. That's no good. You see, say one word to somebody sarcastic you think you are brilliant, but you are lost forever for that person. That person will remember “He said such-and-such things to me." So sarcasm is against you completely, against Sahaja Yoga. If you have to say something, say it in such a manner that it doesn't hurt the person and the person enjoys that subtle humour and understands also that `This is the problem with me.' Now, humorous way is, say, if I have to tell something to you, I need not tell you directly you are like this, you are that, but I say: “There was one, you see, crow which came to my house" and like that I can transfer all your qualities to that crow and describe to you. I'll say that: “This crow did like this and did that." Immediately, you'll start thinking: `Is it about me that Mother was saying or about the crow?' So transfer it to somebody else. Transfer it to somebody else, that's the best way. For example, if you want to say that: `All the names of the people who are coming to the Pūjā should be there at [the] right time.' So now, this time, Americans [are hosting], all right, `Americans have sent the word...", they have not, “... have sent the word that all the names should be there.' No harm telling such lies, no harm.

So that people will not put it on you, they'll not be angry with you. At the most they'll be angry with the Americans, doesn't matter, for the time being.

So like, transfer it and this transference is `hastāntara' [transferrable] as they call it, to transfer from one hand to another hand. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa was an expert.

There is a story about Him when He's called as Ranchordas, means He ran away from the battlefield.

He doesn't mind, so what. It's a runaway.

So what? The reason was like this. There was a very bad Rākshasa who had all kinds of boons from Brahmadeva and Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa didn't know how to overcome that. Nobody knew. And He was killing so many people.

So He thought of a trick, transfer it to somebody else. He knew of another great yogi you see, special type, who has meditated and taken a boon from the same Brahmadeva that: “If I'm sleeping and anybody disturbs my sleep and if I open my eyes and look at that person, that person should become ashes, bhasman." So Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa thought of him, “Better transfer the job from Me to him." So He started running away from the field.

So this Rākshasa also followed Him. Then Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa stealthily went into the cave of this Avadhūta and put His own shawl on top of head, covered him and hid Himself in the cave. Now this Rākshasa came here. He thought this was Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa who was sleeping, “Ahhh, now you are tired, you are sleeping. Now I'm going to see how you can save yourself." And he started waking [him] up. This Avadhūta got up and looked at him and he became bhasman [ashes].

So transfer your jobs to a more capable [laughs] person who can do this better, than taking upon yourself straightforward, going, “Alright, come long, I'll fight with you." You cannot win. It's a guerrilla warfare as you can call it. Transfer it. And you can transfer it to somebody, you can make friends with that person, pamper his ego, do what you like. But the main point is that you should get rid of the ills, the bad, the Rākshasas.

So you can transfer it to anyone.

And so many tricks He played. In the Mahābharāta, Bhīṣhma had a blessing that, unless and until he wants to die, nobody can kill him.

So Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa decided that He should use some tricks.

So He told Arjuna that “you put him", He told Arjuna not himself; He was just doing the chariot drivers job, sārathi.

So Kṛiṣhṇa told him that “you just make him sleep on the arrows, let His body be on the arrows and he has to decide that he will die." But Dron. āchārya [Bhīṣhma] was a great Guru of, also of Arjuna, who was siding with Pāṇḍavas... I mean with Kauravas. Now how can you kill this Dron. āchārya [Bhīṣhma], big problem. Because you see, he knew all the tricks of archery. How are you going to save [UNCLEAR that/them]? Because archery is such a thing that he was the master of archery, while Arjuna was his disciple.

So how to stop? How to stop him, answering back the... [asks in Hindi the translation of a word].

Sahaja Yogi: Arrow.

Shri Mataji:... arrows, arrows of Arjuna? How to do that, that he doesn't answer back? Because he was a master.

So Kṛiṣhṇa organized it [in a] very special way. He got a shikhaṇḍī, you see, it was a eunuch. What an advantage of having a eunuch. Of course it's a big story how they became shikhaṇḍī and all that, but He got him in front of Arjuna. Shik... eunuch in India [is] regarded as a woman.

So Dron. āchārya [Bhīṣhma] said, “I cannot kill a woman." And that's how He killed Dron. āchārya [Bhīṣhma].

So [He played] these tricks, because to get rid of ill is the main thing. How to get rid of the ill? If you are not capable, you better tell somebody else to get [rid of], because that is very important to get rid of the evil. And if you can transfer this to somebody else who's more capable, in your own humility, you'll do much better than to directly attack that person. That's tomfoolery. No use.

So this was the trick of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa in the... throughout, if you have seen Mahābharāta, Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa told Arjuna that, “Either you can the have the fu[ll]... all of My army or you can have Me." Same He told to the Kauravas. [The] Kauravas said, “We'll have your army." But he [Arjuna] said, “You will be mine, Kṛiṣhṇa, You'll be on our side." But He said, “No, I'll be just on the chariot. I'll not hold any weapon." But He's a master of tricks. He does not need any weapons with Him. Without weapons also He can do everything.

So Arjuna said, “All right, You be my chariot driver" and He was there.

Because Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa knew about each and every thing, mostly He used to smile. Now, [if] somebody's telling Me something, sometimes you will find I also smile, but I try to control, but I don't want them to see. But I know what they are doing, what they're up to, what is their trick. Because you are such a trick master, you know all the tricks and you know what they are playing with you.

So you just smile about it.

Just to smile in a very sweet way, `Ahhh, that's it. Ahh, of course, of course. What you say is true, no doubt.' But, by this kind of thing, you'll be surprised, your communications will improve very much with others.

Now some people I've seen in Sahaja Yoga, very common, very common: “Mother, they came and told me, our leader told me us, that `you are bhootish.' What is bhootish?" Another one says, “But he told me `you are a bhoot,' ", alright. Then somebody says, “Mother no, he told me that `you have got a bhoot in you.' " Now what are these three categories tell us? Why to tell anybody you are bhootish or anything? There's no need. If you know how to correct it, just say `Left Swādhiṣhṭhāna.' Correct it. Take it out.

Ask him, if he had any Guru or anything. Alright, if the person is good natured and a good person, then it's even more important. You should say `[It's] nothing, you see, it's just a badha from outside. We'll have to take it out.' But a person who has got Āgñyā and all these things and plus that, he has got this left Swādhiṣhṭhāna, then, of course, you should say, `Baba, we cannot help you.' Because you know he's cunning. What's the use of playing with that? But in Sahaja Yoga we forget. Anybody who comes: “Alright, come along, come along, come along." Everybody is not capable of Sahaja Yoga. One has to know that. Not the whole world. Sahaja Yoga can only be given to people who are deserving, who are seekers and who are courageous, vīras. Is not meant for ordinary people.

So we are open our door to everyone and all such people walk in and then we work very hard on them, we do all kinds of things and we find that they create problems for us.

So first, only deal with people who are simple, as Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa dealt with Gopas and gopīs; and then we can see, in a collective way, if we can face somebody who's complicated. But no use transforming Hitler or Rajneesh. Not possible.

So one should not try to do impossible tasks in Sahaja Yoga, which Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has shown in His own character by avoiding things which He didn't want to do. No. And He did it because He was such a master.

Of course, for Him it was not necessary to face Himself, to master Himself because He knew Himself.

He is the... He is the Īshwara of Yoga. He knew everything. When you know everything there is no need for you to master. What are you going to master? On the contrary, you see,sometimes you get frightened of yourself that you know so much.

So best is that when we are dealing, as human beings in Sahaja Yoga, we have to know ourselves very well. `Now, oh, that's my speciality.' In that you have to see `How I face myself all the time?' “Why do I say such a thing? What is lurking in my mind?" I mean, negativity is something to be seen very clearly within yourself.

As I must have told you so many examples, that the Western negativity is like this, that their minds are all the time labor saving devices. They don't like to work anywhere. For example, you tell them “You go and telephone to someone." Immediately, they will tell you ten explanations: “He may not be there.

His wife will shout. He might have gone to work. It's ten o'clock. This, that." But if you telephone, he's there. But they won't telephone, hundred excuses. Now newer excuses have started: “The computer was not working” “Fax was not working." Except for your brain everything works. But the other way around it is: your brain is not working and everything is not working. “The lights were not working." I mean, whatever it is. But you must learn: `Why can't I find the solution? I must do something.' Like I've told you, the tip of a root, how it manages to go round and round and seeks the source of water. In the same way, are we doing something about it? All right, if this is not available, do that. If that is not available do this. Out of nothing you can do so many things. But if you want to find out all the time `That cannot be done, that cannot be done.' [That was] not [the case] with Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa! After all, He was incarnation of Virāta, the Master of Masters we should say.

Like when Draupadi was in trouble, Draupadi was actually Viṣhṇumāyā, His sister, She thought of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. She will... was holding onto Her sarī, when it was just pulled out by Duryodhana. And She was holding it like this [with Her teeth] `Kṛi'. She wanted to say “Kṛiṣhṇa" but She said, “If I say `ṣhṇa', it will fall down." So She was holding on. As soon as She dropped “ṣhṇa” sarī dropped out [of Her mouth], then described about Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is, “Dwarika me shora bhayo... Dwarika me shora bhayo shora bhayo bhare. Śhankha Chakra gadā Padma, Garuḍa laysidhare." [Meaning:] that sound went into Dwarika. Now where is Dwarika and where is Hastinapur? At least a distance of at least two thousands miles. But the sound, you see, went through Chaitanya and made a big sound there [in Dwarika]. And “Śhankha Chakra Gadā Padma." Śhankha, Chakra Gadā, Padma are the weapons [of Viṣhṇu] as you know. All of them He took and came on His Garuḍa to save the chastity of His sister, immediately, spontaneously, that moment. He could have said, `Alright let it be, let one sarī come out, two, then I'll go later.' I'm sure He must have stolen My sarīs which you give for My Pūjās, which are too many. [Laughs.] That's what I feel, that from where did He get all these sarīs to give it to Her? Must be from My own storage I'm sure and that's why you are giving Me so many sarīs, so that He can save the chastity of many women. All this is so related, so connected, so one, so united. There's such a big drama going on, but you can't see it.

But if you believe in yourself and if you really believe that you are a Sahaja Yogi, that what is your qualities, what you are, what's your value is, then I am sure you can become masters. But first of all, we have no value of our Realisation. We do not know what we are capable of, what we can do. You still think, `Oh, I was such an ordinary person, Mother has given me Realisation. I have never been to university.' Nobody has been to university. Christ never went to university. When if you see, Rāma never went to university. Kṛiṣhṇa never went into university. Christ never went to any university, an ordinary man, a son of a carpenter.

But you are realised Souls. You don't realise your worth and value. Once you realise it you'll just smile at everything, because you don't know, you are sitting on top of the world. Once you know that, only then your mastery will work. Otherwise, imagine a master sitting under the foot of a disciple. What will it look like? But it's not that you dominate, but you are in charge, absolutely in charge. You know everything, you know how to handle, you know how to manage.

This is the mastery you have to get. This is possible, absolutely possible, for all of you to do it. But first and foremost thing you have to know that we have to master ourselves. But then immediately people say, “Mother, it's the most difficult to master yourself." I can't understand this. Why not? You try to master everyone, why can't you master yourself? Yourself is with you, you are with yourself, it's your own, it's your own property. You can correct the property of others, why can't you correct your own property? It should be the easiest thing to do. But you are not sure that this is your own. You do not know that you are capable. But you are. And now you have Self-knowledge, so why should you not do it? Why should you not try to watch yourself and see for yourself? And then you will know that you know all the tricks, the yukti.

I don't have to tell you `Do this. Do that.' Nothing! You yourself will know: `Ha, come along.' We know so many things, little-little things, about ordinary material things, you see.

Something is falling, all right, put some support to it. This is happening, put it that way. But in spiritual life it's the easiest thing because you are in the ocean of knowledge. But if you do not know that you are in the ocean of knowledge, you will not know the tricks of dealing with others because the main purpose of our communication is to emancipate the whole world, to emancipate them, to bring them out of their ignorance.

So for that we have to develop this mastery and not to get lost into nonsensical things, but this mastery has to be developed. For that, meditation early in the morning is required, to begin with. And then facing yourself all the time, `Why did I say such a thing?' `Aahhhh must be this. This is the word I picked up from that person.' So when you start facing yourself, you'll be surprised that you are trying to avoid the reality and just using your mind. See there, as I say, that this mind cheats you and tells you, `All right, forget it.' And the last, but not the least, is that Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is the one who is an expert of drama. He creates drama, He acts in the drama and He's the spectator also. In these three forms you should see yourself. You create a drama of yourself: `Ah, ha, this one now. See now, how I'm acting here!' Then you become the spectator also. Become the spectator of your own dramas, then you will realise what you are doing, how you are working out everything. Then the deception that we have all the time against ourselves will just run away. Because if an artist knows he's the spectator, if the one who's acting knows he's the spectator, he can never deceive himself, because He knows this is acting.

So this self-deception is the one [that] one should try to avoid. `Let me face it.' But also, there is another way out, people find out. I mean, there are ways and ways. Like you tell somebody: “Why didn't you write a letter?" “I know!" `I know' means what? “But don't you think you should have written a letter to that person who has done so much for you?" “I know." “But don't you think it's very bad and cruel on your part not to have written the letter?" “I know." `I know' means what? “I know I'm bad. I know I am... I've been stupid. I know I should not have done it. But I know also that." So what next? Because they think if you have confessed “I know” [it's] finished.

So this is a new escape which was not [there] at the time of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, is a new modern one, where people say “I know, alright so what?" “[UNCLEAR Ohhh/There], all right, I am a sinner, so what?" This is the second side of it. First of all “I know that I am a sinner" and second is higher state is that: “So what? What's wrong?" So this is how the derailment starts and one goes from one to another. If I know, then why shouldn't I correct myself? That's what it should be. `I know I'm like that. I know it is.' If you know, then you should also know the trick how to get rid of it. Because you are detached from that personality about which you know, you can correct yourself. This is what is Yoga is, where is... all your attention is one with the Divine and you're so detached that you can see it. The attachment to all the things are finished and now the force that is coming to you is acting through you and acting on these attachments also.

The situation changes, absolutely, in Sahaja Yoga in a very different way and if there is one bad Sahaja Yogi who comes in, either he's thrown out or he has to be all right. Is the other way around: anyone who is a bad Sahaja Yogi, if he comes in Sahaja Yoga, then he has to be corrected, otherwise thrown out.

It's a, I think, a more evolved state now than it was at the time of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa because He talked only to one, Arjuna, [while] now I'm talking to thousands, [about] this knowledge. That time He just talked it at the time of war. I'm talking at the time of peace. And it's much more evolved because Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa didn't give him Realisation. You have got the realisation, you got the knowledge, you know everything, you have all the subtle ideas.

So this is what it is today, as it is, the situation is, that you have become part and parcel of Virāt already. You have not seen the Virāta [as Arjuna did], but you are part and parcel of it. You are not watching it, you are inside it.

So that any more of not watching yourself will be only thing that you'll be thrown out of Sahaja Yoga or else you better watch yourself and correct yourself and be one with the body of the Virāta.

This is a sign of a Yogeshwara. That's how you have to be, in a mood which is very smiling, knowing everything and not sarcastic, but [with a] very paternal smile, very loving, affectionate smile that you should have for all the other people and immediately they'll recognize. I've seen small children are like that. They are extremely patronizing sometimes, you know, they see their parents and this and that.

So they come and tell you that, “Don't worry everything will be all right, after all God is there to look after you." And they can be extremely, extremely loving and kind and the way they talk they will neutralise the whole thing.

So we have to learn a lot from our children, from all the little babies that we have and that we ourselves should have that Gaṇeśha Principle within us, with innocence we should work it out. Innocence is the most intelligent thing and most effective thing.

So I would request you, all of you, to face yourself and don't hate yourself but correct yourself, respect yourself and try to evolve your own glory.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-09-15 Śhrī Gaṇeśha Pūjā, Cabella Ligure, Italy

Today is the happiest day for all of you, for the whole universe, because Śhrī Gaṇeśha was created. He was created to emit auspiciousness through His `Chaitanya' [Divine Vibrations]. First, the whole cosmos was filled with this `Chaitanyasrishti' [creation of Divine Vibrations]. Then Brahmdeva came into play and He created all the matter. But the greatest blessings of the Divine Power was to symbolize `Chaitanya' and this Chaitanya has many aspects, but specially in Śhrī Gaṇeśha, it is auspiciousness. In these modern times, people have lost the sense of auspiciousness. Everything that emits vibrations, `Chaitanya', is auspicious, is `Shubh' and whatever does not, is not, by any chance, auspicious.

So, first of all, whatever you worship, whatever you accept, all of them have to be auspicious things. Every shape has a coefficience and all these shapes, which you see, not necessarily give vibrations. But in the human beings, also, we find there are many people, like you, who have `Chaitanya' flowing in them. But this `Chaitanya' when it flows, we just take Śhrī Gaṇeśha for granted. We do not understand that we have to awaken Śhrī Gaṇeśha within us, means what? What we have to do? There is Śhrī Gaṇeśha already existing within you and as I said that innocence cannot be lost, so Śhrī Gaṇeśha is eternal being, eternal child, He cannot be lost and He cannot be destroyed.

So, He is all the time there. Maybe some clouds of your ill doings are covering the great personality of innocence. But it is always there present.

So now, what should we do to keep this Gaṇeśha all the time shining within us? Is to first remember that you were made in the same pattern as Śhrī Gaṇeśh. But His Kuṇḍalinī is on His stomach; His pure desire is on His stomach, is very significant to understand why it is there that His Kuṇḍalinī is on His stomach. That means He does not have to conquer the temptations of Mūlādhāra at all. But He has his Kuṇḍalinī on His stomach, that means He is also beyond the temptations of food, of power or anything because His stomach represents absolute abandonment, absolute freedom. He is not bothered as to how He looks that... these days there is a big fashion that you cannot have a big belly. I mean this is becoming a big... not only fashion but a big business. But as age grows, you have to have. Even small children have that and they look so sweet.

Those people who are very thin must understand that they might be getting some prizes in the, maybe, beauty contest or something, but they do not have that majesty, that royalty, that dignity in them as they should have.

So Śhrī Gaṇeśha accepts everything. He has a head with a trunk. He accepts it. Of course, is important, He should have that. Because, head of the elephant suggest that He is not like a human being who develops ego, superego, conditionings, but He is just all the time one with the Divine. He accepts His body, He accepts His head, He accepts His ears, He accepts everything that He is made of. He doesn't aspire to something, some entrepreneurs put some ideas and He wouldn't go run after them. He won't try to change Himself; He won't try to create that fashion and all that. He is what He is because He is a satisfied soul. The Kuṇḍalinī on the stomach shows a complete, self contented, satisfied personality of Śhrī Gaṇeśha. When you have all the powers within you, you know you are powerful, then you don't hanker after all these things and you don't try to make a position or an impression of others. For example, He would never go and read books like how to impress people, very common.

So now, as you are created in the same image of Śhrī Gaṇeśh, you have to understand that you have to accept whatever God has given you; whatever position He has given you. Same with Christ, Christ accepted His father who was just a carpenter. He didn't aspire for something higher or some sort of a special position or a power because He was so powerful, what more power can He have? Though people mocked at Him and laughed at Him and could not accept what He was saying, but still He was self-contented, self-satisfied; He knew what it was.

So, for a Sahaja Yogi first thing is to be self-contented. As I told you, the fundamentals of the Western life is to see and to be seen. Both things were missing completely in the incarnation of Śhrī Gaṇeśh.

So when I say these things, suddenly people start thinking, `Let us become hippies, or let us become punks, or let us become this, let us become that.' You don't have to become anything. Whatever you have, your body, your face, your hair, everything is there, just meant for you.

You don't have to change anything outwardly because inside is complete `Chaitanya'. Śhrī Gaṇeśha never tried to change Himself. Though there were so many clouds on His being, though many people insulted Him, tortured Him, hanged Him, crucified Him, still the Eternal Being didn't bother.

So the first and foremost thing for a Sahaja Yogi is to accept, go on accepting things. But when I say accept, I must say the other side also: that doesn't mean you start accepting bhoots, all the bad qualities of others. `Mother, you said you must accept,' so they'll start accepting all these bad qualities. `What's wrong? You have said it already.' Whatever I say has another side, always. Like I said, “Now you have become your own Guru." So, `Why should we listen to anybody else?' Like this, you see, we go on diverting ourselves... deviating ourselves from reality, just to cheat ourselves. And this comes because we have no wisdom. We have no wisdom because we do not know what is for our benevolence, what is for our good, what we should do for our good. And even if we know, we don't want to do it.

So, what we lack is wisdom. That's a vicious circle, I must say, that Gaṇeśha is to be awakened to give you wisdom, He is the giver of wisdom, He is the giver of wisdom and He has to give you the wisdom, He is to be awakened; but you are not wise because He is not awakened. It's a very vicious circle. How to make this vicious circle break? That let my wisdom shine in my attention. Let Śhrī Gaṇeśha throw His light in my attention. Mentally you people are very alert, no doubt. And, you can always cheat yourself nicely. That's the point where you could see yourself, introspection, which I have seen among Russians. Just introspect, `Why do I do like that? Why cannot I meditate? Am I going to miss out? Why can I not do something that is good for me?' Introspection is the only way you can see yourself how far you are from Śhrī Gaṇeśh. Even, I have seen, when I say something in general, people always, the mind is very clever, thinks that I am talking about somebody else, not about them. It's a convex mind, convex, which never receives anything inside itself, because there is no wisdom. If you are wise, then not only that you will accept but you will understand and it will penetrate into your attention through your central nervous system. You just know that this is it. Now you know that this... you put your hand towards this candle, it... you'll... your fingers might burn. You know it definitely, with experience and you won't do that. With experience you have learnt not to put hand... your hand on to the candle. And this wisdom is there; I don't have to tell you that. But this is a new life you have started, a spiritual life. When you are going into the spiritual life, try to remember your experiences, one after another, how you got transformed; how you changed; how many the bad things that you had disappeared gradually and how you have become so nice. This will take away your depression, to begin with. Then you should think that, `What do I have to do further? Am I really wise, or I am stupid?' There are lots of stages between absolute stupidity and absolute wisdom and you see all those shades all over and combinations and permutations of these I see every day. And I am surprised that after getting your Self-realisation, when Śhrī Gaṇeśha is shining in your attention, you should see your reaction clearly and try to correct it. Only this much wisdom if you have that, `I have to work out my benevolence,' you'll do it. I know of somebody who would never get up in the mornings, say for example. But one day I saw him ready at about six o'clock in the morning, I was surprised. How this gentleman who has no self-discipline has suddenly get up... got up at six o'clock and ready to go somewhere. I said, “Where are you going?" “You don't know?" I said, “What?" “I have got a job now and I have to be present at 8 o'clock and it will take two hours to reach that place. Also, I am keeping some margin.

So I have to leave now. I can't talk to you even." Quite alert, awake. Now, what is the thing is as far as money is concerned, lot of wisdom is there.

Don't have to tell them, that is automatically. Money wisdom is quite a lot; job wisdom is quite a lot.

Because, these things means prestige in the society, this means security in the society.

So this kind of [UNCLEAR wisdom/business] you find in many people and in some even that is missing. They don't even understand that they have to earn their living. But, that's the minimum, you cannot be parasite.

Then the second stage, as I said by many stages, is this: that we are not for money; money is for us.

The attention if it is on your spirit, on the Gaṇeśha principle, then whole situation will change. Your priorities will change. And suddenly people will say, “Mother, what has happened to this gentleman? He was a stupid fool, now he has become such a wise person." So, to awaken Śhrī Gaṇeśha, you should have minimum wisdom already there. I mean, even if that is not there, how can you work it out? Is not meant for stupid people, `moodhas', not meant for `moodh'.

So now what is our benevolence is? Let us see. Is it money? No. Those who have money don't seem to be very happy people always. Then what is the next? Is jobs? Those who have jobs, all right; should have jobs; I am not saying you should be jobless. I mean immediately the another side they will take, I mean so quick, you know, that, `Mother is saying we [you] can be jobless you see, nice.' Immediate, escapes.

Now, then the power, you want to have political power, this social power, this power, that power, is absolutely a joyless pursuit. You go and see those people who are supposed to be powerful, so-called, half way they are towards hell, one foot there and one foot here and about to be gulped down by the crocodiles.

You can see it clearly; specially in this Kali Yuga it's so obvious, so clear-cut. We don't want to be like them, we want to be like Śhrī Gaṇeśh.

So once you start accepting your circumstances, accepting your body, your... accepting your face, everything, you will see that lot of time will be saved.

The another problem that faces us is planning. And that is missing in Śhrī Gaṇeśha completely. He did not do any planning whatsoever. I wish He had done some planning, things would have been much better. He doesn't believe in planning because He is so powerful. Whatever He wants, He can get it done.

You want the sun? All right the sun is there. You want the moon? Moon is there. You want the stars? Stars is there. The dust of His feet can create the whole universe, Universes after universes. For such a person, there is no need to be planning everything because whatever He wants happens. But why, why it happens? Why He has this power?, Because He is in that state. Are you in that state? You have not achieved that state. You talk [to] somebody... tell somebody that, “Oh my... I have to go and catch the plane." There are ten people standing next to you, they'll all get panicky. I have to go and they are bothered; something sort of goes off their heads. I don't know what goes, they go amuck. I never tell them like that. I say, “There's still time for the plane to go and don't worry. When I reach there then the plane will leave and you don't worry." But because of this kind of a... presumptions and the planning system of the mind, you just think that, `Now I have a plan to go today, I must go.' Why? I won’t go. I may decide at the last minute I don't want to go. I'll make the plane go away. We did that many a times, you know very well. I wanted to buy the Rome `Ashram', so I saw to it that the plane never arrived. But you have to be in that state. Specially buying this Cabella, you know what happened. There were five great intellectuals on My head sitting. I didn't know how I will manage these five intellectuals with all their planning, this, that; they made Me run up and down, do this and that, Ultimately they all had to come here. But I was telling them, “Go and have a look." Nobody would look at it; nobody would listen to Me; nobody wanted to know about it. How things work out, is your pure desire that can work out anything that you want. But you won't want funny things also. Like Śhrī Gaṇeśha would not like to follow some entrepreneur who is saying, `Have a punk on your head,' or something. Is stupidity, all kinds of stupidities.

Because you are stupid, these entrepreneurs are having a good time; they can befool us all the time. At His state, He is Himself on top of the pure desire. The pure desire is on His stomach, tied up nicely.

It is to be seen in Sahaja Yoga how things work out, how miraculously they work out and these can happen to you also. All these powers can come to you also. You know about some people who came to us who didn't know even how to sing. I mean, they had no voices; something very funny they had, I mean I didn't know from where they learnt to even talk. When they opened their mouths, if you were at one note, they were on another note and they went on and on and on without even listening to what they were singing. After some time, I find, they are singing beautifully.

So the Kuṇḍalinī itself is working it out; the pure desire is working it out, but what about you? What are you doing about it is to be seen.

There are so many things that could be understood very easily through the lifestyle of Śhrī Gaṇeśha. The first and foremost thing for Him is to obey His Mother, never to say no, no question and also not to ask why. He will go and fight with all the Gods and Goddesses and every one. And that's what Christ has said, “Anything against Me I've tolerated but nothing against the Holy Ghost." There should be no question; there should be no explanation.

Sometimes even My patience goes out, the way they do not want to accept what I am telling them. At the end, of course, they all come around, no doubt, at the end. But you waste so much time convincing them. What is the reason? They have no wisdom to know what their Mother is. Like, you know the story of Śhrī Gaṇeśha that His Mother said, “The one who goes round the Mother Earth, I will give you a present." So, Gaṇeśha again accepts a little mouse as a transport, imagine.

Nowadays people can't believe it that Śhrī Gaṇeśha, so powerful, should accept just a mouse for His transport. Because He is so humble; he doesn't have to show off His Lincoln or Mercedes to anyone; He is very comfortable with His mouse. Now what does He do? He thinks that... He understands, in no time, that His Mother is much greater than the Mother Earth. `So why should I go round the Mother Earth?' His brother is going round on a peacock. He just goes round His Mother, He gets the present. It's such a simple thing to understand because He is the wisest person. The wisest person knows what is what, he knows who is who; he knows what are the qualities of these persons. He is not impressed by superficial things, no. If somebody is well dressed, then people get very much impressed by them and they turn out to be bank robbers. Walking with umbrellas and lined suits, as if some big executives are coming and they decamp with all the loot.

So, for a wise person, the superficial behaviour doesn't appeal, not bothered.

It is a kind of a very penetrating intelligence; just like a computer you know. In a second you know that what is this gentleman. Oh, he may come with a great, you see, ado and he might come and praise you and do this and do that and you know the person very well. If some body is unduly very friendly, very kind, very nice, not necessarily that he is really appreciating you but he is looking at your purse, maybe, maybe something else. But not only on this level, it is even on a spiritual level we have to understand, how people try to put you down spiritually; what they try... what tricks they try on you. It could be your husband, your wife, your children, your relations, your friends, anybody, any Sahaja Yogi. But in the case of Śhrī Gaṇeśha, it's the other way round. They say that if you put one apple, bad apple, all the apples get spoilt. But if you put Śhrī Gaṇeśha among all the bad apples, they will get all right, because He is the life giving force. This is one of the greatest qualities that He knows that He is the source of life and He gives life, He gives Chaitanya. He doesn't say... think that, `Now supposing I give Chaitanya, give life to this person, my ego will come up,', very common problem. “Mother I don't want to do it because my ego will come up." Everybody is psychoanalyzing themselves, `Because this will happen'; Baba, [a Hindi expression of a general exclamatory nature] you are all realised Souls now; you are all saints. The false people are talking so big and you the people who have got something are still thinking, `My ego will come up, this will happen.' No, no, you have the powers. But as you keep it under a major [UNCLEAR], as Christ has said, the light will go out. You have to give it to others; you have to open it out. And that is how you will judge your state. `What is my state?, Let's see. Where am I?'

That confidence, take it from Me, should be with you. All of you have to work out this way. Very... many, “Mother, my Mūlādhāra is caught up." How dare anybody catch Mūlādhār? That's the anger of Śhrī Gaṇeśha. How dare? How can anybody? What's missing is complete faith in yourself and faith in your Mother.

In Russia recently... in Prague, there was a lady who was brought on the stage, very old lady, couldn't walk. I mean they just... just carried her and she came and sat before Me on a chair. She said, “I know you... I'll be cured. I am in your presence; I know I will be cured." I said, “Then get up." She got up.

Those who were with Me in Prague, you can ask them. She came down and she started running and everybody laughed. But her faith, she was not a Sahaja Yogini as such, but she was sure; she knew Me. And she just started running like that and everybody started looking at her. Same thing happened in Russia for many people, very serious diseases.

So that, one thing is for sure, either you don't know that you are realised Souls or else you don't know Me, one of the two things. Why was He so obedient to His Mother? Why was He?, Because that was the wisest thing to do. The one who knows everything, it's better to be guided by that person. And many a times, I have seen, people try to do things without telling Me, important things, they fall into traps.

Then they come back to Me and I tell them the solution, it works. It's not necessary that you should tell Me everything. But when you are in a fix, you can always just go into yourself and ask yourself, `What would Mother do?' You'll get the answer. You are at a... quite a higher state. But still, even if you are on a tree and you are still thinking you are falling down, you are nowhere. Steady yourself. That's what is, we say, the `Adhishthan' of Śhrī Gaṇeśha. Is the steadiness, steadiness in your achievements of Sahaj Yog.

Believing in yourself that you have entered into the new world, into the new atmosphere [UNCLEAR] it out. Śhrī Gaṇeśha is just waiting. But He is not meant for people who have no courage. Such a courageous man who could go and fight with all the Devas, because He knew the Shakti was with Him.

Today is such a joyous day for Me because we have children and we are dealing with children. Most of them are born realised. They are of a very special category, I have told you many a times, but we spoil them. Because, we were not born realised.

So we don't know how to handle these special children, we spoil them. Not only we spoil them, but we interfere with the school, we interfere with this as if we are the wisest parents ever living [UNCLEAR]. Because we are Sahaja Yogis, we have to be much more sensible than other parents. How can you interfere with any school anywhere? But in Sahaja Yoga you will. It is because there is no wisdom and no understanding what is good and benevolent for your child. If you love your child, then you must think of its benevolent. You must learn from the experience what happens to children if they are left like that. You cannot spoil your child; you cannot because it's a special category of children they are. They are not children who can become vagabonds; they cannot become thieves.

So you will make them something funny, they are neither here nor there. They are born realised and they have to be channelized properly, to achieve their complete manifestation of their spirit.

So the possessiveness and the stupid attachments to children must be given up. There is no force on you, if you want to destroy your child, you can destroy. But in an advice, if you were Gaṇeśhas, you would have understood it; I don't have to explain so much. What is good for your child, because we have to have beautiful children. They are born beautiful children, I tell you. If they are spoilt, it is because of you.

You have spoilt them. You have ruined them. You are responsible. I know of so many children, they are very very sweet. I have conference with them also and I find them much more congenial and I have much better rapport with them than I can have with you. They never argue, never. They never says no and they have very good information about all of you.

So it is such a nice thing that today you should desire that our children should very soon become the images of Śhrī Gaṇeśha, His Ganas, who have to work out so much. It's a tremendous task. Sahaja Yoga is the greatest achievement of spiritual evolution. We all have to dedicate ourselves. We don't have to sacrifice anything as the Saints have sacrificed, nothing, don't have to suffer anything. Only thing you have to have, wisdom. For that, I am very happy that today we are worshipping Śhrī Gaṇeśha.

So the pure desire should be that, `Śhrī Gaṇeśha please give us Divine Wisdom.' That's all. It contains everything in it.

May God bless you.

Today's Pūjā is going to be quite short and the children have to come up today, first of all, all the children.

[When porcelain statues representing the bond of mother and child are collectively presented, Shri Mataji praises sculptor's feeling for children:] WheneverI see these figurines, I will be reminded of all My children all over the world.

Contents: 1991-09-15 Quote, after Śhrī Gaṇeśha Pūjā, Palazzo Doria, Cabella Ligure, Italy

The Param-Chaitanya only works when you surrender the problem to Me. It responds to your devotion and not your intellect. When you witness its working you are filled with awe and you become humble.

But those who take liberties have to be responsible for their fall.

Contents: 1991-09-21 Notes on How to work on the Chakras on the Head, Palazzo Doria, Cabella Ligure, Italy

[Shri Mataji begins by saying that when doing `namas-kār', the hands should be open at, away from the Sahasrāra, and, if possible, the forehead should also rest at on the ground.] [Shri Mataji then surveys how the men sit and suggests that they should sit in a comfortable position, with the legs not too tightly together, but open and relaxed: `Sahaj Asana'; the hands should be held open at and palms up, as if receiving something precious.] [She then begins to explain how to work on the Chakras on the head, using the left hand, with the right hand open on the lap:] It's like giving yourself a balance, if you are catching on the left, you work with the right.

[Shri Mataji starts at the Viśhuddhi (place of the Virāta) which begins just above the Āgñyā, with the Viśhuddhi finger, pressing it slowly upwards where the hair line begins, then also bringing it back down a little and moving it way across the forehead and back, like a cross:] If you are catching here at Viśhuddhi, it means you are uncollective.

[The Āgñyā was catching. She asks Sahaja Yogis to say silently:] Maitreya, You are Maitreya! [And also to press and rotate the Āgñyā Chakra a little, which helped:] That's better! Working back and up from the Viśhuddhi is the Right Nābhī, then the Sahasrāra with the left and right Heart on either side of it, but reversed, the left on the right side and the right on the left.

[Then work on the left Nābhī:] You can feel when it's caught: it's hard, heavy stuff.

[Further back, at each side of the Back Āgñyā, which here Shri Mataji referred to as the Mūlādhāra, are the left and right Swādhiṣhṭhānas, also reversed.] [Shri Mataji works for two or three minutes, then comes to the Ego on the upper left side of the forehead and the `conditioning' on the upper right side, extending back to the ears... Sahaja Yogis also rub each of these Chakra positions in turn. For the Ego Sahaja Yogis can say the mantras to Śhrī Buddha or to Śhrī Maitreya.] Now close your eyes and put your attention on Sahasrāra. When thoughts are coming, they will, you can take the Bīja Mantra `Ham, Ksham'. You can also say silently the Nirvichara Samādhi mantra. Now leave your problems to the Divine Power.

[Shri Mataji then closes Her eyes and goes into meditation.] For Me it is easy, I have no problems! [Laughing and smiling, She spoke about this word `problem', which they learnt in geometry:] Just don't put your attention to the problems. Then you will end up in the Turīya state. Turīya means fourth.

You'll jump into the Fourth Dimension. For instance, when you see these mountains and the nature, you are just there and you just jump into it. It's practice for the attention so that when you get [into] a crisis, you'll just automatically go there and it will work out. You were destined to come to this point, think how few you are compared to the world population.

So now leave it to the Divine. It's like the landing of an airplane: it's all fixed, it just comes without any effort.

Because I have given you realisation, the most powerful mantra is `Shri Mataji Nirmalā Devī namo namaḥ'. When you first sit [in meditation], you might feel catches or heat. It's not necessarily you; it might be the people around you, or the atmosphere, not to worry about it. But when you sit down individually [on your own] before the photograph, you will see how you are.

What I have seen is the giving of a bandhan. First, actually first, one should tie up the Kuṇḍalinī and then give a bandhan.

[Shri Mataji says that the attention should be on the left hand, that we should look into the left hand when tying up the Kuṇḍalinī. When She tied it, She revolved only the right hand, on the third knot, the right hand only was pulled away.] [Ardha Kavach.] [Giving a bandhan, Shri Mataji demonstrated the bandhan for routine Half protection bandhan protection and made three distinct movements of the right hand and over from left to right, without the return movement similar to raising the left and lowering the right. She said that each movement counted as a half.

So seven movements (without the return) are a half protection, which, She said, adds up to 3½] [Purna Kavach.] [This is our normal, full bandhan, which Shri Mataji described as being for when full protection bandhan one is facing a dangerous person, or a crisis.] [At the end of the meditation, She again mentions the Turīya state where you just jump into thoughtless awareness automatically and, lastly:] You shouldn't talk very much. You lose energy, I've seen that. If you want to talk, talk about Sahaja Yoga, not about the bad of others, but about the good that others have done.

Contents: 1991-09-22 Notes on Meditation, Cabella Ligure, Italy

[Shri Mataji begins by saying:] Do not allow anyone to dominate you. You are all individuals. If you do allow it, you will go into the left, where you suppress [emotions] and can become very possessed, very badly possessed. You'll go into the collective subconscious where you could even develop cancer. When someone tries to dominate you, you must just laugh, treat it as a joke. Especially, you must not be dominated by your wives... or your husbands.

[Shri Mataji tells the story of Shiva and Pārvatī, who went for a walk and met a snake. Along the way, the snake said:] I want to go and meditate.' So they said, “Alright, go under that tree and meditate there." When they came back after their walk, they found the snake there badly beaten and bruised, with some skin peeled off. They asked, “What had happened?" The snake explained that it had been stoned by some boys while meditating. Shiva said, “I told you to meditate but I didn't tell you not to hiss." [Shri Mataji continues that also men should not dominate their wives, but treat them with wisdom to put them in their place.] Women are more spiritually evolved. Normally they are the emotions; they have more emotions, so that they can achieve Bhakti more easily. But if they do not respect their Self-realisation they will go down... whereas, for men, Bhakti is the next step.

[Shri Mataji then gives the example of a chariot where the man and the woman are the wheels:] But left should be on the left and right on the right. You are equal, but not similar. One wheel should not be smaller; or the chariot will go round and round in circles. In marriage, you are each other's companion...

Now, let's have a meditation on Bhakti .

[Shri Mataji places Her right hand on Her heart and the men did the same:] First, you must sit down with the photograph and put Me in your heart. Also, mentally, you must see everything that Sahaja Yoga has done for you in your life and what My Incarnation means to you and the whole world.

[Continues:] Once we are in Bhakti , we don't feel any suffering, it all becomes a play. When we are in Bhakti , who can touch us? But when someone dominates us, our Bhakti gets lost. Also, if someone praises us, we enjoy it through our ego, like the two sides of a Rupee, giving happiness and unhappiness.

But: “If one can jump into this Bhakti , one can rise very high without any effort." [Shri Mataji explains how we should sit comfortably, relaxed, with hands open.] For Bhakti , there is not method or technique; there are no rules or regulations, for Bhakti . Now, raise your hands, in Bhakti , also bend your head.

[The hands were raised off the knees a little up towards Shri Mataji and heads were bent to face the ground.] First put your right hand on the Sahasrāra and rotate it clockwise.

[Shri Mataji here goes into meditation for some minutes with Her hand on Sahasrāra.] Now, take your right hand down... if thoughts are coming, you can put your hand back to the Sahasrāra.

[Shri Mataji then speaks about how people have faith in Christ, or Kṛiṣhṇa, or the Madonna, especially if when they were young there was a special adoration for these deities. Because, from childhood they have heard about them, they have not met them.] Now, all these deities are with Me and they are trying to show you through the photos and miracles, now your children will have this feeling too, so automatically. They are lucky to have parents who are Sahaja Yogis.

[Shri Mataji continues by saying those who are Christian should say in the heart, especially for the left side:] `You are the Holy Spirit that Christ has sent.' [Those not Christians should say that She is the Devī or the Ādi Shakti.] [During this time, the vibrations were very strong, Shri Mataji was sitting in deep meditation, in Her majesty, Her hands resting on Her lap, eyes closed, completely still.] [After some time, Shri Mataji plays a song on a new cassette by a famous Indian singer and film music composer Ravindra Jain, accompanied by another well known singer Hemlata (Vishwa Vandita). Shri Mataji explained that he has now written songs about Her and Sahaja Yoga and has put a lot of heart in his music; the song played contained two new names not included in the Thousand names of the Devī, She was touched by the new names and gave beautiful explanations of their meanings.] Yoganirupini [meaning] Giving the explanation of the Yoga, its deep meaning and verification. [Shri Mataji says that never before had the Yoga been explained. None of these Incarnations did this. The great Indian saints such as Gñyāneśhwara, who took his Samādhi when He was 23 and Tukārām, also did not explain the Turīya, because they could not talk to these people. Sahaja Yogis were not there at that time to understand this subtle subject.] But you have your realisation, you can actually experience it and verify it.

Dharma Vikasini [meaning] The flowering, blossoming of Dharma, when thieving, lying etc. are gone and righteousness, kindness and honesty are manifesting. [Shri Mataji shapes Her hands like the closed bud of a flower, then opened them as She explained about the `bud of Dharma':] And then the fragrance of this Dharma starts emitting, filling the whole atmosphere...

[Referring again to Bhakti , Shri Mataji mentions a couplet, in which it is said that “in your heart is a picture of love, if you bow your head you can see this picture."] Look at the photo and then put Me in your heart. [All heads are bowed to Her.] Actually, you are surrendering your ego. It's written in the Bhagavad Gītā: you need to practice meditation. It's like music: you must practice, today this, tomorrow that.

[Shri Mataji also says that what matters is not how long we meditate, but how deeply.] [She then gives a treatment for colds and runny noses in the morning: to take a basil leaf, some black pepper and ghee.] [Shri Mataji then talks about Russia, saying how the Russian people don't like Lenin now, but they don't realise what he has done for them, he made them introspect. About the Russian Sahaja Yogis She says how devoted and dedicated they are and how the Nagpur musicians had been overwhelmed by their devotion and love for Shri Mataji. One lady wanted to give them tea and told them that singing the songs of praise of Shri Mataji, they must be Celestial Beings. But they said that they could not stay, had to leave with the bus, but then the bus broke down and they had to go back to her. Shri Mataji adds that the musicians felt ashamed when they saw this devotion of the Russian Sahaja Yogis and that we should also experience these people.] [The meditation ends.] [Shri Mataji gives Her blessing and says:] Even if I am not here, you should come and sit for meditation.

The vibrations are flowing, wherever I am.

Contents: 1991-10-02 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Open the Āgñyā after Self-realisation, Palazzo Doria, Cabella Ligure, Italy

One has to read all these books and all these instructions to put in an effort to go into Meditation. All these efforts are actually to lead to the conviction that meditative state is to be achieved through effortless surrendering.

Up to the Āgñyā center is all right when you are trying to say different mantras but you will find all the time that the Kuṇḍalinī stops or is blocked at the Āgñyā.

The reason for this is that when you put effort you work through your Āgñyā, not effortlessly.

So those who are in Bhakti they just have to become silent and effortless.

So the Kuṇḍalinī passes through Āgñyā and clears out through Sahasrāra. With Bhakti only you can counteract your Āgñyā.

Now the situation of ascent at Āgñyā is the most difficult. The reason is if you try to, by pulling or pushing your Kuṇḍalinī through Āgñyā, you are using an effort: once you use the effort you block your Āgñyā.

So at the blockage of Āgñyā if you just leave the Kuṇḍalinī to work it out by itself, then your Āgñyā will be cleared out. But in Bhakti with full heart if you are singing or if you are taking My Name then automatically Āgñyā opens.

But it's a little complicated thing for people who are very much active with their Āgñyā, for such people it would be better if they develop the state of thoughtless awareness. When they watch something they should just try to just watch it and do not allow any thought to come in. You can go on saying, `Ksham, Ksham, Ksham'. These thoughts will stop.

Try to maintain that state through your, again, the sustenance of Bhakti .

So the important thing in Sahaja Yoga is after realisation we must completely surrender ourselves to the enjoyment of Bhakti .

Those who have achieved that, they get this effortless ascent through the Āgñyā very easily. It cannot be explained, as I said. There is no rule and regulation for Bhakti but definitely it can be seen in other Sahaja Yogis who are just in that state of bliss. You can find out that there is adoration from their heart for their Guru and an awe. They do not say, `No,' they do not question, they do not guide or correct their Guru. They just are in an absorbing state, as if a big ocean is pouring into them the joy and the bliss.

This state is revealed in day-to-day behaviour towards their Guru.

How they behave and how they talk to their Guru is very important. For example some people come very close to Me, they know how to look after Me, they know how to rub My feet or maybe they know how to look after My food and My day-to-day needs but still if they do not have that protocol, if they do not have that innate idea of reverence and a deep adoration then they are not yet at that stage where they should be. And gradually such people then go on falling because they still have not yet fathomed the depth of their being which can respond to the greatness of their Guru.

It is a very delicate thing for Me to tell you how to behave and sometimes it upsets Me and shocks Me when people start taking liberties in a way that will be responsible for their fall or for their losing their state.

I find it impossible to tell them that they must learn how to speak to Me and how to behave towards Me.

I have seen that most of the leaders have this sense and have this capacity to absorb this ocean of love and joy.

But there are so many Sahaja Yogis who are still, though they may be very close to Me, are not up to the point that they should be.

Sometimes they argue, sometimes they deny, sometimes they defy.

Now one may ask that this kind of surrendering may lead to your slavery. In slavery you get pain, torture and unhappiness but in this slavery you get joy, complete freedom, strength and the beauty of your own glory.

So whether you call it as a slavery or anything it makes no difference to the quality of this surrendering which is very very important if you want to discover your own glory.

Actually what to surrender is your ego, your conditioning.

Some people have a habit of dominating, so when they are close to Me, they try to dominate Me also.

Or if they have the habit of arguing, when they are close to Me, they start arguing with Me. That behaviour has to be changed. The way you talk to each other you cannot talk in the same manner to your Guru because your Guru is at a much higher position and you have to realise that if you have to reach that state of Turīya, then you must put your Guru above everybody else.

I never asked you to read Guru Gītā because it is too much to be told to Sahaja Yogis, too much to be asked from Sahaja Yogis. I feel there are so many Sahaja Yogis who are still not there at the point to understand what this surrendering means and that is the reason I just never wanted you to read Guru Gītā which was told by Śhrī Mahādeva to Pārvatī.

That state of surrendering is not with efforts, not with thinking, but has to come effortlessly. It's like dissolving a drop of your personality into the ocean of love. Whatever words one may use, one has to know that this state is to be achieved. Is no use of describing any state that is not yet experienced. But by describing it at least people try to move towards it and work it out.

Effortlessly...

Now what is your freedom? Your freedom is that you do not have to bound yourself with any mental effort of rules and regulations but innately or effortlessly you should feel the protocol or you should have the protocol built in, in your being.

This is the way we can understand the complete freedom that we do not have to mentally tell ourselves, that we have to do like this, we have to do like that, but spontaneously it acts in your being and you start a new life of spontaneous behaviour towards your Guru.

Contents: 1991-10-13 Navarātri Pūjā (6th Day), False Religion and Recognition, Cabella Ligure, Italy

Today we have gathered here to do the Navarātri Pūjā.

There were nine times when the major incarnations of the Mother of this Universe were manifested.

They're manifested with a purpose. That purpose is to protect Her bhaktas, Her disciples, Her children.

This was a binding love. She could not escape it. Mother's love is binding. She cannot escape it. And She has to manifest it, work it out and give that protection to all her children. This protection in the modern times has taken another form.

In those days the evil was trying to harm, to destroy the people who were righteous, who were bhaktas, who were doing good things, who wanted to lead a very religious life.

So, to save them, She incarnated.

To protect them, She incarnated. But they knew what was good, they knew what was wrong and they wanted to preserve their good life, their precious life. They didn't care for money. They didn't care for power, but just they wanted their life, means they wanted to be alive to worship the Goddess and when they were troubled or harmed or destroyed by these evil forces, She had to manifest.

But in modern times it's become very complicated as the modern times are complicated. First of all, in the mind, in the lifestyle, in the society of good human beings, righteous human beings fear of the wrong has entered. Like, they're afraid, say, of their priests, of their churches, of their temples, of their mosques, which are all false. They're not afraid of God. They don't believe in God. They think that they have created God and they can manage God.

So who is God? The way they behave you can see clearly that they do not recognize the existence of God, God Almighty who is a wrathful God. They are not at all worried as to what will happen to them. They don't even believe in the second life, they don't believe in the resurrection. They are very short sighted, even people doing all kinds of evil things.

So, somehow or other, as soon as you are born, you are born into some sort of a brand. You are this.

You are that. You are that. You are that. As soon as you are born.

So the first brand [which] comes onto this modern man is of a religion to which he belongs. He can't avoid it. He has to be jolly well belonging to some religion. You go anywhere, even in the passport, nowadays they've stopped it, otherwise, they used to ask, “What is your religion?" And in India if you said you had no religion, they would not give you a passport because you are not yet qualified evil person or you are not following qualified evil people.

So that very simple, gullible, good people, very righteous, believers of God, develop this kind of a fear, which was put into their heads by these false people, that “if you don't do like this, if you don't pay money to us, then God will bring wrath on you." “If you do not come to the confession, then God will be angry with you." “If you do not tolerate our nonsense, God will be angry with you." All these things started going into the brains of the people very easily. In some religion they believe there is no sin in drinking.

In some religion they believe there's no sin in marrying many women. In some religion they believe that you can have caste system. All is anti-God. Absolutely anti-God activity perpetuated into the society by these priests who are supposed to be in charge of the religion.

So the first horrible conditioning we have when we start Sahaja Yoga is this.

So to start something that afresh, they find it very difficult.

So the first protection Mother had to render is from this conditioning.

The second one is that of the country. Either you belong to this country, to that country or to that country. And these days every country is competing with each other in all kinds of corruption, Mafiā, all kinds of things. Every country. Suddenly you discover. You have have faith in one country, [then] you find, “Oh, no, no! They were supporting certain person secretly." So whether they are democratic or anything, there is a kind of a Mafiā working everywhere under some name.

So the so-called laws also are only for people who are simple, gullible, pure citizens and not for the people who put those laws on them. They take bribes. They take all kinds of things, but still they are supposed to be in charge of law. Doing all this kind of illegal things because they have made the law, so they know how to be illegal.

So this is the second type of fear that is in the minds of the modern type.

Then the third thing was the war. Wars after wars came in.

So many people developed a kind of a fear about war and, as a reaction, they developed a kind of a stupid ego just, they said, to protect themselves.

In protecting themselves, they have built up a big ego and they are now becoming very, we should say, aggressive people.

So this kind of a wider range, I should say, of fear... it can be directed into any direction. It can be directed towards anyone. Then comes is the fear of race, racialism. Now I'm told that neo-Nazism is taking its own course and is coming up like a little snake.

So this is another area, which is very dangerous now, working out.

Now in the minds of seekers and in their seeking they have been many Gurus, they have read all kinds of books, but they're seeking, you know. In seeking you can drink any kind of water, develop all kinds of diseases. What can you do? You are seeking, after all. You're thirsty. It has to be excuse. And that's how they develop lots of problems, not only in their body, but also in their brain. And now it's a very delicate thing, if you tell somebody that `You have been to such and such Guru,' he doesn't want to hear, because for him, now the Guru has become the last word. You cannot say anything against his Guru. Now, when he starts suffering, then he may accept, but to take it out, that Guru, is also very delicate because, if you want to take out the Guru, then he might be hurt.

So it's a very delicate operation.

Then the modern society, the less said the better! The norms of modern society are given to us by people who were characterless, like Freud, who had no sense of morality, or by drunkards, though they don't have any statues of drunkards, but most of them, if you see the abandonment of our value system comes through drinking. And the drinking was there, but not to this extent. I mean, everybody was not a drunkard, but these days everybody can be a drunkard. And there's no shame about it. With that drinking, our value system started dropping down and people have accepted now the normal thing is abandonment. This is another view.

Formerly, the parents used to support the person if he would take to God, if he would take to righteous life or to something higher and if they saw these qualities in their child, they used to be happy. But these days the other way round, the parents don't like it. As if the parents have lost everything, in themselves, so they want to hold onto their children, grandchildren and possess them. And brainless creatures because their brain has been already been washed off. There's nothing in their brains. To fight the parents also is a big problem.

So this kind of a fear is also there that `My mother should not know, my father should not know, this, that.' You can say from all sides the fear is burning like flames and we are now here in Kali Yuga. We have started Sahaja Yoga.

So the way we have to work out for our protection has to be mutual. Mother, of course, is there to protect you all the time. Her powers are there to protect you. But surprisingly, in the modern times, there's one condition, which has to be fulfilled... Because in those days good were good and evil were evil.

There was no mixing up.

So once they asked for Goddess, they accepted Her, She came in her real form and She worked it out. But in modern times you must know that all these evil things are also lingering in your head, little bit here and there. People are extremely superficial. They are very much prone to the mass attitude, fashions, things like that.

Sort of, their personality is not that developed as that of those bhaktas who knew they were right, who knew they were righteous, who knew whatever they were doing was correct and were standing on their legs. Firm.

So, the modern Sahaja Yogi is very different to the Sahaja Yogi of olden times, because in the olden times it was not easy to get realisation, one in a billion or in a trillion and they had to work very hard.

So, as they worked hard, very hard, they got cleansed and built up themselves, you see and toiled. Like any art piece which takes time, is done with care is definitely thousand times better than these modern artists just putting two, three lines like this.

So today's human being is like a modern artist, you see. You put one line and you say, “You must see this in that person, you must have an identity!" I mean what identity you can have? With one line you say, “Find out the identity." So the Sahaja Yogis, which are today here, have to realise that all these things are surrounding us and these evil forces are also there. They are some within us, some are without.

So it looks to be a very difficult task, but is not, because one condition, if you can understand, is that you have to recognize Me.

I know I'm Mahāmāyā. I'm really very clever at it. But I'm truthful. I do not have crocodile tears. I cannot have. I'm truthful. But still I'm Mahāmāyā.

So to recognize Me, what should we do? If we recognize, then you are protected.

And the cleansing is the simplest thing in Sahaja Yoga is to be collective. If you are not collective, then know that something [is] wrong with you. If you are collective, then as if you are taking your bath in the River Ganges. You don't have to go to Himālayas, you don't have to do individual sadhana, much you just to. Just be collective! If you are collective, if you are enjoying the collective, then you should know that you are clean, no blemishes there. You're absolutely alright! Now the second part of this Mahāmāyā business... I had to be very close to you. I had to be extremely close, talk to you, to have a rapport, to tell you everything about Yoga, to make you absolutely aware of yourself. This had to be done and, with all these complications within your mind, within your heart, within your body, I had to work it out. To come close, in the real form would have been very dangerous, so one had to be a Mahāmāyā. But despite that, if you could recognize Me, to understand Me, that I am Divine personality. It's an incarnation. That's all the Deities want. Then they'll look after you in every way. They'll give you all the powers. They'll give you all the satisfaction, all the protection that you want.

This is the condition, which for a rational mind is very difficult to understand, that how can Ādi Shakti be in one body? How can the infinite can become finite? But human beings cannot do that. Only human beings [cannot]. God can do it. He's God, after all. And if so, you have so many miracles, you have so many photographs, so many things to see, but this is what [is necessary], one has to recognize.

Now I see people, when I talk to them, they start talking to Me a little frivolously, not with that depth, not with that feeling that I am Mahāmāyā. Then some of them even answer Me.

Some of them, if I tell them something, they are ready to give an answer, explanation. Of course, this freedom I have given you deliberately, but [you] must understand that you to talk Me in a way that is, you would talk to Ādi Shakti.

Very important.

Then how you behave is very important. It should not be artificial. It should not be superficial. But best is to put your hand on your heart, both the hands and just try to feel it. Your Mother is Ādi Shakti, She has created all this Universe, She has created all this world and She is for your protection.

Even Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa could not protect Pāṇḍavas. They had to go in the forest, they had to suffer, but not Sahaja Yogis. As soon as I come to know about your problems, My attention can work on [it]. Śhrī Rāma Himself had to go to jungles.

All this is given to you, this protection, because you are seekers of truth and the truth is that, I am the Ādi Shakti incarnated. Once this truth becomes one with yourself, there's nothing to fear because all Deities know this fact. They know about this incarnation very well. They're all prepared for it and they'll do anything to substantiate your belief.

In every way they are trying to give you My photographs, in the sky, this, that, I mean all sorts of things. God knows what they are going to do today. They are so anxious. They are behind the stage, before the stage, all sides of the stage, listening to Me, feeling happy that I am telling you the truth. But the way they recognize and the way they act, they never disobey. If you behave in the same manner, you are completely protected from all these problems I have told you about.

Now I won't say you shouldn't hate anyone, you shouldn't do... nothing of the kind. I wouldn't say you should not steal something. I wouldn't say that you don't make money out of Sahaja Yoga. Nothing.

I don't even say don't drink, don't smoke, I never said so. But automatically, once you know whom you are facing, in whose protection you are, automatically you will drop that, automatic. You will have no fear.

Once you have recognized, you will have no fear from anyone. And the more you show that recognition, the more you realise it, you get higher and higher, not only spiritually, but every way, mentally, socially, economically, politically. It's very remarkable that, not only that you recognize Me as a Mother who loves you very much, but a Mother who is powerful to protect you. Is very powerful. If you realise that and if you feel that within your heart. Supposing I correct you sometime, instead of feeling sad you should see that, `How fortunate I am that Ādi Shakti Herself is correcting me. She's taking interest in me. How fortunate I am to be born at this time, to be with Her in Her great work. What have I done [to deserve this]?' This recognition itself will fulfil all the incarnations of Navarātri.

So today we are worshipping the Durgā, Kālī, all these great Goddesses. These powers. Even Rādhā.

It was Rādhā who killed Kamsa, not Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. He had to ask Rādhā to come and kill him. It's the power that kills.

So if you realise that your Mother is the Ādi Shakti... I know of so many people. There's one gentleman who's working in London airport.

Someone tried to trouble him. He said, “You see, be careful, my Mother is very powerful, you don't know." The next day that man lost his job, lost his business, lost this, lost this.

And he came to him and said, “Now which is you Mother? Let me see her." There was a farmer in, near Rahuri and in the night three men came to steal some sugarcane and next day they came and they said, “Which Goddess do you worship?" He said: “Why?" “There were three hefty people watching your, guarding your field and we came just to... and we thought better take some of this sugarcane. After all, it looks so nice. And they beat us. Of course, we never got hurt." So just behind this recognition is all the powers. There are so many, so many stories I can tell you how things have happened, how it has worked out. But if you are doubting still, halfway this, that, then things won't be all right.

You shouldn't worry about your reputation. Just go with full speed into any direction, knowing one thing, that you are My child and that I am Ādi Shakti. Everything that looks horrible will become better.

We have seen it now in this France case and all that, what has happened.

Don't worry about anything, just know that I am the Ādi Shakti.

That all the powers of God and Goddesses and all that are within Me and they are within Me and they are all looking after you. But if that recognition is not there, they are not going to recognize you either.

So for today's Navarātri, I have to tell you that, just try to keep in mind that today you are worshipping the Ādi Shakti and not only Durgā. And you are worshipping Durgā and all these Goddesses to thank them because, if they had not saved you that time, you had been so frightened, you would have become bad people and would not have been here. That is why we are thankful to them for saving us and giving us this protection at that time when we were very helpless.

May God bless you! Today's Pūjā is very simple. We'll just have feet to be washed, just with one Gaṇeśha's Atharva Sheersha. Anyone can wash it. I think the leaders need not come, only from UK. Because today the Pūjā is done by the UK people. And so I would request two or three people from UK to come and just wash My feet.

[During the Pūjā:] This is the name of the Goddess Herself, Charu, means beautiful or you can say auspicious. And Keshi, means the hair, who has auspicious hair.

So it's coming from Bengal, Charukeshi, this word. And it's the description of the Goddess, her names, the name of the Goddess.

So it's the right time.

[Hindi.] Today is the day when the Goddess goes to Bengal, you see. It's so nice that he's going to play Charukeshi, when it's a Bengali, it has come from Bengal, this raga has come from Bengal. Oh many coincidences, so many coincidences, you see, must be something behind it.

Contents: 1991-10-13 Boon Granted to Sahaja Yogis, after Navarātri Pūjā, Cabella Ligure, Italy

[Pleased with Sahaja Yogis' devotion, Shri Mataji grants them a boon. They pray to Her to write a book that would inspire the global emancipation of humanity.] [Smiling:] I have given over a thousand lectures which be compiled into books.

[Sahaja Yogis plead, Shri Mataji is bound by their love, but with a smile from the corner of Her eyes, She adds:] Provided you allow Me time from the hectic programs!

Contents: 1991-10-14 Book Writing, Palazzo Doria, Cabella Ligure, Italy

[Shri Mataji wakes up at five and writes for a few hours. The Sahaja Yogis put a voice recorder by Her bedside and in no time it is full.] Sahaja Yogi [helping with the transcription argues:] But Plato said like this... and Rousseau said like that.

Shri Mataji: Let them say whatever they want to. I say what I know. Why should I refer to them? I do not have to go the libraries and read what Rousseau or Plato said... I have seen many people whose mind is nothing but the book of others, words of others, quotations of others.

They are nowhere; you cannot find them. They are lost. Whatever I have witnessed in My life, I should write it clearly without thinking what others have to say.

[Shri Mataji reads out a few excerpts from Her book. His Sahasrāra opens and he hears Her from it.

He pulled his ears and humbly prostrated before Her.]

Contents: 1991-10-15 Photo Selection, Palazzo Doria, Cabella Ligure, Italy

[The next day the same Sahaja Yogi brings his collection of Shri Mataji's photographs so that Shri Mataji selects for the book cover. He suggests a photo taken by an older Sahaja Yogini in the early years of Sahaja Yoga. Shri Mataji points out it had no vibrations because the older lady, who had taken the photograph, was negative. She explains the vibrations of the person who took the photograph reflect in it and therefore it was important to check the vibrations before using Her photograph anywhere.] [Then he pulls out another photograph. Shri Mataji is surprised that it had become all so dark:] Who has used it?

Sahaja Yogi: [replies that the photograph was lent to a relation of his who was a follower of a false Guru].

Shri Mataji: See how dark it has become because My attention has receded from it. There are no vibrations. You better put it in the river. It is not for decoration but to be respected. As much as possible, respect the photograph with the understanding, `It's Mother with me.'

Contents: 1991-10-25 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Formal Program, Vienna, Austria

German Translator: Shri Mataji ist so glucklich, dass Sie heute mit uns sein kann.

Shri Mataji: It is Hamid, you see, who managed everything. See, he said that: “Mother, I have come here, but I feel for all the Austrians, they have not met you, they would love to meet you." So I said: “Its not easy; I have to have a visa." And then he said: “No, no, you don't require a visa in Austria." I said: “You do require, I know that." Then I thought that, if his desire is so strong and a desire of a Sahaja Yogi, it always masters Me.

And so I said: “Let Me see in the passport." And amazingly [applause]. And it was there till December 4th and multiple entry of the thing, nicely allowed. I didn't, I just couldn't believe My eyes. It was given in June. I don't know how Austrian government gave Me for six months with multiple entries.

So also the tickets were done and everything was perfect. And I'm here to see you all. Actually your desires are very powerful. I have no desires, as you know. I told them a story about once it was a Guru Pūjā in India and I said that, I mean they said: “What should we give?" I said: “Give Me just a shawl but no sari, nothing." And I would not take a sari. And when I went there, you see, these ladies started saying: “Mother, we bought a sari for you and we have got also blouses made. Please take it." And I said: “No." I was strict, I said: “No."; I said: “Why did you spend so much money?" And they said: “It's a saffron colour, which we can only use for Guru Pūjā, so what's the use"; this that [UNCLEAR], I said: “No, I will not, I will not take it." And before every Pūjā I go and wash My feet. I went into that bathroom which had a tap about so high as that. About four, four and a half feet. And as soon as I opened the tap I got completely drenched, because the whole tap came into My hand.

So, I didn't know what to do, you see I came back, alright I surrender, I'll wear the sari for the Pūjā.

So, you see, also the deities are with you very much and they try to create situations which are remarkable in your favour. But you must have faith in yourself. That's the important point. You must believe that you have got realisation. You must believe that you have become saints. You must believe that you have all the powers within you, which you have to manifest. All the powers that are with the deities can be yours. But deities are so confident. They would never doubt about themselves.

Now, you have had so many experiences of miracles. We have had photographs, you have seen, in the, in the Brahmapuri, na? In Brahmapuri... In the sky there was a rainbow. See this is the rainbow, has come. And Rainbow was given by God to say that, that is a sign he'll never destroy this world. And along the rainbow is My face, coloured face there, nicely. Then there is another photograph where Madonna has appeared before Me. Also, the other day we had miracle of channa cooking. I cooked channa in the, under the chimney. They wouldn't allow Me to go to the kitchen, so I said alright I'll cook here. And they all ate and ate and ate, still so much was left. Then there were ten boys came from Genova, after the program, I said go and now eat all this. And so little, wee bit was left around the thing, around the pot. Next morning the whole thing was filled. They were surprised! They gave the whole day and also next day. I said you put this pot now in the river otherwise it will be all the time full. Now just see these flowers, they gave Me. Now the small are also growing big, so I can't show. They were very, very small like this, these flowers. See how big they have become and these smaller are now growing in front of them. But the best part is that the leaves started coming out in this one, see the flowers, they were very small just like these and see how big they have grown! And the leaves started coming out, see these new leaves are coming out.

So this is Chaitanya. This is all pervading power, which is so powerful, which understands everything, which organizes everything, creates everything. Above all, it loves you and respects you, because you are saints. But you must respect yourself. That's what I find, you don't respect yourself as much as you should, as Saints. The best way is to understand Sahaja Yoga, is achieving thoughtless awareness. Through meditation you can achieve that state. That is the fourth dimension. We call it in Sanskrit Turīya. It's the fourth dimension. In that dimension only you grow. Spiritually grows only in that dimension.

Like at the animal stage, the intelligence grows up to a point. Then, human stage, it grows up to a point. But in the fourth dimension you become entitled, endowed with powers. Powers of curing people, of creativity, of peace, witness state and above all, giving realisation to others. And the new dimension of collective consciousness, where you can feel other personality.

So this is the fourth state, which we have to establish within ourselves. Then the ideas come into you. They are not through your mental activity, but from the Divine. And you are amazed at yourself, how you have achieved this. And so, one has to meditate and understand. The idea is your own benevolence.

Some people get caught up, they have problems, they give problems to others. Then they have to get separated from the collective. Like any patient who is suffering from some sort of a disease which will affect others, has to get out. And then, when it happens that you are out, the badhas which are troubling you, leave, because they are not interested in you. And that's how you get your freedom. And then you can come to Sahaja Yoga. But Sahaja Yoga is not meant for hypocrites. If you are a hypocrite and if you are doing things hypocritically it will throw you out, somehow. Your heart has to be clean. Maybe there is something wrong with you, doesn't matter. And it doesn't matter if, even you cannot meditate or you cannot achieve a state that you want to achieve. Only thing is, you should sincerely ask for your benevolence. We have to be very sincere to ourselves. If we are not sincere, then our attention will go here and there. We start worrying about others, their vibrations, their problems. We have to think about ourselves. Now, also I have realised one thing, that people do things without telling their leaders, which is very dangerous. Like in France, there was one girl who got pregnant. And she went and took some antibiotic injections. She didn't tell the leader, no one and her husband also said better not tell. And the child was born with a very bad Āgñyā, everything, I worked on her in her during pregnancy, but still, I am a little worried about the child. Because such a child can get a bad heart, hole in the heart or something like that or he might also get lunacy, madness.

So without asking the leader you should not, at all, do things which are not normal.

Like today somebody told Me she got a guest and the guest was like this and like that. And the person got caught up very badly. But you must ask the leaders about it, take their permission, then they can ask Me and then I can say alright. Otherwise if you do like this, it's going to be very dangerous for you.

Because you must know there is negativity around and they will always try to attack. Now we are all happily married, you have very nice children and that you are having a nice married life, I am very happy to see your children. And that you are happy with each other is also a very great thing in Sahaja Yoga.

Also, we have such pure relationships among ourselves, which is such a great sense of security it generates, great thing.

So, one has to understand that all the blessings are there in Sahaja Yoga. You don't have to go to Himālayas. And sit in the cold there, without any clothes. And you don't have to go to Gobi desert.

But one thing is definite, that you have to meditate. And also, tell everything to your leaders. As it is, it's a living process, so there cannot be any laws and regulations about it. It has to grow. You have to become.

So for that, you must know one thing, that we cannot assert it, we cannot argue it, we cannot discuss it. We can just help it, by being meditative and collective. In olden days people used to go to Himālayas and all that to cleanse their Chakras. But in Sahaja Yoga collectivity cleanses. If somebody is not collective, then he better go to Himālayas. That's the only way because, you see, only collective can really cure you and purify you. If you are not collective, it's better you introspect, try to find out why am I not collective, why am I like this? Introspection will give you all the answers. This is first judgement that you should have, you have to judge yourself. Second thing, I have to warn you: Those people, who speak against Me or Sahaja Yoga, you should have nothing to do with them. It's written in the Shāstras that anybody talks ill about your Guru, please put hands on your ears like this.

Otherwise one would get horrible diseases or one would go mad or something horrible can happen.

So, if anybody talks ill about Sahaja Yoga, about which you are convinced, you just try to close your ears.

Have nothing to do with that person. I am just warning you, because not only you will be in trouble but your children would be in trouble.

So, that is one of the conditions in Sahaja Yoga, that, then we are not responsible. For example we had Hugo, if you know him, must have heard about Hugo in Munich and he suddenly came down and said that “I have become `Mahā Mātājī.' " So they all got a fright and they said alright, so we are going away.

So he said no, no, I can't run this ashram, you stay here, it's alright, you can stay here, but I will go away. Then Thomas, who is an old Sahaja Yogi, he put his hands on his ears.

So he went to another gentleman and he was talking to his wife against Sahaja Yoga and against Me. She got cancer and then she died. And also her husband got cancer and he died. Say in your family somebody is there, who is talking against Me or Sahaja Yoga, just don't have anything to do with that person, otherwise that you will catch on to some sort of a serious disease. It is as simple as this, that, when you are in Sahaja Yoga you are under the guidance of God Almighty. All the deities are looking after you. This Param-Chaitanya is like a beautiful cover on you. But if you get out of this, then you are caught by negativity. But negativity doesn't harm that particular person so much, because it wants, you see, the negativity wants to use that person, so it won't harm that. But anybody that person goes and meets will be harmed.

So we should not even think about such person, we should not even have anything to deal with this person.

There are so many things which we should be careful about. Otherwise you are all looked after very nice. There's no problem, you are in the ocean of joy. If you have any such problem you should write to Me directly also. But not in German language. How many languages am I supposed to learn? So the best thing would be, you better learn English, would be easier for Me. If you listen to My tapes, I think, you pick up very fast. I mean French are the most difficult, but they have done that. The Germans are not that difficult, for languages. Now the future program is that we are having a Diwali Pūjā. We have also invited some people from Eastern Bloc, some people. And you know Cabella is still, that palace is still, like a dilapidated house.

So we are working out and also we have bought, I have bought the land, I have bought four acres of land very close, so we could also make a nice ashram for you. Because Cabella is already occupied by people now.

So the best thing would be that, whenever you come you can stay in the ashram and we'll make a good place for you. You will see that Cabella is something, a very unique, Divine place. The vibrations are very good and the people are very good and the atmosphere is very pure.

And the river is also so beautiful, that I mean it cleanses people very fast, just, just like the river Ganges.

So I am sure by next year we'll have something established. But I'll invite you now for Diwali and then for Indian tour. This time, as you know, India tour is going to start from Madras. And, because, you will see new temples and the new style of architecture. And instead of music you will have dancing, classical Indian dance. Maybe also, by the way, some sort of a music program, but this is definite. Then you will be going to Hyderabad, Bangalore which is a nice city. And Hyderabad has got a big museum, called Salar, Salarjang museum. [Helping the translator:] Salar, Salar, Salarjang, like a little, there's a chair for a bird, as well as for an elephant, all the kinds of chairs. He was a great collector and it's a very marvelous museum. He has got also from Western countries, he's got lots of collections. Now he is no more. Yes, you see, he was the prime minister of our Nizam and this Nizam was a most miserly person, but this Salarjang took advantage of him and collected all these things and created this museum. [Correcting the translator:] Salar, Salarjang. It's a interesting place, you will like it. Then we will be going to Poona, we stay in Shere, then Kolhapur, we'll try to do, if possible, Brahmapuri, I don't know, but we'll have the seashores in Madras. And then to Ganapatipule.

But we are now going by train from Madras. We'll be on the train till Poona, till Poona. I hope you'll enjoy your journey there. It won't be worse than these horrible roads of Maharashtra. In Maharashtra is the worst roads in the whole of India. Because the chief minister only goes on collecting money and doesn't do anything for the state. But now, thank God, he's gone to the centre, let us see.

So this program will be starting from the fifth, but you should arrive earlier one day, I think, would be better on the fourth.

So that you can rest and from fifth, sixth, seventh they have a very intensive program. My coming here was so sudden and without any knowledge about it. Actually, I had gone to do some shopping for this Diwali, for the presents for Diwali. And really, we got very nice things there [in Prague]. This time the Diwali will be done by the French.

So you can also join. They are bringing all kinds of these fireworks and everything. And it's going to be a very simple Pūjā, because first they'll have these villagers for tea party on Saturday about say, three o'clock they'll come and about till five. Then five o'clock they'll have all these lights and things with the villagers and also they'll have these celebration of fire like these fireworks.

And after that there will be a Pūjā. Which is a small Pūjā, it's not very big, but I am sure you will all enjoy it very much. We are not inviting any musician so the whole Sunday night you can sing. And dance.

I hope you understand that, this ashram has to be built and that people should donate some money in that. I have never said that because My husband was working and I had money, even now, I mean I don't say I don't have money, but still I would not like to spend this money so much, partly I will do. Already I have purchased the land. And also for the, we can spend, but I would request you to understand that if we have to have an ashram, you all should donate some money for it. It can be done till Sahasrāra Day, till Sahasrāra Day. This is the first time, I think, I am saying it. Because last time they collected about 5,000 pounds and I never sent it to India, because I found it very, very small. And I mixed My money and then sent it over. And with all that money we have paid also ashram in Delhi, then Washi, Vaitarna, all these things, Shere. Shere and also Ganapatipule.

So we bought the land, we did all these things, all this we have done, with My money and with the money that we saved also, on India tour. Also with the Indian donations, which were quite large.

So now, you should all understand that, Ashram cannot be built by vibrations. I hope you'll make it convenient, for all of you, to just decide and Indians as they do, when I told, when they were giving Me money I said no, I don't want it just now, I don't want it, for the beginning. Let Me first register, let Me have a what do you call, a proper trust, then only you donate.

So the whole year they were saving money, saving money and at the end of the year they gave Me a lot of money, about 50,000 rupees, in those days, is very difficult.

So, I have to tell you that it's important, because it's such an important work we are doing. It is for the evolution of all the human beings. I feel sometimes, you are here and there are so many, who are not here. And I feel sad, that why not these people also get their realisation? They are also My children. While you are all enjoying here and they are not. They don't know what is joy. But if we establish ourselves as properly, as good ashrams, then things, I am sure things will work out fast.

Because Gaṇeśha settles down with that.

Now another very simple thing, I would like to say, that in Sahaja Yoga, as Hamid had told Me, they were discussing, whether somebody should go to the hospital or not. This kind of thing becomes mental activity. What you have to do, somebody is sick, just feel his vibrations, try to treat him. Now, if that person doesn't get cured, tell him he can go to the hospital. But if he gets cured, well and good.

So this is how it should be done. Not for these things, you should not waste your vibrations and go into mental activity. Because you don't know, these vibrations are also very tricky. Then they'll play games with you.

So you don't use them mentally. It is to be understood, that we have to go beyond mental activity.

So now, I think we are, you all must be very tired, because it's very late now for you. I feel quite fresh, you see.

So nice to see you all here. And also, I am thankful to all the Sahaja Yogis who came [GAP] Translator [translating]: In the whole world the people are thinking of us because we have had to suffer so much because of this one man.

Shri Mataji: And when they will hear what has happened to him they will be very joyous, I am sure they will now, not be that angry. You see, so many people have done like that, but they have respect for Me, respect for Sahaja Yoga. They had to leave Sahaja Yoga, it's alright, but they never showed disrespect to Me, never. Never talked against Me.

So now, it is important, that we have this full faith in ourselves.

Complete faith in ourselves. And then you see the miracles, that you can do. May God bless you. You have any problems? Thoughtless Awareness. May God bless you. May God bless you. Enjoy yourselves, enjoy. These are actually Indian flowers you know? That's surprising. They have fragrance. Thank you for the flowers, thank you very much.

Sahaja Yogis: [sing the three great Mantras].

Shri Mataji: May God bless you. May God bless you all, may God bless you.

You can... They wanted to sing some songs.

Sahaja Yogi: Can we sing one or two songs?

Shri Mataji: Yes, by all means. You all can sing now. Why don't you play on that? You can't hear? Sahaja Yogis: [sing `Sitting in the heart of the universe'].

Shri Mataji: You can sing one more song, whatever you like, I am not tired. [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogis: [sing `Jog.wa'].

Shri Mataji: That's the best. This Kuṇḍalinī is up there, you can feel yourself, now feel it here.

Alright, up far. Now give Bandhan I think the best is, give Bandhan to yourselves. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven. There is no need to raise. First you must raise your Kuṇḍalinī and then you must give Bandhan. Already they are up there. But always, I see that, you people give, give the Bandhan first and then raise the Kuṇḍalinī. No, first raise the Kuṇḍalinī and then give a Bandhan. Means you reach that state and then give the Bandhan. Also when you bow down, you have to be properly, put both your hands like this when you bow down, not like this, not like that, but like this. And put your forehead, Āgñyā on the Mother Earth, not your head, not your Sahasrāra.

So it flows into your Sahasrāra. Away... See, very good.

Some of you feeling here, now put it up, like that. Now see...

Some of you feel it here? Take it out like that.. because of right side. When you take vibrations, I feel so much better, because is am relieved of them.

So I must thank you for that.

Alright, may God bless you.

Sahaja Yogis: Bolo Yoga Nirupini, Śhrī Nirmalā Devī ki Jai!

Shri Mataji: That's a new name. And also say Yoga Shāstra Adhikarini, means the complete authority of Yoga Shāstra, Yoga Science.

Contents: 1991-11-10 Diwali Pūjā (5th day after Diwali Day), Joy and Happiness, Cabella Ligure, Italy

Sorry, I had to say something before entering in, but it is good that it has happened because now I have to tell you some things important in life and that is specially for ladies I have to tell this. I've noticed, of course, I am also a woman, that women have certain water powers of crying, weeping and, thinking they're very miserable and making everybody miserable. This is their power. I've noticed this. I mean this song is the worst song you could sing on any day whatsoever, but it has come into somebody's head, is very negative and not only that, but it shows a person who can never be happy and doesn't want anybody to be happy.

So inside every woman, there is a motherhood, there's great capacities, sacrifice, everything is there.

With that, they also should know they're left-sided. And our joy about which we talk within our heart has to manifest outside.

People should see that we are joyous, that we are happy people, that we are not like others who start crying for small things. Like when My father died, I was surprised that suddenly I became thoughtless, absolutely thoughtless. For about three days I was thoughtless. Neither the thought of pain or the thought of unhappiness or anything came up, but just thoughtless.

And even I was surprised because I looked after him and, I mean, he was very attached to Me, very fond of Me, everything was there. They were surprised how easily I became suddenly thoughtless.

So if you are a Sahaja Yogini, then at the time of crisis you should become thoughtless. That's one of the signs. I have seen with Myself, if there is any crisis in the family, I just become thoughtless. That means what? That God just takes you in your problems. He puts his hand, He puts His protection and He takes you out of it and makes you absolutely thoughtless. And in that thoughtless awareness you discover what is right, what is wrong.

So even in crisis, this thoughtless awareness is all the time extremely alert. It becomes much more alert than normal. That's the sign of a Sahaja Yogi and sign of Sahaja Yogini. But I've noticed it, very surprisingly, specially with French, Indian girls, who came here. I was shocked that they were very leftsided, crying type, nonsensical and to hear this song again I was surprised, “How could they sing such a song from France?" As it is, France, you know, the problem is they drink such a lot. I'm sorry today the French have done this beautiful thing, but I better tell. Now when they drink, they think they are very happy, they're very joyous, but you know how long it lasts? It just finishes off and they suffer. But as a result of drinking, they become very left-sided and if you see a Frenchman, he's always unhappy. Even to say that he's happy, he feels shy because people will think he is ignoramus.

So he should be a miserable person, `Les miserables'. If he's not, then he's not French. We are not. We are in the Kingdom of God.

In no way we are unhappy, in no way.

Some things happen in life after all. Life is such.

Somebody has to die. Everybody doesn't die together. Imagine everybody dies. What will happen to people? Who will bury us? I mean, think of if you are all born together, who'll deliver us? So everybody who is born has to die, but the way they have made the death as some sort of a big part of life. It's just a moment, just a moment that you pass out and you go and change and come back again.

But in this life, if you have to do anything, [it] is to enjoy.

So, for that, their philosophy is that you should go to pubs because, God knows, when we die what will happen.

So they use it in the other way. This is English. I'm not saying the French. But in India, when somebody die, they get bands and all kinds of music and they go on playing in front of the dead body. And why they play? Because if there are bhoots or anything, they will all run away. Also that you should not feel sad. Accept what God has done for you is for your good. And then they have a big dinner, one day after tenth or thirteenth day, very big dinner has to be given. It's very surprising, you know, that country which is so poor, such a problem. If the father dies, then the whole family becomes like an orphan, orphanage. Despite all that, they don't wear any black dress, otherwise I have seen here people wearing black dresses. And a lady was very upset. She said, “The bank will open at ten o'clock and I have to go to the funeral and my ornaments are in the bank." But I said, “But ornaments you don't wear for a funeral, do you?" “No, no, I have my special ones. You know, I have got very nice dark, black ones." I said and the best part of it, the day they die they must have champagne. When the person dies, champagne.

When they come back home, they must have lunch and a big party.

So it's such a contradictory life that we have been because in Christian religion they have not said much about the death. I mean, Christ, if they had allowed Him to live, He would have talked about it.

But He has said that Spirit is eternal. He has talked of reincarnation, no doubt, but those people didn't tell about this.

So death means now that that man is lost forever. Or this life is lost for God. Then we hang in the limbo or we hang somewhere else. We never come back. This is absolutely wrong. It's not so.

So what you have to achieve in this lifetime, the highest thing is your ascent and your position in the Kingdom of God. For, especially for ladies, I have to tell you because, you see, reading all these tragic things all over, so many tragedies are brought up, this Greek tragedy, this tragedy, that tragedy. It just starts working in the nerves of the ladies. If somebody says the slightest thing, it becomes like a bombshell.

They just start behaving as if `Oh, my God, what has happened? He should not have said this to me.' But what we do to ourselves, we should see first. What harm we do to ourselves, we never cry for that. You have seen how in the West women have ruined themselves. They never cry for that, never, never. But they cry if somebody says even a little word to them. Of course, in India also. But there are very sensible women, otherwise, I have seen in the East and West who have a great sense of bearing, a majestic attitude towards life. Like an elephant is walking and the dogs are barking, so what does it matter? That majesty comes when inside you have that joy. `Nobody can make me unhappy.' This is, should be the principle.

`Nothing can make me unhappy.' Otherwise, you start moving towards the left side. When a lady starts crying and a man starts going to the left and suddenly you find ten bhoots sitting on him. How does he get it? “I've never been to a cemetrey. I've never been to any such place, Mother. I never saw anybody dying." “Then how did you get bhootish?" “I never went to any Guru." See the wife. Wife is a crying doll.

For everything she cries. If you don't do this, cry. This is another kind of ego expression, I tell you, this crying business.

So today I want to have a promise from all of you that you are not going to cry at all. Instead of flowers, you just give Me this flower of promise. I never cry. Of course, sometimes Sandra karuna, one tear or two tears might come out of My, after all, I'm a mother. But not like this, sitting, crying, crying, becoming hysterics. You must have your dignity. You are all Sahaja Yoginis. Don't read any book which talks of crying, but books which are deep also make you feel very much touched. You feel like crying, it's all right. In the cinema they see a woman torturing her husband, then they will cry. At home they'll come and torture the husband. What's the use? I've seen many like that. In the cinema they'll be crying. When it is somebody else, they feel the pain. When it is themselves, they never see what they are doing.

So My one demand today is that you must not cry. Now you are in the Kingdom of God and in the Kingdom of God you do not cry. Now we had All Saints Day. We had this, that. They used to do all in India also they have nonsense like that. All right, give them their due, but you don't celebrate by crying.

That is one sign that you are really joyous. I mean, what a song to hear and I was shocked. Who suggested the song? Can I ask the culprit? I know that must have been an Indian woman. Has to be.

[Hindi.] So look at these beautiful things that they have created. If there was no beauty within themselves, they would have been sitting and crying. What else? Of course, those people are beautiful, they never cry.

Maybe crocodile tears sometimes, just to show off, but inside they don't cry because they're so confident.

They enjoy their beauty. They enjoy their glory. They enjoy themselves. Why should they cry? What is the need? And such wasted tears are of no use.

So it is today we are here to enjoy our joy, our Ātmānanda, Nīrānanda and Paramānanda. All these we are here to enjoy, which are of eternal value. You have to understand that now believe that you are in the Kingdom of God and all the subtle beauties of your being are going to be opened out to you. You are going to see yourself all the beauty. But here, if your eyes are already closed, if your heart is already closed and you don't want to see something that's so beautiful, how can I say what a beautiful thing they have made? Is a very important thing in life, is to have a very positive attitude. For Sahaja Yoga also. In Sahaja Yoga we have to develop ourselves within. But that's not so. People will say, “My mother is sick, my father is sick, my brother is sick, my this thing, that one is sick." First, first thing is this. I mean, sometimes I used to think that I'll have to just start a hospital instead of an ashram. Then the second is “My husband is like this. My children are like this. My this thing is like that." This “my my my" is not you. What are you? You are a Sahaja Yogini and in Sahaj you have to know that you have all the proofs, everything before you to know that you are a Sahaja Yogi.

Now if I know that I am Ādi Shakti, supposing, if I know I am Ādi Shakti, then I know, then I don't have to ask any help from anybody. After all, I am Ādi Shakti. I am suppose to do everything. That's My job because I have that power and I have that power, just Sahaj, I have that power with Me.

So I have to do it. Now, I can also say I'm a woman. I should sit down and cry. No, I have no right. I cannot do it, even if I want to. My job is to encourage you to tell you about your inner subtleties, your beauty.

Now do you know what beautiful thing you are? Let us talk about our inner beauty. What are we? Are we all these mad people? Are we all these people who are all the time are miserable? Or are we all these people who are always fighting, those who are hankering after things, who this matter dominates? No, we are the Spirit.

We are the Spirit. We are the reflection of God Almighty, which is Purity, which is Truth, which is Knowledge. We are that. We are not like ordinary people.

How can we live on that level? Only if you are possessed, if you had a bad Guru or something like that, maybe you are going like a yo-yo, going up and down, up and down, up and down, but those who have crossed all those limits have reached that state, should value that they are the Spirit, so many Spirits sitting here, sitting, reflecting God Almighty. I am such a proud mother and all of you are capable of enlightening so many people in this world. But the beauty within you is that you are absolutely independent of anybody else. You depend only upon yourself, upon the source of your Spirit, the joy of your Spirit. You don't expect others to give you joy.

Supposing somebody tomorrow comes and abuses Me. I'll say, “All right. It doesn't matter." Never touches Me because I am with Myself. He is saying these things. He will suffer or not suffer. That's not My department. When you start depending only upon yourself, just imagine a house which is standing on rocks. Like that, you are. Try to feel it. Feel the rock within you. Try to understand. You are not going to behave like other people. It's all right, people who have built their houses on sands have to worry. Not we. We have built on rocks.

So we have to be very courageous. You have to be very bold. At the same time, extremely humble.

When the tree is laden with fruits it bends down.

So we worship the Mother Earth. We worship the sun.

We worship the moon. You worship everything around us which has helped us. We worship our parents, everyone.

But above all we worship ourselves. Because we are worshipable. Now all of you have become saints. That doesn't mean that you develop beards and have all funny dresses and all that. Nothing. You are saints because inside you there is the fragrance of, beautiful fragrance of your lotus. That's the Spirit.

This is a lotus you have made for Me here. Such a beautiful lotus, I am sitting in a beautiful lotus. In the same way is reflected in your heart as a beautiful lotus. Feel that lotus, how beautiful, how delicate. It's pink because pink is the lotus which invites everyone, sign of generosity, of invitation. Pink colour attracts all kinds of insects, everybody.

So lotus is pink and it invites everything, open to everything, not frightened of everything. But it comes out of the mire, comes out of absolutely horrible ponds. There are lots of worms going round it, all right, but it emits the fragrance and makes the whole pond so beautiful. That's what you are. Wherever you'll be, you can create that beauty. You can flow that beauty. You can make people see what a Spiritual person is. You are the reflector of Sahaja Yoga, not Me. You have to reflect Sahaj Yoga. For such people are always in joy and wisdom.

Śhrī Gaṇeśha is the giver of wisdom, wisdom, how to behave at what time, how to say at what time, how far to go with everything. It just should become innate, Sahaj. You don't have to work it out, but just know. `I am a Sahaja Yogini.' Every morning you should tell yourself, `I am a Sahaja Yogini.

So how far I should go? How should I behave? What should be my attitude?' All this can be very easily understood if you develop this lotus of wisdom. How does a lotus come out? There is a seed which sprouts.

That's how the wisdom, there is already the seed within you. All of you have got and now it has started opening because you are realised Souls. Allow your wisdom to take over.

So how do you do it? There's one way, I would say. `Supposing Mother had this problem, what She would have done?', a very good idea. `How She would have dealt with it?' You may again say that we don't understand Mother's style. She's full of tricks. Correct. I am. But there's a very simple way of doing it. You can surrender to My wisdom and the wisdom itself that is in you is active. It will work.

This point also you should understand. Wisdom within you is active. There was one gentleman working at the airport in London. He's a Sahaja Yogi, but he doesn't come to the collective, he has no time.

So somebody said something harsh to him. He went home and he said that “It's not good he said to me.

After all, I'm a Sahaja Yogi." And next day he heard the fellow has fallen from his bike. The gentleman might not have understood that `He said all these things, that's why this has happened to me.' But he knew because Deities are with you.

So in wisdom you understand that all the Deities are just with you and whatever happens to you, they're before you. Nobody can harm you. Nobody can touch you. You are so protected. Lotuses are not protected. You are so protected that anybody tries to harm you, immediately there's protection. Also your own protection is there, as I said, that you jump into thoughtless awareness.

We harm ourselves more than anybody else can sometimes. One friend of Mine I knew, she was from very childhood she was like that, always crying for everything. Always she used to cry for nothing at all because she was such a spoiled child that she used to always cry. Now, was surprised to see at a very young age she became blind. I said, “How did you become so blind?" She had to use a very thick glass and all that. She said, “I used to cry so much, you remember." I said, “That I remember, but did you cry even after school." “Yes, I was always crying like this." So it's a kind of a personality you develop that `I'm like that, I just cry.' But why not develop a personality that, `I am always in joy'? Anything I see, I feel joyous. Anything I hear, I feel joy. Then this lotus of your fragrance will improve and then activity of your wisdom will be that you will take all that is very beautiful easily. You'll get all that is very satisfying, very joyous. It's kind of an activity of this wisdom within you which just leads you to people who are extremely nice, to situations which are very beautiful where you discover nice things or to such beautiful creations that you would never expect to see. It's very, very important to understand that you tell Me, “Mother, that this miracle happened, that miracle happened." Is nothing, is your own wisdom, your own Spirit is working it out. You don't have to do anything. Only thing you have to remember that you are a Sahaja Yogini and your character should be that of a Sahaja Yogini, that your ideas should be that of a Sahaja Yogini. Same with Sahaja Yogis. Sahaja Yogis, being men, they don't show much, but there are certain other ways of showing his temper. They get into tempers and sometimes the tempers are so much that you just start looking, `What's the matter with the person?' One side the tempers, another side the crying. I mean, in between, what remains? I don't know. Both things are absolutely not needed. You have to correct people, to say things. Just now I had to say something. I've said it, finished. But it's not anger. It just, I have to act. The difference is like this, I'm not involved with it. Even if I cry, I'm not involved. I'm just crying. Even if I am angry, I am not really angry. I am just trying to be angry in an acting. That's what happens. You do not get involved into it. But if you get involved into your anger, then the joy is finished, completely finished.

Some people think also that if you are joyous you have to be very serious. Not at all. What is there to be serious? What is to be serious in this world? Everything is stupidity. I don't find anything serious in this world. And I can't keep serious for more than three minutes.

Sometimes people take advantage of that, but what can I do? That's My nature. What's so serious? You don't have to create sun. You don't have to create moon. You don't have to create Mother Earth. What's so serious? What great jobs have you to do? Everything is there for you. Just enjoy. What is there to be so serious? Some people, you know, try to impress also by their seriousness. Once I saw a lady standing, very seriously thinking. I said, “What is the problem?" “I don't know how to broom this thing. See, I don't have a broom." I said, “Such a big problem is there as if the heavens are falling. Doesn't matter today you don't do it. You can do it tomorrow. What is so important?" I mean if you don't have something, it's all right. “No, no, no, I must do it. You see, I'm very house-proud." I said, “That's the main problem which is serious." So because you suffer from some serious, stupid problems, that's why you become serious. And, by becoming serious, if you think your problems will be solved, they will not. At the same time, I must tell you we should not be frivolous. We should not be vulgar and not frivolous. That's not, see these flowers.

Look at them. They are shaking with My vibrations. But look at them, in their own dignity. They're going to die tomorrow. They are not bothered as long as they are all right there in their own place, giving you pleasure and happiness, finished. What is the use of a light? Let us see, as a light, as we are. To give the light.

So, we are here to give joy, happiness to everyone, to make everyone happy. There are so many ways of making others happy. And for that, we have to learn also.

So many things we have to learn, how to make others happy. And then when you make them happy, then you feel that joy within yourself. `Oh, they're so happy.' See their happiness, then only this lotus opens out much more. Like a ripple moves and moves to the end of the shores and then from the shore it returns back. In the same way, when your joy reaches the joy of others, then the ripples that come up make a beautiful pattern of your eye.

Just think of such situations where you did something good to others, being very nice to others and then you found the joy in that person and how that joy came back to you. Think of that pattern that you felt so subtlety in your life, how it is built in. Whenever you think of that time or that moment or that area, whole picture comes to you and you think, `What a time!' But that time is eternally within you, all the time and that's why is Diwali is so important.

You are all, as I said, you are My light. And the light is there which is an eternal light. These lights will be finished. We'll have to light them every year. Not you people. You have eternal light and this light is going to spread Joy. What's the problem of this world? The whole problem, you take it. There's no joy.

Simple as that, there's no joy. If they had joy, they would not have done all these nonsensical things.

There's no joy. When you have joy, you don't want to fight, you don't want to do anything that is harmful.

You don't want to say anything after anyone, not only that but you do not want to have something that will spoil this Mother Earth or which will bring ecological problem. No, you just don't want it, don't want to do anything because it harms harms others. People feel unhappy about it whether it is here, India, anywhere. You just feel that `Why should I do such a thing which is not so congenial to others?' I mean, it's not joy-giving.

So when you have joy, you have to be joy-giving and if you are not joy-giving that means there's something lacking in your Sahaja Yoga and that's why we have to come up now. We have to become Sahaja Yoginis, Sahaja Yogis. That is joy-giving society. We can change our name, if you like. If Sahaja Yoga is not good, Joy Giving Association. Now also we should find out what kills the joy. That's important. What kills the joy? First I said you must have wisdom. Wisdom means that it gives you detachment, detachment from all that is selfishness, self-centeredness, self-obsession, ego, all connected with self. Can you imagine? Selfishness, the Self, means the Spirit. Selfishness is what? Is the one that completely darkens the Self because you think of yourself, your children, your family, that's all, at the most, even that sometimes, sometimes it's only yourself. And when you start thinking like that I mean you start becoming smaller and smaller and smaller and smaller, the lotus collapses. But to think about others is so great. In My case is different. If I think about Myself really, I tell you, I feel very happy, nice, joyous, I must tell you, I must confess. [Laughs.] But some people I think of, immediately My Chakra start catching and I feel, `Oh, God, why did I think of such a person?' I mean, that Chakra start moving fast for that person. But this body is so generous that you can't imagine even if I see somebody, suddenly the Chakras start working for that as if I'm responsible for everybody's Chakras which are gone off, which I am in a way, but to such an extent. But still I think about people who are in trouble, about every one of you. Why? Why do I think? Because I know that if I can improve your Chakras, you'll be happy. I don't have to logically go to that point, but just My body knows it. It works. It works and feels very happy. When I see somebody getting their Realisation it's such a great joy to Me. When I see somebody being relieved of the problem, such a joy to Me because joy-giving is the character, nature of Spirit.

If you do not allow your Spirit to fulfil its own nature and its own character, Spirit is not going to manifest itself.

So you are the vehicle. You are the lamp, you can say, as far as body, mind is concerned.

But this light of Spirit, if it has to manifest, then it has to be of a very unique type that it emits all its light outside. It gives light to others. And this light-giving quality, you have to improve. Gradually you'll be surprised, only if you try in your life, in your relationships, in your endeavours, to give light to others, to make their lives better, not to show off, not to be egotistical, but in a very loving, beautiful manner, you'll really understand that you are the Spirit because Spirit loves. It loves. And in love you are forgiving, very forgiving.

Sometimes, you know, leaders get angry with Me that I'm rather forgiving. What can I do? That's My nature. I can't help it. Because I love, you know. If you love a person, you do forgive. You don't feel bad. Not to forgive is difficult, but to forgive is the best. At least, when you forgive there's no headache for you.

So this Love, which is Joy actually, I think, when this love melts and flows like a river and gives nourishment to all the surrounding trees on the shores, that is the time, is the completion of the individuality or a personality of that love and that's the time, it feels fulfilled. It's not just that you have a light in the corner, but it has to flow. It has to move. It has to nourish. Love is not something dead, like a stone.

When it melts, it encompasses everything and everything becomes very beautiful with that.

So you have to first understand that life is for giving joy to others because you are now saints and your light has to give Joy. Little bit you have to bear as you have powers to bear. You have all the powers and so I wish you good luck for the next year and great prosperity.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-11-xx Meeting with the Russian Ambassador, New Delhi, India

[Russian Ambassador comes calling with a huge bouquet of red roses. Shri Mataji gets up from Her throne to receive the ambassador:] May I shake hands with you? [And that was the beginning of the breakup of the Soviet Union, formally enacted on 1991-12-26.]

Contents: 1991-11-27 Talk to Sahaja Yogis (Hindi), Dyan Ki Avashakta (On Meditation), Ashram, New Delhi, India

Today, I have met you all after a long time and we should all understand about Sahaja Yoga. Sahaja Yoga has evolved for the benefit of whole world. And you all are its medium. Your responsibilities are too many because you all are its medium. No one else is the medium for it. If we give the vibrations to any tree or to some temple or anywhere else. If we give these vibrations, it won't be activated, it won't work out.

Only by your working out and your determination, it is going to spread.

Then, we have to understand that there is one demerit in Sahaja Yoga. Although, it is Sahaj [spontaneous] and you get it very easily. Even if you achieve it in a Sahaj way, it is very difficult to sustain it, because we are not living in Himālayas. We are not living in any such place, where there is no other environment except spiritual environment. We are living in every kind of environment and because of that we have many kind of conditionings which are stuck to us.

So, in Sahaja Yoga we have to work out purity within us and to become pure. For example, if any of the channels is there and if it is not all right, as the channel of electricity then electricity cannot travel through it. If it is the water tap and some thing it struck up inside then the water cannot pass through it, same way is the Chaitanya [vibrations]. It flows in the nerves, which have to be clean and pure and it is your responsibility to keep them pure.

Although, you people have asked Me many times that, “Mother please give us Bhakti [devotion], Mother please give us Surrender towards you” but this all you have to understand with your wisdom. First thing is that when your nerves will get cleansed, you all will be filled with joy. You will feel that you are not doing anything. You will do any kind of work and will achieve fame in it. All your worldly works will be solved in a very Sahaj way. All kind of facilities will come to you. Every kind of people will come to you and help.

Sometimes you will be astonished as how all this is working out and you are going towards your ascent. In this the blessings of Lakṣhmī [the Goddess of fortune] is there. The progress of art is also in it. Every kind of growth comes to it. But, these all are a kind of delusions.

Sometimes I see that some person did business in Sahaja Yoga. He gets lot of money and then falls down in such a terrible way that it is very difficult to raise him up again.

So, we have to purify our nerves. In that, morning meditation is a must. If you are unable to meditate in the morning then you should understand that some or the other impurity has come within you.

Some problem is there in side.

Some or the other impure thoughts have come inside us which we have to see, know, understand and cleanse them. We have to turn towards ourselves and see which we call as introspection. This for your well being, not for others. First of all you must sustain your own well-being.

If you have different kind of impurities within you, because of that you have conditionings, you have habits, your have environment and many other systems through which these six enemies keep sitting inside the human beings. These six enemies, which are within us, keep themselves hidden and every time they try to lift their heads and come up.

So it is very important that we should not grieve or feel guilty and should not say bad about ourselves. You should not blame yourself in any way but try to throw them out of you.

Like a lotus, which comes up in any dirty, or rotten place. It comes up from all this filth and when it opens up spreads fragrance, it fills the atmosphere with its beautiful aroma. You are just like that lotus, if you were not then you would never had come in Sahaj Yoga neither you would have achieved it. You people are not insects. You are certainly lotuses. But, this lotus also has to work little hard to get protected, by looking at ourselves.

Morning meditation is meant to look towards ourselves that, `What am I doing? What are the impurities within me? Do I get angry? How should I get over my anger? Do I have the desires, which are harming me and will destroy me? Why do I go there?' Like this through introspection during your meditation you will come to know that which Chakra is catching within you and you have to clean it. You should clean the Chakra and then again sit in your meditation. It means that cleanliness and purification is to be done first. You have to cleanse your attention. In that little time you have to cleanse your mind. If you love yourself then we should know the meaning of this self and understand that what are we going to gain by this impurities and negativities. May be you gain some thing for a second and enjoyed. You should understand that even if you felt happy at that moment but you lost too much for that momentary happiness because you could not meditate means that your connection is not yet established.

Now, there are many people who say that they meditate, so they meditate but it is not meditation.

Therefore, it is very important to be truthful towards yourself. If we are not truthful towards ourselves then how can we be truthful towards others? This is for our own benefit. For our own good. I see in many people that they do not get any disease after coming to Sahaja Yoga. Maximum people are benefited heavily by Sahaja Yoga and many people I see that they are joyous and in bliss! All their family problems are solved. Everything gets all right. Then also it happens that because of some or the other old conditioning of the past or the past problem they can't meditate. Those people who don't meditate in the morning cannot progress, no matter how much they work for Sahaja Yoga, whatever they do but they can't reach to the depth of it. In your depth lies all the happiness, joy, bliss, contentment, wealth and fame... everything is there in your depth. All those things or obstacles which block or stop you from reaching your depth should be removed by loving yourself, by watching yourself and by understanding that I have this problem within.

Your eyes go very fast on the negativities of others, this is not your job, it is My job you should leave that on Me. You should watch and look on your own negativities and impurities! After this comes the evening meditation. It is for the surrender. Then comes the question that how you are surrendered, means what have you done for Sahaja Yoga. What have I done today for Sahaja Yoga. By body, mind and intellect. There is one blind singer who is very famous. He is very intelligent but I don't know whether he is literate or not. I don't know how he could read so much with his blind eyes. He met Me only three or four times. Such a beautiful poetry started flowing through him, he just went to his depth. How could such poetries flow from his heart? Such kind of things which are not even written in the thousand names of Devī were flowing. That too exact. How could he describe it? So, his depth was already there as you all have but he dived into it. He achieved it. He reached there. Every one has this wealth.

Now, each one of you can achieve that depth. Therefore, the evening meditation should be towards outside. It means, `What have I done for others? What have I done for Mother?' All these thoughts should come to you. When you will think like this then you must understand `How much they love me? How much love did they give me? Have I given the same love to them? How much they are sincere towards me? How much they are sincere to me? Have I been same sincere to them?' When you will think like this then the joy will start flowing within you by feeling that you loved so much. Instead of wasting your time by getting angry, reacting, arguing and watching the faults of others, you must see that how much they loved you.

In our Sahaja Yoga the love is very pure. There should be no impurity in this love, the love which is impure is not the love of Sahaj. It should be completely without expectations. `Whom have I given such love?' When you will think like this that I love so much then you will be filled with joy. You won't enjoy at all if keep on saying or thinking that I hate them or he is like this or that, he is bad etc. You enjoy only when you think that the revolution of love is around you. Very beautiful feeling comes within you at that time and this beautiful feeling is like a inspiration. It is very difficult to describe it but you can see its glimpse on your face. On your whole body you can see glimpse of it. In your married life you can see it. You can also see it in the atmosphere and society around you.

Therefore, it is important for every one to meditate both the times. One or two days you did not eat, no problem.

You did not relax properly, no problem. But, Sahaja Yogis must meditate. It is because only in meditation you will achieve it.

So, if we say that morning meditation is of inner knowledge then evening meditation is of devotion and surrender. Like this when you will keep on establishing yourself then you will understand your importance. How much you are important in the history. This all great work which is happening in Sahaja Yoga will be done through you all. Don't compare yourself with others. Those people who are very famous, rich and living in big houses are not going to work it out. Coward people are also not going to work it out. But, you have to become like that. People used to go to Himālayas and one out of thousands used to get his Self-realisation and others used to remain useless. They went through great penance. You all don't have to go to penance. Neither you have to go Himālayas. You have to do nothing.

Then which path is there in Sahaja Yoga for your cleansing, which you haven't understood yet? So, you should know it, it is collectivity. Collectivity is the only way to your cleansing. Those who can be collective, without expectation, without attachment will be cleansed spontaneously. They don't have to do some special penance for it. You should take collectivity not as a penance but as a source of joy. If we start thinking that how can we live with these people who are like this or like that. Because, the doors of Sahaj Yoga are open for every body, it will become difficult for you if you start thinking like this. In the case of penance, the one who can enjoy it... is the penance in Sahaj Yoga. Every thing is just happening.

What has to be done in it? Every thing is working out. What is to be worked out? Your position is like deities. You must understand that. As we order or don't to the deities, they keep on doing their work...

you all should also be in the same way. You can reach that state very easily. It is not at all difficult, it is not impossible. Only we have to give little time to ourselves. Whole time we spent on stupid things, but little time we should give to ourselves too. Every day we must meditate in the morning and evening. If you could not then you should not think that... `Oh! I did a very big mistake.' It is not like that if you could not meditate.

This all what I am saying to you is not like an order but it is the matter of your wisdom. It is because I come to know immediately that who is meditating every day and who all are not, immediately! Because if you wash a cloth every day, it will remain clean, how could it catch the dust? And those who don't meditate, I can see their dirt immediately. Many people get several impurities even by not meditating two or four days.

So, this is like taking bath. Even if you don't take bath it doesn't matter but you must meditate. For your own peace, for your own joy, for your own happiness, for your own benevolence and for the benevolence of whole world, you have to meditate. If we love ourselves then we should know our importance and that how much dignified we are and what kind of work do we get from others. I hope that after listening this lecture of mine, you all will think over it and take it within. It should not be that I have said so, `Shri Mataji has said it.' Then they imply My speech on others and think that it is said for them and never think that it is said for self.

So everyone must think that it is said for [UNCLEAR him/her] and not for anyone else and how I should ascend... how I have to grow and mature in Sahaja Yoga? May God bless you all!

Contents: 1991-12-06 Śhrī Rāja-rāj'eshwarī Pūjā, Chennai, Tamil Nadu, India

Today we'll be having Śhrī Gaṇeśha Pūjā, followed by Rāja-rāj'eshwarī.

So many names have been described of the Goddess: specially Ādi Shaṅkarāchārya called Her Rājarāj'eshwarī, meaning She's the Queen of all the Queens. Also for Mother Mary they have used this title in the West. These ideas have come from the pagan religion, as I have told you before and that they didn't come by the description of Mother Mary in the Bible. That shows that there has been lot of changes into the script of holy Bible. Also there has been lot of changes in the script of Indian scriptures, even Gītā.

And that's how the derailment in every religion started. And the intellectuals took advantage of it and started projecting their own idea, saying things, describing things which were absolutely against Divine Power. You are all very fortunate people on this Earth that you have discovered the reality and you see that all these things which were mythological are true; all the things that are intellectual is not true; also whatever are used for the purpose of dividing people from each other are not true.

Because we believe in all the religions, that's why every religious person, so-called, is against us; because you are supposed to believe only in one religion and fight all the rest.

If you believe in all religions, that means you are absolutely not religious, this is the concept. And that shocked them, that we believe in all the religions and we respect all the incarnations and that we believe in the integration of all these deities. Regarding Gaṇeśha, it must have been a big revelation for you people who are from the Western countries. Even in the north I don't find Gaṇeśha is so much worshipped as worshipped in the south, specially in this area and also in Maharashtra; because in Maharashtra we have eight swayambhū Gaṇeśhas and they all believe in it. It is now said that it is all blind faith and this and that. But now you have seen Gaṇeśha standing behind Me, within Me: it's just to prove that there is a deity called Gaṇeśha. You'll be given those photographs where Gaṇeśha is halfway sitting here and the rest is My sarī and all that. But all this is to convince you that there is a deity which is Śhrī Gaṇeśh and that He acts, works through Mūlādhāra. This knowledge was known to Indian people thousands of years back. This kuchipudi dancing started seven centuries before Christ, so you can imagine, the concept of Gaṇeśha must have been thousands of years back.

So the people were very much evolved spiritually in this country and they knew what are the deities are, how they look like, what are their functions are, though it was a secret knowledge for the general public. But whatever the saints said was accepted, because there was no ego about it. I have been trying to locate why in the West people develop so much of ego. Still I have not been able to find out the basic reason, why this kind of aggressiveness comes in through the ego part. One can say that competitiveness and all that, but this has been the history in the West that even the people who followed Christ, which was nothing but humility absolutely absolutely writ large everywhere, still those people were so aggressive.

Now the humility is the main thing one has to understand. And you'll be surprised, the humility is called as vinay, which is the quality of Śhrī Gaṇeśha, Vinayaka. “Vidyā vinayen shobhate." `Vidyā' means “The knowledge is only decorated with humility." So the humility you saw yesterday of these great artists and the great Gurus who were there. And the Guru invited Me to his academy and he made all kinds of offerings as they would do to a Goddess. I was so much touched, the ready acceptance of Me and of Sahaja Yoga. Even this Kalakshetra, which was dominated by Theosophical Society, though this lady didn't bother so much about Theosophical Society and she had created this big auditorium and all that and everything she dedicated to art. She didn't allow Theosophical Society enter into it. Despite all that, how they accepted Me, all of them, you can see so clearly their devotion and understanding. To be humble with a saint is absolutely an unwritten law of this country. And a saint is not to be challenged, not to be dominated. Whatever the saint says must be accepted.

So the first quality that Gaṇeśha should give us is vinay, `vinay' meaning the humility. The humility is not superficial, like you go on saying `sorry' or `excuse me', `I'm afraid', not that way. It's not watchik, it's not just lip service, but from within the humility has to come. Now the humility is, of course, is always marred by ego and the ego just keeps you aoat and you never understand that you have been egoistical. Even when I talk about ego, people think that Mother is saying about somebody else there, they never think `it's me who has this ego.' So Gaṇeśha is the killer of ego, because humility is the only thing that really can neutralise your ego. To humble down yourself, you have to see what? For example in this country you have come, very simple people, you see, living very simply, they don't have all these sophisticated things around them; eating with their hands, eating on the plant and leaves, you see. And according to certain ladies who have lived here, the Westerners, they think they are all primitive. But see the way they have developed this art. This kind of swiftness and this kind of, even jumping this kind, you cannot achieve. Now, what is the reason for this kind of working, is humility towards art. Art is to be respected. A Guru is to be respected. Respect is the only way to learning anything. That is sort of ingrained in an Indian blood, I think, that you must obey your Guru implicitly, implicitly. And this Guru is training so many people, there are so many girls there, not for anything but just to express his art. He doesn't get much money, I could see that. They have very little provision and also he doesn't charge too much. But the dedication he has is like the dedication of Śhrī Gaṇeśha to His Mother. And the way he is completely drawn into it: all other things are not important.

So for humility you have to withdraw your attention from other things. This is an extremely important thing. If your attention is going to your other problems, this, that, or if you are trying to come to Sahaja Yoga through other channels, it's not going to work out. You have to humble down in your heart, absolutely humble down. He's innocent, that's why He's humble. If you are not innocent, then you cannot be humble.

Sign of innocence is humility. A good child, a nice innocent child is extremely obedient. Whatever you tell them, they just obey. I know My grandchildren, once we were going to Nepal and it was very cold there.

And their mother said, “They won't take anything on their heads." I said, “I'll do it in one, one minute." I just called them, gave them pieces of ordinary cloth. I said, “You have to cover your head." “All right." They put it on their head, put it properly, fixed it up. They were looking a little weird, but they didn't mind. This is what is missing and that's why we find the depth is less. Not just only the conditionings, I would not say the conditioning. People are out of conditioning; even Indians have become like that. It's difficult for them to be humble, very difficult. You may call Western influence, or maybe that they have forgotten their past. But humility is so important. Like I must tell you, from our childhood, though I was born in a Christian family, we had to touch the Mother Earth and ask for forgiveness first, so you put it to your head. And touch the feet of your parents and all the elders of the family, isn't it so? Touch everybody's feet who are elder in the family. Even some old servants, you see, who had looked after our elder brothers and all that, touch their feet also. But that humility is lacking. And that dignity that elders should have is also not there. But whatever it is, it was our duty to touch everybody's feet and not to discuss the elders.

So this will create such a beautiful atmosphere in Sahaja Yoga if you insist that `Am I humble in doing this?' Just ask a question, `Have I been humble in doing this, or in saying this?' Now the problems are criticising the leaders. They are leaders because they deserve it. The day I find they are no good, I'll throw them out, also you know that very well. But there is no humility. Then the humility is replaced by ego and that ego creates an ego in the leaders. The leaders become egoistical and so many leaders are thrown out. I mean I just don't know, when the balance has to come, whether I should blame the members or the leaders.

So Mother has appointed them as leaders, so let us be humble. After all, there must be some reason why Mother has asked them to be the leaders. Why should we try to quarrel with them, find faults? Like a union we form.

So Śhrī Gaṇeśha, who is so humble and His ganas are even more humble in a way, because He won't tolerate any gana who is not humble to Mother. With a little movement of the eyes they are there to fight and to do whatever it is they are suggested. And they understand every angle of the eye of their Mother, what is to be done.

So this kind of dedication only can make you deeper and deeper. Now may be that the way we know about that in the West, we have to spread out more, we have to advertise more, we have to talk about ourselves more, we have to boast about ourselves more. The more you do it, the more successful you'll be. That's what you see it every day. They boast “I believe", you see, who are you to believe or not to believe? Who are you to say this? But sort of, see your image has to go like that, a man of great personality, or some sort of a big proffle. You create a proffle; absolutely artificial, nonsensical. And very surprising, to such a proffle which is so artificial, people bow. Maybe they are also artificial, that's why they bow to these artificial people. I'm surprised. I mean, these are well-known crooks, so people know they are crooks, they have done all kinds, but still they will prostrate before them. Because maybe that they want some sort of a material advantage out of it, or I don't know, some sort of an artificial advantage.

Even a taking a photograph with such a man is regarded as something very great.

So all these ideas must be seen through by Sahaja Yogis. They have to see through this joke, this drama, what's going on and also reflect it back and introspect and see, `I hope I don't have this in me.' Sometimes we laugh at others but we ourselves are in it.

So once we start introspecting, we see within ourselves, `Yes, this is there.' There are certain Sahaja Yogis in certain countries, I'm always being reported as, suddenly they say, “Mother has given me special powers." Or they say, “I am Mahā Mātājī", also there was one like that, Mahā Mātājī. I've never said I am Mātājī even. You people call Me that, I've never said that. But he said, “I am Mahā Mātājī." You can call him mad, you can call him anything, but it is definitely his arrogance has prospered in such a way that he doesn't see what he's talking about. This is how also you pamper the ego of your leaders, by attacking him. The more you attack him, he reacts and when he reacts, his ego goes on pumping like that. As I told you, today we are going to do the worship of Rāja-rāj'eshwarī. I have never said this to you before. I've never asked you to read Guru Gītā, for the same reason. I've never told you that She is Rāja-rāj'eshwarī, because again that might little bit go into your ego, `How can She be the Queen of all the Queens?' Of course, Christ's Mother is all right, but not Mātājī, it's too much! So I never told you this. I said, “Baba, I'm a humble Mother, that's all, Holy Mother", finished.

Creates holes here, that's why it may, may be! Whatever it is, I could understand what was the problem and in a very humorous way we have managed many things. But still I feel that, see the way these artists are, the way these people are, the way they are creating things, may not be according to your ideas about decorativeness, or all that. You might say it's rather loud, or maybe this, that, as it is, you see, always in the brain. `It could have been much less, there should be some spaced-out thing,' and all that. You might start criticising, because that's one of the qualities of people who are not humble, that they think they have a capacity to criticise anything. `Oh, I don't like this colour, it's no good.' But the artist has made it with his heart, appreciate it! So the second point is to appreciate. Appreciate your life; whatever it is, appreciate, accept it. But not with reluctance. All these mental ideas in the head that art means this and art means that, has led us to this situation that we are not going to have any more Rembrandts nor Michelangelo, finished. It's not mental, art is never mental. It's coming from inside and whatever is coming from inside cannot be compared with outside our ideas.

So the appreciation part, I mean, you can say South Indians wear very, very loud dresses in our own style. But to Me they do not.

Some might say something else. Also I've noticed the North Indians must criticise the South Indians, the South Indians must criticise the North Indians. But whatever it is, what is, nobody's getting good out of anyone. It's stupidity, it is stupidity. But to appreciate and to accept, you imbibe that. North Indians cannot like South Indian food, whatever it is. Whatever you may try, they cannot. They cannot like their music also. Now, can you imagine the whole of India divided into two parts and the South Indians cannot like North Indian food nor the North Indian dancing, I mean, even in our country. We're so divisible, is this country is, that a person from Rameshwaram won't like food from Madras [Chennai], a person from Madras [Chennai] won't like the food from Delhi.

So these divisive methods have come through the innate humility not being you. If you can enjoy each and everything, then you are humble. If you can appreciate each and every expression, then you are humble. This humility is a very deep-down character, because from Mūlādhāra it comes. And that is what is Śhrī Gaṇeśha. Just imagine, He has a little rat on which He moves about, He doesn't have Impala cars or Rolls-Royces. He just moves, with all His big stomach He moves on a little rat. No assertion of His powers, He's so humble, He's so sweet. And He's the creator of all the rhythms and things and vibrations.

Without Him, I don't know what would be this world. And that's what we have to really appreciate everywhere, instead of denouncing this, that. I mean, like even the colour of this room you may not like, this you may not like. I mean, there are so many things you don't like. Then I have to ask, “What do you like?" “Baked beans", all right! We have to open out ourselves. With humility you open out, you penetrate, you spread. Without humility you cannot, because you are objecting to everything, creating a wall. Only the humility will make you spread out. Today, the first day of our tour, I would request you that you have to be very, very humble. Understand that humility is extremely simple and is beautiful.

You saw that little girl playing vīnā, such a difficult Ādi Vadyam, primordial instrument, playing with such sweetness, with such deftness and so humble. And she came to Me and she said, “Mother, what a privilege it was that I got the opportunity to play before You." Just imagine, such a genius. Another one who met Me last time was a mandolin player about the same age, maybe younger. I mean, he is now world-renowned, but when he played before Me, wouldn't accept any money, nothing, he just went into ecstasy. Even the dancer, she told Me she went into ecstasy when she saw Me and she just danced so well with such vigor. And she, she had temperature. She said, “My temperature is gone, everything, I am perfectly all right." Look at those artists. I mean, they have never known Me, they don't know anything about Sahaja Yoga. But what a humble understanding of Divinity, because they are humble. Divinity never asserts itself, doesn't propagate itself, doesn't make a big sound.

So now they are here. Come along. Is that Guido? Italians have come. That's why I delayed the Pūjā today. Is that Guido? Just call him. Guido is too humble to come forward. Come in, come in. Just move forward a little bit. May God bless you. I've been waiting for you! Please, please be seated. No, no, come! Come along. Can you, you can all sit in front, there is space. Just come... you can all sit there.

I have to keep them pleased, you see, because I am living in Italy! Just come on... It's all right, so they might get a part of it. Just come in front, there. Or you can sit in the middle, doesn't matter. You can sit there wherever you are, yes, you can. Come forward, come forward, there's space here.

So I was telling them about Śhrī Gaṇeśha, that His essential power comes through His humility; and that we all have to be extremely humble, extremely humble, appreciating everything. Of course, you must make them hear My lecture, they have already taped it, so they will know what I am saying today. But now we can have the Pūjā.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-12-06*, Public Program, Day 1, Chennai, Tamil Nadu, India

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

If we are the real seekers of truth, we have to be honest about it and sincere, so that we are sincere to ourselves and we have justified our own existence in this world. There are so many sādhakas, morning till evening they are working out some sort of a ritual, some sort of a meditation, some sort of a Bhakti , some sort of reading. But one has to understand, what have we achieved? Where are we? As a Mother I would say, `My child, you have done so much in your seeking, but what have you found? Have you got the ultimate reality? Have you got what is described in the scriptures?' For this song which is sung today is in Marathi, I wish they had sung something in Sanskrit, they are very good at Sanskrit, singing also of Ādi Shañkarāchārya and all that. Tomorrow they'll do it. This song itself was written by Namadeva in the twelfth century; a poet who went later on to Punjab, where Nanak Sahib respected him very much and asked him that he should write in Punjabi language. He studied Punjabi language and has written such a thick book and in the `Granth Sahib' there are many verses from there.

He was an ordinary tailor, very ordinary tailor and he went to meet another saint in another village, called as Gora Kumbhar. `Kumbhar' means a person who is a potter, who makes pots; and Gora Kumbhar was busy making the clay ready for his work. Namadeva just stood before him and he said, “I came here to see the Nirgun, to the formless, to see the Chaitanya, but here it is in Saguṇa, it is in a form." Only a realised Soul, only a saint can say this about the saint, because he knows ultimate reality. But people who are not realised cannot understand what is beyond this life.

Even in Christian religion we have Thomas, who came down to India and he wrote a lot of treatise, were kept in a cave in Egypt, which were found out. Now there's a book about him, after forty-eight years of research. It's amazing how he is describing Sahaja Yoga throughout, that you have to have the experience of reality.

Of course, every book, every scripture says “Know thyself", who am I, I must find out what am I.

When it is said so, our effort should be to find out that Self that is within us. We say, “My body, my voice, my nose, my country, my, my", who is this `I' to whom all these things belong? From where does this inspiration comes in? This `I' is within us, reflected in our heart. For you I have to make request that you shouldn't accept Me blindly. Blindness is not of any help. But I am offering you a hypothesis as in the science, about how this happens and all that. If it is proved and if you find that you have felt as experienced what I am saying, then as honest people you have to accept it.

In the West we have other problems than we have here, tremendous problems. First I went to England and you know English how they are, hard nuts, difficult to break those nuts. But once they break they are full of scholarship and they are the ones who rushed to the universities and to different libraries and found out everything about Kuṇḍalinī.

So much is written already by Nath Panthis who were here, who did so much work on the Kuṇḍalinī awakening, but it was lost. And when some Germans came here and other people came here, they were told by Tāntrikas some sort of a wrong thing which they carried from here. And such a misunderstanding and such a wrong information to such an extent, that the German book I read where Kuṇḍalinī lies in your stomach and he has given all explanation. He was a very learned man no doubt, but I don't know what he learned is the point and that's how he described about Kuṇḍalinī.

This knowledge was known to us since long. We had three types of movements towards Divine. One was the Vedas. Even the `vida' means `to know', what [Saint] Thomas has called the people who know as `gnostics', as `gn'. I don't know in the south what do you say to `gnana' or `Gñyāna', but in Marathi we say `gn'. `Gnostic' word comes from the same thing as person who is knowledgeable; not outward knowledge, not by your mental efforts or by emotional feelings, but something much beyond. And the same path they tried, but in the Vedas they have said, in the first, first Shloka is said if you do not know it, no use reading this book. But `knowledge' means what?, to know it on your central nervous system; not on your mental or physical plane, but on a much higher level.

As we have become human beings, we have to humbly say that we are not perfect beings. There's something missing us; otherwise why are we fighting, why are we quarreling? I mean, all these problems are mostly human problems: ecological problem, economic problem, political problem. You come to the source, it's the human being who is doing all these things.

So what's wrong with human beings? Animals are all right, they are pashu; they are under the pasha, under the control of God. But human beings have got the freedom, they are going helter skelter and all these problems are there because they haven't got the real knowledge.

So what is the real knowledge that we should seek and we should go towards it? So these people in the Vedas tried to understand, but they more tried to understand the nature and the five elements. While worshipping five elements, according to us they moved to the right side and the right side movement is very well shown in the Greek mythology; and after that from Greece it turned out to be some science and all those things started.

The left side was the Bhakti . People started worshipping God with blind faith and going to God, worshipping in the temples and churches, believing in saints. India specially is specially blessed because whatever we have is from the saints, though it's very deviated and also quite stagnated. But the knowledge came from the saints, from the maharishis and from great seers.

Another good point about Indians is that their religion is not organized, there's no organization that runs it. It's a very big blessing. Despite that, all these ideologies in the Vedas also got into some sort of a mental māyā and that's how we have Arya Samaj and all these things which are very difficult. I mean, if you meet any Arya Samaji you don't know how to deal with that person; just goes on talking, talking, God knows, such knowledge of his. But he has not reached the point and he's satisfied with what he has read, reading too much all the time.

That's what Kabīra has said, “Padi padi pandita murkh bhayo", “By reading too much, even panditas have become stupid." I used to wonder, how can it be? But now I meet many of them of that kind.

So what is the thing is by reading you cannot know the ultimate. Supposing there's a doctor and he gives you a medicine for your headache and says take Anacin.

So you are reading the prescription, “Anacin, take Anacin, take Anacin", the headache will increase or decrease? You have to take the medicine. And this is what is written in the Vedas, is that you must find out your Self. Same, part of the Vedas are Upanishadas; throughout in the Upanishadas nothing but “you find out your Self." Even `Patanjal Shāstra' if you see it, just in the beginning a wee bit of it is vyayama, I mean, ashtanga are there. A very wee bit of it is so-called physical problem that they have dealt. In Sahaja Yoga also we use it, but according to understanding where is the problem is; not just like everybody is going into exercises and things, getting heart attacks, all kinds of problems, heat, high blood pressure.

Sometimes it's low blood pressure, sometimes high blood pressure and they come and tell Me, “Mother, we are doing Yoga and see..." We are not only physical being, we are not only mental being, neither emotional being, but we are spiritual being.

And the second type of movement we had in this country is the Bhakti . Bhakti is all right, going to temple, but that also started deteriorating, not to understand what is Bhakti is. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has said in His `Gītā', you must know that Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa was a diplomat, He was not a mother and He knew human beings how they are. He wanted them to go round and round to find out the truth, because nobody likes a straightforward statement. At that time specially He just told it to Arjuna. He said three things for them, in which see His diplomacy, if you can see through the lines, is first one He said that you must get to Gñyāna. He was not a good salesman because salesman will never tell you the best thing first, but He said you should take to Gñyāna. That is what it is. `Gñyāna' means this knowledge on your central nervous system.

But the second thing He said, that you should do Bhakti , “Whatever fruit or flower or water you give Me, I'll take it, but you must do Bhakti which is ananya." Now if you know Sanskrit, `ananya', when you are not the other, when you are a realised Soul. If you are not connected, what is the Bhakti on you? Many people complain, “Mother, I have been fasting, I have been doing this, I did this and see my condition. I have become a nervous wreck." It's not the mistake of God; you are not yet connected.

It's a simple thing like a telephone. If the telephone is not connected, what's the use of telephoning? You'll spoil the telephone.

So Bhakti without the connection is wrong, that's why Kṛiṣhṇa has said it, “Yoga kshemam vahāmyaham", “First Yoga, then kshema." First you must achieve your Yoga and then your benevolence will come; otherwise it won't work out. Very subtly He has put Yoga first. Why didn't He say “kshema-Yoga"? So for Bhakti He said like this. For Karma, He said that “Do all the work and put it at the lotus feet of God Almighty." That's not possible. Many people say that “Mother, all my work I put at the lotus feet of God", even the murders, I think! It's just a mental idea that `I am putting it at the lotus feet of God.' You cannot, because you are not at that state. But say, a Sahaja Yogi, he will not tell Me that `I am raising the Kuṇḍalinī,' he'll say, “Mother, it doesn't come up, it's not coming, it...", in the third person he talks. He will say, “This won't go that side", in the third person, because he is no more there.

So this is what is the Karma, automatically is at the lotus feet of God Almighty. Well, He is doing everything. We are just instruments. Supposing this instrument says that `I am speaking,' you won't accept. In the same way, when we say that “I have put my..." as if they take a load and put it at the lotus feet of God, no. It's automatic, it's spontaneous. That is Sahaja, that is born with you.

All of you have got this power within yourself. Now there are books which describe Kuṇḍalinī is a very dangerous thing. It's absolute nonsense, I tell you. I have been to so many nations, so many people have got realisation and there is no trace of any trouble to them. On the contrary, they have improved in every way. Overnight people have given up their drugs, their bad habits, overnight people have been cured.

It's, I don't do anything as such. I mean, you may think I am doing something, I don't do, your own Kuṇḍalinī works it out. It's very surprising how it works and how it helps you; because she is your mother, your individual mother and she knows everything about you. It's all taped into her, you can say.

Into three and a half coils she is placed, it is because of some mathematical formula and when she rises, she might leave a little heat because of the little, we can say the struggle that she has to do. The heat is little bit sometimes generated in some people. Supposing you are a liver patient, then you might feel a little heat in your hands, that's all. But this Kuṇḍalinī you all have got it and it is the pure desire within you.

You know in economics it's a law that in general, wants are not satiable. We want today a house, tomorrow a car and then day after tomorrow a helicopter and like that it goes on and on. When we don't have it we struggle for it and when we have it we don't enjoy it. But this is a pure desire, that is to be one with this All-pervading Power of God's love. We don't even think that there is such a power, we take it for granted. We see everything created, we see beautiful flowers, we see a big tree coming out of a small little seed. Look at our eyes, they are such beautiful cameras, who has made them? Who has evolved us to this state? What is that power that has made us human beings? We never want to find out, because science cannot give explanation how: how a seed sprouts, how we became human beings. And so it's all right up to that point, beyond that we don't want to know.

So God Almighty has spread this beautiful Chaitanya, this BrahmaChaitanya all over. If I am saying so, you must experience and then tell Me if it is there or not. But just to say `no' means you are denying yourself the chance of getting connected to that vital power. This vital power has evolved us, no doubt: organizes everything, creates everything, vibrates everything. It coordinates, limits, also above all it loves you.

So it thinks how far to go with you. Such a beautiful power is all-pervading, into every atom and into every living primule, into every living being. It acts so beautifully that we don't even feel the smoothness of it. We don't even see a flower flowering, blossoming, opening, we don't see that. It just blossoms and we say, “Oh, today there is a flower." It just so sweetly, so beautifully, that we do not even feel the existence of it in any way, but it exists.

And unless and until we are connected with that power we cannot know the ultimate reality, because the spirit within us is not in our attention. It's a witness of our attention. But once this Kuṇḍalinī rises, she passes through the six centers, pierces through this fontanelle bone area, which is the actualisation of the baptism and then this spirit comes into our attention as a light. And our nerves get a new dimension, new dimension by which we become, we become, again I say we become, it's not just lecturing, it's not just bragging, it's not some sort of a certificate, you actually become collectively conscious: samuhik chetanā.

You can feel others. You can feel on your fingertips, on, there are five, six and seven centers on the left and seven centers on the right. These seven centers represent your emotional side and this, physical and mental side. You can feel the centers of all the people. Medically when we treat people, we treat a tree from outside, we treat the leaves, we can say. But if you have really to treat the tree you have to go to the roots and I am talking about the roots within us, the Tree of Life which is within us.

You will be amazed that even Mohammed Sahib has described Kiyama, `Kiyama' means the Resurrection Time. “When the Resurrection Time will come, your hands will speak and will give witness against you." They all have talked about this time, the Last Judgment and this Kali Yuga is going to bring forth Satya Yuga. But how many are willing to take to it is the point. Thousands and thousands will go off to some sort of a madding, maddening place, but not after reality. You require a kind of a Divine intelligence, I think, to understand that.

You'll be amazed, I found Russia the most receptive country for this, because they are not so materialistic.

They haven't got this kind of freedom or anything, but they have freedom to go inside. Very introspective people, even their writers, I always read them, Tolstoy and all these. They all are very introspective and they are, you will be amazed that we had to always arrange a big stadium and still there were so many people sitting outside. At least in one place called as Togliatti there are 22,000 Sahaja Yogis. And when I was there this coup had taken place, so I said, “Aren't you disturbed?" So he said, “Mother, what is to be disturbed? We are in the kingdom of God, we don't belong to this kingdom." Such nice things are happening all over the world. We Indians have some other problems, we are very conditioned. We have such ideals before us, but we never aspire. We will worship Rāma, we'll worship a Guru, but what have you got within yourself? You're clinging onto something; what about you having something? That is what is Sahaja

Yoga. Unless and until you know yourself, you will not know Śhrī Rām, you'll not know anyone.

The other day I saw one book on Sahaja Yoga some crazy man has written. He's denying the existence of Kṛiṣhṇa, he's denying the existence of Rāma, denying the existence of Jesus, everybody. I said, such a crazy man, it's very unscientific; without finding out, how can you say it? You just say like that without finding it out. Supposing I never come to Madras [Chennai] and start describing Madras [Chennai], what you will call Me? In the same way many people have written about God, because there is no law prohibiting them to write, any nonsense can be written. But unless and until we get the truth, we will not know who is a fake Guru and who is not. Like you may ask Me, `Mother, is he a fake Guru, is he a fake Guru?' I would say, why do you believe in Me? Supposing I say he is not, so you will start quarreling with Me. If I say he is, then you will believe Me. That's the kind of a thing is not necessary. You'll know yourself and through that you will know the absolute truth, because your spirit is absolute. It gives absolute truth.

Tomorrow I'll tell you more about spirit, I think for today this is sufficient. We should have... I think if you like, we can have the session for Self-realisation. It takes no time. First you should be ready and just ask for it and you'll all get it. Of course you must be having questions in your heads. Last time when I came to Madras [Chennai] the whole time was spent in answering questions, questions, questions, questions. But now I would request you that if you have any questions, keep them aside and you can write them. Tomorrow I'll answer all your questions, but just now please if possible try to get your realisation.

Thank you very much.

I would say if you want to go out for five minutes you can all go and come back, it's all right, but don't talk, that's all.

I didn't tell you about the third kind of movement we had in our country, is of Nath Panthis. Jains have Ādi Nath and a deviation started from that. One Guru was supposed to give knowledge to only one person, like Janaka had only Nachiketa, till the time of Gñyāneśhwara, that's in the twelfth century.

Gñyāneśhwara was the disciple of his own brother, Nivrittinath and they suffered a lot. And he asked Nivrittinath for one permission, that “Let Me open the truth to the public. Just I'll tell about it, I'll not do anything, I'll just tell about it." Because thirteen, fourteen thousand years back Mārkandeya has described about Kuṇḍalinī. Then came Ādi Shañkarāchārya has described about Kuṇḍalinī, but all in Sanskrit language. And Sanskrit Self-knowledge was not available to the common public and those who knew Sanskrit language didn't want to get into Self-knowledge. Thus this knowledge was kept a secret all the time.

But he asked and then he wrote `Gyāneshwari'. `Gyāneshwari' is nothing but a kind of a Marathi `Gītā' which he enlarged and decorated with lots of poetry. Sixth chapter in `Gyāneshwari' he described about Kuṇḍalinī very clearly. And that sixth chapter has been also mutilated, but was called as nishiddha, is not to be read by the people in charge of religion, in charge of our ascent, so-called. And they said, “You are not to read this, otherwise you will be in trouble." Thus this chapter was closed and nobody tried to know about it, but the Nath Panthis then grew up. Out of that we have Kabīra, we have Nanaka.

He talked of khalis, Nanaka talked of khalis. Khalis means pure, nirmal. Sahaja Yogis are nirmal. If somebody misuses anything, it is shown clearly; and a saint cannot be like this. Khalis people cannot be like this, cannot have violence.

It's love. It's love which is absolutely nirvaj, without any compensation. It's love that's unlimited. It's love which does not, has any discrimination. Like the energy in the plant rises or we can say the sap rises, goes to various areas: to the leaves, to the branches, to the flowers, to the fruits and comes back. It does not stick to one. If you stick to one, that is the death of that area as well as the death of that tree.

So we have to understand that all these great incarnations, seers and prophets, all of them came on this earth on the same Tree of Life. You have to believe in all of them. If you start believing in them, all of them, then where will be the quarrel? But those who believe only in one must quarrel and that's why they don't like us, because we believe in all, not just a belief, but it's the truth.

Now here I have to tell you that it's a living process of evolution, the last breakthrough. You didn't do anything to become human beings; in the same way it is effortless, it is Sahaj. Only thing I will tell you how to nourish your centers, so that it is easier for Kuṇḍalinī to rise. It's very simple, all of you should do it. Here now, you don't have to look at others, but look at yourself.

You have to take out your shoes, would be a good idea because, to feel the Mother Earth, because she is the one who sucks in our problems all the time, specially this Yoga Bhūmi of ours. We do not know how great we are to be born in this country. They have made a mess out of it, doesn't matter. If Rām Rāja has to come it will come here, not a political style but a spiritual style.

[Microphone problem:] I think that's going down all the time. You could push it in a little, it is going down. It's all right now, I think, it's going to stay. Now it's better. Thank you.

As I told you, you don't have to do anything. You don't have to stop your thoughts, you don't have to put any effort, not to say any mantras, nothing. Kuṇḍalinī will do the job; she knows you very well and she'll manage it. Just have faith in yourself, all confidence that you will get this realisation. To feel guilty is something not natural, is something I think has come through people telling us that “You are sinners, you are this, you are that." In My eyes nobody is a sinner. You are lost, you are ignorant, but nobody is a sinner.

So we have to understand that we have to have respect for ourselves, because we are glorious, we are fantastic. Because we are not connected we look like that, we despise ourselves, others may despise you.

But you are a human being, you are the epitome of evolution. And now a little breakthrough is needed, just like a connection and I am sure you will know your Self.

After getting your awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī and piercing through your fontanelle bone area, you'll start feeling Cool Breeze in your hands. This is Chaitanya. In the Bible is described as the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost, in the Koran is called as the Rūh. After that you will also start feeling the Cool Breeze coming out of your head. Once the Cool Breeze starts coming out of your head, then you'll feel very relaxed, peaceful and joyous.

So many people start just laughing after that. You should laugh, this world is made for your enjoyment. And now you have to enter into the kingdom of God, which is not only joy, not only peace, but it's blissful state.

I think if you are wearing anything tight or near the neck, you'd better release a little bit if it is making you uncomfortable. Also if you can take out the spectacles would be..., later on when I tell you, not now; because you are closing your eyes and then you don't open your eyes.

So first we'll show you how you are going to help yourself, to begin with. By this you will know your centers also. On the left hand side we'll be working.

First of all, you'll have to put the left hand towards Me like this, on your lap, comfortably. Imagine, you don't have to go to Himālayas, do anything of the kind, just comfortably on your chair you should get your realisation, that's your right. Put your left hand just like that. Now with the right hand we have to nourish our centers on the left hand side. First we put our hand on our heart, because here is the spirit reflected. It's the reflection of God Almighty, is the spirit. Then we go down onto the upper portion of our abdomen on the left hand side. This is the center of our mastery. If you are the spirit you become your own master, you don't need any master; your spirit guides you.

Then you go down into the lower portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. This is how you know the knowledge on your central nervous system. This center is the one which gives you Pure Knowledge, Shuddha Vidyā, which works on your central nervous system. Then you raise your hand again on top, on the left hand side of your abdomen and push it, which is the center for Guru Principle. Supposing you have been to some wrong Guru or anything, it can correct it. Then you have to put your right hand on your heart.

Again now you put your hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and you have to turn your head to your right. This is the center which catches when you feel guilty and when you feel guilty this center is catching. It gives you many diseases, one of them is angina and also spondylitis; and so many things happen to the organs because they become lethargic.

So best thing is to put your hand here properly and push your head to your right like this.

Then please take your right hand on top of your forehead and bend your head as far as possible. This is the center where you have to forgive, forgive everyone without thinking whom you have to forgive.

Whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything, it's our idea. But if you don't forgive then you play into wrong hands.

So please put your hand like this, this is the center for forgiveness; without thinking about people whom you have to forgive, or those who have harmed you. This is a very important Āgñyā Chakra because this is very constricted one and if you don't forgive it won't rise, Kuṇḍalinī cannot get through. Just forgive.

Now push back the right hand on the back side of your head. This we'll be doing later, I'm just showing you the Chakras. Now this back side here, because you feel guilty all the time, you think you have done wrong or anything, so best thing is just to ask forgiveness from the Divine Power, this center is here.

Now stretch your hand fully and put the center of your palm on top of the fontanelle bone area which was a soft bone in your childhood, the Tālu, here, just there. Push back your fingers nicely, push back so there's a good pressure on your scalp, good pressure on your scalp. Now please bend your head as far as possible. And now you have to move your scalp slowly, seven times clockwise, clockwise. With a pressure: move your hands backwards, otherwise, I mean your fingers, otherwise it won't have a pressure. Now, done! Now, so first of all we must have self-confidence in ourselves, must have respect and love for ourselves.

So now, we put our left hand like this, put both the feet apart from each other and now close our eyes.

Put the right hand on your heart, please, put the right hand on your heart. Here is the center of the spirit, here resides the spirit. You can ask Me a question three times as you would ask a computer, in your heart.

You can call Me `Shri Mataji' or `Mother', whichever way you like. `Mother, am I the spirit?' Ask three times, `Mother, am I the spirit? Shri Mataji, am I the spirit?' If you are the spirit, you become your master.

So now please take your hand on the left hand side in the upper portion of your abdomen and press it hard. Now ask here a question again, `Mother, am I my own master?' Ask three times, please, in your heart, with full confidence, `Mother, am I my own master?' You are, but you just ask Me the question.

I respect your freedom and I cannot force on you Pure Knowledge, you have to ask for it.

So now you have to put your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen, press it hard, on the left hand side.

Now here you have to say, `Mother, please give me Pure Knowledge, Shuddha Vidyā. Shri Mataji, give me Shuddha Vidyā.' Please say it six times, because this center has got six petals, Swādhiṣhṭhān center.

`Please give me Shuddha Vidyā, Pure Knowledge.' As soon as you ask for Pure Knowledge, the Kuṇḍalinī starts rising. But you have to facilitate its movement by opening your higher Chakras with your self-confidence.

So please now raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen and press it hard, on the left hand side. Keep your feet apart. Here, you have to say ten times with full confidence in yourself, `Mother, I am my own master.' Say that, please, `Mother, I am my own master. Mother, I am my own Guru,' because all the great Gurus, satGurus, have created this center for your ascent. And Mother always wants Her children not only what She has, but to have much more than Her.

Now, at the very outset I have to tell you that you are not this body, not this mind, not these emotions, nor these conditionings and ego, but you are pure spirit.

So now raise your right hand onto your heart and say with full confidence twelve times, `Mother, I am the pure spirit. Mother, I am the pure Spirit', twelve times, `Shri Mataji, I am the Shuddha Ātmā.' With full confidence you have to say.

I have to tell you that this Divine All-pervading Power is the ocean of knowledge, is the ocean of compassion and bliss. You have to say with full confidence, `Mother, I am not guilty at all', sixteen times, please say it. You have to say, `Shri Mataji, I am nirdosha, I am nirdosha.' Please say it sixteen times.

Say it for My satisfaction.

Now raise your right hand on top of your forehead. As it is, I have already told you whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything.

So now bend your head as far as possible and here, with all humility, forgive everyone. Just forgive; don't think of people who have troubled you and tortured you, but just forgive them. That's the best way you can get rid of the burden, because you are playing into wrong hands if you don't forgive. Now say it from your heart, not how many times but from your heart, please say. Many people say that it's very difficult to forgive. What is there that's difficult?, it's just to say it.

Now take back your right hand to the back side of your head and push back your head as far as possible, push back, as far as possible. Here again you have to say from your heart, `Oh Divine Power, if I have done anything wrong, please forgive me. If I have done anything wrong unknowingly, please forgive me.' That also say it from your heart.

Now stretch your hand fully and put the center of your palm on top of the fontanelle bone area which was a soft bone in your childhood. It is called as Tālu, tālavyam in Sanskrit. Now, put down your head as far as possible, put down. And now please try to move your scalp with a pressure by pushing your fingers outward. Please push your fingers outward, put a nice pressure and move it seven times clockwise. Here again, I cannot force Self-realisation on you, you have to ask for it.

So while moving your hand, say it seven times, `Mother, please give me my Self-realisation. Mother, please give me my Self-realisation.' I cannot force it on anyone.

[Shri Mataji blows into microphone seven times.] Please take down your hands. Open your eyes very slowly. Now, put your right hand towards Me like this and bend your head and see for yourself if there's a Cool Breeze coming out of your head. See at the fontanelle bone.

Some people get it very close but not on top, little away, or some people get it like a jet, quite far away. It may be hot also possibly, it could be hot also. If you have not forgiven, it will be definitely hot.

Now, please put your left hand towards Me. Now, again bend your head and see for yourself if there is a Cool Breeze or a hot breeze coming out of your own head. You have to certify yourself, is Sahaja Yoga is becoming something; as I told you there's no certificate. Maybe some people are having hot breeze, doesn't matter. Now, again please put your right hand towards Me and bend your head and see for yourself again.

Now, just not to put it on top of your head, little away, then you will feel it, little away. Now please put your hands like this towards Me, watch Me and don't think. You can do it.

All those who have felt Cool Breeze on their fingertips, or hot breeze even and those who have felt either on the hands or out of the fontanelle bone area, or in both the areas, please raise both your hands.

Please raise both your hands.

Oh, my! May God bless you.

Most of you have got it. Most of you have got it. Now don't discuss about it, because if you come to the mental level you'll lose it. Just enjoy it. I would like you tonight to sleep in peace. Tomorrow again you telephone to your friends and people; because you can't pay for it and there is nothing to be done, it's your own, like the Mother Earth doesn't know how to charge the seeds for sprouting them.

So this is what is your purva Puṇya also. Those who haven't got it will get it tomorrow.

So please all of you should come and please call your friends. This is the best thing that you can give to anyone. This is what we were waiting for.

May God bless you.

Please come tomorrow. I'll explain to you about the nature of spirit, what is spirit.

[Aside:]... See what I have done just now...

He wants you all to come and take darshan. Now I am sitting before you, it's the darshan... There is no need to touch My feet, no need. Tomorrow we'll see...

[Aside:] You are so much wanting to do it, there is no need to do it. There are politicians for that! Tomorrow please bring your questions. Please bring your questions, I'll be happy to answer.

Contents: 1991-12-07*, Public Program, Day 2, Chennai, Tamil Nadu, India

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

Yesterday at the very outset, I told you that truth is what it is. If we have not found the truth we should be humble and honest about it, because truth is for our benevolence, for the benevolence of our city, of our society, of our country and of the whole universe.

This is a very special time you are all born, where people have to get their Self-realisation. This is the Resurrection Time as described in the Bible, it's the time of Kiyama as described by Mohammed Sahib.

This is a very special time when Nala, as you know, Nala damayanthi akhyan, Nala was faced with Kali.

He got very angry with Kali and said that “You have destroyed my family, you have destroyed my peace and you put people into bhram, into illusions, so I'd better kill you." He challenged Kali that “You should be finished forever." Then Kali said, “All right, let me tell you my mahatmyam. Let me tell you why I should be there. If I convince you then you can stop killing me, but if I do not, you can kill me." So he told that “Today all those who are seeking the truth, seeking their Self-realisation, Ātmā sākṣhātkara, those who are going into giri and kandharas, into the mountains and in the valleys, searching God all over the world; these people will be born as ordinary householders during Kali Yuga. There will be bhram, no doubt, people will be in sabhram. Illusion will be there and the confusion will be there, that I will create, no doubt, but because of this confusion only, these simple householders will seek the truth. And that's why that is the time they will get their Ātmā sākṣhātkara." It's a, lots of prophecies have been there in our Shāstras about these times, but specially Brighu muni in `NĀdi Grantha' has described about these times. If you tally them with the timing of today, it is exactly this time. After the death of Raghwindra Swāmī this will happen and that's what is happening now. For you people it is very important to understand that Raghwindra Swāmī was in this area and he did a lot of work and now the time has come to complete his work; also Ramana Mahāirshi. They didn't know how to explain, so they took to maunavart. People like Gñyāneśhwara at the age of twenty-three, writing such wonderful things, like `Amṛuta anubhavi'... is a book, I think the last word on spirituality. They had to get into Samādhis at a such a young age of twenty-three years, because nobody tried to understand them.

So much of ritualism, so much of conditioning, so much of reading that nobody wanted to know what they were talking. Everybody thought, `We know everything,' and that's how this kind of a satisfaction that they had. Kabīra has said, “Kaise samjhaun, sab jag andhā", “How am I to explain, the whole world is blind." But this is what we have to achieve in our evolution, this is what we have to jump into. To become the spirit is told by all the scriptures, not only India, everywhere. If you take Tao, if you take Zen, if you go to the Jewish or to the Christian philosophies, or to the Islamic, everywhere it is said that you have to become your Self, you have to have Self-knowledge.

Of course, anybody said like that, those people who are in charge of religion or at the helm of affairs, making money or creating power out of it, people using religion for power or money; they didn't like it, so they said, “They are heretics. This is blasphemy. They have no special knowledge." And that's how they have been punishing people, troubling people, torturing them. But the time has come now for all the seekers to get their Self-realisation, Ātmā sākṣhātkara.

Yesterday I told you how it works out through Kuṇḍalinī awakening. About Kuṇḍalinī people have written all kinds of nonsensical things which is not true. I am your Mother, I'm going to tell you truth, I'm not going to tell you something false. Even if you don't like it let Me tell you, because this is for your benevolence, for your good, for your hita.

So when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, she passes through your different centers which are subtle centers and nourishes them, pierces through your fontanelle bone area and connects you to the All-pervading Power, about which we do not know. Then from your hands you feel vibrations, which are called as Chaitanya lahari. Ādi Shañkarāchārya has called it `Saundarya Lahari', because you can judge the saundarya with this. Beautifully he has described it.

But how much they tortured him, think of it, person like Ādi Shañkarāchārya, I mean, I don't know what to say. The one who gave such secrets about the Mother, such great descriptions; he was tortured for what? What wrong did he do that he should have been tortured? Now we have to stand up with the truth and must say that `Mother, we have to have the truth and truth and nothing else.' I told you yesterday that Ātmā is the reflection of God Almighty in our heart. In these days of scientific conditioning this is a new type, apart from the `dharmic' scientific conditioning in which every scientist thinks that he knows everything. They don't know anything, take it from Me. Is absurd. Now you have seen so many scientists coming up and telling you about Sahaja Yoga. They have accepted because they have experimented. I told them that Mūlādhāra Chakra, the first Chakra Mūlādhāra, is made of carbon atoms, because it is made of Prithvi Tattwa [earth element]. And if you photograph the carbon atom and make a model out of it and then take photograph, say, from left side, you'll see the right side and you'll see actually `Om ' written down. If you see it from the right side, on the left side you will see a swastika.

But if you see from down upward, you will see a cross.

There is, really I must tell you a Doctor Worlikar who is a very famous doctor, he missed his prize in the Nobel Prize because, perhaps, he was an Indian. He's the one who experimented with three, four other Sahaja Yogi scientists and they said it is so. It is so. There is such a little knowledge with these scientists, because they are seeing things from outside. With Sahaja Yoga you go from inside. And everybody says the same thing, because, now you see Me standing here wearing a white sarī and a red border; everybody knows, everybody feels. I don't have to tell you, you know it, you see it and you see this is so. But once you get your realisation, whatever you feel on your hands is felt by everyone the same. Even if you take ten children and tie up their eyes, ask them, `What is this gentleman suffering from?', they don't know if it's a lady or a gentleman, eyes are tied up, they'll put supposing one finger like this. That means his Viśhuddhi is bad. You ask the person, `Have you got throat trouble?', `How do you know?' We know because this finger is Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's finger, Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's place, this is the throat. It all relates.

Mythology is not all absurd. Ninety percent is absolutely what it was. Of course there are some absurd things that have walked in, but ninety percent mythology, so-called mythology is absolutely there.

Now, we go to temples. We think, this is a temple, going is very good and all that. But we don't know what we are doing, what we are praying, whom are we praying, what are these deities, how they work in ourselves, where do they reside within ourselves, what is their job? How to please them? We don't know anything; but you ask these foreigners, they know everything. First of all they got fed up with Christianity, that's one thing. They just got fed up with all the nonsense they found out, because they're very intelligent, you can see and their conditioning was much less. And they started thinking, `After all, we don't know why they do like this.' Then they were just ready.

At that time we exported lots of fake Gurus, the West export is the fake Gurus. Thank God we are saved, we are poor, that's a blessing.

So lots of fake Gurus went there, made a lot of money and here also we had lots of them. I mean, we are just good at it, creating lots of fake Gurus. And they befooled people one after another, made a lot of money. It's all money-oriented.

In the beginning it was so difficult for Me because they all used to come with big gusto to fight Me, because I said you can't take money in the name of God, that was too much. “How can She say that you cannot take money?" But now it's better. One by one all of them got nicely exposed and more will be exposed. I don't have to tell you about them; they will be exposed, one by one. If there is light, all darkness has to go and everything that is there has to be exposed.

So everyone feels the same, there is no quarrel about it; because the spirit is the reflection of God Almighty, it's one God, who reflects Sadāśhiva. Sadāśhiva, who is a witness to the work of the Primordial Mother, Ādi Shakti, is just witnessing the play, just witnessing. In you He is witnessing as Ātmā, but He doesn't come into your attention, He's there. And His attention is only limited because He has not to any way interfere with your freedom.

So He keeps to Himself, He is just watching. That is the `auto'. When we say `autonomous nervous system' that is the auto, that's the spirit.

Now it's the reflection of one Sadāśhiva. Naturally all the reflections have to be the same, their effects have to be the same. Of course, before realisation is the reflection on a stone, we can call it, or on a wall, or maybe on some sort of a opaque thing. After realisation you become reflectors, beautiful reflectors and it reflects you. And everyone reflects the same thing.

So the effect of Ātmā sākṣhātkara is the same on every person, that first he starts feeling this Cool Breeze in his hands, then out of his fontanelle bone area.

All of them feel the same way. Then they start feeling these centers and finding out what's wrong. Also all of them become thoughtlessly aware, first stage which we call as Nirvichara Samādhi. Instantaneously it works.

You may say, `Mother, it's very difficult. How does it happen? People had to go to Himālayas.' All right, it doesn't matter, you don't have to go. Those days are gone. After all, the civilization, this tree of civilization has grown so big, its roots have to be grown; otherwise the whole civilization will be finished.

And this is the knowledge of the roots and that's why to know this knowledge you have to become subtler, sukshma. This is only possible when the Kuṇḍalinī rises and pierces through your fontanelle bone and makes you connected with the All-pervading Power of God's love.

So the first thing that you feel is collective consciousness, because everybody is the spirit.

So you can feel another Ātmā, you can feel another Ātmā, you can feel another. You can feel their body, you can feel their mind, you can feel anything.

This is the first quality you get, samuhik chetanā, on your nervous system, on your central nervous system.

Whatever you have got in your evolution is expressed on your central nervous system. Now see: for example, if you have a dog or a horse and you want to take him through a very dirty lane, it will go, it won't bother. But for a human being it is very difficult, because in our evolution our central nervous system has developed the sense of smell, a sense of beauty. All right.

So this they have developed and once they have developed, what happens that now we human beings are definitely higher than animals in our evolution and in our subtler sensitivities. For a dog it doesn't matter what you put here, how you decorate, what colour you wear, nothing; to us it is very important, because our sensitivity has improved.

It has improved because of our evolutionary process, we have become human beings.

But in the human stage we have one problem and that problem is that we have developed two institutions in our head and it's called as ego and superego and you call the ego and the conditioning. These two institutions on our head cross over and calcify and we become a closed personality. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises, she passes through this Āgñyā Chakra which is on the Optic Chiasma and sucks in these two, opens the Sahasrāra and the Kuṇḍalinī goes out. This is a living process, this is not that you can do. Supposing you want to sow a seed, you cannot pull out a primule, the Ankura and push it into the thing. You cannot make the seed sprout. It's a living process of a living God and of a living energy. Please understand, there's a big difference.

So this is working out spontaneously, the rising of the Kuṇḍalinī. She is your Mother, she moves very beautifully without troubling you. She knows her child very well. This is the chance she has to give realisation to you. She has loved you all her life, all your lives and she knows all about you, all your problems; like, a naughty boy you have been, `It doesn't matter,' she says, `this is the chance to give them realisation.' It is she who comes up well, beautifully, works it out, pierces through. All this happens.

But when she touches the Brahmarandhra or pierces through the Brahmarandhra, then the seat of Sadāśhiva is here. He has a reflection here, but the seat is here. These are the Pīṭhas in our head, seven Pīṭhas and the Chakras are down below.

So when she pierces through that, what we do is actually we have touched the Feet of Sadāśhiva and that's how in our heart the spirit enters into our attention. When the spirit enters into our attention we become enlightened, our attention is enlightened and this attention is very alert and it knows everything. Sitting down here you can find out about people, what they are doing, on the Chakras. You will not discuss what clothes they are wearing, how much money they have in the bank, but they will see where are they on their Chakras, what's the problem is. Sitting here you can cure them, sitting here you can help them. But they have to be one with this All-pervading Power, that is important. If they are not, then it takes some time.

So first of all you become Nirvichar, Nirvichar Samādhi and you start working out your collective consciousness by giving realisations to others. You become entitled to raise this Kuṇḍalinī, with your hands you can raise the Kuṇḍalinī. You know these people who are singing here, some of them have given realisation to thousand people and you can do it also, because now you have the power. But the problem is, you have been given the throne, you have been made to sit on that, now you have been also adorned with a beautiful mukuta [crown]. But still you don't want to believe you have become the king, now how to make you believe? So the second point is self-confidence, is very difficult. They cannot believe that they have got Selfrealisation.

And `Go ahead with it, work it out. You have become your own Guru, go ahead with it', they cannot, they are afraid. But all these horrible cheats, they have no realisation, they have no knowledge, nothing. They become the dead Gurus, have thousands of people behind them, make fool of them, make money and spoil their lives. While those who are Sahaja Yogis, who have all the knowledge, everything: still they are so humble, they are so simple. But they know about everyone. Anyone who comes there, they know, “Ah, we know this one." They won't say it but they know, all of them. In their own science they will tell you “this is this", they know. Then collectively they will work for that person. You will not know what they are doing and it will work out.

So the second nature of the spirit, apart from that it is a collective being, it is an absolute being. We live in a relative world, this is good, this is bad, that is this, this is that. But it's an absolute being, in the sense, you put your hands towards a photograph: immediately, if it is made by a realised Soul, you'll start getting the vibrations. Think of anyone, was that a realised Soul? Just put your hands.

There are many if, people who don't believe in God, if He's God, so-called, don't believe in God. I mean, it's most unscientific, but supposing they don't believe in God, they have to just ask, `Mother, is there God?', finished, they get the vibrations. All things can be proved. There is Pramān [proof] for everything, Pramān for all that is said so far. This is a very great thing that happens to you, that you get the Pramān out of your Chaitanya. Then this Chitta which is so attentive, which is so dynamic, which is so effective, also purifies you. It knows where is your problem, what Chakra is catching, they tell you.

Like I was there in Delhi, they brought three boys. “Mother, their Āgñyā is catching.

Somehow or other we cannot clear it." That means they're egoistical. They also said, “Yes, Mother, we have Āgñyās catching, we've got headaches." They're egoistical, but they didn't say they're egoistical. And they themselves are saying, “Yes, Mother, our Āgñyā's catching. Please clear it out." So you are yourself saying, “I am egoistical." Because that pains you now that that ego is paining you; so, “Mother, clear us out, we can't clear out this Āgñyā." “All right, come along, I'll clear it out." So you start judging yourself. You know about yourself what's wrong with you. `My this Nābhī is catching, my that Chakra is catching, my that Chakra is catching.' They all know about themselves and they know how to clarify and clear it out and work it out.

So you cleanse yourself. But the greatest cleansing comes when you are collective.

Many people take My photograph, “Mother, we do Pūjā, we sit down, meditate; but still again I got this trouble." You have to be in the collective, that is a very important part of Sahaja Yoga. Because now, you see, you don't have to go to Himālayas, not have to go and jump in the Ganges. You don't have to do any fasting, you don't have to say any Japās [chants], nothing. Only one thing: you be collective.

Collective is the ocean of the attention of Almighty. Once you are in the collective you get cleansed. Like My finger, supposing, is all right, but supposing a nail is cut out and thrown, it won't grow. Nobody will pay attention to it.

So you have to come to the collective.

There, ego comes in. There are people who are very big, rich, very well-educated, or politicians, you know, big, big, big, big, big people. They find it difficult to come down to a humble place, is a center.

They want another palace to be created for them, “otherwise how can we go there?" Is Mother's house.

Even if your mother is humble, she doesn't have much money, “All right, doesn't matter, is my mother's house." And they don't come and then they lose vibrations. This is a very common failing, specially in India, not in the West because they know what precious thing they have achieved. We have no idea as to what it is that we have achieved, our Ātmā sākṣhātkara.

So again next year I come, “Mother, I have this problem, that problem. I've been meditating at home all right." If you don't come to the collective, you cannot cleanse yourself. That's the only way in Sahaja Yoga you can cleanse yourself and you can be above everything else.

So when the Kuṇḍalinī passes through your Āgñyā Chakra, you become thoughtlessly aware. A thought rises and falls, another thought rises and falls.

Some come from the past, some come from the future; but we are not in the present. If I say `you be in the present,' you cannot be. That's why Kuṇḍalinī awakening is a happening which attracts your attention inside. Just like this sarī of Mine is the Kuṇḍalinī coming up, see now it's spread out like that; but when she's coming up she's pulling all the attention inside.

And that's how your attention goes in. And when she pierces through, then there is a space in between the thought called as `vilamba', this, of course, so everybody knows perhaps, that increases, that is the present.

So we have to be in the vartamān [present], we have to be in the present, then we are thoughtless.

Say the waves of water rising, falling, you are facing the water; but when you are in the water you are afraid, frightened, when you have problems you are frightened. But supposing somebody takes you out and puts you into a boat, then you see it, you can solve your problems. But supposing you know how to swim, you can jump down and save many others.

So in three stages you move.

So the growth only takes place when you are thoughtlessly aware. And that can be achieved in collectivity as well as in your meditation, for which you don't have to pay.

Some people have an opening introduction lecture free and then the second one is banking. Sahaja Yoga is not like that. All this nonsense is not in Sahaja Yoga.

It's reality and reality cannot be purchased. Actually God doesn't know bank, He doesn't know money.

He doesn't understand anything about money. He has not made money: this is your headache, not His.

Of course, supposing I had to fly I have to pay, it is all right. If I have to get a hall I have to pay; but for the hall, not for God. For awakening, for enlightenment you cannot charge any fee. Even for darshan I am told people charge money, imagine. For them everything is money, money, money, money, money.

How can they rise to the level of spirit? And we are so simple, you know, the bhaktas are so simple. “All right, you want five rupees, I'll sell my ring and give you. You want this, I'll give you this." There was a Guru in America who had, I think, forty-eight Rolls-Royce or something, I had forgotten the counts and he wanted one more.

So he told his disciples that “You should somehow or other get me one more Rolls-Royce, then I'll come to England." So poor things were living on potatoes, starving themselves.

So one of the Sahaja Yogis said, “What are you doing? Why does he want a Rolls-Royce? What is his interest in Rolls-Royce?" He says, “You know, we are just giving him the metal, but he's giving us the spirit." Can you imagine it? Metal can be exchanged for spirit! Must be some sort of a bhoot badha he must be putting on them and that in English language is `spirit'. English language is very dangerous, because `spirit' is wine, `spirit' is Ātmā and `spirit' is a bhoot, I don't know which spirit they mean! So, the relationship with God if it has to establish, we have to become first of all the spirit; then only this relation can be established. One may certify oneself, `I am this, I am that' but it's no good, it is of no use; because this human body is given to you. Imagine what this Divine Power must have done to make you a human being, how gently, carefully, beautifully you are made a human being. And now, why this human body you have got it? What are we using it for? We must evaluate our human life, what is it for? Is it for just insurance or I don't know what else they do; but is it for something, that we become the light of the world.

So this light of the spirit spreads in the attention and the attention becomes dynamic, active, works out, it's very alert and extremely punctual. Then this attention doesn't get bored at all. People don't know what is boredom is, because this boredom comes when your attention becomes tired. But here the attention is full of light, so they don't know what is boredom is.

The second thing that is the nature of spirit is that it tells you the truth, the absolute truth, nothing but the truth. Anything that these Chaitanya Laharis tell you, when you are matured enough, not before that; when your connection is complete, otherwise halfway you are connected and halfway you're not, then no, but when you are mature: that is the state of Nirvikalpa. When you become that, then your attention is absolutely correct, your vibrations are correct and the report is absolutely correct and what information you get is hundred percent truth; so the truth about anyone.

Now, say we want to know about Śhrī Gaṇeśh. We worship Śhrī Gaṇeśh. Many people make fun of Him, even so-called intellectuals, you see. They don't know what to say, so they start saying nonsensical things about Śhrī Gaṇeśha, you see, it's a sin. But you can ask, `Mother, is Gaurī Putra is bestowed upon the Mūlādhāra, in ourselves?' Of course, all those who are realised will get tremendous vibrations and you too. If you have doubts, if you are worshipping Śhrī Gaṇeśha, you ask this question; if you are worshipping Śhrī Viṣhṇu you ask that question. If you are worshipping Christ, you ask that question; if you are worshipping Shiva you ask that question.

What's wrong with us, that without connection we are calling, “Shiva, Shiva, Shiva, Shiva?" Is He in our pocket? How can you just, because is He our servant or what? But if you are realised, even taking once His name is sufficient; He acts, because we are in His kingdom.

In this kingdom of yours, in the Indian kingdom that is there, you may call anybody; nobody will come in any case, the question doesn't arise. And when you start calling God also without connection, it won't act. But if you are connected, then not only that that deity will help, the one who is troubling you will be all right. Not only that, but whatever you want is done and it happens. All kinds of manorathas [wishes or desires] are fulfilled.

So whether we should call it enlightenment or fulfilment is your own choice; it's complete fulfilment of your own being.

So the third nature of the spirit is that it is love. Because it is love, it gives you joy. But nirvaj, this love doesn't want anything, it just gives; such a soothing, beautiful feeling. People have stress. After doing all kind of nonsensical things you will have stress, no doubt about it. But when the hole is made here, all your stress goes out. There's no more stress. We don't know what is stress is. People don't go to doctors, even the doctors don't go to doctors, they come to Me. I'm not a doctor, but they come to Me, surprising.

This is metamodern science, metamodern, above modern science. But do you know, we are Indians, have this heritage of our own; we believe more in the English language, more in the English dress, more in the English knowledge, because we know English only. But those who know French will believe in French.

Now the time has come that they should believe in us, because we don't believe in our own country, we don't believe in our own culture, we don't believe in our own knowledge. This is nothing new I am telling you. Sahaja Yoga is a very ancient thing, Nanaka Sahaja Samādhi lago. Every saint has described. But we are doing this, that, all ritualism, Karma kandis, this, that. This cannot give you the ultimate, cannot.

I am telling you, that's the truth. Spirit is what we have to be. That's the ultimate goal of our life.

Then the, all the rest of them fall in line. And that's what we have got from every scriptures, from every incarnation, from everywhere. Let us now just think that let us become the spirit and then let us become a realised Soul, a master.

May God bless you all.

They didn't bring any questions? [Pause. Shri Mataji sits down.] There are some nice questions which I will answer before I give you realisation. If you want to go out for five minutes you can go and then you can come back. In the meanwhile there are questions.

[Question read by Shri Mataji:] Should we focus our attention while meditating, on the top of the head? You don't have to focus anything anywhere. You're not doing anything, it is the Kuṇḍalinī which is coming up.

So you don't have to do it. Don't fight with your attention. It will just, she will manage it.

She knows her job. That's one point.

[Question read by Shri Mataji:] Do the deities like Śhrī Gaṇeśha, Mahāviṣhn. u etc. have the forms as depicted in our scriptures? Of course! That are the deities.

[Question read by Shri Mataji:] Or do they stand for some state of mystic consciousness pertaining to yogic centers? Of course, they do. These deities are there. Gaṇeśha is just like Gaṇeśha. Of course, in colour He differs from one to another, depends on.

But His state of mystic consciousness is different from that of Viṣhṇu, from that of Shiva. He does His job. Everybody is the perfect master of their jobs, but they are in the form, absolutely in the form as you know them, no doubt.

What a blessing we have! I mean, imagine, I had to talk about Gaṇeśha to these people, who had, they didn't know even the word `G'! Isn't it just...? They didn't know anything about it. And they have mastered Gaṇeśha. Now ask them, they'll tell you all the Chakras, everything. All this knowledge is here in this country of ours, all these beautiful jewels are here.

[Question read by Shri Mataji:] When we are in the midst of people not familiar with Sahaja Yoga, can we mentally imagine the form of Reverend Mātājī, instead of keeping Her photo in front? Of course, you can. Yes, My photograph sometimes is used in very funny places that should not be such, it's not a protocol. It should be used in a place where you are with people who are Sahaja Yogis, or in your houses, homes; you shouldn't use them everywhere.

Now, this is a dangerous question, [read by Shri Mataji:] Does non-vegetarian food affect the sadhana? Is vegetarian food is preferable? Now if I say anything you are going to be angry! But I'll tell you. In Sahaja Yoga, you are not supposed to eat any flesh of a bigger animal than yourself. If you are vegetarian, you could be vegetarian; if you are non-vegetarian you can be non-veg. But it depends on what sort of a personality you are. Supposing you are a right-sided person, you'd better be vegetarians. But if you are left-sided, it's better to take to proteins.

So we're talking proteins and carbohydrates. Take any kind of proteins. Now we Indians don't eat any proteins. Except for Idli [South Indian dish] I don't think we eat any proteins. That too, we have rice in it. Proteins must be eaten by Indians, I am of that opinion, because we have become so weak. As it is, we are so frightened of income tax, this tax, that tax; plus we are so weak, because we eat absolutely insipid food.

So we should eat nourishing food, specially proteins in any form. But not the animal which is bigger than you. Like people eat horses, I don't know what else they'll be doing, anything; elephant, I think! For everyone there is no prescription. According to your nature you should eat. I mean, so many people don't do Sahaja Yoga when I say this, just imagine. They miss their Ātmā sākṣhātkara because of this. I mean, how did you become a vegetarian? Because your mother was a vegetarian, what else? From where did you learn vegetarianism? Supposing you were a Muslim, then you would have eaten somebody's heads also! So luckily you are born in a Hindu community, but we go too far with it. Morning till evening, I mean, this ritualism is so much in Madras [Chennai] also that they told Me, “Mother, Sahaja Yoga can never work in Madras [Chennai]." I said, “Why?" “Because people are not at all Sahaj. In the morning they must get up at four o'clock, have their bath, go to the temple, come back. If one day they don't do it, then the whole day they are like mad people, thinking they have committed the greatest sin, this routine must be done." There is no routine in Sahaja Yoga. It's a living process. There is no routine in living process. Whenever the flower wants, it will flower.

So why kill yourself with these rituals? This is our problem in the Hindu religion, the same with the Christians; I mean, everybody is competing. God has created this world for us to enjoy. I tell you, if you give up this you'll be very much absolutely relaxed. Forget it! At the most, five minutes in the morning Sahaja Yoga meditation and ten minutes in the evening before sleeping, finished.

For that we have a center, you go and see them, that's all. The rest God will do for you.

Now this is a nice question also, [read by Shri Mataji:] What is the final realisation in sadhana? How should one proceed in that direction, after he feels the vibrations in his head and palms, initially? That's good, that means you have felt it, Mister Subramaniam and I'm happy to know about this.

But I would say that you have to come to our center and proceed with it. But we don't talk of the future, we talk of the present. Slowly you will be surprised how you are rising, how you are really getting all the powers in yourself. You yourself will realise and you will be amazed. I mean, you'll be surprised, some people I have met after one year, I have a very good memory, but I could not recognize them.

Now, this gentleman is here and he's something personal problem, poor thing. He went to this Navoli of Haṭha Yoga and he's suffering. This Haṭha Yoga is another funny stuff. If you read Patanjali, you'll know it's Ashtanga Yoga. Out of this exercises, wee, wee, wee, wee, wee bit of that is so important.

Anybody can come and teach you Haṭha Yoga; unless and until he's a realised Soul, he has no right to teach you anything. What I've said today is Nirvichar Samādhi, Nirvikalpa, all is written there and he calls all this All-pervading Power as ritambara Pragñyā.

Somebody teaches you something, “Ha, tha", finished. People are running like mad, jumping like mad. You become right-sided, then you get heart attacks; now this gentleman has a problem. But I assure you, you'll be all right. You take to Sahaja Yoga, it's very simple, it will give you a balance, you'll be all right.

Then Haṭha Yoga, then going Gāyatrī Mantra: you become more right-sided. Learn what is needed for you. For a person who is right-sided, you have to have Bhakti . Those who are left-sided have to have this. You have to give balance to yourself. And it will really give you such a joy. Otherwise if there's some Haṭha yogi, you'd better approach him with a bargepole; God knows when he will slap you, like Durvasa [he was a Guru very notorious for his hot temper]. It's very dangerous people. They don't know what is love is, they don't know what is Mother is. There's no talk of love.

[Question read by Shri Mataji:] Is self-awareness a prerequisite to practice on progress of realizing Kuṇḍalinī Shakti? No. After realisation you become self-aware. Nothing is needed. Now for example, people go on telling, “You have committed this sin. All right, pay so much money to me and all your sins will be finished." I tell you, put him to the police. To Me nobody is a sinner, no. You are My children. Nobody is a sinner.

You have committed no sins, no wrong, nothing. You were mistaking something, you went into darkness; or I can say that you were ignorant, at the most. But I don't like to call any human being as a sinner, except for they're Rākshasas. Of course there are Rākshasas, then they are already branded, you don't have to say it, they're already there.

So this self-awareness is what you have to get. We are not self-aware. By doing it, we cannot. When we say, “I have to be self-aware. Now I have to be self-aware, I have to go inside", what are we using? Our ego. It's a happening. When you achieve that state, that state, not human state, but a state of a yogi, there at that state you have self-awareness and you respect yourself. You have your self-esteem.

But you don't show off, you don't become cheapish person.

He says that [read by Shri Mataji:] “Mother, I have recently started meditating in the Sahaja way and I feel absolutely fresh and beautiful all the time. Though, Mother, put very humbly, say that the energy is our own, I have never felt this energy before. Mother, so kindly let us know if we are relinked to the God or the main source and that is the reason why we feel full of energy throughout?" Of course, you are feeling because you are relinked, no doubt about it. But you don't feel any energy because you must be a very good man. When there is obstruction, then only you feel a little problem.

Like a smooth landing, you don't feel it; if you get a smooth landing in Sahaja Yoga, means you are a very nice person, very good man, righteous man. Just smoothly you land, there's no obstruction, nothing.

You have no imbalances, you are in the center, no problem. But if you have problems, then the Kuṇḍalinī a little bit goes, comes down. And that's why you don't feel it. Those who have problems do feel a little pain sometimes here and there. But if the Kuṇḍalinī just rises up, know that you are righteous, you are good.

[Question read by Shri Mataji:] Is the term `God' given to all unexplainable questions as their explanation Manas [UNCLEAR]? No, no, no. In Sahaja Yoga everything is explained and can be proved Pramana.

[Question read by Shri Mataji:] Has anyone seen, heard, felt or realised his ultimate control, master, owner, decision-maker? Of course! So many of them, don't you know? There are so many.

[Question read by Shri Mataji:] Does the final authority lives outside every man, or does it reside inside everyone? He is reflected in everyone, but the reflection cannot be the object. But the reflection can be equal to the object, depending on the reflector.

[Question read by Shri Mataji:] If anyone has realised the ultimate truth, why did he die? These are big, big things he has asked. You see, I think the gentleman who is asking Me this question, I would ask him first of all to get your realisation. He's quite confused gentleman. You see, just now, “What is God? What is death?" What are you? Find out first. Who is asking this question?... He is asking from a center? Oh, my God! It's interesting, eh, that he's asking from a center all these questions.

That means he's too much thinking, thinking, thinking.

[Question read by Shri Mataji:] Is wrong to say that God is in good? I think he's done too much reading, that's the problem. First you know the reality, My child, then all these questions will disappear, Nirvikalpa....

Now he's talking about ideal good and all that. It's definitely true that man lives only once...

[Question read by Shri Mataji:] It's wrong. Who told you that? He doesn't. But if you believe in that I cannot help it, but it's not so. And that to be good and to be righteous is not the end of your search.

Dharma is the balance, that gives you the balance. But balance for what, Dharma for what? We should ask the question. Why should we be Dharmic; why not be adharmic? Why not ask such a question? It's logical. Why do all this Dharma, Dharma, Dharma? Because you have to rise. Say an aeroplane is not balanced, how will it rise? But supposing it is only balanced and never rises, what's the use of making an aeroplane? So you have to be Dharmatīt. You have to go beyond Dharma, you have to go beyond Guṇas, it's Guṇatīt, you cross over, then Dharma becomes part and parcel of you. You don't have to tell yourself, `Don't do this, don't...' No, you just don't do it, try anything.

I'll tell you My own example. You know I have a double life. My husband is a, what is he, you must have known about him, he's a big, big, big boss of something and I've lived with all that nonsense all My life. When he went to England they asked him, “Why don't you have dancing with us?" He said, “Because my Wife doesn't dance, I don't want to dance." He puts everything on Me, it's a very good way of escaping! So they said, “No, no, bring Her to London, She'll be all right. If you bring Her to London She'll start dancing." He said, “You even take Her to moon, She will not!" So this is what it is. The Dharma is innate, you just don't do it. Not because of conditioning, or it's better, it is Sahaj. Sahaja, you, just, you just don't do it. “No, I will not do that." You will never do wrong things, because you will just not do it.

So this has to go beyond Dharma, means the Dharma is part and parcel of that. Guṇatīt means you are beyond Guṇas. You are neither right-sided, left-sided, centered, but you are beyond. What is left, right, center, what is this, why to hang like that?, better be above.

That is what happens to you.

So “only there are righteous people": many righteous people came and went away, had no effect on the public. What is needed is your emancipation, your ascent; that's what we have to achieve. “Only the good", so-called good; and you cannot establish good, I tell you. Nobody likes to follow a good person.

Like in Pune they were saying, “Everybody takes, they eats money, they never eat food." I said, “Really?" So I told My husband, “Everybody eats money", he was in London.

He said, “You tell them `My husband never took any bribe.' " So I told them, “My husband never took any bribe." They said, “Why didn't he take? Who told him not to take?" So what happens is that normally people never follow a person who is good and righteous, never. But they'll always follow a person who is a little bit like this. The reason is, we are coming from animal stage, easy to go back. But once you're realised, then it's difficult; means once the flower becomes the fruit, it cannot become the flower, as simple as that.

So I say you've come here, all right, very sweetly and then get your realisation; then I'll talk to you.

Then you yourself will say and now, see these people who were singing here, some of them were terrible drug addicts, terrible! They couldn't even see Me. They said, “We saw only lights coming out of You, never saw You" when they came, in comas. Overnight, finished, alcoholics, overnight. I didn't tell them.

I never tell, `Don't drink, don't...' I never use that word. Let the light of your spirit come in and you are there. I don't have to tell you anything, all habits you'll drop by yourself. Do you see the point? Because when the light comes in, the darkness has to run away.

So righteousness is not sufficient enough. You have to go beyond that.

Somebody has written about his friend who has a problem, who's fallen down, had an accident. He should go and ask the Sahaja Yogis to help him. Nowadays I don't cure people, because there's no need to; I'm doing all other nonsensical things. The curing nowadays' done by Sahaja Yogis. There are so many other things I have to see to.

So you call anyone, they'll be very helpful and they will do it.

Ah, it's a good question, [read by Shri Mataji:] Is it possible to cure the suffering and poor with this Sahaja Yoga? Can we get rid of our poverty? We can, by all means, if you stop fasting first. You want to fast? “All right” God says, “all right, go ahead. You'll not get food." Finished! Your wish will be fulfilled. You want to become like a Sannyāsī? Want to wear torn clothes? All right, have poverty. You want poverty, after all you asked for it.

Then, you want sufferings? “We must suffer." There's so many nonsensical things going on that “you must suffer." Then how? “I have [to] suffer", all right, if you want that, you enjoy it. You ask for prosperity, you'll get it, after Kuṇḍalinī awakening. You see the center there, called as the Nābhī Chakra and who is sitting there is Lakṣhmī Nārāyaṇa. Once Lakṣhmī Nārāyaṇa is awakened within you, how can you be poor? But also money has its own problems. You get wealth, which is satisfying. But don't ask for poverty.

Leave alone you, now the Westerners have got a great desire for poverty. They wear pants, they said they are holy, means there are holes. Torn pants they wear, in England, imagine, such a cold country, wearing holy pants, getting varicose veins. And so many nonsensical suffering is going on there, so many.

[Aside:] Such a long letter, should write small one.

So that's going on and that's how people ask for it.

So there is recession in America, recession in England, recession in Spain, crawling into France, have it. If you want to have poverty, have it.

So the Lakṣhmī chit is going to come this side, I think.

Some sense is coming into our government and I'm sure it will work out, hope so. But you take to Sahaja Yoga and you'll be surprised. For example, in England we have such a lot of unemployment, but not one Sahaja Yogi is unemployed, not one. At least with this problem [UNCLEAR] at least... you will take to Sahaja Yoga, to begin with.

[Question read by Shri Mataji:] Mother, Sahaja Yoga is for health and joy only, or is it something more? Everything, totality. What do you want? Ask for it, desire for it, everything.

He says it's not explained to him. You see, just now I'll give you realisation, you will see how the Chakras are opened out and all that. But later on if you go to the center you can know everything, in one year you'll be all masters. But give some time to yourself, is the point. People are very busy these days. What are you doing? Some ladies told Me they're very busy with kitty parties! Here are very few ladies in here, Madras [Chennai]; all the ladies must be in the temple sitting, cutting, shaving their heads.

And very educated women also do it. I mean, why, why should we shave your head? God has lots of hair, you don't have to cut. All this nonsense! Women can be much more Shakti shali than men, but this conditioning of the women of India, God knows.

All right.

So now we are... He's saying, [read by Shri Mataji:] “I have been practicing Prāṇāyāma for four years. I don't have teacher... dangerous..." Very dangerous. If you have no teacher, whether you have teacher or not, Prāṇāyāma is very dangerous.

Ha! If you have problem with your lungs, or some specific reason... You see, all these vyayamas [exercise], were given for specific reason, for specific Chakras. Now, the Kuṇḍalinī's rising; supposing she stops at your stomach, Nābhī and you are doing Prāṇāyāma, what's the use? You should know where the Kuṇḍalinī is there. For example, today I was coming by car. Now they stopped Me at one point, then at second point.

When the car started moving, then only I knew where it is going to stop. Beforehand, how can I do it? In the same way, when Kuṇḍalinī rises, use your brains!, then she stops at a point, then you should know by what vyayama you can put it right. It's very scientific. We too use, but not like all the medicines from the medicine box taking, morning till evening. And that's why they say they develop problems, they do.

... You will, very soon.

It's a very dangerous thing. You see, actually we are not only physical being. We don't live in only on Prāṇa, that's right? I've seen people who practice Prāṇāyāma, if they're married, thank God you're not married, they divorce their wives, because there's no love. They're very dry people, extremely dried up; no poetry in their life. All right, you'd better start reading some nice poetry! Now, he is saying there, [read by Shri Mataji:] “Could you please tell what is right-sided and left-sided?" It's quite a long subject, but if you go to Sahaja Yoga they will tell you. Right-sided is physical and emotional energy, used for physical and, sorry, physical and mental work. Left-sided is the energy for emotions. Now for example, he's doing Prāṇāyāma. He's doing that, he'll become right-sided, only if you do that.

[Question read by Shri Mataji:] When the Kuṇḍalinī is in the process of awakening, is one getting fear? No, you do not. She's your mother. She will bear all the problems. When you were born, your mother bore all the problems, all the labor pains. She didn't trouble you, did she? She, poor thing, suffered for you. And once you are born she forgets everything, `That's, my child is born now, finished. Whatever is over is over.' That's what is Kuṇḍalinī. Why should you have any fear? This is people who are telling you that Kuṇḍalinī awakening is very dangerous and all that, because they don't know anything about it.

They don't want you to get your realisation.

What he says is true, that, [Question read by Shri Mataji:] “Evil exists from time immemorial, in spite of several incarnations and saints." It's correct; but there is a solution.

So why not seek the solution, to get out of evil? Once you are a realised Soul, the evil will run away, not you. The time has come for all the evil to run away, to be destroyed, to be exposed, to be finished. It's you who can do it.

Everything takes its own time, like the growth of a tree. Slowly, slowly all these six Chakras were worked out. Now the question of the seventh Chakra, is the Sahasrāra, which is now worked out in Sahaja Yoga.

So the picture is complete. Evil cannot destroy a Sahaja Yogi; they know it very well. Even the evil know that they cannot. If they see a Sahaja Yogi, they run away.

So don't you worry.

I think I have answered all your questions, most of them; but there's one thing. I've been doing this for the last, how many years?, 1970..., twenty-three years, twenty-one years, answering questions. I'm quite now clever, I can answer any question, that's true. But this is no guarantee for your awakening, I must tell you. It's a mental acrobat.

So though I have answered your question, doesn't mean that I will raise your Kuṇḍalinī, or Kuṇḍalinī will rise. That's a separate issue altogether.

But I don't want you to have this mind suddenly shooting out and saying that you didn't ask this question, so that you be stressed out. That's why I answer. Otherwise makes no difference whether I answer or don't answer. It's something very different, different area.

So now, we are all prepared for our realisation. Those who got yesterday also will get it more. As I have told you, those who do not want to have it, I cannot force on you, cannot force.

I think all the Sahaja Yogis from the West have to go out, this time is there, sorry. I know you want to sit down for meditation, but you'll be getting much more chances than others; because there's time up.

You have to pack up your things. All right. Look at them, they're singing Sanskrit and it's complete `Ai Giri Nandini' they sing so well. Just think of them, can you imagine, these people, how did they learn? These are Germans, can you imagine? They don't call themselves Germans, no. How could they do it? They didn't know, these English didn't know a word of Hindi; they lived here for three hundred years, I don't know what they did. Even to tell them “Darwaza band kar [close the door]" you had to say, “There was a banker." It was so bad... [UNCLEAR level]...

Look at them! All this is the Ātmā! How they appreciate your music and how they appreciate your Kuchipudi dancing out, it's surprising, much more than you can. Because our music comes from Omkāra.

It will be proved, praman. We should be proud that we are Indians. Our culture is the highest culture in the whole world. We must respect our culture and preserve it. Ask them, they will show you, they will tell you what they have found in Sahaja Yoga.

[Question about moksha.] This is moksha only? Of course! This is what moksha is. `Moksha' means where you rise about your physical, mental, emotional being; you are no more involved into it. That is the moksha. And by this non-involvement, all your physical, mental, emotional beings are solved. You become that, you become the Tattwa, TatTwam asi you become the Tattwa. `Aham Brahmasmi', you become the Brahma. It's all around, this is Brahma.

But even when you become you don't believe, again I tell you. I mean, I don't know what happens, they don't believe that they are.

All right, so a simple thing is now is to understand that it's a living process. It cannot be forced, it works by itself. But you all have fundamental right to get your Self-realisation, all of you, whatever race you may be, whatever religion you may be, whatever country you may be, you are a human being and you all have this right.

I would request you to take out your shoes and to put your feet on this Mother Earth, because she sucks in our problems. Both the... please take out your shoes, chappals, take out please.

[Aside:] Language, he doesn't understand My language, is it?... Both the feet on the Mother Earth, away from each other. Now, during meditation please don't move out, that's all...

You have to go, I think. Please, I think you'd better go. You are going by plane?... All right. You are Sahaja Yogis, you can do anything. The train will wait for you! So... They don't want to miss any moment. They understand the importance of every moment, you can imagine.

What you need is sincerity to yourself. Now you have to put your both feet away from each other and have a very pleasant feeling about yourself, prasanna bhave, prasanna chitt. Don't be angry with yourself, with anyone, just be prasanna. What a nice word we have in Sanskrit, prasanna. Put both the feet away from each other like this and have a very nice feeling about yourself, very pleasant feeling.

First we'll tell you what Chakras are to be touched and how to raise your Kuṇḍalinī yourself. But later on you don't have to worry, later on, is very simple. He will show you how to raise your own Kuṇḍalinī.

You have anything... Please try to loosen it. Please put the left hand towards Me like this... All right.

Left hand towards Me like this. That is for absorbing the energy, or for expression of your desire, because left side is the power of desire and the right is the power of action.

So put your left hand towards Me like this, the expression of your desire to have your Self-realisation. Take your right hand on your heart. As I told you, in the heart is reflected the God Almighty, as spirit. If you become the spirit, you become your own master.

So now you take down your right hand, we are working only on the left hand side, on the left hand side of your abdomen, on the upper part. Press it hard. This is the center of your mastery.

[Aside:] All right? Can you hear Me now? So now, if you are the spirit you become your own master.

So you put your right hand on the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side and this is the center of your mastery.

[Aside:] Who's making the noise? They are able to hear Me? No? No, it's quite loud. Don't you hear Me? All right, thank you.

Now, take down your hand in the lower portion of your abdomen, on the left hand side. This is the center of Pure Knowledge. That is what works on your nerves, on your central nervous system, is manifested by this center of Swādhiṣhṭhāna. Again you raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen, on the left hand side. Then again you'll have to raise your hand on your heart. Then raise your hand in the corner of your neck and shoulder and turn your head to your right. This is the center you catch when you feel guilty and you develop horrible diseases like spondylitis, or maybe angina.

So now please put your right hand on top your forehead and bend your head. Here you have to forgive everyone, without thinking about whom you have to forgive. Take back your right hand on the back side of your head; this is the Āgñyā, front Āgñyā and the back Āgñyā, if you know, the optic lobe. Press it on both the sides. This is just the center because you feel guilty; ask forgiveness from the Divine Power, that's all. Push back your head.

Now, stretch your hand fully and put the center of your palm on top of the fontanelle bone area, the Tālu, which was a soft bone in your childhood. Put down your head as far as possible. Now press it hard and push back your fingers and press it hard and move your scalp, slowly seven times clockwise.

Now, that's how we have to do it. At the very outset there are three conditions. First is that you all should feel fully confident that you are going to get your Self-realisation, that you are going to get your Self-realisation, [Aside:] Can you hear Me now?, fully confident. Secondly, [Aside:] Can you fix it?, second condition is that you should not feel guilty at all about anything. Us Indians don't feel so much guilty as the Westerners. It's good idea not to feel guilty. Don't listen to anybody who tells you this is wrong, you are like that, you are like that, nothing of the kind. Nobody has business to judge you.

So please don't feel guilty, very important.

And the third condition is that you have to forgive everyone. Many of you will say that's difficult, which is wrong. As I told you yesterday, whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything.

So by not forgiving, only we play into wrong hands.

So just, without thinking about whom you have to forgive or whom you have to remember, try just to say in general, `I forgive everyone.' You'll feel much lighter. Just you say that. That's a myth, you are living with a myth.

[Aside:] Can you hear Me now? You can. Can you hear Me, that side? Back side, do you hear Me? Now, you have to close your eyes. You can take out your spectacles, because you should not open your eyes till I tell you. Please take out your spectacles. If there's anything tight on your neck or in your, on your waist, please... If you have anything, [Aside:] What's the matter? If you have anything, [Aside:] I have to just go on to it, that's what's just coming.

, anything on your neck or on your waist, something very tight, you can loosen... If you have any tawis or anything, please remove it, it's not very good. Or some mala given by some Guru or someone, please remove it; because you have not come here to enslave yourself to anyone, but to become absolutely free.

So now we close our eyes, all of us. Please close your eyes. Put both the feet on the Mother Earth still, don't forget that, you have to put both the feet, yes. Now, close your eyes fully, don't open them. Now, put the left hand towards Me on your lap and right hand on your heart, right hand on your heart. Now left hand open towards Me, open, keep it open towards Me. You can keep it in your... Yes.

Now, in the heart resides the spirit. Ask Me a question three times, `Mother, am I the spirit?' It's very fundamental question. Without any diffidence, please ask this question in your heart three times, `Mother, am I the spirit?' That's a fact: you are the spirit. That's the truth about you. Now, take down your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen. Be Prasana Chitta... You should not be overly serious. There is nothing serious, you see. Must understand, you should be prasanna Chitta. Forget your past. Now, here you have to ask another question three times, `Mother, am I my own master?' Ask this question three times. `Am I my own Guru?' This center is created by the SatGurus for you to establish yourself.

Now, take down your right hand in the lower portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. I cannot force Pure Knowledge on you. The rest is all Avidyā; this is Vidyā. Vidyā, where it is vida, is knowledge.

So you have to ask six times, `Mother, please may I have Pure Knowledge?' When you ask for Pure Knowledge, your Kuṇḍalinī starts rising. And now we have to nourish our upper centers with our selfcon fidence.

So now raise your right hand in the upper portion of your abdomen on the left hand side. And here with full confidence you have to say ten times, `Mother, I am my own master.' Please say it with full confidence. Don't doubt yourself; you are your master. Please put your left hand towards Me, towards Me. Many people are not having left hand towards Me.

I've already told you that the truth about you is that you are not this body, this mind, these emotions, these conditionings, this ego; but you are the pure spirit.

So please now raise your right hand on your heart and here with full confidence you have to say, `Mother, I am the pure spirit. Mother, I am the Shuddha Ātmā.' Say it with full confidence. Now, raise little bit properly, you see, it should not be very low also, raise it properly, as if raising your heart. Raise it.

This All-pervading Power is the power of love, is the ocean of knowledge, ocean of bliss and compassion.

But above all it is the ocean of forgiveness and whatever you think you have done wrong can be easily dissolved in this great ocean.

So please raise your right hand in the corner of your neck and your shoulder and push it back more. Here you have to say sixteen times, `Mother, I am not guilty.' Say it sixteen times, please. `Mother, I am nirdosh. I'm absolutely nirdosh.' I have already told you that whether you forgive or don't forgive, you don't do anything; it's a myth.

But when you don't forgive, then you play into wrong hands and torture yourself, while the person who has tortured you is quite happy.

So now, raise your right hand on your forehead across and put down your head. Fully put down your head and here you have to say from your heart, not how many times. If you don't say it, I cannot make your Kuṇḍalinī pass through this constricted Āgñyā Chakra.

So please, all of you should say, `Mother, I forgive everyone in general,' not thinking about anyone in particular, please.

Now, take back your hand on the back side of your head. Push back your head, as far as possible.

Without feeling guilty, without counting your mistakes, just for your satisfaction you have to say, `Oh Divine Power, please forgive me if I have done anything wrong. Oh BrahmaChaitanya, please forgive me if I have done anything wrong, knowingly or unknowingly.' This you have to say in your heart, not how many times.

Now, stretch your right hand. Put the center of your palm of right hand on top of the fontanelle bone area, which was a soft bone in your childhood. Push back your fingers as far as possible. Put down your head as far as possible. Here again, I cannot force Self-realisation on you, so you have to ask for it. Move your scalp seven times clockwise, saying, `Mother, please give me my Self-realisation.' Seven times, please.

Don't move the hand so much as the scalp. Please press it hard. Push back your fingers. First is, unless until you push back fingers, there won't be any pressure.

Now take down your hands, please. Put both the hands towards Me. Now watch Me without thinking.

Now put your right hand towards Me and bend your head and see for yourself. Don't watch others, watch yourself. See if there's a Cool Breeze coming out of your fontanelle bone area, see if there's a Cool Breeze coming out of your fontanelle bone area. There might be a hot breeze also; if you have not forgiven, specially, then the hot breeze might be there.

So now you forgive.

Now, take your left hand towards Me like this. Again put down your head. Not on top, but away from it; some people get it very far also. Try to see if there's a Cool Breeze or a hot breeze coming out of your head. On the fontanelle, not very far backward or forward, but on the fontanelle, on the Tālu. All right? Again, put your right hand towards Me. Ha! Bend your head, bend your head. That's it! Now, I have to tell you how to give yourself the Kavach to protect yourself, it's very important; and how to raise your Kuṇḍalinī, it's very important, very simple, he'll show you also. Put your left hand like this in front of you and the right hand you have to move, the left hand goes straight.

So you have to, I'll just show you first of all, like this. It goes up onto your head and here you give it one knot. Now, again we'll start now, properly. We start it from here. Now start moving your left hand upward. For fixing up your Kuṇḍalinī, put your hand up and give it one knot; then again, the second one. Give it the second knot. Third knot you have to give three times. Now again do it, please: one, it's two and three. Done! Now the Kavach. You have to take for your protection every morning when you go out and before sleeping you should put your attention here and sleep off. Put the left hand towards Me like this. It is Sādhe teen... the three and a half coils.

So how do you give Kavach? It's, put left hand towards Me, towards the photograph, put the right hand like this, I'll show you first of all. Then raise it like this, bring it down, this is half. Then again you take it back, this is one. Again you take it up, is again you take it back, is two. Again you take it like this, again you bring it back, is three. And now you take it back only halfway, so three and a half times. This is bandhan, is the Kavach, Kavach of protection. Also lots of things you'll learn, how to use this power from your hand.

Now, all those who have felt cool or hot breeze in their hands or out of your fontanelle bone area, please raise your both hands. All those who have felt, please raise both your hands. They have a little problem of liver, but it will work out, it doesn't matter.

May God bless you all, may God bless you.

So Madras [Chennai] should become now `Mada Rās' means all the Mada [vanity] is finished and achieve that state.

May God bless you all.

Again and again I tell you, be humble and come to the center. There are some very good Sahaja Yogis in the center. They'll all tell you everything with very loving way. But please come and pay attention to yourself and know everything. Next year I will come again to Madras [Chennai].

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-12-09 Śhrī Shakti Mahākālī Pūjā, Auditorium, Bangalore, Karnataka, India

You all have come now to Bangalore and yesterday you had gone to Mysore, which was ruled by Mahishasura.

That's the reason you didn't get your food, it crossed you. It's better not to eat food in such places isn't it, all right.

So it's a very beautiful place, Bangalore is. Climate is beautiful and you'll find always these Rākshasas lived in places like this. Like in Pune, you have, you know this Rajneesh was there, here is this mahishasura still. They always try to find places which are cold because they have so much heat in their body. Now as you know, there's one more Rākshasa here who has to be exposed. And this, today through our Pūjā, we should achieve.

In the olden days when the Goddess had to fight the Rākshasas, the Rākshasas were not involved in human beings as such. They didn't become Gurus or anything. And so, now we find in Kali Yuga they have gone into the brains of sādhakas, of their devotees. It's very difficult to remove them. And once they go into the brain of the sādhakas, then sādhakas become of course possessed, they suffer, they have all kinds of problems. Despite that, they stick onto that person because they are mesmerized, very much mesmerized. And this mesmerism makes them absolutely so strong headed that even if they have to die, they wouldn't give up their Gurus. The main thing is that in this Kali Yuga there are so many sādhakas, they are running helter and skelter. They are running all over trying to find out some way of finding the truth. Why when the market is on, you know you get people to sell it also.

So that's how so many have come up and are trying these things, tricks, on people all over.

Most of them have gone to the Western countries because people have money. Thank God we are not so rich in India that they could not befool us, especially in America.

And Americans took to these people as a fish takes to water, very surprisingly. I went there and told them and warned them, they wouldn't listen to Me.

They can't understand anything that you can get without money. But despite all that, so many of you have been able to come to Sahaja Yoga and get to the reality.

It's your destiny. It's blessings to you of your previous lives that you could see it so clearly and come to Sahaja Yoga and now you have grown so much, you have become so matured and you understand what others are doing is absolutely wrong.

Also somebody told Me about this fellow Boy John misbehaving with these homosexuals and all that and calling them “Hare Rāma, Hare Kṛiṣhṇa", all nonsense.

Then I discovered that this story is very prevalent in Kerala, where they say that Kṛiṣhṇa when he became, I mean Viṣhṇu, when he became Mohini, he had a child from Shiva. Absurd. And now, Murti is telling Me when I told you this story, you said “this is blasphemy, this is sin." Same way I feel. It is very dangerous also to play about with a person like Viṣhṇu. He is a very dangerous deity. Shiva ultimately is very dangerous but it takes time with him. But as far as Viṣhṇu is concerned, one has to be very careful, misbehaving like this. I don't know what is going to happen to them. But they are so stupid, they are so stupid. One thing they should judge that if this thing you are doing is good for them, is by God's blessings, then why should you get diseases? There is a regular one crore of people going to a nonsensical place where they have this Ayappa business and they wear black dresses for one month and they have their beard and everything. They starve themselves, they go up, miles together they climb, do all kinds of things that is a sort of a suffering for one month. And eleven months they do everything. This kind of a nonsense it is.

So now it has become like a craze like jogging or something like that in Kerala. And this year there were one crore of people doing this stupid nonsense. I mean even in India we have such stupid people, you can see that. But the number is not so much, I must say, as it is in America, percentage.

In India, we are very conditioned by these ritualisms, especially in the South [India] we have lots of ritualistic things. And we are impressed by people if you take out some watches, Swiss made watches, or things like that. To them, it is something really remarkable that how can you have Swiss made watches here.

Very simple people. They do not understand that none of the incarnations did these tricks and that truth should be based on the tradition, on the Shāstras. It cannot deviate and whatever deviates is actually heretic and also is blasphemy.

But as I told you the other day that those people who talk of knowledge, like Sufis, who got their realisation, real Sufis, they were called as heretics, they were thrown out of the religion. Also, the Christians, the early Christians, who were Gnostics were called as mad people, heretics.

In the same way, those who are following stupid things and are following something that is very black and dark, negative, will definitely go against Sahaja Yoga and will say that this is something heretic or it is something that is blasphemy. But, as you understand now what it is, we have to bring forth new laws that those who are not Sahaja Yogis are actually, if they are practicing any religion, they are not doing the right thing. Slowly slowly as Vatican is getting exposed and the Christian churches are getting exposed, even in India so many such organizations are getting exposed and people are understanding that this is very wrong.

These ideas actually have come from incarnations, like Ādi Shañkarāchārya himself has said “Tatatkim, Tatatkim, Tatatkim", if you have not followed your Guru then “Tatatkim." So they said now any Guru can come from the jail, can be a smuggler, can be anything, characterless person, if you call him a Guru, then he is a Guru.

Whatever we call somebody, say we call somebody as a Guru and we stick on, `this is my Guru.' But what did the Guru give to you, that nobody asks. We just feel happy, oh very nice. It's like the worms clinging onto the lotus and saying, `Oh, we have lotus.' What about you, you are a worm still, what is the use of these lotuses or whether that is lotus or a snake, God only knows.

So a Guru who doesn't talk of realisation, who doesn't talk of Kuṇḍalinī, who doesn't talk of ascent, who doesn't talk of second birth, cannot be a Guru, minimum of minimum.

So like we also believe in say Rāma, “I believe in Rāma", so what? Are you obliging Rāma or Rāma is obliging you. “I believe in Christ", so what? You believe in this, you believe in that, it is such an absurd idea still I never understand when people say, “I believe in this." What does that make, what does that mean.

You believe in Christ. You are leading a licentious life, you are doing all kinds, but “I believe in Christ, I believe in God." Doing everything against divinity and I believe.

So the question comes, what do you mean by believing? It's like, “I believe it is silver", so what, it is silver. What does it make to you to believe by that saying something you have done great? What is great in that? Now if you say I believe in Shri Mataji, so what. All right you believe in Me because of certain experiences, still what. Mātājī should be in your life, should be in your expression, in your behaviour, in your treatment to others, in understanding each other and loving each other. That is what impresses people. People say, “All right, we'll come to Mātājī, we'll just pray to Her and go away, we'll not talk to Her." Why? `Because we believe in Mātājī,' finished.

So now we have to understand that you believe in Sahaja Yoga, of course it is Śhraddhā [faith], it is not a blind faith I agreed, but still belief has to penetrate into your being.

This belief has to act, has to show results, it has to work out in every way.

Somebody might say that we believe in Mātājī and she does everything, she'll do Bhakti for us. I should sit down and sing the song of Mātājī or what.

So what is going to come from your side, that is what we have to understand and once that starts working then these demons and these Rākshasas will all vanish, no problem.

So what am I doing for Sahaja Yoga? We should ask the question, `What am I doing?' Now if you make this instrument and then if it is not doing anything, what is the use of making the instrument. Now you are the light, you have got enlightenment but what is the use of a light which is hanging somewhere, which is not giving light to anyone.

So when you are giving light to others, in a very innocent manner, in a very reciprocal manner, not this way that we are giving light because we want to have an advantage over it, or we want to show off or any all nonsensical things that are there. Then the derailment starts. People start saying, “Oh, I am this, I am that." But with full understanding, that we are instruments in the hands of the divinity and we are just enjoying that divinity flowing through us and working out, you won't feel tired, you won't feel upset, you'll not be in any way in trouble.

But this has happened with you. You are so matured, but still we all have to decide that now we are going to India to get ourselves the whole joy of the tour, but for what. Not to keep to yourself, but to share it with others.

This joy is for you to share it with others.

Unless and until you learn that, your ego will come back again and again. And also you have seen the way people who have been even spreading Sahaja Yoga got into the mess of ego.

So one has to be very careful. The more you are rising in your divinity, the more you are maturing, you have to be very careful.

See on a tree if you see, if there's a leaf no insect will enter. If there's a flower, the insect will come and it will make it into a fruit. But when it is a fruit, then the insect will enter and eat it off.

So when you are becoming a fruit, you have to be very careful that no insect should get into you. On the contrary, now you have the capacity to destroy all of the insects. And that is what is, I would say, is the state where we should all come up to.

So you are destroying insects on one side and satisfying people on the other side.

Collectivity is, of course no doubt, is the only way you can be cleansed, but the greater thing is to go out, all out, to find out where can I spread Sahaja Yoga, where can I go, what is the nearest village I can go, where will I work it out. All those things the more you think the better it is and you start moving in that direction.

Once you start moving in that direction, you will be surprised Sahaja Yoga will move ahead of you.

You'll meet the people whom you want, you'll get all the necessary help that you want, suddenly you'll find some people who'll come down and say “now what can we do for you." Every type of help starts coming to you the way you expand yourself.

It's like the expanding your wings, like a bird does and then you take off. But if you don't extend yourself, you keep Sahaja Yoga to yourself only, it doesn't work. I know you love Me very much and you know I love you very much, but don't you think others should also share this love. Others should also have this.

Now when we start struggling, we also struggle with people who are very difficult, like my brother, my brother's son...

Just don't go near My, get away. My is the most difficult thing. You see in My family, I don't touch them because once you go to My they sit on your heads, or maybe they'll sit on the heads of the Sahaja Yogis or something, nothing.

So don't go to the people, it is my sister, she's my sister-in-law, nothing of the kind. What you have to do is to see what is beyond and the more you'll go beyond the better it will be.

See you can see clearly, we have worked so hard in Maharashtra it is a useless place I find. Maharashtrian Sahaja Yogis are few, very few, but whatever are there are also not so good.

While Delhi Sahaja Yogis, now here in Madras [Chennai], in Bangalore, see what nice Sahaja Yogis are there.

So much work I have done there.

So those who are very near to you, always cannot see the greatness of you. Like if you go near the big mountain you cannot see the big mountain, you have to be away and then you see.

In the same way, when you want to do some work with anyone, try to see that you are not closely related nor do you have any connections with them.

Something unknown. These people are much better for you to follow and they will keep your attention tight, absolutely [UNCLEAR]. Otherwise the people who are known to you will trouble you.

Now there are many difficulties in spreading Sahaja Yoga, there were many, many more before, slowly these are coming down. Naturally it is much better than at the time of Thomas because he had to hide his treatise to save it from others. He thought a day will come when there will be resurrection time, then this treatise would be revealed. Imagine, only forty-eight years back, now it would be around 53 or fifty years back, it was discovered.

It was not discovered before. He had to hide it. But now we are not to hide. We are to go all out and must know, must forgive.

That, you see, ours is an open place where anybody can come in.

So we get all kinds of people, if you go and meet people also there is all kinds of oppositions, all these things, doesn't matter. Everything can be overcome but first is your own initiative and your own lethargy which has to be overcome. Then it will start spreading out. Of course we have already lot of Sahaja Yogis, in Russia, if you see, we have so many in thousands.

But in every place we can have lots of people now and I'm sure this is a nice year where they say so predict that Sahaja Yoga will grow very much this year.

So this is the beginning we are starting today. I just wanted to tell you that you have the power, you have the Shakti within your reach. They said it was very cold one day before I came here, I said don't worry, I didn't give bandhan or anything. I just came here and how they know. It's become all right, you are sitting in your kurta pyjamas.

Otherwise you would have been in your three piece suits shivering. That's how it works. But you have to be that way dedicated. Now for all these Sūrya [sun] and chandra [moon] and all these stars and whole cosmos has only one thing to do, is to see that Sahaja Yoga is spreading well, is settling well and is achieving it's goal. Every element is working it out. Everything is working, this Param-Chaitanya is working around so many ways.

You are not to be convinced about Me I know. But now you have to be convinced about yourself that you have all the powers. I mean I don't do anything really to be very frank. If I could do everything, I would not have had it, I would have done it Myself. But you have to do it, you are My channels. You are the channels of Shakti. But do it in a way which is gracious, which is beautiful, which is very satisfying.

Like yesterday, that musician, he just wanted to entertain you. He wanted to play. Even he was enjoying it. In the same way we should want to do it. I don't have to tell you. And I am sure, in every area that you work, in every personality whom you meet, you can start talking about Sahaja Yoga and tell them.

It works. It acts. Moreover it is behind you, the whole power of all the deities and in front is Sahaja Yoga running forward fast, is Param-Chaitanya: `Now the Sahaja Yogis are coming, all right, let them not eat their food, finished', organizing. Everything so beautifully done.

Now see the arrangements, I mean I was thinking such few people here and about twenty Sahaja Yogis in Madras [Chennai], can you believe it, all this arrangement. How it's working out. How it is giving results, it's really remarkable.

So have faith in yourself, have faith in all of them helping you, not to be nervous and just go ahead.

Because the Shakti is in you. You have the power. Every kind of power you have, I assure you, you have every power.

Ask for it and you'll have it. Whatever you ask for it, you'll have it. But don't hesitate. As I said the other day, that I beg you sit on the throne, then also I put the crown on your head. And also I say “now you are the king" but still you are running away and not believing Me, looking this side with fear, `am I a king really, how can I be?' That's not the way. Have faith in yourself.

I'm very happy you all have come here. We are trying to do whatever is possible to make you comfortable and for you to provide whatever is necessary. Of course you are only just spirits and you try to find the comfort of your spirit. I know that you are very adjusting yourself. Everybody is surprised how you people from the West who just believe in materialism can take to Sahaja Yoga, they are quite surprised. But you are all very sweet people, I think something very special who have come to Sahaja Yoga. And by God's grace, I'm sure you will be the people who will be the foundation of Sahaja Yoga and you will build the great mansion of Sahaja Yoga with your wisdom, faith, Shakti and love.

Today we'll worship the Shakti, very much needed, the Shakti who destroyed all the devils, all the Rākshasas. That is what you are going to worship today, the Shakti within you and without. It's your desire which is going to work.

So today we are going to worship the Shakti itself, Mahākālī.

May God bless you.

So, today first we'll have the washing of Feet and with that we'll have one Atharva Shirsha we'll do and then we can have thousand names, which are made very easily compiled together by the Noida people, which you can sing. That's how we can worship the Shakti.

Contents: 1991-12-09*, Public Program, Bangalore, Karnataka, India

[..... One seed can give a big tree, this beautiful atmosphere. How these trees,]... plants and bushes, all of them how they grow up to a limited area. How individually they produce whatever they are supposed to produce. Look at our eye. What a complicated thing this eye is. What a camera it is. How many things it does. We never even think how did we get this camera fixed here which is doing so many things. We just take everything for granted.

And also I might say that science can not tell you how. It can say it is. Whatever they find honestly they say it is. Beyond that they cannot say how.

Now, we have to also think about one more thing: that we have become human beings from amoeba stage to this stage we have come. But is this the absolute that we have reached? Is this the end of our evolution? If it was so there would have been no problems. We all would have been very different people, all understanding each other.

So we turn to the scriptures which says that you are to be born again.

Some say you must have Ātmā bodha, so that you get your mokshas.

Some say that you have to become Wali.

What is it they are taking about? They are big people of different awareness. And if you try to understand that they are taking of an Absolute Nature of human beings. The Absolute Nature of human beings is the Spirit.

Now I would say....

[Human beings have been given the freedom to seek the truth. While seeking the truth we go wrong but unless we find the truth, we are not going to be happy or satisfied and moreover, apart from finding it, it is the last breakthrough of our evolution. If we don't become the Spirit we are not yet complete and will go on fighting with ourselves and with everyone, struggling all the time till you have found out what we are.] [This Kuṇḍalinī is a Pure Desire, all other desires are not pure. Suppose you want a house. You struggle to get a house and then immediately you start thinking of something else. This is because in general wants are not satiable. The reason is that these are not pure wants. The pure want is to be the Spirit, to be connected with this All Prevailing Power which does all living work. This connection has to established otherwise we are not going to be restful. The stress is nothing but the struggle to be that. All these diseases are because of our mistakes in a way that we are blind, because we haven't got knowledge.

You are not sinning bur you are ignorant. Like Kabīr has said “How can I tell them for the whole world is blind." Gyāneshvara went into Samādhi at the age of twenty three years. They were very frustrated that they cannot talk to you and tell you what is for you benevolence. This is because we are so conditioned.

We are conditioned on left side because we are very ritualistic. If we are born in a particular religion we are that. But we don't even think that all these religions must be coming from the same source. All these incarnations and prophets are the flowers on the same tree. We think we are the best and the rest are all horrible. They are all related to each other. Christ has said “Those who are not against me are with me." Every religion started with great ideas os spreading righteousness and ultimately Self-realisation, Ātmānubhooti, Ātmā bodha and moksha. It deviated because it did not find the truth.] [You understand all this when you jump into that awareness where you have complete light to see the truth. The Spirit is the source of that truth. The truth is absolute. It is not whether it is red or black. For example if you have ten children who are realised Souls; you tie up their eyes and ask them please tell us what's wrong with this gentleman, they feel the vibrations of that person. Whatever you achieve in your evolution you achieve on your central nervous system. We have to achieve a higher evolutionary process called as collective consciousness. That means who is the other? The microcosm becomes the macrocosm.

You become part and parcel of the whole and when you think of anyone you can feel it on your finger tips., Whether he is dead living or awake. If you know how to correct those problems you can cure that person.] [Because there is Ātmā bodha you also know about your own centers which are basically seven. Once you know these seven centers you can easily correct them because it is innate. For example you are sitting there and you see that I am wearing a white sarī. It is there. I don't have to tell you. In the same way it is the easiest thing, it is Sahaja. It is born with you, the right of this union with the Divine power, the all prevailing, the Brahma Chaitanya. It's your birth right as human beings and you should have it. One must know that one cannot pay for it. How much do you pay to this Mother Earth for sprouting the seeds? If anyone takes money then know that he is a cheat. When people start selling God it is a great sin and you cannot pay for it. First find our what kinds of disciples they have created and then you should believe.

What has your Guru done for you? What have you got out of the Guru? Have you got any powers? Are you peaceful or healthy? What's the use of having a Guru who is prospering very much and the disciples are getting sick and poverty stricken? In Kali Yuga these things were to happen.] [In Sahaja Yoga your life becomes a miracle. You are helped all the time by this Divine Power and you know how to handle it and work it out It is right that you should have it. People get transformed.

You become adjustable, adaptable and absorbent.

So many people have become great artists, musicians, writers, orators etc. Your personality which is glorious starts expressing itself. You are glorious but you are not yet connected. You have to become a collective personality. We have the truth with us and we should become Masters.] [May God bless you.]

Contents: 1991-12-11 Pūjā, Auditorium, Hyderabad, Telangana, India

We have today come to this famous place, Hyderabad, which was ruled by Muslim kings, but they were very Indian and they fought also for the independence of India with the British. You know about Tipu Sultan, who was also a realised Soul but he was killed.

We have in our country one very big problem and that is, individually we are all great people, but when it comes to collective we don't know how to live collectively and that is why we lost our independence.

Anybody can manage us. If we can open our eyes and see, it is quite easily understood that when people try to talk ill of others, involving us, there must be some intention. This has been our failing since long, that people use such methods that they spoil the relationships. And this should not crawl into Sahaja Yoga. When I am in India I think I should put some light on our weaknesses also.

The second weakness we have, that we are very involved with our family; with our children, with our parents, with our brothers, cousins, this, that. Till you are completely deceived or cheated by someone so close, you'll never learn a lesson. We are very involved; all our problems are around them. We cannot get out of our family. All the time we start thinking that: `Sahaja Yoga should help my family. Sahaja Yoga should do this for my family.' In Sahaja Yoga there's another family that has nothing to do with your family. I have seen people, Sahaja Yogis who are of a very high level and suddenly I find they have gone down. They have no reason to suffer in health or in any way. Then I find out that they're attached to some brother or someone who is doing some other kind of Guru business. Instead of we influencing them, they start influencing us.

So we have to really break our relationships with all such people who are negative, because we have had relations and relations and relations all our lives. What did we get out of them? If we do not understand how important it is to be a Sahaja Yogi, that you are the instrument of God Almighty.

So many things you know that even Brahmā, Viṣhṇu, Maheśha did not know. They didn't know much about Kuṇḍalinī. They didn't know how to raise the Kuṇḍalinī. They didn't know how to give Realisation, except for Gurus. Out of them also you know that Janaka had only one disciple. All of them had one each.

So certain things you know are more than anybody had known before. But still if you are sticking on to your old standards and old methods and confusing them with Sahaja Yoga, identifying with them as Sahaja Yoga, then your growth will be very little.

So I have to tell you that, try to get out of this. `Who is my brother? Who is my sister?' Of course it's a good thing to be attached, in a way, to the duties that you have to perform towards everyone, but all the duties should be done in such a manner that you do not get involved into it. It is very important that you should not get involved with those duties. Whatever has to be done you should do, but you shouldn't worry as to the fruit of it. Talking ill about others, saying things just to spoil the relationship is sin, in Sahaja Yoga. Always talk good things about others. For example, if somebody comes and tells Me that such and such person is not good and all that, I tell them lies. I tell them: “That person was praising you so much. Why are you saying all these things against that person?" So it is important for Sahaja Yogis to create a more synthesis, more coordination, more combinations and more bringing in more and more people. But people get more attached to the negative people than to the positive people. That means still you are not in Sahaja Yoga fully. Once you start understanding this it would be very, very clear-cut what you should do and what you should not do as far as these relationships are concerned. I mean, in India it's a common thing for a minister to appoint his nephew, his son, his wife, his grandson, even his servant into some post. It's a common thing, whether they are capable or not. But in Sahaja Yoga you can't do. You have to be a Sahaja Yogi. You can't just get anybody because he's your relation and ask that: `Mother, see now, he's my relation. Please help this man.' Why should God help people who are not Sahaja Yogis? He does not know them and He doesn't want to do it.

So our concept about family life has to change. Of course the best thing you can do for your family is to bring them to Sahaja Yoga, but if you are sticking on to people because they're your family, it's very dangerous.

Then there is second kind of a movement with this behaviour, that you start thinking about your own city: `This is my city.' You could have been born anywhere.

So: “My city. Mother, You come to my city.

Is important." It's like: my home, my relations and my city. Then, my country: “This is my country.

Mother, You must come to my country." I understand. Your concern is good, it's patriotic, that you are worried about other people in your own country. But there should not be any attachment. One should be detached and detached in the way, I would say, that just watch. Just watch yourself and others. See for yourself, why are you so much interested in your own country or in your own capital? Why? Why is it? When you ask this question you'll be surprised, mostly you'll find: `Because I belong to this place, I was born in this place, that's why I want.' Mostly; honest answer. But could be that: `I want also that these people should become Sahaja Yogis. It's easy for me because I am from this place, I would like them to be Sahaja Yogis.' This is one of the basic reasons why Sahaja Yoga does not spread, that we get involved into pockets of our family and we don't go across them to others.

So all our attention, all our behaviour is completely entangled into something which is not Sahaj.

So we have to go beyond and know that our family is different. The whole world is our family, so we have to move out. Don't get stagnated or entangled with a small circle of few people who are negative, but go beyond them, because you've got the powers, you've got everything. You can easily cross over these barriers and see for yourself that you are feeling now mentally very happy, physically all right and spiritually you are there. In our Indian society people take to Sannyāsa. They'll wear [UNCLEAR kashai], go out, many people after certain age take to Sannyāsa. Why not take the Sannyāsa inside just now? What is the need to wait till you get old and then absolutely haggard and then to say that you are a Sannyāsī? Even anyway you are a Sannyāsī at that time, but when you are young you should develop this detachment, a clear-cut detachment: that is, you are attached to Sahaja Yoga and to nothing else.

Nothing is more important than Sahaja Yoga to you. Once we decide that, then you move in that line and you grow in that line very mildly, very well. But supposing you get short-circuited and move somewhere else, then how can there be growth? It looks extremely simple to us: we must help our relations, we must help all other ones. To Indians it is very easy, it happens to them very easily. But the Western people are not like that. They will not go about, wasting their energy about their relations normally. They are worried about themselves and they want that they should achieve the highest themselves.

Now, once we take away our attention from the family, you'll be surprised how this attention works across the family, across this small little wall that we have built. And you are surprised how it expands and how it gives you all the blessings and all the grace of Divine Love. We always start thinking about our relations, about how to be kind to them, how to be nice to them. Or all these things, all these behaviours of how to be nice to them, how to be good to them and all that, can be extended so much, can expand so much. As you love them, as you care for them, as you are attached to them, if you get attached to Sahaj then the light will spread.

For example now, near Hyderabad there are many small cities, small places, lots of them. You can all take up one city or one small little village or something. Go there and talk about Sahaja Yoga. It will definitely work out. That's how in England they have worked it out and in many other countries.

So I have to tell all the Sahaja Yogis who are here in Hyderabad and who are also in other places, like Vishakapatnam or Vijayawada or anywhere; all of them should understand that at least they can spread it in their city, Sahaja Yoga, very fast, in case they get detached from their family. I know of certain Sahaja Yogis, their wives are so strong at it that they cannot overcome even their wives, leave alone other relations. We have had an experience of such women. Specially in India there is a rule that whatever is the Dharma of the husband, that a wife has to follow. But still I've seen that even the wives can be very powerful because they're so assertive, so aggressive. And if the husband is simple he has to suffer.

So here I would say that one should not succumb to anyone because he's dominating or in any way assertive, but stand back and tell that this is the Dharma we are following and nobody has business to check us. We are on a fundamental right, doing it.

Now the question is about how we deal with each other in Sahaja Yoga, how we live with each other, how we talk to each other. What is the net result? Do we have a complete rapport with other Sahaja Yogis in the same city? Do you invite them to your house as you would invite your neighbours? In any matter whatsoever pertaining to you, any matter whatsoever, the relations have nothing to do with you.

That's how you will start getting detached and not worrying about it.

Now here are the many Western Sahaja Yogis. [Hindi].

The description I've given now of when people who are left-sided actually, they have attachments of the left side. The right side attachments are different type, as you know very well. The first one is that they are individualistic, they don't like collectivity. They think it is a force on them; it is a binding thing, so that they cannot rise. Right-sided people have the biggest problem is of ego, which is all the time sitting like a snake, coiled up.

Something goes wrong, suddenly it comes up, Ha! and you see a snake come up now. The snake is very springy. But now with Sahaja Yoga it is getting intoxicated, I think; it doesn't come up.

So the attachments: on what points do we get upset? We should write it down. All right. For example, what do I get upset with, Myself? When I see a Sahaja Yogi becoming bhootish I get upset. But you just try to find out: `When do I get upset?' and you'll be surprised, most of those things are out of Sahaja Yoga; they have nothing to do with Sahaja Yoga. But you are very upset, very angry and you don't want to talk about it.

So this attitude of mind has to be changed. When you are set now in Sahaja Yoga, how can you be upset? That means you are not set: simple thing. You are now set in Sahaja Yoga.

So how can you be upset? A very common language there is to say: “I hope you are not upset." When you say somebody is upset, he's upset, I mean, may be whether you hope or don't hope! But we do not also consider how do we upset others? We don't also find out the ways and methods, how not to upset others. And even the humour we have, if it is pinching humor, if it is disturbing humor, if it is denouncing humor, that can upset a person very much.

So what sort of language we speak, what sort of communication we have, what sort of harm we do to people: you need not be hot-tempered, your ego may not be seen, but it's the style, very sly style of the ego, just to say something horrible. Second way is of criticising others all the time: “This is not good, that is not good, this not good." Who has asked you to judge it? So you should not judge yourself, at the same time you should not judge others and punish them. In our day to day life we have to develop a very sweet language, extremely sweet. We have to work it out, actually work it out, because even coming to Sahaja Yoga still it lingers, certain things and these habits can be corrected very simply, very easily. It belongs to the tongue, not to us, so it's very easy to get rid of them.

The obstinacy is another thing which is a horrible thing. Anybody suffers from this kind of very subtle obstinacy; obstinacy [UNCLEAR rests], these things are tied down with a rope. Now whatever may happen, you are tied down: “Once I have decided, I have decided." “But what is the harm in changing?" “No, no, no, no; we don't want any change." Now in Sahaja Yoga I'm happy, nothing is decided, nothing is fixed. We were to have Pūjā, say, yesterday; we'll have it today, that too in the morning. It should not upset you because it's all done to keep your upsetting you away.

So when is the program and when is not the program is not important. What is important is that how you have managed with that change. If you do not know how to manage the change, then your transformation is incomplete.

Now this English language I have learnt in this lifetime and I find there are some good points about it, that you must say ten times: `Thank you' even if somebody gives you water, or fifteen times: `Sorry!' morning till evening.

In a way it is good, but if it's just a lip service, then everybody knows that you have to say `Thank you', so they said “Thank you" so well. But at the same time, if you remember how graciously he did that for you, just remember that. Next time you meet that person, all this graciousness will come out, because you get a feeling: somebody does something for you, you get a beautiful feeling of gratitude. And once you get that feeling, if you remember that feeling, then you'll go on adding up to it.

[Aside:]: I think you also sit in the sun, is too much hot.

It goes on adding. The more you add these beautiful feelings within yourself: `How I felt when they did it.' Every time you get some sort of a experience of that kind, if you keep it within yourself, any time you open that area of your memory, all the beauty will start pouring on you, of that feeling.

So we have to learn new methods of making ourselves happy. Before that we used to be happy when we hurt others, we used to be happy when we were sarcastic with others. But now we have to develop a new method of making ourselves happy; and once your mind goes on to that: `I have to be happy, joyous.

What am I doing? Why am I doing like this? How can I be happy? By saying a harsh thing to others or by saying something mischievous, how can I be happy? I cannot be.' Then, `This Mister Ego, he makes me extremely unhappy. He's really spoilt my mood.' And you tell him to get out now, get down, get down. Then it will go down.

At this juncture when you are so advanced in Sahaja Yoga, I should not have told all these things to you; I agree with you entirely, that now the time is not for telling you all these things regarding your behaviour toward other Sahaja Yogis. But even a slightest movement completely changes the atmosphere.

So one has to be extremely careful and attentive, has to know what you say, what you have to say, how you behave and how you create a feeling. In the society of Sahaja Yoga we have beautiful people, we laugh, we enjoy, we do all kinds of things and really we are in the most joyous company all the time. After all it's joy and what we achieve in joy is the highest. At the same time we have to remember that the collective subconscious is there and that may just jump sometime and come back. Sahaja Yoga doesn't believe in any revenge, hatred; nothing of the kind. It doesn't believe in any kind of a false pride, or any kind of restrictions or anything. It believes in the pure sense of humanity and also the great work of Sahaja Yoga.

It gives you great pleasure to be kind, to be nice; so subside, to subside these habits you have to do some abyas, you have to practice and introspect yourself. I am not saying because anybody has reported anything that is like that, nothing, in no way. But at this juncture I am just telling you, because now when you will be going out you'll be meeting new people, then you might have problems, might have problems of facing people whom you would be harsh, you would be more meticulous, you may be much more aggressive than normal. All these things will upset, upset them; but if you are peaceful, tolerant, forgiving, that will definitely make them feel that you are saints. If they are difficult leave them alone, don't argue, by argument you cannot give them

Realisation. If they don't have wisdom they don't deserve it, they don't, they are not destined to be like that. But your style has to be such that they should know that you are saints. In all your self-respect, in all your love you have to talk to them.

So now when you are here in this country you have to decide how you are going to spread Sahaja Yoga when you go back. Same with our Indian Sahaja Yogis: they have to also find out ways and methods, how they will spread Sahaja Yoga.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-12-14 Dance Drama by Kirti Shiladar, Marriage of Śhrī Rukminī and Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, Pune, Maharashtra, India

The Natya Sangeet classical style of art is dying; it is My dream to revive it. The thousand petals of your Sahasrāra gives you countless capabilities. From there people have made all the great discoveries and gained all the knowledge about science. Such people who have reached the Sahaja avastha are the greatest creators of art and music. Whatever they create is of eternal nature. You should support their work, even if you have to pay a little more.

Contents: 1991-12-14 Dinner followed by Talk to Sahaja Yogis, after Dance Drama, Pratishthan, Pune, Maharashtra, India

Marathi drama is very sensitive. We still have some very great playwrighters [playwrights] n Maharashtra.

There are so many talented yogis, why not start a theatre group to give people the eternal values. After realisation the creativity within you just flowers, you can create music, poetry, literature, but above all you have to create Sahaja Yogis. That is the main creation you have to achieve. You have to inspire them and bless them with the joy of the spirit... We have already started an academy for classical Indian music; soon we will introduce Indian dancing. We have found a teacher for miniature art too. It is so soothing and makes you thoughtless.

[About a Hindi film that was on the television:] There is too much obscenity in films... when I was on the Censor Board it was not so much! They show all the romance before marriage and after marriage it gets over!

Contents: 1991-12-15 Śhrī Gaṇeśha Pūjā, Shere, Pune, Maharashtra, India

Today we are really sitting in very close relationship with the nature.

The whole thing, as you can see very clearly, is done by villagers and in a very simple way and I'm sure you must all be enjoying it very much.

Today being the first Pūjā in Maharashtra, we have to do Gaṇeśha Pūjā, but one has to understand how it is so important in Maharashtra that people worship Gaṇeśha. As you know there are... eight Gaṇeśhas are there around this area and this triangle of Maharashtra which has got on one side one big mountain. On the other side we have another mountain which, of course, is not in Maharashtra. And also on top we have another mountain.

So like a triangle which is made like a Mūlādhāra means the Kuṇḍalinī itself.

So the Kuṇḍalinī of the whole world resides in this area. That's why it is called, we should say, as Maharashtra, as the country which is very great, the nation which is very great. But I don't know how far Maharashtrians realise that they are sitting in the land of Maharashtra.

This land which is vibrated by Śhrī Gaṇeśha has its own simplicity, has its own vibrations, a different style, a different type. The best part of Maharashtra is that it gives you a very good attention. With Gaṇeśha so much vibrating, the attention becomes very concentrated and this concentration helps you in so many ways and that is why it is said that Gaṇeśha was created to spread or to emit auspiciousness and holiness. Actually, if there is holiness there is auspiciousness. For Gaṇeśha is the one actually who cleanses everything, cleanses everything because it is innocence and the innocence that cleanses you takes away all kinds of conditionings and egos that are distracting your attention.

So the attention which is so wobbly otherwise in other places can settle down very well in Maharashtra because of Śhrī Gaṇeśha's blessings that this country has, that people have very good attention. With that good attention you can really do so many things like now, for example, you can see the software. Good mathematics. They're very good at music because all these things require tremendous attention. Art, dancing, anything which requires tremendous attention, that has to come only through Gaṇeśha. Because they say Gaṇeśha is a giver of wisdom. He's a giver of wisdom. Means just His wisdom becomes just a Dharma, becomes a part and parcel of your being. You become just wise. Now somebody may ask, O Mother how to become wise. It's very difficult to say how to become wise. It is just that it happens that you become wise.

So, though He's a child, He's so matured. He's so wise. And He's not only that, but He emits wisdom and this wisdom is an innate quality of anyone who is a Sahaja Yogi because in him, also, Śhrī Gaṇeśha has been awakened.

So he becomes a wise person, very wise and with wisdom what does he achieve? He achieves a balance, a proper ascent and also he understands that this ascent is for his benevolence, for the benevolence of his country, benevolence of the whole world. He understands the importance of Sahaja Yoga. Without this wisdom, one cannot understand. And this wisdom is within us, just absolutely, innately built in. Only thing is we have to use the storehouse of this wisdom that is within us.

Of course, with Sahaja Yoga, it starts emitting and you start feeling and you start understanding what this wisdom is. You give up all your stupid, childish things. You give up all your attachments. You give up many of your, say, things that you don't like which doesn't behove you. You feel that you should give up, but you cannot. But, with Sahaja Yoga, it just happens automatically and you just see in your light what is needed, what is not needed. In that wisdom you throw away whatever is wrong.

So that a great work this Gaṇeśha has to do within ourselves. This manifestation of Gaṇeśha within us is very important, I think, not that it is only the blessings, but also the foundation stone of spiritual life is Śhrī Gaṇeśha. That's why I've been very anxious that we should find out proper schools for our children. They should have proper education and they should be looked after because their Gaṇeśh Tattwa is already there. Only thing we have to nourish it, we have to look after it and make it grow. Once that happens then children are safe. Then nothing, nothing can harm them. Nothing they will absorb which is wrong. They will never be again in the wrong path. But if from early childhood, you did not have this kind of training or this kind of understanding about Kuṇḍalinī or about wisdom part of it, you can never, later on, easily assimilate it. For that, you really require a great effort and understanding that you have to have this. It's so beautiful. You must get this attention and you must get this innocence within. With Sahaja Yoga, as you see, it's working out very fast and people are getting, really, very wise and I can see the wisdom writ large on their faces.

In this wisdom what do we find here? You see, on any line that we move, we can find that most of our problems are coming from human beings because ecological problem, or any problem we think of, comes from human beings. Or other programs that you have in your own country, as you have seen, that they are such problems that it's sort of endless and they cannot change them. You feel very nice sitting underneath this because you are fed up... that you have and the problems that it causes to you and the way it is now becoming very artificial.

But in these circumstances, one has to understand that the... wisdom plays such a part in life that whatever may happen outside, whatever may be the trend, whatever may be the fashion, whatever maybe the people are all changing into, you do not change. You change within. Once you are changed within, then you have full idea as to what is expected of others, what they should do, what you are doing and how to deal with them and how to talk to them, how to tell them, how far to go with them, everything. All this comes through wisdom.

In Sahaja Yoga, as you know, you are very capable people, you have achieved a lot, you know everything, you know all about Chakras. You know practically everything. I don't have to tell you anything. Despite all that, one should have also the wisdom how to deal with others, how to talk to others, how to behave towards others, how not to control anyone, not to say something that would be rather harsh or hurting.

Because, if you are trying to spread Sahaja Yoga, this is the only way we can go forward, is to look after everyone with great compassion.

Now, we might think that wisdom is there with us and we know how to do so many things with our wisdom and now we are absolutely wise. Agree, with Sahaja Yogis, now they have become really very, very wise and they know how to use their wisdom.

But still, faith in themselves really has to be of the Nirvikalpa state. That is only possible also through Śhrī Gaṇeśha because He is in Nirvikalpa. He has Nirvikalpas, nothing. He doesn't have to question anything. He doesn't have to ask for anything. He is just there. And He's in complete Nirvikalpa.

Complete, absolutely into a state where He is not at all attached, nor is He worrying about things, nothing of the kind. He is just in Nirvikalpa and in that Nirvikalpa He worships Mother.

Small, small stories can show He how you were so sure of Himself, how He had courage and how He worked out everything so intelligently. But when you are doing something, you can be in two minds. You can be not so decisive, but He was and He is, always very decisive that He knows what is to be done like the, this is the point.

So, in wisdom you don't have to think, argue. I've seen many people who say, Mother, you see, we were thinking, then we had vibrations. We didn't know what to do, this, that, how to do, how to correct, how to work it out. Now, I must say this is a state. It is not a state to be achieved, but it's a state. Means you are there. It has to be innately built in yourself, this state of wisdom. But you can also work it out by just concentrating on yourself and trying to find out what's the matter with me, what happens, why, why is it I'm like this. The introspection can help you a lot to be extremely wise, but [UNCLEAR] easier method is to worship the principle of innocence within yourself.

For example now, we are dealing with, supposing, somebody who is a thief, say. He's a thief now.

What should you do with a thief. After you have found out whatever was lost, the material you had, after that, what are you to do is just to forget about it completely. Once it has happened, then you have to just forget, not to worry about it too much, Oh, this has happened, that has happened and how to make this point all right and this gentleman is not all right. This, that. Just forget it.

So the wisdom is also in forgiving. That why Christ talked about forgiveness? Just forgive. There's no sense in remembering. This person said so, this person did so, that happened so. Just forget it and once you start forgetting all these things, you know, you'll remember right things and useless things you'll just forget.

You don't remember who has insulted you, who has troubled you, who has been misbehaving. I don't even think about people who have gone out of Sahaja Yoga, talking ill about Me, saying things, this, that.

It's all right. Let them say whatever they like, I am not bothered.

But what bothers Me more, that if they do like this, I don't know what will happen to them. That's the only wisdom part of it, that, you see, when I forgive everyone I... forgive. I have nothing to say.

But then also a thought comes in, that if they're doing like this, then what's going to happen to them.

They're doing this to some one who's so good, who's so religious, so highly placed in spiritual life. Then you can't play about but somebody's playing, then what you have to do is to really forgive because one thing is built-in in Sahaja Yoga that who tries to trouble you they will be trouble also.

So try to forgive at least, at least you soothe them down. All right, I forgive you.

So soothe them done. Like this kind of a wisdom you should have, not to get after people, not to pester some one, not to be very strict, not to be very sort of, I should say, pursue the matter. Whatever is it, that point you should finish off and just don't worry.

I was telling just now that there is a servant, supposing. Now, he steals your money, all the time. You know he steals your money. Now what to do if he's stealing your money? One thing is to get out, to ask him to get out. Then you have another one. Then again you get him out and get another one. Go on like that because they're poor people...

Now even if you're careful, still they might steal, so what you should do is just to forgive the person and put the money in such a place that he cannot reach. Finished. As simple as this. You should just find out what does he steal. Oh, that's all. Then you keep it one side.

But don't worry about all the time that, `Now, how am I to save myself from this thief or how am I to punish him?' Just don't think. These incidents are just like a breeze coming any way. These relationships are just like that. There's no depth in it. They're not going to bring any kind of unhappiness or happiness, whatever it is, if you go on lingering about them.

So, the first thing is live in the present. The wisdom is in living in the present. Present, we are here, so forget the past. Now, if I say forget the past, then they say, How to do it? How to forget the past. Again, I would say, meditation is the only way. You give up your left and you give up your right and you are just standing in the center, enjoying the wisdom, enjoying the joy of your being.

So, the best part of our lives is spent in bothering, in getting upset, in getting worried, getting after some one. Where is the time? Just think like that. Now supposing some one says something to Me and then others will say, Mother, you must do something about it. You must punish that person. Where is the time? We have to awaken the Kuṇḍalinī of thousands and thousands and thousands and here we are just worried about something nonsensical.

So our wisdom is finished. We have no wisdom at all. Even at the highest level you can see people don't have wisdom. Highest level of realisation I've seen people who do not have wisdom in the sense that they want to run away, they just get fed up, take Sannyāsa, finished, go to Himālayas, live there happily.

There's no wisdom in that also.

So living in the present you don't also feel tired because you don't think of the past and the future and you live very well and in great happiness, you improve things and you don't think of the future, what is going to happen to me or anything and that's how you save lot of troubles of others, as well as yours.

So this wisdom is to live in the present, is now that you ask somebody, How are you? All right. And he's not in the present. You ask somebody, Are you enjoying yourself? Not in the present. You ask somebody, Are you happy? No. Then you are not in the present. You ask some one that, Are you hungry? Maybe, may not be. Maybe they don't know even in the present if they are hungry or not.

It's so much that they're lost in the past and in the future, that's the sign of unwise behaviour, unwise line. If they don't know whether they'd like to have their food or not. But those who are really in the present forget all these small, small things. They're just in the present and in the present whatever they have to do, they just do it.

This is a very good practice. One has to to practice wisdom through living in the present. Just say, What am I to do right now? What am I to do. Like you're getting out of the house. Many people leave half way, Oh, my God, I have left my passport. They'll go back. Then again, some time they will come out. My God, I have left my spectacles. Again go back. Then again they will come back and say, I have lost this. I should have this. These kind of people are very, very common.

So at that style when you are leaving the house, say, at that time, if you're in the present, then you just think, What have I to take? Just say, One, two, three, four, five. Yes, this is is what I have to take and this there. That's how you can really establish yourself in wisdom, itself, means the wisdom acts by itself. It's a power. Wisdom is a very big power. If you are a wise person, it's a power. It can combat any kind of ignorance, any kind of attacks, any kind of stupidity. It's such a tremendous power that one has given us that we are wise and this wisdom you should try to really, to develop it and mature it properly within ourselves.

So today's Śhrī Gaṇeśha's Pūjā is there. Now you should ask for wisdom and for that we have to be in the present. Every way we should be in the present. If you can try, you can be because your Kuṇḍalinī has been awakened and you can be all the time in the present, but today you should first try and get the Kuṇḍalinī established in the present.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-12-21 Śhrī Mahālakṣhmī Pūjā (English+Hindi+Marathi), Jaysingapur (near Kolhapur), Maharashtra, India

[Shri Mataji talks in English:] I am in a dilemma what language I should speak to you all. First I'll speak in English, then in Hindi, then in Marathi. [Laughter.] We all have come here to Kolhapur to worship the Mahālakṣhmī.

And you all know about the importance of Mahālakṣhmī. That Suṣhumnā Nāḍī is the channel for Mahālakṣhmī. But this principle of Mahālakṣhmī is only possible to manifest in us when our principle of Lakṣhmī is satisfied. When we see poverty in India we really get very upset about it and think: `When will it be all right, when all these people will also get the blessings of the Divine?' [Aside:] [Hindi.] So the principle of the Divine works through Mahālakṣhmī. It's a vicious circle that you have to get to a point where your Lakṣhmī principle is satisfied and then only you start seeking and that seeking comes from the Mahālakṣhmī principle within us.

So Sahaja Yoga grows in the middle path, in the middle section of the society. Very rich will seldom come to Sahaja Yoga and if they come only, they'll just take few advantages of it and they won't understand the depth of it. In the same way the poor cannot come.

So these are like the two shores of one river that is flowing in between and if we start expanding it, then we will definitely shower the blessings of the Divine on all both the shores and I'm sure lots of people who look today to be poor and who appear to be rich, will definitely become Sahaja Yogis. It's such a vicious circle, that unless and until you become a Sahaja Yogi, your financial situations cannot be improved very much. But you cannot become Sahaja Yogi unless and until you have got your principle of Lakṣhmī satisfied.

But how do we get our Lakṣhmī principle satisfied?, That we should see.

That when we have little more money than required, then we start thinking: `What shall I do with this money?' Then some people think: `All right, I'll have one more car, I'll have one more house, I'll have one more this, more that.' But sagacity sets in. A kind of a satisfaction sets in: `Now, what more?' In addition to that we have taxations, thanks to the government and all kinds of problems.

So people think: `Now, I've had enough of it, now no more, finished with it.' So the hankering goes away. Hankering for money goes away. In Sahaja Yoga you are so blessed that you start getting whatever you like and at a point you reach and you think: `Oh wah, too much, now no more, I've all.' This is also another way, even before your Lakṣhmī principle is satisfied, that if you get your Selfrealisation you can short-circuit the whole thing. If that is short-circuited, then also you can enter into Mahālakṣhmī principle. But in case where your situation is such that now you have become overly rich and if that richness has gone into your head and you think no end of yourself, then there are still some chances of you getting into Sahaja Yoga. For example, if a very rich man is there, if he gets sick, if he gets cancer, or his children start misbehaving, or he suddenly gets a bad reputation somewhere, some sort of a shock from his right side can push him to the center.

Now the left-sided people are, who are suffering too much because they are poor, because they are lethargic, because they don't know how to get to their jobs, they have no ambitions, nor do they compete.

In a way they're in a better situation than the rich, because they don't have to worry so much about income tax, as if they have solved their problems by having no income, no car. If you have no car then you have, you don't have problems of car. If you have no, I've done that way; I've, I never drive, so somebody has to drive Me. I can go by bus, I can go by rickshaw, anything. But if you drive, then you have to drive all the rest of the people! If you have got, say, a house, you have a problem. Everything that you possess, so-called, you have a problem. And till you develop a complete detached feeling about it, the problems are there.

So then what happens to you, that when you start, all these problems creeping up. In India specially I've seen, people become generous, very miserly people also become generous because they become so fed up with their so-called wealth that they start distributing it and giving it away.

So the principle of Lakṣhmī is to give away, to be generous. That principle starts working. Then the second principle of Lakṣhmī also works with them when they have very nice beautiful houses and things, then they want people to come to their house, stay there, see; look after, I mean, look after them and give them food and, I mean, they enjoy all this giving parties, or maybe money, anything.

So this generosity starts. But that generosity also is not very satisfying. They think that: `Still this generosity is getting into my head, I'm still feeling as if I have done some great job, you see, by being generous.' Then this generosity, when it doesn't satisfy them, then they start thinking of getting to the truth of life.

There's a story about Shivaji, very interesting story. He was once building a very huge big fort. And people were working and he was just looking at them and he thought: `See now, what a nice thing I am doing. I have given so much work to so many poor people.' And he was feeling quite happy about it.

And he was looking at them. Suddenly his Guru, Rāmdās Swāmī came there and they were breaking one boulder. They said: “Slowly, slowly break it. Do not hit it hard." They were breaking slowly, ultimately they came to a stone which was just like one coconut.

So Rāmdās Swāmī took that coconut in his hand and broke it and there was water in it and there was a frog sitting inside. Then Shivaji Mahārāj realised that when God creates you, He also provides you with things. You need not be proud that you are doing so much for others.

So in this generosity in the social work and so-called doing for the poor, also, you develop a kind of a very funny ego and think no end of yourself. And to pamper it also, people can give you a peace prize, can give you a Nobel prize, this prize, that prize. Then of course there's a very hard nut they create out of your brains. That is how even this generosity can be very dangerous, which creates this kind of a feeling that we are something great and we are doing this great work and we are just looking after so many people.

So then we come to another kind of people who are really very miserly. They can never change. I think it's a disease, with people who are miserly. They are extremely miserly and sometimes I see the whole nation is of a miserly nature. They talk of money and there's no decency about it. Many countries, who are supposed to be very rich, we're surprised that the people of that country are not only miserly but indecent and can't understand how they could be like that: there's no culture about it. Like somebody came with us and we went to a hotel for a dinner. And after the dinner lots of things were left over, so they got up and said: “Pack it for us." We Indians, I mean, we started looking here and there: “What is this?" “Oh, we paid for it." Doesn't matter, you can't just say, do that in this country.

So there's no shame, there's no decency, there's no decorum about it. This is the greatest curse of being rich. People become absolutely shameless, indecent, arrogant and above all, absolutely irreligious.

So one has to fear now, those things which are so illusory and look like something being very, very great to achieve, how they can make a human being so horrible, so indecent. Because the rich have no manners at all of any kind, they have no Maryādās of any kind and they don't care for what others are going to say, or what they have to be.

So such rich countries have gone from left to right, right to left, like a yo-yo and are still doing the same. And also the kind of a ego that comes into a rich man is really very stupid, extremely stupid and people would laugh at them, the way they behave. You must have heard about the king who made chappals out of pearls and there are people who are trying to show off their wealth in the most hideous manner. To them, to show off their wealth is the only criteria, but whether it is decent or whether it is decorous, or then, is it some sort of a very cultured behaviour, they're not bothered. They are the people who are killers of culture and that's how we find the people or the countries which are rich, absolutely kill all the culture, all the behaviour, heart of human beings. And the second thing they get into is complete immorality, complete immorality: they have no morals of any kind. To them a girl of twenty years is the same as a ānce, whether they are 80 years of age. They have no sense of proportion; extremely immoral, live a very immoral and an absolutely low-graded life which even an animal would not do.

So they get even not only human, subhuman, but subanimal also.

So all the decency that comes from your culture, or all the norms that are described about the culture, just disappear. Ha, they may have a decency as to what glass should be used for which wine. Or could be what sort of a dress should be worn for a particular thing, but even that is gone now. Anything is possible: `What's wrong?' This arrogance of a very incorrigible ego is even thickened when there are five, six more like them, because a competition starts. One says one thing so another says even a higher thing than that and the third one starts to compete and says something more than that; and there's a going on and on and on and on between these people, all kinds of horrible expressions of their ugly wealth. The whole society becomes so ugly. It so happened, unfortunately, that I had to be with such people also. But thank God I have My own people, now you are here, My own style, My own type. All of you are here, so close to Me, so much and what an atmosphere you have created. Even people in Kolhapur and here are all saying: “We have never seen such beautiful people, so well behaved, so balanced. They never fight. They never say bad words and they never hit each other." Because whatever we had known of foreigners was this, that they would come, enter into any house, during the time of British and get whatever they wanted.

And later on, these were soldiers and later on came the hippies. Then came Hari Rāmas, one after the another, one better than the other. All these horrible experiences and then you people coming like great blessings. They are so impressed by you. They are more impressed by you than by Me, I can tell you this much! [Laughter.] I knew that this would happen when they will see lots of Sahaja Yogis together, the way they live, the way they enjoy each other, the way they have a nice time and the way they are detached about things.

Definitely they'll be very much impressed and that's what is happening today.

[Shri Mataji talks in Hindi: MISSING.] [Shri Mataji talks in Marathi: MISSING.]

Contents: 1991-12-21 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, after Marriage Announcements, Kolhapur, Maharashtra, India

I would advise that you people should meet each other, talk to each other, find out; and really this is the time you can decide. We're sorry because so many forms came very late, otherwise we would have declared it in Pune as usual. But this time the forms came till the last. Even here we were receiving some forms.

So we couldn't decide; unless and until you have all the forms for that.

So whatever has been decided by us is not final at all. Your desire is the final. You can talk to each other, be kind. In the beginning there's no need to fight; we have the whole life left! I must tell you, whatever is your first impression is the best.

So need not be artificial but try to be nice to each other and see the good points of each other. Nobody's perfect in this world. Now, those who really do not think that it's all right for them should absolutely, without any hesitation, let Mister Yogi and Mister Guido know about it because they have done all this job; I haven't done it.

We must talk to each other and find for yourself. We had problems with the age; for the young girls we didn't have young boys. And also we had problem with heights.

Somewhere some people have written wrong heights. Might be, we might have done some mistakes, so that we'll try to correct.

May God bless you all.

Contents: 1991-12-22 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, morning after Marriage Announcements, Kolhapur, Maharashtra, India

[Shri Mataji stayed the night in the camp to arrange marriages. Sahaja Yogis were so excited at having Her amidst that while She rested, there began a long discussing on Sahaja Yoga. Shri Mataji wakes up complaining that their chatter did not allow Her to sleep.] When there is a lion in the forest, all the animals become silent in awe. You know how powerful My vibrations become when I sleep, you should have taken this opportunity to meditate and get into the state of Samādhi. Samādhi does not mean going into unconsciousness but the unconscious becomes conscious.

But for that first the silence must be established within and without... I heard you discussing Sahaja Yoga and I just don't know what is there to discuss! You know everything. You know how Kuṇḍalinī rises, how to give realisation, how the Chakras are cleared out; what is there to discuss about it? Discussions are over now! At the most you can talk about your experiences.

[Sahaja Yogis beg forgiveness and start meditating.]

Contents: 1991-12-xx Quote (Marathi) on Sahaja Yoga, Ganapatipule, India

Sahaja Yogis: Shri Mataji, today whatever is happening in Sahaja, the good and the not so good events, when this is all happening, what should we do? Shri Mataji [looks with affection and puts both Her hands in front of Her]: This Sahaja Yoga. Its level is changing and when the level is changing all this is bound to happen. You just do your meditation and come into balance and stay in the witnessing state. All this is going to become alright. When the level of Sahaja Yoga is changing all this is going to happen and will happen.

Contents: 1991-12-23 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Opening Address, Ganapatipule, India

Welcome to all the people from all over the world. Again we are back here in Ganapatipule and very surprising, tomorrow is the biggest day of Śhrī Gaṇeśha's Pūjā; that we should have the Pūjā tomorrow, it's Angaraka tomorrow, is Angaraka Chaturthi.

It has been now more than twenty-one years that Sahaja Yoga has started and when you see the progress of Sahaja Yoga it's amazing, absolutely amazing. We have to keep to this progressive attitude and spread Sahaja Yoga in every way possible. We have to of course be careful when we are spreading the Sahaja Yoga, that there might be some people who are quite negative and may try to pose that they are some special type of Sahaja Yogis; I have known such people throughout: to tell people that I have given them some mantras, special mantras and that I'm, they're very close to Me or sort of, all this kind of nonsense. And people do get impressed by such people who say that: “I'm something special” and that: “Something special has been done to me." It's a very dangerous thing. Whatever is there is all open and for everyone. I have no favourites at all, I cannot have favourites.

So anyone who talks like this, you must know that person must be mad and negative and just shun such a company. Don't go near anyone like that.

Another thing I have to warn you, that by spreading Sahaja Yoga we tend to form groups and this grouping business is extremely dangerous. We should have no groups. We belong to one Vishwa Nirmalā Dharm, to the whole universe. We haven't got any group whatsoever. We believe in all the religions, we respect all the religions and we cannot group ourselves under any banner, saying that: `You are from India,' `You are from Ceylon,' or `You are from England.' You are all from one place and that is Ganapatipule.

Those people who are here should mix with each other, talk to each other. Even if you don't know the language, love does not need any language. And all this atmosphere can improve a lot, even more, if you all start feeling within ourselves that: `We belong to one universal life.' We don't have any individual life any more now. All our individual life is finished. We belong to the collectivity of the whole universe. We have to see to the good points of each one of us and respect each one of us, because we are all saints. We cannot disrespect. We have to see that we have got something within ourselves which is the highest and others also have the same, so we must give them the greatest respect. The greatest understanding should be among all of you, of this Love that has done all this great work of Sahaja Yoga.

Third thing which I want to tell you is this: that there are people who are against us and they will be against us, because they are not with the Truth.

So the best is not to argue with them and to discuss anything with them. They're against us because they're not with us. You cannot force them to be with us, so please do not argue with such people. Just enjoy the company of all other Sahaja Yogis and enjoy the beauty of this Love that is all-pervading, which you have felt so well. We are living in another world, you do not know. Ours is a very different world of great love, understanding and also of great knowledge.

All of you should try to get the knowledge of Sahaja Yoga, everyone, whether you are a child or whether you are an old person, everybody can get the knowledge of Sahaja Yoga. And that's how we have to be very, very knowledgeable. This knowledge without love has no meaning. First of all we must understand what is detached love is and then we can really develop ourselves very well.

So those who do not come to collective cannot get cleansed. Collective is the ocean in which you get cleansed. You don't have to go to Himālayas and do all kinds of penances, but you have to come to collective and once you start coming to collective, then you'll be amazed that you definitely get great advantage of your cleansing; and those who can remain in the collective in a very peaceful manner will definitely rise within themselves. Also we have to have meditation every day regularly. I can make out people who are not meditating and who are meditating: very easy it is.

Lastly I have to say that, I normally don't say `Don't do this' or `Don't do that,' but if I say `Don't do something,' please just don't do it. Because I can see so many things which you can't see. Like the other day I informed the people from Pune who were coming, not to come in the night, but come in the morning.

And in the night here on the road there were so many dacoits who invaded many trucks. Thank God these people started in the morning, so they could not be harmed. Now how I know all these things I can't tell you, but I know.

So if I tell you something, you should not question it, you should not answer it, but you should just try to know that: `Mother knows everything and if She's telling us...' Otherwise I don't say anything about anything. And that is how you will work out better, because I'm like a mouthpiece of this All-pervading Power. It doesn't have a mouthpiece to talk to you, but I'm like a mouthpiece and if I tell you something you have to just trust Me and do not do something which I have said not to do. Moreover, whatever you are doing among yourselves, you must inform Me and tell Me. Don't do something without telling Me. It can create lots of problems later on, so please do not try to do anything without telling Me, which is of a major nature. It is very, very important for all of you to understand.

I never said these things before. Nor did I ever feel... felt that this is the time to tell, but now I think it's high time that I tell you that you have to trust Me and believe Me, that when I tell you, you are to believe in Me, that I am telling you the truth and which is for your benevolence and for your safety, for your caution. I hope you'll understand this and you must know that I love you very much and I care for all of you individually. I know about every one of you, what you are doing, where are you. I know everything somehow. I get concerned and I tell you something. I hope you'll understand that Mother is doing it because of Her love. I don't want My children to suffer or to get into troubles, or to get destroyed.

So I hope you won't mind when I tell you that you shouldn't do like this or you should do like this. It's just an explanation of My own Self I think, that I shouldn't really try to invade, dominate you, but the trouble is if I see something so clearly I think I'd better tell you, otherwise you may land up into difficulties and I hope you don't mind then.

Now we are starting a school here in Washi very soon and children are going to join us from all over and I'm sure it is going to work out very well and later on we'll also admit Indian children there, if they want to come. But just now it's already a big number has come and gradually it is growing; but once we have our place in Vaitarna, we might be able to admit many Indian children also to that school and train them up better.

My Tour is on and I think now we have come to, practically to the end of it and now today you'll be happy to know that Mrs. Hemlata has arrived to sing to you beautiful songs, so I leave this stage for her and let her now entertain you with beautiful songs. She's a very well-known artist and very acclaimed everywhere and she sings beautifully, you know her very well. Already you have heard her voice and she has been so kind to bring all her orchestra and do this for Sahaja Yoga.

So may God bless you all and bless her.

Contents: 1991-12-24 Śhrī Gaṇeśha and Christmas Pūjā (Hindi+English) (Angārki Chaturthi Day), Ganapatipule, India

[Shri Mataji talks in Hindi: MISSING.] [Shri Mataji talks in English:] In short, I told them what is so special about today, tonight, is the time when, this is Tuesday, on Tuesday Śhrī Gaṇeśha was born.

So they celebrate every fourth day of the moon as the Śhrī Gaṇeśha's birth date because He was born on the fourth. But when this fourth falls on a Tuesday then they think it's a tremendous Yoga, because on Tuesday He was born. On Tuesday, this fourth of the month has come, so they just try to worship it as a something special day.

Now I also told them what is the quality of Śhrī Gaṇeśha, which we see in Christ and, as Christ is the Incarnation of Śhrī Gaṇeśha, today remarkable thing is that the third Yoga is that today is the birthday of Christ. And the fourth thing, which is very important, is that you all should be here on such-and-such day on Ganapatipule.

So it's very important day and that's how we have to learn that if you worship Gaṇapati or if you worship Christ, we should try to think what qualities we have got within ourselves.

Now regarding Jesus Christ, you know Him very well, that He always talked of morality, always talked of holiness, of auspiciousness. And all these things, you see, the holiness and the complete cleanliness within your being is to such an extent that, I said, He said that, “Thou shall not have adulterous eyes." So Śhrī Gaṇeśha also was against the adultery. Any kind of adultery He was against and that's why those people who indulge into adulterous life suffer, suffer very badly. It's rather difficult to cure them. All these diseases which are incurable of Gaṇeśha's problems are really difficult, because here you have insulted Śhrī Gaṇeśha and that's why He gets angry with you.

Now, His style is of two type[s]. One is by which He soothes you down, He soothes your Kuṇḍalinī and the second one is where He really gets angry with you and tries to punish you. These two qualities here, so one has to be very careful when you are dealing with your morality. The morality should be a part and parcel of your being. That you should be proud that you are moral and that you should try to lead a very moral life without torturing anybody, without troubling anybody. In Sahaja Yoga, I hope it is all very clear cut that we have to lead a very, very moral life.

Of course, all My lecture can be translated later and I hope you'll be able to enjoy it. But this is the best part of it, that today we have the birthday of Christ, the birthday of Śhrī Gaṇeśha and also on such a date which is so well-worshipped and regarded as something important in India.

May God bless you all!

Contents: 1991-12-27 Talk to Sahaja Yogis (afternoon), the day of the Marriages, Ganapatipule, India

(15 extracts from the book Marriage in Sahaja Yoga and from The Divine Cool Breeze, Vol. 2014, Issue 5) [Extract 1 (from page 26):]... All right If you want to withdraw even after that you can, giving Me proper reasons, but we must know that marriage is a very important thing for Sahaja Yoga, is the foundation of Sahaja Yoga. I mean we can not have such frivolous husband and wives who do not care for the foundation of Sahaja Yoga...

[Extract 2 (from The Divine Cool Breeze, Vol. 2014, Issue 5):] Marriage is not a joke in Sahaja Yoga. It is not so serious also. Marriage is not the end of Sahaja Yoga.....

[Extract 3 (from The Divine Cool Breeze, Vol. 2014, Issue 5):] Marriage is serious in the sense it is very deep. But it should be taken as a play, to be enjoyed. It is like this: you have everything, but you cannot enjoy because there is no love...

[Extract 4 (from page 43):]... This is for all the future brides and bridegrooms. I have to tell you very frankly that in Sahaja Yoga we really never want to force anybody to marry anyone. Of course we see to different aspects of your personality and then accordingly we try to choose, it's a tremendous task...

[Extract 5 (from page 48):]... But it's not an arranged marriage in anyway. You are all free to say no even now, before you start taking the ornaments.

So please if you don't want this marriage please decide it now full time has been given to you. I'll give you two minutes to decide...

[Extract 6 (from page 48):]... I have seen a very interesting thing about the Western and the Eastern mind. The Western mind will say, `Mother I am surrendered to You, who so ever I marry I will marry even the lamppost.' And when actual marriage takes place, then they start thinking, `It may not work out, now I've started thinking, Mother that this won't work out and this and that, that, that and that.' And then I find Myself in great difficulties to really to cope with, this kind of a thing, I really don't like divorces. But it is allowed in Sahaja Yoga, I must say, it is allowed. We don't say that we should not have divorce because there should be a chance for some people to get out of a nonsense if there is any...

[Extract 7 (from page 48):]...

So for all purposes you should also see that your wife or the husband or the future brides and bridegrooms any one of you, you find them especially bad in vibrations or in the Chakras catching or something then you better report it. Don't hide it and don't tolerate it.

So there is no problem. We have tried to scrutinize everything, I am sorry some people could not get married but we will try to make something next year. We will talk to them also...

[Extract 8 (from page 144):]... My experience is that the Western boys are extremely kind, extremely kind to Eastern girls very much, sometimes to the another limit of spoiling them. And also the Western girls when they marry Indians they are extremely nice and sweet, I must say, most of them. They are extremely nice and gentle. I don't know what happens, but when they marry among themselves, then they start to working out on the their Western style of adjustments. When they marry among themselves then they say we have to work it out, you have to see for yourself. You have to judge it and all kinds of things they say, which is something you should give up because I think both the persons have the same conditionings and then it will become the conditioning raise to power seven. And then they, see, start to judging each other, `He is like this, she is like that' and these things happen...

[Extract 9 (from page 144):]... Because of the upbringing people don't have that sense that marriage is once for all. Just like you have a child you have a wife or a husband. You don't have to give up because there is no love. There is no love and the love even if they have they lack gentleness. The gentleness is very important, how you touch a person, how you talk to that person, how you look after the respect of the other person and also you see what that person likes, you see as yo a try to please Me you should try to please each other. It is not very difficult. There is no question of thinking that there is some weakness in me that's why I am pleasing you, no. Sahaja Yogis have to be pleasing people and you have to be extremely gentle, especially the first few days, you should try to control yourself a little bit because the first few days I think all the fumes burst out. And this few days makes the difference...

[Extract 10 (from page 145):]... Now I had so many experiences. The first day only they will start to say, `I don't want you, you get out, I hate you.' They must have got this dialogue from some cinema I think. But it is not reality. In reality you are waiting for this moment. You are waiting for your bride to come in, waiting for your husband to come in and that is the moment you should show the maximum amount of consideration and love for another person and not for yourself. Like I like this, I want this. If you start like that then it is self-centered but what you like, what sort of food would you like, all such questions, gentle. You see, if you start gently it will work out very well. Everything that starts gently works very well.

So, not with a bombastic words or big boasting, nothing, in a very humble, sweet manner.

And even if someone say something, try to avoid it and say, `Oh, it's all right it will work out.' So that is should be...

[Extract 11 (from page 149):]...

So now look after each other, treat each other carefully. You are all in My trust. I hope you'll have sweet feelings about each other and you will try to forgive yourself and forgive the other person. That's the basis of our marriages. Thank you very much...

[Extract 12 (from pages 152 and 153):]... There is no understanding and even if you have love and understanding you don't know how to express it. That's what's lacking because if you can love Me, you can definitely love somebody who is so dear to you. But you have no understandings to how to express your love. And that's what I think that it's better you meditate now about, instead of thinking of what faults you are going to find in others. Because everybody has faults and there should be no interrogation about it but there should be understanding, also take yourself for granted. Don't start also introspecting yourself. I am like this and confession business, nothing is needed. It's all nonsense in Sahaja Yoga...

[Extract 13 (from The Divine Cool Breeze, Vol. 2014, Issue 5):] You must respect each other. Respect is very important and understanding and love.....

[Extract 14 (from page 166):]... And another thing is not to discuss your past, your parents and this and that. To discuss with somebody is, I think, it's a emotional blackmail. You should not at all discuss your past or about yourself, tell anything to the boy or to the girl. If they ask you also it's wrong, nobody should ask about the past of each other because we believe in the present.

So you should not in anyway ask for the past of the person or tell about your past. Just forget it. Start afresh new. Say I have to wear this sarī, then I just decide I will wear this sarī. I do not think which sari I wore the day before or before, before, before. I mean this is the one I have to wear, finished. I mean it is something very simple also, in that way we don't do.....

[Extract 15 (from The Divine Cool Breeze, Vol. 2014, Issue 5):] Look after each other.

Treat each other carefully. You are all in My trust. I hope you will have sweet feelings about each other and you will try to forgive yourself and forgive the other person. That is the basis of our marriages.

Contents: 1991-12-28 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, at the end of the Marriage Night, Ganapatipule, India

Today, the people from all over the world, forgetting their races, their caste, communities, religions, their nationalities, are singing together the praise of God, is My dream has come true today. We have to believe in the totality, in the universality. This universe is one. God has not made them separate. All religions are one; coming from the same Source.

So we believe in every religion, we follow every religion; and the whole concept of nations is also mythical. The whole world was made one, with lots of rivers, mountains and sea. We have divided them. We have made all these differences: higher, lower, east and west. Look at the Sun, It moves in all directions. Look at the Mother Earth, It revolves all the nations; it doesn't revolve only one nation. It's our myth, we should get out of our minds so that this dream of Mine will cover the whole universe one day.

Today I'm feeling extremely happy to see all of you together to finish all the wars, all the violence, all the immorality, all the deceitfulness, all that is wrong against, is destructive to human beings; and to create complete benevolence in this world. May God bless you all. You go as messengers of peace, love, bliss; and tell them that there is an All-pervading Power. A All-pervading Power, [UNCLEAR] the All-pervading Power, which is everywhere, in every nation, in every person, in every human being, it can vibrate.

So nobody should think they are individuals separated by any such small, nonsensical thing.

We are all one, living in the Ocean of God's Love. Let us all take It in our heart and tell everyone that we have enjoyed that Ocean. And let all of you enjoy and forget all these differences which were never created. No saint has created, no Incarnation has created, but human beings have misused them.

All of this should go all around the world resounding. The whole world should sing the praise of God.

And also the whole human beings' problems must be solved. It's very easy to solve their problems; only we need their transformation. You all have power to transform, to cure, to give all the comfort and counsel them. All the powers that I have are for you. I want you to have more powers than Me and I hope, one day, that will come, to enjoy all these things. Today I'm really enjoying everything: all these marriages, and, after that, all this oneness of our ecstasy.

May God bless you all.

Contents: 1991-12-29 Śhrī Lakṣhmī Pūjā, Alibag (100 kms S of Mumbai), Maharashtra, India

We have come to this place many a times, this beautiful place, you all like it. It's very rustic, absolutely in the interior. Only thing is, coming all the way from Ganapatipule, you have to spend lot of time. All this you are doing just to enjoy the beauty of nature and to be with the nature.

I have told you already that this fruit of coconut is called as shrīphala, because it is the Sahasrāra and it's very surprising that this fruit knows and understands. It won't fall on any animal or on any person.

If you are sleeping here, it will never fall on you. Nobody is hurt, ever, by this fruit. It is so sensible, more than human beings, because we do hurt others, we do trouble others, we don't think what we are doing. But in Sahaja Yoga there's lot of sweetness, goodness, righteousness and it's so encouraging. Also so many people are there, newly married. I congratulate them, all of them. [Applause.] Now try to be kind to each other. If you are reserved in the beginning, you'll have to pay for it. Please try to be nice, kind and talkative; not that you just keep quiet and don't talk to someone. Maybe there's sort of a way of impressing others: not in our Sahaja Yoga. In Sahaja Yoga I talk too much, that's why My throat is off today and you also talk. Talking is very important, not hiding your feelings. I have told lots of things about it, how to make a marriage happy, that will make you very happy also. If you have very good marriages we'll have very good children born to you and then we'll have a new race of people in this world. These children will be the most powerful things for us and they'll work out many things which we could not work out.

Regarding our tour, I hope you have been happy about it and then you enjoyed all the programs that we had. [Applause.] Today I am going to tell you something about the sea, because we are next to the sea here and must understand the feelings of a sea. Sea is your grandfather in a way, because he gave birth to Lakṣhmī, who becomes Mahālakṣhmī later on.

So this sea which is the grandfather, we have to show all respect to him.

Normally the way people are living, in the West specially, also in India, people go and use it for bathrooms.

But also in the West they use it in a very funny way, that they use it for swimming and all kinds of things, by which they wear funny dresses and lead a very licentious life. This is an insult to the sea. We must respect the sea. In India we worship the sea. We have to worship the sea.

And in the Greek mythology also they had a, as we have Varuna, they too had a God for sea.

So this God for sea has to be worshipped and has to be understood and to be respected. We cannot be disrespectful. Before entering into sea you must say namas-kār to the sea and coming out of it also you must say namas-kār. The way we behave towards the sea is not proper.

As you know, because of sea we get rain. If there was no sea we would not have rain, we would not have anything. Sea is so important to our life. The greatest thing is, sea is the Guru, is the MahāGuru which teaches us so many things. First of all, this MahāGuru is the one, creates salt for us. Christ has said: “You are the salt, salt of the universe"; meaning, you are the one which gives taste and all the qualities of the salt to the human being.

So this sea is there, we have to learn a lot from this sea. The first of all is that it has its own Maryādās.

Supposing you try to press the sea from this side, it will appear on the other side. It always keeps to its Maryādās. Such a huge thing are these oceans, are such huge, but they keep to their Maryādās, they never cross their Maryādās. While we just start encroaching on everybody's Maryādās.

So the Maryādās of the sea is very important, that it just keeps to its own line. You can draw the line when it is a high tide, next day, whenever there will be a high tide, it will be just there.

So imagine such a huge thing like an ocean can keep itself to the same Maryādās, why can't we, with such a personality of ours, should keep to ourselves and to our Maryādās? Then the second quality of the sea is that it looks after all the animals that are in it.

Somehow it is a saltish thing, but there are fishes and there are all kinds of animals which exist in the sea and that's why it is, we should say, the first life came into being in the sea.

So all our forefathers, long time back, must have been born in the sea and then we, now we have become human beings.

So we have no right to insult the sea, where our forefathers must have existed and then they started coming out, one by one as the fish came, as a reptile.

Now the third quality of the sea is that it is a deep thing, it is very deep. In some places is extremely deep. If the depth of the sea is reduced even by few, few feet, there will be problem all over. It keeps to its depth. It doesn't leave its depth. It keeps to its Maryādās and it keeps to its depth. In the same way, whatever depth we have got in Sahaja Yoga, we should keep to that.

Normally we should not become cheap type people, we cannot afford. We have to be deep people with deep understanding of Sahaja Yoga, deep understanding of ourselves, because that's the sign of dignity.

And that dignity you must have, that majestic nature of the sea you must have.

Now these trees as they are you see, are very surprisingly, they are getting all the wind from, from the sea. But if you go nearer the sea when they are planted, they all bend towards the sea, never away.

They give their, sort of, gratitude by bending towards the sea. Though the wind is blowing the other way round, but they're not bothered about the wind. Their gratitude is to the sea, so they bend towards the sea. Even these trees understand what it is like.

Without the sea we could not have had any transport from places to places as we have been and also there is a great lot of wealth inside the bed of the sea which is not yet explored; but once explored, the whole world can be very rich. But they are fighting about it, which part is ours, which part is yours; that in that fight do you know, I think all this inside the sea might shift from one place to another! And lots of wealth which is of... which is like gold, silver, diamonds, are all embedded in the sea. And one day may be that this Lakṣhmī might be discovered and we people will be enriched all over. Moreover when we carry the transport, we carry Lakṣhmī from one place to another, from another place to this place, so the sea has given us that mobility and movement.

I have seen the sea reacts to Me very much. It reacts, because if there's a light in the sea, or a sun in the, moon in the sea reflecting, it moves with Me, I've seen it, it moves with Me. The sea understands Me very well, because I have a special relationship and a respect for that sea.

Now when you are here, I hope you'll understand the value of the sea. Because of the sea you are so much enjoying here, it is giving you such good feelings and all spirituality.

There is no need to go to Himālayas. The, whatever is covering is in the Himālayas, is what is nothing but the water from the sea only. It's one of the circles, that water passes to the Himālayas, then comes back as rivers, again falls into the same sea. They have to come to the sea.

So it is everything ends up here. And then it is allowed, it goes through tapasya, it allows the Sun to create that cloud by suffering the heat, heat of the Sun and becomes vapors and then it goes as clouds and you get your rain. In the same way we have to be; we have to bear the heat of others, the anger of others and create vapors, means the blessings, the vibrations for others. It is with Me, same thing. When I see somebody who is sick and I treat him, of course I have to bear a little bit, sometimes quite a lot, then I absorb it and then they become vibrations. They just start flowing as vibrations.

So this is what you have to learn from the sea, which is very important for Sahaja Yogis, that you absorb everything, doesn't matter. But don't get attached to it and let it become vapors and the Sea can now become the vapors. As you all are here, all these vapors as vibrations should flow.

This method you should try to understand by courage. Because the other day when I was coming, there was a lady sitting just on the way: “Mother, her feet are out of order, or something gone wrong.

Please treat her." Why should I treat? Why can't you treat? Are you afraid to treat someone? Then there's another one who comes up to say: “Mother, You treat her." Why can't you treat? You all can treat them, you can help them and you'll be surprised, the more you'll treat them the better you will be. You should venture, you should have that much courage to treat others. If you don't treat others you won't grow because that is what, like the sea, as you have seen, you become the vibrations. And when you treat others there are more vibrations. Why should God give you vibrations if you are not going to use it? Simple logic. Why should God give you light if you are not going to use it? Christ has said that, “You don't put light under a measure." That's what we are doing when we are not using our hands, our feet, our brains for Sahaja Yoga: we are not creating vibrations within ourselves.

The same body that is yours can just become a bundle of vibrations, if you start using these vibrations.

But if you don't use these vibrations you'll have problems, the problems, all the time and you will not understand: `Why? I am doing everything, I am doing this', because you are not using your vibrations.

You have to use your vibrations in every way possible, wherever is possible, to help others to get all right, to get well. You can at the most take a bandhan if you like, if you think that it might hurt you or something, but at least use My photograph. And after the photograph you can just touch the person, there's no harm. After all, if you are afraid even of any troubles, then what's the use of becoming a Sahaja Yogi? If the ship is not seaworthy, what's the use of making a ship? You have to be seaworthy.

And that's what you have to decide, that: `We are going to be Sahaja Yoga worthy and for that we are going to absorb all the vibrations, we are going to take up everything upon ourselves.' Little trouble also they have, they'll tell Me ten times: `We went there, then this happened, then that happened, then this.' But I never tell you anything, what happens to Me, how I came here, what was there; nothing! Because I know that all this is, whatever I am doing, is created into vibrations.

In the same way have faith, that you are all just like the sea, like the MahāGuru and that whatever you are doing is creating vibrations within you, by which you can save so many.

It's something like a cycle again, I said, that the more you give, the more you get. The more you use your vibrations, much more you'll get it. It's a very nice cycle that is acting as it has acted in the case of the sea, as I told you, that the water goes to the Himālayas, comes back at rivers. In the same way manifold, manifold your vibrations will be growing and I would say that you should always use our vibrations for helping others, for giving to many things, to the plant, to the anything. I mean there were some people who brought a plant: “Mother, give vibrations to that." I said: “Why don't you give the vibrations?" There's no need even to take vibrated water. You can vibrate yourself. That state has to come, that you can vibrate your own water, you can vibrate the whole waters everywhere, there's no need to take vibrated water from Me. Maybe Mine is a little more, but doesn't matter! [Laughter and applause.] You are so many, so what, compared to Me, I'm only one.

So all of you can work it out and do such a lot; but have faith in yourself. As the sea has faith in itself, you should have complete faith in yourself. You must respect your Self-realisation. Tell every day to yourself: `I am a Sahaja

Yogi. I am a yogi, I am a saint, I am a realised Soul. I have to do this. How can I do these other nonsensical things? I have to do these good things. I have to talk to people in a sweet manner, I have to try to work it out this way.' It is actually your faith in yourself is going to help. Your faith in yourself, that you are a great Sahaja Yogi, that you are absolutely surrendered to your Mother, works very fast. That faith you should have, that you are a Sahaja Yogi. Nothing else is needed.

May God bless you all! So today we'll have a Lakṣhmī Pūjān, because of the Sea and I think that will help everyone.

Contents: 1991-12-29 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, after Fishermen's Dance, Maharashtra, India

... very simple folks and they are just now singing that, “We are fishermen and we have to catch the fishes and then the ladies have to take them to the market." Now, the whole night the fishermen go on their boats and bring the fishes and the ladies then, in the morning, are ready with all this kind of dress that they wear. They are all very nice-looking, healthy women because they live in the water, you see, of the sea. Water is very good. And then they go and sell these things, so the men are sleeping nicely after that; they come back home and sleep in, then they go back home by about ten o'clock. The fishing market is over; you can't get any fishes. Only fresh fishes, if you have to go, you must go early in the morning from seven to eight or nine at the most and all the fishes are over. Then they wash off everything and go away.

So that is what they are describing that, “We have worked very hard and got these fishes for you; now you'd better go and sell them." So they are saying, “We are working in the shores, near the shores of Bombay [Mumbai]." You can understand why Christ chose the fishermen, because they are always having their foot-soaking, you know. Very simple people and very nimble. You see them how they are not stiff at all, the way they are very, very nimble people, extremely nimble. Just see how they are dancing. Our children cannot be that.

They are very, very light in their movement. To go on small boats for sea fishing is a very difficult task, but they have been living like this. And sometimes there are songs about the wife waiting for her husband to come back and it is sometimes she finds that it's full of clouds and rain, storms; it's all description of that. They have a typical style of music.

Contents: 1991-12-29 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, During the Evening Program, Maharashtra, India

You are all becoming now poets. I think the hearts are opening and expression is great and these kind of songs should put a lot of vigor and courage in all of you. I am very happy that all of you are opening your heart and singing such nice songs and reflecting My desires. May God bless you.

These songs are like Namadeva's Jogawa which is absolute Sahaja Yoga, nothing else but Sahaja Yoga. Every word is Sahaja Yoga and this has been sung in our villages, in Indian villages, specially in Maharashtra, for thousands of years now and still they didn't understand what it was meaning. They didn't know; they were just singing it and sort of hoping for the thing. Like also Gñyāneśhwara [Namadeva] has written, twelfth century, a beautiful poem about Sahaja Yoga, very beautiful. It's regarded as the masterpiece of his work and that is being read and re-read and people are hoping for it. I hope you know that song [UNCLEAR `Atta Vishwatma Ke To Shave To Shuni Dyave'; No?]. In that song he says that, “The soul of the Universe [Viṣhwātmā], the Spirit of the Universe, should feel satisfied with my Yagñya I have done with the language, with the vāṇi, with my writings. He should be happy what I have written, or She should be happy what I have written and She should now give us, [UNCLEAR `To Shoni Dyave Pasait'] and She should come and give the blessings of vibrations." Then he describes you people as beautifully that, he says that, “Come along the forest of Kalpatru", `Kalpatru' means the tree that gives whatever you want, you see, wishes. And also the sea, full of... “You are the sea"; you see, he has described, “Come along; the seas are full of ambrosia." All kinds of things he had described for you all. And then he says, [UNCLEAR “Hai Chi Apale So"]; [UNCLEAR] “And these people, when they come together, become our relations." Every word he has described about Sahaja Yoga so beautifully. It's amazing; in the twelfth century he sang this song absolutely describing it.

So many people have done like that, we can say, with: Lewis has done it, also we can say that William Blake has done it. But Namadeva's description of you people is really very, very beautiful and it is described in such a beautiful poetry, poetry so beautiful. It has personified you people with the Oceans of Ambrosia and the forests of Kalpatrus; see, like that; really it's fantastic. But also, I mean, you have seen that Rabindranath Tagore has talked about our Ganapatipule also.

So it has been a kind of a vision for these visionaries, we call them `drashtras' and they saw all these things and that's how they have written. And so the song that you are talking also is another vision which is there.

I was surprised that when I read the book on Thomas, Thomas has written a book of, about Christ, you see, about the Gnostics and the whole thing seems to be nothing but Sahaja Yoga. But they faced such problems, these Gnostics, that the people started calling them heretics and also said, “This is blasphemy." Even a bishop, sometime later on, said that, “These people should be shot dead because they have no knowledge. They're just talking about this knowledge and all that." So he hid all that treatise, that he had written, in a jar and put it somewhere in Egypt, which was found now after so many years.

So you can imagine what was the situation, that time, to talk about knowledge, or about reality. But today it's not so; we can openly talk about it. Nobody can arrest us for that and nobody can say that we are blasphemy, or doing blasphemy, or heretics. They may say, but they cannot charge us with that. We cannot be arrested, because the Church is not that strong now, thank God.

Sahaja Yogi: By Shri Mataji's grace the church will even become much weaker than they are now.

Shri Mataji: We will manage.

Contents: 1991-12-29 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, after the Evening Program, Maharashtra, India

The Truth and Reality are like flowers surrounded by thorns. It's not easy to accept the Truth, also very difficult to accept the Reality, before you smell the flower. And the flower is the Love and the fragrance is the Joy. And that you could see the fragrance today. All the thorns have vanished, all the fear of Reality and Truth has vanished and now the Reality, which is Truth, which is Love, which is Joy.

May God bless you all.

Tomorrow morning we have to go to Kalwe, where Rajesh Shah has invited you and I've told him that some people may be staying till the seventh or so. He said, “That's my pleasure. I will do my level best." There's one more thing, what Rajesh is, that he is the person who started Sahaja Yoga in the West, in a way, because he met Gregoire and then Gregoire met somebody else. It went on like that.

So it's very sweet of him to have invited us there, at Kalwe, for a Pūjā and he's arranged everything there for your stay. But he's told Me already that you should not mind any inconvenience. But tomorrow he's arranged a very beautiful music by a very famous lady called Kishori Amonkar. She's a very great singer. She has one of the most melodious voices you could think of, but she's a very egoistical person and very irritable.

But when he told her My name, she said immediately, “Yes, I will come” because once she had problem with her throat and I had cured her and she has tremendous respect for Me.

So even it works out. And, somehow or other, in India all the artists have got in their mind that if they can dance before Me, or if they could sing before Me, their art will definitely flourish very well. It has happened with many. And so that the other day, when people came for dancing, they had to go through lot of problems. They were caught up with the jam, everything, but they had one desire is to dance before Me and they just went into ecstasy when they did it.

So this is something in India has happened, it should happen in other places also, that the artist should feel that it's important to raise their Kuṇḍalinī and that is how they are going to express themselves better. It may happen one day, I'm sure; no doubt about it. As it is, we are getting quite a lot of artists created out of Sahaja Yoga and I'm very much enamoured by them. They are all very wonderful people and it's time now for us to start to get onto the stage.

As it is, the tour has been quite interesting, I hope so; and you had some relief from these Maharashtra roads, some, but now again you have to go back to Bombay [Mumbai] and I hope you won't mind a little bad road on the way. I don't know if you all felt it, because, might be, all of you were sleeping, but it was quite a bad road on the way. But as it is, Maharashtra is a very remote place and is not touched, this area, Konkan, is not touched by human beings and it's very picturesque, very beautiful. It has rivers and it has valleys and it has little, little mountains here. And your coming here has helped them very a great lot because they had a big problem of black magic and now it is very much reduced thanks to Sahaja Yogis. They said that, “Sahaja Yogis are travelling and emitting vibrations all over. Now these black magic things are disappearing, all these bhoots are disappearing." That's good.

And the second problem they had is of too much of drinking. They drink anything. They make their country liquor and things like that. Many people have been dying with that. But, specially for this village, drinking has stopped completely. And this is spreading also in other villages and I'm sure, within two or three years, all this drinking habit will be finished. As you said, these are useless habits. I think they are joyless pursuits. They give you no joy and once they discover it they will all give it up in no time.

All these good things you are doing without knowing what you are doing. By travelling in those places.

You are really doing such a good work. They are all very much obliged to you that so many saints are travelling and coming down to these places where there is so much of poverty and so much of beautiful nature and they think that, after some time, their condition will improve. They do earn a lot with this fishing but they drink so much that all is finished with that. And I'm sure one day it will all be over by your coming here and seeing, because they can't believe a Westerner not drinking. For them it is something they can't just believe it. And they have told Me many times, “If they can stop drinking, why not we?" You see, because they can't just believe it, that they can live without drinking. And that has really given them a really good example that they can do it also; as you people have given up all these habits which are so destructive.

So your coming here has done so much good to them and they have asked Me to thank you again and again for all this coming and visiting their place which is not so comfortable, not so sophisticated, quite rustic; and still you don't mind anything.

So they were very, very happy about it and they said, “Please thank them and also please ask them to forgive them if there has been inconveniences." So now, as it is, we are now going tomorrow to Kalwe and I may not be able to talk so closely to you after that because then I have to go to Washi School to see that the Washi School is established. With Me so many other things are going along and now My only task is to see that we really make people understand that there is a world which is very beautiful waiting for all of them and you all can help Me there. It's all been expected, has been wanted; only we have to talk about it.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1991-12-31 Śhrī Gaṇeśha Pūjā (Hindi+Marathi+English), Sahaja Yoga now at the Zenith, Kalwe, Maharashtra, India

[Shri Mataji talks in Hindi:] Today we will do Pūjā to Śhrī Gaṇeśha. The Pūjā to Śhrī Gaṇeśha is very important because due to him the purity was spread in the world. Today what we see the impurity in the world, the reason is that till today we have not understood our importance and we don't know why we have come to this world and we are engaged in which work, what should we do? To understand these things, today Sahaja Yoga has come to this world. You all know the bad situation of Kali Yuga, there is no need to tell you this but we know that the peoples have taken other path towards religion. For example his devotion has taken artificial form, there is no deepness. He don't understand what is the devotion towards Śhrī Gaṇeśha. What things he wants in his life but this is very difficult. How many times you tell him the thing, what ever you say but the people don't understand how to worship Śhrī Gaṇeśha.

If on one hand he is blessed by Śhrī Gaṇeśha that he thinks he is very pure, this is not the question.

If you are very honest person then it is alright but if you are character less then it is wrong. If you don't put your attention on worldly questions then you have not find balance in you and the powers which Śhrī Gaṇeśha have, if we want to enlighten them inside us, this can be enlighten only by the awakening of Kuṇḍalinī in us besides this there is no other way. Śhrī Gaṇeśha have four principle powers and from these the most principle one is intelligence (Subhudhi). To establish these powers inside us we need to raise the Kuṇḍalinī within us to make satisfy Śhrī Gaṇeśha inside us. The anger of Śhrī Gaṇeśha could be harmful.

On one side he is very peaceful and cool nature but on the other side when he see the people going on the wrong path then he gets angry in a way like I told in Pune three times if you establish Śhrī Gaṇeśha and you do bad dances, disco songs in front of him then definitely he will get angry and earthquake will take place and this happened, earthquake took place.

Now you should pay attention towards which bad things we are going. Earlier we called the Westerners the people with bad desire (Malach), that is all their attention were going towards bad things but now we are also becoming Malach. We like bad songs, we see bad films, we communicate bad things, we speak bad words with our tongue. Śhrī Gaṇeśha don't like all these things. Our language should be pure, our thoughts should be pure and also our desires should be pure. Now this is coming slowly-slowly in us. Now if we keep this sort of desire in us then only we can respect ourselves. Then only we can think that there is some importance of our life, that we are not road going people. We are Indians and to take birth in India we need asceticism (Tapas) for many years. After many great virtues we take birth in India. Your life is not for this filthy things. You should all try to understand this, like many people are going to Sidhivinayak but what are you doing for Śhrī Gaṇeśha? If you don't like these bad things then everything will be finished. Going to bad places, eating bad food, talking bad things, all these things people are doing here in a very general way. Like now also I see that people are eating standing on the road, they are going somewhere, talking badly, saying remarks on women, looking them with bad eyes. Christ had said like this if you see a woman twice with one eye then you take out your eye. If you do bad thing with one hand then you cut out your hand. I have not yet seen a single Christian whose hand or eye is cut. But they call them Christians by name but in reality they are not. But in our country it is written that in everyone resides one Soul (Ātmā). He cannot belongs to any religion or caste. Caste has not been made according to a person's birth but was made according to his profession (karma). Those who gave lot of importance to caste, they cannot be Indians. That's why it is necessary to know that we do many things which are totally against the religion and if we do these sorts of things then Śhrī Gaṇeśha gets angry within us. The anger of Śhrī Gaṇeśha is very sorrowful because of his angerness we can get many sort of diseases which cannot be cured or there is no solution to cure it, what we call incurable diseases, we get these sorts of diseases.

So that's why always keep Śhrī Gaṇeśha happy. First of all this earth which is his mother, that principle of earth with whom he is attached, to this we should give lot of respect. In earlier times, may be now also that before getting up from the bed we used to ask forgiveness from the Mother Earth that I am going to touch you with my feet, please forgive me. This much was the respect of Mother Earth in our country. Nowadays nobody respect their parents so who will respect the Mother Earth.

We should have respect towards everything, to have devotion towards everyone, this was one of the important aspect of our country. But now this aspect is not left. Nor the children respect their parents, nor husband-wife care for each other nor wife take care of her husband. All the relationships in the world should be tied up with big respect.

And this way there are different religions in our country. There is a National religion.

So now to use Western goods, to put Western dresses, to do Western dances and to copy Western things, this is not knowledgeable. The Western people can learn from us and we can teach them because our culture is very high, that to on the bases of Śhrī Gaṇeśha, specially in Maharashtra where there is Ashtavinayak, Mahāgaṇeśha is situated and when I see bad things here, I am very surprised, the people forgot where is he situated, where has he come? So you respect yourself, understand yourself. When you will recognize your Soul (Ātmā), you will be surprised that you have many powers in yourself but you have not awaken these powers that's why all the poverty, all the problems and all the bad things have come here. It is necessary that the Pūjā which we do outside to Śhrī Gaṇeśha should be done inside also with devotion and see which qualities of Śhrī Gaṇeśha has come within us. We should see what is our importance within us that we progress with his blessing. These sorts of qualities should come within us. To respect each other, all these things are told but we think what is this, nobody do this in foreign country. Nowadays they have spoiled their knowledge power and they are getting worst and worst. All their discussions are senseless.

Their path will be clean but their hearts will be very bad that is not honest at all. All those things I have seen that inside they are not honest but everything is there for outside show-off. And all the arrangements are there to make a person to go on a wrong path. If any child go there he cannot leave drinking alcohol, he will smoke, take him to the bad place, take him to disco, there is madness in such a way that a very dense Kali Yuga have established there. We think that they are in comfort but how their parents will be happy because their children are taking drugs. If we want to be on a right path to enjoy happiness within us which is the biggest wealth in us.

So for this it is necessary to protect our purity and with lot of intelligence we should spend our behaviour with proud, not in a way like a beggar to remain always in a bad way. There is lot of praise of Indians. I met a Chinese, He said so this is the great heritage which we read long time ago that in India there is rich spiritual heritage. There is no doubt that we have a rich spiritual heritage but our desires goes against our mind. We run after the impure things.

So how can we present this beauty which is within us? That is why while worshipping it is important to establish Śhrī Gaṇeśha within us. Otherwise he will become angry and it is difficult to make him understand. Śhrī Gaṇeśha do not consider anything above purity. We cannot argue before him. We cannot make him understand with anything. If we keep ourselves in discipline (Maryādās) made by Śhrī Gaṇeśha then it makes us happy as well as him.

[Shri Mataji talks in Marathi: MISSING.] [Shri Mataji talks in English:] I've been telling them about Śhrī Gaṇeśha, how important it is to worship Śhrī Gaṇeśh. Now, you know through photographs and all that, that it's a living deity and it is on Mūlādhāra. He is actually the chancellor of all the universities, I would say, in the sense that He is sitting on all the Chakras. Without Him, nothing can work out, because He is the one who is holiness.

So wherever the Kuṇḍalinī goes, it is He who pours the holiness and the cleansing power of Śhrī Gaṇeśha cleanses your Chakras.

So it is very important to understand the virtue of Śhrī Gaṇeśha, how He works within your Chakras and how He helps you. We may worship Him; just we may sing His praise and all that, but we should also think what qualities we have got from Him of great chastity, great purity, also of wisdom. We have to understand that our wisdom is not something that could be inculcated. It cannot be something that can be manoeuvreed. It is something very innate thing and it comes through our maturity.

So this maturity can only come through the proper attention to your Kuṇḍalinī, to fixing up your Kuṇḍalinī with the All-pervading Power. This has to be done through regular meditation. It's not a ritual, but it should be done whenever you feel like and after sometime you'll find that you are all the time in meditation. You don't have to even meditate, but you are in meditation.

His style is so great that it has no words to be described. But only thing I would like to say that He is a little child. He is an eternal child and the eternal childhood gives Him that innocence of a child. We cannot force ourselves to be innocent because we have grown and we have learned lots of cunning things. But when the Kuṇḍalinī starts rising and She starts blessing our Chakras, automatically we start thinking our innocence has come back. Now we have got innocent heart, innocent mind and innocent love. This simple innocent personality is the sign of a good Sahaja Yogi. And then he also knows, for definite through his experience, that he's looked after by the ganas of Śhrī Gaṇeśha. Whether you are in Russia or in England or in India, they're all over and the way they are watching you and the way they guide you and the way they help you, you have these experiences and you know that how many people have written about their experiences that we could not even compile them in a book.

But all these ganas are there and they are so kind and so nice, but apart from that, they are also watching you. They're seeing how is your behaviour. If you try to take advantage of Sahaja Yoga by any chance, it may be punished, it may act against you. I have warned you many times not to exploit Sahaja Yoga for your advantage. It is for the advantage of others and not for your advantage. You already have got your own Realisation. But exploitation should not be there at all. On the contrary, the enjoyment of Sahaja Yoga is the best way to know Sahaj Yoga.

So far we have had some bad experiences, but very, very few. Surprisingly, people who have never known even the first word: “Ga" of Gaṇapati, have become such devoted bhaktas of Śhrī Gaṇeśha and they have understood the importance of innocence and of purity.

I'm rather sad today that all the Sahaja Yogis are now going away to their countries and I wish them that they carry this purity of Śhrī Gaṇeśha with them, which is very much required in your countries, very much to be spread out. Only you have to desire and it will spread. I am sure things will change very soon and you'll have a much better, much better time. Moreover, I am sure also there are many people who think and who are seeking this truth and they're seeking also this purity.

So only thing what you have to do is to find out, find out as to which people are those which are just striving to seek the truth. Try to find them out, it's very easy to find them out, and, also, after finding them out, do not argue with them, just give them Realisation, let them feel the vibrations and then things will be better. There are many, many things which are false in this world. Lots of things are full of falsehood, doesn't matter. All this falsehood, everything can be easily cleared out by the Truth, the light of the Truth.

So today is, Śhrī Gaṇeśha's temple is here, so we'll do Śhrī Gaṇeśha's worship first and then the Devī's worship. I hope you people will say all the Atharva Sheersha and everything.

May God bless you all! I hope you have enjoyed the Tour very much and now you are going with such good vibrations. Carry them to your own countries and give My love to all the Sahaja Yogis who have not come.

May God bless you all!

Contents: 1991-12-31 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, final Talk, Kalwe, Maharashtra, India

This is the culminating point of our tour and the sweetest of all, extremely sweet. And the sweetness is flowing so much that I couldn't help saying something about the children. They have really filled Me with such love and adoration for them. I wish our Sahaja Yogi children also become like this: so nimble, so vigorous, so concentrated and achieving something that is My dream, I should say.

So nicely, collectively they were dancing with such vigor, with such rhythm, with such understanding, while we were all just enjoying their sweetness. And here you remember that Christ has said, “You have to be like small children to enter into the Kingdom of God"; and that's what Vaikuṇṭha is different that way.

I don't know how to really thank Rajesh for bringing Sahaja Yoga to an industrial place like this. It's something really very unique. I mean, you cannot imagine spirituality governing such an organization.

Really it was meant to be only for saints sitting in the jungles, but here it is brought to this factory where people are living so happily together as Sahaja Yogis and the children are so beautiful. I bless this factory.

I bless all of them with all My Heart. And it shows how Sahaja Yoga can bring forth such beautiful results.

Now, I know Rajesh has a little child also and all his sweetness of childhood and I could really experience, I should say, the whole thing, with these little, little children dancing so beautifully and the girls doing Garba and Bangra and it's a very difficult, vigorous, absolutely dynamic dance which I have seen Myself in Punjab when I was studying there.

I am also thankful to the organizers: to Mister Anand for giving this great opportunity for all the Sahaja Yogis to see the Indian children doing such beautiful dances and thankful to Mrs. Bandari for saying such kind words about Sahaja Yoga and about Me. I don't know how many people I have to thank but, only thing, I think I should thank this Divine Love which has created this beautiful atmosphere for all of us to enjoy. This is a very nice day today because tomorrow we are starting a new year.

So happy New Year and a very prosperous one for this factory.

May God bless You.

Contents: 1992-01-01 Talk to Parents and Children, School, Washi, Maharashtra, India

[ISPS had shifted from Dharamshala to Konkan Bhavan, Navi Mumbai during the winter.] [To children:] You are the light of My eyes. You have to spread the light.

[Children promise that they will do it.] [To teachers:] The children are the greatest artistic thing God has produced and we have to find the right technique to adorn their potential. We have to develop their self-respect and awareness in a sweet way. You should not beat them but correct them through attending to their Chakras. Their sternum bone still is releasing the antibodies and it is important to give them all the securities they need and the love they want. Teach them to be respectful. But don't spoil them, they should not be allowed to have their way. As you develop their self esteem; they will know how to stay in valance.

Contents: 1992-01-01 Dinner, School, Washi, Maharashtra, India

[At dinner Shri Mataji is displeased with the coarse rice served to children. The principal justifies that it was more economical.] [To the Principal:] They are My children and how could you forget that the Mother always gives the best to her children. If you are short of funds, I will pay but you should not economize at their cost! [Shri Mataji gives instructions for the treatment of their Chakras and and personal hygiene.] In particular, sports should be collective and non-competitive. If a prize is given to an outstanding child it should nevertheless be given to all children in the class. The singling of one's achievement tends to develop the ego whereas collective appreciation nurtures the spirit.

Contents: 1992-0000 Handwritten Notes on Leadership, Pune, Maharashtra, India

[In 1992 Shri Mataji had given hand written notes to Yogi Mahajan to give to all the leaders of that time.

He made photostat copies and handed it to them as per Her instructions.] Leadership To sense how the natural process work through the Principle of Kuṇḍalinī. For this knowledge the leaders must meditate and follow their vibration's dictation about themselves. First before meditation give seven time bandhan. Have an open mind. First locate the conditioning and your preferences & prejudices.

Prejudiced leaders when they are not deep see in others what fits their prejudice.

To know how things happen do not use your mental projections or deliberations. They have their linear movement that recoils into their polarity. Do not try to make things work. They say “we wish make amasses work." You just work the principle and the process will manifest.

There is no mental analysis needed as there is no cause or effect. The Spirit which is enlightened by Kuṇḍalinī works out everything because it has a built in capacity as the seed. The Mother Earth is the Param Power.

Allow the Divine to work it out, through your Spirit. You work less mentally, you be only the instrument.

To be is the becoming.

This works through surrender “Oh Mother come in heart, Please come in my head, Please come in my attention." The Kuṇḍalinī will do the job for you.

One cannot surrender the leadership which is difficult. True simplicity is not easy for a complicated mind. The leader teaches by example and not by lectures which bloats the ego and creates Shabda Jalam [a rain of words] for the leaders.

Do not seek or worry about money or praise, there is plenty of both in Sahaja Yoga. I have seen people lose it in no time when they start thinking mentally and conclude “nothing is wrong with me” because they are leaders, “I am absolutely correct." They are ejected out of Sahaja Yoga by centrifugal force of truth and in thirty nations, the bells that were singing their praise, suddenly become denouncing the ending, murmurings do loud open condemnation.

Constant intervention with the group blocks the progress of the group. If one individual is constantly troublesome put attention on him through your Mother either he will leave or improve. Do not worry who leave Sahaja Yoga. There is no place for half hearted yogis in the kingdom of God.

Remember that all mental projections have polarity and in Sahaja Yoga it acts very fast. Anything very pure white shows the smallest black dot clearly. Leaders should never talk about their own problem, life or dismiss to the group. Any such obsession is dangerous for one's growth and that of the group. The good leader should never show off his holiness or his so-called closer relation to Mother. It is improper to have your favourites even your wife is to be treated like other Sahaja Yogis.

She should not be consulted, on the contrary, if she advices you against some one or for some one please tell her that you know everything. To be yourself fully grounded in the Param-Chaitanya and being aware of the group, you can permeate innate religion Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma. There is no need to create grades in the group because it will create competition and jealousy. Leave it to Mother's discretion. The leader's own state of consciousness makes him more open receptive and secured. Thus he gets the respect, style is no substitute for substance.

The good leader is not spectacular but his group is. The fame that he seeks carries him away from the work. The leader should not outshine the teaching. A leader should not have favourites, Please get your emotional conflicts clean. Lead with nourishment.

Lead without destroying or hurting.

Do not take credit for helping. Lead without possessiveness. Watch the silence in the group and feel the content and the concern of the group. Feel the essential mood of the group. How the wind is blowing in the group.

1992-0000 Handwritten Notes on Leadership, p.1 (Original Writing) 1992-0000 Handwritten Notes on

Leadership, p.2 (Original Writing) 1992-0000 Handwritten Notes on Leadership, p.3 (Original Writing) 1992-0000 Handwritten Notes on Leadership, p.4 (Original Writing) 1992-0000 Handwritten Notes on Leadership, p.5 (Original Writing) 1992-0000 Handwritten Notes on Leadership, p.6 (Original Writing) 1992-0000 Handwritten Notes on Leadership, p.7 (Original Writing) 1992-0000 Handwritten Notes on Leadership, p.8 (Original Writing) 9 1992-0000 Handwritten Notes on Leadership, p.9 (Original Writing) 10 1992-0000 Handwritten Notes on Leadership, p.10 (Original Writing)

Contents: 1992-01-26 Interview by Foreign correspondents on the controversy of Dr. Ambedkar and his role in the framing of the Indian Constitution, Pune, Maharashtra, India

No one person made the constitution. My father, late Mr. P.K. Salve was also a member of the Constituent Assembly. He was a master of fourteen languages and translated Quran into Hindi. He was the only member from minority community who was elected by general public and not on the minority ticket. Stalwarts like Kṛiṣhṇaswamy Aiyer was one of the most effective personalities. The drafting of the constitution was not done by any single individual. Like My father, Dr. Ambedkar, was also on the minority committee. They were all of different ideologies.

Of course they had a right to draft the constitution as members of the Constituent Assembly. But none of them has a right to pass remarks about Śhrī Rāma and Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. Unless and until one is a saint and has that deep spiritual insight, it is impossible for one to envisage the manifestation of Divine incarnation and his life.

As the saints cannot change the constitution, the members of the constituent Assembly have no right to change what the saints have said about Śhrī Rāma and Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. Such an endeavour by them could be judged as an unauthorized aggression. But in this world there is no restrictions for people who want to take the Divine laws into their hands. Still no one has right to hurt the feelings of millions of people all over the world.

Saints have vehemently refuted and have labored ardently to remove the evil and misleading customs of the masses, but they never arrogantly found faults with incarnations as the intellectuals do in their ego.

I agree that by making too much ado about this trifle thought, people have given unnecessary importance and publicity. It was very unwise, indiscreting and dangerous. Nobody was aware of these damaging remarks in the Riddles and of course it makes no difference at all to the incarnations and their pure divinity.

It was very indiscrete to publicize it to such an extent, because it will only give justification to people who indulge into the growing vices of drinking and womanizing. Moreover, the new generation will have no ideals to look forward anymore and they may get lost as the hippies or the drug addicts of the west.

These are very crucial times when we need sensible people to guide our children, as the value system is getting very corrupt.

It is a joke, the way in our country people unite on both sides to fight each other, on issues which are frivolous and nonsensical. I wish they could unite for good and constructive work, of removing ills of our society and rebuilding it on moral values, to pay their homages and respect to their loving Creator.

Contents: 1992-02-03 Śhrī Saraswatī Pūjā (Hindi), Kolkata, India

In this Kali Yuga it is very difficult to recognize the Mother. We cannot even know our own mother then to know Me is even more difficult. But the depth of this Yoga Bhumi is working in you. I have that whichever Sahaja Yogi has come from this part becomes very deep. And I am surprised that where I spent so many years and worked such a lot, the people there are not so deep. They do not have such beautiful collectivity as it is here. The specialty of this land is that the collectivity and love is absolutely selfless and unselfish. I have been very pleased to see this and may you progress.

It is very important that there should be worship of Mahāsaraswatī here. The Devī has blessed this land and everything is so green here. The reason for poverty and suffering here is because the worship of Saraswatī has been very limited. The Pūjā of Saraswatī is done here only to increase our artistic talents or to become scholars. No doubt the people here have progressed on the scholastic and artistic fronts. People here are very intelligent and proud. But still why is there poverty? Why is there jealousy towards a person who has more money than you? One must understand what formula we are lacking which we must get.

The work of Saraswatī is on the right side. When She works on the Swādhiṣhṭhān and when this goes on the left side then the sense of art grows. Bengal is very famous in every art field. In music, drama, sculpture and literature. There are very famous people in these art forms here. Art is the light of the Divine. You cannot see it but it has vibrations. Whatever is very beautifully created and recognized by all the people all over the world is esthetically rich. If you put your hands towards it you will find vibrations flowing from them, especially if it is made by a realised Soul. The people who leave here are very devotional and the art forms here are easily understood by all. People of Bengal are perfectionists.

But we have developed only one side of the Swādhiṣhṭhān and have neglected the other.

We use the Swādhiṣhṭhān only for reading, writing and we have progressed in these fields.

But there is a further state than this about which we don't think and that is why there is imbalance.

When you see there is lot of art, literature, etc. and people say there is no union of Saraswatī and Lakṣhmī.

This means that whatever you are doing when you go into its deeper aspect, then you think why there is no union with Lakṣhmī. In Sahaja Yoga both meet at the Āgñyā Chakra. You keep on working but you do not get the result that you desire. When you come into Āgñyā Chakra you realise why we have not got that state which so many artists have got. Why are we living in poverty? Till we do not reach that state where we see both aspects with correct perspective we cannot progress. To unite Kala [Art] with Lakṣhmī we need proper vision.

One of our greatest weaknesses is stubbornness. If they have made an elephant they will go on making elephants. If they sing in a particular way they will go on singing in that way. If you tell them to change it they may get angry. At Āgñyā if you contemplate then you realise that stubbornness does not let you go beyond Āgñyā Chakra. “We are Bengalis. We have the greatest artists, intellectuals." We have this stubbornness that we are great people in Bengal. But if you want to rise above that we must realise that we do not have to compromise. I don't say that you destroy art. But you must think of art in a balanced manner. I am telling you something practical, that we have a certain laziness in us by which we can also become stubborn. A person thinks that by creating something new I will have to exert. For learning something new our brains are a bit slow. Because of this slow brain we are not able to learn anything by which we can unite with Lakṣhmī, Like I told some artisans not to make such elaborate purses but to make simple lines. He said, “This was not possible. We will make it like the way we are used to. We cannot make it the way you want. You cannot make any suggestions." So there must be an understanding; then the brain opens out. But if you are stubborn then you say that whatever I do is correct and what anyone tells me is not so. This stubbornness can have a very great effect on a person's entire life. We are like and will remain so. When the change comes it is in a very Sahaja way and in this Sahaja way you find the union with Lakṣhmī. Artists are very stubborn. If you tell them please change this a bit they will not do that. To put the Āgñyā Chakra right we must first put right this strange ego which says that whatever we do and the way we do is right and no other suggestion or method is correct.

This feeling that you are Hindus, Muslims, Christians, Brahma Samajis, etc. has no base. You are nothing but a human being You were born a human. You have branded yourself that you are something.

You are neither Bengali or Marathi. You are just human beings. By branding yourself you create more problems. These brands become so important that you cannot see anything beyond it. Till this catch does not release this blindness will not go because you see everything in such a way that only your way is right.

In the west it is even more so. If you put anything into their brains and tell them that it is good, then they will follow it blindly. The critics there also criticise every art form so much. Another critic will refute what the first critic has refuted. Nothing comes to you from within yourself and your brain. Whatever others have filled in is accepted. Each is branded. By this the ego rises and a person thinks that he is a very great personality and very unique from others. He becomes an individual.

The essence of truth is that we are all one are whole, are a totality. When you go in opposition to It then you become individualistic and go on becoming more and more separate. It is true that one leaf does not resemble another but all of them are on the same tree. They are all a part and parcel of the Virāta. When we separate ourselves then the Saraswatī Tattwa which should become Mahāsaraswatī does not. When you live in Mahāsaraswatī Tattwa you start seeing in your daily life that you are the whole and we are one.

So when an artist creates he makes some such thing that one accepts from the heart. All the works that we do of Saraswatī should be dedicated and surrendered to the Divine. If this happens then all such works will be immortal. All poems, music, songs, art forms which were offered in the name of God are still living today. Like today's film music comes and dies down. But the songs of Kabīr, Gyāneshwar are still remembered. Through their Self-realisation they obtained the Mahāsaraswatī Shakti and whatever they wrote or created, that light was of a unique kind. These were creations that united the world into one.

One should not only move on Saraswatī Tattwa as this limits you. One should move on Mahāsaraswatī Tattwa. If Saraswatī Tattwa is the seed, then the tree is Mahāsaraswatī. Till you do not make this seed into the Mahāsaraswatī till then you cannot merge with Mahālakṣhmī. The gift of Mahālakṣhmī within you is that you get your Self-realisation. All the three, i.e. Mahālakṣhmī, Mahāsaraswatī and Mahākālī meet at Āgñyā. In every subtle way there is an ego.

So one should introspect within as to why we believe in such a thing. [If] I am sitting in a limited field, then how can I enlighten the whole world? I have said many times “look towards yourself." I know many people believe Me and worship Me as the Devī, but what is the benefit for Me in this? I am what I am. You are the ones who have achieved. You came to Sahaja Yoga and from Saraswatī Tattwa you reached Mahāsaraswatī Tattwa. You have gained not Me. You should not be satisfied by just believing in Me. You will have to believe in yourself and lift yourself.

Now you know the science of Sahaja Yoga. Your candle has been lit. Not this candle has to enlighten thousands of others. To love Me is beautiful. But there is a further state than this. Beyond joy there is another state called Nīrānand. That state of Nīrānand will come to your Mother when She will see that Her children have gone even further than Her. But these small petty things still stuck with us must be given up. In Maharashtrians it is even more, that we are stuck in small pettinesses. I feel it must be the demerits of past lives. If he had good merits then he would immediately open his heart and start emitting fragrance like a flower.

In Mahāsaraswatī one should be efficacious and active. In Mahākālī Tattwa you absorb and you desire.

`I want to do this or that.' `I like this or that.' `I like this.' To activate these desires is the work of Mahāsaraswatī.

Some people wish that Sahaja Yoga spreads. But in this respect what did you do for it to spread? How many people did you give Self-realisation to? How many did you talk to about Sahaja Yoga? One journalist told Me how he was impressed by the young boys and girls who were so peacefully and in a dignified manner putting posters. I was very impressed by that. You must put your desires into action. Your desires will finish when your action will start. You should desire what can be done, for to desire something which cannot be fulfilled is a calamity.

There are many rich and many poor here. Even the rich have similar problems to the poor. They tell Me that there is labour problems and that is why our factories are closed. But the rich must remember that the laborer is your part and parcel. You cannot do anything without them. You do not even know how to move a finger; you just keep sitting on a chair. What have you done for the laborers? Everything cannot be solved with money. They raise a ag, you raise their money. Then they again raise a flag and this goes on. Have you done something for their welfare? First learn their culture. There are big industrialists who do not know their culture. The laborers are very large hearted. But if you deal with them with haughtiness, then they can be the greatest enemies. Stay with them, meet them, get to know them. I call this enlightened entrepreneurs. Go to their homes, ask after their problems. You do this little for them and they will be at your service for life. It is not necessary that you give money for everything.

If you give money they may go straight to the liquor shops or keep women. Think of them as a part and parcel of yourself and get to know their hearts. And then all you labour problems will be solved.

The people here are limited only till Saraswatī and not Mahāsaraswatī. You are Sahaja Yogis, things will get alright themselves. But you have to follow the methods of Sahaja Yoga. You will have to leave your narrow view points and spread. Till you do not rise from within you cannot spread on the outside.

In Sahaja Yoga meditation is very important. Meditate for five minutes at five in the morning and ten minutes at night. With this you will keep getting cleansed and will receive blessings. All the time you are being guided. You are also enjoying and growing.

People still think that it is enough to keep on loving Mother, serving Her and praying to Her. It is fine.

You do get the benefit. You may have grown very deep in your Mother's love. What is the use of such a deep pot in which no one fills water, If you think on Āgñyā what sort of work I should do, If you go into Nirvichara [thoughtlessness] then you will get inspiration from inside. There are many deep people here but now we have to share that depth. Like in a pond some lotuses bloom and the insects feel proud of the lotuses. But you are still an insect. What's the use.

In the Vedas it is said that if you do not have the Vid [knowledge] then what is the use of Veda. They tried to awaken the Pañcha Mahābhootas. It was a result of which science came into our country. The scientific research done here was much greater than what research is being done today. Through Sahaja Yoga you can also get the control of the Pañcha Mahābhootas. But here you are still saying “Mother, my mother or brother or family is ill." You are a Sahaja Yogi. You want Mother to do everything. Why can't you? Just try to give to others. I keep repeating again and again that you do something. Of course I will cure but you can cure better than Me. if you are not able to cure then come to Me. The more you use your powers the more they will grow. But have faith in yourself. If mother has said so then we must have got these powers within and we must increase them. Now depth has come in Sahaja Yoga but the giving of it is still not so much.

You have to give now. When you become active and Mahāsaraswatī Chakra is awakened you will be amazed where this country will reach. But this disease of laziness is there throughout India.

Sahaja Yoga people make lots of excuses as to why they can't do. For example “I am afraid of the masses or my family etc." Sahaja Yoga is not for cowards. There is so much black magic and Tantrism here and I have been cleaning it. For removal of Kālī Vidyā you will have to pay special attention and work it out.

This Pūjā today is for the whole of India as this disease of laziness is there in the whole of India. We are not at all active. We have very strong desires but no action. You should get together and talk about what you can do by which you can spread Sahaja Yoga. We bought lands for various purposes. They are just lying there rotting. Till I don't come to India they cannot even make a small road, or even a small hut. I can't understand that there are so many people still nothing gets done. When I go away you all separate and go your own way. Just two or three people work. Sahaja Yoga is a collective work and not just the work of two or three people. One must understand that each Sahaja Yogi is a part of Sahaja Yoga.

If one finger is hurt the whole body feels the pain. Everything is spontaneous, Sahaja. But this narrow mindedness does not let go of you and this ignorance that we are something important.

You have gained so much depth and got so much. Now you must give it to others. Tomorrow you can sit in My place and do My work. When this happens only then will Sahaja Yoga grow. I bless you that now many people may emerge after this Pūjā who will do this work of spreading Sahaja Yoga.

Contents: 1992-02-05 Conversation with the Chief Minister of West Bengal, Kolkata, India (date not sure)

Shri Mataji: Why not have a metro? Jyoti Basu: Ma, I cannot even dream of it, we have no funds.

[A few years later, Kolkata is blessed with the first state of art metro in India.]

Contents: 1992-02-xx Quote on Aboriginal Rights, Australia (year not sure)

[Shri Mataji asks Heather Jefirey about Australia and what he feels was wrong with the country. He says Australians have a darkness they would not acknowledge, but just sweep under the carpet: the dispossession of the Aboriginal people.] The racism has to stop.

[At the time, the Labor Government was talking of a treaty with the Aboriginal people and Shri Mataji, who knew what was going on, says:]... and not just a treaty. They must be given land.

.....

The American Indians were near their Self-realisation. They must have felt that God had forsaken them.

Contents: 1992-02-07 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Morning, Robin and Jo Reid's Cottage, Lake Josephine, Gidgegannup, Darling Ranges (45 kms NE of Perth), WA, Australia

[... this was the first time Shri Mataji stayed at Gidgegannup... we had a Pūjā the year before, 1991 at the hanger with Shri Mataji at Gidgegannup When Shri Mataji came to Perth in 1992, it had been very dry and hot and we were quite worried. It was forty-five degrees and we thought it would be too hot for Shri Mataji, She was arriving at 2am Friday morning. A few hours before Shri Mataji arrived, a big thunderstorm arrived from out of nowhere and there was thunder and lightning. This was February in Perth and normally we have no rain for about four months at this time, but suddenly this huge storm arrived and rain bucketed down.

So much water came down and the temperature fell by about ten degrees, by the time Shri Mataji's plane came it was much cooler. We asked Shri Mataji about it and She said that the trees were crying out for water so it had to rain. The next night was the, Public Program at Fremantle Town Hall and we were worried about the new people coming, it was still raining hard, Shri Mataji told us that the real seekers would come and the Town Hall was completely packed and people told us that they had stood in water up to their ankles while waiting for the bus to come to the program.] [Shri Mataji's car, after the program was heading back to Gidgegannup and passed a lot of cars on one side of the motorway that were bogged, stuck in water because there was so much rain, Shri Mataji said:] Oh dear. [And at that point the rain stopped.] [Few minutes later:] Do you see the Ganas that are coming with us on each side of the car? [The Sahaja Yogis in the car with Shri Mataji looked out and about fifty cm, 18 inches, on each side of the car, just outside the windows were sort of balls of fire, balls of white light, about the size of a baseball.

Each one, there was one on each side of the car, had a long tail of light that went back for about twenty feet and they travelled with the car for about twenty minutes.] These Ganas are always with us, but this time you can see them.

[When Shri Mataji arrived at the ashram it was lit with candles throughout because there had been a power cut, power lines had been brought down by the storm. She Mātājī said how good this was and was pleased.] It will get rid of all the negativity.

Contents: 1992-02-09 Śhrī Gaṇeśha Pūjā, Gravity and Balance, Perth, WA, Australia

It is so joy giving to be back in Australia.

When I wanted to come here in this month, Stephen told Me that Perth would be scorchingly hot [laughter] and I don't think you should go to Perth first, you can go later.

So I said that part you leave it to Me, the rest is all right.

Now you have seen how it rained and rained and rained because you wanted rain, that was needed very much and also you wanted a cooler atmosphere, both things have worked out, but then the worry was because of the rain the seekers won't come, also that was solved because it was a testing ground.

I told them if they're real seekers they'll come otherwise what's the use of having a big quantity with no seeking and see yesterday what beautiful people came.

They came all the way in the rain because they were seekers and very deep seekers.

They never even asked a question, can you imagine in this Australia I am always bombarded with questions and they had told Me not to allow them to ask questions but I could feel their seeking so much that I said better ask Me questions and not a single question was asked.

So in one shot how many things are done. You got the rain that you needed very much for your trees, for your crops, for your fruits, for everything, it was most unexpected and then you got it cooled down so that our programs could go on well. Then you got the real seekers and the real seeking, but the electricity went off, now see the good point of electricity also.

Because electricity went off we had those candles and all the bhoots I saw were just, were burnt with this candles on and I came in the room [laughs], they all went pop, pop, pop, like that and I could see why candles had to be put.

So also that was a good thing that we should rely sometimes on natural things.

You are so much dependent on electricity, is not a very good thing, so you should have always provision for something natural, we should keep some lanterns and things and should try to live more with the nature than with this electricity.

I tell you this electricity is responsible for spoiling our eyes very much.

Supposing we had used those lights which older generation had used, we would never have strained so much our eyes as we are with this electricity because not that it gives us light but also it takes away light from our eyes.

So too much use of electricity is made us like slaves to it.

As you know that in America once the electricity failed and so many people died.

So it's more to depend on natural things and this is a good trend that you have that you try to have more natural surroundings, more natural places to live in.

So the main thing we have to realise, that equilibrium that is being worked out by Param-Chaitanya.

If Param-Chaitanya is the power of love of God then it works out equilibrium.

So the Sahaja Yogis who are going to work out Param-Chaitanya have to have equilibrium in their life.

This is a place where I say resides Mahāgaṇeśha.

So we have to understand how Śhrī Gaṇeśh brings balance in us. It's very important to see that his swastika represents nothing else but balance.

Balance when it is steady, when it starts moving in the right direction, then constructive work starts and also it works out all that is important for life. But when it starts the other way round it works out the destructive part. These both are in balance, if they are not life cannot go on.

The constructive and destructive both have to be in balance. See in nature, if you see in the nature for example, a flower has to come and when the flower dies then the fruit comes out. The tree has to evaporate its water to the sky if it does not then it won't rain, it won't trigger the rain. But during winter season it has to drop out its leaves because these leaves have to die and fall on to the ground to nourish the mother nature with nitrogen. Then during summertime again they come back.

So the life goes on like this, that whatever is created is destroyed, something new comes up, again that new thing also comes up in a way that it becomes constructive and then what ever it has constructed, part of it is destroys.

So actually if you see in the death resides the life. If there is no death, imagine if all the people who were born since long would have been living today, we would not have been here. It would have been so difficult to manage ourselves with all these people.

But so many animals have died and those animals also have become human beings.

So many human beings have to die to get other people to come on this earth and that you have to take some rest and come back again.

So the death is just a change of life. Without death life cannot exist, it's a balance between the two.

So a Sahaja Yogi should never be afraid of death, he should never be afraid of death because if he is going to die it is only going to be another life where he rests for a while and comes back with greater enthusiasm, with greater energy.

So there is a complete balance in nature, if you see if there was no balance we could not have existed.

Supposing the earth was moving with a greater speed, you would not have existed, the pacific ocean was deeper even by certain feet, you would not have existed.

So many things are completely in balance, the distance with the sun, the distance with the moon, everything is so much in balance, if this balance breaks then we would be nowhere.

So we have to understand that all this is done by Śhrī Gaṇeśha. He is the one who looks after all the material things and all the things that are created.

For example, the first Chakra is created by this Mother Earth and the, all this universe then is created by the second Chakra. But the first Chakra is the one which emits the holiness, the auspiciousness which gives balance.

Auspiciousness comes only through balance.

So I find people when they have lost their balances, they go to the right or to the left.

People are very righteous, extremely righteous, very good Sahaja Yogis, nice, but there is no love.

Without love righteousness has no meaning. Love doesn't mean that you indulge into anything, but you must have detached love and responsibility.

So in our life we should see if we have that balance or not.

It's very important if we have to see to Śhrī Gaṇeśh.

Śhrī Gaṇeśh as you know is on Mūlādhāra, he controls all our senses as far as the Mūlādhāra is concerned, especially all the excretion.

So we are not people who believe in the indulgence of it, neither we believe in the detachment of it but in the balance. That's why you all have to be married, you have to have a proper physical life and that you should have proper children and lead a very sensible, dignified married life. That is very important.

But Love should be there, there should be love between husband and wife, between children and parents and everyone. If one person goes into imbalance the whole family goes into imbalance. To establish a family sweetly and nicely is also an art and if both of them agree and say that we'll do this way I'm sure it's not difficult because you are Sahaja Yogis you already know the quality of balancing.

What I find in the west now is the balance has gone really on the rocks because, see now there are all kinds of problems of homosexuality and this and that and all that, this is just because of imbalances, people have gone to that limit.

Another is asceticism where are your people are ascetic, made ascetic like in TM and all that, they have taken to these things because these are unnatural things, natural is to be in balance. If you are not in balance then things go off and you become either too much of something and nothing of the other, that's how people suffer.

So from Gaṇeśha's, Gaṇeśha's Chakra we have to learn what are we doing.

So sometimes we have to, say, accumulate things, we have to consume things and then we have to throw them away also. It is not that what ever we consume is just stored up within us or in the house, so we must also learn how to throw away things and how to take inside, this is in our household, in our thought also.

In our thought also, when we receive some thoughts from anywhere we should only digest that is good for us and is digested because of Param-Chaitanya, the rest should be thrown away, you shouldn't bother.

Like yesterday somebody met Me, she said Mother I am a catholic and I cannot get out of Catholicism, she is supposed to be, she wants to do Sahaja Yoga, then I said you stay inside Catholicism because there is no question of balance. But in Sahaja Yoga what ever good of Catholicism, means that you have to worship Christ, that part is all right. The rest, whatever is nonsensical has to be thrown away.

So the whole atmosphere that you face of thoughts, of ideas, of books, whatever you read, you must develop a capacity to consume that is good for you and whatever is bad you should throw away.

I must say in Austria people are really doing that very well.

Somebody is now doing research on Koran. He is taking out all the essences of Koran which are in balance. Koran talks of balance, talks of that you must have balance, equilibrium, it talks of it and so he has taken that point and now he is taking out all that creates imbalances in the, in the Islamic book called Koran which people have used for imbalances. On one point you can show how they have gone, deviated from their path. Deviated means they have gone into imbalances.

For example Christianity now, you can take it very clearly that they didn't use Gaṇeśha's principle there at all but all throughout is written that you have to look after yourself in a moral way, that in the old testament is written that [Aside:] [UNCLEAR].

Now in the old testament it is written “Thou shalt not commit adultery" but Christ has made it even subtler, very subtle because he's at Āgñyā controlling the eyes, so he said “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes." But the Christians have crossed all the limits of adultery, all the limits, I mean I don't know to what limit they are going to go now, I mean it's really they have gone amuck, the way they are going into this kind of a experimentation.

And then what will happen to your children? What will happen to your society? That's what is happening now in, in complete imbalance. Completely in imbalance all these societies where they are using adultery as a style of life. What Christ has said, just the opposite they are doing.

Same as Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has said that in everybody resides the spirit. Then everybody is just the same.

How can you have caste system? You can have at the most caste system according to the work you are doing but you can't have caste system according to the birth. You cannot have. I mean it's so plain, clean, you can see it so clearly, he has said it that everybody has got the spirit so everybody can ascend. Christ has said the same thing, he has not said that women don't have the spirit or men have the spirit and look at the way that these people are talking that they cannot have ordination, of course ordination itself is humbug, [laughter] but still I would say [UNCLEAR] but to deprive someone of certain rights because they are women or men is something absolutely, I should say nonsense.

It has no relevance to Dharma because Dharma means balance, Dharma means balance, the one who has balance is the man who is Dharmic, who is in the center.

If you are in the center, say you take, say a balance, this called as balancing but in Hindi it's called as Talasu, now you hold it in the hand, it's called as balance can you imagine, hold it in the center, center of gravity of that balance is in the center. Now if you go more on this side this will go down or you go on this side it will go down but if you are at the gravity point you cannot move this side or that side.

Can you imagine the gravity is coming from Mother Earth and Mother Earth has made Śhrī Gaṇeśha.

So this gravity point within us is to be maintained and this gravity comes very natural to human beings, it's not to be adopted or anything. If childhood, if children are told about their gravity, about their dignity, about their greatness they will immediately develop it with a great pride that we are something special and that we have to have this gravity within us.

Now this gravity gives you what you call, is a kind of an attraction. Anybody who is grave, doesn't mean that you pull a big face, that never means that, but gravity means that you are not, you are not disturbed easily by any turmoil or anything.

Gravity means so many things as you can see from Śhrī Gaṇeśha's character, that gravity means you are the one who is standing in the center. A person who sees everything, doesn't get disturbed, doesn't get tempted, is self contented, doesn't ask for anything, doesn't need anything, doesn't take revenge, forgives because he has no way to get out of his gravity, he is just bound there.

Now somebody takes a revenge and runs away, all right go away, if somebody tries to trouble him, all right go away because he can't run out of that gravity point. That another person has lost his balance but he can't run after that person who is in imbalance.

So he doesn't run after that person who has done wrong, he is all right, he has done wrong, have pity on him let him do that. He doesn't run after that person, he is standing there and he is standing there itself is sufficient to frighten others and to destroy others because he is standing at a point where he cannot be destroyed but the others are running towards destruction so what's the use of running after him, getting yourself also destroyed.

Such a person who has achieved that balance sees others as something to be pitied because he sees they are on the verge of falling down. I am here nicely settled down but they are on the verge of falling down. They may try to tell him, they may try to help him, they may try to do everything for that person because they can see that person is going to fall down but if that person doesn't want to take to balance you cannot force it.

So the Gaṇeśha's greatest quality is that he has gravity. With that gravity he sits down on this Mother Earth. Now because this is a country of Gaṇeśha the Australians must have balance, should naturally have but they don't, I must tell you they don't.

My experience of Australians before I started Sahaja Yoga has been terrific, I must tell you that [laughs], that if an Australian starts drinking only person who can compete with him is a Russian [laughter]. And then they talk so irrelevantly you don't know how to deal with them. If they shake your hand then you will feel after some time you have lost it.

Everything they do in such a big way that I couldn't understand why is it they shake your hand so badly, so C.P. said you see they have lots of jungles, he tried to console Me [laughter] and there are lots of, you see, animals and things and that's why you see they shake hands like that. I said, no animal shakes hands you see [laughter], how have they learned from the animals, I can't get this explanation all right, on the contrary they're extremely gentle. Animals are extremely gentle with each other.

So how this kind of shaking hands has started and only people who can beat them are Greeks who shake hands in a very funny way that really you get a big jerk.

So I felt that the country of Gaṇeśha which should be absolutely in balance and in one tune with this Param-Chaitanya. You see the animals who live in the jungles, you have so much of nature, see these trees they grow up to a point, they do not aggress others, they do not fight, they do not have groups, nothing of the kind. Just they grow accept what ever is given to them live with it happily and if they have to be destroyed they accept the destruction. But they are absolutely in contact with God or under the complete control of God almighty.

That's why animals are called as Pashu, means Pash, means under the control of God while we have got freedom. Even we have got freedom, still this is the country of Śhrī Gaṇeśha. The nature should really imbibe within you, is the balance and the balance should come in such a manner that your whole character, your own temperament should show that balance within you.

But what I find is the most difficult thing in Australia that there are group, groups and people fight and lots of problems with them. It surprises Me how can, in the country of Gaṇeśha where there are Ganas, you see all Ganas are here. If Ganas start fighting with each other what will happen? Supposing the antibodies in our body start fighting with each other then what will happen to our body? So you are like Ganas, you are specially blessed people to be born in this special country and after all these achievements that you have made if you are going to take this absolutely nonsensical things of the countries which are over developed, have lost their balance, then what's the use of being born in this Gaṇeśha's land.

In this Gaṇeśha's land you have to have a complete balance within yourself, that's what I expect from the Sahaja Yogis of Australia that they have to give to the whole world the sense of balance of Śhrī Gaṇeśha.

On the contrary it has been reported to Me that every time we have our program in Ganapatipule people have noticed that there are groups in Australia, that people are not clean hearted, they talk ill of others and they told Me, warned Me, Mother be on the look out why it is happening. They speak something behind their backs and try to convince the people of other countries about it, of course they being so clean that they don't like it. They don't want to hear it from Sahaja Yogis, they don't want to hear against anyone who are Sahaja Yogis.

So they informed Me “Mother this is a very serious thing" and certain things they have told Me are really very serious.

So now we have to first decide that we should bear no grudge to anyone. How can you bear grudge to anyone, we have to be forgiving. All the time forgiving, something, somebody has said it, all right doesn't matter.

As it is, English language you know is not very soft language, it's not a very soft language and in that if you say something one should not mind. It's a very humorous language but the humour sometimes cuts you out, but doesn't matter, that's the defect of the language. But that doesn't mean that you should say harsh words to anyone or you should be indifferent to anyone.

Do your duties to your children, to your wife, to your husband. Indifference to anyone itself is tremendous harshness. For the small thing if a woman gets angry and doesn't talk to her husband or if the husband neglects the wife, doesn't bother about her, looking after her, caring for her, then it's a, it's a crime, according to Sahaja Yoga it's a wrong thing to do because you must have balance you must have softness of nature.

You should talk very softly to others and be kind and nice.

Just find out if you are doing that or not. Then between the group where it's a question of using the power of love.

We have no other power, we have no money power, we have no this political power, economic power, nothing. What power we have got is the power of love.

For that, when you talk to each other one has to talk in a soft manner, extremely soft and kind manner.

He'll be surprised, I must say, in My experience I have found Germans like that, extremely soft to each other, extremely gentle, I mean I can't believe these Germans who killed the whole world once upon a time, now in Sahaja Yoga suddenly they have realised what a horrible thing we have done and Sahaja Yogis I tell you they're extremely gentle.

You scratch anyone and you'll be surprised that the, all of them, all the Sahaja Yogis are extremely, extremely gentle. While the Italians I used to think would be very gentle because they have art, culture, everything and they produce such nice things but on the contrary I find that Germans can beat them.

Beautiful German Sahaja Yogis there are, they hate neo-fascism, they [UNCLEAR] they said we have had enough of it, we had such a bad name all over the world, if they know we are Germans nobody wants to look at us and what are these people doing.

So they have become extremely gentle from one end to another end and this gentleness really brings them out because everybody is so surprised that Germans could be that gentle, so sweet.

Now look at Śhrī Gaṇeśha how gentle he is, how sweet he is and how innocent he is. His ways are so gentle, how he works on you, how he makes things for you, how gently he does all these things. Like see now you cannot see this flower opening, in My room you put some flowers they started growing, you can't see the growth, if you put a very, camera of a special nature which can record, you can see it growing there but you can't see, you can't see a tree growing, you can't see a flower opening out, you just can't see anything that is growing by nature, by Śhrī Gaṇeśh. He does it so gently.

Now also he will not go, go trees one on top of another but in such a way that they all get the suns rays. Just like a great Mother I must say the way gently he does everything. Every leaf is made differently what a, what an art, every leaf, in the whole world you cannot find exactly the same leaf whether it is from Australia or from America, the leaf if you see it under microscope will differ, every leaf, can you imagine.

Look at his work, how gently he puts everything. How gently he works and while we are living on the grounds of Śhrī Gaṇeśha how gentle we should be and in dealing with people we should be extremely, extremely gentle to show that we are Gaṇeśha's special Ganas.

That's what I feel about Australians. We have had some mishaps I know, doesn't matter but that's all right, few of them were like that but all of you should really learn to be very loving, gentle, kind and concerned. Small, small things can make people happy, very happy you see. Then I try all these tricks Myself and you should also try these tricks, is very simple. That one day I gave a sarī to a lady, so she said... Mother how do you know I love this colour... because I've seen you mostly wearing this colour, so I know you love this colour... but did you see me... yes I saw you.

So these small things you see, she was so heartened, she felt that Mother notices me, because I've seen you, I mean I see all of you but I know about all of you because I am concerned and bothered about you, for everyone I know where you stand, what's wrong with you, what should be done, what you like, what you don't like.

There's no harm in doing that, it's much better to have a better rapport when you understand what's the problem is. I immediately know what's the problem. I know a person who is dominating, I know a person who is mistrusting, everything I know and gradually I try to tell them in a very gentle way that this should be corrected.

But you need not tell them, for you there's a very simple method of giving bandhans and improving people, you don't have to worry about doing something very drastic about it or to tell them on the face.

Only thing if you give bandhan to them you can do it.

Now about this, how to develop this balance, is the big problem and I was thinking that I will talk about this later on to people in details, how to develop the balance in our character, in our nature, of course meditation does help you to be in the center but still sometimes we just slip off and there is a way by which you can really make your character in such a way that you remain in balance all the time.

On the contrary when there will be a crisis you'll just jump on to your gravity point, that should happen. If that happens no problem, it happens with Me, if I see any crisis anywhere, Sahaja Yoga in My family life or anywhere, immediately I know that I am deep down on to My gravity and from there I can see everything so clearly and then I solve the problem.

That is what one has to understand, that you have to jump on your gravity and then it's not a relative position, to be on the gravity is not a relative position, that it is not that you have to compare yourself with others, no you don't have to. You don't have to think that I'll be losing this or I'll be gaining this, nothing of the kind. You are there on your own position, you are there, you are in charge of yourself.

So you don't worry, there is no jealousy, there's no fear, there's no kind of a temptation, you just, you're there, you're not bothered.

Sometimes I've seen the leaders are worried about their leadership sometime.

Now leadership is just hocus-pocus I must tell you.

If somebody says Mother you become the leader I say no [laughs], I know, I know that joke.

So it's a joke, leadership is a joke you see and if you know it's a joke then only you'll work it out better. Because you see it is this, there's nothing like hierarchy in Sahaja Yoga, as you know we are all one, same. We cannot say that hands are better than feet and the feet is better than this, nothing of the kind.

In the same way everything is very important and everything circulates like the blood cells, so we do not say that this blood cell is good and that blood cell is bad or this blood cell is higher, that blood cell is higher, in the same way everybody is circulating, so one should not have any fear.

Also fear of the leader should not be there, there's no need to fear the leader. If you are on your gravity you keep to it. He will understand you, as long as leader is on the gravity he'll be there, as soon as you go away, goes away from the gravity he'll go away himself.

So you stand on your own gravity point and nobody can disturb you, you should have no fear, nothing, nothing to bother in Sahaja Yoga. As it is you are all saints, what is there to bother, the whole Ganas, all the angels, all this All-pervading Power is looking after you.

Yesterday we saw a kind of a light which we, miraculous light following us on both the sides of the car, especially on My side was there such a lot of light following. Just giving indication that it's all right, this is Gaṇeśha's place and here things are going to work out.

So you are placed so well, you have so many powers within yourself and which you can express very well, fearlessly you can have it within yourself. Anybody who tries to trouble you will be looked after by this All-pervading Power, you don't have to do anything about it.

So try to see are you in balance in any way, some people are too much attached to their family and some people are detached. Too much attachment to family is also wrong. What is the need to be attached so much, you spoil your children, when they grow up they hit you back.

So best is to keep them in balance, have a detached attitude towards life.

And this detached attitude as I told you is like the sap in the tree which goes to all the places. If it is surplus it can evaporate or it can go down but it doesn't stick to anything because if it sticks to anything, that involvement will kill that tree and also kill that part, that flower where it is sticking on to.

So we see that attached love is the death of the love.

So we have to have proper understanding of this detached love where you stand on your gravity and you have concern about everyone, think about everyone. In case you find that somebody is not all right, you don't lose your balance but get that person in the balance.

If you start losing your balance then how can you get back that person. And in that way you will lose all your hatred, all your anger, all your lust or what you can call, all your competition, all that because you stand in your own dignity, you don't want certificate from anyone, you don't want any praising from anyone, you just know that you are there and you are self contented.

Then it's not also necessary that Mother must give me a special audience, it's all ego. I must see Mother, I have to see her privately, what is the need to see Me privately. I am never private I am available every time to you, all the time.

So all these things you see are coming out of the ignorance and out of the fact that not, you are not on your gravity point.

So today to begin with, we have this Gaṇeśh Pūjā where we all should in our heart think what is our gravity point and that we have to stand very firm.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1992-02-09 Filming Shri Mataji, after Lunch, Robin and Jo Reid's Cottage, Lake Josephine, Gidgegannup, Darling Ranges (45 kms NE of Perth), WA, Australia

No, don't talk. I'm the gardener. I'm taking off the dead leaves [in reference to those leaving Sahaja Yoga].

[To Alex Henshaw who is recording:] I hope you are recording these [beautiful things in the sky] and I want to give a copy of it to the Europeans.

Contents: 1992-02-11 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Airport (evening in transit to Canberra), Sydney, New South Wales, Australia

We had this Gaṇeśha Pūjā and I really spoke very nicely on equilibrium. And the rain, expressed its equilibrium, but when they were singing, it was very quiet. And when it stopped for a short time suddenly it came with a complete gusto and sang some songs and went away again. Just for the Ār.ti to start with. It's very beautiful it was.

So dramatic. Very interesting.

So all preparations are done for the Pūjā? Maybe some people might come up from abroad, I don't know. Maybe. Have you written to some leaders or not, about this Pūjā that we are going to have?

Sahaja Yogi: I think yes some invitations were sent out.

Shri Mataji: Might have gone out.

Sahaja Yogi: There are one or two people coming.

Shri Mataji: They might come.

Sahaja Yogi: Only individuals. I invited a few people at Ganapatipule and they said; “Oh, it's such a long way." And I said: “But you always expect us to come to yours."

Shri Mataji: Yes. They have to move. Columbus could go to America, why not you people go to Australia. Can't understand.

Sahaja Yogi: And a much more comfortable trip.

Shri Mataji: Much more comfortable. They found a much more comfortable place to live in. He was really lost. But in a way thank God, you see. Otherwise there would have been no Indian left in India, if he had come here by chance.

So many flowers, beautiful. In Singapore I bought a book, very interesting, called as: `Faces of Islam'. And I was surprised that the whole concept of Islam is Sahaja. Absolutely.

And all the, authors and all the people, who have discussed there, are saying that Muslims are not Islamic.

They don't follow Islam. That's why their whole thing has become so rigid. I mean so surprising that book has revealed to Me the confessions, of these people.

And the society that Mohammed Sahib has talked about is ours. Muslims are nowhere. Absolutely the way He has described how the brotherhood would be there, how righteousness would be there. But one thing is missing I feel, that He said: “You must seek the knowledge. You must seek the Truth." Despite that, whatever was Islam, they have failed to seek the knowledge and to learn from others. Can you imagine? And He has said how to deal with non-Muslims also. And they said that there are many who are just minimal Muslims.

Some of them are just for name's sake, they are not Muslims. I mean I was so amazed. We have such a misunderstanding, that I always said that all these Incarnations and Prophets, came to establish a religion which was really Sahaja Yoga. All their expectations were Sahaja Yoga. And they have deviated so much, that you start wondering what is this, as in Christianity, you see.

How much it has deviated, Christianity, to what level it has gone, it is shocking, really shocking.

I don't know if you know of a book written `In God's Name'. And in that book, it reads like a novel actually, I mean it's very interesting. In that book the writer has suggested that this present pope, is responsible for the murder of the previous one. And there were thirteen or fourteen murders took place, just to hide this. Can you believe it? And recently one of the persons was murdered was Calvi. And they say, that this Calvi was murdered, I mean every week in Italy since I am there, some new exposures are coming. But this Calvi was murdered in a way that he was hanged, on one of the bridges of London. And if he was, he was the one, the one who murdered him, he said that: “I am a member of Mafiā all right, but I was paid by this Vatican by this pope, for murdering that man." Is a confession from him. And Mr.

Heard was, questioned: “Why didn't you take action against this when these things happen in England?" He says: “What's the use? Because they would kill all our lawyers, our judges everyone. It's all Mafiā." So the whole system of Catholic Church is nothing but Mafiā. Nine million, dollars of counterfeit, were printed and were distributed through their bank, that is Vatican Bank. Can you believe it? I mean this is Christianity. Is this what Christ preached? Killing people, doing all kinds of things? I mean nowhere I find Mohammed decrying anyone. He said: “You have to believe in everyone." Only these people are saying, that He was the last. He went to this limit to say that: “I am not Divine. I follow the Divine laws but I am not Divine." May be just He wanted people to follow. Surprising I was really surprised that, if Koran is teaching such great things, the Muslims are just on the other side of it and they admit, that Islam should not be confused with Muslims. In the same way we can say that Christianity should not be confused with Christians. What about Judaism? Same thing. I mean nowhere in that religion taught, to be like this the way they are behaving. They are following Hitler, out and out.

The one who killed them, tortured them, they are becoming just like them.

So what to say about these human beings as, under the name of God, under the name of religion, behaving like this. The reason they have given many: `Because of this and because of that.' So, this aspect, that they are saying that: `Because the people didn't read Koran properly, they didn't understand properly, they should have been educated properly.' It will take thousand years to educate every Muslim about it. And if they think that by teaching through their Book, it will be imbibed, it's not possible.

Everybody reads Bible everybody reads Koran, but nothing goes inside just reading reading reading.

So their idea is that if they read and analyze, I mean you have to have big universities for that, it could be taught to people and, still then not necessary, that they would imbibe.

I know of Mahatma Gandhi, see He was a realised Soul was a and He was of course, over-disciplined according to Me. And He put these ideas on to His followers. As long as He lived they were all right.

As soon as He died, they came out in their true colours. Everything dropped off like some sort of a mud on their body and they became horrible people in India.

So the thing missing is this, that, they are not realised Souls. Because they are not realised, all these things they cannot bear. They cannot bear money, they cannot bear power. Now I think they cannot bear the religion.

So you have to have your Realisation.

Unless and until you have your Realisation, you cannot bear anything.

Moreover in Sahaja Yoga I mean there are no compulsions, no disciplines as such, I mean compared to what we see in all these religions. Suddenly I find people coming up, to the expectations of righteousness, goodness and they are also very compassionate.

So the change has come from inside, that means it's the innate, change. The innate religion has been awakened. It's not just forced on you, that you should be Vishwa Nirmalā Dharmis but you become, you just become that. This is the point you will see, these Prophets did not know, I think Christ did not know that these people will never change unless and until they get their Realisation. I think He knew also because He always said that you have to be born again.

So when He said: “You are to be born again” they have a, brand you see again, one are Christian, another Born Again, another are Seventh Day, another, something. All just the same stupid people.

But Sahaja Yoga is the only way. Where what you, say that's what you follow. Practice and precepts are just the same for Sahaja Yogis. They just can't do it something else. They are dreaming also that the occident had a very bad influence on Islam and all that. I don't think it's that. You are coming from the occident, still you have jumped into the right culture of religion, when you understand what is righteousness what is good. You can bear it. You're not to be told do this, do that, but in the light of your Spirit you do it. And you achieve it. It's a very, interesting thing to note, that a little thing was missing in all of them and they just went away as if they never knew where to land. All these religions, one better than the other.

Hindus, same thing. Hindus had of course one advantage they were never organized, thank God, because if you are organized and misled, then the whole party goes astray. But Hindus, Hindu scriptures were never organized into a religion like that. But still, so many points they have missed. Like it is said that: “In everyone there resides the Spirit." Then how can you have caste system? You cannot. But they have caste system.

So, also so many other rituals and things nonsense is there, absolutely nonsense. And Hindu religion became, a kind of a, ritualistic religion where, the priests uneducated useless priests became in charge. And they're so stupid, worse than pope sometimes, that they say that if you want to have...

I've also found out a solution for children our Western children, what is the problem. I went to Japan and what I found there, that till the age of twelve years, they don't allow children to have much sports, to go out much, and, mostly they are in the house or in the school, learning to do things with their hands.

And medically I know that, till the age of twelve years, there is myelin sheath that grows on your nerves.

And this myelin sheath gives you the deftness. Like if you go to the villages like [UNCLEAR Saranti or all these], where they are producing artistic things, what happens, that the children also start doing the same. It's so easy for them when they grow up.

So that is the time when they have to develop that deftness. That deftness is, also makes them more concentrated, they get involved into it and also, that you can never acquire later.

So that is just a precious time of twelve years, that that is the time children should be made to do some drawings, not at random, but properly, to do some carvings, to do some other clay work. You'll be surprised by the age of twelve years, the boys in Japan could repair a watch, could repair televisions and one boy produced, produced. At that time when I had gone, there were not many televisions also. I was surprised that the boy produced a television, at the age of twelve years. And also they are given violins in their hands when they're about five years. They start playing.

So the music, art and all this side is developed till the age of twelve years. And then the children are made to go out and play and do all kinds of exercises and also sports. But they are not let loose at a young age.

Now here I think about twenty years back or may be twenty-five years back a new theme started with children that, you should allow the children to do what they like, let them express themselves, let them be free, this that. I think it's not proper. Otherwise they would be hanging from some trees trying to do without parents you see. After all this is the way the parents escape their duty I think. You have to tell children what they have to do. You have to, talk to them, you must have a rapport with them. You must talk to them and you must also try to guide them, with your experience, tell them what is good what is bad. But this kind of a, thing that the child should be allowed to do what they like, express themselves the way they like. I've seen the Western children always will ask parents: `Why, why?' They are not to know, they have limitations. They can't know every `why'. How can they understand? They are limited and so, first of all, they are to build up. You can you see this aeroplane now. Supposing it is not built up and allowed to go because: `It's all right. Let it go in the sky'. What will happen? In the same way we have to put the nuts and bolts properly, into them and see that they develop a personality.

That doesn't mean that you should be in any way cruel to them. Not necessary. There's no need to beat them or do anything of the kind. But only thing is, with love you should be able to change them.

And also dignity, sense of dignity should be there. Because if you develop their sense of dignity, they will not misbehave. That's very important from childhood to give them a sense of dignity, that they are Sahaja Yogis and they have to behave. Because when we started this school one year, first year, one month, it was such a problem I mean, impossible situation. The teachers gave up and they wrote to Me: “Better send typhoon take children." It's terrible. Not only that, they trouble them but they used to beat them and bite them and do all kinds of thing and make fun of them.

So wild. And that place is full of cliffs and full of, all kinds of dangerous heights and they would just run out. Just like dogs. Dogs are better I would say. They had no caution about themselves and for one month, they all gave up. And the Principal has now run away he said: “I can't manage these children. They don't want to study. They have come here to trouble us, that's all. They don't want to study.' And first thing when I met them they came and told Me: `Mother, we don't want to study." Now we have put a one, masseur on them, who massages their body. He was telling Me: “They are really funny children." They don't want to brush their teeth. If you ask them to brush their teeth they start crying. They don't want to have a bath. Tell them you have to have your bath, they start crying.

Anything you tell them they start doing like that.' So we can say one thing, that disciplining children in a indirect way is very important like that you see. Because this idea, that you should leave the children as they are, is very wrong. You have to guide them and tell them how to behave.

Now see, you must have seen Indian children how quiet they are. But I think the attention of children is quite a lot. And the mothers are not working also, so they look after the children. Now in our schools that we have here you should, train them up that way. You can talk to them that: `You are Sahaja Yogis, you see, you are special people.' The other day there was one Indian child, he's living in Singapore, where he has picked up all these bad habits. He came and he was talking to Me: “Grandma, Grandma." And he said: “I will tell you in Your ear something." And he said something funny. I said: “Are you a servant?" He said: `No." “Then only servants talk like this. How are you talking like this?" “Is it?" I said: “Yes.

This is how the servants talk." He got such a fright. He said: “All right, I will never talk like that. It's dirty. I'll not talk like that." You see, suddenly he changed.

So we have to talk to them, we have to have rapport with them. After all they are born realised so they have special powers and they are special children. But, one thing is definite, that children cannot be avoided and you cannot avoid your duty towards your children. You have to look after them because, they are in your trust as it is. They are after all born realised children. They are special children with tremendous brains. They are cleverer than you and they can outwit you, because they are so clever, so intelligent. But if they get spoiled at this age, then later on it will be very difficult to bring them... You were better, because you were not born with Realisation.

So you understood the value of Realisation. But they don't.

So they are to be told that: `You are realised children, God sent you here, you are special children,' and what should happen. Gradually they will pick up and understand.

Of course I am happy that so many marriages are successful and people are behaving all right. Of course there are some stray cases of fighting going on which I hear about. This is stupid of course again, that we should fight. When we are both Sahaja Yogis, what is there to fight? I mean, there's no question.

We believe in all the religions, so we can't fight on religions. On what subject can we fight, I just don't know. We know the ethics of Sahaja Yoga and we like it, so we cannot fight on ethics. Economics of Sahaja Yoga we understand, we cannot fight on that. I just don't understand what is the, point of difference where they start fighting. On the contrary in Sahaja Yoga, you can really be, enjoying your married life. Should be enjoying your married life and the children should see to it, that our parents are so nicely, quietly settled down. But if they see you quarreling, next day they'll be quarreling too.

Then we have only monogamy. We don't have three wives or four wives as the Muslims have. We don't have four husbands or something like that. We have simple monogamy, a very peaceful life, very beautiful life, then why should there be problem between husband and wife? Culturally we are just the same, we believe in all the good cultures of all the world. There's no problem. One gentleman told Me that: “My wife quarrels with me on one point." I said: “Which?" She said: “You do not meditate, you must meditate more." I said: “That's a good point." He thinks as well. But I told the wife that: “You need not tell him, he'll do it on his own." Because you see cannot force things. This has to work out by themselves. You must accept them as they are. Gradually they'll all improve and gradually they will get there. You cannot just force them. We cannot just tell each other, do this way or that way.

Sahaja Yoga is a thing is to be imbibed. People don't understand that. They think by forcing people, by jumping at them, that's not the way. Of course if somebody is very difficult, then we have divorce in Sahaja Yoga. We have not banned divorce as in the Catholic religion or anything. There is divorce. But there should be something sensible about it. One has to work it out. Normally there should not be many cases of Sahaja Yoga, of divorce. But we have because of the background certain types of funny relations they have had or I don't know, what to say. On the whole, ninety percent or I should say ninety-five percent marriages are quite successful and will be more now the number will be much more, I'm sure.

This time we had seventy-six marriages, so you can imagine. And in this one month, Yogi was after My life with his file there.

So there, also there's some misunderstanding that Yogi decides, he does not, poor man. He cannot.

But it happens sometimes, like at the last minute they'll bring somebody, now we cannot locate the name of that person, we just can't find out if he's there or not, or she's there or not. Suddenly they bring somebody and he may say or she may say that I am there on the form and all that. Then you have to accept it. If you accept such a thing then what happens that, you find that person is not a Sahaja Yogi or was not a Sahaja Yogi for such a long time.

Something like that.

So because of three hundred to four hundred requests you see, what can we do. I mean after all, can't know who is who.

This is one thing that is very good. At least we can control all that. If something is wrong we can find out, we can work it out and we can manage things. It's not so difficult. But the leaders must be careful because the leaders who recommend should not, do something out of just some sort of a pity, or some sort of a consideration. The main consideration should be, how are the vibrations and what is the commitment in Sahaja Yoga. If they are committed to Sahaja Yoga and if their vibrations are all right, then it's all right it's perfect. But sometimes, you know, some people do have problems which do not come up and later on it is discovered.

Still, I am so happy our society is so great. There's no such society existing in the whole world. And this is the society I think all these Prophets and everybody dreamt of, of such love, understanding. Gradually I think we all will, grow and grow and grow. The growth is going on, but the atmosphere I must say is very nice and it helps each other.

In Australia we had more problems in Melbourne, not in Sydney I must give credit to your leader here, he has managed the things well. There are many after him also it's rather funny but, I just don't know, because Australia always had a problem, this kind and gradually we have sorted it out. It's a, leadership means nothing but I call it hocus-pocus. It has no meaning at all. But then somebody has to be there to contact and all that. It's something so limited. But there is jealousy, there is all these things still, lingering behind and then the problems come in.

Gradually I am sure all of us will grow well and everything will work out, in a proper way. Should work out in a proper way. Our society has to show to the world that there can be a society like this.

Now there's a good news which is very good I think, we can start the calendar from that date perhaps because such a transformation is coming, that the Russian Embassy has invited Me to honour Me for the work I have done in Russia. And the another good news is that Gorbachev wants to meet Me. And you must be aware that in Togliatti, is one place, Togliatti which is an industrial town where a gentleman called [UNCLEAR Pagliati] from Italy went down, he was a revolutionary. And he started this place called as Pagliati and the best motorcar that they make is made in this place Togliatti, beautiful one. They gave Me a model here, very beautiful, quite big. Looked like a limousine sort. Quite big. And in that one city we have twenty-two thousand Sahaja Yogis practicing, twenty-two thousand. And you'll be amazed that in Russia nowhere is less than sixteen thousand people, nowhere. Any time you go there at least sixteen thousand people practicing Sahaja Yoga, very seriously.

So can imagine in that country what is going to happen, though it hasn't got food as you have here, too much to eat, but still look at the way, look at the way it has worked out. How deeply they have gone into it. They had never heard a word about Gaṇeśha. They never believed in God. They were in a way atheist. And how much they have achieved in just... look at that. How did they achieve that? The depth that they have, they just touched it. And also they invited some scientist, or two hundred scientists were there. And when I started telling about science, said: “Mother, don't tell us about science, had enough of it. Now please tell us about Spiritual science, spirituality. That's it." Wonderful I tell you, such experiences. And in My lecture only, just giving a lecture at the time when there were about sixteen thousand to eighteen thousand people, people got cured, just got cured.

Such wonders. There was one lady who came to see Me after the lecture and she was just sitting in front of Me. They brought her on a wheelchair. She said: “I couldn't even sit." All right. And then I said: “You are all right” She said: “Really?" I said: “Yes. You get up." Got up. She started walking and then she started running and everybody started... Such faith. Such faith.

And in Czechoslovakia, there was one old lady. They brought her with great difficulty just, held her out and brought her on the stage and she was trying to sit down. Then she said: “Mother I have complete faith in You. I know You can cure me." I said; “Really?" “Yes. I am sure You can." I said: “You are cured." She got up. Everybody was surprised. I said: “Now walk. Walk now." And then she started walking fast and everybody started laughing. But that faith, you see, is something so special. I mean I have seen so many miracles happening with this faith that...

There was one fellow called Mr. Shukla, who is a big boss in this hotel management of Taj Mahal.

And this Mr. Shukla heard that his mother was very sick she was going to die. Very serious.

So he went to Rotak which is very far away, beyond Delhi from Bombay [Mumbai] and he saw his mother in a very bad condition, very painful. The doctor said she has a galloping cancer and at the most she can live for three days. He got very much worried. He came back home. He thought that: “I couldn't even talk to my mother, she's in a coma, what will happen to her." He just sat before My Photograph and prayed: `Mother, please cure my mother. I don't want anything just now, You just cure my mother, I know You can cure her.' And within three days before, instead of dying she was out of the hospital. He brought her to Bombay [Mumbai]. They took her to the hospital of Tata, Tata Memorial Hospital we have and when they examined her they said she has no cancer. He has papers. He has papers from the first hospital and from this one.

Recently, Rajesh told Me a story about himself. He said: “Mother, You don't know how many powers You have given me." I said: “No it's your faith." His uncle was just dying. They had removed his oxygen and everything. His aunt sent for him and she said: “Now he's about to die. You pray for his salvation, at least to Mother. Just somehow or other try to see that he's also gets his salvation." He's not a Sahaja Yogi uncle nothing of the kind.

So Rajesh just had his pendant, just twisted it and then closed his eyes and prayed: `Mother, please cure my uncle.' That's all. He said it was too much of a venture to say but I did say. And the uncle who was dying got all right, went to America and he's back and still kicking.

So this is something you see. We have to go deep down into ourselves. Superficiality is not going to help. If we are superficial by nature, it will not help us. We have to understand ourselves. The whole mechanism is within us to attract the attention of this All-pervading Power, to use it, to work it out. We can do marvels. If we really go deep down and become good vehicles of that All-pervading Power. That's what we have to do. Everything can work out. There are so many examples of this, but specially these two recently I heard about and, I was amazed. We have to have that depth within us to understand: What are we doing? Where are we? We are born at this time. It's an important time and that at this time, we have got Self-realisation.

Very few people got it. Not only that, we have been blessed with so many things. But above all we are so powerful. And all these powers must be manifested, must be used, must be worked out. And this superficiality of living on a very mundane style is not going to help us. We have to really go deep down into ourselves. I mean you are seekers, no doubt, you are seekers of truth. And you have found it also.

How many have found it? So many are already lost if you see as hippies, as this, as that, as TM, as another this Rajneesh. I've seen some other lady here, two months she came. How much she was caught up. She was just worried.

So many are lost like that. But you are the people who have got the knowledge, you are God's people, you have got the truth with you and all these powers are within you, but you must use them.

But I've seen even after coming to Sahaja Yoga some people get lost in the temptation because they get money.

Some people get some talents, they get lost in the talents.

Some people get some powers, they'll get lost with them. That's not the way. You see if God has given you this Realisation, He expects you, to give Realisations to others, to go deep down into your Self. This is what we have to do is to really work out, our depth.

It all exists within us. You never knew there is Spirit within us. Is there. You never knew there is Gaṇeśha within us. Is there. And when you started awakening them, you found it works, it works. It has worked such wonders, health wise, wealth wise, in every way. But spiritually, how far we are? How do you judge a person who is spiritually evolved, is that, even a desire works out. Any, desire works out. And such a person doesn't have any funny desires. Absolutely it works out. And that's what I want Australians to do because you are special people born in this country of Gaṇeśha. Perhaps we forget sometimes that you are born in the land of Śhrī Gaṇeśha. Very special people [UNCLEAR you are]. Very special.

So have respect for yourself. And also must, manifest your glory. That otherwise, of all the places from Russia, Sahaja Yoga will spread, it's not, I mean, never expected that. But it may, it may I tell you they are so deep, so very deep people. Extremely deep.

I don't know what has given this. Materialism I think is responsible for our superficiality. They are not materialistic. About thirty percent people are materialistic, the rest are not. They are all seeking the spirit in the real sense of the word. Not just for fashion. Very remarkable. Very loving. Very beautiful. I was there, they came. They arranged that, from one place, some people will come only for two days then two days. And where I had purchased a little cottage, they, there are some places where they can live in a small little huts like that. They all came and stayed there. I didn't know where they were living or anything. Early in the morning they would come, bring some flowers and plant the flowers in the garden, flowers, itself. And would not say anything and go away. Sit down for meditation.

One day suddenly I discovered all of them sitting there meditating.

So surprised. And then it was this Gorbachev problems came up.

So I said: “Now what are you going to do?" “What are we doing? We are in the kingdom of God. Why should we worry about Gorbachev or anyone, why should we?" We are not worried. Beautiful people. Beautiful.

Very collective. Also this is the blessing of, communism they are very collective. I have seen that also in Calcutta [Kolkata]. People are extremely collective. They don't talk ill of others. Very collective people.

It's not like: `Come to my house. Oh You must visit. This thing, this is my daughter...' That `my'-ness I didn't see, in Russia and in Calcutta [Kolkata]. I was surprised.

Calcutta also has communistic, communist government. How it has worked out, I can't say.

So are you spreading Sahaja Yoga? How many people give Realisation?

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR]. We all do it together collectively.

Shri Mataji: Now you are doing. You all have to do it. It's very important. All of you should ask this question: `What have I done for God?' Look at these flowers that you brought. They are so fragrant.

They are so beautiful. They are going to live for a very short time. But what pleasure. What expression of your love they give. How beautiful they are. Australians have a very big role to play. As I expect from Gaṇeśha, I expect from you also.

Sahaja Yogi:... from Hong Kong, from Alex and Kate. And they managed to get some editorial in the newspaper, for their programs as a run-up to your visit. And in the first program they got sixty Chinese people, very good quality people.

Shri Mataji: Oh Look at Alex. Alex is really special I must say. Such a beautiful boy. When his mother died and he was staying with Me, so I said: “Alex won't to go to your mother?" So he said: “Mother, there's no seat available. Will take about four, five days to get a seat by the time it goes on.

So what is the need. I am with You." Said: “You did try?" Said: “I did little bit, not much, because I saw You and I knew that my mother will have Eternal life, so why should I worry." Now he's saying that Alex has got sixty Chinese people in Hong Kong. I couldn't get even one.

Chinese are another one. If Sahaja Yoga gets into their heads, they're very traditional, very, very deep, very deep people, Chinese. The Prime Minister of China, I met him when I went there, in a photograph he's just next to Me standing. After that he became Prime Minister, not that time. A very nice man.

And he was asking Me about spiritual life, all the time. I showed complete ignorance, you see. I said these communists God knows what they are up to. I didn't tell him. But I think we can approach him now.

Somehow or another they got very fond of Me, all the Chinese government and all.

Somehow.

Some sort of an auspiciousness they felt about Me. I couldn't understand them, what made them, respect Me so much. They had one exhibition, one which they had invited Me and My husband and I couldn't go at this point. And, the next day was closed, that exhibition must be closed but they kept it open for Me alone. And they said: “You must see the exhibition, it's important." I don't know, they have their own ways of understanding.

We had Confucius there. They follow more Confucius now, our Confucius who has talked about general well-being and all that. But not so much about Tao, that they don't talk. But they are extremely humble Chinese. Very humble. You try to praise them and they say: `No, no. We have to do much better than this, nothing.' They can never get pampered you see, you couldn't praise them, never. They are very much like Russians, in so many ways. I can see Sahaja Yogis here. Any questions? Tania is very happy with her husband. Very happy.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes Shri Mataji she's happy.

Shri Mataji: She's very happy.

Sahaja Yogi: Mother did you know she has hepatitis?

Shri Mataji: She has what? She too? I've told him what is the thing. Can you fax to Doctor Szpiro? [Hindi exchange.] Faxes. She is on the liver... or her husband, was just like a child. But see him when he sings, absolutely. Remarkable. There's that one with a super intelligence I see. Wonderful. She's happy because she can come to Pūjās, we are now there. She is very happy about that. She's happy in Spain also. Italians are better but not Spanish people. Spanish are little [UNCLEAR] I think this American conquering has reflected in their character.

There are also some misunderstanding of people think that I have said that the men should dominate women. Never. I am Myself a woman and then, if men start dominating Me what will happen? But the man is the, head of the family.

So the woman, should get her authority from him but she has her own authority, as a mother and the husband must respect her. Otherwise he'll never be respected.

So it's kind of mutual understanding between the two as I have said that, they are the two wheels of a chariot, one on the left one on the right. If you change the wheels, then what will happen? They are absolutely, equal no doubt. Absolutely equal. Only they are not similar, which we must understand that we are not similar. Is nice to be a woman, I tell you, it's much better. Because men have to face so many people, face so many bosses. You have only one boss and if you know how to manage him...

But should be done sweetly, with understanding. It works out with your, wisdom. Must have the wisdom, how to manage it. But that's a part of the game and one has to play it well. Not to feel any way dominated by anything, but it's a, kind of a framework one has to work with. Now supposing this is on our head. This is not dominating us, but it has to be there.

So a kind of a framework is there and that framework is to be accepted. Both of them should accept and the husband should never make her feel that he is dominating her.

Actually, in India the custom is that husbands are also very clever, not only the women.

So normally they'll give all the money to the wife to be managed and later on take away all of that. And always they'll say: `All right.' They'll say: `All right,' the son to her, like Guru and all that. Means: `You are my lord and this and that and...' That's how they keep it up. Because one thing they must understand is that if wife is all right the family is all right. If wife is all right your life is all right.

So you must look after your wife. Very important. If you understand that point the men will never try to dominate. Is a wrong idea is I don't know from where it has trickled down that I have said, the men should dominate a woman. But false prestige should not be there.

Like in America we went first. You know American women, how they are. They'll divorce ten times and have all the money of the men. The men are just like beggars and they are so rich. It's a profession with them. The women have this profession of divorcing men.

So they had cooked and all that.

So I said: “All right let the boys eat first and then you can eat later on." They said: “Mother this is domination." I said: “Why? Eating first is domination or later on domination." I think eating there, later on is domination, because you are at peace you see. Eat as much as you like. But if somebody is eating first, then he's in a hurry to finish for the next lot that has to come up. But if you are the second one then you are relaxed you are eating the way you like. There's nothing to feed.

And moreover, it's an attitude I think that: `I love to cook, I love to serve I enjoy it. I enjoy.' It's a, temperament of a woman. She wants to feed people, she likes it. I tell you, My grandchildren, daughters, both of them, they were quite small, I asked them what do you want to be in life.

So they said: ` We want to be a nurse or an air hostess." So I said: “Why these two?" “In these only two professions you can give food to people. That's why." And they play, you know, they play like that. They'll make a tray in that they will [UNCLEAR].

So this is actually innate feeling of a child. Like once My daughter told girls, that if somebody comes from outside you must make him sit on the sofa there. You must see that the fan is open. Give them something to eat, take out from the fridge and all that.

So one washerman, the dhobi came in. They called for [UNCLEAR] to sit on the sofa. Said: “I can't sit." “You have to sit." “I'm in a hurry." “Nothing you have to sit." They made him sit, opened the fan, got everything from the fridge, put it before him. “You have to eat, otherwise we'll feed” you see. And when My daughter entered the house she saw these girls feeding him with their own hands. Got such a fright. He said: “I'm sorry these girls I don't know what are they are." They said: “You told us and we're very happy we are doing that." So innately children have this feeling in their hearts, as girls. And then when we get a chance we want to do it. I mean, it's such a pleasure, to feed someone.

You must have seen with Indian women, it's very common they love to feed others, they're very happy.

And, I mean there's no domination I mean if you have to feed someone, that doesn't mean that somebody's dominating you these are all nonsensical norms. On the contrary it's a privilege. Otherwise after sometime we'll find, that men will be sitting at home and the women will be going out. That will be, that's already a situation I mean.

[Aside:] It's hot for children I think we are in a cabin, like the ship I think, without the sea. And there's no air conditioning properly. Outside is better.

So, any questions? [UNCLEAR something about entrepreneurs and a book]. Entrepreneurs? I see.

It's quite a small book I have to say.

Sahaja Yogini:... the entrepreneurs, plastic surgeons, the cosmetic industry, fashion industry...

Shri Mataji: So what are they saying?

Sahaja Yogini: I think the bottom line is that women have got very poor, self image through those [UNCLEAR]. It's a multimillion dollar business [UNCLEAR] people are forcing women into and women are trapped...

Shri Mataji: So that and then they're saying, so women can't do this and...

Sahaja Yogini:... talk about how women are frightened to grow old, that there is no culture...

Shri Mataji: You see in, I can have the book? In Germany, when I went, there was a lady and she was telling Me that in Germany, if you get old then the men go after younger girls, because you are left alone. Then you have to marry some older man, who is left by his wife or something. It's a big danger. I said: “Why don't you produce children. I mean they get, if you have four children they get more money than the Prime Minister." They said: “But then you cannot have a husband." Either you have children or you have a husband. It's like that.

It is because, I tell you, it's very superficial, very materialistic superficial ideas, about women also.

They're a commodity. In Sahaja Yoga woman, is a person, as equal as a man, you see. It's very different.

They are just a commodity to be used, whenever they want to. And I must say also some women know the weaknesses of men and try to work it out in such a manner.

Sometimes the women only, trouble women, also. They don't understand that she's a woman and I'm a woman I should not try to trouble. But in sort of competitiveness, they do wrong things and try to destroy another's life.

But men will have to change now, it's coming to that. All these tricks they have tried and they are now having, lot of problem. There are diseases that are coming up. Already there's lots of already these secret diseases there. Apart from these secret diseases there are diseases which are stopping them, new diseases.

So now they'll have to come to monogamy. Once they come to monogamy, then they'll have to realise the value of women, what they are.

And in this all, quarrel about ordination. Imagine Christianity is so stupid that they can't have women for ordination. Now I am a Woman after all. And now as a reaction, women are so angry, that a girl came to Me the other day I was in Perth she said: “Mother, why did you call God as `He', why don't you call as `She'?" I said: “Because I am `She' that's why I have to call Him `He'." But this concept is only, is still there. In the Indian scriptures nowhere, that there's God and His Power is Ādi Shakti. But nowhere, even Islam, in Christianity, in Judaism, in what you call, Buddhism, Jainism, nowhere. They have not talked of the woman at all. As if the whole world is made of men. And this is surprisingly for developed countries in Sweden countries like this, they are talking this nonsense. But the solution is only Sahaja Yoga. There's no other solution. Even women go and fight with men what's the use? Men fight with women no use.

So the best thing for them is to get to Sahaja Yoga to understand the value of women.

They understand what they are for and what is our relationship means you see. It's such an enjoyment.

Stupid those people who do not want to have that enjoyment.

Also your media is responsible whenever you open the television you just find husband wife fighting... It's too much. All the time fighting, fighting, they show... they never show good relationship. Once I asked Derek Lee: “Is there any novel where they show the romance of husband and wife?" He said: “There's no book." No book in English. The whole of English language there's no romance of husband and wife, can you imagine. I mean that is how you get into tragedies.

But in India if you see, the literature has certain ethics. One of them is only the romance between husband and wife is a romance. The rest of it is, vulgarity. This is the concept it shows. Also because mostly they are arranged marriages, so they don't know all this romanticism before marriage.

So they are waiting for their wife and whole thing and the wife becomes everything to the husband and same, vice versa.

So the whole cultural concept has changed. It used to be the same way before, in every country, but now we are advanced you see. In that advancement we have done this kind of a thing, is to make antagonistic societies of men and women. It's very sad. But we are very superficial.

But the concept itself is wrong. I think the basic fundamental thing, in the Western culture is, to see and to be seen. This is what I've realised. That's the culture. That people should see you and you should be able to see others. I mean, it is so superficial. Now they see somebody's legs and somebody's knees, I mean, what's the use of a joyless pursuit. That person doesn't belong to you nothing of the kind. What's the use of seeing these things? But this, we have become very superficial. And it's going on and on. But I think this will all stop in Sahaja Yoga, gradually we'll start seeing the beauty inside.

You know Chris Marlow you know from London. He had a wife Jane. She was quite a dry person. She herself was saying that: “Mother I am no good for him." So they divorced. Then he told Me: “Mother I want to marry a girl who has lots of vibrations." I said: “What about looks?" “No I don't see any looks.

I want to see a girl with vibrations." And we had a girl from Amalhabad. Very dark, extremely dark and village-like, absolutely. You will never, I mean, I don't think from your standards she may not be beautiful from My standards she was very good. Full of vibrations. Full of vibrations. As soon as she came on the stage he jumped, said: “This is the one." He's so tall, she's short and [UNCLEAR]. And he looks after her so well I tell you. And then he went to her place, her village, all the way to Amalhabad. My sister saw, she said: “What a couple." I said: “The couple has chosen each other, I can't help it." He's so fond of her, he looks after her. She's very sweet, I mean I really love with that. But I didn't know that this fellow will have the same sort of a feeling. Because we are superficial these things are accepted. You should see the inner being. How beautiful it is.

Look at that Elizabeth Taylor, that stupid country of America. This was her eighth divorce, I mean eighth honeymoon.

So they had three thousand or four thousand people just standing outside her house to see, she is going for her honeymoon. Can you imagine stupid. And there were ten helicopters hovering round. And they were parachuting and some of them fell on the trees and some fell on the people who were there. And they were quite excited, very sensational. You know such stupid people these Americans are. I don't know what to say. And this lady had divorced eight. And this husband of hers, this one, he's I think, I don't know how many years younger to her, like her son. And also he's an ordinary man or something. But just for the heck of it. She has no sense of marriage, nothing. But what she has done is she's operated her eyelids and she's put her up and all that and she looks younger now and she says: “I can..." There's no, in that country you cannot mature.

So stupid. I mean, I was yet to come across people in a group so stupid as that. Stupidest people you see. Stupidest. You can never mature this way.

Still Sahaja Yoga is now working. Gregoire feels so exhausted. Every time he foot-soaks he just lies at, saying: “Mother, please save me from New York." It's terrible. There's no way of maturity. [UNCLEAR].

They invited Me for this Jungian Society. And I went there. Of course I didn't read Jung much but that day I got hold of a book and I found out the reason why Indians have failed.

So I talked to them they were very much impressed and all that. Then the president of that society is eighty years of age and he said that: “Mother I must see You I have some private thing to talk." I said: “All right." This old man came about eighty years of age. He said: “I have a very serious problem." I said: “What's the serious problem." He says: “You see I had a keep. Because I am a Catholic I could not marry the keep but I never told my wife. [UNCLEAR] I never told my wife." “So now what am I supposed to do?" He said: “Now that my wife is dead and I want that keep to stay with me but she has refused. Can you do something to see that the keep stays with me." I said: “It's all right." Eighty-year-old man. I was turning sixty by that time.

An eighty-year-old man talking like this to Me. I said: “Now what is happening to this man?" And he is the chairman of the Jungian Society, International. See the maturity of that person. Eighty-year-old.

In America, such cases so much. Terrible. Extremely stupid and I don't know, they have no confidence in themselves. All the time they think we should not get old.

So there was, on the television they showed the cinema actors and actresses coming for a dance of `shake' and they were all about ninety years of age. Then when they got down from the car only they were shaking. I said: “What's the use, of going to shake?" In ninety years they have not grown. Funny dresses they were wearing and all that.

So when are they going to grow. There's no maturity. The atmosphere is the other way round I think. Very stupid.

Really mad. But people start copying them. Whatever they say people listen to them even English I'm surprised. I said that: “You are sensible people. Why do you follow these stupid Americans, or the French?" English people are rather mature. Maybe they lived in India so they have matured quickly I don't know why. But compared with these stupid people they are much more mature. And now they are following the American style.

They used to follow first the French style, now the American style.

They don't stand on their own legs. But Italians have a good sense of ridicule. They understand what is ridiculous, that's something about them. A great sense of ridiculous. It will all change in Sahaja Yoga it will. You are in the Kingdom of God. You shouldn't worry about these things. But what to do, if they join us they can come up. But they don't want to, let them be like as they are. What else? Sahaja Yogini... lymphatic system...

Shri Mataji: Lymphatic system? If the lymphatic system is under attack you may be left-sided.

You see it is, on the whole, there are only two types of problems actually. Third type doesn't exist, or doesn't bother us. One is the left another is the right, you see. Now the lymphatic system is actually, the combination of both. It's a psychosomatic disease. For that you have to do just three-candle treatment.

You see it is reduced to such a simple thing either you do three-candle treatment, or you do water treatment.

The third type is the one where you have been to wrong Gurus, in the center. If I run some wrong type of meditation [UNCLEAR]. For that also it's three-candle treatment, mostly. Or maybe if the [UNCLEAR] comes there's a little change also sometimes. But whatever it is, this is very simple for physical. Anybody has lymphatic system problem has to do left side first.

So this is psychosomatic.

First you must get rid of the psycho side, so do the left side. When it is cleared out, then right side is not difficult.

If you are too right-sided, then what happens, it's like a pendulum, you move from right to left. Then psychosomatic troubles start. The best is first to remove the left, then is look after the right.

Sahaja Yoga is a very simple way of clearing. It works.

Somebody should help you in left side is to give you bandhan on your Chakras with a candle. Put a candle on one side of the left Swādhiṣhṭhāna and also one before the Photograph. Because it's all due to viruses. And the viruses are there because your attention in the left. Once your attention goes away from there you are rid of that. All right? It's not complicated.

Sahaja Yoga is very simple.

You know we have cured people who were about to go on the dialysis. Kidney has been cured. Can you imagine? Of course [UNCLEAR] blood cancer that has been cured no doubt. But imagine the kidney, people were going on the dialysis.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Of course. I mean, we make the human beings. [UNCLEAR]. You first, if you are evolving, you are also evolving human beings with you.

So it's for the emancipation of the whole world. It's not only your evolution. No no not at all. That was over. Now I have told about that in [UNCLEAR], is that, from Buddha's future they say there will be a future Buddha who will be Maitreya. Maitreya means Three Mothers together, will be the future Buddha. And that is called as BodhiSattva. Now the BodhiSattva is the One, who will become Buddha, means who will get Enlightened right and will work for the other people.

So is already described and you don't have to suffer, you don't have to do anything as it was before individually, but now you'll work with the collective.

So, you have to work with the collective otherwise you have no meaning. Also you cannot be cleansed unless and until you come to collective. If you say: `I'm staying at home and I'm doing all the Pūjā and all that,' doesn't work out. Like a nail if it is cut, it doesn't grow. Very simple. It's not for one person no doubt. I mean how can it be, for one.

Because the time has come for doing collective work now. The whole world has to change.

Sahaja Yogi: Śhrī Mother, will we ever be able to go to Tasmania?

Shri Mataji: [Hindi.] That's [UNCLEAR]. Yes they have to come. They have to come here. Like you see, Sicily, we are now having lots of Sahaja Yogis there. They all came down. Then I can now go to Sicily. We have very great people in Tasmania. Now that's the point.

So when they will come and they'll get their Realisation then I can go. You see, if I go to a place it is like the, should I say, the seeds being sprouted nobody to look after.

Sahaja Yogi: There were quite a number of people who came from Tasmania. I think some of them wonder if they could ever go back.

Shri Mataji: They should. They should. They should go with their bandhans and try to save their country. They should. If they go and establish it I'll definitely go. It's quite a remarkable place that Tasmania is. Talismad means, all these secret, magic. From that Tasmania word must have come.

Sahaja Yogi: How many Tasmanians are there here?

Shri Mataji: Still very few, to fight those negativities there. Very negative. Very negative, isn't it.

That's like, we have Calcutta [Kolkata]. Too much of black magic. Too much. But gradually we have now, got it out. It's changed. One side is they are all full of black magic, those who believe in God. The another side are communists. But still now we have thousands. It is remarkable. But people had to work very hard for it, very hard.

So many people went from Nagpur, from Bombay [Mumbai], from Delhi to help them. Still some places I've not been, like Ceylon, Assam. We have some coming from there. I told them next year I'll try to be there.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji,... Photograph where Hands are like that. Can you tell us the significance of that please?

Shri Mataji: Hands like that. You want to know what's the symbol? This is for assurance. See this is for assurance. It has powers. This Hand has tremendous powers. And this One is for giving. You see.

So these are two aspects. But actually as you know this is the, power of action.

So it acts. And this is the power of desire.

So this is the Love that's flowing of your Mother and this is how She [UNCLEAR] it. But now I have given up. I used to do it in the beginning it was needed, but now it's not necessary. It works even without that. They are called as mudras which I used in the beginning. Now I don't use that, mostly.

Contents: 1992-02-12 Conversation with Sahaja Yogis about Current Events and International Politics, Ashram, Canberra, Australia

Shri Mataji: How many came for follow-on last, after My program, fifty people. And then how many stayed?

Sahaja Yogi: Only three or four.

Shri Mataji: That's just like it. Don't know, there's something missing. I don't know what is missing.

Like in Russia, I don't know how people settle down that fast. They've never heard of God. I think we have too much conditioning of all these things God and, religion, this that, which has deviated so we are between the two.

Some people who believe in God, in a blind way and are following something wrong, religions which are deviated.

There are some people, who are against it completely, they are atheist, intellectuals.

So we are lost in between, you see. And that's how it takes time here. And there is not much of introspection also.

But I must say Russians are very introspective and very humble people, very humble. Even the, media is very humble. The media people who came to see Me, there, even like Pravda, which is a hardliner I should say, was very good.

Only thing they said something mischievous that: “Is better Gorbachev goes and sees Mother, because I think he needs Her help” or something like that. That made him stop from coming and seeing Me you see.

But, when they faced Me they said spiritually we are very, feel poor.

We have not known what a spiritual life is and how can we, really establish ourselves into Sahaja Yoga. Please tell us how to do it. It's very surprising isn't it. But in, countries which are democratic, we think we know all about religion, about God and either it is false or it is absolute truth. There's nothing in-between.

I was reading about Islam, `Faces of Islam' I was really amazed. It's all Sahaja Yoga what Mohammed Sahib has preached, all Sahaja Yoga. Only thing, He did not very much, I mean He was born on the void level so naturally tried to establish the religion and the framework of religion, how people should be and all that.

Which we have in Sahaja Yoga also same thing. But it's not forced on us. It's not forced, it's a thing that is, absolutely innate. Because we like it we do it. We love it and we enjoy it that's why we do it, this is the difference.

But the intellectuals in Islam are very sensible I must say much better than Christians. Because they are admitting that there's lot of deviation.

Never confuse Muslims with Islam.

And, whatever Mohammed Sahib has contributed is really very precious because, he has said that, first of all, He has to make a framework, which He admitted. He has to make a framework. That means a, kind of a, framework of thought and behaviour. But without, giving realisation if you make a framework it doesn't work. It doesn't work.

It drops out. Everybody has made the same type of framework. We can say, Christians have the same framework, about the same. He has also talked about seeking the truth and knowledge, He's talked about it. Same way Christ has talked everybody has talked about.

Also Buddhism Jainism, anything, is just aiming at that kind of a society that we are. They are describing the society that we are. In Islam, He is describing that society. You won't believe that it's so much Sahaj.

Just to give it a name of Islam or give it a name of Christianity, or give it a name of any religion, we are there and we are the ones who are really following these religions while those who claim to be, have nothing to do. Not only but they have said that, the Muslims have become very rigid. The reason is this, reason is that.

Whatever may be the reason I say the basic reason is that they are not realised Souls. This is the basic reason.

So now when the Sahaja Yogis are, innately enlightened, we call it religion as our valencies which are enlightened. Then we should become aware of it and we should try to follow, that innateness within us.

Because if you do anything else you see, you'll feel frustrated. You'll lose your vibrations, that's the first test. And you won't like it. This innateness that they have described is not there, in any religion. It's just forced on them.

So this artificial framework doesn't work out.

This artificial framework doesn't work out and that's what should be avoided in Sahaja Yoga, completely, that we have an artificial framework. Many people say: `Mother said so. Mother said so.' I may say anything. That doesn't matter. How far you have gone with it is the point. Like, Mohammed Sahib said: "[UNCLEAR]" so they've said it, so what.

You have to, follow doesn't mean that you just say: `I'm Sahaja Yogi' but you have to do something about it. You have to get into it. And you must, not only take advantage of Sahaja Yoga, in a material way, but in a spiritual way.

Then only people will be surprised to see you, that you are spiritually very different people.

There's no force on you. There's no artificiality about it. It's all reality which you are feeling and you are in reality. That will impress people. And I think the trend of mind is going that side, very much now and people are understanding it. That it has to be something real, all these artificial things are not going to work out. It's all fizzling out one by one.

I've been reading your newspapers.

So now, I was surprised that they said the, homosexuals cannot, they are to be excommunicated. In England, priests are allowed to be homosexuals.

I mean just imagine, how can there be two rules and regulations in the same religion. In Sahaja Yoga, all these things which are wrong, just drop out. Your drugs drop out. Lethargy drops out. Your all these perverted ideas about sex drop out. It's a, innate cleansing power, which cleanses you completely. But you must, open yourself to it, aspire for it. That's how it will work out.

That's very important for you people those who are in the beginning, like the foundation. You have to form a very, deep personality of Sahaja Yoga. If you are indulging into something small, stupid, or something very insignificant, then people are not going to take to you.

So Sahaja Yoga is not, what I say, is not Sahaja Yoga. What you say, what you talk you must walk.

Because I say so, that doesn't mean, by listening to Me you become Sahaj Yogis. No.

You have to practice it. And practicing is very easy. It's very easy to practice Sahaja Yoga.

Because it is innately within you. It is joy giving. You enjoy your virtues. And, you are so secure, so confident. Moreover, such friendships such brotherhood, such relationship. And this so-called, trend of individuality, is not very useful, because it is against the spirit of totality, of the whole.

So individuality is all right like on a tree every leaf is different every flower is different, everything different in the Nature you see, because, what you call variety. There should be variety. You should not be dressed all of them like, military people all of you looking the same. There should be variety. That's how there's beauty. But, that doesn't mean that you have your own individual ideas, about religion.

You cannot. All these ideas must come from within. Whatever are your reactions to outside, should not be, your ideas. There should be inspired revelation from within. And if it comes to revelation, then you'll find that all of them are just the same. There's no inconsistent, nothing inconsistent. Everything just smoothly moves into one ocean.

So when ideas start trickling down, I think that's another problem in the West is that, you think too much. Think like this think like that. I mean all kinds of things go on in our heads, I mean everybody else is sitting in our head.

First of all we have read a lot. This reading lot also is dangerous because everybody's ideas are in our head.

But then at the level of religion what happens is, one is swaha, another swadha. Swāhā is that whatever, you read whatever you see, you consume and burn off whatever is wrong. And whatever is good you absorb, that is swadh.

So first, I mean you may read anything I was reading newspaper all kinds of things. Out of that I took out the essence of it, what is the problem. But still one will start choosing then whatever is good for us.

I mean you don't eat poison if you know it's poison. In the same way discretion comes in and you start getting to things which are, digestible and which are nourishing, to our growth in Sahaja Yoga. This is a very important point we should know. What do we do, read, what do we think, what do we, enjoy, what do we consume.

Because you are people with super intelligence, you have got, innately. Your intelligence have been enlightened.

So you should know how to grasp the things which are good for you, for your nourishment as Sahaja Yogis.

To be Sahaja Yogi is a very unique thing. Think of so many people who have never even felt vibrations, have never felt this All-pervading Power, think from that point of view.

But that should not give ego at all but should give a more compassion and more understanding that so much is needed by people.

Our whole style, is, sometimes, takes us more outward than inside.

So let us try to see how we can go inside. I think the only way is to achieve the state of thoughtless awareness, through collective living and through meditation individually also.

Collective and also individual meditation.

Try to come to a state where you are thoughtless.

Try to, put your attention on a thoughtless awareness level. Then the growth start. Because that's the present, not the past, nor the future.

So if you stop at, thoughtless awareness you start seeing something much beyond that exists you see.

Now for example I see these flowers. See it.

Now what does it relate to Me, I should see. Of course the beautiful colour the fragrance immediately, the thought goes to the love, with which it is given. Immediately. Jumps onto the essence of it. These are not given, just for any, expression of expectations. But just to express the love. And I see that love immediately. And that I enjoy. This is, a very important point. That in thoughtless awareness, you immediately jump, onto a relationship with love.

Say you see the nature around. Immediately, you feel, look at the love of God, how He has created this beautiful world for us. How He has given so many things to us.

And then this, horrible competitiveness just drops out. Because in the present only you can, enjoy what you have achieved. Not in the past or the future.

Say you, buy a little carpet like this. You wanted to buy, you must have worried about it, you must have thought of saving money whatever it is.

When you buy it there's no joy. Then you want to buy something else. Like it goes on. But supposing you are in the present. Here now I'm sitting with you, in the present. I know all of you, very well. Like a picture.

Even the folds of your clothes and everything.

Your sitting position, everything is like a picture. And it comes to you and what does it feel. You look just like these flowers. Very abstract, feeling of joy.

So we should try to live in the present. Not in the future and in the past.

I've got so many letters of confessions. Ah I did this, I did that, I mean I never read them. Never.

You should not waste your energy in confessing. That's a wrong thing to do. I don't want to know it. But they send you know for their own maybe satisfaction, whatever it is.

So doesn't matter.

So I just burn them off. Or tear them out.

So forget the past. That doesn't mean that whatever has built you up to this level, you should forget. Whatever has been nourishing, your parents, your other relationships, your country, your reading, anything that has nourished you, you must know.

But, don't think that my childhood was much better or much worse my mother was bad.

This is psychology also. Teaches your mother was bad that's why you are like this. All blame goes to the mother poor thing. She has given you birth, she has looked after you.

But they will blame your mother. Blame the psychologist than the mother. That they are putting funny ideas into your heads.

So when you, think of your past, you have to more deal with the whole thing as if, you are there for some sort of a treasure, for your nourishment. Not just to blame you I did this, I took drugs. It doesn't matter what is it. Now you solve your problems. I did all the things. Forget it. When you are in the water, in the sea, all right you were drowned but you are saved now you are on the shore. What's the use of thinking about what was happening then. It's useless. Ha.

But the one who saved you from there, or the one, the fish that brought you out or whatever it is, those experiences are nourishing, should think of that. Then you won't have this diffidence you won't have this kind of a, confused mind. You're clear-cut. Now I am different.

See, when a fruit comes out of a flower it doesn't think of the flower. In the same way, we should not worry about what has gone wrong with us in the past, but what has gone good with us, we can think of it because that nourishes us.

Now for future also, we have to think about future, but not to extend your projections mental projections.

But in meditation. You have to see for yourself what is the future for Sahaja Yoga.

What can I do? How can I purify myself completely? What have I to do about it? In the beginning say, to get up in the morning was a very difficult task, for Western people also. Get up in the morning, have baths, do meditation, is too much. It's a punishment sort of thing. But you're not forced I mean if you can't get up it's all right. But some started getting up, putting their effort, previous night they would decide now tomorrow whatever may happen I'll get up. Try, what's the harm. Let's see if it helps. Also they see somebody getting up in the morning meditating, so different. Then they start doing.

The other day I was in Calcutta [Kolkata], there was one gentleman, very learned lawyer and a chartered accountant. But he had, started a factory which was confiscated by the government and he won the case, lost lot of money, winning that case and the compensation has not yet come. It's so many years now, about ten years.

So I told him divert your attention from there. Get into your own profession that you have. Now he's a multimillionaire. He doesn't bother about the little compensation he said: “I had better compensate the government now." He's all right.

So I told him how did you achieve it, so he said to Me that “I saw another one, who was much younger to me, who had nothing, he was just an ordinary person and he was very hot-tempered, ill-treating his wife, doing all kinds of things, and, was never available at home, for any, difficulties. Moreover outside also he would go and aggress others and trouble others. After Sahaja Yoga he changed, completely." Not good at jobs and then he gave up frustrated and he couldn't do well, anywhere, started a business, he got a loss and all that and more frustration. Then he came to Sahaja Yoga. And he developed a personality, a security. He became very rich, suddenly. He was surprised at himself and he is not attached.

Said all these riches I have got Mother I want to do it for Sahaja Yoga. Whatever he got a plot of land big plot of land and he wants to start a Sahaj school there.

I was amazed at him. He said: “No, what is it, how much money do I need, it's more than sufficient." He started working it out that way.

Then seeing him, this gentleman changed, the one who was a chartered accountant. When I saw his face I was amazed. Not the same person.

So much just like a blossOm I said: “What happened?" “It's nothing. I get up in the morning, do my meditation. Evening I do my meditation, that has changed." Such a small thing life has changed. But, if you have to go for an interview people will get up at four o'clock in the morning. And if they get up. But if you have to meditate they don't. Then it's a punishment to them. Specially in England is very much worse. But now gradually they have understood the value of it.

How it helps you, to do meditation in the morning and in the night. It's only five minutes in the morning and ten minutes in the evening, not much. There's no discipline about it, we don't want to force anything on you. No way of forcing we'll have. Because that has never happened. Also disciplining children and all that. I've found out a new method by which we can really discipline them better, which I'm going to implement now on them. Let's see how it works out.

So we should know the principle of Sahaj Yoga.

And the one of the principle of Sahaja Yoga is that, we have to meditate, if we have to grow.

Meditation means at that time we are in thoughtless awareness. That time neither future nor past.

So we open out ourselves, to the Primal Force, to this All-pervading Power, to fill us up, with inspiration, with, beautiful ideas. Actually like the nourishment of the tree which is achieved by the sap of the tree.

And to feel the love of God. To feel how we are instruments of that love and how the love can flow through us.

So in the morning I've told them to, meditate about five minutes, or say ten minutes. But we shouldn't put the watch, now five minutes and a bell rings. Oh, finished. That's not the, you should enjoy. I have told some people five minutes, they go on sitting for one hour. They enjoy. It's an enjoyment. Is the inner enjoyment of the inner beauty of your Self, the inner glory of yourself. Watching yourself within, is beautiful.

But some people, started as hypocrites doesn't matter. Still they achieve. And some are very smart you see. They think they can cheat themselves, very well, with their intelligence.

No use, what's the use, of cheating yourself with your intelligence, is of no advantage.

So we have to think that, this intelligence, which doesn't give us the strength, to rise, to ascend, to our heights, is not the real intelligence.

The super intelligence will just, show us the, achievement, that we have to achieve. Will show us all that beautiful pure life, that we have to achieve. That's the work of a super intelligence. But for the dullards, Sahaja Yoga is very difficult. They are busy with something here and something there. They can never rise.

They never make a point. And they can never understand, what is important in life for a Sahaja Yogi.

So when I say you meditate, I do not mean that it's a discipline for you, no, no way. But it's a path, it's a way, out for you to get to your thoughtless awareness.

Where you know yourself, means you know, not on your Chakras, not the Chakras of others, but you know that you are the spirit, that you are the pure spirit and that you have been glorified.

As if there's a covenant with God, before you were born as human beings and now we are fulfilling that and going back to that which was put within us. We are achieving that. And that's what is the most, important understanding about oneself.

Say Mother has said that, you are beautiful, you are compassion, you are virtuous and that, you are, the Truth. You are the Spirit.

So why not we become that. Why not? So whenever your so-called intelligence starts telling you: `Oh it's all right.' No escape from this is going to help you. I mean if you want to escape, you are free to escape, no doubt. But why to escape this which is so important, which is so good for you.

It's a very easy way Sahaja Yoga is the easiest.

When I see what people have done to achieve their ascent, I get frightened really. You have to go to Himālayas, without any clothes you have to stay there and exert yourself.

I've got a film of Ādi Shañkarāchārya. Poor fellow had to renounce the world, just to go to spread this, means Satya vedas. Which is the same. I mean that is message of Christianity or message of Buddhism, any message like that, in the real way, is the same. How much He had to suffer. That's not the case.

You don't have to suffer. Every step you move, you get ten times the blessings, in every way, materially, physically, emotionally. But the greatest is the spiritual. And in that, you become such a personality that, whatever may happen around, you enjoy yourself. It's not a relative life any more. Just enjoy your self and others who see you also enjoy you. I want you all to get all the powers so-called that I have. And should be even more. That's what I want you to have. That's the desire of a Mother always.

May God bless you.

Now if there are any questions I would like to answer also. It's not that into fear in Sahaja Yoga you can't ask Me questions. You should.

This is working out? I never used to wear spectacles but for this, four five years back My eyes started [UNCLEAR]. That's much better. Reflected Glory. You have to be humorous. You have to be humorous.

So.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, do you think Mr. Gorbachev is likely to emerge as a big power in Russia again?

Shri Mataji: What's it? Do you know the good news or not? Yes, he wants to meet Me. Let's see.

I hope I'll put him right. Poor man. He should have met Me before, you see, he met all horrible type of people. All kinds of bad Gurus and everything he met. That was his mistake. If he had met Me I would have really warned him against them. But they did something to him. Though I worked out, you know how I worked it out, Myself. But now the time has come for him to get to himself.

Yeltsin's, a horrible fellow. He is more sort of an, American man, who wants to enjoy parties and women and this and that. Americans are very much impressed by, very much. The more stupid you are the better it is there. Like this Elizabeth's honeymoon. I mean Australians will never do that. You are very much matured, compared. Such stupid people I tell you. And America is full of them. I don't know, how to, bring sense to their heads. First it's a, newly born country. And so much of stubbornness.

So very bumptious. They are good at technology and all that they have done well, with their hands. But maturity is missing. And also compassion I think.

Even if they help people, it is not out of compassion, but is to show off. Now when they help, they really, make it look so horrible, that people don't want to have.

But now we have, some very good Americans, who are Sahaja Yogis, I must say. Gregoire is sometimes exhausted but, he thinks that some good things are coming out. Black people there are good but the best are Chinese.

Now we have more Chinese than Americans in Sahaja Yoga. Indians abroad are useless. They are like a mango tree taken to England, which doesn't give mangoes and also an apple useless. Can be used only for firewood I think. Absolutely useless people.

Same in America. For them dollar is their father, their god, everything. Where most of them have gone from very downtrodden societies in India.

So it's all right. We have other population which is good in India, quite a lot. Working out. It's spreading like fire in the North India.

And My Tour this time, I don't know. In I think twenty-five days, I think I'm going to about ten places.

So it's going to be quite a, feat for Me.

But it's worked out. I'm surprised at Delhi. Compared to Delhi, you see Canberra is another capital.

Delhi has worked wonders I must say. Really. Of course in Delhi itself I get about, ten to twelve thousand people but Noida twelve thousand people. I went to Ghaziabad about fifteen thousand people. Just imagine. And that's a capital of the city.

But in Delhi we don't only have bureaucrats. Maybe here. Only there we have bureaucrats. We have lots of business people and other people also. Bureaucrats and politicians, keep them out. They don't want to enter into the Kingdom of God. They have their own kingdom of rules and regulations and that's how they'll be living.

So bureaucrats we should not worry too much. But now some are coming, because TM has harmed them. The bureaucrats are very much harmed by TM in India.

So now they are coming to Sahaja Yoga, just to get out of it.

They were telling how they have suffered and what they had to go through. You should get all the, information about TM from David Szpiro and publish it, here as a book or something. Very important.

Because it's not what you are writing, what the newspapers have written. Can make a little booklet. Write down all these things in that. And let people have it. Could be done.

I was thinking of doing it Myself but you know how, I am on the run all the time. No time to sit down and settle down and do something substantial. [Hindi.]

Sahaja Yogi: I received a letter from my son from the school in Washi.

Shri Mataji: That's good. Beautiful. I must say the children of Australia have proved to be very good, compared to others. Very good idea. This Washi school, we're facing a little problem with the children because I don't know, very wild children. Extremely wild. I don't know how to manage them, just all the time run out of the school and around to the streets and going to the shops and, it's very difficult. And also still the upper storey is being built, because the school is starting later on. And it's difficult you know when something is built and children are like this they climb up.

So we are thinking that till the school is completed, we'll keep them in Dharamshala only. And then we'll bring them down. There also big difficulty because it's a place, with lots of cliffs and valleys. It's just, it's too much of activity and too much running out and, I don't know.

So they beat each other and all kinds of that things are there.

The worst part is that one boy does it, the others follow.

Nobody will stop them. Which is very wrong. In the beginning of one month so the teachers wanted to give up absolutely. They said we cannot run the school the children are absolutely wild. Absolutely wild. They cannot be tamed. Slap them or beat them. But I said all right you use a plastic ruler, just to show them. Nothing. Plastic only. Just came and broke it.

Compared to Indian children I must say it's a big task. We have to get teachers from outside, maybe, if they do not come round. But I don't know if they really respect teachers here also.

This is, this has come out of, this kind of a philosophy that, let the children express themselves and let them be free you see. Which is wrong. Because why are the parents then. I always said they should hang from the trees.

What is the use of having parents if parents can't do anything about it, can't tell them anything.

Some were saying Mother we were also like that. I said: “No, no this generation was worse I think." But even if you were like that, so what.

They said: “Then we changed with Sahaja Yoga." But I said: “How to run the school. Now we have to run the school at this age. Absolutely no self respect, no respect for anything. At least seventy percent children are like that. Even the girls are terrible. They don't brush their teeth and they don't want to take a bath they'll cry for anything, make such a fuss. It's difficult." I had a talk this time with them. Bought lots of presents for them. They were nice to Me and they were listening to Me. But Gregoire said: “They're hypocritical Mother." He's very disappointed. He went and warned them that: “If you behave like this we'll not have you back in the house." So they said: “Where will you send us then?" Then said: “We'll send you to lunatic asylum." I mean the new generation that is coming, is going to be much worse than you. I tell you in the west be careful. I have a feeling. All these theories come up but, without experimenting they just employ them.

It's very dangerous to do all this, because it's a new theory you employ that theory. But first experiment.

See for yourself how it works.

And, on the other hand, they want to criticise our school, compared to horrible schools in France. This boy, Johannes was sent to a French school and he wrote to Me that I can't go to that school. Because boys are all doing all dirty things all the time. I can't bear it. And at a very young age, children below twelve years are taking to drugs, smoking. It is such a spoilt atmosphere.

Sahaja Yogi: We see it in society in another very strange way where, prisoners in jail, they're more concerned about their welfare than the people they have done damage to.

Shri Mataji: Is in where?

Sahaja Yogi: When they're in jail there are lots of people in society, who are saying oh we must look after them, we must do this we must do that. But the people that they have robbed or killed or maimed, nothing.

Shri Mataji: It's Vatican idea, to support all the war criminals, compassion. Worse is France you know. Once it happened that we had to go by bus you know, from the station and couldn't get any taxi or something. Got into a bus, Myself and Marie.

First one gentleman walked in, he was mad, absolutely and he sat into his chair and he started saying some things you see. I said: “What is he talking about?" So she's saying: “He's decrying the war, what has gone wrong in the war” but so loudly. I said: “But he is a bhoot. Everybody will catch bhoots from him." She said: “Mother it's all right." Then another lady walked in, same style. Then another gentleman, there were four or five by the time we reached our destination, about. And they were otherwise normal.

They would take their tickets all right, pay for that. Otherwise all right. But all the time talking like this.

I said: “They should be all arrested and put in some lunatic asylum." So Marie said: “But you see the French are very compassionate." I said: “Compassionate to whom?" Absolutely mad. Absolutely. I said: “They can hit anyone." She said: `It's all right, after all they are mad." Why do you want to mix them up with others? They said: “There are so many now what to do, by living with the society they'll improve." None of these. Never happens. But in India we don't have so many mad people. I mean we don't have schizophrenia at all. I've not seen anybody having schizophrenia in India. Either they're mad or they're sane. There's nothing in between.

But these schizophrenia they work, they earn, they live like normal people and suddenly they become mad, you don't know when they will become mad. They can attack, comes to them.

That we don't have. We have very few mad people, in India, very few. I mean the real mad. This schizophrenia I've not heard of. Don't know from where it, must be drinking, must be the perversions, maybe.

Or suppressions. It's predicted that sixty five percent of Americans will become schizophrenic, imagine.

You dare not go there. This schizophrenia I don't know from where it comes.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji is religious fanaticism the same thing as madness?

Shri Mataji: I think it must be that. Must be that. Confessions, you see and this religious fundamentalism.

I think Christians are the worst because, at least Muslims you know they are fundamentalist I mean you know they are and Jews you know. But these Christians are very, you see sophisticated, fundamentalists. And that's what happens. This Vatican is already on its way out. I think so. Absolutely.

Because, there's a book written, `In the Name of God'. Horrible. Have you read that book? It's banned in India. I don't know if it is banned `In the Name of God'.

Sahaja Yogi: It's here, it's available here.

Shri Mataji: Is here. This gentleman now came to Sahaja Yoga after writing that book. He's a very nice Englishman.

So it says that, this first Pope was murdered, by this Pope. And nine million dollars, were counterfeited and were distributed through the Vatican. I mean, what sort of a thing, as it is an organization I can't understand. And after that thirteen people were murdered, just to hide the secret.

And now that every day I'm in, Italy, every week there is some sort of a, exposure of this Vatican.

Horrible they are. Like this Calvi was murdered. They said he hanged himself, on a bridge. No, Calvi says, he was murdered because he knew the secret about the death of this pope. But the man who murdered is a, Mafiā man. And he has confessed that: “Though I'm with Mafiā, the Vatican's asked for my services.

And they have paid, for this murder." Then they asked Mr. Heard about this. Why didn't you do something about it? At that time when this fellow was hanged here. He said: “Because we don't want our judges to be murdered, our lawyers to be murdered." Judges were murdered, in Italy. What a dangerous place it is.

So I am there, now.

Also this, Anglican Church and all nonsense. Absolute nonsense. And they know they are not truthful, that's why they are after us. They know it, they're sure. They're aware of it. Such falsehood. But in all religions it has happened like that, no doubt. But maximum in the Christian religion because it's such a sophisticated outward you see so inside what's happening, you don't know. It's like the I mean big cyst you see which grows inside and comes out in thousands, it's like that. Such hypocrisy. And the people who believe in them are very innocent good people. Very good people. And they are misled.

That may be the reason I was born in a Christian family, to find out all the nonsense. In these things the Christians are something very, chosen ones, wonderful people, very compassionate.

They have no ideas as what, these priests are up to.

Also this lady, the one who got the Peace Prize, Mother Theresa. Such a hot-tempered woman I tell you. I don't know how can you give her a Peace Prize.

She collected all the money from the Bengalis and got hold of some sort of barracks. Bring all these people who are dying, put them there, convert them. That's what her job is. She cannot cure anybody.

She cannot give any relief to anyone, no medicines, nothing. Just to convert. And she gets a Peace Prize.

I met her once when she was going to Calcutta with Me. And she brought some sort of an odd looking thing with her. She came in that plane. That time she was not such a well known figure I think. And she said: “I want to sit in front." They said: “No, this is for these people, they are people who are sick and they are supposed to sit here, they have reserved it, you can't sit here." “But I want to sit here only, because I have this odd thing." They said: “You give it to us and we'll look after." “No." There's a small little space like this, where you enter inside the aircraft. She was jumping from here to there. She's very thin you know. Jumping from here to there. There to there. There to there. For half an hour she was jumping with temper. Baba what is this? No. I am Mother Theresa, this that.

Then they literally put her down, when the plane started. And this lady should get the Prize for Peace.

In Ethiopia, she's just converting people. Ethiopia. When they are dying. Because once you convert, you will go to God. Immediately. Only you have to have the brand. This ordination and ordination, what do you call? Ordation or ordination?

Sahaja Yogi: Ordination Mother.

Shri Mataji: Ordination. Women are stupid to fight for it.

They must be also orators I am sure, too you see. They must also have a platform to speak, the ladies must be thinking. Why only the men? Hindus are equally, quite misled by their nonsense too but only advantage in Hindu religion is that it's a scripture. And it's not organized. There's no Pope or anyone like that there. Or Archbishop of Canterbury they don't have. The way they mix up politics, with religion.

And we don't know here, that this Christian Democratic Party, has been ruling, Italy for the last forty years. There are seven other parties, which are in majority, but they are fighting with each other. And these people know how to make them fight.

So these are in majority, they in minority.

It's a real, what you can say call, a very, funny type of a government which is in a doldrums all the time because they are not in majority. They have only got thirty-two percent of votes. And also it's very much in France this Parties. French are really Catholics, of the worst type. Because there is one advantage in Catholicism, that you can drink as much as you like. And French, for them their bible is, spiritual food is just drinking.

Antonio went to see the judge when they were doing something about this case. Nice judge because, for that little boy he gave a verdict of nine page. In that he has mentioned Me as respectable and Sahaja Yoga as very good people and all sorts of things. And when he went to see him he offered him some, I think must have been some wine whatever it is. He said: “We don't drink." He was surprised that a Frenchman doesn't drink. But in Australia they're taking, I mean they think drinking is bad. Isn't it? there's a new, sort of a trend coming up, that they respect people who do not drink. Is a good idea.

Sahaja Yogi: It must be so, Mother, because the breweries are spending a lot more money now to advertise, that means people are not drinking so much.

Sahaja Yogi: The doctor was telling me the other day.

Shri Mataji: I've seen more and more people who don't drink.

Really. Also it's expensive, with recession you know. Recession is a blessing in a way.

Sahaja Yogi: I think the same thing's happening with smoking to Australians.

Shri Mataji: What happened?

Sahaja Yogi: I think the smoking is lessening.

Shri Mataji: Smoking also?

Sahaja Yogi: I think so.

Shri Mataji: That's the real blessing I tell you, you should be all right if smoking goes out. But too much money has ruined them, so it's better to have some recession. By the way I was thinking about the house for you. I was reading newspapers. And I found that the houses, outside, in farmlands are much cheaper.

So you should get hold of some big house which is dilapidated, instead of buying this one because it's on the street you see. If you start singing tomorrow you'll get police. Best thing is to, find out a place which is little far away and also some sort of a farmland.

So we could pitch some tents there and also that, they will not disturb you. There should be some compound around.

Somebody told Me that somebody has suggested that they should buy this house.

Sahaja Yogi: That was Brisbane Shri Mataji.

Shri Mataji: In Brisbane, not here. This is all right but, it won't work out Sahaja Yoga. For Sahaja Yoga you have to go, a little outside. Just find out, you might get. They have a very small house in Brisbane. It may be little more convenient for people who are working or something. But for meditation, I think you have to be little away from the city. That's very important. In Sahaja Yoga we see to all conveniences you see, like, the Pūjā should be on a Sunday.

So many things are there, so many conveniences. But, formerly I mean, you had to go on the Himālayas at least minimum, for your ascent.

So it's very convenient, it's very comfortable. But still, I would suggest that, house should be little away from the madding crowd, very important. After all you all have, cars so what does it matter, five miles here and five miles there. Best thing would be to go for such a house. And if it is dilapidated better because then you can renovate it yourself. And you can enjoy it. That renovation.

For Sarah, I wanted to tell you something. That I didn't know that she is such an artist and she plays cello. I didn't know. But you see her husband, comes from aristocratic family. And he has lots of lands and things so and he's doing some business in transports doing very well.

Now for him to come here would be like a beggar, to stay here. He can come just to visit you people.

But she can learn Indian music there. If she's done cello she can do very well also. Because it's the same style of sitar or something. She might be able to do it, very easily. They should have written it down, that she is like this, a cello player and all that, then Austria is the best place.

Several Yogis: It was on the marriage form but abbreviated.

Shri Mataji: Ah you see there were this time five hundred marriage forms and it's a mistake there.

But doesn't matter, it's for the good. Because cello is over now. If she becomes a good sitar player and she'll be known all over the world. You see Western music you have to play in a group. And you don't have that much of creativity in that. Cannot create. It's all written down, you have to follow it up and all that. But Indian music is not like that. And you have to be in a part of the group I mean individually you have no achievements as such, much. But in Indian music you can be of a great renown.

So she has a good chance she can pick up anything. I think she can learn, violin there.

Indian violin is very good. Or she could learn sitar, sarod, anything. Once you know a string instrument you can do that, better.

And nowadays it's very much appreciated and internationally it's very much, appreciated.

And it's not a team work you have to play on. You have to play alone. Single. That's something great.

They'll appreciate it coming from a Western girl very much in India it's regarded. Even our government gives scholarship for that.

Beeath is the one who got. No Simon. Simon is from Italy. He stayed in, married in England. He too got scholarship. But one has to be a good Sahaja Yogi otherwise the one who gets you these, all these things is Debu Chaudhuri. And he wouldn't give to somebody who is not a good Sahaja Yogi and just plays something, he wouldn't give.

And so he told Me, asked Me: “Mother what do you think about the Sahaja Yoga part?" And do you know this Debu Chaudhuri had this problem, of the `artist's thumb' as they call it. He couldn't play for so many days, I think so many years, because he used to get cramps, on his thumbs.

So I cured him. He got completely all right. And then he started again, playing it. And then he became Dean of the Faculty of Arts in Delhi.

I mean then he started his performances all over everything. He played before Me and he has made some ragas for Me and all.

Now he has got a very high title Brughu Visharad in Delhi. But he is very much indebted to Sahaja Yoga. Very much indebted. He thinks only it is Sahaja Yoga which has given him this steadiness. And he thinks only that Sahaja Yoga has given him this blessings and that's how he has achieved it.

In Sahaja Yoga one should not worry everything works out. Whatever is an obstruction really is for our progress. This case in France has helped us so much now. Everything for our progress. If there's some little obstruction, it is for us to jump out of it. Always.

So one should never worry about anything. Never worry. It's all worked out.

This time there was a miracle when you came to India. We had all these silver things and all the presents and everything put in a, truck. And they told Me that we have filled the truck, we are going to leave. I said: “No tonight you are not to leave.

Somehow or other you keep back. Tomorrow morning." They couldn't understand.

I said: `No, nothing doing." And that night, all the trucks were plundered, on the way, by dacoits.

So, next morning they started. And they came [UNCLEAR] very close to Ganapatipule called Japadevī, which is a place. Then most of the time there are some accidents. Must be some sort of a bhoot there, I don't know what.

So this truck lost its control and the wheel started coming out and big problem and it was on a slope so it started moving backwards.

So these boys jumped out. And also the driver jumped out thinking now what will happen? All the things inside there. Started moving and suddenly turned at right angles. And then at right angles. And stopped near a platform, just like this a big platform, made of stone by Nature itself.

Just stopped there. They thought it's now finished.

So where is it going like this? Moving by itself.

Then a bus came that side. If this had not happened the bus would have collided.

I've seen Myself it being stopped and no-one can believe how it must have happened. Then they used the platform for taking out things.

And there was a bus, in which people went and got another truck. And nothing was destroyed nothing I mean, not a single bit.

So that's what it is, Sahaja Yoga, is something one has to experience and then believe in it.

Everything works out.

So now, I take your leave.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1992-02-13 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Red Hill Lookout, Canberra, Australia

So we are with the nature here.

So beautiful. The way it is planned you can see how the person who's planned it had the feel of the land, feel of the nature. How he is made up, by not destroying it. Whatever is there he used it, otherwise they would have put one bulldozer and finished it off. But the way it is planned shows he had feeling for the land and he could understand. The way we look at nature also, is our own. The way we are inside, that's how we look at nature. Nature is our friend absolutely; it's working for us all the time. And we don't do much for it. Look at these trees. They give shade, they give fruits.

Whatever is possible for them, they do it. And when they are old, use them for wood. All supportive to our life. But we must have feeling; otherwise, what's happening today is this ecological problem. And this is because we do not have any feeling for the Mother Earth. No feeling for the nature. We are really plundering them and then the whole thing reacts. It's a kind of an aggression that you want to have so many things at the same time.

Like I have seen once, first when we went to England, we never served any drinks in our house in India, but in England nobody would come to your house, so we had to organize. I told C.P. that “You better do something about it." So he went and bought some books, how to organize.

So first the question of tumblers. And so many types of tumblers you had to use. I mean in those days, this was I'm telling you, 1973, or say beginning of '74. The first lot we had to get cost us nine thousand pounds. First total. But we had to get about twenty-four of the best crystal, the best crystal. Because for everything there's a different type of a crystal that you have to have.

I just thought that if you had some silver, it would be much better. One glass of silver is sufficient, once for all your lifetime, your children's lifetime. Instead of that, all these things like crystal. But at least it was crystal. It was all right because it was in a way, some sort of an art. And then I learnt how they make, even in England, etching and all that, beautiful in Scotland. English crystal also is nice. The best is Czechoslovakian. All these things I learnt there with that horrible sets of tumblers and you had to have the best quality, that's something, part of the prestige, you see.

So somebody will come and just see the glass, slowly, you see. And the plates also, they'll come and just turn round. First I didn't know what was happening. Because that's not done in India, I mean nobody's bothered, you see. Only if there's art they will appreciate, finished. We don't have Saville Rows and all that in India, so it's different.

And that's what I felt, that so many tumblers are needed for one household.

So, they are spending so much money to buy all these varieties. But the worst is in America and now they're suffering from it.

Even in plastic they have varieties.

So you go to somebody's house, so they...

So even in plastic they would, say, they have plastic tumblers which are just usable once.

So they use once that, then it's thrown out. Even in the drawing room, in a, say, restaurant or anything, even in their own drawing rooms they have dust boots. Can you imagine? And then they will use a lot of paper, plastic things. They never have proper plates. They may be very rich but they are always on the picnic, you see, eating in the paper plates, using plastic things. But they are so proud of it.

“You see, this is a new one that has come now in the plastic scene. This knife is a new one, try it." “But what is so great about this? It's after all, plastic." “It's new, you see, new." New is the idea.

Then everything has to be different. Every year.

So this is the fashion this year, so this kind of clothes.

Now they go on discarding this plastic that they use, then dresses also. This is the fashion in Paris, so that's the dress comes in. Then the entrepreneurs have really made us slaves out of that. Now, if you are dressed differently they say, “Oh, you are out of fashions, out of date." So one lady came to see Me. She had pants cut here, here, jeans you see cut here, there, everywhere. I was just worried that if she sits on, may give way. Very close cut. And a funny type of a shirt with all cuttings everywhere, all the threads coming out.

So I said, “Why are you, dressed up like this?" “I'm up-to-date." So I asked her, “What about Me?" “You are antique." I said, “Antique is more precious than up-to-date." So in India, we say that these people have got now the desire to be beggars. With everything beggarish.

The houses are beggarish, dresses are beggarish, the hair are beggarish. To add up to it, drugs have come, so it's all absolutely... you feel you are in some sort of a fish market, smelling. The way people live is... I mean, they are no way better than our slumming, the way they live, the way they eat, the way they like.

They have money, not that they don't have money. Oh, they pay more for that. Yah, they pay more.

But you go to any house you see, England is worse this way and when I was searching for a house, we had to go from places to places. Quite big houses we were looking out for. Suddenly, you find two legs of pants falling on you from somewhere and then some shirts coming on your faces.

I said, “What's this?" “Oh, these are old clothes we have, you see." “Since long?" “Oh no, this was last year's." “So why are you keeping them?" “What to do?" “You better throw them away. It's no good, give it away to someone." “No, we are keeping them. Maybe the fashion might come back." Piles and piles and piles. You get into a room and suddenly you are on a pile of dirty clothes.

So untidy.

So horribly lousy. This is advancement. This is what we have progressed.

So this funny greed of having more and more and more and more. I mean, you can have, but have something artistic so you won't have too many things, you'll have few. If you try to have artistic things, then you will have some few things. But if you want to buy plastic, there's no end to it. The clothes are all artificial these days and in that the fashions are changing.

So we should not be slave of these entrepreneurs who are just befooling us all the time. In the market something comes up funny, transparent clothes, you see, made of plastic.

Something absurd, you know, sometimes the clothes are very absurd. Like they had very tight jeans once upon a time. And they tighten it by... they said that you wear it and get into the tub. And when you come out they just stick to your body. And then you bathe with it all the time. I don't know if they bathe also, that's another point. Now, it's such a funny thing that with this, the ladies couldn't get into the buses so they were to be pushed in you see. But the worst was that they developed varicose veins.

So they would come to Me. I said, “Why did you wear?" So that was the fashion. Then they started with the baggy ones, with the holes, holy pants.

Like that, you see, moving from one to another, having too many things of no value.

So the Sahaja Yogis should understand that we are friends of the nature. And whatever nature gives us, we have to respect it. Better wear natural clothes as far as possible. One natural shirt is better than three unnatural ones, because you can breathe better, your skin breathes better, you can wash it better.

So best is to take to more natural things. I think this trend is coming up and that's a very good trend, that we should take to natural things. And when we take to natural things, there's one thing we cannot have too many of it.

But if you start using something plastic, then there can be any number and that's how you really torture the Mother Earth.

First of all, you dig her out. Then you wear all these things. And they cannot be destroyed. There are mountains and mountains. Mountains and mountains of this plastic if you go in America. Even in England I've seen mountains, such a filthy sight. They can't burn it. If you put it in the sea, it floats. And wherever you go near all these so-called very big cities, if you see the sea from the airplane you find all littered up completely.

So we are spoiling our beaches, we are spoiling our homes and wasting our money.

So these entrepreneurs have no feelings for the nature. They never think what nature is like.

When I wanted to build this Pratishthan, the five six architects from India, they're Sahaja Yogis also, very well qualified but in the Western manner, you know.

So the design they made was some sort of a colonial style house with a platform all along because the land was like this, you see.

So they took the zero point as the highest.

So you hang on a platform, for which you have to pay enormous amount. I said, “All the way we have not come to this place to hang in the air." They couldn't understand what I was talking to them.

I said, “I want to stick to the ground, build the house on the ground." They said, “You have to make topography, you have to make this graphy, that graphy." “This is very simple. What is this graphies you are making? Just get to it." Luckily, they had gone all of them on leave for about fifteen days. I changed the whole lot. And we would have been hanging twenty-two feet high.

So I put one hall underneath that. And when you are moving down, you never feel that you are going down that low. And it's the personality of the nature which is expressed in that house. It's very interesting. You have seen Pratishthan? You see, did you feel that you are going too much down? Nobody feels that way. Well it is. But after fifteen days they returned.

All go, “What? How? It's going to happen." I said, “Nothing going to happen, take it from Me. I've used it the best way one has to use and nothing is going to happen to your building." And they were after the builder. The builder said, “Shri Mataji praised me, so I am not bothered." And it all worked out so well.

So well.

So this is what it is in the... it's also labor-saving, you see.

If you ask somebody, “Why do you wear plastic?" they say, “You don't have to press it." But what's the harm in pressing? You see there's one cloth if you have to press it's all right, it's a good idea, or don't press. Don't want to press, don't press, you'll look quite neat, doesn't matter. But what is the need, I don't understand, to have so many plastics? So Sahaja Yogis should avoid plastic things as far as possible, specially for children, one should be careful not to make them wear plastics.

Sahaja Yogi: What about plastic toys for the children, is that a bad thing?

Shri Mataji: Not very good for them. Also these plastic napkins you use for children are not necessary.

Then you see, you become unattentive to children also with that. I mean, toys they play for a while but still sometimes they put it in the mouth and... If you see, children are more fond of things made out of cloth or made out of wood. They like it. They like the feel of it. You put five plastic things and one thing made out of wood or made out of cloth, they'll pick up the cloth one. They like the feel of the smoothness of it, you see. They're very expensive here, I agree, but in India they're very cheap. This time in Madras [Chennai] I don't know if you picked up something or not, lots of things were there for sale for children.

You see, they wouldn't stop My car anywhere, I was on the run, otherwise I would have bought. The wooden toys for girls are very good in India. Beautiful. Also for boys. But the plastic toys which are covered with cloth are all right. Not so dangerous.

Plastic is something that penetrates into everything. Into everything. We also give too many toys to our children. In our days, a girl would have only one doll or two dolls now. But now the plastic toys, the whole room is filled with it, I mean you have to just wade through to find out your child in all this.

So many toys. Perhaps maybe we avoid having relationship with our children. We don't talk to them, we have no time, so give them some toys, stop them, there.

Sort of a diversion. And that's how we don't know our children at all. Too many toys. And the toys also now are coming out in such a way that's another slavery because on the television they'll advertise it. Your children will be after you, “I want that toy." There was a bear, they took it out, which had a birth date. And so they would celebrate the birthday and all the bears were invited you see, for that. It's so funny, isn't it, that children should be given such ideas? Because there's no rapport. If the parents have a rapport with children, children won't need so much. You must read some proper stories to be told to children, talk to them. If you keep company with them, I don't think they'll ask for toys, too many toys. They would not. They'll be very satisfied, because most of them are realised Souls.

So talk to them in such a manner that they develop their spirituality rather than all these materialistic things. I have found that we don't spend much time with our children.

That's why they are like this. We had such a problem. I was telling you about these wise children we had in our school there. The teachers were mad. They didn't know what to do.

They said, “Within one month's time we will give up." They said, “We can't do this any more." The relationship between the child and parents should be very sensible and of respect. Because I have seen that children go on asking questions, “Why? Why?" like that. You see, it's kind of an aggressive nature, that's all. They don't want to know anything. Just go on asking questions. At that time you have to tell them, “You are not to know this. There's no need for you." You have to shut them. The quieter child is much better, who observes, who learns.

But the one who is aggressive becomes later on a very wild personality.

So to see that your child is not aggressive. They are exhausting. These children are absolutely exhausting.

This time I went to Rome. And I bought some sweets for them.

Some chocolates.

So when I sat down I said, “Now these for children, some lollipops and chocolates." So they all rushed on to Me, pushing their hands like this.

I said, “This is not to be done, you are not beggars. Are you beggars?" Then they sat back. They are not beggars. But say in India you try this, no child will push forward this way. If you try to give he'll feel shy, he'll look at the mother. Should he take it or not? But this comes only because of the rapport we have with children.

Now how do we have rapport with them? See now, you take them to the nature here and see them, how they behave, what is their style, what is their treatment? Instead of making them run about like mad or taking out some flowers or doing some sort of an aggressive act, just make them sit down. Tell them, “Now what is this flower? Do you know the name of this flower? Now this one, do you know what that flower is?" I mean, many parents don't know themselves, I don't know if they can explain.

Then, “What is this tree?" Look at the nature. Put the attention of the children on to something which will make them more contented and more deeper. Instead of that, as soon as they see the space they just start running.

You don't know what to do with them. It is because you have not taught them how to be concentrated on something very interesting. Now see, I am sitting here. I am sitting watching these stones. Even this will be in My head. See what a beautiful fibre, just see, just see. Beautiful. This is nature. And if once children start appreciating it, their attention will be more on this than on something nonsensical, you see.

So a rapport has to be established and an understanding of the children. An appreciation. When they do something good, you must appreciate. And when we are doing something, mostly they do wrong things just to attract your attention. If you don't pay any attention to that and just distract their attention, to something else, it's very easy. For example, now if you are going to somebody's house, the children are going with us. Before going we tell them, “See now, you have to behave there properly, otherwise they'll think that your parents are no good. Now we go there. You should not, in no way try to misbehave.

Shouldn't ask for anything. Just keep quiet." So first of all, you tell them how to behave. Now when they go there and they behave properly when you come back, you have to tell them, “This is tremendous. You have been so good. You behaved so well, it's really very good. I'm so proud of you." So next time, even better.

Then you have to tell them about their dignity, about what they are. And also the dignity of the nature. “See how dignified the tree is. How it is standing there for giving a shade." So they develop that feeling. If you do not have feeling for the nature, you cannot stop this ecological problem. That's important, very important.

Luckily, with Sahaja Yoga, Hamid has done some research and he has worked on the trees near Austria.

There's a very beautiful mountainous area, much higher than this, between Germany and Austria. There used to be some sort of wasps, were really fatal. Now they have all disappeared and the trees are crumbling down with this acid rain and getting completely destroyed.

So the government asked him to do some experiment with them.

So, he took My vibrated water in a Pūjā and he mixed it with other water, put it everywhere.

So he said, “All the trees about sixty years of age didn't react much. But below that, they all reacted and they started looking healthier." But he said still, the speed was not there.

So there were lots of these badges from America left over.

So he went and pushed them into every tree.

And he said, “I went there after six months and the whole thing was changed, vibrated. And it's all green, so beautiful." It's a remarkable thing to happen.

So I think My picture must be giving balance or something to this acid rain, or it nourishes these. The vibrations after all, vibrations do nourish everything and I don't know what happened to the acid rain.

It's very different. We can try that everywhere, vibrated water and these badges. Even the rings have done great work. He had a problem because they don't have well as we have in India. They only have those stamps.

So he removed the joining ring and put his ring inside that and then he joined it. With that ring only, it worked wonders, can you imagine? Ah, just imagine. Maybe the ring was emitting the vibrations and the water which went over it carried the vibrations. Unbelievable things have happened.

Unbelievable.

So for us it is important to understand what is our status and what is our position. We are something very different from others. We have so much capacities.

So we must understand what we can do to really improve the conditions around us, our children, everything, because now you have that vital force which you can use. But many Sahaja Yogis are such, they do not understand that Sahaja Yoga is not for only for your personal cleanliness or for your personal ascent, but for the ascent of the whole universe, of the whole people. Anywhere there's a Sahaja Yogi you can make it out. Once I was going in a village and I saw a beautiful, very beautiful field of corn. Such beautiful corn, such thick, thick seeds in it.

I asked the Sahaja Yogi. I said, “Whose field is this?" He said, “This is mine." “What did you do?" “I just got one coconut vibrated by You and put it in my well." All these miracles are happening.

Something, when I was building Pratishthan you see, we didn't have water or well there.

So the neighbour said, “My well is lying here, you can use it, but it only can work for a few days. You'll have to arrange for water to build that house." I said, “All right." So the first thing Sahaja Yogis did was to put My vibrated water in that well and one coconut. Suddenly that well started getting filled up. And while building, you see there's a big ball kept there. The ball was hanging in the air but still the water was coming. And the whole of Pratishthan was built with that water. We never had to buy any water and everybody was amazed. How can it be? But the water from, I don't know from where that source, but just sucked it. Till we finished the house there was water in that well.

Then the fellow said, “I want this well for my own use. We'll use it." Immediately it dried up. Touched the bottom.

So he came to Me and said, “I don't know what has happened. There's no water. Not a drop." I said, “Really?" “It's dried out." So I said, “All right, you take one coconut." He said, “Your coconut is lying there." I said, “Take another one." He took another, it wouldn't.

Then I said, “All right, you get your realisation." We gave him realisation, this that. Then he said, “I would like to sell this well to You." Sold it to Me, again the water came in. Poor fellow, now he didn't know what to do with that.

So we bought that well. Hari knows about it. We bought that well and now that well is again all right.

So the nature is a great friend of Sahaja Yogis. This is what I am trying to say. Whatever you want, it will work out for you. See how the rain came. Least expected at this time. You needed it and when I was in the plane only, I saw all the thundering going on. In Perth, when we went to the place where they have built a very beautiful cottage, it was all parched and all brown. When I came it was all green, absolutely green. They said in the newspaper it was, it's a very rare thing that such a rain has come at this time.

People don't remember. Frank told Me he doesn't remember his lifetime that rain was there. But what a rain, it was torrential. It's torrential.

So then Stephen was worried that, “Mother I know, but the rain may stop people coming to the program." I said, “No, you'll see that." When we reached there, this was all full. And the people were seekers whom we had. And when I asked them, “Have you any questions?" Nothing. No questions. They just wanted their realisation.

So we could get the seekers, absolutely who wants realisation. And we got the rain as well.

So rain has done double work for us. Such a family we have, such a society, such beautiful people.

Once we were going in the car and when I got down, one of the Sahaja Yogis said there was a Garuḍa.

Couldn't see it. See Mother, see, there is a Garuḍa. Got out from the car and I looked up. Really, there was a cloud just like a Garuḍa going sideways. You see, on the way I never saw this gentleman. It's beautiful and they photographed it. You haven't seen a photograph of Mine in Brahmapuri. You've seen that one? He must have shown you, Yogi had it with him. Where with the rainbow, My face is there.

You've seen that. Must get copy of all these, I think.

Sahaja Yogi: I think we have got a copy of that here in Australia.

Shri Mataji: You have? And the one in which, in a photograph...

Sahaja Yogi: Oh, that's an amazing photograph.

Shri Mataji: That you haven't got.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, we've got that.

Shri Mataji: You've got that?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, we've got that. We got one in India. That is an amazing photograph. It's the one of Gaṇeśha. With the are of the light from the camera, it's created a complete Gaṇeśha in the glass of the photograph.

Shri Mataji: What surprises Me how at that right moment you see these. How at that right moment they take the photograph. Exactly. Must be something, some sort of a communication, because nobody takes photograph of a rainbow. The first photograph that appeared in the sky, they told Me there was a funny thing happening in the sky. I said, “What happened?" First one cloud became very bright and it started forming a shape of Gaṇeśha, so we took the photograph. And then from there, lots of rays sort of going on the sides. And when the whole thing disappeared, they knew peace came. But so to attract that attention also, I'm sure this Param-Chaitanya must be working some tricks, otherwise how at the right time you take the picture.

Some get the thing. In one photograph Gaṇeśha is just standing behind Me. Absolutely. His blue body and eyes. But one can doubt it. One can think that it's a stuff one kept there or something. I mean, if you have to talk. But this one is too much to have a photograph. This Param-Chaitanya is trying all tricks to convince you about Me. We are already convinced, you see. But I don't know about the world at large. They'll sit down and find out, this is this, this is this.

Sahaja Yogi: You know the famous photo series of the rays of light, You know that very old one. There was somebody taking a photograph at the same time and it wasn't on it.

Shri Mataji: There are so many like that. In Calcutta you see, they were taking My photographs and Talwar's daughter-in-law started and just prayed, “Mother, I want to have some miraculous photograph." So the sun and moon both appeared behind Me. The photographs where there are angels and you see all the deities sitting behind Me was taken by a boy who was in first year medicine. Brought it to Me. He said, “I don't know what's wrong with my camera. I don't know. What has come out is this." He said, “Mother, I am sorry. You see, I don't know. Just this funny thing has come out, You see, the thing I can't understand." Wanted to take My photograph, I have come up so little as that and all the deities sitting there. He couldn't understand that how it happened. And he had lots of them, one after another, which you have seen all of you. There should be some miraculous things coming in this also. Would be good idea.

Sahaja Yogi: I was wondering, we never see it in the videos we have today.

Shri Mataji: You should desire. Just desire. Your desires are powerful than Mine because I am desireless. If you are negative, it works negative. If you are positive, it works positive. I think you must desire. But imagine what will happen then. Last thing, you see, one after another.

Contents: 1992-02-13 Picnic with Sahaja Yogis at Black Mountain Peninsula, Canberra, Australia

Shri Mataji: Sometime I have to sit down and write.

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji children who are born realised, still they pick on these bad behaviours, do they get it from their parents or their society?

Shri Mataji: This is Kali Yuga. Anything is possible. I met some born realised people who are now in Sahaja Yoga, they were taking drugs. They were drinking. This is Kali Yuga. They forget what they are. And very egoistical. Because they know they are something better. In Washi children are all born realised. In My Presence they are absolutely quiet. In My Presence. I don't know what happens, just they are very different. But, the teachers are having a bad time.

I think they'll be all right by the time they are twelve years old. They are very attached, no doubt, very attached. The kind of thing that has happening now in the world, it's only when there is Kali Yuga. I mean any sort of nonsense. In relationships, in, addictions, all kinds of immorality. Shameless, absolutely.

And to break the moods of the mind down. You regard it as a big venture.

Sahaja Yogi: Will it all change one day, Shri Mataji?

Shri Mataji: Of course I mean, if we have lots of Sahaja Yogis, it will happen. But you must also, all of you, mature.

So that others when they see you they, are impressed. I told you now in the West, so much of materialism that has covered the eyes up.

So materialistic. Russians are very good. They're not at all materialistic. Of course we have twenty percent people like this, we can call them the valets and the, taxi drivers, they ask for Marlborough cigarettes [UNCLEAR]. Then ask Me also. I said: “I don't smoke." They said: “From where do You come." I said: “Oh I come from London." “Don't smoke?" But I feel in Australia, people respect you, if you don't drink. I have a feeling. At least in the plane I saw they were very respectful. But not, in France, or Spain, also Italy, Germany, nobody thinks it's a, very good thing, that we don't drink. We have to be normal people, that's what is the abnormality. It's very absurd life. Complete abandon. Away from Divine Laws. Also they don't see that they are doing wrong. They don't see. They say it's a venture something you are doing. Taking drugs is a venture. Why not? Once I was going on a autobahn in Los Angeles and afterwards Gregoire told Me: “Mother please close the window panes and bend Your Head." I said: “Why, what's the matter?" He said: “On this road, there were eleven people were killed." “In one shot?" “No, no, different times." I said: “Why?" “For the sake if it, this was just, heck, heck of it." They have guns, so they see somebody, they shoot. This is ghore Kali Yuga. Otherwise you want to kill a bird [UNCLEAR]. It's too much, to be killing so many people. Broad daylight. It's only Kali Yuga. For no rhyme and reason. Just to kill. The army are going, twelve-year boys are carrying revolvers and killing, for the drugs. Drugs business is too much there.

Sahaja Yogi: They are wondering if you might put Your Feet in the lake, Śhrī Mother, before You go.

Shri Mataji: Look at these birds all of them have come here and meditating. All of them are here.

They must be all preparing in the north now for My Tour. It's such an intensive one. Within twenty-five days I'll be visiting about twelve places. I told them to cancel at least one of them. And some of them can be only approached by plane.

Sahaja Yogi: The Lord Mayor of Newcastle went to many arrangements to bring You to the city. The camp where we're having the Pūjā, there's a room, a hut, that's scouts' sacred land, only the head scout is allowed to use this room and they refused us permission to have You in this room, so we mentioned to the caretaker of the camp that the Lord Mayor had met You last year.

Shri Mataji: I remember. Very nice man. He sat down for realisation. He got it also.

Sahaja Yogi: He used to be a scoutmaster, the Lord Mayor, so I rang him and asked: “Could you please speak to the scout people and make arrangements for Shri Mataji to use this room." So he said: “Leave it to me." And a few days later he rang to say everything is cleared now and Shri Mataji can come and use the room, to Her pleasure.

Shri Mataji: What a thing eh? 790

Sahaja Yogi: He said he'll also try and come to the program as well.

Shri Mataji: They have to think of their benevolence also. What's the use of sticking to this, old style business. Better is. They have started thinking about it. Like Gorbachev wants to meet Me and so something good. But he was very receptive. Very respectful.

So many now they are out of Church, also. Here mostly people are Protestants not, Catholics.

Sahaja Yogi: Half and half.

Shri Mataji: Half? But how many are church-goers? Sahaja Yogis: Thirty-five percent, regular churchgoers, fifty percent believer and fifty percent don't know.

Shri Mataji: Only on Christmas Day.

Sahaja Yogi: And Easter.

Shri Mataji: I think that is now everywhere.

Sahaja Yogi: I think people from the Protestant religion find it easier to come to Sahaja Yoga because that in itself was a movement against too much ritual within the churches and many of the protestant religions do go much more into just yourself relating directly to the Word of God, so they're more willing to dispense with ritual and believe in their own relationship with the Divine.

Shri Mataji: Yes. Moreover you see Martin Luther Himself was a realised Soul. And he started this.

But only problem is He didn't give realisation to anyone. But then it deviates you see. And you have so many sects in Protestant, Seventh Day, Pentecost.

Sahaja Yogi: Well if I understand it Mother before You it wasn't really possible for people to give realisation generally, it was only when You opened the Sahasrāra that it became possible for us as a culture, for it to spread so widely. Before it was only by individual strong effort and it couldn't be passed on easily. It was Your Coming that made the difference. Is that right?

Shri Mataji: You see when if you break from one framework into another, unless and until you are standing on the truth, it deviates. In England it has gone too far now. I mean to such an extent that they want to prove that Christ was not Divine. He was a human being. And one fellow, from Durham, he actually said it many a times and then, I mean, sort of, he proclaimed it. Instead of punishing him, the Archbishop of Canterbury congratulated him and he was honoured in a church. And the top of that, see the electricity they say was, this lightning was like electricity moving around the church and then it hit and the whole top of that church was burnt completely. Only three feet were left down below.

So they said: “See, God's Grace. Because we honoured him these three feet were left."

Sahaja Yogi: Was it Durham Cathedral that you are speaking about?

Shri Mataji: Yes. Durham Bishop. I know him, otherwise. Because I went to Durham.

So I had to launch a ship there. Absolutely a superficial [UNCLEAR] person. And, when we were launching the ship, they had put a swastika, because, you see because I am a Hindu or something like that, and, in the opposite direction.

So I told them this is not correct, you have to bring the other way around. Even the Priest got such a fright: “Really? I hope it won't harm the ship or..." Is it... “No. No it's all right." I mean they have no knowledge, nothing.

Studying those theosophical theories and in those colleges. They become so conditioned, so conditioned. They haven't got those mature. But they have a set pattern of things. And the idea is not to establish Dharma, not to establish morality, not to establish any higher visions for, no. It's just, you see, read from bible. This is what He said and this is... That doesn't help much.

Sahaja Yogis: It was very nice to hear you say yesterday that Canberra is all right now. You look much better this year than last year, which was the first time that I came to You.

Shri Mataji: I didn't follow.

Sahaja Yogi: [answers.]

Shri Mataji: See I didn't know, all this is needed so much. In the beginning I didn't even allow them to put any posters. No advertisement. Nothing in the beginning, for four years. Because first I thought we must have a good foundation. People who really can digest it. We should have such people. But in London now I think, Christianity is fading because of these people. People are so indifferent. Nobody goes to the church. Nobody. We had one church there that [UNCLEAR]. Even on a Sunday they just open the doors. Only the air passes from [UNCLEAR] not once in four years.

So how are they to maintain that church? They are failing. Sahaja Yogis wanted to buy one church. They said: “Mother, it's very cheap we can buy one church and it's a good idea." I don't know if they have bought.

Sahaja Yogi: Do you think this is a good idea or a bad thing because would it institutionalise things?

Shri Mataji: Church is good because people are innocent who go there. But Catholic churches have got, those graveyards. Even Protestant churches have got graveyards. That's one thing I don't like. You see Christ, they didn't give Him much time, to really elaborately tell how this Christian life is going to work out, the culture of Christianity, how we are going to lead a family life. Not institutions. Hardly any time for it. Otherwise He would have told that, “Don't put dead bodies in the Church." But they gave Him only three years. In three years what can you do? Moreover four years I was struggling with these seven English hippies, to give them realisation. But still Christ has done so much. Of course He didn't bother to give realisation to anyone, otherwise He would have been also, without any. He did three years.

I don't think He ever talked of conversions, like this. All sorts of things. It's Paul. Today's Christianity is Pauline, not Christ. He organized, he put this. First of all organizing Christianity itself was a wrong idea. At least you could all see that it's wrong. They have done no justice to Christ. This is at least you could see, but in India they don't even see that. Because it is in the tradition that you must ascend, must respect a saint, you must have a Guru, that you have to become Self-realised, is all there. That's the only reason they understand. But they don't see what's wrong in their own style of Hinduism that they have. They never see. Even after coming to Sahaja Yoga, they'll go to the temple and some priest will put kumkum there. And they'll come back: “Mother my Āgñyā is caught up." Who asked you to go to the temple? All right, you went to the temple, at least why did you allow them to put this?" So your growth is much faster than theirs, no doubt. Not all, but on the whole I've seen.

Some of them are excellent Sahaja Yogis. No doubt.

Sahaja Yogi: Do you know the work of Jean Houston? She says Australia, is a very powerful place. I believe You also said it is Gaṇeśha's land of innocence. She says because now in Australia because of the Aboriginal tradition, we have high technology and they have very high spirituality and she believes that Australia is the place from which the spiritual rebirth will occur, the union of technology and spirituality.

Shri Mataji: Who said that?

Sahaja Yogi: Jean Houston.

Shri Mataji: But primitiveness is not spirituality. I wonder if these people, aboriginals, are spiritual?

Sahaja Yogi: Well she says yes and she speaks about some Buddhist priests who've lived with them and who say that their spirituality is more advanced than anything in Buddhism.

Shri Mataji: Really?

Sahaja Yogi: Is it, do You feel this is true about aboriginal spirituality?

Shri Mataji: I think they can achieve spirituality faster. Because you see what has happened, that you have to come to the center.

So you have come through the left, you have moved on and you've gone to the right bit too much, so difficult for you to come back. But they are moving from left.

So it is easy for them to jump on it.

So the concept of spirituality, you see the quantum of spirituality, is only possible after Self-realisation. Because they are primitives they are afraid of God, they believe in God, that there is something beyond. But that's more fright, that's more blindness. Unless and until you are realised, spirituality has no meaning. Hopeless. They drink a lot don't they, also? They drink and indulge into all kinds of things. Whatever I've read about them is this. But for people who are too advanced, they think the other side is good.

They believe also in spirits, spiritualism, quite a lot.

So it is not in believing in God or in non-believing God, but in the center. Of course Australia is a very God-blessed place, no doubt about it. Is Gaṇeśha's place firstly and described in our Shāstras in India that one saint who fell from his heights, so he was cursed and this, what you call this Southern Cross and God made him into a Southern Cross and threw him. And He said you'll be hanging round like that, upside down. It's called as Trishaṅku and some part of the land will go with you there, which will be your own place. Then he said “also you must give me some blessings." He said: “I will bless that land." It was described in the Shāstras that Trishaṅku comes here and there's a land and this and that.

Australians are that way very spiritually good I should say, whatever may be the reason, because of Nature or whatever. But certain things are missing in them. One is the social. How they relate to each other. That's rather a missing point.

So this is a problem.

So in collective they are not so good.

Individually they are good. Individuals are very good. But into collective something goes wrong with them. Also, if you have a leader, so-called, leadership is so-called, sometimes they become slaves to the leaders. I mean so much things they did, these leaders, horrible things. None of them reported it. Nobody told Me anything. I was shocked. That these leaders are trying to dominate us, they are doing these things, they are making money. Nothing.

So frightened. Like a jailer and a prisoner's attitude. This is nowhere I find like that.

Sahaja Yogi: Are you talking about Sahaja Yogis in Australia?

Shri Mataji: It happened. Horrible things happened.

Sahaja Yogi: In the past.

Shri Mataji: In the past. Even now collective, take it is like Melbourne, is no good. We have to do a lot there. But leaders are, that's a myth. You have to tell Me. Of course, you are free to tell Me. Nobody can stop you from telling Me. Unless and until I discovered it nobody told Me.

So docile. I was shocked.

You are free people. Nobody has to govern you. Very much frightened.

Sahaja Yogi: Well I only know Canberra and certainly there is no one domineering or exploiting us in Canberra that's for sure. And I'll tell you next year if it's changed.

Shri Mataji: After all I'm Your Mother and if they tell, “Mother said so" you can always ask Me.

And you must know My Style. I would never say certain things. There's nothing like priesthood, nothing like hierarchy in Sahaja Yoga. I was surprised even very intelligent people, were like that. Because you were so frightened that's why they become like that. At least you can write to Me. They were collecting money, without asking Me, for some sort of a purpose I don't know what. I never knew for years. That's not good. I didn't receive and when they asked Me questions I was surprised. They said: “We sent so much money to You." I said: “When?" There's nothing hidden in Sahaja Yoga. Nothing. Everything is an open book. All accounts, everything. Open book. Of course if you ask Me I don't know because I don't keep any accounts, I don't keep any money. But it's all there. It's checked and audited and if your leader is not doing that you should find out and let Me know because that's also your duty.

Sahaja Yogi: It's surprising that people wouldn't tell You because You are so approachable.

Shri Mataji: Just imagine.

Sahaja Yogi: I suppose it's a question of balance between You as a Person and You as the Divine and now we sit here and we chat with You, You have your lunch and we talk about anything.

Shri Mataji: It's not justice to Me also.

Sahaja Yogi: At other times it's in a different mode, we must balance it.

Shri Mataji: So many times I've said that leadership has no meaning. It doesn't go into their heads.

See we have to establish a new society, of complete freedom within you, freedom from drugs, freedom from any bad habits. A pure life. Nobody can intimidate you. Every time I had to find it.

Sahaja Yogi: Mother there were quite a few people from Melbourne who had written letters to give to Stephen to give to You. I was wondering whether they had come through?

Shri Mataji: No if you think, whatever your problems are you can solve well and good otherwise you must write to Me.

Sahaja Yogis: We did. We gave so many letters. We gave You some in Madras [Chennai]. There were three quarters of the collective had signed and written letters to You about problems we have in Melbourne and we gave them to Stephen to hand over to You.

Shri Mataji: That's why I am here now.

Sahaja Yogi: Thank you Mother.

Shri Mataji: It's rather complicated. I'll have to play some tricks with them.

Sahaja Yogi: Mother, I'd like to ask you about the Buddhists, because the Buddhists who are so wellversed in Buddhism, they don't recognize God and they say well they practice the middle path. I know very little about Buddhism or anything, but I find it's very hard to talk to them.

Shri Mataji: I'll tell you what, at the time when Buddha came in, in India, it was full of ritualism, absolutely. And they would just put a stone there, put some, kumkum on that, start worshipping. It had become a complete anathema as far as religion was concerned.

So it started with Buddha and also Mahāvīra, that they saw, that these people are making money out of everyone, supposed to be priests.

They are very cruel, killing people, also, human sacrifices. All kinds of things they were doing, the opposite.

So Buddha wanted people first to get their realisation. And an analogy I've given like this. First they started, going through their sympathetic, they saw those deities. When they saw those deities, they started worshipping those deities. Like, we have to get to the honey, but honey is in the flower.

So we start worshipping the flower. Don't get to the honey by that.

So Buddha thought, Buddha, Mahāvīra, Mohammed, Nanaka, all these thought that better not to talk about God just now. Let us talk about Self-realisation. That you have to know your Self. That's why, these people started talking about abstract. Abstract. This All-pervading Power around us. Because, they wanted to put the attention of the people, now from flower, to the honey. But even that became a talk only. They could not reach the honey. They only also talked about honey. But they didn't reach the honey. Now in Sahaja Yoga, what happens that you become the bees. You can. But to convince Buddhists people if you say that, there two things that they would not appreciate. One about talk about God, you have to tell them, you don't have to believe in God or anything.

Take your realisation. That He has talked, Self He as has talked a lot, Buddha.

So once you talk about Self, they get their Self-realisation, they'll have vibrations and they can ask questions and clarify.

Sahaja Yogi: Because a lot of them start to analyze and start to be curious.

Shri Mataji: That you can never say. You say you get your Self-realisation. Enlightenment. Buddha has said this. Buddham sharanam gacchāmi, First you become Self-realised. Then he said Dharmam sharanam gacchāmi. Means let the Dharma be enlightened within me. And then Saṅgham sharanam gacchāmi that is, the collectivity. These three things He has taught. But, as all are, like Muslims are not good Islam, Buddhists are not good Buddhism. They did all kinds of things you see, that were wrong.

And where is now Buddhism, in which country? If you go to Japan, horrible people Japanese. Worst, worst possible.

Sahaja Yogi: And it's very hard to tell the Chinese, about ancestors, stop praying to ancestors because the Chinese are very deep-rooted in that belief and where I am at the moment, in fact the area called Cabramatta, there's lots of Asian people but it's very hard to talk to them because...

Shri Mataji: Of course. Tell them get your Self-realisation then you'll talk. No use talking. Better get them to Self-realisation. Chinese are very deep people and you'll be surprised that in New York, we have more Chinese than Americans, in Sahaja Yoga. And in the West Coast we have more Iranians than Americans. Then another conflict could be that, they see Buddha's life and, He said you should have penance you should go through sufferings, while in Sahaja Yoga this should not be done. Because you've already done it in your last lives. You should say now this is the time, now you've to come up. You've done everything. Just you have to walk in.

And the idea of BodhiSattva. In every religion they have talked of the future. Even Islam. Resurrection time, then they have talked of BodhiSattva. BodhiSattva is the future Buddha, is called as Maitreya, Trigunātmika and BodhiSattva is the one when you are realised you have found the truth, you have to give it to the society, you have to give it to the public, you have to go all out to give it. That's Sahaja Yoga.

So Buddhism at that stage, was achieving your Self, alone. Or your little group. Now today it is Buddhism.

Sahaja Yogi: Because the Buddhists, a lot of them believed in the Goddess of Mercy.

Shri Mataji: What?

Sahaja Yogi: Goddess of Mercy, Quan Yin.

Shri Mataji: Quan Yin, they believe? She looks like Me very much.

Sahaja Yogi: I try to talk to them like that and some of them, because of the barrier of races and nationality: “Oh, no, no, no look at this picture, it's not" and this and that. It's so hard to convince them.

My real desire, I like to talk to these people, especially in my area. There are lots of them.

Shri Mataji: You should say now there is no Quan Yin. And when She lived, nobody recognized Her.

Her own father wanted to throw Her away and a tiger came and saved Her. And She actually appeared on the scene when She was about I think ninety years.

Something like that. Very old.

So, nothing much was done. But they could recognize that She was a Goddess. Now She is no more. It's Me here.

So whatever is gone, what's the use of talking about that? That's another human nature, you see. To talk about the person who has gone. There's no Christ now, there's no Rāma, there's no Kṛiṣhṇa. I'm here.

So they won't come to Me. Rāma, “We worship Rāma” because He's in their pocket. Do what you like.

If they want to have their realisation they should get it. Whatever their forefathers have done and their forefathers have done, they are doing the same. What did they achieve? For China I have great hopes.

Your Prime Minister, somehow or other, the one who is Prime Minister now, young fellow, he took to Me very much when I was in China, all the time asking Me about spirituality. I showed complete ignorance at that time.

So I am sure it will work out.

Sahaja Yogi: How about Singapore Lee Kuan Yu, the Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yu? How is he?

Shri Mataji: Very nice man. Excellent. [Hindi.] Very nice man. Very very nice person. Chinese are beautiful people. Very beautiful. I met him because I went with My husband and the Chinese somehow or other had the respect for Me quite a lot, always. And in a dinner or anything, he would always sit next to Me. All the time he was talking about the Indians being further in spirituality. They are the sole source of spirituality. Even in Russia they have so many sayings about India, that the wisdom will come from India. There was a Chinese, I don't know how he did that, thousands of books he carried from India.

[UNCLEAR]. And there's a very big, huge monument in his name, I don't know how many feet high and on both the sides are just those books piled up. I don't know how he carried.

So that, they had great understanding. Once upon a time India was very much spiritually aware. Because of the climate, because you can live in a jungle, you can manage anywhere, so people didn't have to bother about. You see like in London if you have to go out you have to take at least fifteen to twenty minutes to get ready to face the Nature. That's where the Nature is so good in India that they didn't have to bother so much so they went inside.

Sahaja Yogi: But what about places like Singapore with so much of high-rise buildings, most of the population is on top of one another, they are not touching the earth at all. There's no land, not much space there.

Shri Mataji: But even in Singapore there are people. Chinese specially. Very close to them is Malaysia and we have at least thirty-five Chinese in Malaysia doing Sahaja Yoga. Singapore is occupied by people who are very materialistic. We have had people there. We tried in Singapore also, Sahaja Yoga.

Didn't work out.

Sahaja Yogi: When do you think we'll work it out in Singapore?

Shri Mataji: Can't say. Even Indians when they go to Singapore they become extremely materialistic.

It's already working out in Hong Kong, so let's hope.

Somebody should be really in China.

Somebody should go to Singapore and try to work it out. Like Hong Kong. Alex is doing good work there. Isn't it?

Sahaja Yogi: Shri Mataji, this weekend it's the ACT elections on Saturday and we have a particularly hair-brained bunch of politicians here and I was wondering if there's anything that You might envisage for the future in the ACT. There's about three hundred thousand people here and I think that one of the problems, as it's the Capital of Australia, one of the problems echoing out from here, seems to be because they have a great bureaucratic mentality and they don't seem to be able to see the wider picture and it seems to have an effect with Federal Politicians as well.

Shri Mataji: So what's the mentality you said?

Sahaja Yogi: It's a very small-minded mentality, particularly with the politicians locally. About three years ago they introduced a self-government for the Capital Territory, which is Canberra and because they weren't content to have a local council type of government, which is much more appropriate, because it's a very small place, but they chose to have a big parliament, a Legislative Assembly they call it and now we are up for our first new elections since then and...

Shri Mataji: For this Canberra?

Sahaja Yogi:... for this area, a lot of very amateurish, silly people got into power last time and I think we're all very concerned in Canberra that we're going to have the same again.

Shri Mataji: Only such people are acceptable to politics. If somebody mature goes there he'll be thrown out. Politics is everywhere is in a doldrums. It's not only here. They have to evolve still. I think these politicians and, I should say to some extent bureaucrats also, it takes some time to evolve. You shouldn't worry about them too much just now. They'll have some nice shocks. They deserve it.

Sahaja Yogi: The people are getting the shocks too when they get into power.

Shri Mataji: I know. But don't pay any attention, just give them bandhans. All stupid people. The worst part is they make stupid laws, absolutely stupid. We have in India quite a lot of them. I wish we could export them somewhere else.

Sahaja Yogi: Maybe the North Pole.

Shri Mataji: [Hindi.] [UNCLEAR] in Australia. In India they are the worst type, politicians. You don't know today they are in one party, is tomorrow they are in another party. They are sold out. They are all purchased. At least I hope that's not the situation here.

Sahaja Yogi: I think there's a certain amount of corruption at every level.

Shri Mataji: Very little. But nobody can beat India.

Sahaja Yogi: The best person, the most honest person, in the federal government was made treasurer, which was a totally untenable position and now he's nowhere because he was, it was admitted publicly that he was too much of a gentleman for that position and he's gone. He's been given some very small portfolio and he would have made a very good leader.

Shri Mataji: That's what I told you. There's no place for such people there just now. Our Rajesh Shah I told him that: “You go and attend one of the meetings of these politicians." His father is a politician.

Next time I met him, he just prostrated himself. “Mother tell me anything. I can jump into sea. But don't tell me to go to meetings of these politicians. I just went mad with them." I said: “What happened?" He said they started arguing on some point. And they said now, they're such fanatic people, that Rajesh tried to pacify them and tell them: “It's not so bad." They said: “Tomorrow, you don't know what will happen to you. This will happen, that will happen." He said: “No it will not happen. I know this, it's not that bad." So fanatic. Hatred for each other. And then money comes in so they join the other party. No principles, nothing. Even America has no principles of any kind. They'll support Argentina. I mean they do anything. Where there has to be some rigidity in character, that's why it's lacking.

Sahaja Yogi: Australia is sometimes called `Little America'.

Shri Mataji: Is it? Very much under their influence is it?

Sahaja Yogi: It used to be the British and now it's the Americans.

Shri Mataji: British are not corrupt so much. But the problem is, in India if you want to get something done, you can pay some money and get it done. But in England nothing. They won't take bribe and they won't do the work. Finished.

So lethargic. What a red tape, they have in England, terrible. You have to give up so many things. Nothing works.

Sahaja Yogi: Margaret Thatcher is gone, though. That's got to be good for England.

Shri Mataji: But Mr. Major. I don't know, poor thing. She's done so much harm. They are with bankruptcy. What can he do, alone? Such a harm she's done to the population. She's done all kinds of things. She's a bounder I think. Bought lot of these conventional weapons and wasted all that money. I heard they are going to use it for some film making, war film making.

So what's the use? Such a damage.

That's the trouble with British they do not have their self-confidence. She tried to follow this Mr. Reagan.

Hopeless fellow. He was good at dropping bricks. Absolutely useless. And she was so friendly with him and the worst thing she's done is to take his economic policies. Like banking.

So available for you, loan for your house available, loan for that available, everything available. And within one year's time everybody's lost their houses, with that kind of an interest rate. That's all right in America, because a very rich country. Still they are also suffering now, very much. Then another thing she started secretly, supposed to be conservative, that you can take out any amount of money. [Aside.] Then secondly she has allowed, people to take away money to any country, any one. Firstly when we were there only twenty-five pounds were allowed in cash. Now Indians are very good at black money and also English have learnt this [UNCLEAR]. All this money is flowing all over and now they have made a pact with India that all laundering of money and all that, we'll work it out. But so much money has already come out. What is the conservatism in this? She has not conserved anything out of it, but so they are suffering from bankruptcy, complete bankruptcy. But English are stupid, why did they vote her again and again, I don't know. She was talking big all the time her talks were such [UNCLEAR]. She did no public work. Very bumptious person, extremely bumptious. Even now she's not given up, even now. She goes to Russia, goes here there, preaching something good as if she's done good things.

English have certain good assets, one is sense of justice there, justice is the best there. Also administration.

Of course they don't do anything that's different, but administration is there. And also they have certain moral values. These are much better than French values. Now once, Europe becomes one, England will be finished. Absolutely. Because how will they control? Already ten Sahaja Yogis have moved in Cabella, because they couldn't earn anything there. They are all very well qualified. Mark is very well qualified. He's a very good plumber. We have electricians there. We have carpenters. Builders. All these people couldn't earn even hundred pounds per month.

So they have shifted now to Cabella. As soon as they came to Italy, I don't know how, by some Divine force, a scheme has started hunting heads they call it.

So they want people to join this hunting heads and they are paying five hundred pounds per head, just for the training. They are already trained. And once they get a certificate from these people, they can work very well there.

So for [UNCLEAR] he says: “Mother it's too good to be true." While Italy has progressed. That's the richest country now. Within these fourteen years time. I remember when I went there Guido asked Me for two things. “Mother we want prosperity." I said do your handwork. Don't give it up. Do your crafts. And the second thing he said: “Get rid of this Mafiā." Within eight days one sub-inspector came in he jumped on the Mafiā and they all had to shift to America. And now third thing is Vatican, which is also going. But they have prospered. Very much. And how they have prospered, by obeying no laws. You know for a developing country there's no need to have too many laws. For example, I had to buy a land, for your ashram.

So I went to the notary. He had a big calculator, he went tuk, tuk, tuk, tuk, tells Me on My Face there, notary himself, that so much you must bring black money and so much white money. I said: “Really? But I don't have black money." “No you go and tell the manager of the bank. He'll manage it." So I went to the manager. He again did tuk, tuk, tuk, tuk, tuk. Said: “All right. We can make it. You come on such and such date. Your money will be ready. This much black. This is white." The manager himself does it.

I took that money, bought the land without any difficulty, then I asked him how is it you are a notary and how can you tell Me that I should pay so much black? He said in this country nobody wants to pay income tax.

So, that's a fact. That's a reality. And I said: “What do you do, supposing I have to pay an income tax and I don't pay?" “Very simple. For five years they send you notice. Please send so much, income tax. And if you don't pay, then after five years, they'll tell you at least pay ten per cent. But even then if you don't pay, they'll say: Oh forget it." But I said: “Why do you do that?" He said: “Because we want to progress. Laws are to be obeyed, if it is allowed to progress, we want to progress." While in India, just the opposite. I mean we behave as if we are very rich people to have all these laws and income tax. If somebody doesn't pay the income tax and if he's found out, all the newspapers, everybody and there's such a lot of black market there, will be talking about it everyone: “Oh he didn't pay his income tax." Nobody pays there, actually. It's like that. That's how they solve their problem. If you really release here your, laws and regulations, this is a very rich country you can become very rich.

For example they told Me, they are killing the lambs here because there are too many lambs so they don't know what to do.

So I told Avinash, that let Me know if people want to import lamb from here, what should you do. “Such a big book” he said: “Such a big book." I don't know how much he must have spent also posting Me that.

And then I was surprised. There's a committee which will examine the lambs. Then there's another doctors' committee through which the lambs have to go. This is to be done by the other party. Why are you doing? You have to sell it. You are not the buyer. Worse than the buyers. I gave up I said. I mean to read that itself would take one year. Just to go through.

So all these rules and regulations these bureaucrats are taking, just for their own satisfaction. And in India that's the only way they can make money. Here also they must be making money no doubt. But it's a kind of a satisfaction. Here also. Such laws and regulations. And recessions. What else will be there?

Sahaja Yogi: They're very keen to be seen to be playing on what they call a level playing field with world trade partners and a lot of the rest of the world are laughing down their sleeves at them because they're going out of their way to be seen to be doing the right thing and they're just cutting their own wrists.

Shri Mataji: What is right thing? What is right?

Sahaja Yogi: Well they feel that they should promote free trade, so they're letting other people bring their products in and it's meaning that the Australian products are becoming worth less. In fact so little that they can't afford to sell them.

Shri Mataji: [UNCLEAR] it's not a sensible thing. You must export.

Sahaja Yogi: They don't know how to value add to their products. They've relied on primary industries for a long time and they've ruined the land, a lot of the land. They've stripped it of trees and they've employed European farming techniques on land which can't cope with it and so now they're realizing that they can't rely on those products and they haven't in the time developed the ability.

Shri Mataji: But they don't produce consumers' goods. They cannot produce consumers' goods you see. Just like Canada. Canada has the same problem. Had it. Not now.

Some Germans have come there and they had the same problem, that Canada would export aluminium [aluminum], all these mineral things, to America, they would make a car and sell it at double price. Just like that. You have so many things in this country.

Sahaja Yogi: Australia chops all its old rain forests down, sends it to Japan and Japan makes paper out of it and we buy writing paper from them.

Shri Mataji: Why can't you make paper?

Sahaja Yogi: Well then there's a lot of arguments on an environmental basis for not producing paper in many places because it has adverse impacts.

Shri Mataji: If that little tiny thing like Japan can make it, such a huge big country, what is this environment business?

Sahaja Yogi: Well the argument is that the Japanese environment has been really severely degraded.

Shri Mataji: I tell you they are just befooling you. Japanese are very clever people. They are taking everything from here. Least bothered about their environment. You have such a lot of land. Can do so many things. Make some portion of your land available for this. Otherwise you will just have environment and no food. You can't live with environment only.

Sahaja Yogi: If they have a good idea they have to wait for someone in some other part of the world to make money out of it before they try here and then it's too late. They could grow timber plantations from eūent from towns but instead of that it's slightly cheaper in the short term to put the water into the rivers and then they get algae, toxic algae, growing in the rivers. They won't take the steps required to actually invest in using that water to grow timber, which they can make paper with, for their own markets.

Shri Mataji: That's why it's lopsided. Absurd. I mean if you see the export of lamb, which is killed here, it's amazing. That does tell us I think. How can it be? I mean you are killing your lambs and you can export. One thing has worked out when I came here last time, I was saying they should have barter system with Russia. Is very good. And that's what they have.

Somehow it has gone into their heads. But I've been blasting on that point.

You can't live with trees only, you have to have food also. There should be some balance. Fool's paradise as they call it. Then your recession cannot end with this kind of schemes you have, can never end. In Russia see now, Russians are, they have learnt that their people have become very comfortable.

You see if you give them, say now this is your house, you take this house. No, no, no, no we don't want to take it. We can't look after it. You'd better do. You give them anything they don't want it. They give them the land, now this is your land. No, no, no, no, no. Let the Government look after. Then they were very comfortable with that. They don't want to work. That's their problem. Basic problem.

But still I must say they have realised one thing, that we have to export whatever is possible. Now from India people have gone to Siberia. And they are cutting the trees there. In India is very expensive, you see. They will be, sending it all over the world. They have realised it and so much, for export.

So much. That anybody who wants to try, it's very easy to for them to get things done. They have no money so if they are exporting something, they are getting the foreign exchange. Very anxious to export and they can. They have so many things that they can export, already.

As communism has failed, democracy has also failed, in a way. The other day I went out shopping, I found things were so expensive. Here even a good shirt like that costs you so much. Very expensive.

So they told Me that they have second-hand shops here, where people who cannot afford buy it second-hand.

Well that's worse than India. Nobody would buy second-hand goods in India. Recession, ination. I hope these ideas go into their heads. This country is very, very rich. Very rich. But no accent on export. No accent at all. Then you are making these aluminium [aluminum], what you call them, cases. And I wanted them to be brought to England, aluminium [aluminum] ones, these cases what you call them, aluminium [aluminum] Paddington cases. Impossible. Such a red tape for that, export. There should be no red tape for export. For import is all right. I can't understand this. It's really upside down economics.

Sahaja Yogi: So the United Europe will be a good thing for trade.

Shri Mataji: But they will become very, localised in a way. See once they are United Europe, they will exclude Australia, exclude India, they will not take any meats from here. Now they have passed a law that no meat will be taken from any other countries but European countries. Because there are five countries, which are going to join European Market. Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania, Bulgaria.

And Sahaja Yoga is just spreading out. Then another is Italy, which is very good. Another France. Italy we have already somehow or other, gone into politics, for the green party.

So, if we have, people in all these, maybe in Europe we'll have a good chance. But with this exclusion what will you do here? Can try South-East Asian countries. But there's no venture about it. They have to go to these countries, find out what they need. They can sell it.

I was telling them this gulab jamun and rasgullas you make here, you can export them to Singapore, to Hong Kong, to any of these places, it will sell like hot cakes. But for that if you have to go through the red tape nobody is going to do. They're not interested, those who are importers don't want all these things isn't it. That one can do I mean you can really make a good money out of all that. If you could get hold of some Germans, who make very good sausages and things like that and sell them as German sausages.

All these places. Taiwan is now so rich. You can export food there. Philippines, Thailand, all these places. Good quality meats and foods. I was surprised at those rasgullas. I've never eaten such good rasgullas in India. They can be packed well and can be sent anywhere. But they are selling in England like that. But they may not later on when it becomes Europe, may not. Maybe these Indian things they may accept, because in Singapore there are lots of Indians. Thailand they have lots of, in Taiwan also.

All these places. Specially Kuala Lumpur, full of it and you don't get this nice, because they don't have such good milk. Is there somebody from Kuala Lumpur here? No one.

So all these milk products can go.

Sumir, you were making samosas. Instead of that you make these things. [Hindi.] You have to move.

You have to move it you have to go and show them the example and all that and the price, competitive price [Hindi] Singapore, because they don't get milk even.

So many Indians in Singapore. But you have to move. You have to go find out. But to send rasgullas from here you'll have to pass through a big, red tape whether it is all right. They will all eat it first of all. At least hundred kilos will be consumed in that.

I've never seen such a thing that the person who has to sell, goes through all these, guarantees. I mean if something wrong, they can find out, those who are purchasing.

Who can talk to them? Who will bend the fact? A person like Me Who is an outsider can see these points so clearly. That's how recession can be easily controlled with such a rich country. Germans are very good at it. They are selling these eggs of quail, at such a high price and the quails. Minting money.

Asparagus, I don't know. They are such a small country. They sell all kinds of things. Asparagus you can grow here very well. Asparagus is so expensive. In India also. You have cheese now, cheese. This Kraft cheese, tinned cheese, you can export it to all the countries. There are Indians who are just waiting for it.

All over. Nobody goes and finds out.

Then you have dried fruits here which are very good, which are very expensive. Especially your solar systems. You can sell it all over. You have so many engineers. They sent some things to Me and I showed it to somebody, in India. They said: “Oh I can't fix it." So somebody, an engineer can go and fix it up or something. It can work in all these countries. But it's not available at all. I think, in Australia people lack the capacity to sell. You must get some people, marketing people. Like TM is good at marketing.

Very good. Marketing absolutely nonsense.

Sahaja Yogi: It's not doing them any good though Mother.

Shri Mataji: But that's different. I am just joking. But marketing they are doing. I mean to sell something nonsense. Is something creditable, that gives credit. As it is there's recession and they will suck out all the money that you have. Put people on the streets. I think you should hire some people for marketing. Good Indians you can get. Indians are very good when they are, not in their own country.

Because in India you cannot do anything. It's impossible. [Hindi.] It has always failed. I also allowed. I said some people wanted to do some business, this way that way. I mean I am not so rigid. But it has always failed. Never worked out. Created big problems. Sahaj Yogis can do individually on their own. I mean it's a business thing. Not through Sahaja Yoga. You shouldn't do it. I think it's not permissible.

Divine Laws don't help.

Or if four, five people join together, they may be Sahaja Yogis, but it's nothing to do with Sahaja Yoga. Keep Sahaja Yoga out of all this. We don't need money, we don't need anything. I never have problems of money. Australia has because people are stingy here. Very stingy. Australians are known to be the most stingiest people. Even worse than Turkish. That's the reputation they have, really. When it comes to presents, the lowest amount they will give for Australia, though we have so many Sahaja Yogis.

Lowest amount. They used to only give first ten pounds, then fifty pounds, then hundred pounds, now two hundred pounds. For that also they want to reduce now. Big objections. Big things. For a hundred pounds what do you get, nothing. And last, last one is hundred pounds, in the present. And that's for Australia. Though I was telling them: “Don't get any present, don't get. Don't do this. I don't want." But they are so enthusiastic, all of them.

So enthusiastic. And the number of Sahaja Yogis we have, are quite a lot.

Very stingy. Especially Melbourne people are horrible. I mean, for anything they are very stingy.

The more you become stingy the worse it will be. I never had any problem of money never in life and I spend money. I don't understand accounts or anything, just go on spending. Yesterday I was talking to Vinay and he was telling Me why don't you have only five hundred pounds for people who come only for Ganapatipule. The way Australian mind, he too has picked up. I said: “See if I decide that, all the Australians will only come for Ganapatipule, firstly." Then I told him the accounts, how much money I have to spend. This time [Hindi] had to make up.

And he was so shocked at the whole thing. Because there are at least hundred and fifty people who came just free, from all these countries. When I told him the accounts he was so shocked. I must have spent more than fifteen lakhs of rupees, Myself, My Own. He was so shocked. Because though, you see we say that pound has gone up and all. But India is very expensive, food wise [Hindi]. It's gone up so much.

Very expensive. Whatever it is, what I'm trying to tell you that, I never had problem. These fifteen lakhs I got just like that. No problem.

Sahaja Yogi: Maybe we should increase the ground fare. It shouldn't be...

Shri Mataji: I want you to be comfortable, to have good food to have, all this coming by train too [Hindi]. I mean to every place we used to take them out, see places, go round. Even those dramas and all that we had to pay such a lot of money to them. I never have problems. I never ask for money from anyone also. This money was fixed long time back. Since then it's going on. Then we have got, Washi School. When we asked for money, for Washi School, on one Sahasrāra time, I think five thousand or six thousand pounds. That time the value of pound was eighteen rupees.

So they were so ashamed, that they put it back in the bank and they said Mother not now, we'll not send it. And the whole of Washi School, have you seen Washi School, anyone?

Sahaja Yogi: Those who went on the Tour Mother, they saw it.

Shri Mataji: All that was built, with our money. I don't know how many have seen the Delhi Ashram? [Hindi] for everything. Except for this time they collected some six thousand. Five, six lakhs. For the land, everything. Then Vaitarna land. Then Ganapatipule. Then Shere. Then there's another land we have, in Pune. There's another land we have bought. Twenty-five acres of land for the experiment of these agriculture. Then another land in Awagar. All this I've done in these four years, since Mr. Warren left Me. In these four years. Before that not a single pi was left. It has worked out.

Sahaja Yogi: [Hindi.] Question about ground fare.

Shri Mataji: It's all right. [Hindi.] But so many people are coming free. Then whatever are presents I give you, I give them. Just the same. If they are getting married. Now those people who came from, South America all came free, never paid anything. Even part of the travelling and most of the travelling of these people who are coming, is paid for. It works out. I'll give you a concrete example. When I was in, this was in Rome I think.

So, Guido told Me, “Mother there's a land available. But we need sixteen thousand pounds just now, put it. If You put sixteen thousand immediately, we can book that land." So I said: “I don't know if I have in the bank but I'll see, if I have." So I went to the, airport. I was about to leave. Sandra [surname] she just came and handed over a packet. She said Mother: “This is for you." I said: “What?" “There's money. In Liras." “For Me? For what? I don't need." “No no for You, Mother, for You. Please take it I have kept it for you. This is Yours." I said: “How much?" She said: “Sixteen thousand pounds." It was sixteen thousand exactly. I said: “All right, give Me." And I gave it to him there only. I said: “You now book." So he went and booked that land. And then he said that Mother: “We didn't need all that money. We have booked it as it is.

So the money's all Yours." I said: “How did you book?" He said: “We don't need any money just put Your Name, finished. Whenever You have money [UNCLEAR]." That's also another good news.

Then they wanted to have Shudy Camps.

So I said: “All right I'll go to Italy, buy all these things that are necessary." Means all the pots, pans everything, for the W.C.'s and, bathrooms and all the, what you call them, marble, then all fittings and curtains, everything.

So I had taken some money from the bank. Went down.

So Guido said Mother those sixteen thousand pounds are there, not spent, in Liras. I said: “All right let's go." So in one day I bought everything. Now you have seen Shudy Camps, how many bathrooms we have, how much marble we have put in, all the curtains, everything.

Everything I bought in one day. And I gave them hundred pounds more saying that: “You get this cotton cloth, get some more for My drawing room." Beautiful, beautiful, curtains. And when the bill came, it was exactly six thousand one hundred. I first thought this is all manipulation by Sahaja Yogis. I said: “Who has done this billing?" They said: “The shop has." “Really?" “Yes the shop has done it." “You haven't done it?" “No." That is this hundred pounds are all there.

So they said “this You had curtains made Mother, You forgot." I said: “All right." Everything came in that sixteen thousand pounds.

So now, we are having, this Cabella, an ashram.

So the English Sahaja Yogis said: “Mother, you have spent sixteen thousand pounds here.

So we'll send You timber worth of sixteen thousand, which will be very sufficient for Cabella." Barter system going on, with the sixteen thousand only, nothing more, nothing less. This is one of the examples I have given. No problem at all, of any kind, any time. It all gets solved, you must just have faith, that you are being watched over. And not to be stingy.

Then this, Sandra you know, I'll tell you how she was blessed. She had a, I should say at in a very funny place, horrible. Absolutely horrible. I mean it was like a chawl as we say in India and she sold it for an exorbitant price. All My houses that I bought for nothing were sold for very high price, just like that. But if you go on worrying about money, money will never come to you. That's in Sahaja Yoga you see. Without Sahaja Yoga is all right but, after Sahaja Yoga you shouldn't worry. It all works out.

Like James came for My Birthday and he brought one wooden bird, to be given to Me. Rajesh said: “You put it down. Don't show. Otherwise people will just say: `What little bird you have brought, from Australia all the way, for Mother's Birthday.' Better not give it, for heaven's sake don't give it. Just give it. You can give it otherwise but don't give it as present." But he was shameless, he never felt bad about it. Absolutely shameless. “Oh it's a bird you know, very famous bird, it's very rare, it laughs this and that." But this doesn't laugh you see. And he was on and on about that bird only. Shameless. Then Rajesh couldn't bear it any more, “In short you are a very miserly man, that's all." He couldn't help it.

What? Nothing, a small little bird he brings when, he's coming all the way from Australia, to represent Australia's love for Me with this bird, made of wood.

I said: “You should not have brought it. You have brought to show your heart isn't it." But he was shameless. Absolutely shameless. And Rajesh couldn't bear it. He said: “No. You are a very miserly man, that's what you are. You don't understand anything. You don't know what you are doing." He told him off. This you are not going to be giving. He packed it up, packed it up. Such a big box. Opens out with a little bird. He thought some rat is going to come out. There's no brains. If he was so hard up he should not have brought anything. I felt very bad that Rajesh had to tell him and he couldn't take it any more.

He said: “Mother, supposing if I had allowed him, what people would have thought of Australians." Just think. I said: “All right. Whatever he gives is all right." Wouldn't stop. He must go on praising that bird.

So that is what it is.

Sahaja Yogi: I think the fine weather is leaving us Mother. It's getting very black.

Shri Mataji: What are you expecting now?

Sahaja Yogi: We haven't had any rain today, have we?

Shri Mataji: What you want you tell Me? Once in England in the beginning they said: “Mother we want a very very hot summer." I said: “Are you sure?" “Yes Mother, very, very hot summer." And there was, you remember one summer We had in London, famous summer, what year was that?

Sahaja Yogi: 1976.

Shri Mataji: 76. I said: “You'll have it." Then the situation was so bad, that there are no fans, nothing. I mean, at least in India we have air conditioning, if not the fans. No arrangements are there.

And the windows so small. We went to buy fans. They said: “You have to apply and we'll give you after three months." And there was a queue for fans. And everybody was going hah, hah, such a bad summer.

Such a bad summer. And autumn was very beautiful after that.

So then they said Mother: “Sorry." I said: “You said very, very hot. Very, very hot." I was telling you you are a Sahaja Yogi, don't say like that, but you were saying, very, very hot. Very, very hot.

So now it becomes very, very hot. You should have said warm, but you said hot. And I think for three months. Scorchingly hot, it was. I said you had it. Nature knows the balance. Not too much. Little bit is all right. I think some Sahaja Yogis must have asked for rain. And it rained and rained and rained. All right. We have to be thankful to Mother Earth, the Australian Mother Earth, for giving such a beautiful time to Us. May God bless you.

I have a good film about Shañkarāchārya. If you want to see, you can see it. After you will know what it is to get Self-realisation, in those days. He died very young.

So that film is available if you want to see you can see it tonight.

Sahaja Yogi: Tonight is the music program. 9 o'clock. [Hindi.]

Shri Mataji: [Hindi.] You should show them Shañkarāchārya in Sydney with Me. Everybody can see.

[Musical Gap and then a short talk during the music program follows.]

Shri Mataji: It was such an unexpected, joyous event for Us that Shrimati Padma Menen has agreed to give this beautiful performance. And to again remind Us what We saw in Madras [Chennai]. Actually, her Guru was there and We went to her foundation where there were fifty ladies who danced before Me. It is a great pleasure to see you here, that in a foreign country you are spreading the art of [UNCLEAR Ragantri]. I am sure you must have understood most of her actions but what you have to see is her mastery over rhythm, firstly. And secondly, on the abhinaya, means the [UNCLEAR mai]. Such a master she is and it's such a vigorous vibrant dance. I'm seeing one better than the other, as I would say. I saw lots of them in Madras [Chennai] and now to see here it was a great pleasure to Me. And to all of Us, because We know a lot about Rāmāyaṇa and We know a lot about Mahābharāta.

But to weave it into such beautiful patterns is something of a great art and a great talent. It's not possible for everybody to dance like this.

Neither, even if you practice you cannot dance like this. It's something innate, some inner force, that works it out so well. For such a long she danced. I mean, one would feel completely exhausted. But with such vigor, with such power, she's shown different expressions. One minute she is this, one minute she is that. It's really very remarkable. I'm really proud of her that she has come to Australia to spread this beautiful dancing pattern and to teach others here.

May God bless her.

Contents: 1992-02-13 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, after an Indian Dance, Ashram, Canberra, Australia

It was such an unexpected, joyous event for us, that Srimati Padma Menon has agreed to give this beautiful performance and to again remind us what we saw in Madras [Chennai]. Actually her Guru was there and we went to her, foundation, where there were fifty ladies who danced before Me. It was a great, pleasure to see you here, that in a foreign country, you are spreading the Art of our country.

I am sure you must have understood most of her actions but, what you have to see is the, her mastery over rhythm, firstly. And secondly on the, Abhinaya, means the Māyā. Such a master she is. And it's a very vigorous vibrant dance. I'm seeing one better than the other as I would say. I saw lots of them in Madras [Chennai] and now here to see her, it was a great pleasure to Me. And to all of us, because we know a lot about Rāmāyaṇa, we know lot about Mahābharāta. But to weave it into such beautiful patterns, is something, of a great art and a great talent. It's not possible for everybody to dance like this.

Neither, even if you practice you cannot dance like this. It's something innate.

Something inner force that works it out so well. For such a long she danced. I mean, one would feel completely exhausted. But with such vigor, with such power, she's shown different expressions. One minute she is this. One minute she is that. It's really very remarkable. I'm really proud of her that, she has come to Australia to spread this beautiful dancing pattern and to teach others, here.

May God bless her.

Contents: 1992-02-16 Śhrī Kuṇḍalinī Gaurī Pūjā, Melbourne, Victoria, Australia

Come inside, you can! All of you come inside, there is space. Little bit loose space for these people. Just move this side.

Don't sit in the sun! [Hindi.] I'm sorry today I have to speak about something unpleasant to begin with, before the Pūjā. Later on we'll have the Pūjā of the Kuṇḍalinī, the Gaurī. All right? The unpleasant things are... I'm sorry to say that about Melbourne, that it has been a very funny experience, in this place, Melbourne. And I really feel very sorry that I've brought this Elio to this country.

It was an uneducated, absolutely starving person in Portugal. And he had nothing to eat even. And I told you that I sent lots of ceramic, a truck load to them. They sold it and ate all the money.

So that doesn't matter. And then I paid for him to come here, he got here, married to a nice girl. But I think he was a bhoot from the very beginning, or I don't know what to say. There is no sense of gratitude, no sense of self-esteem, he didn't know what he was and he became really, really a big bhoot, in the sense that he started playing in the hands of Satan.

I didn't know what was happening, he came down to Pratishthan and people said: “Mother, who is this Rākshasa who has come?" And he came with Trish. Now where is Trish here? Trish, I'm sorry to say, you have lost all discrimination, of every kind! You should not have supported this horrible fellow and you also came with him to Pratishthan! Something discretion you lose very fast, if you are in company with such stupid people like him. What was so great? Was he educated, did he know anything about Sahaja Yoga? He came like a bagger from there and you suddenly took after him! He even spoiled that girl! Such a nice Sahaja Yogini, she is spoiled! Should not have come with him to Pratishthan! All right, when you came to Pratishthan..., that means you never feel vibrations! And yesterday I was surprised that so many people who came were shaking before Me, they were Sahaja Yogis, they were wearing their badges and I asked them: “From where do you come?" They said: “We are coming from Trish." And then you went to Nepal for what? To learn black magic! This black magic is working in Melbourne, I can see it very clearly! It has not happened anywhere! And it has also gone into the heads of Indian girls, whichever surprises Me, because they understand What is God and they have proper awe for God and they understand what it is to go against God: is seven generations you have to suffer! There was not necessary at all for you to edit My tapes! They are not yours, you have no right! You know there is one organization already we have put up, which is registered and Mathias is the president of that, Margarita and that one is responsible for all My tapes. As it is all these days all My tapes were used..., people used them for [UNCLEAR], did all kinds of things, so now they have put certain royalties on that. But you had no business to do that! Without asking any leader, without anyone, just to edit My tapes, what do you think yourself to be? Who has given you that permission? That bhoot and the Rākshasa, who is trying to destroy our Sahaja Yoga here in Melbourne? I'm working so hard! Yesterday you saw how long I was working on people! And when people come here you spoil them! You were saying: “I want to give money for this, money for that..." On the contrary, you are giving bhoots! Yesterday so many were shaking, I was shocked! Now, again, I have worked so hard. I've come all the way, I've worked so hard, I your country! Aren't you afraid of God? And here you are forming groups and things! How can you do that? And I know who are the cunning people, who are doing all these tricks! There is a very nice person I give you: you should see his Kuṇḍalinī first of all! None of you have that kind of a Kuṇḍalinī! Do you know that? I wouldn't appoint somebody unless and until I know fully about that person! You just see his Kuṇḍalinī: completely open! I get after his life! First of all this is because they are educated, they are better equipped, they have better Kuṇḍalinī. That's why these bhoots are acting. Anybody who acts against the leadership, I'll be very angry! Either you became slaves of bhootish leaders, like James, you never even informed Me anything, what he was doing, what tricks he was playing, nothing of the kind, or else you get after somebody else! If you want, you all can leave Sahaja Yoga! Nicely! But I won't change the leadership, because I know who is this! Don't create problems now! I know who's also capable of doing other tricks with Sahaja Yoga! I know them, all of them. You must know that I know many things about you. I think I know practically everything! Then I sent Laurence to Adelaide. I asked him to go there, to be the leader. Because I knew it was not working out, everybody wants to have a separate house nicely. Specially Indian girls have this weakness, they want to have a separate house. This won't work out! In this country, specially, only collectivity will work, take it from Me! Because there are lots of sins, for which we have to pay in this country, do you know that? Rationalism is the first sin we had and you still have it. If we have to ascend, if we have to go to the Kingdom of God, we have to cleanse yourselves, you have to become pure human beings, that we are acceptable.

I'm trying My lever best! Yesterday I tried on each and every person, you saw that, working so hard, cleansing them. What about you, you people, cleansing yourself? Where is your mind, what is it working out? You know sometimes the whole lot of such Sahaja Yogis have gone to dogs! Have gone to dogs! Whole lot of them! This Elio, the day... really I don't know why I brought him here, out of My compassion. And he's still working on you people! On one side.

Adelaide people have to find an Ashram. Otherwise they are not Sahaja Yogis! You have to listen to Me, I'm for your good, for your benevolence, I want you to have that highest life. Otherwise what are you going to get out of this leadership, out of this nonsense? Don't you understand it's of no value in this world? Still people are lingering after such nonsensical things like money, like power! This is... can't you see that? Just frivolous, it is useless, is of no value to us, is not going to help! You are the ones who are at the foundation of Sahaja Yoga! You are the ones who have to change the world! People have to learn from you! And you are, some of you, you have wonderful people here! How can anybody be impressed by a person like Trish, I can't understand. Nobody asked her a question: “How dare you touch Mother's tapes like that?" What does she think? Is she more intelligent than Me? I was surprised that Sherill, of all the persons, she is such a nice Sahaja Yogini, why should she support? She, I can't understand that she can be possessed! I have to take these names, because I have known these things going on, I've been receiving letters and all that and I was wondering, what to do with this Melbourne? I don't know why it's called `Mel-burn'.

You have your children, you have your families: think of them, think of your progeny, what are you going to give them? I never say that there should never be concessions. Of course, I believe in your freedom, there should be concessions. But this kind of arbitrary work people start doing... And you never even inform Me! Is it fair to Me? Is it just? What kind of a justice is this? They are like spiritualists, the way they are spoiling people. I mean, they all of them were shaking before Me! How could you be impressed be a person who is trying to edit My tapes? Every word I say is a mantra, you know that very well! What authority she has got? You are also from Europe, you are also from England, your forefathers from there. Nobody would do such a thing at all, never! And nobody would start a course like this on her own. This is all intellectualism, without intelligence! If you have superintelligence, than you can see clearly you can't do that way. It has to go beyond mind.

Of course, in Milan we have started, they have started a kind of a course, but is not the course, the type of taping My things and all that, but, which is worked it out, that they are to be told about the Kuṇḍalinī, about the Chakras and this and that and also cleanse it. But not to put bhoots into them! It's done with complete understanding from Me, is not just an arbitrarily! It's done only in there because I am there. Because people have to know about the Chakras, know all these things. But you have no business to edit My tapes, or cut them short! All these people will disappear in no time, they'll become bhootish.

On the contrary, it will bring a bad name to us, because they might contact some trouble, they might get into trouble, some sort of a disease or anything. Because once you go out of Sahaja Yoga, if you behave like this, Ganas don't look after you; you are no more protected.

Then I'm not responsible! I would like to know everything whatever you are doing, through your leaders. Ah, if I find your leader is not all right, I'll change, I've already changed so many leaders. But you must inform Me, you must write to Me! Without asking your leader you can write to Me, if you think that the leader is trying to trouble you, dominate you, or trying to do something wrong, which should not be done for Sahaja Yogis.

Is all right! You can write. But not that, if the leader tells you, “Do something” you just report it to Me.

You must have respect, because I have appointed! I do not appoint leaders on something else, but their Kuṇḍalinī. That's the main thing: where are the vibrations? Of course, sometimes they also get spoiled.

So problems are very funny in the West, that they're being so extrovert, that they seek power, or they seek money. This is the mistake.

But in India, you'll be surprised, that's a poor country, but they understand God and God's work.

Nobody touches a single pie! And then another regression is there, wonderful, that is another wonderful work! That here you do what you want with your money, I never inquire. And I was told that they asked about Yogi Mahajan, that he was doing hanky-panky with the money. Imagine! Who are you to ask? Only because you are white skin you think you can aggress everyone like that? He can purchase ten people! Something so demeaning, I tell you, so demeaning, can't understand! The one who is working hard, he's the one who's put up a school, because everybody forced him to put up a school, there was no this thing. How much money have you spend, do you know that, for India project? 5,000 pounds. They are in the bank, I feel ashamed to give it to anyone. Not you people, the whole of you, the Western people! The school is built for your children, by Indian money, Ashram is build for your money, that is in the bank. Sherey, Ganapatipule, Delhi, all this has been done not by your money! And what you are there to find out what are the accounts are? What do you think yourself to be? While your leaders, when they were making money here, nobody asked them, nobody said, nobody tried to find out, how these people are making money here. Nobody found out, nobody told Me. They knew, they never told Me anything... Because they are white skin, how can you, how can you doubt them? When your school was built, I never asked how it was built, how it was done. But then you sent Ray there to take the photographs and things of this thing, not trusting Me! Indians took..., I mean they were very insulted! They are the ones who put the money there, they bought the land. For your children, their children are not studying there. Try to understand! Take out of your mind, you have done nothing so far, there is either My money or Indian money, that has done everything.

And you are so miserly, you don't want to pay money anywhere, what so ever! Such miserly wretched people, why should they go and inquire about the expenses which are in India? Do you know one thing, that Indian Trust, in every city, are looked after by Baba Mama? Because he's not a trustee and I keep a watch. And he told Me that he has not seen a more honest, clean organization than Sahaja Yoga Trust.

Because Indians know what is this money is, they know this money is so important. They know about God, they are traditionally brought up that way. Ah, they might cheat the Government, they might do anything, but not God, they'll never touch that money! Just imagine: they have built all these things with their own money! You can see the accounts.

What have you built here? Nothing! Nowhere! But at least Europeans are conscious of it. They are grateful to Indians. They don't send their people to find out and talk loosely! Where is that mister Bathalia or who so ever it is? What business he had to talk against Yogi Mahajan? Does he know who's son he is? Even an ordinary person in India will not touch the money of God.

You know, when I started Sahaja Yoga, I must tell you the story: they all wanted to give Me money. I said: “No, I haven't got a trust and I'm very bad at accounts and everything, so I don't take it.

So let Me form a trust." Then I formed a trust. But they said: “Mother, we want to give You!" I said: “All right, you keep it safe!" They sold their ornaments, collected their money and as soon as I said “I'd registered now” immediately everyone paid more than 1,000 rupees; some paid much more. That's how we started Sahaja Yoga! Whatever was possible, everyone of them in those days, 1,000 rupees, whether poor, rich and much more than 1,000, some people gave much more. All the accounts they keep it. There was an income tax inquiry on Sahaja Yoga. And they were amazed: they couldn't find a single pie missing. Here I think there is no control of the Government, nobody comes and sees. In India everything has to be audited. All the money you send in India for an exchange has to be informed to the Reserve Bank. Every pie of it! And all the expanses have to be sent after six months, not a easy thing to teach your wild children there! So many times we think you are sending them away: you have your school and have your own children! The way you have made them wild, never trained them anything, never said anything, they are extremely wild! They are running helter-skelter, we are afraid, we don't know what to do! We put so many guards to look after them! And then on top of that, these French people came and start talking against this School! What efforts have you put in? Let us see! I have done so much for you, as you say! All right! What have you done for Sahaja Yoga? Let's come to the realities! How much money you have given? What have you done for Sahaja Yoga? Except for playing around with each other, using your games. This you did! In India, the English played their games and now they are having it back, from Ireland, nicely! Give up all these things! These are not meant for human beings, these are meant for monkeys! Even why insult the monkeys? Good human beings, righteous human beings don't do like that! You are all angels, I made you into angels, you are like Gaṇeśha! Now what are you doing? You can't give money! I mean, you can't give money, I can't believe it! An ordinary Indian, if I ask, they'll all rush to give Me money! I don't think I could have built anything like that School here, never possible! Impossible! And an Ashram... You go and see in Delhi! You can't! You have money, but you are extremely miserly, very miserly people, you don't spend any money, don't want to spend money. And if somebody has money, you want to lynch it! Or somebody has money, then he starts his own arbitrary nonsense, without doing anything about money part! You know that I have paid lot of money Myself, paid My husband's money, that's very unfair to him! But he wants to do it, he says: “That's what Puṇyas are." We Indians believe that way. And that is a real thing, that's not just a belief! I'm sorry I have to say all these unpleasant thing, but it's worse in Australia.

Some wives start dominating the husband. Now, this is what it is. Such stupid wife starts dominating the husband, she gets into bhootish ideas and she destroys the whole of Sahaja Yoga. It happened in Sydney, as she formed her own military of her own style of women. Is it good? Now, individually, even, if you improve, if collectively if you are not improving, you are not improving at all! Because it's collectivity which is going to make you nice, that is going to mould you, that is going to make you the beautiful people of the progeny, beautiful parents, beautiful children, that's My vision is.

I've been coming every time to Australia, every time. We have so many Sahaja Yogis. You know, first I told them, “they are very poor” they couldn't believe it.

So they wanted to give Me presents, I said: “Don't give Me presents!" “No Mother, also You also give so many presents." “All right, all right!" So they started with fifty pounds for the whole of Australia. And you know? You are on the bottom line, even less than the Turkish, in Turkey we have hardly twenty-one people. Because you are poor: the poverty is inside, not outside! Then the power, so-called, this is the money part of it. Now everybody is trying to become a leader.

You haven't seen how the leaders have come down the ladder and gone to hell? You haven't seen that? Leadership is the worst thing anybody should accept. Is a testing ground. At a lower level is better. If you go into that level, then this power crawls up into your heard. Then you start doing... meddling with money, meddling with women, meddling with all dirty things that you do. I mean, you think you have become very powerful now and do what you like.

So never hanker after leadership, one thing is! `Thank God I am not a leader!' Say like that! Specially in your country you have so many examples of these horrible leaders being completely destroying you people and Sahaja Yoga. If Sahaja Yoga is destroyed you will be destroyed, too, don't you understand that point? You are part and parcel of Sahaja Yoga.

If only human beings are needed, best to go to Russia, what's the use of coming to Australia? Or to Melbourne? Russians are not at all arbitrary, you'll be surprised! Only one fellow, Oleg, who was in Switzerland, in the embassy, he's the one only, because he learned it from there. Because they have lived collectively they know what is collective life is. And they are all the time introspecting.

So humble, you won't believe, even their newspapers are so humble. When I was talking to them, they said: “But, Mother, we have nothing, compared to others, in spirituality." Can you imagine? Those who are so high up say like that, [UNCLEAR] such beautiful things they bow!

Very anxious that I should allow them to have Pūjās in every place, so anxious! You saw them when they came.

You saw these Romanians, see, hundred and twenty five people came to Hungary. And they never use books, never. Can you imagine? Never books! Everything they know by heart.

So I said: “How do you manage?" They said: “Unless and until we know by heart, we don't sing another song." And hundred and twenty five people singing so beautifully! Baba Mama said: “They put us to shame!" I don't know from where they picked up, from where they learned it. Such beautiful people these Hungarians are! And I said: “Where are you going to stay?" “In the garden." I said: “In the garden in the night it's quite cold." “Mother, you are looking after us." They never bothered Me about their food, I don't know where they ate their food, where they lived. And they went away next day. I said: “How did you come?" “For the Pūjā!" Such nice people! Such beautiful set up people! Once you get all these six countries, there are thousands and thousands who are real seekers. They are not seeking money, they are not seeking all this nonsense, they are not seeking power: they are seeking God, they are seeking the Truth, they are seeking their own being! I mean you can see it, see the comparatively, what is the difference between them and the other European people. You'll be surprised, people have gone from, say, Brazil to Portugal... from Portugal to Brazil. They are very much better than these people in Portugal! Then the Spanish, Spanish who have gone, say, to America. These who are Spanish are wonderful people there. Iranians who have gone from Iran, we have got nine hundred Iranians in Los Angeles. Nine hundred Iranians! That means all these ethnic groups are going to topple you down, that's all I can see. Why? Why should they? You are also human beings, you are also seekers, you are also honest seekers, you have been seeking all your lives, in previous lives also. But when you are born in these countries, you are so much conditioned by the nonsense of the country. All these countries have this nonsense! Communism has really helped them, I tell you, it has helped them, believe Me, it has helped them very much. This kind of democracy has become a demono-cracy. Just a demono-cracy! You have to think: “What we are going to be, what do we want to be? Why are we in Sahaja Yoga?" Nobody forced you to come here. You are here for what? For what purpose? “What am I doing?" One small thing is that you must listen to your leader. Or else, you should write to Me. This much you can do. I'm not saying for money, forget it! And also I know there are very good Sahaja Yogis, also, excellent Sahaja Yogis. Also I know that. But they are getting strangled by some few who try to just put their own ideas. Imagine, even the English have changed. But when they come to Australia they start showing their teeth. Surprising! In England they are all right. Is it Australia meant for breeding such things here? How can't be brought to that wisdom, where to understand our own value, our own self-esteem, to understand what are we here for? How to do that? You tell Me! I have given you Realisation, I worked very hard, you saw Me yesterday, everyday. In nowhere I do like this, except in Australia, believe Me! I touch everyone, I raise everybody's Kuṇḍalinī, I work on everyone, whether they are bhoots or Rākshasas. Nowhere! Because I know there is a problem here! But don't you think you should also help yourself? You must meditate and you should support collective.

All of you have to support the collective! Don't start talking ill of others! Christ has said: “Beware of murmuring souls!" He said only: “Beware!" I am saying: “Murmuring souls, beware yourself!" It's other way round! I'm not Christ, that I'll warn you that you be careful of the murmuring souls! But I better warn all the murmuring souls to be very careful! Because Krita Yuga has started, this Param-Chaitanya has become dynamic! Because of that you all got Realisation.

And you listen to the miracles of people, see how they are helped. You have seen My photographs 809, nothing more is to be said about Myself, that you know very well, but only mentally, not in your heart! So now, please, understand: you have to oblige yourself, you have to look after yourself, you have to respect yourself and your being! You are not ordinary people. You are not like all other those Australians, who have nothing to do with God! You have been seeking in your last lives, so many lives you have been seeking, that's why you are here, otherwise you would not have been here! You are seekers, ancient seekers.

But now this modern worth of yours should not blanket you completely from reality! I know of so many good people here, but I don't know what to say! Now all this I have to say before the Pūjā, I never say like that! But I was so disturbed, the way I saw people are behaving. Specially yesterday, when I saw all these people coming before Me and shaking! Wearing My badges and shaking before Me! How I must have felt yesterday? Tell Me! Last night I couldn't sleep till five o'clock in the morning. Really, I tell you. This all upset Me very much. Here I am, working hard, coming all the way to Australia. I have so many other things to be done. Gorbachev wanted to meet Me, I said: “I can't come, I have to go to Australia!" But I don't know how much value you attach to My attention to you! Anybody who starts doing arbitrary work, please inform Me! And nothing should be done secretly, I should know each and everything. And, if you don't tell Me, I'll find out! It's sad that on this day I have to say this, but this Kuṇḍalinī is the powerful thing within you. And you must look after Her! I'm talking to you about Kuṇḍalinī because that's your Mother. And She sees you, all the time. She knows all the problems. And when you start getting out of the central channel, She drops down! Completely! Then you are thrown either to the right or to the left. Then you are vulnerable to anything. If you go to the right, you start showing off your capacity to dominate, to be arbitrary. And if you a shown to the left, you are possessed.

So I always said that in Australia mostly people are either dominating or dominated. Nobody seems to be standing on their two legs! That's not good! Only those who are good Sahaja Yogis know it very well and they stand on their legs and see for themselves what is happening.

All this I'm saying because I know your value. You don't know! I know what you are capable of! I used to dream that Australians, one day, will travel all over the world, spreading Sahaja Yoga. But they are like a yo-yo, go up, come down, go up, come down.

Sometimes they're leaders, sometimes they're Sahaja Yogis.

Next time I'll not come to Melbourne, if I hear anything against the leader, or who doesn't listen to leader. Anybody who tries, secretly or cleverly, to talk against the leader, I know that person. I mark it.

Don't play into the wrong hands! I'm telling you now, otherwise you'll come and tell Me: “Mother, this has happened, that has happened." Nothing will help, but collectivity! Take it from Me! Supposing in My hands, say, if this finger runs this way, this finger runs this way..., one has to be spastic to do that. But someone has to be sick, that your fingers are running helter and skelter, your hands are running helter and skelter, all your body running helter and skelter.

So next time I'm not going to come to Melbourne, if I see all these things happening.

Regarding the other things, is [UNCLEAR] or what ever it is, I will see to it and I'll manage it, the way it has to be properly done. I will not play into somebody's hands, you know that very well. I am very clever! I know everything! Nobody can befool Me! Of course, I allow them for a while, doesn't matter, try! You shouldn't doubt anybody's honesty, righteousness, character, chastity. Don't doubt! Doubt yours, don't doubt others! See for yourself, how far you are.

Your Kuṇḍalinī will show! This Kuṇḍalinī, you see, once rises, as I told you, pierces through your fontanelle bone.

So beautifully it does! You don't know what obstructions there are! I have seen certain Kuṇḍalinīs like dead snakes, you see. Just breathing, cannot rise, comes up to Nābhī again goes back, absolutely disappointed! Some fight with the Chakras! Just see how they have to work it out! They come to the Chakras and want the Deities to be awakened, so they want to put their energy there. But they cannot, because so constricted is that Chakra! Sometimes it is blocked. This Kuṇḍalinī, poor thing, She has been waited for ages with you, to give your Realisation. She is the one who will bring forth your benevolence. She is your own Mother, She loves you and She wants to give you your Second Birth. But are we helping Her? Are we working it out for Her? Or we are mentally working our own styles and things? In Sahaj, you have to lead a very Sahaja life. Of course, this has been there, because you're born in a very funny atmosphere, we can say. But now try to see for yourself: why you are making it difficult for your Kuṇḍalinī to come up? Why is She obstructed? Where is She obstructed? Why can't She come up? What is going wrong here it's the development of your being, it's the most important part.

I have to give one or two examples, how it works.

As I said, you have all the powers, of course you have! But you have to manifest! Two cases I've seen recently! One was that of Rajesh Shah. Now, you know Rajesh Shah, is like a business tycoon and very well known, is president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and all that and very well posed. From his childhoods he has been a very intelligent boy, he stood first in the whole of Cambridge. Whole of Cambridge! And he is a MSE in mathematics. All that is there, but he's extremely humble and he has a background, that he is being a Devī worshiper. Whatever time he gets, he meditates and he comes to the collective, works it out that way. One day his uncle was very sick. He was not a Sahaja Yogi. But his aunt requested Rajesh that he should come and pray for the husband, because now he is departing. They have removed everything, they said he is going to die within half an hour's time. He arrived there, he didn't know what to do. He looked at My photograph, he didn't have, so he took out his pendant. Just a pendant! And he touched it with his forehead and he said: “I put my hands like this, Mother” [shows Her folded hands] “closed my eyes. I said `Mother, please, save my uncle!' That's all! Once I said." And the uncle had closed his eyes, had gone into coma. And just after that he started opening his eyes. And within three days he was completely cured. Then he went to America. Now about one year has passed, he is perfectly all right.

This is... this shows the inner development, the powers you have! These are the real powers, not the power of a leader, or the power to pull down the leader! That's all you are playing tricks with yourself and cheating yourself! Another case of one mister Shukla, from Bombay [Mumbai], who is in charge of the whole catering of the Taj Mahal group of people. His wife and he, both are great devotes. But I didn't know they were that great! So his mother was dieing with cancer, in [UNCLEAR] [village] which is about, say, at least, from Bombay [Mumbai] at least maybe 2,000 miles away. And they received a phone call, that she's going to die within 2-3 days and she is in a very bad shape, because she has cancer. He went there and he saw her suffering very much. She never knew also about Me.

So, again, he got so much into agony. He said: “Now, what to do?" He came home, he saw My photograph. He said: “I feel so assured, Mother, I just need to put down myself on my knees. Then I prayed `Oh, Mother, please, save my mother!' That's all!" And within three days this lady got out of her hospital, the one who was dieing. And then she came to Bombay [Mumbai], he took her to the hospital, that [UNCLEAR] hospital. They said: “She has no cancer." He has all the papers with him.

In Czechoslovakia there was a lady who was brought on the stage, absolutely in the most [UNCLEAR] condition. She was brought on a chair. And somehow or another, see, she tried to sit up. And she said one thing to Me: “Mother, I know You will cure me! Of that I'm sure you will cure me." I said: “Is it so?" She said: “Yes! I know!" I said: `All right! Get up!" She just got up! All just started looking at her: she's got up! Then she said: “Can I walk down?" I said: “Please go!" She walked down the steps. Very old woman! And then she started running. And everybody saw that and they were laughing and didn't know what to say! She was not a Sahaja Yogini, nothing! But she felt something about Me.

They are very sensitive, extremely sensitive to spirituality, that's one thing this communism has given them: extreme sensitivity to communism and extreme sensitivity to Me. I mean, they have never heard about Me, nothing, just seeing My photograph sixteen thousand people came, what do you say to that? Seeing My photograph, in Moscow, sixteen thousand people! I said: “Oh, My." And I didn't know. People asked: “How is it you all came?" They said: “Because you can see, on Her face, written large, that She is the Divine Person Who has come to save us! You can see it, can't you see?" Even the Gypsies living there said the same thing. They didn't see any miraculous photographs, nothing. Completely surrendered, completely surrendered their ego, completely surrendered their ego! I never talk to them, nothing, just see! First time when I went to Leningrad, was about, say, at least five thousand people in that hall and five thousand sitting outside. And when I was going inside they said: “Mā...!" I said: “ `Ma,' who said?" They learned from people that it's called `Ma' in India. “Ma! What about us?" I said: “All right, I'll see!" Went inside, gave everybody Realisation. When I came out, to My surprise, all of them were sitting there. I said: “All right come tomorrow! We'll have the program here!" Next day the ones who were sitting inside and outside, all of them, came ten thousand and sat outside in the garden.

They all got Realisation! Leningrad! If you go and see there, you will know what is Sahaja Yoga, what it is meant for human beings. Cannot bother about what is happening in Russia, the..., anything. They said: “We get food alright, Mother, You are looking after us, we don't have to worry at all, nothing, just let this politics go..." As such there is no leader there! As such there is no leader, poor Bohdan you know how bad he is at accounts, like Me, he's hopeless. And he says: “Mother, I do the same thing as You have, your compartments, you make your little, little envelopes. Still I'm no good." But he's managing! One person. And for your information, he's an Australian, you should be proud of him.

So one Australian has gone that far. He should be your ideal! That is what you have to achieve, not some leadership nonsense! And he's such a pure soul, you won't believe, such a pure soul! He understands Gaṇeśh Tattwa so well! I was told he is in Sydney, I don't know if he's here. That's what it is: one person.

He gave up his job, went there, looked after them. He's an Australian, but basically he's Russian. Even when you think of him, the joy start bubbling out. In one person! What about you people, all becoming like that? One day let Me see you all becoming beautiful people like that, enjoying your collectivity.

You cannot enjoy Sahaja Yoga without collectivity! You cannot enjoy! Whether there are two persons, or many persons. Only you have to understand the collectivity. This is a compulsion on Sahaja Yogis! And I said you don't have to go to Himālayas, don't have to do anything. Because the Kuṇḍalinī now has awakened you. It is awakened and it has become one with the Whole. And this Whole has to be pleased with us! And this Whole is being reflected within our heart like the Spirit. This Whole is the Kuṇḍalinī, this Whole is the Spirit. How can we get out of it! So now forget about whatever I have said it! Except remember one thing, we all have to be collective, that's the only way you can rise. Collective is The one system of the Divine, which is blessing to us, because Kuṇḍalinī can only rise if you are collective, otherwise It will not! If your attention is on yourself, it won't! Which I will be telling you now later on, in Sydney, why is it the BodhiSattva principle has to work out. Just for the time being, I think, we should now understand now that we are praying to our Mother Kuṇḍalinī. She is the One Who has given us everything! She is the One Who has given us our Spirit, She is the One Who has given us all the health, wealth and prosperity, She is the One Who has given us the spiritual life and the joy of it! We have to be very thankful to Her! Though we have troubled Her, tortured Her, not listened to Her, still She is so anxious, without any reward to it, She's so very anxious to work it out.

That's why I thought of the Kuṇḍalinī Pūjā today, so that you all understand how much She has done for you. And what you have to do is just to allow Her to rise! Don't put Her... put on Her your small, petty, nonsensical ideas! Let is grow! You have to allow it to grow! All right, so we'll have a Pūjā now.

Kuṇḍalinī Pūjā is very small, short Pūjā.

First the...

Contents: 1992-02-18 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, on Arrival from Sydney, Brisbane, Queensland, Australia

Our education system in the West, I don't know about others but, here, in Australia, I was surprised the way teachers are controlled. Not the children and after some time, I think all children will become like brats and take to...

Sahaja Yogi: Very short time.

Shri Mataji:... very short time and they take to drugs I mean. You are not supposed to tell anything to your children, you are not supposed to, control them. Can't understand. There's a new theory that has come, stupid, that: `Let them express themselves.' What will they express? They are not matured.

They don't see the nature. You see when a fruit comes out, it has to be allowed to grow. That's why you become so haphazard and, you become scatterbrains actually I don't know. Attention is so much, all around. What have they achieved I don't know. In the recent years have you heard of anyone, who has, done some miracles [UNCLEAR with children] in the science or anywhere? Nothing.

Children are so wise. I must tell you [UNCLEAR] not only your child, everybody's. The parents are natural [UNCLEAR] but you should see the teachers, they are all becoming mad. Now they are building the top story [UNCLEAR] to conduct classes. It will take about three-four months, but because of the children it is taking so much time. They all rush up, upstairs, take the hammer, do this, hit that, run away from the classrooms, onto the street, onto the shops.

So now they are going to put a wall around it. Poor Hamid, he went to see [UNCLEAR]. Came back: “Mother the children are really wild." I know that. I am going to devise a beautiful scheme, for children who are below twelve years. Let's see then what we can... I have to sit down and write it.

We have the headmaster who's a very fine gentleman, but he's collapsed. Gregoire went there and talked to him.

So he tells him: “All right, you can talk to the children but don't be hard on them. I'll manage." He said: “What are you going to manage? Let me tell them all about it, they shouldn't run about, they shouldn't jump from everywhere. They'll break their legs, or their, head will be hurt." “No, no, no, no." He's such an Indian you see. They cannot win over. But he's of the opinion that... I think I'll call Ray next, as soon as they come back. Now we are sending them back to, Dharamshala, till the school is made, I mean, livable. It's all right, I mean it's quite livable the sense, but the way they are jumping and there's a forest behind.

I told him before the rainy season you take them, for about... this year, it will be completed then bring down. It's a very big saving [UNCLEAR] I mean what you were about twenty years back, nowadays that atmosphere doesn't exist. Even at ten years back doesn't exist. Every year it's getting bad to worse.

This silly idea that: `Let children express themselves. Don't say no to them.' But one must know how to divert and put them in to proper... They are all realised Souls and [UNCLEAR] they'll come down. Of course all of them love Me very much, that's true. If they are told: `We are going to tell this to Mother.' `No no not...' They don't want anything to be told to Me about them. Mischievous they could be but, sometimes they are so self-destructive and, it's very dangerous. And all kinds of ideas, of self-destruction, crop up in their heads. What to do next now? Now we have broken our legs now how to break your head, let's have. Indians I know they enjoy it. They say: “Look at these children, how... you see." With them it's a big play. They don't understand that they don't mean what they are saying. They're much more serious.

Also I think as they grow, because they are Sahaja Yogis they'll become sensible. I know one William, in England. His father, did lot of research on William Blake, so I called him William. But this William was really too much of it. People didn't know how to deal with him you see. Then suddenly one day I find it, that he became the king, Śhrī Rāma and David's daughter, she became Sītājī. And after that you see William [UNCLEAR] always would stand like this. I said: “What has happened to Mr. William suddenly?" Since the day he acted as Śhrī Rāma, his whole behaviour changed, his style changed, I mean I 813... David's daughter is always a, very dignified girl. Very surprising, Mr. William.

Sahaja Yogi: We finished it this morning.

Sahaja Yogi: The chair, Shri Mataji, very nice isn't it?

Shri Mataji: As soon as I came I really, was very happy and this is the right height for Me, because when I sit I can get up very easily with this thing. But I don't know how you people, tall people manage on a low thing, how do you get up.

Sahaja Yogis: Not very well. With great difficulty Mother.

Shri Mataji: Very difficult isn't it? It's all right for Japanese you see, or Chinese.

Sahaja Yogi: They're not so tall are they? They don't have so far to get up.

Shri Mataji: But for Indians, C.P. you see he finds it impossible, seats like this and he gets up with such difficulties. At least I am not that tall, but still it's difficult if it's very low. There was a fashion in between, to have very low furniture, Chinese style. Chinese not like that. I think it's more the Japanese.

Japanese are coming down here also? Sahaja Yogis: Yes, quite a few. More and more. They come in to the Gold Coast, on holidays, then they proliferate from there.

Shri Mataji: And what are they doing? What are their businesses?

Sahaja Yogi: They're tourists to start with, but there's lots of them buying up businesses and buying up houses and things around the Gold Coast.

Shri Mataji: And what [UNCLEAR] do they do?

Sahaja Yogi: Hotels, golf courses, tourist facilities.

So the Japanese tourists come here and stay in Japanese hotels and buy things in Japanese shops.

Shri Mataji: Japanese things in Japanese shops.

Sahaja Yogi: And then the profit goes back to Japan. It's becoming a big issue.

Shri Mataji: I mean I have a great experience with them.

Somehow I went down in '65, our ship I went by ship. Because on the ship we had a, owners' cabins you see so we had a drawing room, dining room, kitchen, bedrooms, so with My daughters I went. It was very comfortable to travel by ship.

So we started from Kobe, went round the whole of it and came and we gave it a, complete pradakshinā. And since then it has started booming, that, Japan.

Sahaja Yogi: We must get You to have a tour around Australia somehow.

Shri Mataji: [UNCLEAR] one day. We can go to Fiji and... What has happened to your passenger ships you used to have?

Sahaja Yogi: They've all stopped.

Shri Mataji: Why? Sahaja Yogis: They couldn't compete with the aircraft and the buses.

Sahaja Yogini: There are some very expensive luxury ships from America.

Shri Mataji: There are some? Where do they go?

Sahaja Yogini: They ply the Pacific Ocean, but they are very expensive for a berth.

Sahaja Yogi: Must be they do cruises Mother, around the islands.

Shri Mataji: That would not be so much economical. But compared to the airplane I mean, nothing like a holiday on a ship you see. No problems, because no solutions, so no problems. Whatever you want if it is there is there, otherwise there's the sea, only. You can only jump in the sea that's all. There is no question of solving the problem that's what it is now, it is not available so finished.

So no question of anybody sitting with a problem, no solutions you know. I did a lot of travelling by ship. I went to America all the way, via Taiwan and to England. We didn't come to Australia by ship but Singapore, Malaysia.

England was the first trip we had. When I went to England, it was May and terribly, cold, sort of a storm everywhere. And it used to enter into your bones, It's so cold you know. And by the time you get out of the house and get into the car, it was so very cold I mean, I felt that there must be some curse of a Goddess on this country the way it is. Absolutely cold and such wind and rain, sleet all the time. May month is the worst in England I tell you, the worst. We didn't know that. They said, because there is a poem now: `It's nice to be home and it is May' so we thought: `Let's go there for May' and enjoy the home. It rains and rains and rains. And that was the time they, I saw these hippies for the first time, sitting round that Piccadilly Circus.

So we were wondering you see, for us Indians it was something you see, we didn't know what it is.

So we thought they must be beggars you see sitting here or something.

So My daughter said: “Why not give them some alms?" I said: “No that God knows what sort of people they are." I mean it was this, I mean for us it was quite a shock to see because, we had learnt about English in a very different way and the whole place was filled with smog. Just after our going they started cleaning it, otherwise the whole place was black and dark. My daughter said: “Better go back from here, it's not the place we should be." I said: “Now, we'll have to go by plane because our ship will be going later on." “Let's go by plane or anything but we don't want to see this place anymore, it's all black." They studied in an English school everything they knew and they were so disappointed. But somehow after that, the whole thing was cleansed isn't it. Now it's better. But still I must say London has gone down very much. If you see, Australia, you'll say that this they are very much cleaner... Much cleaner cities.

Sahaja Yogi: The air's much cleaner to breathe Mother.

Shri Mataji: Much cleaner.

Sahaja Yogi: Sydney is a bit like London but otherwise it's much...

Shri Mataji: A bit I would say a bit. London now you know they are saying you can't stay in the city. We were there for few days, they had taken a house on rent. Whenever we got the chance we used to run away to Shudy Camps because of C.P.'s Office, last days of his Office see, better finish them.

So tiring. Though there are no industries, somehow or other, I think it is so congested now. The pollution is so much. They don't have chimneys now running nothing but still, very polluted. Just like your, Bombay [Mumbai]. Bombay [Mumbai] also has become very dirty now.

Somehow export should be done from here but I think some people should sit down and find out how to export. India is doing such a lot of export that's why it is grown so much. You have so many things.

I think My Attention might help with the... You can get the labor from outside and start doing things.

Labor is very bad here, very bad labor. Then this recession is artificial I tell you really. Because you have everything you cannot export.

So this shows that it's all artificial. You can sell all these things. The other day I ate some very nice rasgullas and gulab jamuns you see. I said these you don't get anywhere in the world such nice ones. You can easily export them.

I'm thinking of this Vaitarna we have to develop it. And, it's a place where it rains a lot, while we could have, some sort of a, rustic style of school there. It's not difficult. This one [UNCLEAR] years I've made it very [UNCLEAR] sort of [UNCLEAR] because they are small children but for the bigger children we can have, some school which is rather rustic type and, because there are forty-two acres of land we have. It's quite a big land and now we have permission. After six years we got permission.

Sahaja Yogi: Six years. What was the problem?

Shri Mataji: Bribery I think. I think these people bribe because, suddenly they have said: “Yes." Must have been without telling Me.

Sometimes they think I am not practical. But I said: “At least a school should not be started on bribes” but what to do? Also away from the madding crowd. It's a beautiful place you have seen Vaitarna it's beautiful. And also, you can keep them busy with something more interesting, than television and all that. Indian television is not like that, it's everything, even for adults it is censored. I think in the night about twelve o'clock they start some English films, in the night.

Indian films on the whole are, all right but sometimes, too much of violence that's all. And in Calcutta now we have got a land, eighty acres... a lot of land.

Sahaja Yogi: That's a lot of land.

Shri Mataji: Lot of land. And the first school we are starting for the primary education, for the, I don't know what's the area of the building there, but it's quite a nice building, so then I was talking to the architect and I told him that was My idea, about the primary school. He was very much interested.

And he agreed. [Hindi.] So Calcutta also would be another school where we can take some children. Another primary school. But not so many because the government is sponsoring it.

So I don't know how many foreigners they would allow. Then they like to have more Bengalis than Indians. It could not work out in Shudy Camps.

To begin with Shudy Camps was built with that idea. Because there's so many rules and regulations, English rules and regulations are formidable I tell you.

So much so, that we gave up, absolutely I mean, we'll have to renovate the whole places like this, we gave it up. And then it's lying like that although I mean people go and stay there but it's, not paying at all it's just the same. But here I don't know what sort of education because even six-seven year old children, don't know how to write and how to read. I don't know what they do.

Sahaja Yogini: They come out of university that way Mother, not knowing how to read and write.

Shri Mataji: Really.

Sahaja Yogini: They don't know how to spell, write a letter, quite a number.

Sahaja Yogi: Teaching of grammar is very bad Mother almost non-existent.

Shri Mataji: What?

Sahaja Yogi: Teaching of grammar. They don't teach it.

So journalists, writers they don't know how to use grammar properly.

Shri Mataji: How can you learn language without grammar?

Sahaja Yogi: That's what I say.

Sahaja Yogini: And the building contractors are finding that the young men can't add up, an equation.

Shri Mataji: That is everywhere now. Fractions they cannot add up, ordinary.

Sahaja Yogini: No six halves they wouldn't know was three, you know that sort of thing, computers.

Shri Mataji: Because of this calculator that's true. They don't know tables that's the problem. But in India that's not so they have to learn tables and, they are still very primitive. Calculator is not given in the schools, colleges anywhere and they are so good at mathematics. Indians are known for their mathematics. And they don't use calculators now I mean, normally we don't use calculators just like this we know. But the idea of having a career and a respectable life, is not there existing. I mean they have no self-esteem, that's the point is. And you should do something in life, you should know something, that's not there. And this is getting from bad to worse now, bad to worse. Maybe this dole, dole business might be responsible. They prefer to be, road cleaners, garbage cleaners, than to go to universities. In England all universities are free, for English.

Sahaja Yogi: Free, you don't have to pay. Free.

Shri Mataji: Cambridge, anywhere. And the Indians or anybody outside there has to pay, exorbitantly.

When we were in England we thought, we'll get our children for a year in a school there.

So every child would be costing four to five lakhs of rupees. I don't know how much it is. Now they're more.

About fifty thousand pounds, each, for a foreigner. We gave up the idea.

Sahaja Yogi: This year Mother in Australia there were, about thirty thousand school leavers could not get places in universities. There weren't enough places for the students that wanted them.

Shri Mataji: But they should go, to professional things and to things like see, plumbing, building, mechanicals, like that, there should be some, schools of that kind.

Sahaja Yogi: There are those schools Mother but those are also crowded out, there's not enough places.

That number of students simply couldn't find any tertiary education, or post school education at all. The technical colleges are also full. The government wants to do it on the cheap Mother. They don't want to invest.

Shri Mataji: Despite that the labor is so expensive here.

Sahaja Yogi: That's the big killer all the time.

Shri Mataji: You come back to the same point.

Sahaja Yogi: I had a friend Śhrī Mother who had a Lodge in Thredbo, you remember where we went for Sahasrāra Day in 1987. He owned one of those Lodges there in that village and about two years prior to that I had seen him for the first time for about five years and in that five years he had stopped his dining room. They didn't have meals anymore because he said it wasn't worth it, because on the weekends, they wanted triple time.

Shri Mataji: Triple.

Sahaja Yogi: Triple time. Three times the normal hourly wage. For working on the weekend.

So he said forget it.

So they didn't have a job. And this is what's happening everywhere, they want more and more and more and they want to do less and less and less so people just stop.

Shri Mataji: That's the problem. That's what I feel that if, machineries are brought down a little bit and more handwork started, then everybody will get that point, because that's what they have done in Italy. All kinds of ceramics, all kinds of woodwork all kinds of this lace work, linen this, that. They have been producing not through machinery and I think in the whole of Europe that's the only country that is doing that. And here India and China.

So these three countries will only prosper. Machinery will naturally, will be [UNCLEAR]. Also you see everybody [UNCLEAR won't] get a job if there's a machinery. Supposing a hundred persons are working, as soon as machinery comes five can manage that, so there should be some balance between machinery and handwork. And handwork then becomes much more sort of, prestigious. The Italians have made money out of their handwork. All kinds of things they make, all kinds of things.

They have so-called factories, where women are sitting, men are sitting, moving, doing this doing that.

But they are so perfect, so perfect. They have made some say, statues of children.

So sweet, some of the statues are so sweet and [Hindi]. I wish I had shown you the photograph. This time they gave Me a present from Australia, so Fogarty must have taken a photograph of that. Did he show you?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes Mother.

Shri Mataji: Some dogs. Very beautiful dogs, sitting very sweetly there.

So into such details you know, now there's one piece I have got, where four boys are playing the, cards you see and one is cheating also, I mean they're all cheating each other. It's very interesting and the one who is cheating is holding a card in his foot, like this and the muscle study, is so great and little children how they behave, how they are naughty everything. I mean they must be really, have made a great study of all that.

And export, exporting everything to Riyadh, to all these Arabic countries everything. They are just exporting. They have got lamps made so beautifully. For this Diwali Pūjā we have got. From Switzerland we got, a lamp made just like a Swiss village and the water is flowing, continuously and there's a lamp with that. All these lamps have a water flow like that, continuously, so well arranged. They are the only country in the whole of Europe who are so concerned about this, only country. Where they, for them children are the highest. There's no child abuse nothing of the kind anybody who does that, he'll be [UNCLEAR]. They are very very respectful to children. [UNCLEAR]. There see now, see this. This is made.

Sahaja Yogi: It's a nice piece of work Mother.

Shri Mataji: See the dress, the way they are sitting you know, four of them.

Sahaja Yogi: It's beautifully made.

Shri Mataji: Very common, there are such nice, nice things about children. Beautiful about mothers, any theme they take, so many varieties. See the naughty boys. You see there's nothing, so many of them like that they make. And these are all exported. We got them very cheap because war had started so all their export has stopped [UNCLEAR].

So we got them for a song, that's different, but, they also make tables out of the same ceramics, tables, side tables and all kinds of things. They combine brass with this and, wood with this. Very artistic. Lacquer work, so much of lacquer work. This embroidery everything. Now you see this linen comes from there, beautiful with styles, scarves, everything from there.

[UNCLEAR]. Is from Italy only. They produce lot of silk, lot of silk. I mean you can produce also. This is a very good place for production of silk, see. This is from there only you see. I mean this must be selling here very expensive but not there.

Sahaja Yogi: Beautiful. It's very high quality Mother. It's not a print, it's a weave isn't it?

Shri Mataji: No no it's a print. But you can also weave, they have very good styles with weave and all that.

Sahaja Yogi: There's some handicrafts done locally Mother. Just north of Brisbane there are three small towns Melany, Montville and Mapleton, where there's a lot of people producing all kinds of things from pottery, painting, jewelry and it's growing.

Shri Mataji: It is more on the rustic style. You see there I've seen Australia because I've visited two to three your exhibitions. I found they produce something on rustic style, which is not appreciated all over the world, only here maybe some people might buy. It's all rustic style and rustic style is labor-saving.

This needs, to work. Like Indian weaving if you see. Lot of work. We bought a purse the other day, isn't it from made in India.

Sahaja Yogi: Beautiful. Very unusual.

Shri Mataji: To buy, in Melbourne, a purse made in India. And very cheap.

So all those countries which are I mean using handwork will go up. You see this will create recession no doubt because machine like a mad thing, mad person producing such large quantities that you can't sell it. I think Sahaja Yogis should take to more handmade things [UNCLEAR]. That would be better.

Everything another is Czechoslovakia. You see all these countries have something, even Russia, Hungary.

Hungary has lots of handmade things, even now because of communism you see, they kept to, all this. Very well developed, all these [UNCLEAR] you should see Turkey. Turkey is another, beautiful things they make. This [UNCLEAR harrikilim] is the most expensive carpet [UNCLEAR harrikilim] is made in Turkey. Now Iran is gone down because of all this. But any country that produces handmade things will come up. Now Italy has shown the way. Italy they don't make, crystal and don't make carpets.

All the rest, whatever you see, sunglasses and, A to Z. Ghandiji was very much particular about handmade things, very much. Used to say that we should start and that's why in India it is still there, I mean still this art is maintained.

[Hindi.]

Contents: 1992-02-19 Talk to Sahaja Yogis after 1st, Public Program, Brisbane, Queensland, Australia

Only thing I have to tell that these people who will be coming to you now, they are very beautiful nice people. I think we have to, handle them very gently. That's very important and not to tell them: `You have got a bhoot in you and this and that.' Then they get frightened, they can't [UNCLEAR]. There should be very gentle handling of the whole situation. It's all right once they are realised Souls, then they understand the dangers there. But before that one should not. Slowly slowly you should just develop them and if somebody is difficult don't argue. Is best is not quarrel. It will all become mental I think, mental process.

So these things should not happen here again.

Some sort of a group, starting up suddenly against the leader and, behaving in a funny manner and, this should not be done. It's a very wrong thing to do. If you have anything against the leader you can write to Me directly. There's no harm in writing to Me. Directly you must write to Me. Instead of, forming a group against the leader, forming some sort of a, thing which is not required. There's no necessity. If there's some truth in it I can correct the leader, I can tell him.

But we have to understand that we cannot do this thing, because if you get out of, the Kingdom of God, you fall into something else you see and they are all around you. They'll just catch you. And that's why then people get possessed.

As they did in Melbourne was very wrong I mean whatever it was. This was very wrong. I also told Stephan he should have telephoned to Me. You should have written to Me about it it's very wrong, to do like that, because that only makes a, horrible nucleus for all the bhoots to come in you know. And don't worry that: `How can we tell this to Mother?' No no, please write to Me. Then the whole mental process starts you see. Mentally they start understanding everything. `Oh this must be...' and then they interpret. How can you interpret Me? It's all written down there, clear-cut. Then they start interpreting, then again the mental process starts. If I say something so clearly, still they start interpreting and if there is something like that, you don't understand, you must write to Me and find out.

But the best thing are the vibrations. You must see your vibrations, not the vibrations of others but your own vibrations. That is the best way. `How are my vibrations?' Immediately you will know, whether you are committing a mistake or not. And we don't know whom to send to Melbourne, to work it out.

Melbourne is over. A trauma. Melbourne to Adelaide now. Whom do we send to Adelaide? Big problem.

There everybody thinks no end of themselves I think Adelaide is quite funny. This Max fellow, he thinks no... I knew him he was quite a, egoistical fellow and he thinks he's a man of great status I don't know what, that's what My impression was. I sent this Lawrence but he was hounded out for nothing at all.

Also one thing one must remember that, somebody's older than you, say Mr. Stephan is there, I can call him Stephan because he's much younger to Me. But supposing he's older than you, you should not call him

Stephan. Say Mr. Stephan or Uncle Stephan, that's our culture. We have to respect elders. Anybody, John Henshaw they call him John. I was surprised Indian girls calling him John, can you imagine they, equal to their father's age, but their husbands told them to call him John. Impossible. I mean I couldn't understand, these Indian girls what is happening to them. They should have put down foot there saying that: `We can't call him John, he's like our father.' You have to call them with respect, Mr, or you can call them Uncle, whichever way, even the ladies, who are [UNCLEAR]. Just can't just call them by first name is very wrong, absolutely is a wrong thing that has started in the west. It was never so. Even the children in old days I know, used to call their parents Sir and mother Madam, I mean in good families. They used to call them Sir in England. But this new standard has started, I don't know, in My husband's office you see, he used to call even the driver as Mr. and, he wouldn't like, him to be called by his first name or Me to be called by first name. No. He would immediately correct: `Now please, behave yourself.' Because certain respect has to be maintained is the most important. Of course in this Shiva Pūjā I'm going to stress all these points. I'm going to tell you why respect has to be there. Our culture is different, from this mad culture where you do not respect anything. Then evil grows up. [Hindi.] Indians must teach you people how to respect. In India, I mean parents are very much respected. If the parents are talking, the children will keep quiet they won't say anything. Everything works because of respect. If there is no respect, then the whole society will be destroyed. And if you don't respect, your children won't respect. They don't respect teachers and I was discussing about the, policy for the teachers and I was so amazed, that they are told that you should not tell children: `Don't do like this.' It is negative. I mean children are to be controlled, otherwise why do you need teachers? Let them learn on their own. They need their parents also, very much, to tell them, otherwise they should come, born out of some trees. Why are they born to parents? You have to tell your children: `Don't do this, don't do that,' sometimes doesn't matter as I said it, that sometimes children can be very naughty, like we had two children in Shudy Camps. They were not naughty but very cruel I don't know what ideas they had very Satanic.

So they used to, beat Sahaja Yogis when they were sleeping. Then one day they brought two needles to put in the eyes of one of the Sahaja Yogis and somebody saw them. Then they brought the knitting needle to put in the ears, you see. Luckily somebody saw it. Then for these boys should we tell them: `Oh no go ahead do whatever you want.' So I told the mother that you give them two slaps, for these things, then they will understand. If you allow them to go on like this what will happen? They are very cruel. They used to find out all such methods of destroying others. Ah one day they brought a knife, out.

Some sort of a devilishness.

Also maybe these films and all that they might have seen I don't know whatever it is, but now you have to curb it we have to make another society. Gregoire told Me about America, when his children went there, they started playing with other children and there was some quarrel and they brought out knives, so these children came running to the father and Gregoire went to the neighbours and said that: “Look at your children, have brought out knives for our children, what to do?" So they said: “See, we also when we came here, we were like you and we used to be frightened, but you can't help it, if you allow your children to play outside, this will happen, so you allow them to what they like." No use telling them. It is America. And the twelve-year-old children in Miami, are killing people.

So are we going to make our children like that or we are going to stop this nonsense. They will all become brats minimum, drug addicts or criminals, what else? I mean, if the parents don't say anything to them what will happen after all who is going to guide them? It's a new theory that has started. Ten years back it was better. Now it's even worse.

Once I was travelling by train, from Oxted and group of boys, must be about forty boys, of a good school because they had those emblems and all that and they walked into My compartment. They were in the, I was in the first class, they must be in the economy class they have walked through, came down and started pulling, in the first class they have some sort of a cover also, started pulling down those covers and they had knives and they were opening them out all these seats, very happy about it. I said: “Don't do." They said: “We'll not do anything to You but You don't say anything otherwise we'll do something to You. Just keep quiet." Little boys of eight years. Horrible. Then the train stopped and I went into their compartment, then two big boys came, they started hitting them and they got them down and then they called the stationmaster showed him. Nothing. If the dog does something they will get hold of the master, but these children? So all this we have to change, we have to have proper understanding of life, how to bring up our children, how to help them, to behave in a manner that they will be constructive and not destructive to themselves and to others. All right so [Hindi]. Yesterday's, now see I saw the film of `The Ghost'. Why not we make a film of God? I mean the Americans can make such fantastic nonsense, why not we make of God?

Sahaja Yogi: I think they're afraid Śhrī Mother, that most people wouldn't want to see it.

Shri Mataji: That's what they think. I don't think so. You see this afraid business also comes out of, the Western mind. They're afraid of everything, while the whole world is afraid of them. What is there to be afraid after all you see if you make a film out of God, what's makes them think that they won't see? `The Ghost' they will see more than that. It's just a, fear which is of the unknown I would say. Let them make... there was one: `Oh God'. There was one film. Was very popular. But not so well done, I mean it was just... I mean didn't do any justice to God you see. But we have, facts with us you see. We have facts. Why not we do it? I mean let's see now, I may think of a thing, because they wanted to make a documentary and this Granby is such an insipid fellow. They made such an insipid film I said: “I wouldn't see it what about others?" So insipid. You have to make it interesting. God is the most interesting thing I tell you. But you must point out what is the interesting thing about God. Then it will work. I'm sure it would.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes it could be done couldn't it. I mean there are so many films...

Shri Mataji: I mean we have so many proofs of it.

Sahaja Yogi: Even a simple thing like speeding up a film so that you can see a flower becoming a fruit.

Shri Mataji: Yes yes but also you can show miraculous Photographs. Recently a Photograph of Mine, which was taken during Gaṇeśha Pūjā, in a village it happened, they had ordinary camera, Śhrī Gaṇeśha came up to this bush, four Śhrī Gaṇeśha, one in front two sides, one... [Hindi exchange]. Who has got? You have seen it? All of you? Yogis: No. I've made some... this is the one with the reaction in, I've got some copies to send round.

I made some copies.

Shri Mataji: One is with Gaṇeśha standing behind Me, with the shining eyes. Hanumāna is also...

all kinds. On all the, on your heads there's My Name written down, with light. Also I was saying you must know your powers. That's one thing you do not know how powerful you are, because if you go on saying: `Yes or no,' it will work out that way. You are very powerful people. But you do not assert.

This Rajesh Shah's case was, that his uncle was dying, so, his relations said that: “Call Rajesh, he's the one who can pray." So they called him, and, he was dying, they had removed oxygen and everything, so they said: “Rajesh now you pray to Mother." They are not Sahaja Yogis, all of them are not, except for Rajesh. He sat down there, with full confidence. He put his hands like this and he didn't say: `I am praying but...' nothing. He said: “All right I'll..." And he said: “I just said Mother please save my uncle, that's all." That fellow was dying, opened his eyes and after three days he was out of that, hospital. Then he went to America. He came back from America six-seven months he's now still all right. Another is Shukula, so many of them.

Shukula was in Bombay [Mumbai]. He received a telegram saying there your mother is dying. And that was in Rotik about two thousand miles away.

So he flew down there, went by train and all that he reached the place. And then he went to the hospital. The hospital said she has a galloping cancer and she will die in, three days.

So he didn't know what to do, he came home, he put a light before My Photograph and he just sat down there he said: “Mother I can't see my mother die like this” you see. “I didn't even talk to her so please save her." Instead of dying that lady got out of the hospital and he brought her to Bombay [Mumbai]. He has papers. And then he took her to the Tata Hospital, Memorial Hospital and there they discovered she had no cancer.

But you must have faith in yourself that, you have connections, very high connections. When you have no faith in yourself what can anybody do? And also it's a Western mind I tell you I was saying that, very commonly, it is so now if I say: `All right you telephone to someone,' immediately you'll say: `He may be, may not be.' This is negative. Just go and see for yourself. If you say something negative it will work out, if you say something positive it will work out. But you have powers, so why to say something negative, it's a, old habit. May be may not be. You ask any Frenchman: `How are you?' Sahaja Yogi, they'll say... `all the time like this', I said: `When are you going to be like this...?' So that's what it is and for you because you are [UNCLEAR properly] Sahaja Yogis, you have been seekers and you have achieved that, so why not use your powers? There's not only your own enjoyment, enjoyment of music, or enjoyment of programs, but you can do so many things. When God is with you and He's God Almighty then what else you want? It's like I put you on the throne and you go on running away from Me, I have to glue you down I don't know what to do. You have to realise your powers. Use them, express them. When you start expressing them, these powers, then people will see. On the contrary you have other things you do you, create problem between each other you, hate each other, or you, disqualify someone, start judging others, it's a waste of energy. Absolutely waste. Instead why not, see what positive energies you have got, why not use them? Immediately they start organizational, sort of a, responsibility. It's not good in the organization, that's not good in the organization, that's bad, he's bad, this... What about you? If you are powerful just say: `This should not be such.' But you are not. Your energy is wasted on our mental problems. You are not mental anymore, you are Spiritual. All mental capacities are zero with you. How was Christ? Christ was not a mental person at all. None of them. All this, comes because of your past, your habits formation conditionings, so better is to get rid of it.

Graham was telling Me that, when this Bush came here they had to spend millions and millions for him, while our Mother just comes straightforward She doesn't need any security. I said: “I am security of the whole world. Why do I need a security?" Now the whole has to be understood, how we can become the whole. And then this mind will work better. Because of this, you people catch. If you don't have this nonsense, you'll never catch. I know people cheat of course and say things and you have to weigh it out doesn't matter. It's not important at least as long as you don't cheat anyone, doesn't matter. Kabīr has said: “[UNCLEAR]" “If the world has cheated Me what does it matter? I don't cheat anyone."

Contents: 1992-02-20 Śhrī Mahālakṣhmī Pūjā, Detachment, One Universe, Brisbane, Queensland, Australia

Today I was thinking that we'll do the Pūjā to Mahālakṣhmī, would be better, so that we'll understand what is Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma is. As you know, the Mahālakṣhmī principle lies within all of you, in the center and once you are fed up with the falsehood and also with the hypocrisy of people, you start seeking the truth within. That's how a new category of people are born, who are called as seekers, `sādhakas'.

They are very different from others. They don't care for any material gain or any power, position. They want to seek the truth and this category is the one you are and that's why you have come to Sahaja Yoga.

This comes from your past lives also. For many people, I think, it's their past life which has brought this seeking in them. Also the affluence through which you have gone, you got fed up with it and you are seeking the truth. Also, there are people, like in India, where the tradition is to seek the truth, from very childhood you are told that money is not everything, power is not everything, it's all falsehood, you must seek the truth.

So, you are ingrained with it. These are called as good conditionings, `suSaṁskāra'.

Now, if it is the, just a fashion sort of a thing, that you get into fashion, that let us seek the truth because everybody is talking about truth, let us have this as a fashion because everybody is doing it, you see, then it can be very dangerous. Such people get lost. I've seen people who were drug addicts, who came to us first in England and I was surprised that they were really seekers and they were not taking drugs because of fashion, they were just taking it, because they thought, by taking drugs, they will get into their Mahālakṣhmī principle. Very intelligent, educated, very smart, I should say, people, became hippies and they started taking drugs and I discovered that their seeking was only that they should find the truth but they had no idea as to what is the truth is.

So, this Mahālakṣhmī principle was born within them.

Sort of started manifesting, that `beyond all this there must be something.' This category of people are everywhere in the world. Especially, I was surprised, in Russia, where there is no talk of God, there is no talk of religion [that] they are even better than Indians in understanding Sahaja Yoga.

So the conditionings of every country has also hampered the progress of Sahaja Yoga within you and outside.

So now, first of all to understand Mahālakṣhmī principle we must know that we have two other channels into which we can jump. One is the left, another is the right and it depends on what sort of a background you had in this life. Because of your background in last life, you have come to the right path.

But last life has been covered by this life. The surroundings, the country in which you are born, your friends, parents, the society in which you lived, has dominated you in so many ways that the Mahālakṣhmī principle doesn't express itself in that full power which should really suck in everything else and put you on to the throne of a Sahaja Yogi.

So you find people, yesterday there were so many people for example, very nice people, they were all seekers of many lives who came there, but we do not know how many will come to Sahaja Yoga and how many will settle down in Sahaja Yoga, how many will achieve doubtless awareness. Again the same problem, that they start getting into the habits formed by the left side or into the ego formed by the right side. Now for a Sahaja Yogi to keep his Mahālakṣhmī principal all right, has to always introspect, not to look at others but to introspect. `What am I doing? Am I in the left side or on the right side? Which side I'm going? What side I am following? Am I in the center?' Now how will you judge? The best is to feel your vibrations, feel your vibrations. But sometimes you go so far to the left or to the right, that you just do not feel vibrations. Your Mahālakṣhmī principle is not working. Then you go on. It's like a complete derailment,

I should say, a kind of a slope on which you just go on falling on to that.

So all these conditionings we should watch out, in ourselves and in others, how we have got these problems that we slip out from the central path. Imagine a train is going on a proper railway track and suddenly it starts moving this way or that way.

So, where will it end up? Into destruction. But you have a way of arranging that this derailment can be brought back to the middle path.

So in a very detached way if you look at yourself like a witness and see for yourself, not about others! Even when I give lectures people start saying, “Oh Mother is saying about somebody else." No, I am saying about you, yourself.

So you watch out that, `Are you in the center or are you going to the left or to the right?' First of all, those who are in the center should not have any physical problems. Should be able to completely cure themselves. If not others, they should be able to cure themselves. Secondly, a person who is in the center is a very peaceful person. He's never angry. He might put up a show that you are angry but he doesn't get involved into anger or any emotions whatsoever. He just watches and he can act, he can act to be in that feeling of temper, also lust, greed, anything, but just to act. Because sometimes this acting is needed so he can use it. But you should be sure, first of all, that you are completely detached.

So first of all, before acting, you must become a master of acting and, for that, you have to become your Self.

If you become your Self then you are a master and you can see where are you going. Now the difference between a Sahaja Yogi and a Sahaja Yogi who is like this, as you say, is this, that he is capable of going to the left or to the right. They are not solidly Sahaja Yogis and they go on like this and there's no progress.

Imagine any airplane which is wobbling like that will be on the ground only. Nobody will be able to put it up in the air, because god knows when will it fall down.

So for any machinery, we have to fix it up properly first, before we start working it out. To fix up our Mahālakṣhmī principle, you have to see that your physical being is all right, is normal, no problem. I am not meaning the modern ways of looking at health but that you should feel healthy and happy. You should feel that there is no problem with your physical being.

But if you are a complaining type, `I am here paining, I'm paining there,' then there is something wrong with you. This is the first criteria that you are in the center. Then your attention should be more towards nature, how the nature is, how it is blossoming, how it is working out. It should be towards the sky, stars and things. Just to enjoy all the creation that is around you, just to enjoy it. That is an enjoyment which is really so surprisingly deep. When you see something, beautiful scene or something, you go to a very beautiful place, then a kind of a joy that pours in from your Sahasrāra, that also you must experience. Also you must experience your thoughtless awareness, that is when you look at something beautiful you should suddenly become thoughtless. Just start seeing it. The whole joy will start pouring on you.

Then another thing is that you should not differentiate between religions. You should not condemn any religion. But the people who are stupid and call themselves religious, they can be condemned, because they are stupid. They have not followed the principle of religion at all. They are not realised Souls and that's what they are making a mistake.

So that's all right. For example churches can be condemned, but not Christ, not the Bible, not at all, never.

So, when you see to the roots, roots are all right, but now as I said, that these flowers have been plucked by people and they are fighting.

So you should never condemn any incarnation, any religion, any prophet. I mean you will not condemn. It's not question of I saying, `Don't do it.' You'll not just do it. You'll respect all of them automatically, because now you are born into it. If you, say, are a Christian, you will respect Hindu scriptures. If you are a Hindu you will respect an Islamic Quran. That has to be there. If it is not so, then please know that you are not yet a Sahaja Yogi.

There should be no malice about any religion whatsoever. No religion has done any wrong so far. It's the people who follow them in a wrong way, use it for money, use it for power and also are stupid. For them it's different. But for you, every religion is your own religion.

So we cannot be fundamentalists. We cannot fight for fundamentalism. Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma which is based on the Mahālakṣhmī principle is the essence of all the religions, the truth of all the religions. And we seek with our pursuits what are the common points in all these religions. We try to neutralise which are not common points and find out with our research pursuits that this one was not the correct thing, but is not in the religion [just] people are following in them.

There are so many things you can find out. If, in the Bible, if you remove Paul you will cleanse most of it. If Paul is not there, I tell you, most of the Christianity can be cleansed out, because he started confessions, he started all this nonsense, he started making people feel guilty, I mean, treating women as nothing. All Mister Paul has done it and he had no right to be there in the Bible because he never knew Christ. He was an epileptic and he saw some cross in some sort of a... I don't know how far it is truth.

But he said he saw a cross.

So what? Seeing the cross doesn't mean you become the cross. Also he wanted to jump on the platform. Nice platform is made, all right, for you and he has powers and he wants to have powers so, he jumps on the platform. Then he organizes Christianity. All his mistake.

Never in the Bible is said, never Christ said, that you should organize Christianity, nor has He said that you should confess or you should feel guilty. All the time He has been talking of forgiveness. In that short time also, He has given the truth to us. But I mean, if somebody wants to interpret, then it goes wrong.

So the another point of a Sahaja Yogi is, whatever I say they don't have to interpret, they know it exactly what I say. If they start interpreting, then there is something wrong with them. Their brains are not all right, they are not normal. You cannot interpret Me. Whatever I say, I say in a very simple English language. I do not use Shakespearean language or something like that. I modulated My standard of English up to the normal common peoples language and if you start interpreting it that means something definitely very, very wrong with you. There's nothing to interpret. I am saying straightforward thing which need not be interpreted. This is a very important thing. But many Sahaja Yogi's who are half baked, I should say, start interpreting Me, because they think they have brains to interpret. You have no brains of that calibre that you can interpret Me! There are no interpretations. Whatever I have said, I have said it and there is no need to interpret. This is one of the signs that you are not in the center.

Either you have been possessed or you have become egoistical.

So, one, to keep yourself in the center, to be solidly Sahaja Yogis, first of all there should be no interpretations of what I say. If you think that I am meaning something else, you can write to Me, but don't interpret and start a big organization against Sahaja Yoga. This is the greatest mistake that people do it.

I have told many people that you should not give lectures about Sahaja Yoga because once they start giving lectures, also sometimes, they get into derailment. Either they get egoistical or they say things, as they say, out of their hats, which I have never said, which are not to be said.

So unless and until you are a solid Sahaja Yogi, I think you should not talk about Sahaja Yoga. Best is to give realisation. Though you are half-baked, you can give realisation. That's one point for sure. And those who will get will remain Sahaja Yogis. I have seen people who have given realisation to others are gone cases, while those whom they have given are perfect.

Now when somebody gives you the realisation, he is not your Guru by any chance. He is not your Guru and have no sort of a awe or an obligation towards that person who has given you realisation. If you do that way, then the ego of that man wouldn't go away and you will have conditioning. You'll always stand by that person though he has done wrong. Though he is absolutely not a Sahaja Yogi, you will stand by that person. With him you also move to the direction in which he has moved.

So in Mahālakṣhmī principle, one has to be careful, absolutely, to see where are we going. Now the group system starts, also with the same. There is a big fraternity of `bhoots', I must tell you. If you go to the left, all the leftist will join you. If you go to the right, all the rightist will join you. Then they'll fight amongst themselves and get out of it! Now for Sahaja Yogis, who believe in fighting back, in grouping back, they should know, they have derailed. Maybe they were very intelligent, they thought they could do that, maybe, but none of them are above the Divine intelligence.

But when you start moving out of Mahālakṣhmī thing, you become like a common person, even worse than a common person, I would say.

So then you are grabbed by the negative forces which are around us.

Just like all others are grabbed, you are also grabbed. There are conditionings, which also you should see do we have. Say a Western person must see Western conditionings very clearly, what are these conditionings, because we are seekers of truth, we do not belong to any country we belong to the universe, Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma. We do not belong to Australia, we do not belong to Brisbane. You see this belonging becomes so small and so mean, that ultimately it will become, we belong to this street and then we belong to this room and we belong to this bathroom. Start going down, down, down, so much. While it is Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma, means it is a universal religion. We belong to the universe. We are part and parcel of the universe, not only belonging to one place or one location. We cannot. Now we have gone into eternal life. We have gone to something that unlimited.

So we belong to this universe.

Once you realise that you belong to this universe, you should also know what conditionings are still sticking on to us from this country, from this culture, from this place, from this household, from this family, like a little lotus that comes out of the mud, slowly, slowly it throws away all the mud that is sticking on to it. Ultimately it comes out, a very clean flower. From the mud it gets to the water, cleanses itself and comes out as a beautiful flower, absolutely fragrant and then it spreads its fragrance all round, so that, that mud also gets fragrance. That's your job. That's what you have to be, because you are not seeker of truth for yourself but for the whole world because you belong to Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma.

This Mahālakṣhmī principle is not for you alone, but it is for the whole world and you have to give it to the whole world.

So now you are here forming a new kind of a race, a new kind of a society, which is enlightened, which is standing on the truth and love. Of course, you must understand that there should be compassion.

[Child crying.] Look at that child, my God! That is another condition of the children here. They must do something to get hurt. It's very common. All the time, they do things that will hurt them. They cannot sit quiet.

It's very surprising. In India you find children will sit quiet for three hours, four hours, as long as the Pūjā runs. Now here the children are, I don't know but I am going to find out a solution for this. They just cannot keep quiet. And now in America, they are suffering from over-activity, is a disease, it's a disease now. They don't know what to do with the overactive children, they're overactive. But I think I'll be able to find out some solution for that. But as far as you are concerned, you are your own solution, you can watch yourself. You want to be people who are spiritually very well equipped. For that equipment you must see yourselves, where are you, what are you doing? What's your style of life? A solid Sahaja Yogi or a Yogini everyone knows all over the world. They are solid. Nothing can deter them. And you can also know about yourself. It's not that you cannot know. All of you can know yourself very well because now you are quite sensitive and you have your own centers enlightened by Mahālakṣhmī principle.

The Kuṇḍalinī has definitely enlightened your Mahālakṣhmī principle.

So you can always make out where are, what my Chakras are, how are they catching, where are they catching. Instead of avoiding that, you just work it out, what's the problem, where is the problem? Once you work it out then you will be surprised that, as soon as your desire goes inward, the Kuṇḍalinī itself will rush through and She will cleanse your Chakras.

As I was telling you, we do not know our powers. Only one thing you have to do is to desire. You have to desire that, let my vibrations be all right, let my Chakras be cleared out, let me be in the center, in the balance. Just you have to desire. I mean it's such a simple thing to desire. But that also we cannot do.

Our desires are something else, not what we have to be. Just you have to desire that `Let me be a clean Sahaja Yogi, let me be a solid Sahaja Yogi.' There are mediocres who can never be. I am not talking about them. But so many can be very high up, can be very high up in Sahaja Yoga, but their desires are not yet being fully manifested, there's a damping effect of so many things I have told you about.

So if, supposing, you have to catch the plane, then you don't get down on the way somewhere and stay out. In the same way, when your Kuṇḍalinī has to rise, you can see everything that's happening, but keep yourself aloof, because you have to reach your point and that is through this Mahālakṣhmī principle. It is a principle that is so detached. It is the nourishing principle within us, which nourishes our centers, which nourishes our characters, which nourishes our religion, that is Vishwa Nirmalā Dharma. It nourishes everything. It nourishes our brain, our intellect, everything it nourishes, this Mahālakṣhmī principle, above all it is the balancing. It balances you.

If you are over-doing something, then it gives you a kind of a push. If you are not doing anything, again it works in such a manner that it balances you.

So this is the guiding factor for you, this Mahālakṣhmī principle, which works out everything, you can say, that is balancing, the equilibrium and the wisdom. As the light of Mahālakṣhmī principle starts, the wisdom dawns upon you. But the greatest of all is the love, love for God, love for truth and you thrive on that love. Just you are there. I mean, I asked him, “Why so many are here?" They said, “For the Pūjā." Why? This is a sign that you are great Sahaja Yogis, that you are here because of Pūjā, that you understand the value of Pūjā and that you need the Pūjā, that you enjoy because it is nourishing to you, is a very good thing because that shows that you are very much there. You are very much understanding the importance of right things and you want to do it at any cost.

All these desires are significant because they show that you are in the Mahālakṣhmī principle and you want to keep on that one.

I would say, there's a simple one that you can do is just to be on My Kuṇḍalinī, If you can, just try to be in My Kuṇḍalinī, on My Kuṇḍalinī. Just put attention. You can, all of you can. Any problem, just put your attention on to My Kuṇḍalinī and you will be all right, you will just become thoughtless, because there is no thought. This is the best way to do it. Is to just solve all problems by putting attention on My Kuṇḍalinī and by that your ego will definitely dissolve, because then you will know that Mother is doing everything, I am doing nothing, so why should I be proud of it. Also the conditionings will dissolve because My Kuṇḍalinī is absolutely pure. It's not attached to anyone, it's not even attached to Sahaja Yoga. It's not attached to anyone. The job it has got to do is to nourish everything. If it can nourish, well and good, if it does not nourish, well and good. It depends on what do you want. You want to be nourished, all right, so the Kuṇḍalinī is there, the Mahālakṣhmī principle is there, it will nourish you.

But if you don't want, nobody is going to force you in any way. Nobody is going to jump on you or form some sort of a formidable oppression. Nothing of the kind. It's just like a river Ganges, you can say, which is flowing. Now if you want you can fill up your pitchers. If you don't want, She's not going to enter into your pitchers. She is not going to come in your house and get into your pitchers.

So there has to be a desire to get it and that is what is called is `Bhakti '. Bhakti is the desire, the devotion to get the joy of Bhakti . It's such a beautiful thing. I wish, I could do the Bhakti to someone, but I can't do. Because I see you, when you are in Bhakti , you just get lost into it.

So much you enjoy, such an enjoyable thing. Then you don't think, you just enjoy the Bhakti . And that's what is the most coveted, highest state where you are just one with the Divine and just swimming in the ocean of joy.

So this Mahālakṣhmī principle is to be preserved and has to be always watched and looked into. And the blessings of Mahālakṣhmī are so many that, I tell you, I cannot even tell them in one lecture. I'll have to give at least ten lectures. But you yourself know what are the blessings of this Mahālakṣhmī principle is. The greatest is the complete self-contentedness, absolutely self contented. You don't want to grab something, you don't want to run after something, it's so self contended. You don't want any publicity, you don't want any comfort, nothing. You are comfortable in your Spirit. This is the greatest blessing of this Mahālakṣhmī principle and if that is so, then why not we look after our Mahālakṣhmī principle and forget about the rest.

Last of all, when it enters into your brain, then the Virāta is manifesting and you become collective, absolutely collective. Is such a beautiful thing is to be collective. There was a girl who went to Sicily and she was in a restaurant eating something alone and then she looked at somebody else and that girl also looked at her. And this one got up and came to her and she said, they were not wearing badges. They said, “Have you been to Shri Mataji?" “Yes!" “Have you been?" “Yes!" “We are Sahaja Yogis?" “Yes!" And then they just embraced each other with such joy. In a far fetched place somewhere in Sicily, in some restaurant, imagine! They just got lost. The feeling of oneness, the brotherhood, the friendship is so great and so joyous. You don't then consider from what country you are, from where do you come, what is the colour of your skin, or what is the religion you had followed what your parents are. You just enjoy meeting people.

This friendship, this joy comes from the same Mahālakṣhmī principle, when She enlightens your Sahasrāra. In the Sahasrāra you get this feeling of the whole and the feeling of the whole is something so great. Individualism, people talk, but it is against the principle of whole. Who do not know the whole you see talk of individualism. This individualism which has worked all kinds of dangers for us now, we have to know that we are one with the whole. Of course, we are individuals in the sense that we have different, different faces, different clothes, different living, different relationships, but we belong to the whole and this Virāta's feeling that we are part and parcel of the whole gives you complete peace and complete protection. You never feel that something can happen to you, never.

Some accident will take place, all right, will take place, but nothing will happen to me, I am a Sahaja Yogi.

So many people have gained like this by allowing themselves to be completely looked after by this Mahālakṣhmī principle. Just surrender to the Mahālakṣhmī principle means that you give up your ego and you give up your conditionings. You give up both the things. Just surrendering to your Mahālakṣhmī principle. That's why Mahālakṣhmī is so important.

May God bless you all.

Contents: 1992-02-22 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Airport, Brisbane, Queensland, Australia

You shouldn't go in the sun, in the daytime, I must say. It's a worse sun than in India I tell you. It's all right in the morning, about nine-ten o'clock and in the evening, after six. It's a very bad sun and then you get all these problems of the skin, you see these days, they are developing, what do you call, cancer of the skin, very common.

So one should never go to extremes, go up to this and then stop it. The whole of Brisbane was empty, they all had gone to the, beach I think. Even now, it's very hot. Little later it might be. Best is the morning sun.

Now there's a very big trend according to the newspapers, that people are taking to alternate religions now, they are fed up with the Christianity. They are going to Buddhism and other things.

So one has to talk to them, that Buddhism, what Buddhists have got? Nothing. They are so much [UNCLEAR].

Islam also is taking roots.

So we have to move and we have to talk to them, otherwise... You see once you get this Islam nonsense, you can't get out of it. Is the worst of all. You have to talk to people about it all somehow. I don't know, how do you stop. They are fundamentalists. Absolutely. And they say that if anybody wants to get out of Islam, then they try to kill that person. It's so dangerous. Look at this Salaman Rushdie how they got after him. This is very dangerous to have Islam [UNCLEAR].

But I say also Christians are responsible, because Christianity is going from Christ, so they think that if they go from here to there, will be better. Is nonsense. Is like conversion. That's not going to help.

You have to have transformation. Yesterday's speech was good, Mine, on that point. You've made a tape [UNCLEAR]? You have the tape.

So, will you bring that tape with you, to Sydney? Make a copy. That was a good tape when I have talked about all the religions. What was missing in them. Like Bombay [Mumbai] is the climate here. [Hindi.] It's very unusual to have such a rain, isn't it? Continuously you don't have this kind of rain here in Brisbane.

Contents: 1992-02-23 Śhrī Mahāsaraswatī Pūjā, Modern Art and Literature, 24 Pukenui Road, Epsom, Auckland, New Zealand

I see many more New Zealanders. Very happy to see all of you here.

Today I thought we should have Mahāsaraswatī's Pūjā, would be a good idea. Because we did Mahālakṣhmī, let's have Mahāsaraswatī's.

So, Mahāsaraswatī Principle is on the right side as you all know. First is the Brahmadeva's Principle, which is the Saraswatī Principle and then this Mahāsaraswatī takes you to the principle of Mahābrahmadeva called as Hiranyagarbha. Now this Hiranyagarbha Principle, is very important for Sahaja Yogis.

First of all, those who think too much or those who create too much without realisation, those who express themselves in poetry or in literature or in music, you can say, in paintings, in all kinds of arts; if they are not realised Souls, then they go to the left to the extreme or to the right.

So for example if there is an artist, if he goes to the right, gradually his paintings will become extremely violent expressions. Would be very much showing something very violent and also rather, I would say, he would be a man who would be inexible. He'll have his own style, he can't move into another style. He'll use the same style and he will not get into any other style. Kind of an austere nature he develops in his productions and then when he gets tired of it, then he will take to something, you can say, like abstract art. But without realisation the abstract art can be something very absurd and funny.

I have seen the extremes of it that, I've seen people who put big canvases on the ground and pour lots of oil paints one after another and roll over it. Is supposed to be a painting! They say this is spontaneous, because they fell on it or they rolled on that so is spontaneous painting that's come out.

Now this spontaneous painting [laughs] should come from a spontaneous personality. Not by rolling on thing or something, I mean, all sorts of things they do! But there's no end to it to which nonsensical things they think of. And they think they have achieved a lot and they've done a lot. And also they sell it to people who have too much of right side. They like it.

So, they put in lot of effort to create this kind of a painting.

Also the today's pop music, also, which is very aggressive, is from the same outcome because you cannot ascend, so you move to your right. And this pop music then starts now it's becoming so horribly noisy, I don't know what to call it. Absolutely it can deafen your ears if you listen to it and the whole thing is, the whole gestures and all that are so ugly and so aggressive as if they're going to eat the mike sometimes I feel the way [they] go on with the mike and things. And see then these people also impress such people who are very right-sided and so they become popular. But the popularity is not the sign of real success. It will come and go away.

All such artists and painters come and go away they have no standing. They are there for a short time.

And then the history talks about them those who have been in the center never about the people who went to the extremes. God knows how many must have come and gone. And those who are today also painting or singing in that way tomorrow they will not be known. One after another, you see, the craze comes in. One comes and goes away [then] another.

So they are crazy people and they create a craze.

And the crazy, like them, enjoy the craze.

So it amounts to something that is just wasteful. Creates no impression in the history.

So this is the right-sided nonsense that comes out of the right side movement of the sympathetic going too far with your creativity and also your writing.

Like, there were many writers in English language, you know from Shakespeare, you can start, who showed the futility of human endeavour. Like we call an `avadhūta', the one who has reached a very great degree of development in his spiritual life. He can see the futility of human endeavour and then he brings them to the point that they have to rise above these stupid and human endeavours and take to some sort of an endeavour, which will bring them something higher and, also, will create something of an eternal value.

Then also we have, I think, in English language I have said, say, up to Somerset Maugham and all that.

They're very centrally placed people. Also Cronin was I would say. But then this Hemingway came and he started moving towards the right. Now I don't know. I don't read, now, modern novels, because all full of filth! So it moves to the right.

So one is which moves to the right and talks about all kinds of violence, this, that. That also is absolutely not palatable to human consumption I tell you. But still they write and people like it. People want to read about Hitler, they want to read how people were killed, war stories, this, that. They want to see pictures which has full of violence, who are killing this and that.

So that their own desire to be violent is satisfied in seeing those things in films and in, otherwise also, reading such books of that kind.

On the left hand side when they move, you see, these artists then, same about musicians, as I said, that, the musicians become sort of a absolutely suffering from Greek tragedy all the time. They go on crying and weeping and saying that this is sort of, we have been very sad and this sadness and the tragedy of life. I mean they go on crying and make you cry also.

So there's no hope for them and they just go on doing such stupid things.

Then we have, you see, many artists also of the same kind. Specially French! French writers as well as French poets also and French painters, if you see, they are very left-sided because they drink a lot. If you go in any France village after seven o'clock you can't find even one person on the road and even if you want to find out the road and you knock at the door and request them that you would like know some road and all that, they're all drunk already at seven o'clock.

So with this thing they become extremely overromantic type and they sing songs of romance, have no romance in their life, you see, they just, some sort of a imaginary romance they have and they live in that imaginary world of pain and sufferings and they have their own ideas about their own romantic models that they have formed in their heads, you see, with their left side.

So the poets and the writers go to the left side like that and in, say, for example, in our India we had those Muslims who used to drink a lot. Then they started a thing called as ghazal and that ghazal is nothing but crying. Even in certain poets, you see, we have this kind of a thing in the other places where there were many poets who were seeking God and were crying, “Oh God, when will I meet?" and in separation they are singing, not in the meeting, not in the Yoga but in separation they sing, “When will I meet You, oh God?" and all that. And all such people who are still seeking like such songs going on.

Up to this much is all right but then you get lots of grotesque type of writers, also, who write such horrible things that you feel you are in hell the way they describe things are horrible. And in Sanskrit called as vivatsar. They create a vivatsaras. And it's the description of very filthy things which were never before, even in English language. Never I saw that. But now some books are full of filth and dirt and horrible sex descriptions that you just can't bear it.

So all this comes with the left side movement that, because you see society also moves from sometimes to the right sometimes to the left.

So when it moves to the right they like right-sided things sometimes they move to the left they like left-sided.

So also there are people with two types of temperaments so that's how they start appreciating these things and unnecessarily they believe that they are tragic.

As you know about the Greek tragedy which is a very, sort of a, fundamental thing, I would say, for a Western literature, is a Greek tragedy. Where a woman marries a man but she doesn't love her husband so she loves somebody else and the tragedy is there. I mean it's artificially created tragedy that shows that you have married to some man and you should be happy with him. Of course, I mean, if the man is very bad and troublesome and all that, then you can give him up. But what's the use of pining for another man, living with one other man? Sort of a thing, as you must have heard, about Tolstoy who was another great realised Soul. He's written `Anna Karenina' and ultimately he saw that Anna Karenina commits suicide, because what she was doing [was] a wrong thing, you see.

So he brought the whole thing so beautifully out and such an introspection all the time, you see, going on and also the futility of this kind of a romance that was there.

So all this shows to us that there are people, at the same time, who are in the center I would say, in French writers also, Maupassant was one of them whom I would put in the center. He showed both the sides and he showed the right side also.

So we have had Goethe. We had many, sort of, people in Europe and England. Also in English language. Because I am talking about English language. But also same in Sanskrit, in Hindi, in every language we have the same type of people but more in Sanskrit we don't have many people with this right or left side. The reason is, for literature there are some rules and regulations. It's not the Western idea, in India, that we should be abandoned people. That's not accepted.

So even in literature there is a kind of a restriction [regarding] what is a literature. Sahitya, it's called as `sahit', means which will be benevolent. Sahita means which will be benevolent. If it is not benevolent then it is not sahitya, it's not literature. Then it is trash.

So that restriction you see, which is there which is given to us by great saints and seers, is still accepted.

Of course, some people deviate a little bit, little bit they deviate, but once they deviate it goes out of the society, people just don't read it. Say for example some people must have written this Karma Sutra or something long time back. But we never knew about it, we never read about it. Till the Germans came and made such an ado out of it, I mean, we never knew that there are such books. Even now I don't know who wrote it or I've never read such a book, I've never seen it with My own eyes but we have heard about it that people wrote such things. But actually if you ask a ordinary human being in India who is maybe a scholar also, he will say, `What's that? I've never heard about it.' But the Germans or the Japanese [are] very particular on these things, you see, they want to find out all such things.

So these creations of ugliness, I should say, or of vulgarity, all these, are a compensation for people who are very right-sided also, because a right-sided man will always take to drinking. Because, you see, he wants to compensate so the right-sided man also will like such horrible things, just to quench his thirst for power, you see. He's so mad. And then he would like to, little bit, neutralise that movement in such a way that his right-sided behaviour is, little bit, compensated by the left side.

So the people who are right-sided take to drinks very much. You will see people will work very hard and two nights, Saturday and Sunday night, they're just drunk. Then Monday they'll come out with a hangover. You see, it's very interesting to note how human being are. For five days they will slog, slog, slog, slog, slog and then two days they'll just go into a kind of a hibernation, as they say and absolutely lost to the whole world. Whether they are doctors or professionals, they don't care.

So whatever they earn in five days they'll spend it in these two days in drinking and finish it off.

So that's how the total gain in all that creativity comes in.

Now, when these extreme things start showing results and then the artist gets just fed up with this kind of thing going on all round [that] he sees and all that, then, within him rises a subtler attitude towards creativity, towards art, towards books and all that. And then he starts, in that, reading about the True Knowledge, Pure Knowledge. He wants to see paintings or he wants to listen to music which sings of Divine or divinity. Whole [of] that madness makes him really think that now we should start doing something better and then the Mahāsaraswatī Principle starts working out. But in that also, when they start thinking of God, they fall into traps.

Like, you see, somebody might fall into some sort of a religion. Now, as you know, these religions so-called are just money-oriented or power-oriented. They are not at all, in no way, spirit-oriented. That's the reason when they are not spirit-oriented what they give people is a kind of a personality which is all mental. You ask them about Upanishads they will cite verses after verses. [For] Gītā they'll give big lectures on that for hours together. For this Chinmoy you see if you hear him, he speaks for hours together on Gītā you get tired and bored stiff with his lectures. He can speak about it but nothing inside. Nothing inside and whatever they speak has no effect on others also because they are not awakened people, they are not connected with the Divine and whatever they do is just mental.

So when the Mahāsaraswatī Principle is awakened you start seeing it clearly that `This is mental, this is not the truth, there must be something higher.' They read about all the spiritual works in their own religion in which they are born, then they start moving out and reading about some other religions also.

Then they think that every religion says the same thing. Then it comes to the Āgñyā point. When it comes to the Āgñyā point only there then suddenly they realise that there is something wrong, that people are mentally only accepting this religion and there must be something beyond this. At that point if somebody gets the realisation, he just sticks to it.

But this Mahāsaraswatī Principle has to be awakened in all the people who are musicians, who are artists, who are this and that and that. And those who have reached that state, then suddenly they can get realisation very easily. I've seen some people, very great artists they are, today. But when they came to Me first [they] were not at all well known or anything. But when they came to Me, while singing, only, they got their realisation. Just singing! Or there was one gentleman who was just playing tabla before Me, I mean, not so good, alright. And then I was in Pune where I saw him and in Pune he was playing very well and I said, “He's the same fellow." But somebody said, “No, no, Mother, he's not the same, he was not such a great player." I said, “All right." I had taken some flowers for these musicians so I sent it. He came running and touched My feet. “Mother, have you not recognized me or what?" I said, “I have, that's why I brought you some flowers." I didn't know what to say. But the way he had improved, now he is a world famous tabla player. World famous! It has happened with many others also the sarod people with the sitar people, so many people have achieved a lot. Musicians they after coming to Me they have asked Me that “Please, do something that we should be able to enhance our creativity." I just said, “Take to Sahaj, that's all." And when they were awakened, very surprisingly, today, most of them are very well known musicians and very famous in India. Of course, the Western musicians, I don't know where to lay My hands because I don't know, till they... the way they are screaming these days, I think their throats will be out, maybe something then they might come to Me.

But on the whole My own idea is this, that, those who have reached Mahāsaraswatī level, through reading or through creativity, or through writings or anything, when they reach a certain state of Āgñyā, then either they get disappointed, go to the left and absolutely think that this is all useless, or else, if they get realisation, they become really very dynamic artists, very dynamic writers and people who are creating something of an eternal value.

So many Sahaja Yogis who have never spoken on the stage, who have never been on the stage they said, “We had a fright for the stage” they all, surprisingly, now have become great orators and speak very well and know so much.

So this is the Mahāsaraswatī Principle. Now, this makes you, a person, much subtler and you start becoming aware that the gross understanding we had about our art or our creativity has to be subtler and we have to be subtler people. And then such writers only appeal to people who are subtle. Like William Blake was regarded as a mad poet. I mean in India I never read about him. I did read on My own but in the colleges, university they never had William Blake or in any book as such there was no William Blake.

But when you go to these people and talk to them, there was one called Monroe fellow, he has translated Gītā into English. It's a very wonderful person. He is, actually I think he is a Italian [Spanish: Juan Mascaro, from Mallorca whom Shri Mataji visited]. Now he is no more. He lived in, near Cambridge. I went to see him, he was very anxious to meet Me. And when I went there you'll be amazed, he did My Ār.ti and he said a mantra in Sanskrit that “Oh God, You have come to my house! What have I done in my previous lives that You are in my house?" Such a beautiful poet, you see and he said in Sanskrit language, he was a master of Sanskrit.

So I asked him, “From which book you have taken this couplet?" He said, “I've composed it myself." So beautiful he was. And then he said certain things from Gītā and all that. And he said, “Mother, I don't know You might be..." He was very old that time. He was eighty years of age. He said, “Mother, maybe You might be able to change these English, but I don't think I've done anything." Even when I translated Gītā they are just reading only. Reading Gītā, that's all.

So what's the use of my translation? Just like Bible. Now they are reading word by word Gītā.

So, finished! What's the use of doing this work?" And he was so disappointed with the whole thing.

So he said, “What will You work out? How will You work out?" I said, “All right, I'll try." He said, “Of course, You are there. You are an Incarnation." He just recognized Me. “I know You'll work it out." And wrote a very nice letter to Me also and then he died. But such a nice man and he suffered a lot. Nobody tried to understand him. He said, “I talked to so many scientists and things and they're absolutely useless and very superficial.

So I don't think in this country of England You'll be able to do much, is a very superficial country." There were at least twenty English Sahaja Yogis with Me sitting there listening to it. He said, “They are extremely superficial, this language is superficial, they don't know about anything about Spirit or anything about Kuṇḍalinī." And he was a very well read man very deep person.

And he told Me that, while he was studying, gradually he felt this Mahāsaraswatī Principle. The way, he didn't say Mahāsaraswatī but he felt there must be subtler knowledge, subtler knowledge.

So he took to books like Gītā, this, that and then, suddenly, he felt that it's all reading again. It's just the same like translation and specially when he translated Gītā he was amazed that people were just reading it like Bible then.

Then he said that “Mother, I don't know how but one day I was praying to Mother Mary and to the Holy Ghost and I got my realisation." So he was a realised Soul and he saw Me in dream, you see.

He said, “In dream You came and gave me realisation." It's surprising. He saw Me in dream and he got it. There's another few people who have got it, but specially him, I was so surprised.

So when I arrived in his house he recognized Me immediately.

He said, “I saw You in my dream. You came and gave me realisation, You awakened my Kuṇḍalinī and You gave me realisation." So you can imagine that this gentleman was so beautifully placed.

So subtle he was, that at the Āgñyā point he just got the dream and he got realisation.

And he said, “All the knowledge is now revealed to me so much more." And then he sat down with Me. And he said, “Can you stay for some time?" I said, “I am now going away." But at least for five hours he was talking to Me. He was not tired, he would not leave Me. Such an old man was sitting at My feet.

I was telling him, “You sit on the chair." “No, I'm very good. I'm very much all right You sitting there." So this is what happens with this Mahāsaraswatī Principle developing within us. But we should allow that to grow within us.

So in Sahaja Yoga we are not told that we are not to read any book, not at all. We have to read, but in that book we have to see the subtle points and see for yourself. I don't read any scriptures, because I don't need to read. But when I started reading the, you see, these intellectuals, what they have to say, I was amazed that they are saying the same thing, there's nothing new. What I know, what I say, that's what they are saying. There's nothing new about it, there's nothing special about it. Just what all the scriptures have said, they have said the same thing and these people are saying the same thing. But by saying these things, how are they going to propagate? Nothing! It will be just again something that will happen outside and it will drop out. It doesn't become part and part of yourself, so it has to become innate. That's only possible if your Spirit comes into your attention. There's no other way out.

So luckily you all are realised Souls and your Mahāsaraswatī is very much there, but I would say you must read. Read books of value and understand how it is absolute Sahaja Yoga there, how it is there.

Anything you take up you'll be surprised that all these books are talking about Sahaja Yoga. May not be all of it, but part of the Sahaja Yoga is there. All of them talk of some part of Sahaja Yoga but not the whole of it, because they came at different times. And now the Sahaja Yoga is the time when you have to know the complete, integrated knowledge of this religious thought that was there. Complete integrated.

And that's how you understand that all religions are integrated.

So one should, in Sahaja Yoga, after you come, people don't take to any reading. Is a wrong thing.

They should read and understand what others have said, where have they gone wrong. But not these nonsensical people. You shouldn't read these nonsensical people which you know are nonsensical.

But so many, the other day I got this book of the Christian Science. It's all Bible nothing special about it. They are saying you should not do this, you should not do this and all that. It's all written in the Bible. What new things are you telling? Nothing. You don't need a science for that. It's just there. But they are making money out of it by explaining and this and this. No explanation [is] needed. Because that has to come within yourself is the point, which is not there.

So now, this Mahāsaraswatī Principle is awakened within us and we have to read and see the subtle side of this growth of thought, how it grew up and how it became subtler and subtler and how so many people in the world have contributed to it.

So many artists, so many musicians and so many, we can say, writers, who have really contributed to the central path of Suṣhumnā because they became realised Souls.

They were realised Souls.

Some were born and some became and then they completely wrote about the Yoga. For example Rabindranath Tagore, in the beginning he writes, “When will I meet you my friend?" and all that. What you call the separation song, viYoga and then after some time, suddenly he gets his realisation, because he becomes subtler and subtler and subtler. Then he writes about his meeting, his meeting the Spirit. And he writes about it.

So these things work out in such a manner for some people that by their subtleties they arrive at a point of realisation.

Same thing happened with Buddha. He did the same thing. He renounced everything, renounced His family went out, read Upanishads this, that. Everything He read and ultimately reached Gaya where He was sleeping under a banyan tree. And while sleeping only, He was so tired and fed up, He got his realisation. And that's what is very important. But for the Buddhists what He did before going there is important.

So they also want to also renounce this and become Sannyāsīs, this, that. But by becoming that, nothing is going to happen. It's going to Gaya and sleeping there also won't happen. It has to happen because He was a pure seeker, true seeker and that's why it happened. But for Sahaja Yogis, they don't have to do anything of the kind they just get it, realisation. Because I think most of them in their last lives have crossed most of their problems and have known that it's nothing, it's all nonsense in all these things. Or maybe in this life also they must have realised ki [that] it's all nonsense. And then they must have come to Sahaja Yoga.

So it's a very great luck for you that you are here and you've got your realisation and that you are enjoying yourself.

May God bless! Another side which I have left over is the political side, on the right side, you see. Even in politics, the growth becomes subtler and subtler. Like in say, we can say, in Russia when it was such a power-oriented thing. It's not money-oriented. The Communism was so power-oriented. It reached a place that person like Gorbachev was to be born who would put it in a proper sense and he came on a central path. He didn't want complete democracy as it is in America, it's a demono-cracy, but he wanted a balanced thing.

So far he has not been able to manage, but I'm sure one day he will be managed, but he will be known all over the world for his great, great thought and great work of reducing the pressure between the two great, or say between the two ideologies. And he's done such a good thing that now there's no war, going to be no war, as I mean not a very big world war but could be little bit here and there. That also is coming up which is a problem of fundamentalism, is not due to political but fundamentalism.

So now the problem today is fundamentalism and that also comes from the right side, absolutely.

Fundamentalists are all right-sided people and this right-sidedness takes them to any extreme of violence could be or, in some cases, it's really crazy and madness.

But a new disease has started now those who go too much to the right is called as a yuppies disease where the whole conscious mind goes out of order and you become like a reptile. I've seen people being carried like big fishes on the shoulders, you see and put in a seat and they just know everything by brain, is all right, but they understand everything, they can talk well but they cannot move their hands, cannot move their feet if they want to. Unconsciously they may, but consciously they cannot.

And this disease is the one which is a warning to everyone.

So we have be careful in Sahaja Yoga also, we should not go too much to the right is also very dangerous, to go.

Some people become very fanatic and start teaching Sahaja Yoga in a very fanatical manner and sort of, you see, make a... I don't know what to call that. But sometimes I see some people speaking in a manner that one should never speak that way because we are Sahaja Yogis.

The main theme is love, compassion, which is a living force and must be done everything, with that force, which is a beautiful, living force which creates these flowers, which does all kinds of beautiful constructive things. It should not be in any way a oppression, domination or in any kind of command.

You should not do like this and organization, nothing of the kind. It is something so spontaneous, so beautiful.

Just works out. But as these trees have to be embedded in the Mother Earth, in the same way you should be embedded in the principle of Sahaja Yoga which is compassion, love and Divine Grace.

If it is not there, then you'll have problems with leadership and you'll have problems with... Anybody who's a violent person cannot stay in Sahaja Yoga. He has to disappear. Either he should change himself entirely, or he has to disappear. It doesn't work out with people who are violent.

So one has to understand that you may be in any position, you may be anywhere, you may be a very poor person, you may be very rich but makes no difference for a Sahaja Yogi. The best thing to judge yourself is that, whenever we are doing anything for anyone or saying anything, is it benevolent or is it violent? Is it for our self-propagation or holier-than-thou sort of a principle or it is for the goodness of others? Once you start judging like that, you'll be amazed that, your whole system will change, your way of talking, your way of working it out.

For example, today, you see, there was a lady who wouldn't allow Me to talk at all. She was talking all the time about something which was not important. But still I was working it out because I knew that there's no need to talk now. With this gentleman I can work it out.

So it is always so that you should try to see the whole thing as a complete play and take a very, a witness state, in a witness state you should watch. If you watch everything in a witness state then you can handle the whole situation very nicely, even if you do not talk, if you do not say anything still in a witness state you become very powerful and in that witness state you can easily solve lots of problems.

So, may God bless you all.

Contents: 1992-02-25 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Religion is Within, Christchurch, New Zealand

So I am very very happy to come to Christchurch and this the first time I'm coming here. I am happy there are so many people already who are Sahaja Yogis, and, who are deep seekers. In the beginning we have certain labor pains as they say and one has to be very, patient with people who are coming. Now after My program there will be many others who will be coming. The other day when I was speaking to them, they're surprised that we do not charge any money and they asked a question: “Why don't you charge the money?" you see, then some Sahaja Yogi answered: “That it's so invaluable that what will you pay for it you see it's a living process, so how much are you going to pay?" Then the person kept quiet.

So all sorts of questions they will ask you, and, you are not to get disturbed by that or angry with that. But you must understand that, you are not the same as they are. You have reached a certain height compared to them and they don't understand you, like Kabīr has said [Hindi]. “How am I to explain when the whole world is blind" but not now, not the whole world is not blind quite a lot of them have got now eyes to see the truth. But when they approach you we have to be little careful, as not to upset them by our, achievement.

People have problems, they have, past ideas past memories and they want to condemn themselves for that also sometimes, so all has to be stopped and to be said that present is present, past is past. That's a very common problem with the people who come. And, they shudder sometimes to think that they can be purified so easily, but it is already there built in within them, which you have to show that it is built in. Now we have got many things Sahaja Yogis have got to convince themselves. You've got Photographs, you've seen the Kuṇḍalinī pulsating. You have seen rising of the Kuṇḍalinī. Through your own fingertips you have felt that you can make the Kuṇḍalinī rise and you can feel the different centers. All this is, sort of has now become part and parcel of you. It's no more a miracle for you not at all. You've just taken it, because it's there and you know it but it is a miracle for people who are coming for the first time.

So to begin with we should not tell them much about it but let them experience for themselves and they'll see themselves and gradually they'll grow. I'm sure that, this will happen with a great, depth I felt in this place, is a deeper place I must say than Auckland, definitely. Maybe that the people here are, more living in a, natural surroundings I don't know why, but I felt that people are deeper here, and, deep seekers also. And I don't know if you have here all these TM and all that working out in Christchurch do you have? This TM, is there? My God. What else is there the Hari Rāma? That is there too. The young people are busy with that quite a lot, or few? With Hari Rāma? Not much. They are? And what else Rajneesh is there? Sahaja Yogis: I think so. TM is very strong here.

Shri Mataji: Ah now TM is. Now for TM I can send you some pamphlets from London, about this gentleman but specially that we know about TM is horrible.

So we are thinking of making a complete, exposure of these people. What they did and how they worked out from the very beginning, say one bulletin like that can be sent to you and it can be then given to these people and distributed. Or if you get paper cuttings, some newspaper can publish it also. TM is horrible because the people who get out of TM, most of them settle down but some of them do not.

We have one gentleman from England, I have not been able to settle him. He is all right but still, I would say, no one wants to marry him, and, he has funny ideas I think I don't know what happens to him and people feel very, heat from him coming all the time, sometimes some Chakras catch.

So this fellow has been there for quite sometime but still they think that he is not all right. His name is John Pearson, you must have seen, John Pearson. But surprisingly he is working with a very big company, making a big money out of it and he has lots of money. Though most of his money that he had earned before was taken away by the TM. After coming to Sahaja Yoga he's earned lot of money, but still he feels the Viśhuddhi very much and headache and all that.

Then we have another one in Italy also, he's also same type and he was married twice and his wives who were Sahaja Yoginis ran away, they said: “Mother, he's I don't know." They become little queer and weird type people and the vibrations are very bad.

Some of them have become recluses also, absolutely recluses. They go and stay somewhere in a closed room, in a group and just are suffering very bad.

So so many seekers are like that ruined. And you know the story about them, what they did about the mantras and all that. All this we can write it down clearly and we can put it out in their sessions or something whenever they are going down there. And epilepsy is a common disease that they have epilepsy, it's another horrible thing that they do.

So we have to save these people from these calamities. But it's surprising the way they advertise the way they, because they have money so they advertise. Money begets money you see so when they advertise more people come to them. All this advertising has paid them dividend in different countries like, England America, also France but now they are thrown away from there, so they are moving this side, towards Australia and New Zealand. This is now, because they failed there. Lots of things have appeared about them especially about this, their Guru. Horrible things about him, that he was a smuggler, used to smuggle drugs, all kinds of things are there. All that can be, I don't know if your newspapers are willing to publish it or not but it's there, published already in the newspapers.

Now Hari Rāma people are just like beggars, beggars now they have, no money nothing so, they are selling those [UNCLEAR nitara] and all that and they are earning [Hindi] that money living on that. It's a funny way of, first of all they talk of Sannyāsa, then they get married they have children and, they are supposed to live like beggars. While Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, whom they worship is a Kubera, is the God of money, can you imagine. These people are dressed up like a beggar and name... It's really an insult to him that they should dress up like this and beg for money all over and, they shave their heads and those things that they put here we call it as shindi in Marathi and they call it as bodhi, that hair thing. That is, now you can get it in a supermarket. It's such a artificial thing but they're all stupid people I must say they are not, intelligent. They all join them. But it spoils the Viśhuddhi it spoils, also the center Heart.

Some people came to Me who had, cancer of the throat from this group there. There about four five people like that, came down who had cancer of the throat. But normally we do not accept them, normally, because, they are very funny. They'll come to Sahaja Yoga and just talk about Gītā then, they won't allow you to talk they'll be talking all the time, something and if you say anything they'll say Hari Rāma Hari Kṛiṣhṇa Hari Rāma Hari Kṛiṣhṇa so nothing goes in the head. All craziness on the road to stand and sing with those dhotis, how to beg in the streets of Southall, so Indians think: `Oh look at this white-skinned people so poor,' so they give them alms and food and they're begging on the street.

So all this kind of thing is going on.

But most dangerous I think is TM now. Most dangerous, this TM and Rajneesh, they are the worst.

I think Rajneesh are the worst people. And, once I was having a program in Delhi, they came down to the program. I told Yogi not to bring them to the program but they just came, three of them and they were about hundred feet away from Me, more not less and suddenly, they fell down. They looked at Me and I looked at them and they fell down. Fell down.

[Aside:] You were there for that program? Like stones.

So all got very angry with Yogi `Why did you bring them here?' Took them half an hour to take them with a kind of a, we have, something called [UNCLEAR bahar] we call it. Is a kind of a big rod of, steel. With that they were thrown out you see just like a stone taken away. And then the program started after half an hour, it took them half an hour to do that.

So he wrote in his ashram, [UNCLEAR] ashram he has got in Dharamshala that no Rajneesh disciples are allowed.

So they're very aggressive, so they invaded. They said “Why not?" There were four-five of them. They said: “All right come along." And they brought in. He put My Photograph and said: “Put your hands like this." They all started shaking so then they ran away.

So this Rajneesh's disciple are the most difficult.

But so far in My whole memory I think there are only two persons whom we have saved, so far. One of them is, I don't know if you have met Robert, from Belgium. He's now finished his Ph.D. thank God.

And another Richard, Richard is still all right but, I mean he was a professor but I don't know what he did in Rajneesh's. That's how we have all these false people, plus we have Anglicans, this Vaticans. Vatican is really, there's this book you should get it, `In the Name of God'. These books are not here?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Mother it's in the shops.

Shri Mataji: I mean he has, in a way said that this pope killed, the first pope and after that fourteen people were killed by him, just to hide it. But every week there's something appearing in Italy. When I was there, so many things came out but that, they counterfeited these, nine million dollars and distributed them through Vatican, bank. Can you imagine. Counterfeit, through the Vatican bank and when it was published everybody withdrew their money from the Vatican bank. Got such a fright. I just thought they were money-oriented but also there is violence, because there was one fellow Calvi, who was from this Mafiā I think and had something to do with this, or he was with them. But he was the man connected with Mafiā. Then he was murdered, in London and was hanged by that Blackfriars, you must have heard, Bridge. He gave a confession that he did, one gentleman gave a confession that he murdered him, but, the money was paid by this pope.

So all these horrible things are coming out.

